

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 121 Did I make a mistake?

Everyone all had their mouths agape with everything that was going on between Jake and the werewolf. They kept receiving surprise after surprise from Jake.

That was when he was hit so hard that he went through one of the arena walls therefore breaking it and some of his bones.

But Jake stubbornly came back to the arena with his body riddled from head to toe with injuries. Everyone were now worried for him. Kate was about to head over to Jake and tell him to stop.

That he should stop hurting himself and let it go but she stopped dead in her tracks after hearing what Jake said.

"How about we go for round two then?" Jake smiled.

"System! Activate Restore." Jake called out.

And immediately in front of everyone, they could see Jake healing rapidly. All the injuries dealt to him had all healed up and he was now standing strong with a smirk on his face.

"You are done for now!" Jake shouted as he dashed towards a stunned Beta werewolf.

With a sword strike from above, the werewolf quickly snapped out of its daze and lifted its hand up in an X way to block the strike that was heading for its head.

But what the werewolf didn't account for was the strength behind the strike. The werewolf's knees buckled under the force of Jake's strike.

What the werewolf didn't know was that Jake was using his Qi to the fullest. His Qi had already been restored by the skill he used and Jake was now stronger than ever.

Using the Triple Threat' technique, Jake was now behind the werewolf and then he swung his leg lightning fast behind the werewolf. The werewolf had already sensed the kick heading its way.

Then it quickly turned around and used its hand to block the leg. Immediately Jake's legs connected with the werewolf's furry hand, a loud bang resounded as if a gun had been fired.

And the werewolf was now skidding from its position from the strength of Jake's kick.

'How's this possible? How did he get so strong all of a sudden and all his injuries are all healed up?' The werewolf thought while grunting from the throbbing pain it was feeling in its arms.

'Me, a Beta werewolf, he is pushing me back. How on Earth is he doing this? I'm the second in command to the Alpha, the second strongest among the whole werewolf pack and he is toying with me.'

The werewolf was now furious as its eyes were now glowing bright blue and then it swung Jake's legs down from its hand. And it dashed towards Jake with full speed.

And punched Jake so hard with all its strength but contrary to what it expected, Jake only skidded a few inches.

{-2HP}

Seeing the system message, Jake smiled and wiped the specks of blood from his mouth and turned to look at a surprised werewolf.

"Are you shocked? Did you expect me to go flying?" Jake asked as he gripped the werewolf's hand tightly.

Then Jake swung his leg from below that landed on the werewolf's snout and made its head fling backwards. Jake didn't stop there as he kneed the werewolf in its stomach hard with all his strength.

The werewolf gritted its teeth and bared through the pain as it swung its head towards Jake's head and it landed successfully causing Jake to stagger back in pain.

The werewolf didn't waste time in dashing towards Jake and delivering a fist strike to his head that caused Jake to go flying.

{-5HP}

Jake went flying for about 4 metres before he came to a halt and fell towards the ground with a thud as he coughed out blood.

"Darn it! That hit was quite strong." Jake said as he looked up at the werewolf expecting it to have appeared before him with a follow up strike but it didn't.

Instead, the werewolf was looking around by twisting its head as if looking for something.

'Huh?' Jake thought. 'What is it looking for?' Jake asked as he slowly got up from the ground and then he could see the werewolf heading in the opposite direction to Jake.

And then it stopped as it bent down to pick something which surprised and confused everyone because they didn't understand its actions until they saw the werewolf standing up with something in its hands.

Seeing what was in the werewolf's hand, totally horrified everyone as their heart were now beating fast but they couldn't do anything because it was too late as the werewolf took a big bite from the human's body he was holding onto.

Jake couldn't move now as he was deeply rooted with fear after seeing this.

"No no no." Jake said as he kept on turning his head left and right after realizing what just happened.

"This is terribly bad." Jake said as he quickly activated one of his skill to try and stop what was happening.

{Step shift}

Jake was now suddenly closed a distance of three metres with a move of one of his leg but he was still another three metres away from the werewolf but it was too late as the werewolf had just finished devouring the body.

Jake activated Step shift again and now he was in front of the werewolf quickly with a thrust of his sword, invisible Qi strikes along with his sword shot out towards the werewolf's body.

But the werewolf avoided each and every one of the strikes and then it grabbed Jake's sword tightly. Jake couldn't even move his sword even for a bit from the werewolf's grip.

"Surprised?" The werewolf asked. "This is just the beginning!"

The werewolf delivered a strong and powerful roundhouse kick towards Jake causing his head to slam on the ground with so much force that dust were thrown up.

"Jake!" Kate shouted as images of Vynn's death appeared in her mind.

The dust finally settled and Jake was now slowly standing up with blood gushing out of his head. And then he looked up at the werewolf and Jake's eyes widened in shock and fear.

"Did I make a mistake?" Jake asked himself as in front of his eyes, the werewolf was now healing up.

All the injuries delivered to the werewolf by Jake was now healing rapidly more than when Jake healed up.

Chapter 122 Use everything I got!

Throughout the fight with the Beta werewolf, it looked like Jake was getting the upper hand but everything changed when the werewolf decided to eat a human body, thus boosting its strength a little bit.

And also allowing the werewolf heal from the injuries dealt to it by Jake especially the sword strike which Jake had dealt to it on its back.

Now, the werewolf was standing strong with all its injuries all healed up and Jake standing two metres away from the werewolf with his sword in front of him and blood trickling down from Jake's head.

"I don't know why you humans are always this stubborn," the werewolf said.
"Why can't you just admit that you have lost the fight. Must you fight?"

"I don't even know why you are fighting so hard." The werewolf said looking straight at Jake.

"Is it for the academy, or is it for the world? If it's for the academy, then you are making a wrong choice here. Let me ask you this, where are your academy heads? The strongest ones in this academy?"

"This fight between us all has been going on for so long but they haven't shown up. Let me tell you the truth, they have all abandoned you all. They don't care about your lives, they never did. You guys are just tools to use to fight against us."

Everyone were listening to all what the werewolf was saying.

'Now that I think about it, why haven't the head generals showed up here yet?' Jake thought.

'Have they abandoned us? Is what the werewolf saying true?' Jake now gripped his sword tightly in anger and his eyes looked as if they were burning.

'It's not like I was relying on their help. That's the reason I grow strong, to help myself and those around me while I also get revenge against the werewolves.'

Jake then looked up at the werewolf.

"F*ck the academy! I don't give a f*ck whether they abandoned us or not." Jake shouted with conviction in his voice.

"To answer your question, I'm not fighting for the academy neither am I fighting for the world but I'm fighting for myself, I still have to take revenge from you for killing Vynn. And I don't care if I die in the process but I must make sure I take you to hell with me."

"Very well then." The werewolf said as it stood upright and looked at Jake with seriousness written all over its face.

"Let me grant you your wish of dying and rotting in hell."

The werewolf dashed towards Jake with immense speed that it seemed like it teleported from one place to another.

But Jake was not phased as he held his sword tightly waiting for the werewolf to get close.

The werewolf was now 2 feet away from Jake.

'I need to slow it down.' Jake thought as he quickly opened his system and tried to activate {Stun strike}

{Warning: Stun Strike failed, enemy's intelligence is too high.}

"What the?!" That was what Jake could say and he was suddenly flying through the air with tremendous speed that he crashed into the ground hard in less than a second.

{-6HP}

{HP: 37/50}

"Shit!" Jake cursed and looked up to see the werewolf heading his way.

"If Stun strike won't work, then Lockdown which is at a lower level won't work."

"Then all I have to do, is to beat it the old fashioned way by using everything I got!"

The werewolf was now in front of Jake. But Jake was already through the motions of The Triple Threat technique.

He had already done the first two steps by stepping back so he could create more distance then Jake did a pivot turn so he could move to the side immediately the werewolf was almost upon him.

Now Jake quickly did the last step by swiftly dashing forward with his sword that was now infused with Qi.

The sword managed to cut the werewolf deep on its shoulder causing blood to spurt out. The werewolf quickly turned around and tried to send a powerful kick towards Jake's way but Jake had quickly used Step shift to move away from the werewolf.

The werewolf seeing Jake standing away from it, just stomped on the ground hard causing rocks to go flying up then it punched two of the rocks that flew up sending it towards Jake's way.

Jake seeing the rocks didn't fret. As he sheathed his blade and readied his hands with his gauntlets on it and then Jake activated {Strength surge}

Therefore increasing his strength by 10 percent for 6 minutes. That means Jake's strength shot up from 66 to 76. And then Jake punched the rocks that were heading his way hard to the extent they broke into tiny little pieces and fell down in front of him.

Jack's mouth was now agape and he was staring right at Jake with confusion.

"Has Jake always being this strong?" Jack asked.

"Nope," Peter responded. "I'm sure he didn't have this amount of strength when he and the werewolf started fighting."

"So you are saying that he is growing in this fight." Geo who stood beside them asked.

"I think so." Jack said. "Or, it could be that he is using Qi therefore strengthening himself more."

Meanwhile, back at the fight, immediately Jake had punched the rocks, he didn't expect for the werewolf to have followed up with a claw strike that was heading for his head.

"I just have to beat speed with more speed." Jake said as he quickly activated his new skill.

{Adrenaline rush} a skill that temporarily increased a user's speed and agility by 2 percent for 2 minutes.

Jake's speed had now gone from 64 to 66 coupled with his boots. Jake finally avoided the strike although narrowly therefore leaving a cut on his face.

Jake was now a metre away from the werewolf while the werewolf was just looking at Jake with a grin on its face.

"You know, I would have loved to turn you into a werewolf to see how strong you can get." The werewolf said with a smile and then the smile wiped out of its face and its face turned dead serious.

"But you have annoyed me long enough that I just want you dead. So, it's time to kick it up a notch." The werewolf said as it sped towards Jake while leaving a trail of smoke and dust behind it.

Chapter 123 Shadows of Retreat

The fight between Jake and the werewolf was so intense that those on the sidelines couldn't get near them to even try and help Jake so they stood rooted in the same spot while watching Jake fight against the werewolf with everything he got.

But each time they think Jake was getting the upper hand, the Beta werewolf kept doing things that made it seem like it was taking things easy with Jake.

While everyone were focused on the fight in front of them, General Paul and Wilfred that were initially unconscious finally regained consciousness and were making their way towards where the most energy was radiating from.

"I wonder if the students are still fighting with that werewolf." Paul said.

"I just hope they are okay. But it does makes me wonder, who on Earth is fighting with that werewolf and causing shockwaves to spread even towards here." Wilfred said.

"I think it's that strong third year student; Alex. But whoever it is, we will find out for ourselves soon enough." Paul said.

Back at the fight, Jake was just standing one metre away from the werewolf while seeing it dash towards him with a speed that it hadn't displayed during their fight.

"What the hell! Was it taking things easy with me earlier?" Jake said but he didn't have time for that as the werewolf was now in front of him in the middle of sending a powerful kick towards Jake.

Quickly acting fast, Jake covered his legs with Qi and by the time he was done, the werewolf's leg was now upon him. Jake quickly threw his leg to meet with the werewolf's and a resounding loud bang was heard by everyone.

Shockwaves were spread out almost sweeping everyone off their feet but they remained strong. The shockwaves were enough to push some of the bodies and debris from the way.

But between Jake and the werewolf's kick, there was a clear winner as Jake's leg was now throbbing with serious pain. If it wasn't for the Qi he had covered his leg with, the kick from the werewolf would have broken his leg.

Jake quickly dropped his leg back down as he pulled back his hand, moved back and jumped up but not too high. And then he rotated his body and finally delivered a strong hook to the werewolf's head.

That only managed to move its head a bit and almost slam its head on the floor but it stood strong.

'This is getting dangerous.' Jake thought. 'My punch was able to sweep it off its feet but now, its just standing strong and not even bulging an inch.'

"My turn." The werewolf said snapping Jake out of his thoughts but it was too late for a furry hand was now in front of him.

The werewolf threw a hook towards Jake's head that landed cleanly therefore lifting Jake off his feet and slamming him on the floor.

{-15 HP}

Jake was currently on the floor while his mouth was tasting iron and in the next second, he was coughing while red liquids were falling from his mouth.

Jake was currently facing the sky when a shadow was cast over him and he saw something falling from the sky.

"Oh shit!" Jake said as he quickly rolled over therefore avoiding the werewolf that had jumped up and come crashing down in order to flatten Jake.

The werewolf had crashed into the ground causing a giant crater in the ground.

The Generals were finally here and they could see a robed figure with a mask on its face and a gauntlet on his hand getting up from the ground.

The figure's robe had somewhat been torn and then they finally see the werewolf standing there with minor cuts on its body.

On the sides, they could see some of the students looking at the battle with tense expressions on their face. Paul along with Wilfred were now running towards the students and they finally got to their position.

"General Paul, General Wilfred!" Alex called out which made the other students turn around and see the Generals.

"Are you all okay?" Wilfred asked looking at the students.

"Yes sir!" They all answered.

"Good. Now, do you guys care to explain who on Earth is currently battling with the Beta werewolf?" Paul demanded.

Before anybody could give their answer, Kate quickly replied.

"We don't know who he is. We just know that he's on our side." Kate lied which made the others confused but they decided to play along.

"Yes sir, we don't know who he is but all we can say is that he is strong enough to give the werewolf a tough fight." Alex said.

The Generals just looked at each other and decided to let the robed figure go for now while they watched the fight and if there was a chance to help, they would jump at it.

'I don't know how you got this strong, nor do I know why you're hiding behind that mask Jake and neither do I care. But I will help you no matter what in order for your identity to not be compromised.' Kate thought.

'Just help us win this fight without getting yourself killed.'

Back at the fight, immediately the werewolf crashed down, it stood up and looked around for Jake and finally sighted him.

"You wanna kill me? Then come get me!" Jake shouted standing 5 metres away from the werewolf who was now running towards Jake with its full speed.

The werewolf was now almost close to Jake and Jake quickly opened up his system skills.

{Melee combat} a skill that deals 20 percent damage to an opponent when used.

Then he activated another skill {Frenzy strike}

And now the werewolf was now upon Jake. Quickly, Jake used Step shift to get behind the werewolf and then started attacking the werewolf rapidly for 6 seconds. Not even giving the werewolf time to counterattack.

Each time Jake's fist connected with the werewolf's body, loud bangs kept on resounding and strong shockwaves kept spreading out.

Finally, Frenzy strike along with Strength surge's effect had now wore off. Jake tried to move away from the werewolf but he felt a grip on his shoulders not allowing him to move.

And then, Jake's vision went blank for a few seconds as the werewolf had punched him sending him flying tremendously.

{-10HP}

{HP: 5/50}

{Warning: user has gone critical! User needs medical attention now.}

Jake finally came to a halt from flying and he just lay on the floor not moving after that punch while everyone were shocked even the werewolf, it didn't move.

"Jake!" Kate shouted.

The words Kate shouted, Paul and Wilfred had heard.

'I thought they said they didn't know who that was. Wait, Jake? Isn't he that student that the head generals were keeping an eye on?' Paul thought as he looked at where Jake was sent flying.

"Shit! If he dies, the Head Generals won't let me hear the end of it." Paul said as he wanted to move but someone had already ran towards Jake.

Without thinking twice, Kate had ran out towards Jake. When she got to where he was, she lifted his head and placed it on her laps.

"Jake!"

"Jake!" She called out again.

"Please wake up, please I don't want to lose you like I lost Vynn."

Hearing Vynn's name, Jake's eyes snapped open but he couldn't even move only twitching in pain.

The werewolf was now slowly making its way to where Jake lay.

"I need to get rid of him now!" The werewolf said.

"We have to protect Jake no matter what!" Alex shouted as he unsheathed his giant sword from his back and ran out to meet the werewolf.

With a swing of his sword, a burst of Qi came out and hit the werewolf sending it skidding.

"You..." the werewolf stopped as its face was met with a kick from Sophia that flung its head back.

Then an axe strike from Peter managed to push the werewolf forward and causing it to stumble a bit.

"This is for messing with my students and the academy!" Paul shouted as he threw a fist full of Qi into the werewolf's stomach causing another round of shockwave to spread out.

The werewolf was unaware that they didn't have energy like before. Everyone were fighting with the little energy they had gathered standing on the sidelines watching the werewolf and Jake fight.

The werewolf stumbled back in a little bit of pain as it looked towards the humans that were standing in its way.

The werewolf was about to take a step when a loud noise from above made everyone including the werewolf look up.

And then they could see a bird flying above them making a loud noise.

"I would have loved to get rid of all of you especially that little one there. But that is my cue to leave." The werewolf said as it looked up again.

"But don't worry, we will meet again soon." The werewolf said as it jumped up high above the arena and then, it disappeared from everyone's view.

"Is that it? Is the werewolf gone?" Peter asked looking around trying to see if it was still around.

"It's gone." Paul said not sensing any powerful aura or energy around the arena.

"Guys! Jake needs help now!" Kate shouted and everyone dashed towards Jake to help take him to the clinic.

Alex lifted Jake up while the others went to take the students that were too injured to move including Berg. And they all headed for the academy clinic.

Chapter 124 Embers of hatred

A month had passed since the battle between Aurora Academy and the werewolves took place. But the atmosphere was still grim.

General Paul had informed the Head Generals about what had happened when they were away on their supposed emergency.

After the fight, they had tried to save as many lives as possible. They used all the equipment to save the people that were injured in the cross fire.

But nothing could bring back the dead. Around 10 students and 20 innocent merchants and adventurers died including Vynn, Ruby, Dan, and Cole.

When the military had gone to retrieve the dead bodies, Kate, Sophia and Cindy cried their eyes out seeing Vynn's dead and mangled body. Every one of the roommates were blaming themselves for being too weak.

While Jake was blaming himself for not coming earlier rather than helping the military that abandoned them in the arena.

After receiving treatment from the clinic, Jake had been discharged two weeks later. But the roommates rarely saw him. Jake always seemed to come back late at night and he seemed distant, not talking to anyone.

Any time Jake remembered that day, the day Vynn had died, his blood always boiled. The anger he felt towards Aurora Academy, it was starting to consume Jake and he didn't know.

For the past month, the students had all being exempt from training while the academy and the city got their acts together.

Jake had tried to use this month to go back to town and probably hunt some beasts in order to craft more equipment but the academy had become more stricter than usual. With soldiers stationed almost everywhere and once in a while, a sergeant was put on guard.

During this time, Jake decided it would be best to plan what to do. After thinking for a while, Jake came to a conclusion.

Over the past month, Jake had discovered a private place, a place where nobody would disturb him. The place was on the school's roof.

Anytime he went to the roof, it always somewhat calmed him down looking at the view so it became his favorite spot. And what made it perfect was that nobody comes to the roof so his peace wouldn't be disturbed.

The roof gave Jake a full view of the academy and even some parts of Aurora city. He was currently observing with amazement at the fact that everything was being rebuilt rapidly.

Many buildings and structures had been destroyed during the attack and currently they were all being rebuilt. Seeing this now, it was almost hard to believe that the city had been attacked a month ago.

Jake was currently sitting on the roof observing everything when the image of his parents appeared in his mind. Immediately, the image changed to that of Vynn's.

Jake was currently clenching his fists tight with his eyes all red and puffy from crying.

"I lost my parents when I was young because of werewolves." Jake said.

"I came to this damn academy to get strong enough to avenge their deaths. I didn't want to form any alliances or bond because I was afraid of losing them later on."

"After a bit of struggle, I grew to like them and those bastard werewolves took one of them from me." Jake clenched his teeth while grinding them back and forth.

"And this damn academy didn't even help. Where were the Head Generals when we needed them? Where were they when Vynn needed them?"

"I thought I had the werewolves to worry about but now, the academy have just been added on my hit list. The quest I had received to topple the Big three, how about I start with the academy huh zee?"

"Jake the way you are acting is scaring me now. You need to screw your head on tight and stop behaving like a lunatic. Think practically." Zee said.

"Oh, I'm thinking practically. In fact, I haven't been thinking straight before but now I am." Jake replied with a grin on his face.

"Let's see what will be useful in taking down this academy." Jake said.

"System! Pull up my status screen"

<Status>

<User: Jake Lucas>

<Level: 19>

Jake had maxed out on all his attributes and the condition to keep on increasing and growing his attributes, he was told to get to level 20 before he could keep on increasing his strength.

But to level up, it would take a whole lot of time to. Based on the XP bar, Jake knew that it was going to take a lot of time before he leveled-up to level 20.

"System, pull up my skill tab." Jake called out again.

{Skill Tab}

These were all Jake's current skills. The Qi sense and shield of will, he had gotten them after his battle with the Beta werewolf. And Jake was more than happy with what he got.

"With all these, i will finally get my revenge on the werewolves and most especially, the military academy." Jake said.

"But firstly, I can't do this alone. So I need someone or more people to help my cause and I think I know what to use and who I should start with." Jake smiled as he stood up and left the rooftop.

Chapter 125 The Rebellion Begins

After exiting the rooftop, Jake was now making his way towards his first ally that might just help him in the quest for revenge. It was almost evening and Jake just returned to his dorm room which was unlike the recent him.

He usually returns to the dorm by nighttime but now he was here but the person he was looking for wasn't.

"Huh? That's strange, he doesn't usually go out so where could he be?" Jake said as he made his way out of his dorm again.

After a little bit of thinking, Jake finally came to a decision about where his new ally was gonna be. Jake was now slowly making his way to another building in the academy.

Entering in, Jake could see the usual rows of games lined up on the shelf and then at the back of the room were rows of capsules. Jake was in the gaming room but he wasn't here to play a game, he was here to try and recruit a person he thought would want to join his team.

"Excuse me, are you here to play?" The woman at the counter asked.

"No, I'm waiting for someone." Jake replied as he went to the chairs stationed around the room.

After an hour worth of waiting, the person he was finally waiting for was done with his game and was about to head out to the gaming room.

"Hey!" Jake called out and the person turned around.

"How are you doing?" Jake asked, coming over.

"Physically, I am okay but emotionally or mentally, I'm not." Peter replied still with a smile on his face.

"Yeah, tell me about it."

"So why are you here? I know you aren't here to play the game so why are you here?" Peter asked.

"I'm here to talk to you about something." Jake said. "Do you mind if we go somewhere private so we can talk better?"

"Sure, why not. It has even been a long time since we talked after the tournament event."

Jake didn't reply as he led him outside out of the gaming room.

"So where are we headed?" Peter asked.

"My comfort zone." Jake replied as they were now heading towards the stairs that took one to the school roof.

And finally, they were now on the school roof and Peter was taking in the view of the academy and sunset.

"Wow! This is a beautiful view." Peter said.

"Yeah it is." Jake shrugged.

"So this is where you always stay while we keep on worrying about your safety."

"I needed to get away from some things and clear my mind after Vynn's death."
Jake replied.

"Look Jake, you can't just keep on blaming yourself for Vynn's death." Peter said putting his hands on Jake's shoulders.

"Yes I have to." Jake retorted as he pushed Peter's hands off his shoulders.

"If I hadn't gone around saving soldiers and fighting those Omega werewolves, I would have gotten to the arena in time to save Vynn from death."

"What about us!" Peter shouted. "We were also there, but we couldn't do anything either. Trust me, I also kept on blaming myself for Vynn's death. I was there but I was unable to help him."

"But all I have to tell you is, you shouldn't brood about what you lost and instead, focus on what you still have. I know you blame yourself for not coming in time to save Vynn but now, you still have us."

"I'm sure you will do everything in your power to save us. Heck, you did, you saved our arses back then. If it wasn't because of you, we would have all died."

Jake just sighed.

"You know, he has a point there." Zee said.

"Ugh, not you too." Jake quietly said in his mind.

"I have been telling you this. You should stop blaming yourself for Vynn's death. You are not God, you couldn't have known that Vynn was about to die."

"Those soldiers you had saved, you have given them a second opportunity to life. Because of you, they got a chance to see their families again." Zee said.

"I know it's painful losing Vynn but you have to let that pain go and focus on helping and protecting those that are still alive." Zee said.

"Speaking of protection," Jake said as he looked up at Peter that had been silent thinking that Jake was giving his words some thoughts.

"Peter, I heard what you said and I'm going to try and forget that pain. But the reason I asked us to come over to somewhere private, is because I have a proposal for you."

Peter raised an eyebrow. "What proposal?"

"A proposal to join my own private Guild."

"Guild? When did you create a guild?"

"Well I'm creating it now. You are going to be the first member if you join. Think about it, we were abandoned by the Head Generals when we needed them and I don't want to lose any of you guys again so I have decided to create a guild whereby we would grow stronger together."

"Strong enough to protect ourselves from any threat again."

"But we can grow stronger separately, it doesn't mean we create a guild." Peter said still unconvinced.

Jake just sighed. "I haven't been honest with you, I not only want to create a guild so we can protect ourselves, I want to create a guild strong enough to topple the academy."

"What?!? Are you nuts? You want to topple the academy? Do you have a death wish or something?" Peter shouted.

"Look, I know you are strong. Heck, even stronger than me but it's still not enough to try and think that you can topple the academy down."

"Who says I want to do that now?" Jake asked. "I know I'm strong but I'm not foolish, even I know that I'm not strong enough to do that now. Which is why I said we create a guild, invite more strong members and grow our strength."

"Then when we are strong enough, we initiate the plan to topple the academy and take the reins of Aurora city. You should know that the academy think only about themselves. They don't care about us, to them, we are just disposable wastes."

"That was why the Head Generals didn't help when we needed them. Think of it, the Head Generals are strong enough to kill that f*cking Beta werewolf but where were they? They freaking abandoned us and in the process, Vynn died."

"Look, I'm not gonna force you to do what you don't want to. But I have told you what I'm planning on doing. So what's your response?" Jake asked.

Peter looked up with his face somewhat uncertain but remembering what happened to Vynn, his face hardened with resolve and he looked at Jake.

"Fine, let's do it."

"Great." Jake smiled and then called out.

"System! Activate Contract!"

Chapter 126 Let's fight!

Staying up on the roof, Jake was reminded about the event that took place at the arena and how Vynn lost his life because of a Beta werewolf.

That was when his hatred for the academy led him to the academy gaming room in search of his first member for his first ever guild.

His search brought him to Peter and after explaining his reasons for creating a guild to Peter on the roof, Peter finally accepted and Jake had initiated the contract.

"I need to tell you something and I hope you can keep it a secret." Jake said.

"I'm all ears." Peter replied.

"So you see, an incident gave me strange powers to do something cool. That was how..."

"That was how you were able to go toe to toe with the Beta werewolf." Peter completed Jake's statement.

"Yeah, so part of this powers, is to give contract to anybody that is willing. But I haven't tested it yet so I don't know if it has any side effects."

"So you want me to be your guinea pig right?"

"Not actually a guinea pig." Jake scratched his head.

"Fine. Let's just get it over and done with. It's not like it can get any worse." Peter replied.

Jake then nodded to Peter and called out to the system.

"System! Activate Contract."

{Initiating Contract. User wants to contract Peter Chuck and create a guild.}

{Before contracting a person, user needs to create a guild name and a symbol for identification.}

"Name? How could I forget this?" Jake quietly mumbled.

"Now what name should I call this Guild?" Jake thought hard and long.

Jake thought for some time before he finally settled on a name.

"This should work." Jake said as he inputted the name on his system.

{Guild's name: Fang hunters}

{Are you sure you want use this name? After set, the Guild name can not be reversed.}

"Yes!" Jake said.

{Congratulations! Fang hunters has been created.}

Now what was left to do was to create the logo or the symbol for the guild.

Jake maneuvered to the option for the Guild logo. And then he used his mind to start designing the logo.

First off, he imagined a wolf's head that had long fangs and the image appeared exactly the way he imagined it.

Then Jake added chains to wrap around the head and a sword should be placed across the wolf's head and then he created dark ambience and background to give it a mysterious look.

Looking at the image, Jake was pleased because it was to perfection.

"C'mon now, are we going to do this or not?" Peter asked having patiently waited for anything because he didn't believe that just with him agreeing, the guild had been created.

"I'm sorry, I was just making some last minute adjustments." Jake said.

"C'mon, let's start now."

Jake clicked the contract from his system.

{Do you wish to invite Peter Chuck into the Fang hunters?}

{Yes/ No}

Jake didn't waste time in clicking the yes button and then a paper magically materialized out of thin air and landed in Peter's hands.

"Woah! Where did that come from?" Peter asked surprised by the fact that a paper suddenly appeared in his hands.

"Was that from you?"

To which Jake nodded and Peter proceeded to read the contract rules and laws.

"What? It says if the user deems it fit, he can terminate the contract therefore ending my life. You... won't do that right?"

"No I won't. Why would I? It doesn't benefit me." Jake said.

Peter just shrugged. "What have I got to lose?" Then he proceeded to sign the contract.

Immediately he had signed the contract, Peter started feeling a searing pain on his left shoulder. Lifting his sleeves up, both Jake and Peter could see that a tattoo had been drawn on Peter's shoulder.

The marking was exactly the same as the Fang hunters symbol.

'wow! This looks exactly like it did in the system.' Jake smiled.

"Uhm Jake, what is this for?"

"That is your ID that you're an official member of the Fang hunters Guild." Jake proudly say.

"Fang hunters? Is that what you're naming this guild?"

"Yes, is it bad or lame?"

"No, I actually find it kinda cool. What I was shocked about was that you were the one to come up with that name on your own." Peter chuckled.

Then suddenly he screamed. "Woah! What is this?" Peter pointed in thin air In front of him.

Jake quickly jumped up. "What is it?"

"I can see something like a system screen in front of me showing our Guild's information and all the members with my name there." Peter replied.

'How come did Peter get a system screen from getting contracted?' Jake thought.

"Do you see anything else?" Jake asked.

"Nope. It's only the Guild's information." Peter replied. "Do you have this system too?"

"No I don't." Jake sharply said then he cleared his throat the next minute.

"With you having a system, it will be good in tracking who is a member of our Guild and who is an imposter."

"Yeah that's true." Peter said going to sit back down close to the edge of the roof.

"So do you plan on inviting the rest of the gang?" Peter asked.

Jake went to sit beside Peter as they both looked at the shadows that was already setting in.

"I plan to, but not now." Jake replied with a sigh.

"Why?"

"We both know that Jack is related to the Big three and so is Sophia. So I don't know if they will leave their families and pledge allegiance to me. I just don't think that they can betray their families."

"But our case is different, we don't have any family. And even if we did, we wouldn't have been restricted from joining any guild of our choice."

"What about Kate? Do you plan on inviting her anytime soon?" Peter asked.

"I'm not sure yet. For now, I will observe and see if she will join."

"Better invite her soon. We both know that she has feelings for you." Peter said.

"Huh?" Jake raised an eyebrow.

"Yes, she is completely head over heels in love with you but I don't know why you fail to see it."

"For now, I don't know if anyone has any feelings for me or not and I will advice they shouldn't because the path am going down, is a very dangerous path so I don't want them to get entangled in it." Jake said.

Peter just sighed and stood up heading towards the roof's door and was about to open it then he stopped to look at Jake.

"Whether you know this or not, we are already entangled and there's no way you can avoid us." Peter said and then he opened the door and left while leaving Jake to still stay on the roof.

While looking at the city that was bustling under the night sky and lights, Jake heard the roof door open again.

"Did you forget to tell me something again Peter?" Jake asked turning around but it wasn't Peter standing in front of him.

"Hey Jake! Let's fight." The person said.

Chapter 127 Pledge of allegiance

Jake had just finished inviting Peter into his Guild called the Fang hunters. The contraction went smoothly with Peter gaining a system but it only allowed for someone to see who was in the guild and to send messages to members of the guild.

During the contraction, the logo of the guild which Jake had created from his system was drawn on Peter's shoulder.

First off, the logo had a wolf's head that had long fangs.

Then Jake had added chains to wrap around the head and a sword was placed across the wolf's head and then he created dark ambience and background to give it a mysterious look.

After everything was done, Peter decided to leave the roof but not without saying some heartfelt words to Jake while leaving Jake to his devices.

Jake was sitting down looking at the bustling city and academy down below when he heard the roof's door open up again.

"Did you forget to tell me something or what?" Jake asked turning around thinking Peter had come back.

But standing in front of him wasn't Peter.

"Hey Jake! Let's fight." the person said.

Looking at the person that came in, Jake could see his red fiery hair with his determined eyes and his giant trusy sword strapped to his back.

The person that had come to him demanding for a fight was none other than Alexander Slade otherwise known as Alex the strongest student in the whole academy that was before Jake took the title by chasing the Beta werewolf away.

Which apparently, General Paul and Wilfred had decided to keep under wraps. They didn't want Jake to be pressurized by the Head Generals.

So they lied that they managed to chase the werewolf away with the help of the students and adventurers. So Jake's secret was kept safely between Head General Paul, Wilfred and the students that were alive that saw him.

Which begged the question, why was Alex In front of him asking for a fight.

Jake slowly stood up and looked at Alex.

"A fight? Why do you want to fight me?"

Alex smiled and stepped forward a bit. "Ever since the day when you fought with Harry's brother; Sebastian then you fought with Harry and managed to win, I have always wanted to fight against you."

"Then seeing you go toe to toe with that Beta werewolf; the same werewolf which the head Generals and us struggled against. So ever since that day, the drive to fight against you had been re awakened."

"Don't get me wrong, I'm not planning to fight you to death. Just to put it simply, I have a drive to fight strong opponents so I can improve and those in the third year can't satisfy my drive hence the reason I'm here."

Listening to everything Alex said, Jake didn't know how to react because this was completely unexpected. Then thinking back to the day of the tournament when the werewolves struck, Jake did remember how strong Alex was.

Thinking about that, Alex looked like the perfect candidate to be invited into his Guild after Peter but he didn't know if he would accept. So he decided to address the matter at hand.

"Fine, I will grant you your wish. But I gotta warn you." Jake said equipping his sword from his system and looking straight at Alex with a dangerous look on his face.

"I'm not gonna take it easy with you." Jake dashed forward towards Alex therefore closing a distance of 5 feet in less than a second without using Step shift.

Jake was now in front of Alex then he quickly swung his sword out so fast that most people wouldn't be able to keep up.

But Alex managed to block it perfectly with his own giant sword. What Alex didn't account for was the strength behind the strike which caused him to skid back a few feet.

The force of their swords colliding, caused a small shockwave to spread around them.

Gritting his teeth, Alex looked at Jake then he managed to pull a smile.

"I see that I didn't make a mistake coming here."

Jake didn't care for what Alex had to say. He had quickly moved back a bit to create a little bit of space while looking at Alex trying to analyze his moves.

But before he could complete his analysis, Alex had quickly dashed towards him quickly closing the distance by using 'The Triple Threat' technique and then he swung his sword lightning fast towards Jake's neck.

'Alright, let's see how you work.' Jake thought as he had quickly activated his newest skill.

{Shield of will}

Immediately 10 percent of his Endurance had dropped and unknown to Alex, an invisible shield had been created in front of Jake.

Jake didn't want to rely only on the Shield of will, so he had also encased the invisible shield with Qi just in time to receive Alex's strike that connected with his neck but his sword couldn't go in.

In fact, it hadn't draw out blood which greatly surprised Alex.

"I guess it worked." Jake said as he had activated {Strength surge} a skill that increased his strength by 10 percent for 6 minutes.

Quickly, Jake had thrown out his fist that landed squarely on Alex's face therefore flinging him across the roof sending him crashing into the roof's door. And then, Alex was unmoving.

"Shit!" Jake said as he ran towards Alex. "Did I use too much of my strength?"

Jake's strength attribute was currently 70 and coupled with Strength surge, his strength had increased from 70 to 80 and Jake hadn't pulled back his punch one bit.

He had taken the fight so seriously that he forgot it was just a friendly spar therefore causing Alex to go flying.

Finally, Jake had gotten to Alex's position and then he shook him.

"Hey buddy, are you okay?" Jake asked as Alex slowly stood up from the ground.

Alex wasn't angry much to Jake's surprise, rather he had a beaming smile on his face.

"I feel great. I know I lost the fight fair and square even if I had used everything I got, I know I stand no chance which is why," Alex said as his next actions surprised Jake.

"I Alexander Slade the son of Rex Slade; the leader and ruler of one of the Big three families thank Jake Lucas for saving my life from the werewolves attack and I also pledge my allegiance to you; Jake Lucas." Alex said as he got down on one knee with his fist on the floor.

"What?!?!!!" That was all Jake could say.

Chapter 128 Dangerous ambitions

Jake had just finished inviting Peter into his Guild when he was done, Peter left the roof and then the door opened again with Alex stepping in and demanding a fight with Jake which greatly surprised him.

After explaining his reasons, Jake decided to grant him his wish but not without informing Alex that he wasn't going to take it easy on him not one bit.

And true to Jake's words, he didn't take it easy on Alex. Jake fought against him as if his life was on the line and in the process, Alex was punched across the roof and landed on the roof's door.

After seeing he was okay, Alex's next move totally surprised Jake.

"I Alexander Slade the son of Rex Slade who is the leader and ruler of one of the Big three families thank Jake Lucas for saving my life from the werewolves attack and I also pledge my allegiance to you; Jake Lucas." Alex said as he got down on one knee with his fist on the floor.

"What?!?!!!" That was all Jake could say in surprise.

Listening to Alex's words, Jake received shock after shock.

"Your... your dad is part of the big three? As in the rulers of this world?" Jake asked with his widened in shock.

And to which Alex nodded his head confirming Jake's words.

"If you are part of the big three, then why are you pledging your allegiance to me?" Jake asked still surprised.

"I noticed that being with the big three, I would always be overshadowed by my elder brothers that's why I came to this academy to pave my own path." Alex explained still on his kneeling position.

"And that's why I hid my identity. The only ones that know my identity are the higher authorities in the academy. And seeing you, I know if I stay with you, I would create my own path."

"Okay, first of all, I have heard you. Get up from the floor let's talk better." Jake said and immediately Alex stood up and strapped his sword on his back.

Seeing Alex pledging his allegiance to him, Jake's first thought was to invite him to his guild but he didn't know if he could trust Alex after the revelation that he was related to the leader of the big three that he would likely go against in the nearest future.

"But you are strong enough to create your own path, why come to me?" Jake asked.

"Like I said, I can't do it alone. That's why I came to you knowing that you could help." Alex said.

Jake then regained his composure and then looked at Alex.

"Look, it's not like I don't want to accept you but I just don't trust you enough to accept you as part of my group knowing that you are affiliated with one of the big three." Jake said crossing his hands across his chest as he looked at Alex with a stern look.

"And before you try to promise me things, listen to this. I dislike the big three and I hate the academy now. So I just want you to know that in the nearest future, I would go against the big three but I'm gonna start with the academy first."

"So you can go and think about whether you still want to go with me." Jake said as he was already in front of the door about to open it up but he looked back at Alex.

"One more thing, if you decide to stand in my way of achieving my goals, then you will have to face the full force of my wrath." Jake said as he opened the door and left the roof leaving Alex standing there.

"Attack the Big three?" Alex asked himself.

"Is he crazy?"

Then Alex smiled as he kept looking at the door. "I guess he's just like me, impulsive. Don't worry Jake, I will prove my loyalty to you one way or the other because I really want to stand beside you no matter what."

Alex then left the roof to head for his dorm.

Meanwhile, after leaving the roof, Jake was on his way to his dorm.

"Do you think it's wise of you telling a heir of a big three family about you wanting to topple them down?" Zee asked.

"It's fine. That was a test to know if he would still want to follow me or not knowing that I'm planning on taking down the big three families." Jake replied as he was gently strolling.

"Your test might put you in grave danger. What if he reported this to his family? Humans, when they know someone is going to be a threat to them, they do everything in their power to squash the bug in their way." Zee said.

"That is why I plan to get strong enough that the big three won't be able to do anything to me." Jake said.

"And how do you plan on doing that?" Zee asked.

"I remember the system saying that when I get to level 20, I would gain a magical ability. Well, I'm counting on that." Jake replied.

"Are you nuts? How do you plan on doing that? Did you even see the amount of XP it will take you to get to level 20?" Zee asked.

To which Jake just smiled. "well, I have a plan to get over that hudle but firstly, I need better equipment and for that, I need to hunt."

Jake finally got to his dorm and got in and he could see all his roommates inside chatting with each other.

"Hey Jake." Kate greeted. "How are you?"

"I'm doing fine thank you." Jake forced a smiled as he headed to his bed.

Jake had always been like this ever since Vynn had died.

"Look Jake, we are all saddened by Vynn's death and it has been a month now and none of us has forgotten about him." Sophia said.

"But It doesn't mean that you would brood about it and push those that are around you, rather we need to stay together and pay those that took Vynn away from us ten fold."

Jake just looked at her and smiled. "And I plan to do that. But I have to start somewhere."

"What do you mean?" Kate asked with a raised brow.

Peter didn't bother to listen too much in because he already knew what Jake was planning on doing.

"Let me ask you all a question," Jake said sitting on his bed and looking at everybody.

"If I ask you one day to go against the academy and the big three that you idolize, would you do that?"

Everyone were confused by this because they didn't know how it correlated with getting revenge from the werewolves.

And nobody could answer because they all knew that it was impossible to do especially the Sophia and Jack who were also children of the remaining big three.

"Just as I thought." Jake said as he lay on his bed and went to sleep.

Chapter 129 The Academy's response

The next day, Jake woke up early but he didn't go for his daily quest since the XP bar had increased and 10XP wouldn't help increase his XP so he stopped. Rather, he woke up early today because he planned to do something.

Ever since that incident that happened in the tournament, security was now heavy around the academy and students weren't allowed to leave the academy like before.

There were at least 3 soldiers at the gate that had finally being rebuilt after the day the werewolves attacked and broke the gate off its hinges.

Jake quietly took his bath and slipped out of the room for the roof where he could see the academy in full view even though it was quite early and everywhere was somewhat dark, Jake could still see quite clearly.

What Jake planned to do was to monitor the soldiers schedule and see how their shift worked. The time was still 4am, Jake stayed up on the roof and could see the soldiers walking around the gate with their weapons beside them.

Then when it was 5am, three soldiers came and replaced the ones at the gate. Jake was still watching them intently trying to see any slip up in their security.

Jake watched until 6am, the soldiers did their shift again. This time, Jake noticed the slight delay in their shift.

"This is it, the delay, I will use it to my advantage." Jake mumbled as he stood up and left the roof.

"I plan on visiting the town this weekend and going on a hunt." Jake said as he finally left the roof.

Jake got to his dorm thirty minutes later and he could see his roommates are all ready for the day.

"Good morning everyone." Jake greeted as he went to his bed to sit on it.

Everybody were stunned because they were the ones who usually greeted Jake ever since Vynn died.

"Good morning Jake." Kate smiled as she looked at Jake.

Continue your journey on empire

"Good morning." The rest all greeted as they continued getting ready then Kate went to Jake's bed and stood over him.

"Mind if we talked, privately." Kate said.

Jake looked up. "Sure why not." He shrugged and then stood up with Kate following him and then they left the room.

They exited the room and were taking a stroll around the school.

"So what do you want to talk about?" Jake asked.

Kate sighed and then looked at Jake.

"I wanted to ask if you were feeling alright. I mean ever since Vynn's death, you haven't been yourself and we were really worried for you then you came in yesterday making claims about taking the big three and the academy down."

Jake halted his steps and turned to look at Kate.

"I feel fine, in fact better than before and my mind has never been clearer. And about the taking down of the big three and the academy, I'm not shy to admit it, I'm gonna do it."

Kate was surprised but she breathed in and out. "Jake, I want you to know that no matter what happens, I will stand by you. And ever since that day, I also hated the academy for abandoning us especially the Head Generals. So if you want to take the academy down, I will support you no matter what."

"That is how much I love you." Kate mumbled under her breath and luckily, Jake didn't hear that.

But all what she said about standing beside him, Jake heard it loud and clear and he was confused and surprised because he never expected her to say such.

"Are you sure about this?" Jake asked again.

"Yes." Kate nodded her head firmly.

"Very well then, after classes are over today, meet me on the school's roof." Jake said as he rushed back to their dorm room leaving Kate stunned.

"School roof?" She asked herself as she felt her heart racing fast and her cheeks heating up slightly then she shook her head and made her back to the dorm also.

Meanwhile, in the school academy an emergency meeting was taking place between all the heads of the academy; the head generals, generals and sergeants.

"They really had the guts to attack this academy!" Rowan shouted as he smashed the table with his fists.

"Calm down Rowa." Humfree said while stroking his beard.

"Head Generals, I don't think that academy was just out of the ordinary. I think they were in search of something and I also think that a high ranking official betrayed the academy." Paul said.

"Yes, I think we were betrayed because anybody that goes in and out of the city, the soldiers always make sure to search them properly but the werewolves were able to infiltrate the arena, and the city." Wilfred said.

"I understand what you all said, but who on Earth dared to betray us?" Gunther asked with his fists tightly clenched in anger.

"That we haven't found out yet, we will investigate further." Paul said.

"Make proper investigation because I want whoever betrayed us, I want their head." Humfree said as he released a little bit of his Qi that shook the table and everybody on it.

"And I think it's high time we brought the war to those filthy beasts." Rowa said. "Get the students ready, I want them to get more stronger especially the second years because they have a lot of talent. Their next beast hunt which is scheduled for next week, I want you to make them hunt advanced tier beasts."

"What!" Paul shouted. "But that is going too far, even the third years haven't done that yet."

"Exactly, that is why I plan for this to be a joint hunt between the third year students and second year students. Most of them on the day the werewolves attacked weren't at the arena and they were safe in the academy." Rowa said.

"That is why if they can face an advanced tier beast, they can definitely beat the lowest tier of the werewolves."

"But..." Wilfred tried to argue back but he was cut short by Gunther.

"No more arguments, that is our verdict." Gunther said. "Meeting dismissed."

They all stood up to leave the room. "Jake, I know you are strong enough to beat a beta werewolf, I just hope your friends are able to fight against an advanced tier beast. I wish you luck." Paul mumbled.

Chapter 130 A Date?

After getting back to their dorm, the whole room finally decided to go get breakfast together after a long time. After their breakfast, they went for their homeroom class together.

After their homeroom class, they all went to their weapon clubs. Jake, Jack, Sophia and Cindy were the ones for the sword club and they were on their way now to the sword club's building.

Entering in, they could see Von in his usual sitting position with his legs crossed. Then when the students all came in, he stood up and looked at them all. The room had been halved after that day since a lot of students were killed then.

"Alright, so let's begin today's class." Von said as he sheathed his blade by his side.

Jake had equipped his sword before coming into the class. Since everyone got themselves a sword, they were allowed to bring it to class but during training, they weren't allowed to use it. They were only able to use the wooden sword giving to them.

"Now, we are learning another sword skill called the Echoing wave. Before we start, we all know how to use Qi to some extent right?" Von asked and everybody nodded their heads together.

"Good." Von said as he took a dummy and positioned it in front of him. "Watch this closely."

Von stood in front of the dummy, then he activated it and moved back waiting for the dummy to come at him. When the dummy was charging right at him, Von then waited a bit and quickly drew his sword then he slammed it on the ground and created a shockwave sending the dummy back.

The students were in awe after seeing the skill. To them, all they could see was Von standing there with his sword sheathed then he drew it out quickly slammed it down therefore producing shockwaves and throwing the dummy away.

But Jake knew that there was more to it and Von was about to explain.

"That strike there, I used Qi. Let me explain how I did that." Von said.

Then he faced the whole class and sheathed his blade.

"You need to learn how to condense your Qi into the sword, by putting your sword into the sheath then while still holding onto it, you infuse the sword with Qi and when you feel the sword getting strong,"

"In one smooth motion, you pull out the sword and slam it into the ground therefore releasing the stored Qi and causing shockwaves to spread around making your opponent stumble and lose balance then you quickly follow up with an attack." Von explained.

"But for this to work, either you are quick in storing and withdrawing your sword or you have a way to keep your opponents still for a second or two."

Hearing what Von said, Jake couldn't help but smile.

'This is perfect, with Lockdown or stun strike, I have a way of keeping my enemies still for long enough to use that skill.' Jake smiled but then something flashed in his mind.

'Hold on, the more strong opponents I face, it will be harder to hold them still with stun strike and lockdown.'

"Now, let me show you the skill slowly and how it works." Von said as he stood in front of the dummy again and then sheathed his sword.

Then Von infused Qi into it making the blade shake in power and then he quickly withdrew the sword and slammed it on the ground causing ripples of shockwaves to spread around.

After the demonstration, Von sheathed the blade and clapped his hands.

"Alright, let me teach you how to condense the energy in your sword to make it full of the right amount of energy to make the skill work." Von said as he went around giving the students pointers and how to go about it.

Jack was getting the hang of the skill nicely so was Sophia. But Cindy and Jake were finding it quite hard to do.

Anytime Jake tried to condense the energy, he always mistakenly make the energy overflow therefore breaking the flow of everything.

After leveling up till level 19, Jake's body was now strong enough to hold more Qi. And he had managed to increase the amount of Qi in his body so it wasn't wrong to assume that among the whole students there, Jake had the most and powerful Qi.

That is what was making it difficult to condense the perfect amount. Anytime Jake wanted to attack, he doesn't hold back so that was what was affecting him.

Finally, Von got to Jake's position and saw that he was struggling so he decided to help.

"You need to clear your mind and calm down. Don't rush the process, slowly input the Qi bit by bit till you get the hang of it then you can input as much Qi as you want." Von said to Jake.

"Breathe in, and breathe out. Then imagine you're pouring drops of water into a cup while making sure your Qi is flowing like that drop of water towards your cup."

Jake listened to what Von said and was doing exactly that. He had breathed in and out trying to clear his mind which worked.

Then Jake slowly inputted his Qi into the sword by imagining he was slowly dripping drops of water in a cup and slowly, he was increasing the amount.

Then Jake's sword was now rattling with so much energy that it felt like it was going to break. Even Von who was standing behind him saw it.

'This kid has such a huge amount of Qi. Hmm, very interesting.' Von said as he continued watching Jake's actions.

Immediately Jake felt his sword shaking with so much energy, he didn't waste any time in pulling it out of his sheath and slamming the sword on the ground sending shockwaves everywhere.

Even causing some of the students that were close to him flying even Cindy went flying. If it wasn't because Jack, Sophia and Von were strong, they would have been swept off their feet too.

It was after slamming the sword that Jake realized what he did.

"Did I do this?" Jake asked as he turned around looking at all the students that were now standing up while glaring at him in anger.

Although they wanted to snap at him, they quickly remembered what he did to Harry; the rank 3 of the third years. How he managed to defeat him and also how he defeated five students at once during the initial stage of the tournament.

Which made them bite their tongue and continued what they were doing as if nothing happened.

Meanwhile Jake didn't realize that he was about slamming the sword into the ground, he had did that in the heat of the moment as he could feel his sword shaking with so much energy so he just did what he thought was right by slamming the sword into the ground.

Not knowing that it will cause so many students to go flying.

'Boy! This skill will be more than useful going against multiple enemies at once.'
Jake thought excitedly.

"You are very strong and you have so much Qi. That's quite impressive." Von said as he came over then he looked at Jake.

"Now I know who you're," von said as he pointed his hand towards Jake who was now scratching his head nervously.

'Did he realized that I was the one going around saving all those soldiers?' Jake thought nervously. 'How's that possible? My face was covered by the mask and also the hood of the robe so it's not possible right?'

"You are that kid that managed to defeat the rank 3 of the third years." Von said.

Hearing this, Jake heaved a sigh of relief.

"Yes." Jake nodded his head.

"You have obviously gotten stronger than in such a short amount of time and I'm really impressed. Keep it up." Von said as he went off to continue the class.

Jake heaved a sigh again and looked at his sword then he remembered the feeling he got from using the skill.

'I need to learn how to do this quickly so that it won't be a problem when Stun strike fails.' Jake thought and that was when he heard angrily steps heading his way.

Looking up, he could see a silver haired beauty heading his way.

"Cindy!" Jake said wondering why she was angrily coming at him. Experience new tales on empire

"What was that for?" Cindy asked.

"What was what for?" Jake asked with a raised brow.

"Why did you have to perform that skill and cause me to go flying." Cindy complained.

"You went flying? I'm so sorry, I didn't mean to do that it just happened in the heat of the moment." Jake apologized.

"Well, apology not accepted." Cindy said with her arms crossed.

"Why?"

"Before I can accept your apology, you have to go on a date with me." Cindy said.

"What?!" Sophia and Jack said at once after coming over to also complain to Jake.
