

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 631

What did she say at that time, though? Lara said that her face was ruined after being burned in the fire. She had been undergoing treatment abroad, but she was worried that he would dislike her if she couldn't be cured, so she asked her family to tell him not to wait for her..

She even told Edward that she actually thought of him every day and every night, that she would look at their photos and letters to reminisce about the memories they had together.

There was also the diary wherein she wrote to him daily with every heartfelt sentence. She was such a strong and ambitious woman, but she was willing to be gentle when it came to him.

No man could resist such a distinction! Naturally, he fell for her trap, and into the tenderness of this woman. Now...

It was simply ridiculous! It was no wonder she always asked him to fight for the Nolan Group, saying that he missed out on the position of president because of her, and that she felt guilty about it, so she would definitely help him to obtain it again.

It turned out that she had wanted it all along! Edward looked fiercely at Lara. Lara argued, "I helped Gerald with something. That's why he gave it to me..."

This time, Edward didn't listen to her lies anymore, though. He walked up to her and held her in a chokehold. "You actually did so many disgusting things, yet you still manage to say such heartfelt stuff to convince me. Where's your dignity?"

She felt suffocated all of a sudden and struggled instinctively, but two bodyguards grabbed her from behind, so she failed to escape his grasp.

Her lips moved, but she couldn't say a word. She reckoned that this incident along with committing arson and instructing someone to kill Ellen wasn't a big deal at all. Why was he so agitated?

Eugene was quite surprised too as he didn't expect that this was what Edward found most unacceptable. If he knew that, he would've brought up Lara's entanglement with Gerald first.

He had overestimated their position in his heart and their lives were nothing compared to Lara's betrayal. From the very beginning, the only person whom Edward cared for was Lara! "Ed... Ward..." Lara choked out with difficulty.

Edward was livid. "For so many years, you've been getting more and more ambitious. You've done so many bad deeds just to get Nolan Group. I condoned you seeing that you're my wife, and because you saved my life. Yet, even you saving my life was a set-up. You're a vicious woman. I'll strangle you to death today."

Eugene said nothing while everyone else simply watched on. Everyone noticed her face turning from pale to red, then from red to gray, and her eyes were starting to lose their focus. Merlin panicked and advised, "That's enough. If you strangle any harder and she dies, are you going to pay with your life?"

It was enough to convince Edward to let go and take a step back. All of a sudden, grief overcame him and he was filled with the desire to die. He had nothing left after all. "I'm going to pay with my life!"

Merlin was so furious that he wanted to beat Edward up, so he ordered the bodyguards around him, "Hurry up and grab him!" The bodyguards glanced at Eugene, who nodded.

Only then did the two of them head over to bring Edward to Merlin. Lara fell to the ground at once and gasped heavily like a fish on the verge of death. She truly felt like she was going to die earlier!

Edward was simply too ruthless. For so many years, she stood by her word and he had also been spoiling her. She didn't expect that he wanted to strangle her to death after all that happened.

She felt aggrieved for some reason and said, "Even if I lied when I came back to you, I still love you. Otherwise, could I have spent so many years with you?"

A raging Edward looked at her, no longer believing a single word that she said. "Shut the f*ck up!"

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 632

Merlin looked at Eugene. "Don't lift a finger. Just leave them all to the police to deal with!" Eugene sneered. "Then, they'll only be sentenced for a few years!” Then, Merlin emphatically reminded, “He’s your dad. You always have to leave a way out for him.”

“As his son, it’s my filial piety to let him die in clarity. What’s more, doesn’t he want to stick with Lara regardless of what happens? I’m merely helping him with this.” “Your father doesn’t have to die, though!”

Eugene retorted, “Don’t you see? Even at this point, he didn’t think he had done anything wrong. You have asked me to leave a way for him to live, so how are we as the ones who were hurt by them supposed to feel?” Merlin answered, “He was just a stubborn guy who fought to the end for what he believed, but he understands what he did now!”

Eugene sneered again. “He just feels that he has been deceived, and he only cares and feels bad about himself!” The grandfather and grandson were chatting so casually, as if the people present around them) were invisible and could not hear them!

In fact, Eugene had already asked Edward this sentence several times today: Is there anything else you want to say? It was at least three or four times that Eugene did so. He was clearly set on letting Edward die!

Merlin thought for a while and tempted Eugene, “Fine. If you promise to hand them over to the police station, I will send you the gift in advance.” Eugene frowned and looked at the mysterious old man. “What?”

Merlin smiled before he looked at the shareholders and said slowly, “After this time, I’ve also figured out some things. It’s better to be open and upright than to keep things a secret. Today, we will take this opportunity to discuss it. I know what you are thinking, and I know that you think I am biased in private, but what I want you to consider is the development of the entire Nolan Group. You are fighting back. and forth, but can you guarantee that the Nolan Group will do better in your hands than Eugene’s?”

Amos was embarrassed by what he said and whispered, ‘I naturally have no opinion about Eugene, but it may not be the same for the others. Anyway, I don’t agree with anyone except Eugene.’”

As he spoke, he also glanced meaningfully at Edward. Edward couldn't care about what they were saying at the moment and he sat on the chair feeling a little lost.

When everyone heard the words, they also followed suit. "Yes, yes. Over these few years, the annual income of the Nolan Group has been rising." "Yes. President Nolan has always been capable, and we are all convinced!"

Merlin went on to say, "The Nolan Group's a century-old enterprise and you will have the chance if you have the ability. Besides, their income will be doubled year by year. I don't need to tell you all what you already know in your heart. Don't think I am biased, but I know who is most suitable for this position.

I can't watch the country built by generations of the Nolan Family get ruined like this. You only know how to fight for the company, but do you know how to manage it? Do you think that the presidential seat is so easy to sit in? Eugene takes on more than you think. You can sleep peacefully after work, receive monthly wages, and receive dividends at the end of the year, but he can't.

As a company leader, he has to deal with the working opportunities of tens of thousands of employees in the company. To make a living, he must look ahead to the development of the company and ensure that shareholders' wallets are full. Who among you can share his burden?

Even when he is seriously ill, you are not thinking about working with a peace of mind and maintaining the company's reputation, but whether your wallet will shrink or not, or whether you should fight to be the next president? It seems that when you become the president, you can do everything in the world! Can't you all see the pressure he's under, though?"

His voice was not very loud, but no one made a sound. Some bowed their heads whereas some nodded frequently. "Everyone knows that I have 25% of the shares in my hand, and there may be many people who have been thinking about getting their hands on it, but let me tell you this: don't you even think about it. I have already made the necessary arrangements for these shares."

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 633

Everyone pricked up their ears to listen when they heard those words. What does this mean? Is he going to surrender his power? Eugene was also slightly surprised. Didn't Grandpa already make a will? What's going on here? Were his shares to be divided in advance?

He looked suspiciously at Merlin, who said, calmly, "I decided to give 10% of my shares to Olivia Maxwell and the other 15% to North Maxwell. Eugene will keep the shares for them for the time being, and give it to the child when he becomes an adult!"

As soon as he said this, the whole conference room gasped-he actually gave it to Olivia! Isn't she just President Nolan's girlfriend? Does Master Merlin really like her that much?

Olivia was also shocked as she hurriedly stood up and protested, "Grandpa, this can't be done. North and I can't have it!" Merlin raised his hand and motioned for her to sit down. "Don't refuse this. You deserve it!"

Edward also looked at the old man in surprise. Is he crazy? Why is he giving out 10% of his shares to Olivia Maxwell? And the fact that he only had 10%! Although he was full of doubts, he didn't say anything.

On the contrary, Lara was furious. If Merlin had released these shares earlier, things would not have reached the point where it was today. So, it meant that he was trying to hammer her down before beginning to distribute his shares.

Even if she deserved this, there was no chance for her to obtain the shares. However, Penny is always the child of the Nolan Family, right? Yet, Penny never received anything either..

Thinking of that, Lara sneered. "She's a woman who can go to bed with a beggar and even had an illegitimate child with him. Even if your grandson is fond of the child, he is not of your family and yet, you still gave your shares to these outsiders-old man, have you gone senile?"

When everyone heard this, they all looked at Lara in surprise. How can she say that? Although she usually used strong words whenever she spoke, she was still always polite when talking to Merlin. She was now reprimanding him?!

Did she not want to pretend at all at this point? Eugene's eyes narrowed fiercely and he instructed the bodyguard, "Get her!" The bodyguard immediately responded and walked toward Lara in a few steps. A short while later, there was only the sound of a slap in the face echoing in the huge conference room.

It was just that Lara didn't stop after being beaten and she continued, 'It's useless even if you beat me to death. You won't give your shares to someone that belongs to the Nolan Family, but you'll give them to such a disgusting woman! You threatened the old man to do this, didn't you? Well? Is everyone in the Nolan Family just going to watch and do nothing? Think about how many shares you have in your own hands.'

The more she shouted, the harder the bodyguard attacked her. After about ten minutes, her voice finally disappeared-she was in too much pain.

Eugene raised his hand and signaled the bodyguard to stop. He looked at Lara, who was slumped on the ground. 'Do you know what it means to court disaster with your words this time?'

Lara held her red, swollen face in her hands as she cried out in pain, "Eugene Nolan, you are disgusting. You still treasure a woman who has slept with a beggar!" A storm quickly gathered in Eugene's eyes, and he instructed the bodyguard, "Go on! Continue!"

It was another ten-minute beating under the watchful eyes of all the people there, but no one in the entire conference room dared to make a sound. The Nolan Group had already sued several keyboard warriors who spoke nonsense.

That being so, Lara was courageous to have spoken this way. She dared to speak ill about someone else's girlfriend in front of others. Was she not courting death? Lara, who made a ruckus at the beginning, was now thrown to the floor and she did not say another word. She could only breathe weakly.

Only then did Eugene withdraw his gaze indifferently. "In the future, whoever dares to speak nonsense like her, this is what's going to happen to them!"

Super Wife's Three Babies chapter 634

Everyone cautiously lowered their heads one by one when they heard the words for the fear of being implicated in trouble! Merlin looked at everyone and explained calmly, "Everyone must be wondering why I made such an arrangement. It's not only because Olivia saved my life, but also because she is Eugene's girlfriend, my little great-grandson's mother, and the future matriarch of my Nolan Family."

Everyone couldn't help but whisper among themselves. "Olivia is so awesome. Not only did she conquer President Nolan, but she also won over Master Merlin as well."

"Not to ridicule anyone but it's fine if he liked Olivia enough to give her shares. Why give them to her child, though? That child is not a family member.' "How dare you say this! Do you want to get beaten up too?"

"Then, what happened between Olivia and the beggar?" "It's probably fake. Do you think President Nolan was such a fool? Take today's meeting as an example. I always feel like there's a plan underneath and it is very likely that this was arranged by him!"

"That's for sure. Otherwise, how could the testimony of the witnesses be so sufficient? I don't think it's easy to tell whether President Nolan is sick or not in the first place." "Yeah, let's just be careful in the future!"

Merlin listened to everyone's discussion as he deliberately waited and said to Eugene, "Eugene, come and formally introduce the pair of mother and son to everyone!"

Eugene smiled and addressed everyone, "Everyone, please be silent. I will officially introduce to you today my girlfriend, Olivia, and my son, North Maxwell. In recent years, everyone may have known that I had been looking for someone-a woman, but what everyone doesn't know is that Olivia is the woman I'm looking for.

North is our biological child, and the youngest child of the Nolan Family so far! In order to protect them, this has not been made public, so you are the first to know the truth after being used by people with ill intentions! After returning home, if you find any posts insulting my girlfriend and my son on the Internet, you are welcome to report to the legal department. Once it is determined that there is indeed a false accusation, the whistleblower will receive a bonus!" After hearing this, everyone sighed again. "He's President Nolan's biological child?"

"No wonder President Nolan is exasperated. He even made a statement in person and asked the company's legal department to sue them. Who would dare to hurt his own son and significant other?"

“Actually, you should have known a long time ago. You can see how fond President Nolan is of them, and the way he takes the child with him for several days.”

“My God, let’s hurry back and look for the post. Maybe we’ll make a fortune.” “Now, the legal department of Nolan Group has some work to do!”

For a time, everyone talked about it with great enthusiasm and there was an inexplicable feeling of being secretly delighted. The whole conference room was as lively as a busy market.

Lara was completely dumbfounded-so, they were in fact related. She was really suspicious at the time, but she unfortunately couldn’t investigate anything..

It turned out that Eugene had wanted to protect them. It also seemed that Merlin had known about this for a long time. Otherwise, it was impossible for him to like the child so much. Now, she had nothing.

Originally, she thought that she would have the Nolan Group at least, but who would have thought that there would be so many changes along the way?

Now, the Nolan Group had disappeared from her hands, her marriage was gone, and everything she had worked so hard to manage for so many years had come to nothing. As for Eugene, not only was he still sitting in that position, but he also had a wife and a child.

In an instant, this huge gap made Lara lose all thoughts. Her ears were buzzing, her eyes were white, and her entire body seemed to be spinning in place. Her eyes closed and she immediately fainted. Merlin tremblingly took out a brocade box in his pocket and handed it to Olivia. “This is for you!”

Super Wife’s Three Babies chapter 635

Olivia took it suspiciously. She curiously opened the box and a graphite-colored ice jade bracelet came into view. The body of this bracelet was smooth and round. The graphite color seemed to be: smudged by ink soaked in water, leaving splashing ink at just the right places. It seemed to be able to exude a charm that had come through the distant and long years.

She saw at a glance that the bracelet was of great value and even her hands shook subconsciously. “Grandpa, this is too precious. And the shares- I know this is your will, but I can make money to support myself. I can't have these things!" As she said that, she was about to return the brocade box.

Merlin returned it to her again and said angrily, "Just take it since I've given it to you. For so many years, you have worked hard to take care of your child by yourself. I know that you are not short of cash and have the ability to make money. I just want to make up for the two of you. Although the things I give you are a bit tacky, you have to accept them so that I will feel better!"

Olivia didn't know what to do for a while. She turned to Eugene for help, but he also said with a smile, "Take it. Grandma treasured this bracelet during her lifetime!" After that, she took a step back and relented, "Then, I will accept this bracelet, and I will not want the shares."

Again, Merlin said in feigned anger, "Oh, child- it's for you, so take it. You have suffered for so many years. You have no mother and father, and have to live precariously day after day. As a grandfather, I feel distressed when I look at you, yet I can't help you with anything. You will be a family in the future, and if Eugene makes you angry, tell me. I will help you to deal with him, but don't be really angry with him!" Olivia's nose felt a little sour from the old man's words as she nodded fiercely, "Okay, I understand. Thank you, Grandpa!"

He smiled, then looked at everyone. "Don't feel like I'm being unfair. Everyone can see how Eugene has lived in the past few years. None of our family's children have suffered as hard as him, nor are they a more suitable president than him. If anyone still feels uncomfortable, talk to me in private!"

Although everyone thought it was a bit unfair, when they saw that none of the other siblings of the same rank as them received anything, they felt a lot fairer.

In addition, everyone knew well why the old man took out his shares. It was also to save the lives of Edward and Lara. Otherwise, with Eugene's ruthlessness, it would be a real question as to whether they could survive. After all, he dared to do something to them even in front of so many people, so if he really wanted to kill them, he could have easily just arranged an accident.

Eugene naturally knew what the old man meant. Although he deeply hated Edward, Edward didn't participate in many things and his mother wouldn't let him make the kill.

It was just like taking advantage of the situation for his own benefit. As for Lara, he would definitely deal with her by letting her stay in prison for the rest of her life!

He looked at Edward and said, "For Grandpa's sake, I wouldn't continue pursuing this and I'll let the police handle this matter. I hope you can reflect on what you have done in the middle of the night. The things that are revengeful and ungrateful on top of the ones that are unrepentant and making you wish you could kill yourself!"

As he said that, he looked back indifferently at Curtis and commanded in a cold voice, "Prosecute Lara Roberts for multiple murders as well as Edward cheating with her and designing to frame Ms. Ellen Mccarthy!"

Curtis responded, "Yes, sir." Eugene added, "Take this surveillance with you!"
