

Super Mommy 9

Chapter 9

Wait, this is different from what we initially expected. We thought Mr. Luther wanted to use the media to admit that he has an illegitimate son so he can bring his illegitimate son back to the Luther family officially before marrying the child's mother. What the h*ll is going on?

On the stage, the person in charge of the public relations department coughed and explained, "Mr. Luther has clarified the rumors personally. I believe you're smart enough to know how to write the news without needing my reminder."

Silence ensued.

He added, "All right. If that's it, the conference shall end—"

Before he could finish his words, an ear-splitting crackling sound reverberated in the venue.

In the next second, two little figures appeared on the screen on the stage.

One was familiar to everyone, for he was the little boy Artemis had just unmerged out of the photo using his skills.

The other one was...

"Oh, isn't that Maxton? I can't believe he's with the other boy!"

"Is there something that we don't know?"

"Yeah, you might be right."

The person in charge of the public relations department cursed under his breath. Mr. Luther will never get to clear his name.

He hinted at one staff to switch off the projector.

The staff immediately typed on the keyboard furiously. Alas, nothing worked even after he hit the ESC key, restart key, pause key, enter key, and toggled everything he could. Cold sweat started beading on his forehead.

D*mn it. Kids nowadays are really good at causing trouble, huh? They didn't even bother sparing my feelings!

myself. My words, everyone's jaw dropped mute, suffering from intellectual disability and autism? Why is he suddenly talking? Does he was sitting on the couch, his expression as dark as thunder. Staring at his son, he wanted nothing more than to introducing himself and turned to Zayron, who was standing beside him. Without warning, he then added, "This is my big brother. I

This brat!

Boom!

hit everyone at the

they looked at each

his brother to us right after you've just really

it obvious? They claimed to be brothers. That's they look like brothers.

a mistake. Claiming that the photo was edited by photoshop doesn't sound that convincing anymore. If he microphones were pointed at the

that the little boy is his brother. Is there something that we Longman, someone spotted Mr. Luther at a residential area last night. It seemed that he went there to meet the

Mr. Luther deny that the little boy is his son? Is he afraid that the illegitimate son will try to get the legitimate son's inheritance if he were in the bud so the brothers won't be involved in an

at him

couldn't stop a layer of cold sweat from forming on his head. His experience told him that trying to explain would only make the can't provide us with a valid reason, please call Mr. Luther so we can interview

Quentin could say anything, the revolving door swung open to reveal a tall figure, who strode in flanked by a few

Luther! Mr. Luther is reporters swarmed over to