

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 111 Revelations

After the reality dawned on everyone about Vynn's death, they had to move on and focus on how they would take the Beta werewolf down. Someone that was considered the vice leader of the pack.

That was when General Paul took the initiative by going head on against the werewolf. His skills were impressive enough to make everyone think that maybe General Paul had it covered.

They all hoped maybe by some miracle, General Paul would defeat the werewolf but who were they kidding? The next moment, they could see General Paul sent flying towards them after delivering a huge amount of Qi strike towards the werewolf.

General Paul was a little weak after exerting that amount of Qi but he still managed to stand up and that was when he could see the werewolf dashing towards him with the same speed he used against Vynn.

General Paul was slow to react and he was about to be hit by a claw strike from the werewolf but then, a sword stopped the strike and a voice followed suit.

"I'm sorry I acted late."

General Paul turned around to see who the voice and sword belonged to and he was surprised.

"Alex!" Paul said.

It turns out the person that stopped a very fast and powerful claw strike from the werewolf that was heading towards General Paul was Alex, the strongest student in the whole Aurora Academy.

Alex had seen General Paul battling against the werewolf and he was a bit hesitant about whether to interfere. Alex wasn't foolish enough to think that General Paul had it covered, he knew that sooner or later, General Paul would lose.

So he took that opportunity and inched forward but by bit until he was almost close to Kate and her friend's position and that was when General Paul was flung by the werewolf and the werewolf gave chase.

The werewolf was now coming with a claw strike so Alex decided to act fast by evening his Qi out and distributing them to his legs, hands and sword and then Alex dashed forward with a decent speed.

And then he blocked the claw strike from hitting General Paul but what he didn't expect was the strength of the strike. It managed to make him skid a bit and then he grunted and managed to say.

"I'm sorry I acted late."

"What!?! When and how did he get there?" Emily who was still far behind in the centre of the arena along with the other third year students, adventurers and both Helen and Berg asked.

"I don't know," Ruby replied. "I was too focused on General Paul that I didn't notice when he moved."

"But we have to help him right? We can't let him take that werewolf on his own." Geo said.

"I wasn't planning on that," Emily said. "I'm not going to let him take the werewolf on his own. He's too pretty to die and he owes me a promise."

Emily dashed forward to get to Alex's position as soon as possible. While the rest of the third year students were least surprised about her words before she ran forward, they always knew that Emily had feelings for Alex.

But Alex was only focused on one thing; and that was to get strong, fight strong opponents and also to defeat the werewolves. But Emily didn't give up, she persisted and kept on chasing Alex right from when they were in first year.

Then Alex snapped and told her one time that he only wished to fight strong opponents and if she could get strong enough to assist or help him whenever he was in trouble then he will consider her.

Everyone thought it was cruel of Alex since Emily was ranked number 150 among the first year students of their time while Alex held the number one spot.

So they thought it was near impossible for Emily to do that. But she proved everyone wrong and trained harder than anyone to get stronger in order to be perfect for 'her Alex'.

Slowly but steadily, she rose through the ranks and then in their second year, she managed to get to the rank 3. Then she asked Alex again but he said she wasn't strong enough.

Then with that annoyance, she went straight to Harry who was ranked number 2 then and she challenged him to a duel which he accepted and she won in front of everyone making her the rank 2 since then and up till now.

Then Alex finally told her that he will go out with her if she could retain her position up till when they were done with their academy years.

So finally, Emily got to Sophia and her friend's position then she stood waiting for an opportunity to come in. But it never came since Alex and the werewolf were still in a stand off.

The werewolf was shocked that someone managed to block its hit and then it looked closely at Alex and noticed he was a student. This made the werewolf more shocked about how a student could stop its hit like that.

The werewolf then pulled back and moved back to observe Alex well. 'This humans are no joke. If ordinary students are able to block my strikes like this, I hate to imagine how strong those so called big three have all gotten.'

Thinking of that, the werewolf kept looking at Alex strangely. "I feel like I have seen you somewhere but I can't wrap my head around it."

Alex didn't care for what the werewolf had to say for he was cultivating his Qi to regain his strength while standing and looking at the werewolf.

"Ah yes!" The werewolf exclaimed. "You look exactly like him, you look exactly like one of that big three that attacked us."

Everyone who were standing were shocked by what they heard including Alex's fellow third year students but they didn't think much of it for it was normal to have some semblance to somebody.

"Now I get it," the werewolf said again. "You are the son to that annoyingly strong big three. Your father is Rex Slade right? The physically strong big three."

Everyone jaws almost dropped to the ground.

Chapter 112 Shut your f*cking mouth up!

Seeing Alex save General Paul, everyone were surprised by the fact that he was strong enough to block a hit like that. Then the next shock came with the werewolf revealing that Alex had some semblance to one of the big three.

Then the werewolf accused Alex of being the son to Rex Slade one of the physically stronger big three.

"Is that true Alex? Are you the son of Rex Slade?" Emily asked.

Alex didn't reply, he was just staring at the werewolf while the werewolf was grinning.

"What does it matter? We still have a werewolf to defeat." Alex said gripping his sword tighter.

"Defeat a werewolf?" The werewolf said twisting its head around as if searching for something.

"Which werewolf are you planning on defeating? Wait, is it me?" The beta werewolf said while pointing at itself.

"Hahahaha," the werewolf laughed holding its belly. "You're very funny you know, just because you blocked one of my hit, you think you are strong enough to defeat me? Even if you're Rex's son, it doesn't mean you can defeat me. Besides, your dad still took the help of the academy and the other big three to just chase a beta werewolf away and you think that you can defe..."

The werewolf was interrupted by a swing of the sword that was heading for its face. Quickly, the werewolf leaned backwards avoiding it. 'What the!' The werewolf thought.

'How did he move so fast?'

"Shut your f*cking mouth up, we don't like hearing you speak!" Alex said as he moved back to reposition himself.

"You're certainly fast but are you str..." the werewolf was interrupted again by a hit to its head from behind that sent it skidding a bit.

"He said, shut your f*cking mouth up, we don't like hearing you speak!" Jack said.

The werewolf turned around to look at Jack with its eyes now glowing blue again.

"I still haven't gotten revenge from you for killing my friend, and I plan to." Jack said drawing his sword from his sheath and twisting it in his hand then he glared at the werewolf and shouted. "Now!"

Immediately, the werewolf turned around after sensing something in the air but it was too late for its face was met with a kick from Sophia and then an arrow was shot out towards the werewolf's head.

The kick from Sophia landed therefore causing the werewolf's head to fling backwards but it managed to catch the arrow and then broke it while standing upright to look at the students.

But it forgot about some people who had now appeared on either side of the werewolf. Both General Paul and Wilfred swung out their sword that was coated with Qi.

The swords hit the werewolf only going an inch deep and drawing a bit of blood. The werewolf in annoyance quickly stomped its foot on the floor causing dusts and debris to go flying around blocking some people's view.

But that was the werewolf's mistake for coming out of the dust was Alex with his giant sword that was swung at the werewolf's stomach going one metre deep and drawing more blood.

But now, the sword was stuck in the werewolf's stomach as it tensed its abdomen making Alex to try and draw out his sword but it didn't work.

Then the werewolf quickly grabbed Alex by his shoulder and then the werewolf kneed Alex in the stomach causing him to hurl forward in pain.

Before the werewolf could hit again, Emily along with Sophia had come in with a strike to the werewolf at either side of his hands.

But the werewolf quickly let go of Alex and grabbed hold of the swords. "No no no, I won't make the same mistake again."

The werewolf said as it snatched the sword out of Emily's hand while sending Sophia flying with a kick to her stomach. Then the werewolf wanted to grab Emily but General Paul had quickly come in.

With a kick to its hand, the werewolf's trajectory was moved to the side giving Emily enough time to move away and reposition.

Everyone were now standing 3 metres away from the werewolf side by side.

"What's the use of everything when you guys can't even take me down?" The werewolf laughed.

That was when an arrow wheezed towards the werewolf's face faster than any arrow that had been shot today. The arrow hit the werewolf on its forehead but it only moved an inch before it fell back down.

"Kate how did you get so strong enough to shoot an arrow so fast and hard like that?" Peter asked turning around to look at her.

Kate was looking at Peter with confusion. "I didn't shoot that arrow."

"If you didn't, then who did?"

"I did."

They all turned around and saw Ruby walking over. "I'm sorry I was late."

"It's okay." Emily said.

"You annoying pests! You just keep coming one at a time therefore delaying your inevitable death." The werewolf said.

The werewolf took a step forward when it suddenly stopped and a battle cry was heard.

"Arghhh!" Sebastian shouted as he charged in along with everyone else that were on the side lines. Experience more on empire

With a swing of his axe, Geo quickly ducked avoiding a hit then Peter was seen coming from above with a powerful overhead axe strike that landed successfully sending shockwaves everywhere.

Then Helen came in with a thrust of her dagger but the werewolf avoided it. And then Berg came in with a slash of his sword towards the werewolf's neck but it leaned backwards avoiding it and then it felt a sting in its back.

Turning around, the werewolf saw it was stung by Gary the third year that was supposed to fight against Sebastian.

"I'm gonna freaking skew you for what you lots did to my friend Dan!" Gary declared as he pulled out his sword and jumped back just in time for the werewolf had swung its claws.

While all these was going on, General Paul and Wilfred were both standing surprised by everything that was going on.

"How did these students grow so strong?" Wilfred asked.

"Exactly, they were all struggling against an omega werewolf and now, they are all doing so well against this beta." Paul said.

"Hold on, that's because they aren't doing this alone, everyone, are helping. This is what we call team work and I think this is what we need to defeat this werewolf. After all, that's what the big three did then." Wilfred said.

"They worked together." Paul said gripping his sword harder. "So c'mon, let's go help take down this f*cking werewolf!" Paul shouted as he and Wilfred dashed towards the werewolf.

Chapter 113 Don't touch my brother!

Everyone had joined the fray against the werewolf in full swing. Everyone was working together in an attempt to take the Beta werewolf down no matter what it takes.

General Paul and Wilfred had also joined the battle. General Paul jumped while creating Qi platforms under his feet and then he coated the blade part of his sword with the second stage of Qi then he swung it out towards the werewolf.

But the werewolf caught the blade and shook its head. "Not again." Then the werewolf punched General Paul so hard that he went flying off but before he could go far, he created a wall of Qi stopping him from flying off.

Then General Paul started coughing violently with specks of blood dripping from his mouth.

"Shit!" Paul exclaimed. "My internal organs have been ruptured by that single hit alone. I would have fallen unconscious by the hit If I didn't strengthen my cells with Qi."

General Paul managed to stand on his feet without stumbling then he readied himself to go again at the werewolf.

'I only have a little bit of Qi left. Something needs to change soon.' Paul thought as he dashed forward again.

Explore new worlds at empire

Meanwhile, when Paul had been struck, the others didn't have any time to worry about him as they were solely focused on the werewolf that was in front of them.

Alex came in again with a strong swing of his sword that was strengthened by the second stage of Qi but the swing missed the werewolf by a small margin and then Alex was kicked by the werewolf sending him skidding far away from the werewolf.

Jack was already behind the werewolf again with a swing of his own sword while Peter and Geo were on either side of the werewolf.

But the werewolf just stomped its feet again on the ground causing dust and debris to go flying around blocking Peter and Geo's view. Then the werewolf quickly turned around and grabbed Jack's sword that was aimed at its back.

And gave Jack a kick sending him flying away also. By that time, the dust had already settled, General Wilfred had already come in with a strike towards the werewolf's legs that managed to only go an inch in.

Then in order to shake him off, the werewolf kicked Wilfred away and now, Berg was upon it with a swing of his sword towards the werewolf's head but his sword was also grabbed and he was punched hard in the stomach.

The punch was strong enough to send Berg flying with pain coursing through his every being. When he finally landed, Berg was feeling pains in his stomach and then he coughed out loud and felt something flowing from his mouth.

Letting it flow, Berg could see that it was a red flowing liquid. It was blood, his blood.

"Darn! This werewolf is too strong and my Qi is depleted. To make matters worse, the little Qi I have is disrupted by that punch. I just hope Helen can handle herself for a little bit of time." Berg said as he wanted to move forward towards where Helen and the rest were fighting but even breathing was difficult so he stayed put.

Everyone were fighting with their lives on the line. Arrows were just flying rapidly towards the werewolf from both Kate and Ruby. Even though the others were keeping it busy, it was still managing to avoid each and every single arrows heading its way.

Slowly, the werewolf was sending everybody away with a single hit. With a kick to the face, Gary was sent hurling away. An uppercut was delivered to Peter that sent him flying up.

The werewolf turned around in time to catch a sword strike heading his way from Emily and then it hit her away with its back fist.

Slowly, the werewolf kept hitting everyone with a single hit either causing them to lose consciousness on the spot or they were unable to attack again.

The people that were attacking the werewolf were now less. Kate and Ruby were both letting arrows after arrows loose at the werewolf while Alex who had come back in the fight along with General Paul and Wilfred with two out of the four adventurers, Sebastian and Cindy were still attacking.

In the middle of attacking, Alex was conflicted about what to do.

'Should I use it? If I use it, I can still make it run away from here. But if I use it, people's thoughts about my identity will be solidified.' Alex thought as he rolled away avoiding a claw strike from the werewolf.

'No, I will only use it when I really feel like my life is in danger.' Alex thought as he went in with a swing of his giant sword again.

The werewolf was avoiding every hit to his vitals so skillfully.

'I know how to take these pesky humans down," the werewolf thought. 'I just have to take out the weakest of them all to weaken their numbers.'

With a plan in its mind, the werewolf kicked Alex again who used his sword to block the hit but the force of the kick made him skid a bit. Then the werewolf moved so fast that General Paul and Wilfred couldn't even get a hold of him nor could Kate and Ruby's arrows get it.

And now, it was in front of Sebastian then it swung its claws towards his face so fast that Sebastian had already closed his eyes accepting his fate.

"Goodbye, you put up quite a good fight." The werewolf said as its claws were now a few seconds from Sebastian's head.

Everyone could see what was happening. It felt like it was going in slow motion and again, somebody's life was going to be taken right in front of their eyes and there was nothing they could do because the werewolf and Sebastian were far away from them.

The werewolf's claws now reached Sebastian's neck quickly but it met resistance again. This resistance came with a loud clanging sound again as if metal was striking metal.

"Don't touch my brother with your filthy hands!"

Chapter 114 Qi explosions

Everyone were fighting with everything they got to try to take the Beta werewolf down but it wasn't working, in the process, some people were injured, some people had internal injuries while some people's Qi had been depleted that they couldn't even strengthen their cells with Qi even if they wanted to.

Being annoyed by people it deemed as pests, the werewolf came up with a plan to deal with these pests one by one and that was when an idea popped in its head.

It decided that the best way to deal with them was to reduce their numbers one by one and also deal with the weakest among them so it could focus on those that were attacking it.

And that was when the werewolf's glowing blue eyes laid on Sebastian who was 4 metres away from the group looking for a way to enter and deal a hit on the werewolf.

Quickly, the werewolf's leg wheezed in the air very fast towards Alex's chest but he quickly used his sword to block. The impact of the werewolf's kick sent shockwaves through Alex's sword.

The force of the kick even sent Alex skidding back. And then the werewolf dashed towards Sebastian with his inhumane speed that General Paul and Wilfred couldn't even stop.

And then, it was now in front of Sebastian. Then the werewolf's razor-sharp claws sliced through the air lightning fast towards Sebastian while the werewolf bid Sebastian goodbye at the same time.

But then, the werewolf's claws were stopped by something that made a clang sound and a shout followed.

"Don't touch my brother with your filthy hands!" the voice said.

"Brother?" Sebastian said as he opened his eyes that were initially closed and then he saw who was in front of him.

Behold, Harry; Sebastian's elder brother was here in front of him with his sword blocking the werewolf's claws from reaching his brother and his face burning with evident fury at the thought that he nearly lost his brother.

Not wasting time, Harry shot out invisible Qi projectiles at the werewolf. Being at a high level, the werewolf was able to feel the disturbance and power in the air, then it quickly moved, dodging each and every projectile in the air because it could feel how powerful they were.

Following up, Harry jumped exploding from his position with so much strength and force and then he came crashing down on an unassuming werewolf who was still dodging the many projectiles that it failed to realise the Qi filled axe kick heading his way from above.

The kick connected successfully making the werewolf's legs buckle from the strength and force of the kick. While the force of the kick sent shockwaves hitting everyone that were four metres away from them.

"Woah! Was Harry always that strong?" Emily asked, feeling the force of the kick even from where she stood.

"I think it's because of the furry that he almost lost his brother that made him draw out more power." Jasmine answered as she stood side by side with Emily.

"I never knew he loved his brother this much." Emily commented again.

Then Alex appeared by their side.

"C'mon, he can't hold the werewolf on his own." Alex said as he ran to where Harry was.

Out of all the third year students, Alex took a liking for Harry and they became close friends right from when they were in the second year. So he couldn't stand by and watch his close friends die at the hands of a werewolf.

Even though they were tired, no one complained as they held their weapons tighter and were running behind Alex who was almost there. Jack also followed suit along with Helen, the generals, two of the adventurers while Kate and Ruby still stayed back planning to assist from where they stood with their arrows.

Meanwhile, before the rest of the students decided to help, Harry had just delivered a full on heavy, Qi filled axe kick on the werewolf's head that made it buckle under the force and strength of the kick.

'What's with all these kids and their strength? They aren't even adults, they are just students and they have so much power.' The werewolf thought as it managed to throw Harry off its head.

Before Harry hit the ground, he performed a couple of backflips and then he landed on the ground smoothly while glaring at the werewolf.

The werewolf didn't like to be the aggressor of a fight but in this instance, the werewolf was forced as it charged right at Harry with full speed but Harry was already ready for it.

When the werewolf was already within range, explosions went out wherever the werewolf stepped. The explosions were strong enough to send small attacks heading its way causing little holes on its body as if a bullet was shot at the werewolf.

Alex, who was almost close to Harry's position, stopped after he saw this.

"Why? Why did he use that explosive Qi?" Alex wondered out loud. "This is a prolonged fight and explosive Qi uses up half of the user's Qi. That's the reason why we, who knew how to use it, didn't use it. So why?"

'Maybe his rage has blinded him and he's using everything he's got to take the werewolf down even if it means depleting his Qi reserve.' Alex thought as he sped up.

When Harry was running towards the werewolf earlier, he kept on releasing little Qi every step he took on the floor. Those little Qi, were what made up an explosive Qi.

They were just like traps; when set and someone stepped on it, explosions would go off like a bomb and small Qi bullets would go out hitting the person. In some cases, the Qi bullets would kill the opponent that it was used on.

This Qi explosion cost the user half his Qi reserve so Qi users were always careful about using it. They only use it when they know that when the Qi explosion hits their opponent, it would be enough to kill them or injure them enough in order to follow up with a strong attack that will finish them off.

So the Qi explosion was only seen as a last resort move used in a battle. And now, Harry was about to see the result of the Qi explosion when the dust that it created cleared off.

By that time, those that were running to catch up with Harry had already arrived and then, the dust finally started settling while they were awaiting their fate.

Will the Qi explosion be enough to injure the werewolf so they could kill it or will it not be enough and they would be all killed?

Chapter 115 Do not f*cking touch her!

Just when Sebastian thought that he would die at the hands or claws of the werewolf, his brother made a dramatic entrance and saved his life. And then the next things that happened blew Sebastian away.

His brother was delivering hits after hits on the werewolf's body and then his brother was flung, sending him backflipping before he smoothly landed on the ground.

Angrily, the werewolf decided to charge right at Harry but suddenly, explosions went off all over, around the werewolf.

The explosion was caused by Harry; who used his Qi to create Qi explosions around the werewolf, therefore using half of his Qi reserve.

And then finally, the dust from the Qi explosion was settling and Harry along with some other people including the Head Generals were all tense awaiting the results.

Because in truth, they were all tired. They had been fighting werewolves after werewolves all day. And now, they were fighting a Beta werewolf; the second in command to the Alpha.

Their Qi reserve was already depleted, they were all riddled with injuries, internal organs ruptured and they were both mentally and physically drained.

They were just putting on a brave face while fighting with the skills and little strength they had.

Finally, the dust settled with the werewolf standing strong in front of them all with bullet holes in all its body. Luckily for the werewolf, it had managed to avoid any fatal injuries to its vitals.

It stood there, with a grin on its face while looking at the humans and then slowly, in front of their face, the werewolf was healing rapidly.

All the injuries made on its body by Harry or the others, were all healed up. Then the werewolf turned its neck left and right as if it was looking for something and finally, it walked towards one of the dead bodies.

Seeing it walking towards a dead body, Paul's eyes widened in shock.

'No no no!' Paul shook his head then he turned towards the students.

"We need to stop it from eating any one of those students or else, it will come back stronger than ever. For it to decide to eat, it must mean it's on its last legs." Paul warned.

"I'm on it." Harry said as he dashed forward with full speed almost as fast as an Omega werewolf along with Alex and Paul.

Paul kept on using Qi platforms to propel him further towards the werewolf who was looking for the best body to eat, seemingly forgetting that it had a battle to fight.

Finally, they got to its position and Harry along with Alex swung their swords out at once towards the werewolf. But not turning around, the werewolf with a flick of its wrist grabbed the swords and then it slowly turned its head and looked towards them.

"It's time to end this shit now! This has gone on long enough." The werewolf said as it slowly stood up and then it saw Paul coming at it with an overhead strike of his sword.

But the werewolf quickly kicked him hard in the rib sending Paul hurling away in terrible pain. Still holding onto the swords, the werewolf, a powerful kick from the werewolf sent Alex flying.

And then it finally turned towards Harry. "And for you, you are the cause of my earlier injuries. So I have a special punishment for you." The werewolf said.

Then it grabbed Harry's head and looked him in the eye with its eyes glowing intently then the werewolf opened its mouth wide.

Seeing this, everyone was horrified by this. Quickly acting, both Ruby and Kate shot out powerful Qi filled arrows towards the werewolf that hit its face not even leaving a white mark on it.

But the arrows served its purpose. For Jack along with Wilfred had already gotten to the werewolf's position. Then Jack jumped up and unleashed a flurry of kicks towards the werewolf's head.

Each kick was causing shockwaves everywhere, Jack's legs were throbbing with pain but he kept going. Unleashing kicks after kicks while General Wilfred had come in with a stab to the werewolf's hand forcing it to let go of Harry.

Harry moved back a bit and was panting because he felt like his life was going to be over any second. Wilfred slashed the werewolf's stomach with his sword while skillfully avoiding a claw strike.

Jack had also thrown a roundhouse kick that connected successfully on the werewolf's head but it didn't do anything to it. Not even moving the werewolf from its position.

General Wilfred shot out invisible Qi projectiles at the werewolf. Powerful Qi projectiles with the last of the Qi reserve he had in his core.

While Jack was also throwing kicks after kicks. Kate and Ruby were also unleashing arrows after arrows towards the werewolf.

Frustrated by everything, the werewolf carefully avoided all the Qi projectiles while letting Jack's kicks land on its body. Then the werewolf avoided all the Qi filled arrows skillfully and now, it landed a powerful uppercut towards general Wilfred that sent him flying unconsciously.

While it grabbed Jack by his shoulders and kneed him hard in the stomach causing the air to be knocked out of him.

Nobody could do anything for they were too weak to do anything as they watched the werewolf knee Jack in the stomach again causing spit and blood to come out of his mouth and his eyes to roll to the back of his head.

Then the werewolf let Jack fall down with a thud unconsciously as it dashed towards Ruby who was in front of Kate. The werewolf's swipe of his claw ripped through whatever defences Ruby had as she fell on the floor lifelessly.

Then the werewolf's glowing blue eyes laid on Kate. 'One more annoying pest to go through.' The werewolf thought as it dashed towards Kate who was too stunned to move.

Then it grabbed her by the neck and lifted her up. With an attempt to free herself from the werewolf's grip, Kate pulled an arrow from her quiver as she repeatedly stabbed into the werewolf's furry hand.

But it didn't work. While the werewolf's tightened grip made her release the arrow and it slid off from her fingers as she was losing consciousness.

Then one person's face flashed in front of her mind.

'Jake, I'm sorry. I promised to keep our little family together but I couldn't, I failed you. Now I'm leaving this world without saying goodbye to you or seeing your face for the last time.' Kate thought as she felt her consciousness slip away from her.

'My biggest regret is that I couldn't tell you how I feel. That I love you, and I'm going to my grave without telling you that. Which saddens me.'

Seeing Kate being held up like that, Sophia wanted to move to at least help her best friend but she was seriously damaged by the single punch she received to her guts.

"Please, Somebody save her! I can't lose her." Sophia shouted but no one could move because they were too weak too.

That was when Sophia's hair was blown flying in the wind as if a gust of wind had hit her hair. Then when they looked up, everyone could see someone running towards the werewolf and Kate.

Then the person got there in time, squeezed the werewolf's hand tightly making it let go of Kate and then an uppercut was delivered by the person sending the Beta werewolf flying with so much force as if a train had hit it.

"Do not ever f*cking touch her or else am gonna skin you alive!" The person shouted.

Chapter 116 I'm gonna kill you!

The battle against the academy versus the Beta werewolf was going bad for the academy. They couldn't defeat it even with their most powerful skills or techniques, it didn't do anything against the werewolf.

Slowly, they were losing students one by one. The werewolf kept killing anyone that he seemed a threat.

That was when the werewolf laid eyes on Harry who caused the Qi explosion earlier. Causing it a little bit of injuries.

It decided to grab Harry and eat him up but before the werewolf could do that, Kate and Ruby shot out Qi infused arrows towards the werewolf causing it not to eat Harry. And then, General Wilfred I and Jack managed to get there in time to save Harry from certain death.

In annoyance, the werewolf decided it will get rid of the archers that kept disturbing it by shooting out arrows. In less than a second, it appeared beside Ruby then the werewolf swiped its claws at Ruby getting rid of any armour on her and killing her.

Then the werewolf moved towards Kate who was too frozen to move and then it grabbed her by her neck, trying to squeeze and suffocate her to her death.

She tried everything she could to free herself from the werewolf's grip. That was when she heard Sophia's plea for anybody to save her and she was more saddened by this.

'I'm sorry everyone, I'm supposed to be the leader, the one that brings our group and family together but I failed you all.' Kate thought as she felt her head about to explode.

That was when from her blurry vision, Kate saw someone dash towards the werewolf with an inhumane speed that seemed impossible except the person was using a huge amount of Qi.

'No no no, who is foolish enough to come here?' Kate thought as she was hardly breathing. 'Do they want to die? Don't save me, save yourself.'

The next thing that everyone saw, made their jaws almost drop to the floor. They saw the person dash towards the werewolf, grabbed the werewolf's hand and squeezed on tight making the werewolf drop Kate to the ground.

Then the person threw an uppercut towards the werewolf sending it flying away.

"Do no f*cking touch her or else am gonna skin you alive!" Everyone heard the voice shout.

When the dust settled, they could see someone standing where the werewolf was standing earlier. The person was clad in a black robe with the hood covering his face.

The robe itself was stained with blood, and then the person was putting on a black metallic mask on his face not letting people see his face that well.

Kate who was on the floor, was gasping for air and she was also shocked by the fact that a human was strong enough to send the Beta werewolf flying.

But that was not what she was shocked about, it was the voice of the person that surprised her.

"Jake?" Kate managed to croak out in between heavy breath.

The man turned to look at Kate then he turned back around to look at the werewolf he sent flying that was already making its way back to where it was with anger written all over its face.

"Jake, is that you?" Kate asked again but the man didn't respond.

Everyone who were standing far back where already slowly making their way back to where the man along with Kate were.

"Jake, if that's you," Kate said. "I hate to say this, I won't tell you to run away because we still need to get revenge."

The man still didn't react making Kate doubt if it was really Jake under the hood and mask. But she still continued speaking anyway.

"Jake, that werewolf killed Vynn!" Kate shouted with hot tears streaming down her face with her fists clenched.

When she looked up, she finally saw a reaction in the man making her believe stronger that this was Jake.

Right on cue, the werewolf arrived back from where it was sent flying and now it stood in front of the masked stranger while looking at him strangely and angrily.

By now, every other person that was conscious, were already standing on the sidelines observing what would happen. The people on the sidelines were;

Jack, Harry, Sophia, Peter, General Wilfred, Helen, Alex, Cindy, Simyon, Sebastian and Emily. The rest were either unconscious or dead.

Hearing that Vynn was dead, the masked man kept his head down and his fists were tightly clenched in anger. He didn't lift his head up for some time which confused everyone about the reason for it.

But Kate was now sure that the masked man was Jake and even the werewolf had heard what Kate said to the masked man and seeing his reaction, the werewolf now knew that this masked man was somewhat related to one person it had killed.

"Was he related to you?" The werewolf spoke with a grin on its face.

"I don't really recall any weak person I kill. But if I had killed him, then I must have really enjoyed killing him."

This statement finally sparked a reaction from the masked man. He slowly lifted his head and looked behind him towards Kate.

"Are you telling the truth? Is Vynn really dead? Did that f*cker really kill him?" The masked man asked.

Kate nodded repeatedly with tears streaming down her face. "Yes, he killed him in cold blood."

The masked man now turned his head back to look at the werewolf and then he kept his head bowed again.

'I came too late. Vynn died and I couldn't even help him. Someone from my family has been killed again by these filthy beasts.' The masked man who turned out to be Jake thought.

'I will make him pay! Vynn I will make sure I avenge you!' Jake thought as he lifted his head to look at the werewolf with his eyes all red as if bloodshot.

"Arghhhh! I'm gonna kill you!" Jake shouted out loud as his sword appeared from his system into his hand and he dashed towards the werewolf swiftly.

Chapter 117 The Werewolf Slayer

Earlier, when Jake and Harry had exited the academy's clinic, Harry ran towards the arena while decided to go hunt more werewolves. The first werewolf he encountered was a runt that a soldier was struggling with.

The runt's claw was about to hit the already injured soldier's neck when a sword intercepted the strike and then pushed it back.

The soldier turned around to see who saved him and he could see a man clothed in a somewhat tight fitting robe and a metal mask on his face.

"Go get yourself treated, I will handle this." The man said as he dashed towards the runt he had pushed back.

The soldier didn't want to abandon his comrades so rather than take the masked man's advice, he went ahead to help those that were struggling against the werewolves.

Meanwhile, Jake and the runt were locked in a battle. Luckily for Jake, after fighting with an omega werewolf and already used its speed, the runt was now somewhat slow in his eyes.

So he managed to evade a kick from the werewolf and then Jake bashed his sword's butt on the werewolf's leg with all the strength he could muster.

Not wasting time, Jake followed up with an attack by using 'The Triple Threat' technique to get behind the werewolf then he quickly slashed its head off killing it.

'The saving grace of all these is that the runts are quite slow and fight like a beast making it easy to avoid their attacks.' Jake thought as he dashed towards another runt.

Jake was making quick work of the runts and even helped some soldiers on the way that were struggling against the werewolves.

The werewolves now saw Jake as a threat and they were now surrounding him. Currently, Jake was surrounded by four runt werewolves.

Jake just smiled. 'Oh, this will be a good test for me.' Jake thought as a runt was now heading for his head.

Jake ducked avoiding the strike and he quickly stabbed the werewolf's stomach. Then another runt was heading for his head again with a fist.

Quickly pulling his sword out of the werewolf's stomach, Jake jumped back as he managed to avoid the fist strike by the skin of his teeth if he hadn't acted fast enough.

Then a leg swooped through the air and landed right on Jake's ribs therefore pushing him back a bit. Jake took the hit with a gritted teeth and then he grabbed the werewolf's leg as he slashed the leg off with his sword and all the strength he could muster.

Jumping back, Jake avoided a claw strike to his head. But he couldn't avoid one thing and that was a bite mark to the shoulder.

"Arghhh!" Jake screamed feeling the werewolf's teeth sinking into his shoulders.

Then the werewolf let go and moved back thinking whatever it did might have worked and then suddenly, a sword flashed in front of the werewolf's face and its head was cleanly cut off.

Jake was seen standing there with a smile on his face. "Did you think your plan could work against me? I'm immune to your bite that can turn me into what you are."

Jake said as he quickly turned around to face the other werewolves. Seeing the monstrous strength Jake had, the werewolves felt something they hadn't felt in a while and which was fear.

They turned around to try to run away.

"Ha! I'm not done with you lot yet." Jake said as he activated {Step shift} and he was suddenly in front of them.

Then Jake coated his blade with Qi and started swinging and slashing at the three remaining werewolves. And finally, Jake was done taking care of the werewolves that had surrounded him earlier.

Jake turned back to the battle field and he could see that the werewolves were already being reduced so he went helping more and more on the battle field.

Every soldier that were seriously injured kept on reporting one thing, that they were saved by a man in metal mask. He kept on slaying werewolves as if they were just basic tier beasts.

So now, they dubbed him the name; Werewolf Slayer.

"Did you see the werewolf slayer?" One soldier asked the other as he was just parried a fist strike to his face.

"Yes," the second soldier replied struggling to hold the furry hand of the werewolf that attacked him. "He's quite skillful, skillful enough to kill runts as if they were nothing."

That was when the first soldier made a slip up and a claw was heading for his neck when a sword intercepted it. Looking up, the soldier could see he was saved by the werewolf slayer.

Immediately, with a flick of his wrist, the werewolf slayer pushed the werewolf back and then used The Triple Threat technique to get behind the werewolf and then he swung his sword decapitating the werewolf's head off.

Then the werewolf slayer moved onto the next one. By the time Jake had dealt with that werewolf, the soldier that was saved, his companion had also just finished slaying his own werewolf.

"Did you see that?" The soldier that was saved asked.

"What?" His companion asked as he was now panting after that tough battle.

"The werewolf slayer saved me." The man said excitedly. "And that's not the most exciting part, he used the military triple threat technique to do that, which means, he must be part of this academy and doesn't want his identity to be revealed."

"Or he could be a past student that came to watch the tournament and then decided to help." The companion said.

"Whatever the case, I'm glad he's on our side." The saved soldier said.

Meanwhile, while on his own rampage, the werewolf slayer encountered trouble of his own.

Standing in front of Jake was an omega werewolf. But it wasn't the trouble, he was standing in front of a strong omega werewolf.

The possible leader of the omega werewolves. How did Jake know, immediately he saw the werewolf, it triggered a quest.

Chapter 118 Find the werewolf slayer!

Jake had equipped all his equipment from his inventory in order to fight against all the werewolves and probably help some of the soldiers that were struggling against the werewolves.

It was going well so far and Jake was helping eliminate any werewolf he sees therefore earning him the nickname of The Werewolf Slayer among the soldiers.

General Julian along with Sergeant Leo and Lee were ravaging in the battlefield killing werewolf after werewolf but everyone's focus was on The Werewolf Slayer.

As he went from werewolf to werewolf killing some of them in one fell swoop while using skills and techniques that they haven't seen before.

That was when he met with an omega werewolf. So far, the werewolves he met hadn't triggered a quest from his system meaning that they were too weak to even give Jake a quest.

But that all ended when he met an omega werewolf standing in front of him with its yellow glowing eyes staring at him and saliva drooping from its mouth.

That was when a quest was triggered by Jake's system.

{Ding!}

{User has encountered a very strong omega werewolf}

{New Quest: Defeat the werewolf;

"Oh, a strong one!" Jake exclaimed.

The werewolf dashed towards Jake and threw a fist with its claws clenched towards Jake but Jake managed to avoid it by the skin of his teeth.

Jake ducked avoiding the hit then he quickly stabbed the werewolf in its stomach but it didn't go in deep. Jake quickly jumped back avoiding a claw strike that was heading for his neck.

Immediately he jumped back, his feet touched the ground, Jake pushed off again strongly towards the werewolf.

Then Jake activated {Stun strike} stunning the werewolf and making it unable to move for 2 seconds which was enough time for Jake to cause some serious damage on the werewolf's body.

With a roundhouse kick, Jake sent the Omega flying while the effect of {Stun strike} had worn off. Everybody had their mouths widely agape for what they were seeing.

"How can he send an omega werewolf flying like that?" A soldier asked someone beside him.

"Even the General struggled a lot against one of the omega werewolves." Someone else said.

"Is he even human? The skills and techniques he's using, are not something I have seen before." Another person said.

By now, all the werewolves that had attacked the academy had been defeated all except one and that was the one The Werewolf Slayer was battling.

So everybody tiredly stood watching the fight including General Julian, Sergeant Leo and Lee.

"Do we know who that is?" Julian asked.

"I don't know who he is and neither do I recognize the skills and techniques he's using. All except one and that is The military's triple threat technique." Leo replied.

"Well whoever he is, I'm glad he's on our side for now." Lee said. And now everyone were focused on the fight that was going on.

After sending the werewolf flying, Jake gave chase by moving most of his Qi towards his legs giving him a speed boost. Then he sprung forward with his sword above his head.

The werewolf finally stopped skidding then it looked up and its face was met with a sword strike from Jake that went in a metre deep causing blood to spurt out of the injury.

The werewolf quickly sent a powerful punch towards Jake's way that sent Jake skidding. Jake finally came to a halt and then he fell to a knee.

Coughing out specks of blood, Jake looked up to see a furry leg heading towards his face therefore flinging his head backwards and sending him tumbling backwards.

"F*ck me! I forgot that these types of werewolves are fast." Jake said as he crashed into a wall.

The wall managed to stop his flying. Slowly, Jake stood up and looked by the side; he saw that the soldiers were about to come help him.

But Jake lifted his hand telling them to stop and then he shook his head.

"He's all mine." Jake said as his eyes laid on the werewolf that was already heading his way with tremendous speed.

Smiling, Jake activated {Step shift} a skill that made him close the gap of two metres between him and the werewolf in less than a second.

Then he activated {Lockdown} a skill that immobilized the werewolf for 5 seconds. Enough for Jake to activate {Frenzy strike}.

Activating these skills, Jake went on a frenzy. With a sword strike to the chest with his Qi infused advanced sword, Jake sent the werewolf flying.

Then Jake directed some Qi to his legs and then channeled all the speed he had to push forward. The speed propelled Jake forward so fast that to everyone else, it looked like Jake teleported.

In a twinkle of an eye, Jake was already in front of the werewolf. Then he activated {Strength surge} a skill that allowed his strength to be boosted by 10 percent.

So now, Jake's strength went from 58 to 68. Coupled with his Qi, Jake was now tremendously powerful enough that he swung his sword towards the werewolf's neck therefore slicing its head off cleanly.

Immediately the werewolf fell, Jake heard a ding in his head. Opening his system up, Jake saw a congratulatory message awaiting him.

{Ding! Quest completed}

{Rewards: one new skill; +2 to strength attribute; one chance to level up only one skill among the user's skill tab to the next level.}

Jake smiled at the rewards he got but before he could check them out, he was interrupted by the soldiers who had practically surrounded him.

"Woah! That was amazing!" A soldier said.

"Who are you? Please can you allow us see your face?" Another soldier asked.

Jake was now practically stunned. The soldiers were behaving as if they had seen a superstar or something. That was when Jake saw the Head General Julian and the sergeants walking towards him.

'Oh no,' Jake thought. 'With these three walking over, I might not be allowed to go. So how am I supposed to help my friends?'

Quickly acting fast, Jake channeled all his Qi into his fists coupled with his strength Surge, Jake was about to release a deadly punch.

Jake punched the ground so hard that dust along with the ground was thrown up so hard that it was impossible for Jake to be seen. Immediately he had punched the ground, Jake had already moved the remaining of his Qi to direct it to his feet.

Allowing Jake to run away so fast that by the time the dust would have settled, no one would see where he went.

By the time Jake had released his powerful punch, the soldiers that surrounded him had used their hands to close the eyes so dust won't get in.

That was when the Head General along with the sergeants finally got to the scene but The werewolf slayer had already escaped.

"Why do you think he did that?" Leo asked as the dust had finally settled showing that The werewolf slayer was no longer there.

"Clearly, he doesn't want his identity to be revealed." Lee said. "So he did that to avoid questioning."

"Look!" General Julian called while his finger was pointing to the ground.

The sergeants went close to where Julian was pointing and they could see it was where The Werewolf Slayer had punched. Seeing this, the sergeants heart skipped a bit.

"How could someone be so powerful enough to cause that type of punch?" Leo asked as they were all seeing a deep hole in the ground where the werewolf slayer had punched.

The hole went 10 metres deep as if a meteorite had struck the ground.

"Whoever he is, I just hope he is on our side in this war against the werewolves." Leo said.

"He is clearly on humanity side after today's fight." Lee replied.

"Whatever or whoever he is, we need to find him and bring him over to the military side." Julian said. "He would surely be a big boost to the military's power."

"Find The Werewolf Slayer at all cost!" Julian shouted.

Chapter 119 You are a dead man

After escaping from the centre of the military, Jake ran through the gates of the academy and found himself in one of the stalls that was still open but the owner had run away due to the commotion.

Quickly entering inside, Jake sat down on the bare floor panting hard.

"Phew! That was a close one." Jake said as he removed his mask and placed it down beside him and checked on his injuries.

"How did I do zee?"

"You did good." Zee replied. "In fact, exceptionally good. As much as I don't like praising you so you won't get big headed and do something rashly, I gotta say you did well."

"I can't believe you were the same weakling that could hardly defeat a runt. You have grown so strong that you managed to defeat an omega werewolf."

"Hey, it feels like you're using the opportunity to insult me." Jake said.

"I wasn't insulting you, I was instead praising you."

Jake imagined that if Zee had a face, he would have been smirking now.

"Alright, it's time to check those new skills I was given so I can go help the others." Jake said as he opened up his system.

Opening up his system, Jake saw that he had really been given the +2 to his strength.

<Status>

<User: Jake Lucas>

<Skill level: Trained>

<XP level: 1600/6000>

<HP: 50/50>

<Strength: 66>

<Agility:64>

<Endurance: 57>

"Well too bad I was unable to level up. Anyway, I hope the new skill is worth it." Jake sighed as he opened up his skill tab.

<Skill Tab>

<Melee combat (Lv2): Deals 20 damage with intermediate weapons therefore removing 20% HP from enemy.

<Restore: This skill allows the user to regain all strength that had been used up back to the way it was in the last 24 hours; this also applies to any skills, techniques or armour that are on a cool down. (Skill can only be used once a month)>

"Well, that skill is pretty much worth it." Jake said as he went on to decide upon his last reward given to him.

'Now, that brings us to what to do.' Jake thought.

"What skill should I level up." Jake said as he brought up his system skill tab again.

"Okay let's see," Jake traced his hand on the transparent tab. "I would have loved to level Strength surge up but it's not possible, I'm unable to do that."

"I would have loved to also level this new skill I got called Adrenaline rush but I don't know how useful it is so I don't know if it's worth it."

Jake kept going from skill to skill looking for the one perfect for levelling up until his fingers hovered over a skill and then Jake shrugged and proceeded to click on it.

{Levelling Step Shift up} The system called out.

"Step shift has been pretty useful to me in allowing me to avoid dangerous hits and also closing distance in a second for a surprise attack of sorts. So I think it's pretty worth it." Jake said.

{Levelling up complete! Step shift is now level 3}

Jake then went onto the skill tab and clicked on Step shift.

<Step shift(Lv3): A short, quick movement skill to create or close distance and gaps within three metres.>

"Now this is perfect." Jake said as he stood up, put his mask back on his face and de-equipped his sword.

Then he walked out of the stall. "Guys, I hope you are all okay. Hold on for a few minutes, I will be there soon."

Jake quickly dashed off towards the arena with all his speed. Jake ran for 10 minutes straight without resting with only one single thought on his mind.

'I hope my friends are okay.'

And then finally, Jake reached the arena. He saw the arena gates were blasted. Dreading the worst, Jake walked into the arena quickly.

Then he looked around at the horror. Jake saw multiple and countless dead bodies.

He saw humans torn to shreds, werewolves bodies littered the arena from the spectating stands to the arena floor.

Jake saw that the arena spectating stands were broken with chairs scattered everywhere. He saw craters in the ground and also broken walls.

Then the smell of blood hit his nose hard. Luckily for him, he had his mask on that somewhat helped ease the pungent smell.

"What the heck happened here? And where are the rest?" Jake asked himself as he carefully walked around that was when he heard someone shouting but the voice was somewhat familiar and sounded far away.

Finally he stood behind everyone that was initially watching the fight. Jake saw some of the students dead while some were on the floor either partially conscious or totally unconscious.

That was when he heard the same shout again.

'Wait, that's Sophia's voice.' Jake thought to himself as he wanted to call out to her but that was when he heard the content of her words.

"Please, someone save her! I can't and don't want to lose her. Please save her!" Sophia shouted.

'Save her? Save who?' Jake thought as he looked up and squinted his eyes.

That was when his eyes landed on the werewolf holding onto Kate's neck while squeezing it tightly.

Jake's instincts kicked in and his heart raced very fast as he saw Kate being held up like that. Without thinking twice, Jake dashed towards the werewolf with all the speed he could muster while also channelling some Qi to his feet and hands.

Then he got to the werewolf's position. He quickly squeezed the hand tightly and gave the werewolf an uppercut sending it flying with anger evident on his face.

The element of surprise had worked as the werewolf was so focused on Kate in its hand that it failed to sense anyone coming towards it.

The werewolf finally came back from wherever it was sent by Jake and even those on the sidelines had also come closer. That was when Jake was told that Vynn died.

Immediately he heard it, images of his parents being murdered by werewolves appeared in his head while his fists were tightly clenched and he was grinding his teeth back and forth.

'I couldn't help my parents back then because I was too weak. The family I had formed in the academy, this filthy beast took one of my family members again.' Jake thought.

'Why? Why can't I just live peacefully? I failed Vynn just as I failed my parents. I couldn't even get here in time to protect him.' That was when Jake lifted his bloodshot eyes to look straight at the werewolf.

'Vynn, I promise, no matter what, I will avenge you.' Jake promised as his hands that were clenched were now open.

"Arghhh! I'm gonna kill you!" Jake shouted as he quickly activated his inventory and equipped his sword from his system and without thinking twice, Jake dashed towards the werewolf.

With a blink of an eye, Jake was already in front of the werewolf. He quickly swung his sword out towards the werewolf's neck but the werewolf had leaned backwards avoiding it.

Then the werewolf unleashed a lightning fast kick towards Jake but Jake had already acted fast enough by backflipping twice therefore getting away from the werewolf.

Immediately his leg touched the ground, Jake pushed off strongly towards the werewolf with all the strength and Qi left in him. With a strike to the shoulder, Jake's sword landed going an inch deep and drawing out blood.

Then Jake quickly moved back and threw a roundhouse kick that landed squarely on the werewolf's head therefore lifting it from the ground and making it go tumbling and bouncing on the ground.

Everyone on the sidelines didn't know how to react. The werewolf they had all struggled with, a masked stranger was currently toying with it as if it was nothing.

Sophia quickly ran towards Kate and lent her a hand to get up.

"Are you okay?" Sophia asked.

"I'm fine." Kate replied as she and Sophia were now making their way towards where the others were.

"Who the heck is that guy?" Sophia asked.

"If I'm not wrong, which I'm sure I aren't, then that is Jake." Kate replied not taking her eyes off the fight.

"Jake?" Peter almost shouted. "I know he was strong, in fact stronger than me. But how on earth is he toying around with a Beta werewolf like it's just a basic tier beast?"

Kate shrugged. "I don't know. And honestly, I don't care as long as he can help kill that werewolf and avenge Vynn."

There was no further conversation between them because they were now concentrating on the fight as they could see the werewolf getting up from the ground after the strong roundhouse kick that was unleashed on its head.

And strangely enough, it was fine. No single speck of blood on its head or anything then it looked at Jake angrily with its claws springing out.

"You're a dead man for what you did. It's not like I was going to let you all go." The werewolf claimed.

Will Jake be strong enough to defeat the werewolf, or will they all meet the same fate as Vynn?

Chapter 120 You are done for now!

When everyone was expecting a miracle, one actually occurred with Jake storming the arena and saving Kate from certain death. Then the next few scenes were shocking to say the least to the spectators.

The same werewolf that all of them together couldn't do anything to, Jake... or the person they thought was Jake, managed to push the werewolf back with all sorts of skill and strength.

After unleashing a roundhouse kick on the werewolf that sent it tumbling and bouncing, Jake stood not moving while looking at the werewolf as it slowly stood up from the ground while its eyes were glowing bright blue.

"You are a dead man for what you just did. It's not like I was planning to let any of you leave." The werewolf claimed as its claws sprang out longer than ever making it seem as if it was holding onto a claw weapon.

Jake didn't care as he kept looking at the werewolf intently. Then the next second, the werewolf dashed towards Jake very fast making it seem as if it teleported from where it was.

And then it swung its claws so fast towards Jake's head but he managed to avoid it narrowly by the skin of his teeth. Jake quickly moved back to regain his footing but the werewolf quickly gave chase again towards Jake.

"Shit! This werewolf is certainly faster than those Omega werewolves." Jake thought as he narrowly evaded a powerful kick that was heading for his stomach.

The werewolf quickly stomped its foot on the ground causing the ground to shake and Jake was somewhat off balance. That was when the werewolf wasted no time in coming at him.

'Okay, let's see how you work.' Jake thought as he quickly used his mind to activate the new and levelled up {Step shift}

When the werewolf was close to hitting Jake on his head, Jake was suddenly three metres away from it. This momentarily confused the werewolf at what was going on.

Taking advantage of the momentarily confusion, Jake activated {Step shift} again therefore bringing him in front of the werewolf quickly.

Then he swung his sword from below so fast that it landed on the werewolf's chin, therefore causing its head to fling backwards.

Jake quickly swept the werewolf off its feet as it landed on its back. Jake then channelled all the Qi to his feet as he jumped up high.

Jake was now heading back down with tremendous speed and force that it looked like a rocket from space was heading to the earth.

The werewolf seeing this, quickly rolled over just in time as Jake just crashed into where it was. Immediately Jake crashed, dust was pushed up everywhere.

Then the dust settled and Jake was seen standing in a crater that was formed by the force of his jump. Jake then quickly looked around by turning his head around looking for the werewolf.

"Look out!" Kate shouted.

But it was too late because Jake's face was met with a powerful kick from the werewolf sending him flying.

{-5HP}

{Total HP:45/50}

'Shit!' Jake thought as he finally stopped flying and tried to stand up while wiping his blood that was dripping down his mouth.

'That kick was so strong that it removed 5HP from my health. Then I need to be careful, I can't take much hit from that werewolf.'

Jake's eyes were now scanning the battlefield looking for the werewolf that was when he spotted it in front of him. The werewolf then quickly grabbed Jake's neck.

"Too slow." The werewolf said as it jumped up while holding onto Jake's neck.

Then the werewolf came falling back down still holding onto Jake. They then crashed into the ground with equal force like when Jake also crashed.

{-15HP}

Jake laid on the ground while coughing out blood. Loads and loads of blood were pouring out of Jake's mouth as he slowly stood up while propping his sword up in an attempt to stand up properly.

"Had enough?" The werewolf asked as it stood two metres away from Jake.

Jake finally stood up weakly and he smiled. "I'm just getting started."

Jake activated Step shift making him appear one metre behind the werewolf. Jake quickly took his sword.

'I have only two chances with this for the day.' Jake thought as he twisted his blade and called out.

"Activate lighting bolts!" Jake shouted at his system as his sword was now crackling.

'This sword, the active skill allows me to shoot out lightning bolts. I only have three tries with this before it goes into cool down for 4 hours. I had already used one of the chances when fighting against Harry.'

'And now with this one, I only have one more chance.' Jake thought as sparks were now showing on his sword.

Jake then thrust his blade out furiously as three lightning bolts shot out towards the werewolf's back. Feeling all the hairs on its body stand up, the werewolf turned around to see three lightning bolts head its way.

The werewolf quickly acting fast, crossed its hands in a X shape. 'My hide should be strong enough to protect me from that right?' The werewolf thought.

But it was wrong. As soon as the lightning bolts touched its hide, it electrocuted it while sending joules and joules of heat and energy into its body.

The werewolf was technically paralyzed by this and its body shook. Facing the lightning bolts, it failed to realize that Jake had already appeared behind him.

"This is for Vynn!" Jake shouted as he coated his sword with all his Qi. Leaving him with next to no protection on his body.

The sword crashed into the werewolf's body and sliced its back open. Finally, the lightning had dissipated and that was when it registered the immense amount of pain going through its body from the back.

"Awoooooh!" The werewolf cried as it turned around and delivered a powerful fist strike to Jake that sent him flying and crashing into one of the arena's walls.

The hit was powerful enough to make him go through the wall.

{-25 HP}

{Warning! User's health has gone critical}

Jake painfully walked through the huge hole he had made in the wall slowly making his way back to the fight with blood pouring out of his mouth.

"Jake," Zee called out. "You're critical, one more powerful hit from the werewolf and you will be dead."

"I still need to avenge Vynn. I won't die before I complete that task." Jake replied as his wobbly feet had finally brought him back to the battlefield.

The werewolf currently looked a little weakend but it was standing strong as if not feeling the pain coursing through its body.

"Back for more?" The werewolf asked. "Why not do yourself a favor and die peacefully? Why are you just hurting yourself more?"

"So that I can avenge all the innocent lives you took!" Jake shouted and he soon went into a coughing fits.

"Haha!" the werewolf laughed. "Big talk for someone that can hardly talk or shout. How do you want to take revenge when you are hardly able to stand?"

Everyone were worried for Jake especially Kate as they could see he was barely able to stand. She was about to run towards him and tell him to stop fighting but then, they soon saw a smirk on his face.

"Oh really!?! How about we go for round two then?" Jake said which surprised everyone considering his state.

"System! Activate Restore" Jake called out.

And soon, he was being healed in front of everyone. All the injuries dealt to him was now being healed. But to him, Jake could feel that not only his injuries were healed, his Qi has also been restored to what it once was in the last 24 hours.

He was now rejuvenated than ever before. All the weariness or tiredness he felt, has all went away and even his sword's active skill had been restored to its full potential.

"You're done for now!" Jake shouted as he dashed towards the werewolf for round two.
