

The Super-Rich System: Behind The Multi-Billionaire

Chapter 15 - Vera Harper

In Hlington ...

In the girls' dormitory of University Yarper...

"Wow... Lily, who is this? So rich!"

"Is it another senior who's having a crush on you?"

"That's right. He's much more generous than Wesley Cunningham. That Wesley said he liked you. We gave him your live studio account number, and he only sent you $10,000. Just now, he sent you some super rockets and didn't continue after that. This guy called A Little Matchstick is very generous!"

Lily was also confused. She didn't know this "A Little Matchstick" at all. However, he had straight away gifted her with more than $100,000 the moment he came in.

She had just started her live broadcast, and those who had come to support her were her schoolmates, with most of them being in her class. Wesley was her senior who ranked first in her broadcast room. He was one year older than her and was pursuing her.

"Sisters, do you think I should add him as a friend?" Lily asked.

The Livestream hosts would usually add some rich people as their friends in order to keep them and have them constantly gift them.

It was rumored that some hosts would even take the initiative to meet them and make some sacrifices as a means to retain them.

"Lily, don't worry about him. He just sent you $100,000. Our Lily is definitely worth more than that! If he wants to pursue you, he will definitely reveal himself in school."

Dominic stopped after spending more than $100,000. It was not that he was reluctant to spend money. He would not hesitate even if he were to give tens of billions of dollars to his cousin. It was just that she might be frightened off if he did excessively.

'I will let her know during my visit to Hlington on Labor Day!' Dominic thought.

After Dominic sent everything, he quit the broadcast room without revealing his identity. He wandered casually around the Whale Live broadcast platform and checked out the other streamers. The moment he saw one he liked, he would enter the broadcast room and send 66 super rockets non-stop.

After an hour of shopping, he had already swiped more than ten times and spent more than one million dollars. He was featured more than ten times in a row and his ID, "A Little Matchstick", was a hit on the Whale Live broadcast platform.

Many less known hosts looked forward to receiving him in their own broadcast room. As long as he came in, he would send 66 super rockets and drive traffic to their broadcast.

After more than an hour, just as Dominic was about to go downstairs, he noticed that there was a word "Location" flashing on the upper left corner of his computer screen.

He clicked on it and the screen skipped to the next page.

'We're establishing the location, please wait a while...' appeared on the screen.

In less than ten seconds, a new list of broadcast rooms appeared. These broadcast rooms were relatively close to Dominic, and most of them were in Jtown.

He chose a room with higher popularity. When he entered the live broadcast, he found that the streamer was Vera Harper, one of the three campus belles of Jackinion University.

Vera was a well-known figure at Jackinion University. She was not only beautiful, but also talented. At the freshmen's party, her sexy and enchanting dance had captured the hearts of more than eighty percent of the male students in the school.

There were even more discussions about her subsequently. It was rumored that she was close to several of the rich and handsome students in school, but none of them was successful in making her his girl. Liam was one of the interested guys.

To compete for her favor, these rich guys gave her imported food, branded clothes, and bags. There was even one who had given her a BMW sports car worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

'She must be very good at this. She had toyed with so many of the rich and handsome guys but had not let anyone of them get her easily and she could continue to arouse their competitiveness and desire,' Dominic thought.

She was both talented and super beautiful. With her high popularity at Jackinon University, her live broadcast was naturally well received. There were already thousands of people watching her.

Dominic's appearance obviously caused quite a stir in the broadcast room. After all, he had just spent more than one million dollars and been featured more than ten times. Moreover, he had exceeded level 100 on his account.

On Whale Live, you only needed to gift to level up. Spend $10,000 and you would be able to upgrade by one level, and there was no upper limit. The higher the level, the more dazzling it would be when you entered the room.

Dominic had just spent one million seven hundred and twelve thousand dollars, which made him achieve level 172 and he was already at the highest level in this broadcast room. As soon as he entered the room, he was ranked top, and the second in line was only at level 120.

"Welcome Mr. Matchstick to the broadcast room."

As soon as he joined, he heard Vera's voice. He didn't bother to make small talk and went straight to sending out the 66 super rockets.

(A Little Matchstick sent Tiny Vera super rocket X 1).

(A Little Matchstick sent Tiny Vera's super rocketX 66).

"Thank you, Mr. Matchstick, for your gifts Would you like to listen to a song or watch a dance?" Vera asked. She wanted to keep this big shot happy.

"What the hell, Mr. Matchstick is here!"

"He's Mr. Matchstick! No matter which broadcast room he is in, as long as he clicks on it, he'll definitely send a minimum of 66 super rockets."

"I worship Mr. Matchstick! I've been following you for a long time, and now, I finally see you."

"Mr. Matchstick, do you need someone to carry your bag?"

Countless chats appeared on the screen ...

At this same time, another bigshot came into the live broadcast room. His Level 298 actually put him higher than Dominic. In an instant, Dominic was pushed to second place.

The bigshot named Lang came in and started a chat. Because of his advanced level, the characters on his chat were golden and attracted everyone's attention easily.

"Vera, if I'm ranked first on the list tonight, will you go on a date with me?"

"Yes! Liam, as long as you're ranked first, I'll date you tomorrow."

Vera replied in a soft and pleasant voice.

The crowd burst into an uproar.

"Damn it, who is this? The goddess is going to be taken away?"

"He's the tall, rich, and handsome Liam Holt from our school! His family is so rich!"

"It looks like Liam is going to put in a lot of effort to win Vera tonight."

"This will be big news tomorrow. I've already thought of the headlines, 'Tall, rich Liam Holt wins the favor of campus belle, Vera Harper, with millions of dollars'"

"That's great. It will definitely make it to the top of the campus' headlines."

Dominic was just about to leave. He took one last look...

'What the hell...

Liam already has Sandra, yet he is still coming here to chase after Vera and wants to be ranked first for a date with her.

Dream on ...

Damn it ...

I have to ruin your plan. Tonight, I'll make you pay a little for what you did to me, and then I'll slowly take back the rest in the future.'

Liam was also prepared to win Vera tonight.

After pursuing her for so long, and spending a lot of money, though he still had not succeeded, she also had not refused him outright. Every time, he would feel so aroused by her.

His parents were businessmen, and they were a little famous in Jtown. The family was said to have more than one billion worth of assets so Liam had been spending money casually. In school, he was also well-known for being rich and handsome.

In the past three years in college, as long as there was a woman he fancied, he would just splurge on her and he had never failed.

Not only that, he had also been successful with numerous female streamers. However, all these didn't work when it came to Vera.

It had cost him hundreds of thousands of dollars these past few months, and he had not even touched her hands. Of course, it was the same for her other suitors.

However, this only further stirred up Liam's desire to conquer her. No matter how much money he had to spend today, he would win Vera's heart. Not only could it satisfy his desire, it would also stop the other pursuers.

'What about Sandra?'

'I had already gotten what I wanted from her and was tired of her. If she doesn't mind, I can still toy with her for a few more days.'

'If she thinks of competing with Vera for my favor?'

She'd better get lost as soon as possible..'
