

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 131 The werewolf slayer's fame spreads

Jake, Jack, Sophia and Cindy were all in their weapons club practising a new skill taught to them by Von. The skill was called Echoing wave; it was a skill meant to make opponents stumble and lose balance enough for a person to follow up with a finishing attack.

Jake at first didn't get the hang of the skill but it all changed when Von came and gave him pointers and then he released a powerful Echoing wave strike causing huge shockwaves to erupt and sweep most of the students off their feet including Cindy.

In annoyance, Cindy came and challenged Jake asking him why he had to release the strike so powerful causing her to be flung across the room.

Jake apologised but Cindy didn't want to accept the apology, instead she requested for a date from Jake making him, Jack and Sophia stunned.

Sophia quietly moved to where Cindy was and whispered in her ear.

"You do know that Kate is into him right?"

"Who cares." Cindy whispered back. "Let him decide for himself who he wants to go out with."

Jake was still confused and feeling awkward about the whole thing when Von broke the silence by clapping in front of the class.

Causing Jake not to give Cindy a reply and he quickly left for the front of the class.

'That was a close one.' Jake thought as he was listening to what Von had to say.

"Alright, it looks like some of you managed to get the hang of the skill on your first day which is very impressive. But I want you all to practise the skill for a week to get the hang of the timing." Von said.

"So this will be our main focus for this week." That was when a loud beeping sound resounded in the class.

"Alright, that Is the end of today's class, we will meet again tomorrow." Von said dismissing the class.

Immediately Von dismissed the class, the students were now trying to make their way to the Qi training class and so did Jake who quickly slipped out of the class before Cindy could get a hold of him.

Jake jogged quickly towards the Qi training class. After getting there, the class was half filled and then after a few minutes, the class was now getting filled with students.

Then Kron began teaching them some Qi techniques which one of them was called Exposing Qi.

The skill was a condensed form of Qi shooting out of a person's fists and hitting an opponent. The skill was powerful depending on the amount of Qi a person had in his body and Jake did have a lot of Qi in his reserve.

After a few hours, Jake exited the Qi training building smiling.

'That is two more powerful skills added to my arsenal.' Jake smiled as he slowly made his way to the last class of the day which is his hand to hand combat club.

'I remember a few weeks ago, I heard the soldiers discussing a name spreading around. It was the name of a werewolf slayer in a black robe and mask.' Jake smiled.

'That name is perfectly fitting for me, especially considering my cause. Soon, the name of the werewolf slayer will spread around the whole Earth after I take down the academy, especially with the skills they taught to me.' Jake almost laughed as he finally got to the club training building.

Little did Jake know that the name of the werewolf slayer had spread beyond the walls of the academy and gotten to some people's ears.

In a huge city, a city that had flying vehicles around, modern-high rising buildings with multiple people walking around as if the war didn't affect them.

This city was called Slade city and it had one thing in particular to it and that was the majority of the buildings were painted red with a few other colours.

In the centre of the whole city, surrounded by a huge fence with multiple guards and high rising buildings, techs and people, stood a mansion. Your next chapter is on empire

It was wrong to call it a mansion for it looked more like a palace befitting a king. That was how huge the building was and like most buildings in the city, this one was also painted red with a stream of orange and brown.

The mixture of colours made it look quite attractive to the eyes. This palace of a building, was where the Slades reside.

This was the place where Alex Slade came from and currently in the meeting room, a huge man with bulging muscles and fiery red hair and a large scar on his face was sitting down on a large throne like chair while wearing tight fitting clothes that highlighted the features of his body.

His body showed years and years of dedicated exercise and training therefore building this amazing body.

This man was the one known as Rex Slade; the leader and the current head of the Slade family that was part of the big three and also he is the father of Alex Slade.

Sitting on other chairs around the table, were other men there. Although they looked impressive, it wasn't at the level of Rex Slade.

"So you mean Aurora Academy managed to fend off a werewolf attack on their own while the Head Generals were all away, how is this possible?" Rex spoke up with his voice booming loudly in the room shaking the men sitting around the table.

Shaking them to the core.

"Yes, that was what the report said." A man on the table spoke up.

"Do I look like a fool?" Rex asked with his face contorted in fury. "The big three along with the Head Generals had a meeting on that day, so I know that they were not around and you are telling me that the academy managed to fend themselves and kill the hundreds of werewolves sent to them while also chasing a beta werewolf that was sent to them."

"That is what the report said." Another man spoke up, but this man was quite young looking. And he was able to speak to Rex a bit more confidently than the others.

This was because this person was Raze Slade, Rex's first son and Alex's elder brother.

"That was what Alex reported to us having experienced the horror first hand, he said the academy managed to fend the werewolves off while managing to chase a Beta werewolf away but he said they didn't do it alone." Raze said.

This caused Rex to raise an eyebrow. "Huh? If they didn't do it alone, how did they manage to pull that miracle off?"

"That was because they had someone with them," Raze continued. "Alex said he didn't know his real identity but he called himself a werewolf slayer."

"A werewolf slayer huh?" Rex asked as he stared off into space. "Then that means he's on humanity's side and we also need to get him on our side too. If he was able to chase a Beta werewolf away on his own, then he would be very valuable to us."

"We need to get him for ourselves before the other big three do." Rex said then he looked around the table. "Find who the hell the werewolf slayer is for me!" Rex shouted and immediately everyone left the room trying to complete the task for him.

Chapter 132 An assassin

After a few minutes of walking, Jake was now finally in front of the hand to hand combat club. He pushed the gate and walked in surprisingly, Sergeant Sunny wasn't standing in front of the gate waiting for him.

"Strange, why is the sergeant not here yet?" Jake asked himself as he slowly walked towards the building while carefully looking around.

Before he stepped in, he had equipped his sword from his system as he had a bad feeling. Before opening the door, Jake could hear noises inside the room as if someone was struggling with another.

"Is sergeant Sunny fighting against someone? But he is a sergeant, there are not many people who can go toe to toe with him and make him struggle all except the generals or hear generals."

Jake then gently opened the door and could see Sergeant Sunny fighting against someone that was dressed in all black. He was quite struggling against the person and he was even injured while the all black person was quite okay.

Jake then saw the man was managing to over power sergeant Sunny and he had even managed to knock Sergeant Sunny down on one knee and he was panting hard for breath.

Then the man dashed towards Sergeant Sunny to swing his sword at his neck but when the man's sword was now a few inches away from his neck, the man felt like his sword hit steel.

And then standing in front of him was a person clad in a black robe that was torn in places and he had a metal mask on his face with his sword out blocking the hit from touching Sergeant Sunny.

"Who are you?" The mysterious man asked with his voice slightly altered.

The masked figure turned to look at sergeant Sunny who was still surprised then he turned back to look at the attacker.

"They call me The Werewolf Slayer." Jake said as he dashed forward while pushing the man off his sword.

Just a few moments ago, Jake was seeing the man overpowering Sergeant Sunny and Jake was currently going through the options of what to do in his head.

Wanting to save sergeant Sunny's life, Jake quickly equipped his robe, mask, sword and gauntlet just Incase he lost his sword in the fight.

Therefore equipping the identity of the werewolf slayer. Then he saw the mysterious man heading towards sergeant Sunny about to swing his sword towards his neck.

Then Jake quickly came in and blocked the strike with his own sword then he pushed the man away and dashed towards him with full speed.

Sergeant Sunny who was on his knees heard the name the mysterious masked fellow said.

'Werewolf slayer? Isn't he the same figure they said helped all those soldiers? And he is the same person General Paul said managed to chase the Beta werewolf away.' Sunny thought.

'If it's him against this figure, then I'm sure the werewolf slayer will win. But, how on Earth is the werewolf slayer still in this academy? Is he a high ranking military official?' Sunny thought as he looked at the fight that was about to happen now.

After pushing the mysterious man away making him stumble, Jake dashed towards him with all his speed and then swung his sword but the man managed to regain his footing and block the hit.

But the man was skidding from the strength of the attack.

'How's this possible? How does he have this much strength? I'm even using Qi to supplement my strength but he is still overpowering me.' The assassin thought.

Unknown to the assassin was that Jake had gone through so much, his Qi was currently strong and his strength also was very high.

Disengaging, Jake moved back a metre. That was the first motion of the triple threat technique then the assassin charged right at Jake and then swung his sword at him but Jake just pivoted sideways avoiding the strike and also doing the second motion.

Then Jake quickly lunged forward performing the third move as he struck the assassin on his shoulder sending him reeling in pain. Jake dashed forward again towards the assassin who was now slowly getting up from the ground with his sword in front of him.

The assassin finally got up and he could see that Jake was upon him with a strike to the neck but he easily avoided the strike and gave Jake a kick to the hand making him drop his sword far away from him.

Jake turned around and his face was met with a kick that sent him skidding a few inches.

"Now let's see how well you can fight without your sword." The assassin said as he dashed towards Jake who was smiling beneath the mask.

The man swung his sword but Jake managed to avoid it by leaning back then he threw a powerful right handed hook that landed on the assassin's stomach knocking the wind out of his mouth.

Then Jake moved around behind the assassin who was still standing strong even after that hook.

Jake then waited not moving which confused sergeant Sunny but the assassin didn't care as he charged right ahead at Jake.

The man was now a foot away from Jake and he swung his sword then Jake used his intermediate gauntlets to block the hit but there was still a scratch on it.

'That means he is using a high level sword.' Jake thought as he pushed the man's hand away.

Then Jake threw a quick Jab cross and hook towards his face so fast and strong that the man was lifted off his feet and sent flying while Sunny's face was widened in surprise.

'He just used my Snake bite skill, I never taught it to anyone other than...' Sunny thought as his eyes now widened.

'Jake! He is the werewolf slayer. How is this possible? Hold on, let's not jump to conclusions.' Sunny thought as he watched the werewolf's slayer's next move.

The assassin charged right back at Jake again then he threw his sword lightning fast at Jake that landed on his stomach but to the assassin's surprise, it didn't draw blood.

Unknown to the assassin, Jake had activated Shield of will therefore blocking the strike. Taking advantage of the assassin's momentarily confusion, Jake moved the Qi to his fists.

Then he closed his eyes for a second imagining his fists as a cannon then he shot out his Qi from his fists lightning fast just like he was taught by Kron.

The Qi smashed into the assassin who didn't see it until it was too late. The Qi strike smashed into the assassin flinging him out through the window and landed outside the room.

"Woah! This is the strength of the Qi burst taught to us by Kron!" Jake almost shouted but he regained his composure as he could see Sunny heading towards the window.

"He's gone." Sunny said as he turned to look at Jake.

"Too bad. Anyway, you're welcome Mr... sergeant." Jake said.

"Drop the ridiculous act Jake, I know it's you." Sunny said.

"Jake? Who's Jake?" Jake asked scratching his head nervously but Sunny's face showed he wasn't buying it as he stared intensely at Jake.

"Fine." Jake said as he de-equipped his mask and robe making them disappear into his system and making Sunny stunned.

"How did you do that?" Sunny asked looking like an excited kid that just saw Santa's real identity therefore forgetting his injuries.

"Uhm, it's a long story and I don't really feel comfortable saying it." Jake said scratching his hair.

"I totally get it. If you don't want to tell me, it's okay." Sunny said as he slowly sat down cross legged trying to meditate and recover his Qi so as to heal his wounds.

"So how did you figure it out? That I'm the werewolf slayer." Jake asked as he also sat down.

"It doesn't take a genius to figure it out after seeing you use my snake bite skill that I taught you and only you." Sunny said still with his eyes closed.

"But who was that man and why is he after your life?" Jake asked again.

"To be honest, I don't know. He just came in here threatened me, and a fight occurred between us which I obviously lost and was about to lose my life until you came and saved me." Sunny replied while his wounds were now closing quite fast.

"What were the words he threatened you with?" Jake asked.

"I think he asked for who you were. Knowing you were my student, he wanted to know everything about you." Sunny said getting up.

"About me? But why?" Jake asked as he stood up.

Sunny just shrugged. "I don't know."

'But why will someone be after my information? Who could it be? Could it be Alex? Did he betray me to his family?' Jake thought as he clenched his hands tightly.

'I knew I shouldn't have taken it lightly with him knowing he was related to the leader of the Slade family. I think it's time I taught him a lesson.' Jake thought as he lifted his head with a plan forming in his mind.

Chapter 133 Rematch of the Titans

After leaving the hand to hand combat club early, Jake decided to go to the VR gaming room to release his stress. He planned on getting to the next rank today which is Platinum.

'It had really been a long time since I played that game.' Jake thought as he was approaching the building that led to the gaming room.

Entering in, Jake paid the amount to be allowed into the game. Going to the capsule, Jake got in and logged in.

<Welcome Wolf hunter>

Jake logged in and was transported to the white space where he decided to sit cross legged.

'The last time I came here, I didn't know how to use Qi. But now I do, which begs the question of whether I can use Qi in the game.' Jake thought as he sat cross legged meditating and moving the Qi around his body feeling it strengthening him and making him stronger.

Then he snapped his eyes open and stood up sharply.

"That checks out, Qi works in the game." Jake said as he went onto the search bar to begin his match.

"For today, I feel like battling against those damned werewolves. It has been long I did that." Jake said as he went on to input his gaming rank.

After some verifications, a werewolf was materializing in front of him. Looking at the details of the werewolf, Jake smiled was quite disappointed.

"This is an omega werewolf. What a waste of time." Jake said but his fans that were just coming into the spectating stands didn't think so.

"What?! The wolf hunter is planning on going against an omega werewolf!" Dan said.

"Come to think of it, it has been long since he came into the game so maybe he has gotten stronger." Sam said.

"Well let's see if he has truly gotten stronger." Nate said as they could see Jake not holding onto any weapon only standing there with a gauntlet in his hands.

Immediately the werewolf appeared, the countdown clock appeared a second later and then the clock counted down to 0.

And immediately, the werewolf charged right at Jake who just stood there looking at it. Then when the werewolf was just a few feet away, Jake readied himself and directed all his Qi into his fist.

The werewolf was now in front of him in the middle of throwing its claws at Jake.

Jake didn't flinch, he caught the claw and held the werewolf tightly not letting it move one bit.

Then Jake pulled his hand back and then threw his fist forward with an immense amount of speed then it connected with the werewolf with a loud booming sound.

The crowd were left stunned looking at the werewolf. Then in the next second, the werewolf fell down with a hole in its stomach and then it dissipated into dust.

"Hmph, what a waste of time." Jake said and the crowd heard him loud and clear.

"Dan, can you do that?" Nate asked with his mouth practically open.

"If you are asking about me defeating an omega werewolf then I would say yes. But defeating it in a single hit, that is so impossible unless I am immensely strong." Dan replied.

"I guess the wolf hunter has just pulled off a miracle." Nate said.

"And I don't think I can ever meet up with him." Dan said.

There was also someone in the stands that was so shocked seeing the miracle Jake pulled off.

"I see, you have gotten stronger than before to do that to an omega werewolf. I don't think even I can do that." The red dragon said.

"I guess, it's time for another rematch between us; a platinum player vs a Gold player." The red dragon said as he still stayed in the spectating stands waiting for when Jake would start his match against humans.

After battling with the omega werewolf, Jake still decided to go against a werewolf. Everytime, werewolf after werewolf, Jake kept dealing with them in a single hit.

And it was frustrating him how weak they were.

'I think I should battle against humans with the rest of my time so I can level up and battle against Hardee werewolves. The platinum rank will surely have harder werewolves to battle.' Jake thought as he started the last werewolf match for the day.

The werewolf materialized in front of him again.

'I think I should hold back my strength a little bit. I can't just keep punching werewolf after werewolf in a single hit.' Jake thought as he got ready to fight.

While Jake had been fighting, his fans had been recording his match when he was killing werewolves after werewolves in a single hit and they were uploading it on the game's forum.

"Who is this guy? Does anybody know the real identity of the wolf hunter?" That was the headline of mostly all the videos.

Seeing the videos, many people were now following Jake's match that ever before and they could see him standing in front another omega werewolf and that was when the countdown clock reached 0.

Jake waited for the werewolf to come at him rather than being the aggressor. The werewolf seeing Jake standing around for far too long, decided to charge at Jake with full speed but Jake had seen much faster werewolves like the Beta werewolf.

The werewolf swung its claws very fast towards Jake's head but he managed to easily duck avoiding the claw. After swinging its claws at Jake, there was an opening but Jake didn't take it.

Rather he moved back giving the werewolf space to come at him again which it did. The werewolf dashed towards Jake who was unmoving standing waiting for it.

'Shit! I don't have much time left here. I need to finish this fight quickly and battle against humans now.' Jake thought as he could see the werewolf's claws upon him. Stay updated with empire

Not wasting time, Jake swung his fists lightning fast that it lunged deep into the werewolf's stomach and then he quickly removed his hands and moved aside letting the werewolf fall flat on the floor with its hands in a striking position.

This move got the crowd riled up in excitement.

"For real, who the hell is this guy?" Someone in the crowd asked.

"Nobody knows." Someone else replied.

"It will really boost our strength if I can recruit him into our Guild." Another person commented.

"Well, not unless I ask him first." Someone else said.

Jake was unaware of what was going on in the stands because of him and honestly, he didn't really care. He just went on to select the <Fight against humans> option.

And then after a few seconds, a match was found. A fiery red haired individual was standing in front of him with a sword by his hand and two pairs of daggers by his side looking right at Jake.

It was the red dragon standing in front of Jake about to start a rematch. The new comers in the stands were surprised by this about the reason why the red dragon had to fight against the Wolf hunter.

But those that had been there from the start knew that this was a rematch between them and based on the wolf's hunter expression, he wasn't scared rather he was happy.

"We meet again red dragon." Jake smiled. "I see, you have ranked up to platinum but you are no match for me."

"Let's see about that." Red dragon said as he took a fighting stance then the countdown clock appeared again.

When it clocked down to 0, Jake dashed towards the red dragon.

Chapter 134 Platinum Player VS Gold Player

Battling against the werewolves in the VR room was quite boring to Jake as he kept defeating them in a single hit. To him, it was boring but to the fans, it was quite interesting and awe inspiring.

Tired of it, Jake decided to go against humans and try to level up quickly to platinum so he could battle harder werewolves.

After selecting the option to go against humans, his first opponent appeared before him and it was one of the very few people that managed to best him in the VR room. It was the red dragon.

Standing in front of Jake was the red dragon and he was ready to best him this time without holding back his strength one bit.

And then, the countdown clock appeared again and then it ticked down to 0 signalling the start of the match between two titans in the VR world.

Immediately the clock ticked down to 0, Jake didn't waste any time in dashing towards the red dragon with all his speed which was very impressive to those watching for it seemed like Jake had teleported from one place to another.

Jake wasn't holding onto any sword as he had chose to use his gauntlets to fight against the werewolves so he lost the advantage of range.

Which the red dragon took advantage by swinging his sword quickly at Jake who simply pivoted to the side avoiding the sword totally then Jake pounced off forward using the Triple Threat technique then he punched the red dragon in his neck sending him flying.

Everyone in the stands, had their mouths agape because Jake had managed to do the impossible. For the longest of times, nobody had made the red dragon even move from his starting position and now, Jake managed to send him flying with a single punch.

After bouncing on the VR canvas, the red dragon managed to come to a halt as he slowly stood.

'What impressive show of strength, if I can get him on our side, it will really boost our strength especially the way he grows rapidly.' The red dragon thought as he fully stood up looking around for Jake.

That was when the red dragon felt his head being held from behind then he was lifted up.

'Impossible, how did he manage to get behind me without me hearing.' The red dragon thought as he was slammed into the ground by Jake so hard that the VR canvas sunk in a few inches.

When the red dragon had been lost in thoughts, Jake had used one of his long forgotten skills {Stealth} this skill allowed for the user to sneak up on their opponents without them realizing.

Jake hadn't need for the skill for the longest of times. Either the situation didn't call for it or he didn't have enough time to do so.

After slamming the red dragon on the floor, Jake moved away from him just in time as the red dragon had spun up from the ground with his daggers held out in front of him. He had lost his sword when Jake had sent him flying.

Luckily for Jake, where he had moved to was where the red dragon's sword was laying. Kicking it in the air, Jake held the sword as he smiled at the red dragon.

'Let's see how you fare now.' Jake thought as he could see the red dragon charging right at him.

Then when the red dragon was just a feet away from him, Jake quickly activated two of his skills.

{Stun strike and lockdown}

Causing the red dragon to halt his steps unable to move only twitching a bit. This confused the crowd.

"Huh? Why is he not moving again?" Someone from the crowd asked.

"I think he is scared of something." Someone replied.

"No, I think the wolf hunter did something to him. Look, his twitching which means he's trying to move." Another person said.

"Yeah look. The wolf hunter is doing something quite strange." Another person pointed out as they focused on the match again.

After seeing his skills work successfully, Jake decided to commence on the next step as he held the red dragon's sword in his hand and then he started infusing it with Qi.

He started inputting it slowly and little by little. Then he started inputting it faster as he could see the skills wearing off. And then finally, he was ready as he could feel the sword shaking with so much power as if it wanted to break. Enjoy exclusive adventures from empire

The red dragon had now broken out of the effects of the skills and proceeded to charge at Jake.

"I don't know what you used against me to make me stand still, but you made a mistake by not acting sooner and just standing there." The red dragon said as he was now two feet away from Jake.

"Standing around?" Jake asked with a raised brow. "You are terribly mistaken for underestimating me!" Jake shouted as he withdrew the sword and then forcefully slammed it on the floor.

Therefore dispelling the gathered energy from the sword outwardly and causing large shockwaves to spread out and hit the red dragon that was now just a feet away from him.

The shockwaves was powerful enough to lift and throw the red dragon off his feet and sent him flying again.

The shockwaves even spread to the spectating stands but the spectators were safe as there was some what of a barrier protecting them but they could feel the strength of the shockwave and now, they were more than scared of ever facing the wolf hunter.

"I see, the wolf hunter did something to make the red dragon halt his movements because that technique he just performed, took a lot of time to prepare so he needed a way of keeping the red dragon still enough for him to prepare the skill." Sam analyzed.

"Well, that makes the wolf hunter a very formidable opponent that I don't want to face ever again. First with the killing of the omega werewolves in one hit and now this, against a platinum player like the red dragon." Dan said.

"It should be worth it if we can get him on our side. Because I don't think we can handle him even if the three of us decided to join forces together." Nate said.

"Right, let's befriend the wolf hunter no matter what." Sam said as they continued watching the match.

Chapter 135 We need to talk

After battling the werewolves for so long, Jake decided to play against humans and his first match of the day was between him and the red dragon who had managed to best him before when he was still weaker.

The match had been going quite bad for the red dragon and he knew it. Jake had been using a combination of new skills and techniques the red dragon didn't know of which was why it was proving quite difficult to battle against him.

And then as if those skills weren't enough, the wolf hunter had used a technique that expelled energies outward causing the red dragon to go flying due to the shockwaves.

Standing up, blood was dripping from the red dragon's head and nose but he was still standing strong and he looked straight at the wolf hunter with a smile still on his face.

'Dad will be so proud of me when I get him to join us.' The red dragon thought as he slowly walked towards the wolf hunter still with a smile on his face.

Jake didn't care as he quickly dashed towards the red dragon to finish the fight as soon as possible. Jake swung the red dragon's sword towards the red dragon and the red dragon managed to avoid it narrowly.

Then the red dragon threw his dagger towards the wolf hunter's stomach that managed to just cause a white scratch not enough to draw blood.

Jake quickly moved back a bit then he quickly accessed his system and activated.

{Frenzy strike} a skill that rapidly dealt damage for a total of 6 seconds.

And then Jake dashed towards the red dragon while rapidly attacking without pause. A kick to the red dragon's shin, a sword strike to the neck, a Qi filled punch to the guts and then, the skill wore off.

Jake quickly backflipped and then waited to look at the red dragon that was strangely standing fine except for the injury on his head and the bleeding from his nose from earlier.

"Surprised? Do you think it's only you that knows how to use Qi in the game?" The red dragon asked as he quickly pushed off from his position towards Jake.

The red dragon swung his legs lightning fast towards Jake who managed to block with his own legs causing a mini shockwave to spread.

Jake quickly dropped his legs back and then swung his sword instead towards the red dragon who just caught it then gave Jake a Qi filled fist strike to the hand causing Jake to let the weapon go.

Then the red dragon threw the sword away.

"How about a close-quarter combat?" The red dragon asked as he sheathed his daggers and charged right at Jake.

"My specialty." Jake smiled as he also dashed forward and then in less than a second, they met in the centre of the canvas.

The red dragon threw a punch towards Jake's stomach but he quickly used the Guard stance therefore blocking the hit.

Then Jake threw a Jab towards the red's dragon's face but he managed to pull his hands back and block. But he forgot that Jake was strong because the hit managed to send him skidding.

Jake didn't waste any time as he went through the motions of The Triple Threat technique by moving back a bit, then he quickly pivoted sideways and then in one smooth motion, Jake pushed forward so fast it looked like he teleported again.

And then he was suddenly in front of the red dragon and then an uppercut followed towards the red dragon's head and he was about to be lifted off but Jake grabbed his legs and slammed him back down so hard that the canvas floor caved in.

Moving back, Jake observed as the red dragon slowly stood up while staggering. Jake quickly glanced at the big clock of to the side.

'I only have thirty minutes left in this game.' Jake thought as he looked at the red dragon with a fierce look.

'I need to end this as soon as possible.' Jake thought as he took off again using the Triple Threat technique and then got in front of the red dragon throwing a series of punches.

A Jab to the red dragon's face, a cross to his head, and a hook swipe towards his neck and finally, Jake moved back and activated one last skill as he looked at the red dragon.

{Strength surge}

Jake threw a Qi filled fist coupled with strength strike towards the red dragon's chest and immediately, Jake's fist went through his heart and came out the other end while the red dragon fell down and dissipated while the game pronounced Jake as the winner.

"The wolf hunter won?" Nate asked looking surprised.

"He... he beat the red dragon!" Dan said while breaking out in a sweat. "Who the hell is this monster?"

"The more reason we have to bring him over to our side." Sam said as he could see Jake standing there.

Sam was about to send Jake an invite but not to fight, it was to talk. As he was about to do it, he could suddenly see the wolf hunter leaving the gaming room.

"No, he needs to be online for me to talk to him." Sam said but it was too late as the wolf hunter had left.

"Don't worry, next time we can talk to him." Nate said.

Unknown to them, Jake hadn't logged out rather he was in the game white space and it wasn't his own, it was that of someone who wanted to talk to him.

A few moments ago, after defeating the red dragon, Jake was disappointed that he wasn't able to level up.

'Oh well, maybe next time.' Jake thought as he glanced at the clock and saw that he had about 15 minutes left in the VR world.

Jake decided to log out but as he was about to, he received a communication invite.

"Huh? Strange who could want to talk to me here?" Jake asked as he was contemplating accepting the invite.

"Well there's no big deal in accepting." Jake shrugged as he accepted and then he was taken from the fighting space into a white space where he usually came in before he started a match.

But this was not his white space, it was someone else's and then finally, he could see the person materializing in front of him.

"Hey wolf hunter, we need to talk."

Chapter 136 The Mysterious Letter

After finishing his match with the red dragon, Jake was about to log off but that was when he received a communication invite from someone. Jake contemplated accepting the invite and then finally not seeing any harm in doing so, Jake accepted the invite and he was transported into a white space that seemed like his but he knew it wasn't his.

That was when the person appeared before him with his red fiery hair and trusty sword and daggers by his side.

"Hey wolf hunter, we need to talk." Red dragon said.

"What do you wanna talk about?" Jake asked.

"First off, I saw your skills and also experienced it first hand and I know how powerful you are especially the way you grow rapidly. The last time we battled, although you put up a good fight, I was still able to win."

"But today, you completely overwhelmed me with your versatile skill pool and techniques. And I'm so impressed by it." The red dragon said.

"And so what does that mean? Look, you need to cut to the chase and state why you wanted me here or else, I'm out of here." Jake said quite irritated.

"Fine. My name is Raze Slade; the son of Rex Slade. Although you don't know our family, because we are supposed to be kept a secret but..." Raze stuttered as he could see the wolf hunter's widened expression.

"You... you... you are the son of Rex Slade? Your family is part of the big three!" Jake shouted.

"How... how did you know?" Raze asked already gripping his sword tightly. Nobody was allowed to know the big three's identity, they were meant to be kept a secret from the world and now, a stranger in front of him knew who they were.

"If you are Rex's son, then that means you are Alex's brother." Jake said.

Hearing his brother's name, Raze somewhat calmed down as he looked at Jake.
"How do you know Alex?"

"Wait, if you know who Alex is, that means you attend Aurora Academy." Raze said as the pieces was falling into place for him.

"Hold on, you attend Aurora Academy, that means you should know of someone quite infamous there right?" Raze asked.

"Who are you talking about?" Jake asked.

"I'm talking of the werewolf slayer." Raze clarified.

Hearing that name, Jake's heart skipped a bit. 'So my name has spread out to one of the big three families. Good, they should remember this name for this name would bring doom to them.'

"No, I don't know who the werewolf slayer is. I only know that he was the hero that saved Aurora Academy from the werewolves attack and he especially helped in sending the Beta werewolf back." Jake replied.

"Oh I see, that's a bummer. I thought you would have known who he was." Raze said quite disappointed by this fact.

"Anyway, that aside. I have a reason for calling you here." Raze said and Jake looked at him waiting for what he wanted to say.

"I experienced your strength and skills first hand and I'm really impressed by it. And since you know that I'm the eldest son to the leader of the big three, that makes me closer to receiving the throne of the Slade family soon." Raze said.

"That is why I'm extending my hand to you, join me, join the Slade family and also manage to grow your strength. Let's become a power house together. When I become ruler, you will become my right hand man. How does that sound?" Raze asked with a smile on his face.

"No." Jake simply replied.

"Great. I knew it won't be difficult to convince you, after all who won't want to join the big three... hold on, what did you say?" Raze asked after coming to a realization.

"I said no. I don't want to join you, I'm much of a lone wanderer." Jake said.

"But why?" Raze asked.

"Nothing." Jake said as he logged off. Explore stories on empire

"What?!? He logged off! How could he refuse to join me?" Raze shouted in fury.

"Wolf hunter, I promise no matter what, I will make sure you join the Slade family. If I can't have the werewolf slayer, then it will be beneficial for me especially to have the wolf hunter." Raze said as he logged off not knowing that the wolf hunter and the werewolf slayer were the same person.

"You still had about 9 more minutes before you were expected to leave the gaming room. So why did you suddenly log off yourself?" Zee asked.

"Because I didn't feel like dealing with his questions. If I didn't do that, he would have annoyed me with convincing words, and promises. I didn't want to deal with that, that's why I logged off." Jake replied as he was on his way to his dorm.

"You know he won't stop until he receives yes as an answer right?" Zee said.
"Since he knows that you are a student of Aurora Academy, he might even contact his brother; Alex to find your identity and try to convince you."

Jake just shrugged. "We will cross that bridge when we get there."

After a few minutes of walking, Jake was finally in his room. It was already noon and Jake decided to get some rest since his roommates were not in the room.

Laying on his bed, Jake rested his head on his pillow and his hand shifted into it. Jake felt and heard a shuffling sound.

Pulling it out, Jake saw it was a letter. "Huh? Who would keep a letter for me?"

Opening it, the contents read.

"I know your identity and if you don't want it revealed to the whole school, then meet me at the academy's arena by 9pm."

Reading it, Jake's blood was boiling in anger.

"That son of a bitch Alex! I will make him pay for ever trying to blackmail me." Jake said as he looked at the letter again.

"9pm right? I will be there and I will make sure you don't talk ever again." Jake said as he went back to his bed to sleep.

Chapter 137 Deadly encounter

After his match was over with the red dragon that turned out to be the son of Rex Slade; Alex's brother, Jake went to his room to relax and that was when he felt and heard a shuffling sound coming from under his pillow.

Pulling out whatever was making that noise, Jake saw it was a letter that read.

"I know your identity and if you don't want it revealed to the whole academy, then meet me at the academy's arena by 9pm."

Reading it, Jake screamed Alex's name swearing to make him pay for ever trying to blackmail him.

After waiting for a few hours, it was almost time for the supposed meeting with whoever dropped the letter in his room.

It was 8pm and all his roommates were filtering into the room one by one and that was when his eyes laid on Kate.

Who had an annoyed expression on her face looking at Jake.

'Ah that's right. I was supposed to meet Kate on the roof today.' Jake thought as an idea just clicked in his head.

Opening up his system, Jake navigated to the guild part then he clicked on Peter's name to send a message.

After typing it, he sent the message and everybody heard Peter yelp in surprise.

"What happened?" Sophia asked.

"It's nothing." Peter replied as he stared at the system screen in front of him.

'I forgot that I even had this system screen of a thing.' Peter thought as he went on to read the contents of the message.

It read, {Tomorrow, after the academy's classes are over, I want you to find an excuse to bring Kate over to the roof.}

Reading it, Peter looked at Kate then at Jake before replying the message.

{Sure boss}

After seeing Peter's reply, Jake relaxed and waited for when it was going to be time for the meeting. That was when Jack said he was going to bed and everybody also decided to go to bed by 8:30pm.

Jake pretended to be asleep as he waited for the time. Jake waited for a few more minutes before sneaking out of the room heading to the academy's gates.

There, he saw that the soldiers were still guarding the gate. Thinking fast, Jake ran back to the roof and looked out at the city then he equipped his robe so he could cover his face and also his gauntlets along with his boots.

Before Jake started scaling the roof's wall heading down. He was climbing down rapidly and so quickly until he was now outside the academy gates.

Jake didn't waste any time in rushing ahead to the arena with full speed. Strangely, with this amount of speed and running, Jake wasn't tired nor out of breath.

'I think my high level of Endurance is kicking in.' Jake thought as he sprinted forward.

And finally, in ten minutes, Jake was already in front of the arena five minutes earlier than the scheduled time. Just in case, Jake equipped his sword again and slowly walked into the arena and there, he could see someone waiting for him.

The person jumped out of the now repaired stands and landed a few feet away from Jake under the now fully shining moon with his red fiery hair and his trusty giant sword strapped to his back.

"I knew it was you." Jake said with his face contorted in anger.

"I warned you right, that if you were to try stand in my way of achieving my goals that you will have to face the full force of my wrath and you went ahead to send me that letter." Jake asked already gripping his sword tighter.

"Letter?" Alex asked genuinely surprised. "What letter?"

"Don't play stupid here!" Jake shouted. "You sent me a letter saying if I didn't get here by 9pm, you were going to reveal my identity to everybody."

"To be sincere, I didn't send you any such letter. I was in town getting some things. I was allowed to go into town because of who my family is; perks of being the son of one of the world leaders."

"That was when I saw you heading this way and I decided to get a head start to get here and see why you were here. I didn't send you any letter." Alex explained.

"If you didn't, then who did?" Jake asked as he lifted his head when his eyes widened.

"Look out!" Jake shouted as he pushed Alex out of the way and then grabbed a flying projectile that was heading towards Alex initially.

"What is this?" Jake asked as he brought it further closer to his face. "This is an arrow! Who shot it?"

Alex also came over and stood beside Jake and that was when from the stands, and also the gates, 6 men jumped into the arena all having one thing in common which was their black outfit that concealed all of their identities.

"I never expected you to grab a Qi filled arrow like that. Which goes to show how dangerous you are and why the boss wanted you dead." A man was heard speaking.

Hearing the name boss, Jake turned to look at Alex. It all made sense for Alex to get people to come assassinate him since Alex knew he wasn't strong enough to.

Looking at Jake's expression, Alex shook his head.

"Don't look at me like that, I don't know them neither do I know who the hell their boss is. So don't you dare suspect me." Alex said. Enjoy new adventures from empire

Jake was now stumped on what to do but he couldn't dwell on who sent the assassins for long because they were now rushing towards he and Alex.

"No matter how strong I am, I don't think I can handle six people on my own especially if they are skilled. So I need to ask this favor from you, can you please take care of at least three of them while I handle the remaining three." Jake requested.

"Awwn, you are being cute asking me nicely like that." Alex smiled then he pulled his giant sword from his back and his face went from playful to serious.

"You saved my life earlier with the werewolf attack and now you still saved my life from that Qi filled arrow. If you weren't here, I would have died tonight so I owe you massively. And I was planning on paying them back ten folds for trying to take my life as well as yours." Alex said as they could see the men running towards them.

Looking back at Alex, they both nodded their heads together at the same time and they also charged forward to meet the men in the centre of the arena.

Chapter 138 Fierce Clashes

Jake had just left his room to head to the arena for the supposed meeting with whosoever dropped the letter in his room. There, he met Alex his upperclassman that he had suspected to be the one to drop the letter for him.

But Alex dispelled the allegations refusing he was the one to send the letter. That was when an arrow was sent Alex way but thanks to Jake's quick thinking and fast reflexes, he managed to catch the arrow just in time before it hit Alex.

That was when six men were seen jumping into the arena all dressed in black with all sorts of weapons. One of them had a bow and arrow, another one had a longsword, another one had a spear, one had a chain like weapon, one also carried a staff like weapon and finally the person Jake suspected to be the boss was wielding axes.

These six men were currently heading towards Jake and Alex. Not wanting to wait around, Jake and Alex also dashed forward to meet the six men in the centre after concluding on taking care of three men each.

The spear user, longsword user and the boss who wielded a double handed axe were the ones Jake had collided with. Jake swung his sword towards the boss but he managed to duck avoiding the hit easily while the spear user made a stab towards Jake's stomach.

But Jake reacted quickly by moving back avoiding the stab but the longsword user was already behind him with a strike upon him. But as if having eyes at the back of his head, Jake ducked forward causing the strike to go over his head. Your next read awaits at empire

Standing up, Jake sent an Earth shattering kick to the longsword user that sent him reeling in pain and possibly shattering his whole leg.

'That one is taken care of, now time to focus on these f*ckers.' Jake thought as he dashed forward and made a stab with his sword towards the axe user who skillfully avoided it and then the spear user came in with a full on powerful thrust that landed on Jake's stomach.

Only causing just a small white scratch to show on his body which wasn't really visible since he was putting on clothes.

The spear user was momentarily stunned and taking advantage of it, Jake dashed but as if anticipating his move, the axe user had dashed forward and blocked Jake's strike with his axes.

Surprisingly to Jake, the axe user wasn't sent flying or skidding. That was when a kick landed on Jake's head lifting his body and slamming him on the floor.

{-3HP}

"Shit! That hit was heavy but good thing my endurance stats is higher." Jake smiled as he slowly stood up and rolled away just in time for a spear strike had been sent his way.

Standing up, Jake was surprised to see who had kicked him.

"I thought you were already out of the fight." Jake said towards the longsword user.

"Well you thought wrong." The longsword user dashed towards Jake while Jake was worried about Alex.

Jake wasn't too worried about the people in front of him since his system hadn't made a ding giving him a quest or anything, Jake knew that his opponents weren't strong enough to give him a tough time not like he was planning on underestimating them but never the less, he was worried for Alex.

After colliding with the staff user and chain user, Alex was finding it hard to land a solid hit on them because any time he tried to do so, he was always stopped by the bow and arrow user making him limited while the staff wielder tried to deliver a hit on him that didn't even leave a white scratch on him.

"For real, what kind of body does this kid have?" The staff user asked seemingly frustrated.

Fed up of everything, Alex ignored the staff and chain wielder since their weak hits didn't do any damage to his body. He got to the bow and arrow user.

"You are a pain in my neck." Alex said as he gripped the arrow user that was about to run away.

Then Alex swung out his sword lightning fast and the bow and arrow user's head fell down followed by his body.

"What the hell!" The chain user shouted.

"Weren't we told that the target was a student, then how can a student just kill a human like it was nothing?"

Alex hearing them then turned around with a smile on his face.

"Oh, you know nothing about who I am and what I have been through."

Alex then dashed towards them but they were ready. With a swing of his sword, the staff user tried to block the hit but he grunted feeling the strength of the attack.

And finally, the staff broke and the user was sent flying while the chain user had tried to wrap his chains around Alex but he had managed to avoid it and also slice off the head of the chain user.

"I just hope the boss is okay." Alex said as he lifted his head to see Jake fighting skillfully against the three individuals.

When the longsword user had dashed towards him, Jake readied himself and didn't fret instead he looked at him with a smile on his face.

"I will make sure I wipe that silly smile off your face." The longsword user said as he was now upon Jake with a swing of his sword but Jake had used {Step shift} to get 3 metres away causing the strike to miss.

The man was confused and Jake took advantage of this by using {Step shift} again to get in front of him then Jake swung his sword lightning fast that the man couldn't avoid it and then, he dropped dead.

Jake had been so focused on the longsword user that he forgot about the remaining two that were now in front of him.

With a swing of his axe, the axe user pushed forward but Jake avoided the strike and then a stab was made towards Jake's stomach but he used his hands to hit the spear away causing it to crash on the ground.

The axe user was quite relentless in pursuing Jake trying to get a hit on him but Jake was skillful in avoiding each and every strike.

Tired of wasting time, Jake wanted to move as he gave the axe user a full on punch with all his strength that sent him skidding. As Jake wanted to move and chase the axe user, he saw a spear heading for his stomach again but he wasn't worried, Jake wanted to take the hit and then punish the spear user.

But Jake was unaware of how powerful the strike was but Alex knew and in a flash, he was in front of Jake therefore getting stabbed instead of Jake. Alex was confident in his body not receiving any damage.

But this time, Alex's body failed him as the spear lunged in deep and came out of the other end of his stomach.

Chapter 139 Another member

Jake had managed to fend the attackers back skillfully avoiding any and every of their strikes. That was when unexpectedly, the spear user decided to send a powerful stab towards Jake who was confident that his body will be able to handle it.

But Alex who had just finished his own fight, knew otherwise as he quickly dashed towards Jake to try help him out and in the process, he got injured with the spear coming out of his stomach towards the other end.

Alex who had a much stronger body than Jake, the spear did this much damage to him and Jake was initially stunned not knowing what to do as he could see Alex's body falling on the floor.

Jake was now more than furious. 'First Vynn, and now Alex. Even though we are not close, he still took the hit for me.' Jake thought as he could see Alex kneeling while holding onto his bleeding stomach.

Jake furiously looked at spear user that was surprised that someone could jump in front of another person to take the hit. Jake quickly dashed towards the spear user who was now trying to pull the spear out of Alex but he was too slow as Jake was already in front of him.

Angrily, Jake stabbed the spear user in the stomach while activating his sword's active skill. {Lightning bolt} and immediately, the spear user was feeling strikes of electricity coursing through his whole body frying him from the inside out.

And finally, the spear user dropped dead, scorched all over. Looking around, Jake couldn't see the remaining attacker. As for the rest, they were all dead on the floor.

Looking around, Jake saw Alex cross legged in a meditating position as he was trying to circulate his Qi around his body trying to heal up.

And slowly, Alex's injuries were already healing up slowly and closing while Jake was standing over him looking at him keenly then after a few minutes, Alex stood up all healed up.

"You saved my life." Jake said as he looked at Alex. "You risked your life to save mine. Why?"

"It is the least I could do after you saved my life countless times." Alex said dusting himself from the dust.

Jake then sighed. "I have something to tell you then."

"For saving my life, I want to give you a position to join my guild but mind you, I might go against the big three soon and especially the academy soon. So I want you to think twice before accepting."

"I have already pledged my allegiance to you already and promised to follow you no matter what. That was for saving my life from the werewolf attack even though you didn't mean to. And now, you saved me from that arrow from before which is why..." Alex said as he got down on his knees.

"I am gladly honoured to be part of your guild and follow you no matter what. I was also planning on creating my own guild that could rival the big three because I didn't want to be overshadowed by my brother and now, you are giving me a chance to join your own private Guild."

"This opportunity will help me grow my strength and as well pave my own path so I will gladly accept whatever you tell me. You are my boss now." Alex said.

"I thought the big three and their relatives will be proud and not bow to anyone, and here you are pledging allegiance to me which is why, I will be glad to accept you." Jake said as he navigated to his system.

Then Jake selected contract and offered it to Alex who noticed a piece of paper materializing from thin air into his hands which totally seemed like magic to him.

But already seeing Jake do some pretty strange things, Alex just signed the paper without even reading it. That was how much he trusted and wanted to follow Jake.

Then when Alex signed, a burning sensation was felt on his shoulder. Looking at it, Alex saw a mark of a wolf head on his shoulder.

"That there is going to be the official logo of our Guild. Every member must have that symbol so all members will have to be contracted. That is to reduce imposters." Jake said.

"Once we have about 5 members in total, we will be having a weekly meeting. Is that okay?"

"Sure why not." Alex replied smiling excitedly as he played around with the system screen in front of his face.

Then he wandered towards the members tab and he was disappointed as he could see that the guild only had two members including him. Seeing the disappointed look on Alex's face, Jake decided to speak up.

"I will grant you permission to offer a contract to those you really trust and want to protect into the guild. Make sure that you can trust them with your life." Jake said as he looked at Alex seriously.

"I don't want any betrayals in our Guild. This guild should be built on trust and strength alone."

"Yes I will do that. I will only invite those that I trust and I know who to start with." Alex smiled and then Jake looked at his watch.

"We need to leave now. It's almost time for curfew and if we aren't back in the academy by 10pm, the academy will be pinged and our location will be traced back here and then we will have to explain how there are a lot of dead bodies here." Jake said and Alex nodded as they both sprinted and ran back to the academy with full speed.

They managed to get to the academy just in time and Alex went through the gate while Jake went back to his dorm the same way he went out.

Then he managed to sneak back into his room silently and de-equipped his robe and all his weapons while going back to bed.

'Today was quite tiring, I never expected to invite Alex into our Guild but I did. Now if Alex didn't send that letter, then who did?' Jake thought as he closed his eyes to sleep.

'That mystery would have to be solved another time. Right now, I have a lot on my plate.' Jake thought as he finally fell asleep.

Chapter 140 Guild Skill

It was finally the next day, Jake woke up early to go complete the daily quest, even though it wasn't giving him enough XP to level up, he had become so used to it by now. So he just decided to go complete the quest.

After completing it, Jake returned to his dorm to take his bath. After that, the whole room prepared to do the same. After everybody were ready, it was already time for their breakfast and they all went to the dining area for their breakfast.

After eating, they all went for their homeroom class together where they saw Jim entering the class with a serious look on his face a contrast to his always smiling face then he looked towards Jake.

'I wanted to take you back as soon as possible but it appears you have gotten stronger with the help of the system and I know you won't go down without a fight.' Jim thought.

'My short time here has changed my views completely. I saw what you did to those Omega werewolves and then I heard how you chased away that Beta werewolf. I'm not foolish, you are essential for human survival. That's why I will leave you and I hope you get strong enough to save humanity.'

"Good morning class." Jim said as he came over and stood in front of them.

"Before we start today's class, I need to tell you all something. I was to tell you guys this tomorrow but I wanted to tell you all now so you would have a better chance at surviving."

The whole students now sat up because anytime Jim got like this, they always knew that it was serious and they were to treat it seriously.

"The academy has gotten desperate. After the invasion we faced on the day of the tournament, and how weak you all were in front of those werewolves, the Head Generals have all decided to do something different." Jim said as he looked at all of their faces.

"They have all decided on a joint hunt between you all and the third years."

A student then laughed. "A joint hunt against what? Intermediate beasts?" The student laughed again.

"No!" Jim shouted. "Against advanced tier beasts." This caused the student's eyes to widen.

And not only him, all the whole class were so shocked by this that their eyes wanted to pop out of their sockets.

"But... but even the third years haven't done that yet. Are they trying to get us killed?" A student asked again.

"Desperate times has called for desperate measures." Jim shrugged. "I did my part by informing you all, it's up to you whether you wanna prepare or not." Jim said looking straight at Jake to gauge his reaction.

But Jake just remained frozen but not out of fear or surprise, rather he was deep in thought.

'Of course, the academy will get desperate and I know why. They plan to wage war against the werewolves and they wouldn't want weak students holding them back.' Jake thought.

'This hunt is probably a suicide mission for some of the students because I have faced an advanced tier beast before and I know how difficult it was. If it wasn't because of Berg's and Helen's help, I wouldn't have survived.'

'But I'm different from then, I'm a lot stronger than then. But are my friends strong enough? This... this behavior from the academy, has just given me enough reason to take down this academy the more.' Jake thought.

After informing the students about everything that had to do with the hunt, Jim went back to teaching them today's lesson.

After the homeroom class, they all went for their various weapons class. There, their instructors took it hard on them. All the training was intense especially the Qi training.

When Jake decided to head over to his hand to hand combat club after the other classes were done, he saw Sunny took it hard on him too.

Training and drilling like never before. It was now 5pm when Jake left the hand to hand combat club and he decided to head over to the roof because he had something to do there.

Getting to the roof, Jake could see it was empty as usual so he decided to rest on it while looking outwardly. That was when he heard the door to the roof open and he turned around to see Peter and Kate walk in.

"Jake!" Kate said surprised.

"Yeah, I asked Peter to bring you here. I know I bailed yesterday when I had asked you to meet me here and I'm sorry for that. Something had come up."

"Apology accepted." Kate replied then she looked at Peter and then at Jake.

"So why did you want to invite me here?"

"You remember when you said you will stand beside me no matter what?" Jake asked.

Remembering it, Kate's cheeks flushed red then she turned her face away from Jake. "Yes." She shyly said.

Jake then walked forward until he was now one foot away from Kate who couldn't stop her wildly beating heart.

"That is why I want to invite you into my guild." Jake said.

It took more than a second for it to click in Kate's head and when she realized what Jake said, her wildly beating heart had now returned to normal.

"Guild? What guild?"

"You remember how I chased that Beta werewolf away?" Jake asked to which Kate nodded.

"Well I had been involved in an incident that gave me some strange powers." Jake explained as he looked at Kate to gauge her reaction. Seeing nothing serious, Jake continued.

"And one of them is to form a type of a group like a guild of some sorts. Peter is already a part of it. In fact he is the very first member. Then do you remember Alex?" Jake asked.

"Yes. That incredibly strong third year student that defeated Jack in the tournament." Kate replied.

"Yeah. He is a member of the guild. That Is why I'm extending the invitation to you too. So Kate, will you join my guild?" Jake asked with his hand held out.

"But before you accept, I want to make it clear to you that I plan on taking down the academy soon and even possibly the big three so think hard before giving your reply."

Kate didn't take more than a second before coming up with her answer.

"And I promised to always be beside you no matter what. Even if you want to conquer the world, I will do so." Kate said as she took Jake's hand.

"Awnn, true love." Peter couldn't help comment.

And the comment earned him a strong lightning fast shin kick that landed successfully.

"Owww. What was that for?" Peter asked rubbing his legs.

"That is for not keeping your mouth shut." Kate replied as she turned towards Jake.

"So, is that all?"

"No." Jake replied as he went to his system and selected contract and sent it Kate's way.

Her expression when seeing a piece of paper floating towards her, was just like the rest but she still signed it and then a symbol appeared on her shoulder like the others.

That was when Jake received a system message.

{Congratulations, you have 4 members in your guild.}

"4 members?" Jake asked surprised as he navigated to the guild members tab.

{Peter chuck

Alex Slade

Kate Blake

Emily Onyx}

'Oh, so the person he wanted to invite was the rank two of his class. If he invited her, it means that he trusts her.' Jake thought as he was about to close the system screen when another message popped up.

{Members criteria has been met! Guild skill has been given}

"Guild skill?" Jake asked as he went to check it out.

{Overdrive: When activated by the leader of the guild; Jake, it will grant all guild members a 5% increase in strength and damage dealing with also a 5% increase in defense for half an hour.}

"Five percent increase in these areas? This is so awesome." Jake said as he looked towards Kate and Peter that were waiting on him.

"Peter!" Jake called. "Hit me right in the guts with all the strength you can muster."

"Are you sure about that? Why do you even want me to do that?" Peter asked as he came over.

"Just do it." Jake ordered.

"Fine if you say so." Peter shrugged and came over towards Jake and readied his hand then he quickly snapped it back and threw it forward towards Jake's stomach and landed a heavy on punch that was guaranteed to make other people lose consciousness.

But it didn't do anything to Jake as he didn't even move an inch from his position. Then Jake smiled as he went to his system and then activated Overdrive.

Since there wasn't an option to activate it for a single member, currently all members in the guild had a 5 percent boost.

"Now hit me again." Jake ordered.

Kate was wondering if something was wrong with Jake but she decided to keep on watching.

Peter did the same motion as earlier then he landed a heavy punch to Jake's stomach and this time, Jake moved back more than a few inches and spit even came out of his mouth.

Peter was left standing in his position as he was staring at his hands then Jake came back over to where Peter was standing and smiled.

"Perfect. Now we need more members and then, we will take over Aurora Academy."
