

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 101 Bloodied Arena

Thirty minutes earlier, after the break, when the spectators were supposed to return to the arena to watch the next match of the day, some people entered the arena along with the crowd, though they didn't sit together.

Instead, they took seats separately. As one of them was about to sit, he accidentally stepped on someone.

"Hey! Watch it, will you?" The man turned around and frowned. This made the other man, the one who had been stepped on, grow angry.

"What? Why are you frowning at me? You stepped on me, and now you're giving me attitude?"

The man said nothing, just turned away, about to leave, when the other man grabbed his shoulder to stop him.

"Where do you think you're going? You stepped on me and didn't even bother to apologize! Are you crazy?" The man turned around to look at who was holding his shoulder.

"Get your hands off me," he scowled.

"Or what?" the man said, still gripping his shoulder.

Their argument drew the attention of a few people nearby.

"Hey, man! C'mon, apologize," someone from the crowd called out.

The man was about to snap back at him when he looked up and noticed someone from the crowd shaking his head. He calmed down and turned back to the man he'd stepped on.

"I'm sorry," the man muttered as he turned to sit down

"Hey! Say it like you mean it!" the other man shouted, reaching to grab him again, but someone stopped him.

"C'mon, he already apologized. Let it go," the bystander said, holding his arm in a firm grip. The man struggled to free himself but eventually gave up.

"Fine," he muttered and took his seat.

As the spectators settled back into their seats, the match between Vynn and Dan began. The two fighters went toe-to-toe, blow for blow, until, after some time, Vynn was stabbed in the stomach. He dropped to his knees but managed to pierce Dan with a strike of his invisible Qi. Vynn was about to deliver a finishing blow when Dan blocked the strike at the last second.

Just then, in the stands, a man's nails elongated unnaturally, and he shot them at Dan's head, killing him instantly. Without hesitation, he turned and stabbed the person sitting next to him.

Panic rippled through the crowd, but before anyone could react, others began to draw weapons, slashing indiscriminately at the spectators. Chaos erupted. Helen and Berg, caught in the crowd, narrowly avoided a sword strike aimed at Helen, blocked at the last second by Berg's own blade.

"What's going on?" Helen shouted. "Why are they suddenly attacking us?"

The answer came with a terrifying transformation. Those attackers who had not yet revealed their true forms began to change. Fur sprouted from their bodies, bones cracked and shifted, and soon werewolves stood where ordinary people once sat.

By now, Vynn had shouted warnings to his friends. His voice cut through the noise of the battlefield. His friends, still stunned, quickly snapped out of their daze. In the arena, General Paul and Wilfred were about to leap into the stands to aid the crowd, but two werewolves blocked their path, keeping them occupied.

Jack, wasting no time, dashed toward Vynn. In an instant, he was by his friend's side, lifting him onto his shoulder. They hurried back toward their friends, but a werewolf leaped down from the stands, aiming for Jack.

An arrow suddenly pierced the werewolf's leg, halting its advance. Ruby from the third year stepped forward with her bow, followed by Emily, who drew her sword.

"Go! Get him to the clinic. We'll hold this beast down, but we won't last long alone," Ruby shouted.

"You won't have to," Sophia said, stepping forward with Peter.

Seeing Jack move to save Vynn had snapped them out of their frozen state. They saw the werewolves advancing but were intercepted by Emily and Ruby. The werewolf they faced was a runt, weaker than the more dangerous ones that had attacked them during the beast hunt, but still dangerous.

Jack and Vynn reached the entrance, but a werewolf blocked their way but then, Vynn stood still freeing himself from Jack's shoulders.

"Don't worry, I can help," Vynn said, gripping his spear tightly. "I can hold on for a little longer."

One of the werewolf threw a punch towards Vynn who managed to duck slightly avoiding the punch then Jack came down with a slash of his sword on the werewolf's hand and it was cleanly sliced off.

The werewolf pulled its stump for a hand back in surprise but he couldn't be surprised for long because Vynn was already upon him with a stab to its head, the werewolf leaned backwards avoiding it.

But it couldn't avoid Jack's sword strike from behind that managed to cut deep into its hide therefore drawing blood. The werewolf quickly turned around to deal with Jack by kicking him hard sending him flying with full force.

Vynn seeing this, quickly made a stab towards the werewolf's head again but the werewolf turned around to stop the spear strike heading towards its head by holding onto the tip of the spear.

Vynn was struggling to pull the spear from the werewolf's grip that was when a sword strike cut the werewolf's hand that was holding onto the spear cleanly.

Looking up, Vynn could see who had saved him and it was Alex, the rank 1 among the third years, the strongest student in the academy.

"Thank you." Vynn said as he was panting from the exhaustion with his hands on his knees.

Alex looked at Vynn up and down. "You are still injured and your wounds have reopened. You need medical help ASAP."

"Don't worry," Vynn said propping himself up with his spear. "I will be fine."

The werewolf was now visibly furious as it dashed towards Alex and Vynn but Alex was quick to act.

With a slash from above, the werewolf jumped back avoiding it but it couldn't avoid the spear stab coming from Vynn towards its rib.

The spear managed to lunge in deep as Vynn twisted it then he activated the spear's active skill.

"Activate Fire surge!" Vynn called out and immediately, his spear lit up inside of the werewolf and then the werewolf was feeling hot from inside. The werewolf tried to move back to get the spear off its insides since it doesn't have any hands.

Alex seeing this, quickly moved behind the werewolf by using 'The Triple Threat' technique and then he kicked the werewolf from behind towards the spear and the spear was lunged in deep allowing the active skill to do its work therefore burning the werewolf from the inside out.

Then Alex jumped up and slashed at the werewolf's neck, slicing the werewolf's head clean off. When the werewolf dropped down, so did Vynn because the fight took a lot out of him and his wounds were now reopened again.

'I just hope the others are okay.' Vynn thought.

Chapter 102 Werewolf onslaught

When a werewolf had intercepted Vynn and Jack's path, Emily and Ruby from the third year had come to help but they weren't feeling confident about defeating the werewolf alone but they didn't have to, for Sophia and Peter had stepped forward to help them and now, they were facing off against a runt; the weakest of the pack members.

The werewolf didn't give them any time to come up with a strategy or anything, it quickly dashed towards the closest person to it which was Emily but instead of freezing up, Emily used her sword to block the claw strike heading towards her face.

The next moment, Peter and Sophia appeared on either side of the werewolf. They both swung their weapons at the same time.

The werewolf seeing this, tried to move back avoiding the strikes but an arrow from Ruby towards its back made it stay in place then the strikes landed perfectly. Sophia's sword managed to slice an inch into the werewolf's side but Peter's axes managed to do the trick.

One of Peter's axe managed to cut deep enough to draw the blood of the werewolf but it couldn't go in deep. It didn't have to, for Emily had already jumped up and delivered a Qi filled axe kick towards the werewolf's head with all the Qi she could muster.

The kick connected successfully with shockwaves being produced everywhere.

The axe kick was strong enough to make the werewolf buckle and tumble down. Then a Qi filled arrow was heading towards its head but the werewolf caught the arrow before it reached its face.

Sophia quickly came in with a roundhouse kick from the side but the werewolf grabbed her leg and swung her far away.

Peter quickly came in with a slash of his axe and then an invisible Qi strike was seen in the air heading towards the werewolf's neck from Peter's axe.

The werewolf swung its hand trying to break the strike that it could feel in the air. The werewolf managed to stop the attack but it caused a huge cut in its hands and the werewolf looked down at its hands.

'The humans have grown stronger than we estimated.' The werewolf thought.
'Have we let them be for too long?'

But the werewolf's thought was interrupted by Emily again coming in with a Qi filled kick again towards the werewolf's head causing it to slam its head on the floor hard.

Emily then moved back to create a bit of space. 'I didn't use that much Qi in my earlier match so I still have a lot of reserve but at this rate, I'm sure to run out of Qi soon if this beast doesn't die.'

The werewolf managed to stagger up but its face was met with an uppercut from Peter that lifted it from the ground just a bit but before it could fly off, Peter grabbed the werewolf's legs and slammed it back down causing a huge crater to form.

"The last time something like you attacked, I wasn't strong enough to help." Peter shouted while making his way to the werewolf.

"I was already injured back then, I didn't have any good equipment, nor did I have this new energy called Qi." Peter was now standing above the werewolf.

"But this time, it's different!" Peter shouted as he swung his axe with all the strength he could muster while coating his axe with the second stage of Qi.

And when Peter swung his axe, the werewolf was slow to react as the axe connected with its neck and sliced its head off. And then the werewolf dropped down dead with a thud to the ground.

Peter also fell to his knees as he had almost exhausted his Qi in the fight. He had used up all his Qi for that single strike to the werewolf's neck.

Sophia had now managed to come over from wherever she had been hit away by the werewolf.

"We did it!" She shouted. "We defeated a runt together." But her victory was interrupted by a sudden chill in the air.

Then they all looked up to the sky as they dreaded the worst. "I think something big is heading our way soon."

Meanwhile, Berg and Helen were still in the stands battling against more werewolves. They would have been killed long ago if it wasn't because of the military soldiers that were in the stands before and some of the crowd that were skilled and powerful enough to hold their own against the beasts.

"Shit! Why are they suddenly attacking the academy all of a sudden?" Berg asked as he just deflected a claw that was heading for his chest.

"How am I supposed to know?" Helen asked as she just ducked avoiding another claw heading towards her head.

And now, Helen and Berg were standing while their back was together so something else won't attack them from behind. So currently, Helen and Berg were facing off against one werewolf each.

"I just hope Jake is okay." Helen said as she hit a claw away then she stabbed the werewolf's hand with her dagger.

"I'm running out of Qi. Something needs to change soon." Berg said as he slashed with his sword towards one of the werewolf's hand therefore cutting it cleanly.

"Well..." Helen said in between breath as she was trying to maintain her breath while also stabbing and kicking the werewolf in front of her.

"It's not only you that is running out... of Qi, it's like they are endless."

That was when the werewolves, charged right at their opponents at the same time.

"Switch!" Berg shouted and He and Helen managed to roll away and then face a different opponent to theirs with Helen in front of the werewolf Berg was facing and vice versa.

Since the werewolves had been charging in earlier, they were unable to stop their charge. This gave Helen and Berg enough time to switch opponent and now, Helen coated her dagger with the second stage of Qi as she aimed it at the werewolf's heart.

The werewolf had run into the dagger and now, the werewolf dropped down dead while on the other side, Berg had also done the same by coating his blade with the second stage of Qi.

Then he stabbed it into the werewolf's heart also killing the werewolf. Helen and Berg wanted to fall down because of exhaustion since they have been fighting against werewolves from the start but they couldn't because more werewolves were now heading their way.

Chapter 103 City in ruins

While everyone were battling for their lives in the arena, they kept on seeking military assistance but even the military couldn't do anything because they were also busy with their problems.

General Paul and Wilfred were also currently battling two werewolves each. And they were all at the runt level.

General Paul just avoided a claw strike from one of the runt he was facing while the other one kicked him in the rib sending him skidding. The werewolf had its hands cleanly cut off so it was fighting with its legs while the other one was the hands.

'Darn! If only it was just one of them, I can handle them but two? It's quite troublesome.' Paul thought as he did a backflip avoiding a claw strike heading for his face.

Then he quickly stood up and shot out both invisible and visible Qi strikes out towards the werewolves. One of the visible Qi strikes headed for the armless werewolf but it managed to avoid it but it couldn't avoid the invisible one that pierced its chest but couldn't go in deep.

Quickly, Paul followed up with an attack by performing The Triple Threat technique to quickly get in front of the werewolves then he performed a Qi filled axe kick towards the armless werewolf.

This caused shockwaves to be rippled out towards the other werewolf that wanted to back its partner up therefore making it unable to move forward to help.

Immediately, Paul swung his sword lightning fast towards the werewolf then he turned around to the second werewolf. To the outside, it felt like Paul didn't do anything special and that the werewolf was still alive standing still.

But in a few seconds, the werewolf fell apart into two dead. By the time the werewolf fell, Paul was already in front of the second werewolf then he performed a strong Qi filled roundhouse kick that connected successfully with the werewolf's head.

The kick managed to lift the werewolf off its feet and then go crashing down on the floor with its head. Therefore causing a deep crack in the ground while its head was also broken with it being indented as if a large heavy hammer had been used to hit the werewolf's head.

General Paul heaved a sigh of relief and was about to go help General Wilfred but another set of werewolves intercepted him. Paul was beyond angry for he had been doing this the whole time.

With him defeating werewolves and trying to go help those that were struggling and another set intercepting him. It was like there was no end in sight for all of this.

Everyone was struggling, so was the whole Aurora city. The whole city was attacked and hit hard. Innocent civilians, parents were murdered, merchants and other influential people that came for the tournament were killed left and right.

But those that could fight, were all putting up fight against the werewolves with all they got while the last General that was left in the academy along with some sergeants and soldiers were all trying to escort some of the parents, merchants and civilians back to the academy.

While fighting against werewolves that were trying to obstruct their way.

"Keep going guys!" General Julian shouted. "We are almost there. The academy is the safest place for them all currently so keep pushing we will soon be there."

Hearing General Julian's words, the soldiers kept on fighting and finally, they got to the academy but the werewolves were still hot on their heels. Finally, they had gotten to the academy and the huge gate was dropped down blocking the werewolves from entering in.

Then all the people that were escorted, were led further into the academy. Those that were unaware about what was going on in the arena, were now aware and there was full on panic going on.

Back in the Academy's clinic, Kate was still sitting down waiting for an unconscious Jake to wake up when nurse Hayley came in and delivered the news about the werewolf attack while telling everyone to be calm and not panic that the academy had it under control.

But Kate wasn't calm, she knew that her friends were currently in the arena and they might need help. Then she looked back at Jake who was still unconscious and now she was torn between going back to the arena to help her friends or stay here with Jake till he wakes up.

'The academy is currently the safest place for Jake while the others might be in a lot of trouble. They might need assistance soon. I don't know how much I can help but even if it's only 1 percent, I will take it.' Kate thought as she stood up and took her bow along with her quiver full of arrows then she made her way to the door but she stopped and looked back at Jake.

'Don't worry Kate, he will be alright but you need to focus on your friends that are in trouble now. Jake will be alright.' Kate reassured herself as she opened the doors and left the room to head back to the arena.

Immediately Kate left the room, she could feel the panic in the air but she calmly but hurriedly walked out of the clinic and was heading out of the academy building. When she got to the gate, she was stopped by the military personnels there.

"Where do you think you are going?" One of the men asked.

"I'm going to help my friends." Kate said.

The personnels laughed out loud. "Help your friends?"

"You silly girl, there are werewolves at the other side of this gate waiting to rip someone's body off and you said you wanna go help your friends? Are you kidding me right now?" Another one of the personnel said.

"You better go back into the academy and stop trying to play heroine." The second personel said.

Kate didn't give up, she turned around to head back into the academy when she heard loud bangs resounding on the gate as if someone was pounding the gates.

Quickly turning around, she could feel the military personnels were all nervous with sweat running down their faces.

The bangs resounded louder and louder and then, a dent could be seen on the gate and the bang became louder than ever.

'How's this possible? This gate is made from Hyperalloy. The strongest material discovered on earth so how is there a dent in it?' Kate thought and then her thought was interrupted with another bang louder than ever as the gates blew open.

Chapter 104 The second wave

Back at the arena, everyone was now rounding up their fights with the runts that attacked them. There was loss on the humans side but at least, they managed to get rid of all the werewolves so they thought.

Now with their numbers a little lessened, the humans made their way to the centre of the arena including Berg and Helen who were heavily tired after fighting non stop against the runts.

Currently in the centre, General Paul, Wilfred, the third years that hadn't fought in the tournament, and Jake friends that were in the arena along with the student named Lan.

The people in the centre of the arena were: General Paul, Wilfred, Vynn who was now terribly injured, Jack, Peter, Sophia, Berg, Helen, Cindy, Emily, Alex, Ruby, Jasmine, Simyon, Gary, Charlotte and Geo.

These were the people at the centre of the arena with a couple of strong adventurers that were in the arena, there were at least four of these adventurers here. All of them were now resting in the centre of the arena tired.

"Well, I guess it's all over now." Vynn commented, still holding onto his injured stomach while wincing in pain.

Those that were strong and in tune with Qi and energy, they didn't reply for they also knew that it was far from being over but they welcomed the little breather they were given.

While sitting down, Peter kept turning his head around. "So many people died today."

"And I don't think we are off the hook yet." Peter commented as he saw so many dead bodies littered around. Some of them had their limbs torn while some were heavily mutilated.

Looking at the scene, Peter felt like throwing up but he held it in and then looked away.

"I don't know about you, but I'm really low on Qi right now. I don't think I can help in any next battle." Berg said while clenching his hand in and out to feel the energy left in it.

Even the Generals were also low on Qi but they put on a brave face so the students won't be discouraged or lose hope.

Sophia opened up her mouth to say something but she quickly closed it as her eyes widened in shock.

"Shit!" She cursed loudly. The rest were about to ask her why she was cursing and that was when they could also see it.

More werewolves were storming through the arena with ferociousness. And that was not the reason for Sophia's shock or the others either, it was because of what level the werewolves coming were.

They were all at the Omega level; a little bit above the runt level.

And they were all charging into the arena along with some more pack members. They were numbering around 150 werewolves charging. The number was a little lower than the earlier wave that attacked them but they were still too much for them to handle currently especially when some of them were almost out of Qi.

"Can you hold them down along with some of the students?" General Paul asked Wilfred as they could see the werewolves charging towards them.

"I can, but it won't be easy. We will be defeated quickly if we don't get more help. Why do you even ask?" Wilfred asked.

"Because I plan to recover some of my Qi then when I recover enough, we will switch while you also recover your Qi. Because that's the only way I see of us winning this right now."

"That is not actually a bad idea, it might just work." Wilfred said as he stood in front of the students while readying his sword.

"So what are you waiting for? Go and recover and we will buy enough time." Wilfred shouted as Jack, Sophia, Peter, Emily, two of the adventurers, Alex, Gary and Geo stood side by side with Wilfred.

While the rest of them were all staying far away from Wilfred and the rest. The ones staying far away, were those that were trying to recover their Qi along with General Paul.

They all sat down cross legged and hoped that Wilfred and the others would be able to hold on till they could recover a little bit to assist them.

Meanwhile, on the field, Wilfred couldn't help but feel nervous at the prospect of buying time especially with his low reserve of Qi.

'Relax Wilfred, you have defeated countless omega wolves during the first war against them.' Wilfred reassured himself.

And that was when the charging werewolves finally got to their position. The first Omega wolf received a slash of the sword from Wilfred. But the werewolf managed to twist around avoiding the strike then it swung its claws so fast that it connected with Wilfred's face therefore sending him skidding.

But he managed to stop himself from skidding further as he charged right in again while the others had also begun fighting with everything they got.

Jack had dashed into the midst of the charging werewolves fearlessly with Alex and Peter by his side. They got to the midst of the werewolves and started taking down the other pack members amongst them.

They couldn't take down an omega on their own, they would leave it to the adults or when they were together but with them fighting separately, they just wanted to take down the pack members that were weak and also made up the bulk of the group.

A claw strike was heading towards Peter's face but he quickly ducked easily avoiding it then he swung his axe towards the wolf's body. The axe lunged in deep after all, it was an advanced tier axe so it could deal enough damage.

Peter was about to move again when another wolf came at him, he quickly jumped back along with his axes therefore avoiding the strike that was heading for his head when he was dealing with the werewolf from before.

Then he quickly jumped back in again with a swing to the werewolf's hand therefore cutting it off cleanly then he pushed from the ground hard and fast towards the other werewolf then he sliced its head off cleanly.

'One down, many more to go.' Peter thought. 'These pack members are all weak compared to those runts. I hate to imagine how strong those Omega wolves are and then the higher tiers.'

Alex was also making his mark in the middle of all the werewolves. With a swing of his giant sword, Alex then leaned backwards avoiding a strike that was heading for his face. Then he jumped back in again with another swing of his giant sword that sliced the werewolf's head off.

Before the werewolf dropped down dead, Alex had already jumped towards the next one closest to him. He jumped up high and then landed with an axe kick towards the werewolf's head therefore causing its knees to buckle and then fall down.

Therefore making it easy for Alex to slice its head off with his giant sword then he moved to the next one, no time for rest or break as Jack, Alex and Peter kept going from werewolf after werewolf therefore lessening their numbers.

Jack, Peter and Alex were now the tank and damage dealers of the new formed group.

Meanwhile, Sophia along with Emily were also making their own mark by working together to try take down a single Omega. It wasn't easy as they were hit a couple times but each time, they kept on coming back with much more fervour.

Emily quickly moved to the side avoiding a kick that was heading towards her stomach and then Sophia came in with a roundhouse kick towards the omega head but it just lifted its hand therefore blocking the kick.

Then it wanted to grab Sophia's leg but she quickly pulled it back and then one of the adventurers quickly jumped in and helped her by kicking the omega wolf back with such strength that it managed to make it skid away from its position.

"Thank you." Sophia said as she quickly moved in again for the attack.

In less than a second, Sophia was already beside the werewolf while Emily was already on the other side of the werewolf.

As if knowing what they had to do, they both nodded and threw out their legs that was now enhanced with whatever Qi they had left in their body towards the werewolf's head while the that helped them earlier, came in with a sword strike from the front.

Now the werewolf had to choose between getting its head smashed in with a Qi filled kick or a sword strike from the adventurer.

And it chose neither. When Sophia and Emily's legs were about to connect with the werewolf's head, it just ducked avoiding their kick totally while Emily and Sophia's legs crashed together creating shockwaves that spread out.

They hit each other shin to shin but luckily for them, they had covered their legs with Qi and now, with their attack failing, they lost the little Qi they had left. Meanwhile, the adventurer had swung his sword but it just struck air.

Now, the adventurer along with Sophia and Emily were now standing away from the werewolf who had a grin on its face after seeing their feeble attempt fail.

The werewolf dashed towards them with a speed that surpassed what the runts of earlier couldn't do and then it was in front of Sophia who was in front of the group then it swung its claws but it was intercepted by a sword...

Chapter 105 What the heck is going on?

Back at the city, Kate was currently in the middle of the academy while the supposed strong gate made from the strongest material known to man just got blasted and werewolves were seen storming. They numbered around a hundred probably the rest were at the arena.

But the hundred werewolves were filled with both omega and runts. Although, the runts outnumbered the omegas so they had nothing to worry about. But with a hundred werewolves charging towards them, the military personnels at the gate were frozen.

The werewolves seeing this, quickly swiped at their heads killing them in an instant and then they ate their bodies rapidly digesting them quickly. Kate was initially frozen but seeing what they did to the military personnels, she quickly started running back to the academy.

But her movements alerted the werewolves to her and 10 of them were now chasing her down while Kate was trying to outrun them by weaving around some small buildings. When she was close to the Academy's building, she could see the military were outside.

And seeing the werewolves coming, they also ran forward to meet them with General Julian taking the charge along with Sergeant Leo and Lee by his side and a lot of the soldiers.

"Don't let them get into the academy or else, they will kill every single one of those students that are being protected there." Julian shouted as they were almost close to the werewolves.

"Those students are the future of the world so we have to do anything it takes to protect them. If it means that we lose our lives in the process." Julian shouted as he was now by one of the Omega's side then he swung his giant hammer at the werewolf's face.

But the werewolf managed to dodge the strike then it swung its long limbs towards Julian's face but Julian was quite skillful. He leaned sideways avoiding the strike then he moved back in again with a swing of his giant hammer and the added Qi into it made it dangerously fast and strong as it pummeled into the werewolf's face causing it to be indented and then it fell down dead.

Quickly, Julian moved onto the next victim. "You guys are no match for me!" Julian shouted.

"I have dealt with you lots in the first war so I can handle myself." Julian said as he ducked avoiding a hit heading for his face.

Then he used his hammer to lean all his weight on it and then threw a Qi filled kick to a runt's head therefore killing it on the spot.

It wasn't only General Julian, even sergeant Lee and sergeant Leo were all making huge impacts in the battle. With Leo being a combat prodigy, he easily defeated the runts that came at him while going after the omegas leaving the runts for the soldiers to handle.

One of the omega wolf, quickly pushed off the ground strongly towards sergeant Leo who just readied himself while directing the Qi to his leg and waited for the right time.

When the omega wolf was now a foot away from him, Leo quickly swung his leg out very fast that the Omega wolf was unable to avoid it and it got blasted far back even hitting its pack members and then they collided on the wall that was used to hold the gates.

Leo didn't give chase, he just went onto the next werewolves and started decimating, kicking, punching and tearing through the werewolves like a bull that was out of control.

Meanwhile, Kate was still standing far away from the scene completely awed by how the academy were pushing the werewolves back although they had losses, it wasn't that major, it was just minor losses.

Seeing this, Kate decided to make use of this chaos and head to the arena. Quickly, Kate ran and weaved her way through the chaos that was unfolding although there were stray attacks but she managed to avoid them all.

And then finally she got to the gate that was blasted and then she ran out of the academy and made her way towards the arena very quickly with all the speed she could muster.

'Hold on guys! Please hold on for a little bit longer, I might not be able to help that greatly, but I can still support you all with the little strength I have.' Kate thought as she sped even further.

'I hope the fight back at the academy doesn't spill into the clinic where Jake is.'

And then finally, after 5 minutes of running, Kate finally got to the arena but it was worse than she imagined. Meanwhile, back at the academy, the fight was already easing up with the military personnels pushing the werewolves back.

And just when they thought they were winning, reinforcements from the werewolf side came in. Fifty omega werewolves stormed the academy to back the earlier wave up.

"How many omega wolves do they have?" Julian asked no one in particular.

'This doesn't feel right.' Julian thought. 'There wasn't this many omega wolves during the first war so how come they have these many? This will be harder than I thought.'

But Julian didn't give up, he pushed through again. But since the omegas came to reinforce them, they were losing men left and right.

The only people strong enough to deal with them were the sergeants and the General while the rest of the soldiers couldn't even damage their hide not to talk of killing them.

And slowly, they were being pushed back bit by bit. Some Omega wolves had already broken free from the military and headed for the academy but the General managed to pull them back but there were too many and then finally, 20 omegas had finally stormed inside of the academy killing anything or anyone they found.

The people inside, couldn't put up much of a fight. While 15 out of the 20 omegas were rampaging around the academy, 5 of them were now making their way to another part of the building which was the academy's clinic.

They had blown the door with their fists and stormed the clinic while killing innocent students that were either unconscious or trying to put up a fight.

Nurse Hayley even tried to protect some by fighting against them but they just overwhelmed her and now she was struck with such force that she crashed into a wall and couldn't stand up.

She wasn't much of a fighter. And in order to avoid the front lines, she opted for the choice of being a nurse. The werewolves headed into room after room dragging the students found in there whether unconscious or not and then eating them in front of their friends in the corridor of the clinic.

And finally, one of the Omegas had entered one room to drag a student out. While everyone on the floor were sobbing or crying helplessly unable to do anything.

Some were praying to the heavens to send help or a saviour to save them. And as if the universe heard them, the werewolf that went into a room to drag a student out, was blasted through the door and it went flying and crashed into a wall.

They waited for it to get up and move but it remained unmoving. Meaning only one thing, it was dead. Then they all looked up to see who could kill an omega wolf in one hit and that was when they heard him say.

"What the heck is going on?"

Chapter 106 Another Danger

After defeating all the runts, some students from second and third year along with the Generals and some adventurers that were still in the arena decided to rest but they couldn't do that for long because storming the arena were more werewolves and these were at the rank of Omega along with more runts.

And now, almost everybody were in a tough battle trying their best to at least best the omega wolves or the runts but it was proving very difficult to do that on their own so they decided to team up.

Even with the teams, the students were still finding it hard to take the omega wolves down but some teams were finding it easier. Among those teams was Jack, Peter as well as Alex.

These three were the damage dealers of the group. Charging head first into the middle of the werewolves while wrecking havoc amongst them.

But their charge was interrupted by an omega wolf that stood in there. Initially, they were dealing with the runts separately but now, an omega wolf stood in front of them so they decided to team up together and currently, they were finding it a bit hard to take down the wolf.

"Now!" Peter shouted and Alex quickly came down with a swing of his giant sword towards the omega wolf's head but the wolf quickly leaned back avoiding it.

But behind the wolf, Jack quickly threw a strong punch towards the head of the werewolf that landed successfully but it only skidded a little bit forward.

This was perfect for Alex who swung his sword again diagonally towards the werewolf and it landed successfully cutting a big lump of flesh from the wolf's chest. The hit was infused with Qi that managed to push the back towards Peter that was ready.

Peter dug his feet into the ground hard then he readied his axes and then infused it with a lot of Qi that the axe was now glowing somewhat. Then when the omega wolf was in position, Peter swung his axe furiously with all the strength he could muster.

The axe sliced off the wolf's head cleanly and it dropped dead with a thud. Peter was now huffing and panting because he had totally exhausted his Qi so did Jack and Alex. But they still kept on moving, going back to deal with the runts that were overwhelming the others.

Meanwhile, part of the group that were struggling with the omega wolves was Sophia, Emily and the adventurer that came together to try to take the wolf down but it was very difficult.

With the little Qi they had left in them, they decided to try one last attack but it didn't work. And now, the wolf dashed towards them and when it got to their position, it swung its claws towards Sophia's face because she was in front of the group.

But the claw was intercepted by a sword. Then the wolf's hand was flung back and it was now struck in the chest sending it skidding away from Sophia and the rest. Looking up to see who saved them, they could see that General Paul was here and he was the one who saved them.

"Don't worry, reinforcements are here." He smiled then he dashed towards the werewolf that he had struck earlier.

With Paul, and some of the others that had decided to meditate in order to recover their Qi being high level Qi users, they could easily and quickly recover their Qi so now, they were back in the fight with full force giving those that were tired or needed to recover enough time to rest.

Currently, Wilfred, Sophia, Emily, Jack, Peter and the two adventurers decided to go recover their own Qi while leaving the werewolves in the hands of Paul and his group.

Alex refused to go and rest. Saying that he wouldn't rest until he had taken down each and every single one of those werewolves. They tried convincing him but he refused and then rushed off towards the incoming werewolves and continued rapidly slashing, and kicking werewolves left and right.

"Alright, who's ready for round two?" Paul shouted as he charged right into the midst of the werewolves with others behind him.

A runt had thrown a hit towards Paul's head but he quickly twisted around avoiding it then he slashed the limb off with his sword and he dashed towards the runt's head and quickly sliced it off as if a hot knife was cutting through butter.

Before the werewolf hit the ground, he quickly dashed towards another runt in order to deal with it. Meanwhile, Berg and Helen were also doing well against the werewolves they encountered.

Not willing to allow Helen go off by herself, Berg kept Helen by his side so currently, they were working together to take down runts. With a push from her legs, Helen stabbed a runt's eyes and then Berg quickly came in and slashed its head off with his Qi infused sword.

Then they moved on towards the next werewolf. Vynn was currently struggling against the runts he encountered because of his injury. Vynn was teaming up with Charlotte and Cole; one of Sebastian's friends.

With a swing of her whip, Charlotte held one of the runt's hands then Cole also tied up the other hands and Vynn quickly jumped up but not too high enough because of his injury then he swung his spear towards the werewolf's head.

The spear couldn't go in deep because Vynn was terribly injured then he performed a backflip before he landed and now, he was beside Cole and Charlotte.

The runt had managed to free itself from Cole's chains but it was still struggling against Charlotte's.

"You had an opportunity and you wasted it." Charlotte said, still doing tug of war with the werewolf. "Are you that weak or what?"

"Are you that dense or what?" Vynn shouted. "Can't you see I'm injured?"

"Guys!" Cole shouted. "Stop arguing and let's focus on this werewolf."

Immediately Cole finished talking, the werewolf managed to break free from Charlotte's whip then it headed towards Vynn since he was obviously the weakest considering his earlier injury.

When the werewolf was in enough of a distance, it swung its claws towards Vynn's head very fast but then something very fast went past Vynn's head and lunged into the werewolf's hand.

The pain of whatever lunged into its hands deep made the werewolf stop its movements towards Vynn's head then it looked into its hand and pulled whatever lunged into its hand.

In his hand was an arrow. Confused, since none of those it was fighting against used a bow and arrow then it looked up but it was too late for another arrow was shot and it lunged into its eyes and then it popped right out from the other end.

The werewolf swayed left and right and then it hit the ground heavily causing a bit of dust to rise. Charlotte was shocked about everything that happened then she lifted her head up to see who managed to kill the runt that easily.

They all turned around and all saw a blonde beauty heading towards them with sweat trickling down her face.

"I'm sorry that I'm late." Kate said finally coming over.

"Kate!" Vynn shouted, then he held his stomach in pain. "What are you doing here? What about Jake?"

"Don't worry he's fine."

"I guess." Kate mumbled.

"How on earth did you manage to kill the runt with an arrow?" Charlotte asked.

"I don't know, I just shot the arrow with as much strength and QI I could muster then I released it." Kate said.

"Uhhh guys," Cole called out. They then turned around to see him. "Look!"

They all turned to where Cole was pointing and they were all shocked by what they saw. "The battle is over." Vynn said.

"So fast!" Charlotte commented because what they could see, they saw all the second wave that attacked, were all dead and their bodies were littered around the arena.

"The battle is over!" Kate said now jumping up and down then she surveyed the arena.

"Woah! So much destruction." Kate said as she could see so many broken chairs in the stands and many bodies littered around that she felt like throwing up with the way they were killed brutally.

The pungent smell hit her hard now that the adrenaline of the battle wore off. They then gathered again in the centre everybody including the ones that were meditating earlier to recover their Qi.

"I guess since the battle is over, let's head to the academy." Kate said again.

Immediately Kate finished talking, everyone could hear guttural growls echoing from the depth of the arena shadows. The air turned thick, oppressive and the temperature seemed to drop. Everybody's skin prickled, their instincts telling them that something much worse was coming.

"Are you kidding me right now?" Cindy exhasutedly said as she feared for the worst or thinking that more werewolves were coming.

Then the ground rumbled, low threatening growls were heard. The growls were much deeper than before and five times scarier.

"No no no no." Paul said, shaking his head left and right. "This is bad. Very very bad."

"What do you mean?" Wilfred asked fearing the worst.

"We need to get the hell outta here ASAP now!" Paul shouted and everybody were about to do it but they now heard a voice.

"Do you think I will let you guys do that now? I can't have my toys escape now will I?" The voice said and everybody turned around slowly to see who was talking.

From the shadows, emerged a towering figure, their fur darker, their eyes glowing with deadly intent. This was no ordinary werewolf, the movements the werewolf made were deliberate and calculated. The werewolf's eyes were glowing bright blue and Paul's worst fear happened.

"It's a freaking Beta wolf!" Paul shouted.

Chapter 107 Close Call

Back at the academy, in the school clinic, some Omega wolves stormed the clinic and started ravaging all around. They killed and mutilated almost all the students there. Nurse Hayley even tried to go against the werewolves but she was heavily injured in the scuffle allowing her not to go further with her attack or do anything.

Nurse Hayley watched helplessly as the wolves stormed room after room dragging students out. The ones that tried to resist were eaten alive and that was when they entered another room to drag a student out but they got blasted through the doors even hitting a wall and the wolves were no longer moving again; they were dead.

A little while ago, when the five omega wolves were heading to the academy clinic, Jake was in his room still unconscious, unaware of the destruction going on that was when he heard his name.

"Jake!"

"Jake!"

"Jake! Wake up you silly host!"

But he couldn't wake up, he was really unconscious, unable to hear or see anything. And that was when the wolves entered the clinic dragging students out.

After some time, they entered Jake's room and they saw him just laying there.

"Another unconscious human." One of the omegas struggled to say.

"It all just makes it easier to eat and kill them." The other one growled.

That was when one of the two left the door and headed towards Jake.

"Wake up! Wake up Jake, you are in danger." Zee screamed.

But Jake wasn't waking up until the wolf was now one metre away from him. "Jake! You and your new family are in danger now, wake up or else they will all die and you will be an orphan again."

The werewolf was just about to touch Jake when its hand was grabbed. Then the werewolf heard the human say.

"Oh gosh! Why the hell are you screaming Zee?"

And then in a flash, the werewolf was struck so hard it went flying towards the other wolf and they both skidded a bit before they came to a halt. Jake then slowly stood up.

"Darn! My ears or my mind hurts because of your silly screaming." Jake complained.

"At least you woke up. Now deal with that problem." Zee said and Jake looked up to see a claw strike heading for his face.

Jake quickly leaned backwards avoiding it then he quickly equipped his sword that he had de-equipped before falling unconscious.

Then Jake quickly used his sword to stab the hand hard and the werewolf quickly pulled its hand back in pain and it moved back a bit.

'Good thing the equipment in my inventory takes only a second to be summoned, otherwise I would have been doomed.' Jake thought as he quickly dashed forward towards the werewolves.

And then slashed with his sword towards one of the omega wolves but the other one came in between and wanted to slash at Jake but he quickly used {Step shift} to get two metres away from the wolves causing the wolf's claw to strike nothing but air.

Then Jake quickly activated {Step shift} again to get in front of the wolf that struck earlier and he quickly performed the Primary Guard sword skill taught to him in the first year.

Jake stood with his feet shoulder-width apart, his dominant foot forward, he held his sword in front of him, his blade angled downward at 20-30 degrees then in a flash, Jake moved his hand so fast, the wolves couldn't keep up with his 58 agility.

The sword slashed the wolf's neck causing blood to spurt around and the wolf fell down to its knees lifeless. Then Jake, making use of the other wolf's surprise, dashed forward then he slashed the wolf's head off.

Before the wolf could hit the ground, Jake readied his legs then he kicked the wolf laying down dead Into the one about to fall and then, they went flying into the door breaking it open and then crash into the wall not moving.

A second later, Jake came out into the hallway and could see all the students on the floor with the nurse panting hard and then three more wolves.

Jake, confused, decided to ask his next question. "What the heck is going on?"

Seeing Jake blast the two omega wolves, everyone was shocked by this.

"How did he manage to defeat an omega wolf so quickly and easily? There were two of them." Someone whispered the question that was on everyone's mind including nurse Hayley.

'I knew the kid was strong.' Nurse Hayley thought. 'Strong enough to defeat the rank 3 in the academy to the extent he went unconscious. But strong enough to defeat two omega wolves like that? How did he do it?'

Nurse Hayley's thought was interrupted by one of the omega wolves that was going straight for Jake. Unfazed, Jake readied his sword, then he waited for the werewolf to get in range, then he used the Triple Threat' technique to get behind the wolf.

When Jake got behind the werewolf, he shot out huge invisible spears and shards made from his invisible Qi by using the second stage. One upside of Jake being unconscious, was that his Qi was fully recovered and he was as good as new.

The werewolf couldn't see the projectiles, but it could feel that something was in the air heading for its head. It tried avoiding all of them to the best of its abilities but Jake kept sending more its way.

And shortly, the werewolf was overwhelmed then Jake dashed towards the werewolf who was still focused on dodging the invisible projectiles.

Jake then laced the blade of his sword with Qi and then swung it at the werewolf's neck, therefore cleanly slicing it off. Before the body hit the ground, Jake dashed towards the remaining two that were still standing by the exit door.

One of the werewolves charged towards Jake again and swung its claws very fast towards Jake's head. Jake barely managed to avoid it therefore his face had a little cut on it from the claw.

But Jake quickly un-equipped his sword and then used the Triple Threat technique again to get behind the werewolf while equipping his gauntlets. By then, the werewolf had turned around to face Jake but its face was met with an uppercut that was about to lift it up but Jake quickly quickly grabbed the leg of the werewolf and slammed it back down with so much force.

Jake was about to punch the werewolf on the face when he heard a shout.

"Look out!" Jake quickly turned around and he saw a claw that was rapidly closing in on his face.

Jake was unable to do anything because the hit was heading towards him very fast and in less than a second, Jake estimated he would be hit but the hit never came.

Instead, Jake heard a clang as if metal was hitting metal. And he opened his eyes to see the fist stopped by a sword. Jake traced the hand holding onto the sword and he looked up to see who saved him.

Jake was shocked by who he saw.

Chapter 108 Racing against time

In the academy clinic, Jake was initially focused on one of the omega wolves when someone shouted out to him to watch out. Heeding the warning, Jake turned around and saw his face was about to be met with a claw strike from the other werewolf but before the claw made impact, the hand stopped, not letting it move forward.

Looking closely, Jake could see what stopped the werewolf's hand and it was a sword. Looking up, Jake could see who held the sword and it shocked him.

"I'm sorry I was a bit late." The voice said as it pushed the werewolf hand aside.

Jake just scoffed and focused back on the werewolf that he was facing earlier who was now standing upright about to attack Jake again.

"Why are you helping me Harry?" Jake asked.

The person that had helped Jake by stopping the werewolf claw strike was Harry.

"If I didn't help, I knew I would have died along with the rest of them." Harry said as he was now going toe to toe with the werewolf.

The werewolf threw a punch towards Harry's head but he quickly bent down avoiding the punch then Harry spun his sword around in circles and coming out of it was both invisible and visible Qi projectiles heading for the werewolf.

Harry's sword's active skill allowed for his energy to be or otherwise known as Qi to be released in waves by spinning the sword and that was what he was currently doing.

And now, the projectiles were hitting the werewolf he was fighting against in waves not allowing it to move further then not wanting to waste his Qi reserve, Harry dashed towards the werewolf then he enhanced his strength and speed with Qi while also infusing his sword with Qi.

Harry pushed off with all his might and slay the werewolf by cutting off its head cleanly then he landed softly on the ground while heavily breathing.

He had been holding his breath the whole time to give him more focus and to top it all off, he had just woken up from his own sleep and then he heard the commotion which made him come out and saw Jake fighting against the werewolves.

The next second, he could see another werewolf heading for Jake and in an instant, he dashed towards the werewolf to try and help Jake which he did.

Turning around, Harry wanted to see if Jake was alright or if he needed any help. And he could see that Jake had dealt with the werewolf with a few scratches here and there and some blood seemingly from the werewolf on him.

And in the next instant, Jake was surrounded by all the students and teachers there thanking him for his help. They kept on gushing on how strong he was and all that.

Jake managed to push his way through the new fan club and appeared right beside nurse Hayley who was already recovering nicely. Harry was also by the nurse's side too.

"What happened here?" Jake asked.

"We were attacked by werewolves." Hayley replied.

"That is obvious based on what we just fought but why?" Jake asked again.

"How am I supposed to know that?" Hayley said.

"Are these all the werewolves that attacked?" Harry asked, to which Hayley laughed.

"These are just drops in the ocean."

'Darn it! What the hell is going on?' Jake thought and then he heard a ding in his head.

{Ding!}

{User has defeated omega werewolves for the first time}

{Rewards: 2000XP; +5 in both strength and speed; a new skill}

'Well all these rewards are definitely worth it considering what I went through to defeat the werewolves. I just hope the XP is enough to allow me to level-up to the next rank.' Jake thought.

Then Jake opened up his status screen.

<Status>

Jake was beyond impressed, he had managed to level up and also got a plus one in all stats together with the +5 he got for some of his stats.

'Now this is what I'm talking about, let's hurry up and check the new skill.' Jake thought as he went to his skill tab.

'This skill will come in handy especially in some tough situations where I have to quickly evade a deadly attack and am not fast enough.' Jake thought.

That was when something clicked in Jake's head. He looked at nurse Hayley dreading the worst.

"You said the whole academy was attacked right?" Jake asked which nurse Hayley.

"Then that means, the arena might have been attacked too." Jake said and to which Harry too was now scared because his brother was at the arena along with his friends.

"Darn it!" Jake shouted. "I need to get to the arena soon to help my friends. They need me."

"Are you crazy?" Harry said. "Look I understand what you are going through now, because my own brother is also there but we are talking about fighting hundreds of werewolves."

"I don't care. I must help them even if I have to go against the world." Jake said as he was about leaving.

"Wait!" Harry called out. "I will come with you."

"No, I'm not going now, I need to take care of something first before I go. So I want you to go to the arena and help them to the best of your ability." Jake said as he headed out of the clinic.

'I wonder what he plans to do.' Harry thought as he also exited the clinic running towards the arena. 'Please Sebastian, hold on for me.'

Meanwhile, when Jake exited the clinic, he could see fights between humans and werewolves going on. Then Jake opened up his system and went to his inventory then he selected some things there.

Immediately, Jake was covered in a somewhat tight fitting robe that could allow for maximum movements. The robe had a hood that could cover a person's head then a metal mask appeared on Jake's face.

He equipped his advanced tier boot, held his advanced tier sword in his hand with his gauntlets also equipped in his hands.

"It's time to hunt some monsters and get the hang of my new skills and strength." Jake said as he stepped forward to assist a soldier who was struggling with a runt.

'Please guys, hold on for a little bit longer.' Jake thought as he sprung into action.

Chapter 109 Vynn's last stand

Back at the arena, everyone had just finished dealing with the second wave that consisted of both omega and runts werewolves and they decided to rest up. But just when they decided to rest, that was when they all felt a chill in the air and a lone werewolf appeared with its eyes glowing bright blue then everyone heard General Paul shout.

"It's best we get the hell outta here now! That's a freaking Beta werewolf!" Paul shouted.

A Beta werewolf was the second in command to an Alpha werewolf. The werewolves hierarchy was quite complex and somewhat distinct.

The highest of the pack and the leader, was called an Alpha; they were the strongest of the werewolves. History has it that there has never been two Alphas before so, an Alpha was the strongest of the pack.

A way to identify an Alpha was by their eye colour which is red.

The different tier or rank of a werewolf are:

Alpha: Strongest and the leader of the pack; an Alpha could be recognized by their red glowing eyes and Thick, luxurious, black fur.

Beta: They were the second in command to the Alpha. There are only three beta werewolves in a pack;

Beta prime(Senior Beta): Oversees the overall pack.

Beta-enforcer: Handles security and defense.

Beta-strategist: they focus on long-term planning, alliances and diplomacy.

A Beta werewolf can be recognized by their glowing blue eyes with dark, coarser brown fur.

The next rank is a Gamma: they are known as the advisors of the Alpha. They have Grey coloured eyes.

Delta werewolves: they were the regular pack members. They had pale grey eyes.

Omega werewolves: They were stronger than the deltas and they had yellow coloured eyes with thin and scrappy fur.

The last but not the least werewolf was the Runt: They are the newly transformed werewolves who often struggle to control their transformations. But when controlled, they could be somewhat deadly. They had black glowing eyes. That's one way to differentiate them.

And now, standing in front of everyone was a Beta werewolf. A Beta-enforcer was standing in front of all them.

Now even Jack could understand General Paul's worry and why he was so concerned. Jack remembered when the war was still ongoing between the humans and werewolves, a beta werewolf had appeared one time.

Nobody, none of the soldiers or Generals could do anything to it. It took the strength of all the big three and the head Generals to defeat it. They couldn't even defeat it, they only managed to make it run away and ever since then, the war went somewhat smoothly, no sightings of the beta werewolf.

That same thing that took the combined strength of the big three and the academy to chase, is right here in front of them all. And there wasn't a doubt in Jack's mind that this werewolf is stronger than then.

"The humans have all somewhat recovered," the beta werewolf said with his mouth partially transformed into the shape of a human's mouth in order to allow easy speech.

"And we never expected that you will all grow this strong in such a short amount of time. Ahh, we should have realized it, when you guys manage to make Dibb run away."

The werewolf smiled and then looked around. "I don't see any of your leaders around. Ohh well, this will just be an easy and quick work then."

Nobody could move, after seeing his glowing blue eyes, hearing General Paul's shout of warning and the aura that surrounded it. With the way it stood and moved like as if it doesn't have any care in the world. Like as if nobody can defeat it.

The Beta werewolf took a step forward towards Sebastian who wanted to make a break for it. That was when General Paul snapped out of his daze and moved in front of the werewolf therefore blocking its path from Sebastian.

"Ohh!" The werewolf said surprised. "I didn't know that you would move in front of me like that, I thought you were too scared to move."

"I was," General Paul said. "But I can't stay and watch you kill my students in front of me, I rather die than watch you kill any of my students."

Paul declared while drawing his blade and staring intently at the Beta werewolf. The werewolf looked at Paul while its eyes were now glowing a fierce blue but Paul was determined and didn't move away.

Then the werewolf moved back and smiled. "It's funny you know, even though you know I'm stronger than you, you still stood your ground to protect those humans behind you. So I wanna see if they will do the same for you."

The werewolf then looked at all the students, adventurers and people left in the centre of the arena.

"I will allow anybody here that comes over to my side, I will allow them to leave this arena without harming them." The werewolf smiled.

The offer was quite enticing and they were now contemplating whether they should accept or not but some people had already made their decision.

"Screw you and your shit offer!" Vynn shouted while holding his spear in one hand and the other hand on his injured stomach.

"I don't give a f*ck about your silly offer or proposal, I will not leave my friends here and go away, I rather help take you down with them by my side. And I have already promised myself to rid this world of werewolves for what they did to me."

Then Vynn twisted his spear in his two hands and it lit up and started burning. "So I don't mind starting from you."

Vynn said as he dashed towards the werewolf with full speed which surprised everyone that saw how injured he was. And that was when they realized the horror of what Vynn was about to do.

Kate reached out to grab Vynn but he was already almost at the werewolf's position. "Vynn stop, don't be a fool!" Kate shouted but Vynn was already far gone in anger.

'I must avenge my parents death from these filthy werewolves.' Vynn thought as he was already in front of the werewolf.

Then Vynn thrust his spear towards the werewolf's head with such impressive speed and strength but the werewolf just held the spear and stopped it from going into his head.

'What is with this strength? I can't even move, did I make a mistake? No, I must avenge their death.' Vynn thought as the memories of his parents face flashed in his mind.

Vynn saw his parents love, his mom's warm smile. Then the image changed to when he saw werewolves ravaging in the town he lived with his parents and how they killed everyone including his parents while he was told to hide somewhere.

When his mom told him to hide, he was reluctant but his mom promised him that she will be back. Then Vynn went behind a house and hid while his mom went looking for his dad.

Vynn's mom, didn't move far when she was stabbed in the heart by a werewolf's claw. Seeing this, Vynn wanted to run out to meet his mom but his mom saw him and shook her head telling him not to.

Remembering this, Vynn's eyes lit with anger burning. "Arghhhh! I'm gonna kill you!" Vynn shouted as he withdrew his spear from the werewolf quickly.

Then Vynn moved back a bit and threw a roundhouse kick towards the werewolf's head but it was blocked by the werewolf's hand but Vynn didn't give up, he thrust his spear again that was lit and burning with fire from the spear's active skill from the spear's tip.

But the Beta werewolf just held the spear's tip and the fire was extinguished.

'Impossible!' Jake exclaimed. 'This spear was strong enough to kill an omega wolf but it just extinguished it like it was nothing, how?'

The werewolf didn't give Vynn time to think as he threw a punch towards Vynn's head but he snapped out of his thoughts and ducked avoiding the punch then Vynn thrust the spear again towards the werewolf's stomach that was opened because of the werewolf throwing a punch.

The spear managed to hit the werewolf's stomach but is just left a white mark on its body while the spear's tip broke and now the spear was broken.

'How is this possible?' Vynn thought in horror. 'How come this werewolf has the same strength in its body as Alex?'

The werewolf then stood upright and looked towards its stomach from where Vynn had hit it then it smiled.

"You're impressive, strong enough to defeat most werewolves. Now I can see how you all were able to defeat the werewolves that were sent to kill you all."

Then the werewolf raised its foot up and then dashed towards Vynn therefore closing a distance of 3 metres in one move of its foot.

Then the werewolf quickly grabbed Vynn by his neck and raised him up with a single hand. "Too bad that you are going to die."

The werewolf said as it squeezed Vynn's neck while Vynn was struggling to breathe. While his consciousness was fading, Vynn saw his mom calling to him and telling him to come.

'I'm sorry mom, I couldn't get revenge for you and dad.' Vynn thought as his neck was now snapped by the werewolf and Vynn fell down with a thud without a single heartbeat heard from his body.

"Vynn!" Kate shouted.

Chapter 110 I'm sorry I acted late

Everyone were scared, afraid and rooted in one spot unable to move from the fear that the Beta werewolf won't spare their lives if they did. But one person couldn't control their anger and they decided to move and challenge the werewolf in anger.

Everyone wanted to stop him but they were still too scared to move. They just waited for the outcome maybe the werewolf will show mercy and let him go but that was when they saw the fight between Vynn and the werewolf.

The werewolf was so relaxed, not even taking the fight seriously while Vynn was fighting with everything he had. In the whole exchange, they hadn't seen Vynn land a successful hit but that was when they saw him land a hit with his spear.

Seeing this, the others had hope but that was when they saw the hit leave only a white scratch on the body while the tip of the spear broke.

Everyone watching knew that Vynn didn't stand a chance so some of them snapped out of their daze and reluctance then they decided to move.

The people that moved were Vynn's friends and the Generals. But before they could get close, they saw the werewolf close a distance of 3 metres with a single move of his foot and then in a second, he was holding onto Vynn's neck while lifting him up with only a single hand.

Then, in a single smooth motion, the werewolf snapped Vynn's neck letting him drop to the floor with a thud and Kate's shout of pain.

"Vynn!"

The werewolf just stood there with its arms folded and a grin on its face while it moved back away from Vynn's body. Meanwhile, Kate and Vynn's friends ran towards where he laid unmoving.

"Vynn, wake up," Kate said while shaking Vynn that was on her lap. "Vynn wake up! You can't die like this, what will we tell Jake? You care about Jake right? Then wake up, don't let him see you like this."

Kate kept saying words while still shaking Vynn meanwhile the others had already gotten to their position. Jack didn't say anything for he had already heard it, there was no single heartbeat from Vynn meaning he was dead but Kate didn't want to admit it.

"Vynn wake up! How are you supposed to get revenge if you keep on laying like this?" But no matter what she said, he wasn't waking up.

"Arghhh!" Kate screamed as she looked at the werewolf who was still grinning from ear to ear.

"I'm gonna kill you, you bastard!" Kate said as she stood up in one smooth motion and was about to lunge forward towards the werewolf but she was quickly grabbed by Jack.

"Don't make the same mistake which Vynn made before," Jack said gripping Kate's hand tighter so she won't break loose.

"Exactly, what are we going to tell Jake? That two of his friends died because of rash decision making and we couldn't stop them? You need to think with a cool head." Sophia said.

Hearing Jake's name, Kate calmed down and looked at the werewolf with fury burning in her eyes. By now, the Generals had already gotten to where they were standing and General Wilfred took Vynn's body and walked towards the back where the body won't be damaged in the fight that was about to happen.

Then Wilfred calmly walked back to the others but he was shaking furiously and now, Kate and the rest along with General Paul and Wilfred stood side by side staring intently at the werewolf who was still grinning with his arms crossed around its chest.

"How are we meant to defeat that thing now?" Cindy asked.

"I don't know," Peter said while holding his double handed axe and glaring at the werewolf. "Neither do I care, all I know is that, that beast took my friend, my family away from me and I plan to return the favour ten folds."

"Haha." The werewolf laughed out loud. "I wanna see how you are going to do what you claimed."

General Paul couldn't contain his anger any longer as he dashed towards the werewolf while lacing his steps with Qi and his sword coated with Qi. In less than a second, General Paul was already in front of the werewolf.

Then Paul exploded forcefully from the ground causing the ground to break under the force and strength of General Paul. Currently, the other students and everyone else were all witnessing the strength of a General in full force.

As General Paul swung his sword very fast towards the werewolf's neck. The speed of the hit surprised the werewolf but it quickly used its hardened claw to block the hit therefore making a clang sound as if metal struck metal.

Then General Paul did a backflip while creating Qi platforms under his feet. And when he was far enough, he exploded again and continued creating invisible Qi platforms under his feet.

From the sidelines, it looked like Paul was running on the air. Then General Paul swung his sword again but this time, the sword was totally covered in Qi making it look like a giant sword.

The sword was swung from above and it hit the werewolf so hard, its feet buckled under the strength of strike. The werewolf was being pushed into the ground more and more and then finally, the werewolf had enough by swinging his hand out sending Paul flying away from him.

And therefore crashing where the others were standing then the werewolf stood upright and looked straight at Paul.

"You humans have really grown so strong, I knew it was a mistake to let you all live but the Alpha kept saying we should let you guys be and now, I have seen it was a mistake." The beta werewolf said.

"I thought we only had to worry about the heads of this academy and the Big three but I see that you humans have been gathering your strength and now, I'm gonna take it upon myself as the Beta-enforcer of the werewolves to get rid of you lot."

The werewolf said as it dashed forward with inhumane speed and then it swung its claws at the person it perceived as a threat which was General Paul but then, its claws were blocked by a sword.

"I'm sorry I acted late." The owner of the sword said.
