

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 171 A Friendship Shattered

Calling Rowan into a false meeting, Gunther then revealed his plans of inviting Rowan into the werewolves group so they could both be safe together.

But Rowan refused the offer as it felt like he was betraying humanity which Gunter had already done by joining hands with the werewolves.

Rowan in annoyance, was about to leave the meeting room when he was struck by Lila who had been standing guard outside earlier and then, they started attacking Rowan together.

After busting Rowan's lips with a full on powerful Qi punch that sent Rowan flying, Gunther along with Lila now dashed towards him to try and finish the job.

With a swing of her sword, Rowan deflected it skillfully and he was about to strike back but he was interrupted by Gunther who threw a powerful punch his way.

Quickly ducking, Rowan avoided the hit and struck Gunther in his stomach with his Qi infused sword that only went an inch deep. Then he pushed off from where he was and gave space between him and his assailants.

"Since you have decided to throw our friendship out the window and not hold back your strength in attacking, I have decided not to do the same." Rowan said and suddenly, the whole room felt heavy as energy was spilling in the room.

The energy felt almost suffocating to Lila but Gunther was holding up well as he smiled towards Rowan.

"I see, you are planning to go all out. I have always wondered who was stronger between the both of us and now, I'm gonna get my answer." Gunther smiled as the Qi was spilling from Rowan who held his sword and directed the energy to his sword making it practically glow.

With a swift movement, Rowan lifted his sword up then he looked at Gunther.

"You shouldn't have done this." Rowan said as he swung his sword in one smooth movement.

"Qi Slash!" Rowan shouted as the attack left his sword and a huge sword slash left his sword and was heading towards Gunther who was now covering himself with Qi as well as his hands.

Then he dashed towards the Slash and swung his hands out trying to break the strike while the energy was currently hitting Gunther and causing cuts all around his body most especially his hands that he was using to block.

Seeing how distracted Gunther was, Rowan dashed towards Lila who was stunned by the speed Rowan exerted.

With a swing of his sword, Rowan hit Lila on the side of her stomach with so much Qi and strength that she was lifted off the ground and go crashing off to the side of the room with a deep cut on her stomach.

Feeling his energy dissipating, Rowan quickly turned around only for his face to be met with a punch from Gunther towards his eyes that it busted one of it and throwing him up causing him to crash into the rectangle table and therefore breaking it.

Slowly standing up, Rowan looked at Gunther with his one remaining eye as he gripped his sword tighter waiting for Gunther to come at him.

That was when Rowan felt some disturbance in the air and quickly, he reacted by swinging his sword rapidly in the air as he was deflecting the invisible Qi projectiles sent his way.

Looking for who was the cause, Rowan could see Lila with her hands held out. Then Gunther dashed towards him and threw a fist strike towards Rowan who immediately ducked and then a bang resounded in the room.

Moving away, Rowan could see that the fist strike had caused a deep hole to appear in the wall from the force of Gunther's punch.

"Shit! He's not pulling back his strength one bit." Rowan cursed as he avoided another projectile from Lila.

Lila quickly darted towards Rowan albeit at a speed which Rowan can handle and then she swung her sword rapidly at Rowan who was now deflecting it skillfully before he planted a heavy foot in her stomach that knocked the wind out of her mouth and sent her flying.

"I'm still a Head General you fool! There's no way you can beat me." Rowan shouted at Lila.

"You are right, and that's why am here." Gunther said as he suddenly appeared in front of Rowan and gave him an uppercut that nearly lifted him up but Gunther quickly grabbed his leg before he could fly up and smashed him on the ground.

Causing the floorboards to break in pieces and Rowan to cough out blood violently. Then Gunther tried to stomp on Rowan's head but he had rolled over avoiding it and then he weakly stood up to see Gunther along with Lila standing on the other side smirking at him.

"Look at you, too weak to do anything. I always thought you were stronger than me but I can see I was wrong." Gunther smiled.

It wasn't that Rowan was weak, it was because he still considered Gunther his friend that was why he couldn't bring himself to seriously hurt him while Gunther didn't care if he hurt him.

"Too bad it's too late for you now." Gunther smirked as he was about to dash towards Rowan who was now weakly standing with his sword propped up helping him stand otherwise he would have fallen over by now.

Before Gunther could do anything, the huge double doors in the room was strongly broken off its hinges and sent flying across the room almost hitting Gunther but he had quickly moved out of the way avoiding it. Discover exclusive tales on empire

Then coming in from the room were young students and the only one he recognized was the one called the werewolf slayer. Not wanting for his mission to be disrupted, Gunther asked Lila to get rid of them and that was what she intended to do as she pushed off towards the students strongly aiming to finish them off with one strike.

Chapter 172 Death of Head General Rowan

Bursting through the meeting room where the Head Generals usually had their meetings were Jake, Simyon and Emily. Immediately they entered the room, their eyes caught Rowan who stood in the centre of the room with injuries riddled on his body from head to toe.

After explaining why he did what he did, Gunther ordered Lila to go and get rid of the students that had interrupted their mission.

With a swing of her blade, Jake quickly avoided it. Then Emily swung her own sword but Lila had blocked it using her invisible Qi.

Simyon had quickly attacked with his daggers but he was kicked back by Lila which sent him skidding. Jake had quickly come in with a powerful kick that sent Lila skidding into Emily's path who had now lifted her sword about to strike.

But Lila quickly turned around to block the sword which she successfully did. Then Simyon came in with a dagger slash to Lila's legs that only went an inch deep.

Kicking Emily away, Lila grabbed Simyon by his hair and was about to slam him on the floor but Jake had performed {Step Shift} and suddenly he was in front of Lila.

Then Jake swung his sword that was covered in immense amount of Qi on Lila's hand. When the sword clashed with Lila's hand, it was struggling against it because of Lila's Qi.

Shockwaves spread out as Jake's and Lila's Qi were battling it out against each other. Finally, Jake's sword managed to slice Lila's hands off cleanly causing Simyon to drop down.

Lila was in shock after seeing her hand on the floor.

"You... you... you managed to cut my hand off, how?" Lila asked. Even though she had been fighting against Rowan for a long time, she still had enough Qi to protect herself.

"Now I see why Gunther wanted you dead, you are an anomaly in our plan." Lila said as she dashed forward but she had failed to realize a kick that was heading for her head which made her go skidding.

The kick came from Emily who now dashed towards her trying to finish Lila off.

"You are a disgrace!" Emily shouted as she swung her sword at Lila who managed to avoid it and gave Emily a kick in her stomach but she bared through the pain and pushed forward.

"We looked up to you all! Especially me, I looked up to you. I always thought if you could achieve this strength and position, so can I. But rather than using your strength to help humanity, you are using it against humanity." Emily shouted as she let her Qi run wild and erupt out of her body.

Simyon had quickly come in with a wack to Lila's head sending her flying towards Emily who quickly jumped up and planted a strong Qi filled kick on her stomach making her cough out blood.

Jake had quickly performed {Step shift} again to get in front of Lila.

"Your greatest mistake was ever underestimating us!" Jake said as he swung out his sword quickly at Lila's neck therefore cutting her head off cleanly.

That was the end of General Lila's life. Immediately Lila died, Jake received a notification but he didn't have time to check it because there was still another trouble in the room in the form of the Head General Gunther Reign.

Immediately Gunther had given the order for Lila to go after the students, he went towards Rowan who was struggling to even stand but seeing Gunther, he managed to muster the strength to stand and even raise his sword.

"Haha, look at you." Gunther laughed. "Look at your pathetic state, no one would even believe that you are a Head General of this prestigious academy."

Still looking at Gunther, Rowan erupted in energy again albeit weaker than before but it was still enough to deal with a General but a Head General, Rowan wasn't sure.

Dashing towards Rowan, Gunther threw a punch but Rowan narrowly avoided it and then he moved away because Gunther had swung his legs out that nearly caught Rowan if he hadn't moved.

The kick caused Qi explosions around them showing Rowan that Gunther meant business since he was using so much energy.

"How... how do you have so much energy?" Rowan asked as he was looking straight at Gunther.

"The Alpha always blesses those that works for him. You could have had unlimited energy but you refused." Gunther said.

"Haha, there would surely be a side effect." Rowan said trying to buy time so he could regain even the slightest energy.

"Do you think I'm a fool? I know what you are trying to do and it won't work!" Gunther shouted as he pounced from his position strongly cracking the floorboard he stood on earlier.

And now he was in front of Rowan who was in the middle of a powerful swing that landed on Gunther's shoulder going a metre deep and causing Gunther pain.

Then with all the Qi he could muster, Gunther coated his hands and fingertips with so much Qi that his hands was shaking from power.

In one smooth motion, Gunther threw his hands out into Rowan's chest therefore destroying his heart in the process.

"Goodbye old friend, I will surely miss you." Gunther said with a smirk on his face as he could see the life fade from Rowan's face.

"I hope you rot and... burn in...hell. I know that I would surely be avenged... either by Humfree, or... or... or someone else." Rowan said as he could feel his energy leave his body.

"Oh really?! By who?" Gunther asked with a smirk on his face as he let Rowan's body drop down.

"By me!" A voice was heard shouting and then a powerful earth shattering punch landed on Gunther's face that sent him flying and crashing into a wall.

Earlier, when Jake, Emily and Simyon got to a room, they were surrounded by dozens of soldiers that were about to attack them but thanks to Harry's intervention, they were able to leave there in one piece while Harry was left fighting against the dozens of soldiers.

Harry had been doing well against the soldiers while skillfully dealing with them while at the same time still conserving his strength just in case something huge happens.

But that had all stopped when one of the soldiers had drawn Harry's blood after he had challenged himself that he wouldn't get injured in this fight against some soldiers.

This had caused Harry to unleash his full strength and therefore unleashing his visual Qi causing it to spark showing the strength and Qi of the Thunderbolt guild.

Immediately his Qi was unleashed, Harry pounced off from where he stood earlier cracking the floorboard and hitting a soldier sending him flying while his body was shaking as if electrocuted.

Turning around, Harry's face was about to be met with a sword strike but he leaned backwards avoiding it then he unleashed a literally lightning fast kick towards the soldier sending him flying also.

Looking at the soldiers that surrounded him now, Harry had one more trick up his sleeves as he slammed his hands on the floor sending waves of lightning Qi outwardly striking the soldiers.

"I'm not an ordinary third year student, I'm the heir to the Thunderbolt guild. I had to hide my real strength in the academy but now, there's no need to anymore!" Harry shouted as he dashed towards one of the soldiers that were still stunned.

Then he slashed the soldier's head off cleanly and he dashed to the second soldier who had managed to recover by battling against the Qi with his own Qi.

The soldiers all sent waves and waves of invisible Qi projectiles at Harry who was now dodging them skillfully. Although he couldn't see it, he could feel it as the projectiles were almost close to him.

Being distracted by the projectiles, the soldiers finally decided to charge right at Harry and they started slashing, kicking and punching Harry on either side of his body.

That was when rumblings could be heard coming from underneath them and they all looked at the ground as they could see it shaking.

"Is this your doing?" The soldiers asked Harry who was just standing there staring at the ground rumbling with his body riddled with injuries which his Qi was trying to heal.

Quickly realizing what was going on, Harry rolled over away from the spot so did some of the soldiers and bursting through the ground were people as they fell in the centre of the room with injuries. Stay tuned for updates on empire

The soldiers along with Harry stood there confused at the sight they were seeing as they could see three people fighting against a single human who was standing with a few injuries on him.

"General Paul!?" Harry said confused as he could see General Paul, Kate and Sophia on one side while General Julian on the other side with his giant hammer.

Ignoring Harry, General Paul swirled his Qi around his body as he dashed towards Julian with Sophia a little behind him. Julian readied his hammer as he looked at General Paul.

Then General Julian swung the hammer towards General Paul who had managed to jump avoiding it narrowly. Then Paul smacked Julian with his hands covered in Qi at Julian's head sending him skidding back.

Then Sophia quickly came in with a kick to Julian's stomach that was now blocked by Julian's hammer and then he swung Sophia away sending her flying back and crashing into some of the soldiers.

Finally glancing around the room, Julian could see some of his soldiers he had stationed guard there just standing around looking at the fight blankly and confused about why the two Generals were fighting.

"What are you doing just standing around there? Attack them!" Julian shouted.

Hearing Julian's shout, the soldiers snapped out of their daze as they were about to attack General Paul and the girls but before they could move, they were stopped by streaks of lightning Qi that made them stop their charge.

"Don't worry, I got your backs." Harry said looking at the General and the girls then he turned his attention back at the soldiers. "And I got some scores to settle."

Harry said as he dashed towards the soldiers swiftly and knocked one of them back with a Qi filled strike.

'I can't fight like this for long.' Harry thought as he avoided another kick coming towards his head. 'Having this lightning Qi active, is draining my Qi reserve faster.'

Dodging a strike, Harry wacked the soldier with the flat side of the his sword sending the soldier flying. Remaining just five soldiers in the rooms and Harry was running out of Qi quickly.

Seeing that Harry got the soldiers under control, Paul was now confident enough to go on the attack while Kate was sending arrows after arrows towards Julian's way but he kept using his hammer to block the arrows.

But that was just a distraction because the main damage dealers had enough time to get in front of Julian with Paul distracting the hammer while Sophia jumped up and hit Julian's head causing his head to just move an inch.

"Darn it! I never thought I would fight against a General ever and now faced with this, I don't think I'm strong enough." Sophia said as she narrowly avoided a kick from Julian by the skin of her teeth.

"Had enough?" Julian asked with a smirk on his face. "Although we are practically Generals, I'm much stronger than you so you can't do anything to me, no one can. Victory is assur..."

"Just shut your f*cking mouth up!" Harry shouted as he delivered a powerful strike to Julian's head that lifted his body up and slammed him down on the floor.

Harry quickly moved towards where Paul and the girls where as they saw Julian slowly stand up with anger evident on his face.

"Uhhh guys, there's a problem." Harry said as he looked at the rest.

"I don't have much Qi left, I only have some for two powerful strikes left."

Chapter 174 The end of a betrayal

In the meeting room where the Head Generals always did their regular meetings, there was an uprising there with betrayals left and right. Gunther had just finished killing Rowan and was reveling in his achievement and victory when he was suddenly interrupted by a punch that sent him flying across the room.

Standing up from the rubble of the wall he was sent to, Gunther was furiously looking at who had punched him.

"You!" Gunther said looking surprised as he turned his head around as if looking for something and his eyes landed on what he was looking for; the dead body of Lila.

"How did you guys manage to kill her?" Gunther asked looking at Jake and his friends standing side by side together.

"Oh, it was pretty easy, I just sliced her head off and I'm going to do the same thing to you." Jake smiled as he raised his sword up and looked at Gunther.

"Haha" Gunther laughed. "Just because you killed a general which is still shocking, you think you can kill me? A Head General?"

"Head General?" Emily asked. "You forfeited the right to call yourself that when you betrayed this academy along with humanity."

"How dare you? How dare you talk to me like that you cocky brats?" Gunther shouted as his Qi was now running rampant in the room trying to suffocate those in the room.

And it worked as Emily and Simyon were now on their knees gasping for breath and trying to fight back while Jake just stood there as if the energy wasn't affecting him.

Truly it wasn't as Jake had activated {Shield of will} to protect him while also covering it with Qi therefore strengthening the shield and letting no harm come over him.

"Interesting, you can still stand after that, very interesting. It's good you didn't fall from that because I want to enjoy killing you with my own hands!" Gunther shouted as he charged right at Jake.

Jake could see Gunther charging right at him with full speed so he quickly went through the motions of 'The Triple Threat' technique by taking a step back, then pivoting sideways and finally, Gunther was now close enough for Jake to go through the last motion.

As he quickly lunged forward with all his might and struck Gunther on his shoulder where Rowan had struck earlier causing Gunther incredible and immense pain and making him stumble on his footing.

Gunther was now on the floor holding his injury with one hand while his face was contorted with pain and anger as he slowly stood up while looking at Jake.

"Coward!" Gunther shouted as he charged right at Jake again with immense speed that Jake couldn't react in time as he was immediately struck by Gunther's heavy fist that made Jake fly across the room and crash into the hallway of the room.

{-2HP}

"Shit! That hurt badly." Jake said as he slowly stood up and held his face that was hit and before he could go into the room, Gunther was already outside and in the middle of a strike but Jake quickly activated {Step shift} quickly creating a distance of three metres between him and Gunther.

Gunther's fist crashed into the floor with so much strength and power that the floor cracked and was almost at its breaking point. Jake had successfully managed to get into the room again and he could see Emily and Simyon now standing up.

With Gunther not in the room again, the suffocating feeling that made them unable to move, was now lifted from them and they could finally stand up and could see Gunther rushing into the room.

Quickly acting, Simyon swirled his Qi to his feet and then he pounced off strongly from his position and he was already in front of Gunther in less than a second.

Simyon quickly swung his daggers at Gunther towards his neck but Gunther had leaned avoiding it then he smacked Simyon's hand strongly.

"Stay down you rat, it's that brat I'm after." Gunther said as he planted a heavy foot in Simyon's stomach that sent him skidding in immense pain as Gunther's Qi was somewhat disrupting his Qi properties.

Emily seeing Gunther's strength, she then looked at Jake.

"Why don't you activate that thing?" Emily asked as she could see Gunther coming at them.

"Because it's not time yet." Jake replied as he quickly turned to his system.

{Stun strike}

{Stun strike failed, enemy too powerful}

"What!" That was all Jake could say as he was hit again sending him flying back.

{-2HP}

Gunther was now in front of Emily who had taken the opportunity to infuse her sword with all the Qi she could muster and then stabbed it right into Gunther's stomach making him cough out blood.

Looking down at the sword, Gunther bashed his hands on it breaking it and then he grabbed Emily by the neck and smashed her onto the ground completely breaking the floorboard.

The force of the hit was enough to knock her out but before she fell unconscious, she had one thought on her mind.

'This is the strength of a Head General, how are we supposed to win this?' She asked herself as she finally fell unconscious.

After dealing with the annoying female, Gunther was about to move but then suddenly, he felt intense amount of pain in his stomach area.

Looking down, he could see another sword in his stomach and holding onto it, was a curly black hair teenager and he had a smirk on his face.

"Thanks to Emily, I finally have the opportunity to defeat you." Jake smiled as he twisted his Qi filled sword in Gunther's stomach that was initially injured by Emily.

"System, activate weapon active skill!" Jake shouted and immediately, Gunther started feeling joules and joules of lightning course through his body as he was being electrocuted from the inside making him partially paralyzed.

"You shouldn't have messed with me or this academy." Jake said as he pulled out his sword from inside Gunther and dragged a partially paralyzed Gunther who was still going through immense amount of pain.

Jake dragged Gunther to the window of the room the place he had been heading to where he was told that it was the highest point in the academy.

Then Jake grabbed Gunther and pushed him out of the window partially while still holding onto him.

"I want to throw you out this window, but I can't. So in order for me not to do so, then you better answer my questions." Jake said.

"Now, where is the location of the werewolves?" Jake asked.

"I don't know, and if I knew, what makes you think that I'm going to tell you?" Gunther asked.

"I know you, you don't have it in you to throw me down." Gunther smirked.

"Fine, since you don't know the answer to my question, then you are totally useless to me." Jake said as he finally let Gunther go.

Gunther fell from the peak of the top of the academy and he fell down. When he landed on the ground, instantly he died. No amount of Qi protection could have protected him as the life faded from his eyes.

Jake now looked out wide at the city, and he could see every point in the city without anything hiding from his eyes.

"Now let's see how you work." Jake said as he went to his system to activate his new skill.

{Qi sense} a skill that allowed the user to detect hidden threat within 10m for 1 minute.

The one minute was more than enough for Jake to sense what he wanted to sense. And immediately, dread filled Jake's heart as he kept on feeling the threat he was feeling.

"This, how is the academy meant to handle this?" Jake asked himself as he could feel immense and intense energy sources heading straight for Aurora Academy.

Chapter 175 Beast Attack

Harry had been in a tough fight against the soldiers of the academy and pushed to the corner, he had angrily activated his visual Qi giving him an edge against the soldiers while rampaging strongly and killing them without a second thought.

He was just about to be overwhelmed when rumbling sound was heard coming from below and acting fast, Harry managed to avoid what was coming.

What had been coming from below was General Paul, General Julian, Sophia and Kate. General Paul, Kate and Sophia were still facing off against General Julian who was holding his ground quite well against them.

That was when General Julian ordered the soldiers Harry had been fighting against to attack them but before they could move, Harry stopped them with his aggressiveness as he bought time for General Paul and the girls to do their thing.

Harry had been fighting with everything he had from the get go and his Qi was depleting faster than usual because of the use of Visual lightning Qi, a trademark of the Thunderbolt guild.

With a kick to the chest by Harry, one of the soldiers was sent flying back. And currently, Harry was facing off against five soldiers.

One of them dashed towards Harry and thrust his spear at Harry who skillfully avoided it while bashing his hands on the spear sending the spear down.

Then Harry kneed the soldier strongly in his head flinging him back. Before Harry could move forward, he was stabbed in the thigh by another soldier then in annoyance, Harry grabbed him and flinged him backwards causing him to crash into the door.

Now there were only two more soldiers standing in front of Harry. Even after seeing Harry's display of strength, they still didn't back down as they charged right at him.

One with his sword while the other was using a hammer like Julian. The hammer soldier raised his hammer above his head as he was about to slam it on Harry who had managed to roll over avoiding it.

Then the sword user dashed at Harry but a lightning fast kick from Harry broke the sword user's leg and rendering him unable to move while letting Harry face off against the hammer user in peace.

'Great, this visual Qi has made my strength and speed better than normal. It's just like a boost to my strength. This is what makes the Thunderbolt guild dangerous as we can turn the tides of war.' Harry thought as he dodged the hammer that was heading for his head.

'But it drains our Qi faster that's what nobody knows about. It's our advantage and also disadvantage. And in this fight, I will make it my advantage.' Harry thought as he pounced off from his position too fast for the hammer user to react and then a sword strike impaled his chest while causing him to fall down.

Harry was seen on his knees gasping for air the turning around, he could see General Paul and the girls still fighting General Julian with everything they got.

And that was when he heard him saying something and in anger, Harry dashed towards him and unleashed a powerful punch to his head that made Julian's head crash on the ground.

Seeing Harry, and the powerful strike he had unleashed on Julian, the girls had hope but that was when Harry delivered a bad news.

"Uhhh guys, there's a problem." Harry said as he looked at the rest.

"I don't have much Qi left, I only have some for two powerful strikes left."

"Then we have to make it count!" Paul said as he jumped up at Julian who was just standing up with anger evident on his face.

With a sword strike filled with Qi, Paul slashed Julian's legs but it didn't go deep as Julian had been coating his body with Qi.

What people didn't know was that Julian had a lot of Qi because of the weapon he wields. The hammer was no ordinary weapon as it required immense amount of strength to wield and that was how Julian had his amount of Qi.

But the attackers didn't care as Kate took an arrow and started infusing it with Qi while waiting for a chance to release it. Sophia swung her legs lightning fast at Julian's head who just narrowly avoided it.

While Harry had come in still surrounded with lightning Qi. Then he punched Julian heavily in his stomach causing him to skid a few inches. General Paul had quickly come in with a roundhouse kick towards Julian's head but it was blocked by Julian's hammer.

"Guys!" Kate shouted as her arrow was now shaking slowly with power as Kate had been pouring in all her Qi into the arrow for a final attack.

"Hold him still long enough!" Kate shouted and everyone heard her loud and clear as they got to work.

Not wasting time, Harry pushed off strongly and struck Julian hard in the stomach and then the strike made Julian spit out a trickle of spit.

"I gotta admit, you are certainly strong." Julian said as he prepared to swing his hammer but Paul came in with his sword that was practically now glowing with energy as Paul had infused the sword with all his Qi.

The sword crashed into Julian's hand and a shockwave was spread outwardly that it even flung the bodies of the dead soldiers everywhere. The sword cleanly sliced Julian's hands off after a bit of struggle causing his hammer to fall down.

Julian was shocked as he stared at his hands on the floor.

"Now!" Kate shouted and everybody dashed away from Julian as Kate's arrow was released and it flew towards Julian at an incredible speed while gathering mini tornado at the bottom and was spinning rapidly towards Julian.

With a bang, the arrow smashed into Julian's eye and went through his head while hitting the wall behind him and getting stuck there.

Then slowly, Julian fell down dead and lay there unmoving. Kate had now fallen down on one knee as she had exhausted a lot of energy for that attack.

"We won, it's over!" Harry shouted with joy as he also lay on the floor trying to catch his breath.

That was when Kate along with General Paul heard a ding in their head. Knowing what it was, they opened it up and saw it was a message from Jake and it was sent to all members of the Fang hunters.

"Everyone, prepare for the battle of your lives as a wave of strong beasts are heading for the academy from three different directions." The message read and Paul's eyes widened at the next lines so was Kate trembling as she also saw the last line.

"There are no beasts below the advanced tier level and two King tier beast are leading the charge."

Chapter 176 Retreat

Everybody had now finished their tough fights against their foes and they were trying to rest when all members of the Fang hunters, received a message from Jake telling them the horror that was to come.

Informing them that dozens of beasts that were on the advanced tier level were coming towards the academy with two King tier beasts leading the charge from the three different directions.

All the members of the Fang hunters quickly came out of the academy including those that just finished fighting with five hundred soldiers that were part of the Fang hunters. Discover exclusive content at empire

The rest had been part of the betrayals and were killed while some had gone with Head General Humfree and General Wilfred on their outing leaving a thousand plus soldiers in the academy.

But majority had betrayed the academy and were killed. So currently, there were five hundred soldiers in the academy that were part of the Fang hunters and they had all come outside.

"What do we do?" One soldier asked.

"We wait for orders." Another replied.

And right on cue, orders came from Jake as he sent it to three members of the Fang hunters.

Alex, Peter and Geo.

Jake instructed them to take a hundred soldiers each and head to the three direction where the beasts were coming from.

The library, the morgue and the cemetery where the soldiers that died were buried.

Quickly, they took the hundred soldiers each and they all left for their different locations quickly so the beasts wouldn't get to the academy.

While the rest in the academy, were resting trying to recover as much energy as possible especially Harry and Paul.

Alex along with his hundred soldiers had finally gotten to the library where the beasts were about to come out from and he could see the tunnel that had been created recently and right on cue, the beasts were coming out.

They could see hundred of advanced tier beasts and a king tier beast with them. The advanced tier beasts were of different types as they could see Earthshakers, mosswovern and other types of beasts.

While the king tier beast was a huge gorilla beast with black fur, six arms and it stood around 7feet tall while staring at the humans with its fierce red eyes.

Looking at the beasts, some of the soldiers were rooted in fear and were unable to move especially because of the intimidating presence of the King tier beast.

Most of the soldiers hadn't faced a King tier beast before and seeing one, caused some of them to freeze. Alex turned around about to give out orders when he saw them freeze.

"Be brave soldiers, we can do this!" Alex shouted but nothing he said could get through them.

Turning to his system, he could see a message from the others reporting the same thing but Geo's message was quite alright as they hadn't encountered any King tier beast so the soldiers were holding up well.

"Well, I guess I have to do this alone but it's going to be tough." Alex said as he drew his giant sword and charged right at the beasts while the King tier beast stood off to the side watching what the silly human was about to do.

"Is he crazy? How can he charge right at hundreds of advanced tier beasts all alone?" A soldier asked as they could all see Alex fighting with everything he got while skillfully avoiding the mosswovern's acid.

The Earthshakers were proving difficult but he was still holding up quite well. Well, as well as he could hold up as Alex was being riddled with injuries all over from the beasts as they were attacking him fervently.

Seeing Alex fight bravely like this, the soldiers decided not to stand around as they also dashed towards the advanced tier beasts and were helping Alex out.

"Sorry we came late, it took your bravery to snap us out of our daze." A soldier said as he narrowly avoided the acid of the mosswovern while hitting an Earthshaker back.

But no matter what they did, they were unable to really damage the beasts as they were too skillful.

And then slowly, the soldiers started falling to the mosswoverns acid that were raining down on them like rain burning through their clothes, armour and body.

Slowly the soldiers numbers was being reduced from hundred to ninety to Eighty.

Looking back at the soldiers that were dropping dead like flies, Alex only had one thought on his mind.

'I don't think we can win this, I think it's better we abandon the academy and run away.' Alex thought.

It wasn't only Alex that was struggling, even Peter's team were struggling against the beasts as he had faced the same problem with the soldiers rooted in fear and unable to move.

Some of them even ran away in fear. Like thirty of the soldiers ran away in fear while the others that were left, some of them were hit by the mosswovern acids burning them down.

Reducing their numbers to fifty. It took the death of the other soldiers for the rest to act as they backed Peter up in dealing with the beasts rapidly but it wasn't enough as their numbers was being reduced.

The Earthshakers were quite skillful in using their abilities to avoid any major blow while working together with the mosswoverns to rain acids on them when they least expected.

Just like Alex's team, the Gorilla like King tier beast was just standing off to the side not interfering.

Peter and some strong soldiers were able to kill some of the beasts but it was like a drop in the ocean and seeing the soldiers dying rapidly, Peter only had one order to say.

"Retreat! Everybody retreat, we would have our last stand at the academy!" Peter shouted and the weaker soldiers were already running back while the stronger soldiers and Peter were holding the beasts back while they were slowly running back to the academy.

Geo also gave the same order after facing off against the advanced tier beasts. Although, he and the soldiers managed to reduce the number of beasts drastically, the soldiers were dying rapidly so he also gave the order of retreat.

Alex seeing how hopeless the fight was currently, also gave the order of retreat and now, the three teams were all heading towards the academy slowly with the beasts still on their tail.

Will Aurora Academy fall to the beasts, or will they pull through?

Chapter 177 Defend Aurora!

The whole Fang hunters were informed that the academy was about to be attacked by beasts. Advanced tier beasts being led by two King tier beasts. And they were coming from three different directions of the city.

The Library, the morgue and the cemetery. In order for the beasts not to get to Aurora Academy, Jake sent Geo, Peter and Alex to take a hundred soldiers each to the three different directions.

But it wasn't enough as the beasts managed to push them back and the three different teams were forced to give the same order; the order of retreat.

Currently, Alex's team which earlier consisted of a hundred soldiers, now has 40 soldiers left and out of a hundred advanced tier beast, they only managed to kill 20.

Same with Peter's team. While Geo had 50 soldiers left and they managed to kill 50 beasts. Currently, 260 advanced tier beasts and two King tier beasts were heading towards Aurora Academy with full force and ferociousness.

General Paul, General Kron, Sergeant Sunny, Sergeant Leo, Kate, Sophia, Harry, Jack, Emily, Simyon and the other students with the remaining two hundred soldiers were now outside the academy patiently waiting for the beasts.

Finally, everybody could see the teams running back while hundreds of beasts were charging forward and Alex and some soldiers were holding up the line nicely, same with Geo and Peter's team.

Holding their weapons, the soldiers were ready as they could now see the beasts heading their way with full force.

"Get ready guys!" Alex shouted towards the soldiers.

And immediately, the two hundred soldiers at the academy charged forward with the Generals in front while the remaining two sergeants were beside them.

Immediately, the front of the academy erupted in a fierce clash with the beasts as the Generals were destroying the beasts left and right with the sergeants also.

The students didn't charge in as they waited to see how well the soldiers would hold up and they were holding up nicely mainly because of the Generals who were just ravaging in the midst of the beasts.

With a powerful strike, General Paul sliced the head off of a mosswovern beast before he dashed towards the next beast which were the Earthshakers.

The King tier gorillas didn't even move an inch as they watched the beasts getting struck down one by one.

The soldiers were dropping down slowly. Seeing this, Alex jumped back into the fight by releasing a powerful Qi strike that sliced three beasts up in one go before he went towards the next one.

Geo also rushed back in swinging his axes left and right slicing some of the slow mosswoverns down. But the numbers were too much as the soldiers were being overwhelmed.

But the Generals didn't relent. As Kron jumped up and then fell back down smashing his hands down sending waves of shockwaves at the beasts and at the same time killing five beasts at once.

Currently, Kron was displaying the power of a Qi specialist as he was throwing his fists outwardly and Qi that was shaped like a fist was being sent towards the beasts and causing them to explode at once.

'I can't keep doing this for long, sooner or later, I will run out of Qi.' Kron thought as he kept on unleashing waves of Qi towards the beasts.

General Paul just kept slashing the beasts down with his sword and brute strength as he had exhausted his Qi when fighting against Julian earlier so he was only using his skill and strength to reduce the beasts numbers.

The beasts numbers were now dropping significantly from 260 to 230. But it was enough as the numbers of soldiers were dropping.

One of the soldiers lifted his sword to strike an Earthshaker when his sword melted right in front of his eyes and then his armour was next.

Looking up, he could see the mosswovern opening its mouth wide and about to spit its acid at him but then, an arrow was sent into the beast's mouth and came out the other end killing the beast immediately.

The soldier turned around to see who had saved him and he could see it was a blonde hair beauty wielding a bow and arrow.

Then the next thing, she picked up a dead soldier's sword and dashed towards the remaining beasts.

"What are you doing?" The soldier asked.

"You use a bow and arrow so you need to have distance."

"I'm gonna be okay." The blonde beauty that turned out to be Kate said as she dashed towards the next beast with her bow and quiver of arrows kept one side as she held the sword and moved towards the next beast.

She swung her sword clumsily but still strongly as she sliced an Earthshaker that was distracted easily and then she move onto the next beast taking them down with one or more strikes.

The others had even joined in with Simyon in front of a mosswovern dodging the acids skillfully and him attacking the body with his daggers.

But it was hardly doing anything to the beast. But with a jump, Simyon lunged his daggers into the beast's eyes and coming out of the end causing the beast to drop down dead.

"One down, many more to go." Simyon said as he moved onto the next beast.

Meanwhile, Harry was also dominating the battlefield in his own way. Although his Qi was totally depleted, he still had enough strength and skill to battle against the beasts. Find your next read on empire

With a swing of his sword, Harry managed to dissect an Earthshaker with ease before moving onto the next.

'This is quite easy. But what I'm worried about is why those King tier beasts aren't moving yet.' Harry thought as he narrowly avoided an acid before dashing towards the source.

With the third year students and remaining Fang hunter's members, they were taking down the beasts slowly and lowering their numbers from 230 to 150.

They were dealing with the beasts rapidly but at the same time, they were getting tired and weaker as they had been fighting for so long.

But they kept going then finally, the King tier beasts were making their moves as they dashed into the midst of the humans.

Chapter 178 Gorrila's Wrath

Aurora Academy were finding it hard to fight against the beasts but slowly, they were reducing the beast's numbers from 260 to 150 and they were doing well until they started feeling the strain of fighting against multiple beasts as they had been fighting non-stop.

From humans to beasts and they had a little Qi reserve all except Kron who was initially dominating the battlefield with his immense amount of Qi and versatile use of it.

The soldiers morale was now high after seeing the numbers of beasts reduce but then suddenly, the King tier beasts that hadn't gotten involved for one reason or the other were now heading for the humans.

The King tier gorillas, were now in the midst of the humans as they started punching and smashing them one by one with their giant fists.

As the number of beasts reduced, the number of soldiers reduced as well. As the King tier beasts were dominating the field with their massive strength and huge six arms.

The soldiers stood no chance as they were being pummeled. The Generals seeing this, dashed towards one of the King tier beasts and they were trying to hold it off.

While the other one was still destroying humans left and right.

With a fist full of Qi strike, Kron punched the Gorrila on the head just moving its head an inch away.

Then Paul slashed at the legs only causing a flesh wound.

"Damn! Without my Qi, and the Head Generals, this battle has just gotten a whole lot harder." Paul said as he narrowly avoided one of the Gorrila's heavy fist coming at him.

Kron jumped towards the Gorrila's head but it simply swatted Kron away with one of its hands while the other one was keeping Paul busy.

While the Generals were struggling against one of the King tier beasts, Kate, Sophia, Peter, Harry, Jack and Emily were now in front of the other one after it had just killed a soldier.

"Are you sure we can do this?" Sophia asked as she eyed the beast from head to toe to see how they were going to deal with it.

"You just have to have faith." Peter said as he was now swirling his Qi around his body and axes as he got ready to battle.

Out of all of them, Peter and Jack still had just enough Qi to fight properly while the rest, their Qi was totally depleted but they gripped their weapons tighter as they could just see the beast dashing towards them on all fours.

"Get ready!" Peter shouted as he held his axes tighter. And then, the beast was almost in front of them.

"Now! Attack!" Peter shouted as he and Jack charged right ahead at the beast.

Jack pushed off strongly from the ground after swirling his Qi to his feet to give him a boost. Then he smashed his sword on the Gorilla's head not even causing a flesh wound and then the Gorilla just swatted the human away sending him flying.

While Peter had already gotten to one of the beast's hand as he smashed his axe on the beast strongly sending shockwaves everywhere. But it didn't really do anything as Peter was about to be hit.

But before he could, Kate had shot out an arrow towards the beast's hand that just bounced off not causing a scratch on its hand.

"Darn it! Our weapons are too weak to cause any damage to a King tier beast." Kate cursed as she drew another arrow and shot it out at the beast.

Harry had quickly come in and started attacking the beast all over its body with his sword and then he quickly backflipped backwards in time avoiding the beast's hands.

"Now." Harry said as he smirked.

Immediately, mini explosions went out around the beast as small Qi bullets were sent out towards the beast and crashed into its body causing small bullet holes to appear over the beast's body with black blood dripping down.

"Good thing I had enough Qi to do this." Harry said. "Well, I'm officially out of Qi now."

Immediately the dust settled, Emily dashed forward and swung her sword towards the beast's neck but she was just swatted away by the Gorilla other hand sending her crashing into Sophia who had been charging towards the beast and they went tumbling.

"Darn! I don't think we can win this fight." Peter said as he could see the beast coming right at them on all fours.

The beast was almost close to them when Jack had intercepted the beast's way with his sword crashing on its head sending it crashing into the ground with so much force that dust was spread out. Find exclusive stories on empire

"Move!" Peter shouted at Jack as he got his axes ready.

Immediately Jack moved away, Peter started swinging his axes rapidly at the beast who was slowly getting up but was met with wind slashes on its body that was now causing flesh wounds to appear all over its body.

With anger, the beast lifted its six hands up and smashed the ground with so much strength that the students were thrown off balance and fell down and then coming at them was a crack in the ground that was rapidly growing as if an Earthquake had occurred.

Everybody quickly jumped to the side as they avoided the cracked ground. Peter's axes active skill had now come to an end while everyone stood up weakly and tiredly looked towards the beast.

Whose face was now contorted in anger as it looked at the humans then it pounded its chest with all six arms.

"Well, I guess this is goodbye then." Peter said already accepting his fate.

"No silly, I won't die just like that." Sophia said.

"Well, something needs to change now otherwise we are really going to die. We aren't strong enough to defeat a King tier beast." Peter shouted.

And right on cue, all members of the Fang hunters received a notification.

{Guild skill overdrive has been activated! All members of the Fang hunters will receive a 5 percent boost in attack and defense power.}

Chapter 179 A boost

The whole Aurora Academy were entangled in a dangerous battle against the creatures that attacked with two King tier beasts leading the charge.

Everybody were feeling down and tired but remembering what they were fighting for, they pushed on kept on fighting with everything they got.

But it wasn't enough especially those that were fighting against the King tier beasts. They were getting tired and frustrated about not injuring the beasts one bit. Stay connected with empire

But it all changed for the members of the Fang hunters as they all received a notification at once.

{Guild skill overdrive has been activated! All members of the Fang hunters will receive a 5 percent boost in attack and defense power.}

Seeing the notification, all members of the Fang hunters felt a surge of renewing energy coursing through them. All the soldiers that were part of the Fang hunters, some of Jake's friends and everybody felt this energy and received this notification.

And then, the tides of the battle changed as the soldiers were now attacking with more vigour than ever before. While their attacking power was now boosted.

Those that were unable to do anything against the beasts, were now injuring them better than before and their defense was also boosted including their armours.

Making it harder for the beasts to injure the humans like before and it got the soldiers talking.

"Even as he isn't here, the werewolf slayer is helping us massively." A soldier said as he avoided an acid and dashed towards the beast before stabbing it in the head and killing it.

"Right, so let's use this help to win this war!" Another soldier shouted and charged right at the beasts with his spear in his hands.

All around, everybody were fighting with more strength than before but it was only a matter of time before the strength would wear off.

Off to the side, the Generals that were fighting against the Gorilla, Paul had received the notification and immediately, he went on the offense rather than defense.

Dodging one of the Gorilla's hand, General Paul weaved his way towards the Gorilla's side as he swung his sword at the beast's stomach that managed to go more than a metre inch as black blood soaked Paul's clothes.

And the Gorilla growled in pain as it turned around to hit Paul but a Qi strike from Kron made the beast skid a few inches and gave Paul enough time to reposition himself.

"Woah! Someone has suddenly gotten a power boost." Kron commented as he could see Paul going at the beast again.

While fighting, Paul hadn't used his Qi giving him enough time to recover a little bit amount of Qi and now, he was planning to teach the beast a lesson.

Charging at the beast, Qi was now surrounding Paul's sword and it was practically glowing intensely. Getting close to the beast's attacking zone, Paul swung out his sword and immediately, a huge slash of Qi was sent towards the beast.

Paul had used all the Qi he had managed to recover to perform that huge attack. And the slash was now heading towards the Gorilla.

Seeing this, the gorilla crossed two of its hands in an X shape in front of the attack. Immediately the attack crashed into its hands, a shockwave spread outwardly and the Gorilla was managing to push the attack back.

But before it could do that, the attack completely sliced the two hands off before dissipating into thin air.

The Gorilla was currently standing with two stumps where its hands were placed earlier. Currently, the beast's hands reduced from six to four and its black blood was dripping down.

Kron seeing this was confused and surprised at the same time.

"How do you have so much power all of a sudden?" Kron asked after he had seen Paul fighting weakly earlier and now, his attacking power had suddenly increased.

"If I'm not mistaken, that attack wasn't as strong as this before so how did you do that?" Kron asked again.

"Let's just say seeing the academy like this and what the beast could do, I received a power boost." General Paul lied as he was getting ready to go at the beast again.

Not wasting time, Paul pushed off from his position and was now practically running on air towards the Gorilla. But he wasn't actually running on air as he had created Qi platforms under his feet therefore making it look like as if he was walking on air.

The Qi platforms didn't take much Qi to use as the user only needed to have like 1 percent of their Qi to cast and the user needed to be skilled in condensing the Qi making the platform strong enough to hold the user's weight.

When Paul was close to the Gorilla's face, he thrust his blade with full force towards the Gorilla's face but it simply grabbed the sword with one of its hands and punched Paul with its other hands sending him flying with a broken rib.

Kron had already gotten to the Gorrila's position successfully as he now swirled all the Qi he had towards his fists and delivered a full on mountain shattering punch towards the side of the beast's stomach Paul had injured earlier.

The way Kron condensed his Qi into his hands, it made it sharper and stronger so, it caused Kron's fist to go through the beast's side breaking all its ribs and his hands came out the other way.

Jumping away, Kron created a huge Qi platform under his feet that felt like a trampoline that propelled him towards the Gorrila's head as he punched it with his fist that was shaking with intense amount of Qi.

The fist went through the Gorrila's head easily as it fell down with a thud dead. While Kron also fell down in pains as he was huffing and puffing tiredly.

"That... that was harder than I thought." Kron said in between heavy breath. "I don't have any more energy to fight again."

"I just hope the soldiers can handle themselves because I can hardly stand the way my condition is." Kron said as he looked around at the soldiers still struggling against the hundred beasts while their numbers had dwindled significantly and Kron could see the students fighting against the remaining King tier beast.

"I know how hard that beast is, I just hope you guys can handle it on your own."

Chapter 180 Turning the tide

Everybody were feeling despair after seeing the notification that appeared in front of them including the students that were battling against the King tier beast.

They were in the middle of an attack when the notification flashed in front of them all.

{Skill guild overdrive has ended.}

This notification worried them a lot as their attacking power had now reduced significantly and the Gorilla noticed it so it used it to its advantage.

Quickly, it slammed its six hands together strongly causing a shockwave to spread out towards the students that were already charging right at it therefore causing them to fly back.

"What are we going to do now? How are we going to win this fight?" Sophia asked holding onto her side as she was feeling immense amount of pain.

That was when they could see the beast charging right at them on all fours again. Despite their injuries, they still gripped their weapons tighter and waited for the beast to come at them.

That was when crashing down in between the students and the Gorilla, was a figure with a black mask in a gold and brown armour standing in front of them all while raising his sword up.

Then his sword was now glowing brightly and shaking in power as the werewolf slayer was now infusing his sword with immense amount of Qi but he was careful not to use all his Qi so he wouldn't be defenseless.

The beast was now charging right at the figure as if it wasn't a threat at all and the beast just treated the human figure as any other human.

Then when the beast was within striking distance, the werewolf slayer now implemented that last phase.

"Activate lighting strike!" Jake said as his sword was now sparkling and crackling then Jake swung his sword towards the Gorilla beast.

"Lightning Qi Slash!" Jake shouted and a huge slash made entirely of Qi while being surrounded by lightning, crashed into the beast who on seeing the slash, lifted it four arms to block the strike.

The slash was strong enough to cut through the Gorilla's hands and also electrocuting the beast with jolts of lightning.

Finally, the strike dissipated and the beast was seen riddled with a lot of injuries and its four arms sliced off cleanly dripping out black blood while its body was torched as if burnt with fire but it was because of the lightning.

The students stood there with their mouths agape as they could all see the beast they had been struggling against with all six of them against it and they couldn't even injure it not in the slightest but this stranger did more than that in just one strike.

"Isn't that the same mask the werewolf slayer wore before?" Harry asked as he was on his knees panting hard.

"Yeah, the werewolf slayer that later turned out to be Jake right?" Emily asked as she was holding onto her head and stomach at the same time.

"But is that really Jake?" Peter asked. Stay updated via empire

"That is Jake alright." Sophia said. " I recognize that armour of his from when he had brought it back from the blacksmith."

"Now that you mention it, that looks identical to the armour he brought back that day." Jack said also recognizing the armour.

"We know Jake is strong, especially since we saw him fight against that Beta werewolf." Peter said.

"But why do I feel that he is stronger than before especially with that giant slash he did earlier. I mean, we had faced against a king tier beast before and we struggled a lot."

"Although Jake didn't use his full strength earlier but now, this is really ridiculous." Peter exclaimed.

Oblivious to their conversation, Jake dashed towards the stunned beast then he lifted his sword above his head and smashed it on the beast's head while coating his sword with Qi.

The blade smashed on the beast's head cutting it a little bit before the Gorilla smacked Jake off its head sending him flying.

But not too far as Jake managed to stop skidding and then charge back at the beast again. Before he got close, Jake shot out lots of invisible Qi projectiles at the beast.

They landed perfectly injuring it by bit.

Then Jake activated {Step shift} a skill that could allow him close or create a distance of 3 metres quickly.

Which he used to his advantage as he was suddenly in front of the beast. Then Jake activated {Strength surge} a skill that boosted the user's strength by a total of 10 percent.

Jake then coated his sword with Qi again and slammed it on the beast's head the exact place he had injured earlier.

The sword managed to slice through the beast's head and then divided it up till it reached the end of its body and also slicing part of the ground up after hitting the ground.

Everybody stood there with their mouths agape after seeing what had just happened in front of them.

"He is just growing stronger and stronger rapidly." Jack commented feeling a little bit jealous.

Looking around the battlefield, Jake could see that around 10 metres away from where he stood, the dozens of advanced tier beast were still fighting against the humans and the soldiers were slowly dying.

And then at the fore front, Jake could see Alex and Simyon fighting hard even though they were quite tired.

Quickly, Jake ran backwards for a metre then he ran forward with all his strength while he activated.

{Adrenaline rush} a skill that temporarily increased a user's speed and agility by 2 percent for 2 minutes.

Therefore boosting his speed. On the way running, Jake started building up his Qi in his sword. He kept on building and infusing making the sword shaking with immense amount of power.

And finally, he was close to the battlefield with his sword that was still shaking because of the amount of Qi in it. It felt like the sword wanted to break because of the amount of energy in it.

That was when Jake quickly slammed his sword on the ground dispelling the gathered energy in the sword outwardly causing huge shockwaves to spread out and hit the beasts that were attacking and some of the humans.

Looking at the soldiers, Jake said one sentence to them.

"I'm sorry I'm late."
