

Bossy President & Superstar Girlfriend

C5

A standard photo of a girl was printed on the fax. She had delicate features and her eyes were as clear and calm as a deer.

Tang Xiaoyi, female, Han nationality, 21 years old, third year student of Mingmei Academy of Art.

Favorite: Design, Painting, Music.

Character: Quiet and introverted.

Height: 166cm

Three Ranges: 88, 65, 89

Home...

Qin Junning received the fax. With his sinister eyes, he could tell at a glance whether this girl was suitable for the entertainment industry.

Her looks were pretty good, especially her figure. Had she been a model before? Qin Junning looked at her resume, touched his chin and laughed. He called Zhong Guoqing, "Is this girl your new love?"

Qin Junning knew Zhong Yuqing would never waste too much time on a woman, and it was even more impossible for him to have a regular lover. Thus, he was curious about the relationship between this girl and her good friend.

Moreover, Tang Xiao Ai's family was very ordinary. She lived in an unknown town tens of kilometers away from the city. She did not have any background.

"No." Zhong Yuqing's voice was cold and hard. He was busy right now.

"Oh, that's good. Her appearance is fine, but her personality isn't suitable for the entertainment circle. As long as she isn't your precious baby, I can teach her a lesson ..." He didn't like seedlings that didn't have explosive power and weren't malleable.

"That's all. I still have some matters to attend to, so let's talk about it in the future." Zhong Yuqing hung up the phone before he could finish his words.

"Hello?" Qin Junning frowned, threw his phone to the side, picked up the resume and continued reading.

From kindergarten to high school, Tang Xiaoyi was the same as all the students who worked hard to improve. Because of her excellent results, she was the only student that was admitted to the Academy.

In university, her grades were still as outstanding as ever and she received scholarships every year. However, she was still as low-key as a ball of air. Amongst the group of girls from the art school, she was like a small, unremarkable white flower.

Tang Xiaoyi found another comfortable part-time job for her ... Playing the piano in a cafe pays you more per hour than you do every day you hand out leaflets.

His phone rang and Tang Xiaoyi picked up. It was her brother, Tang Wenzheng. He had just entered university three months ago and was in the same city as her.

"Sis, I'll come see you this weekend." Tang Wen really loved his sister. Without her, he wouldn't be who he is today.

"I have to work part-time this weekend, I don't have time..."

"No problem, I'll wait for you to finish." Tang Wen interrupted his sister and said.

He went to Polytechnic University and also got a part-time job as a home tutor. On New Year's Day, he was too busy, so he didn't have time to meet his sister. It was rare for him to have free time this weekend.

"Ugh ..." All right, let's have dinner together on the weekends. " After Tang Xiao Yi finished speaking, she sat in the empty classroom and looked at the scenery outside.

She was trying to forget what had happened that night, to get her life back on track. It was hard, but she believed she would do it slowly.

There was nothing she couldn't overcome, even when her mother was very ill, when faced with high medical expenses and a poor family, she had to rely on her thin shoulders to survive.

His little brother had grown up and was accepted into the best science academy. His mother's illness was under control, his father's gambling habits were restrained, and everything was progressing in a good direction. Thus, as long as he kept walking forward, any Shadow Devil Barrier could be thrown far away.

"Hey, why aren't you eating?" A familiar voice sounded with a trace of surprise.

It was lunchtime now, and the students were all rushing to the cafeteria, but she was still sitting in the classroom, reading a dry philosophy book.

Shen Mo pretended to casually come back to get the book, and saw a girl sitting by the window with her chin resting on her hands.

She was very introverted and quiet. Compared to the high-profile and bright girls in the Academy of Arts, she was in stark contrast. She would never take the initiative to show off, nor did she like to participate in any students' recreational activities.

Thus, other than the time when he could see her in class, he couldn't find her anywhere else, so it was impossible for others to pay attention to her.

But Shen Mo noticed it.

There was a group of people who were naturally smart and intelligent, and were able to see beauties that others couldn't.

"Huh?" Tang Xiao Yi turned her head and saw Shen Mo. She suddenly became flustered. The air seemed to have thinned out, making it hard for her to breathe.

"Good, let's go to the cafeteria together." Shen Mo seemed to be speaking carelessly, but he didn't dare to reject it.

"I ..." Tang Xiao Ai's hand was covered with sweat. Although she was quiet, she was not a timid person. She was relaxed and did not shy away from speaking in front of Shen Mo, who was too nervous to speak.

"Let's go. It won't be easy to find a seat if we're too late." After which, Shen Mo turned around and walked out.

Tang Xiao Ai put away the book and felt that the sunlight today was too bright and bright, making her unable to open her eyes.