

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 251 Head back

Jake and the B rank adventurer were fighting for so long and in the fight, the B rank adventurer was losing badly as Jake had been roughing him pretty badly while using all the skills he had and all his months of fighting experience.

After a bit of back and forth fighting, Jake had finally dealt a big blow to the B rank adventurer who lay on the floor twitching in pain while Jake stood over him.

Jake was about to grab him again when he heard a ding in his head.

"Oh! The system has deemed your suffering enough. So how about I end your life then." Jake said with a twisted smile on his face that was hidden beneath the mask.

Seeing the system screen flashing in front of him, he smiled and then lifted his foot that was coated in as much as Qi as he had and was about to stomp on the B rank adventurer when a loud shout stopped him.

"Devil! Stop it!" Alex shouted and quickly ran out the field. He called Jake Devil because he didn't want to mention his real name or else there will be a huge problem.

Jake quickly put his foot down and turned towards Alex who now stood in front of him.

"What the hell are you trying to do?" Alex questioned angrily.

"Trying to end the life of a scum. Any problem?" Jake asked.

"There is a problem if you do that. Didn't you hear what he said? He is the second in command to the viper nest guild. We have already killed the second in command to the Iron Fist Guild, you still wanna kill another one?

A storm is brewing between us and the Iron Fist Guild and you wanna cause another one? Do you think the Fang hunters can handle it?" Alex questioned.

'Fang hunters?' The B rank adventurer who laid there in fear thought. 'Are they from the Fang hunters? But why are they helping the Raven wing? And where is the werewolf slayer? If this is how strong their other members are, I hate to fight the leader who is the werewolf slayer.'

Unknown to the B rank adventurer, he had been fighting with the werewolf slayer for so long.

Hearing Alex's words, Jake calmed down and thought his decisions through as he could see the truth out of Alex's words.

"You are right, we can't handle another mess right now. Although we have strong members, if the Iron Fist joined hands with them, it will be troublesome." Jake said as he looked down at the B rank adventurer.

"You should be thankful to him for saving your life, all of you." Jake said as he looked at the members of the Viper nest's guild.

"I will give you all five minutes to get the hell out of here before I change my mind and kill you right now!"

They all didn't need to be told twice as they all ran for their lives while the B rank adventurer hurriedly stood up and started running with all the strength he could muster as his heart thumped loudly thinking the 'devil' will go against his words and kill them.

'I need to tell the leader that he is messing with the wrong people. And if it's true that the Iron Fist Guild are planning on attacking them, I fear that they will be wiped out without a trace.' The B rank adventurer thought.

The members of the Raven wing on seeing the retreating army, quickly cheered loudly and happily as smiles formed on their lips.

"You all should gather the dead quickly and let's head back to the city." Berg ordered.

The members quickly got to work as they carried the dead and after they were done, they finally left for the city while cheering loudly. When they were 2 kilometers away from the city, their cheers became louder and louder that those in the city could hear them coming.

Finally seeing the army coming back, they knew the news as it means that the battle had been won.

They could see a man with a demon's mask leading the army back to the city with three others behind him.

"Is that the werewolf slayer?"

"No! I don't think so. This mask is different from the one the werewolf slayer always wore."

"Then maybe Miss Helen hired a strong individual to help us."

"But what price did she have to pay for it?"

"Only the heavens know."

Those on the streets were mumbling among themselves while the warriors walked past.

Jake, Peter, Alex and Berg left the warriors and headed towards the main base of operation for the Raven wing. Within a few minutes of running, they were already there.

The adventurers at the door were about to stop them but on seeing Berg, they moved back and let them pass.

And then they all headed towards where Helen was supposed to stay. And with a knock, they all went in and they could see Helen seated there with a mountain of paperwork in front of her and her hair slightly disheveled.

On seeing them walk in, she quickly arranged her hair properly and smiled at them. But her smile was pointed directly at one person among them who causally took a seat and took off his mask.

"That feels much more better." Jake said.

"So how was it?" Helen asked.

"Don't worry miss Helen, we won't be attacked anytime soon." Berg said.

Helen heaved a sigh of relief and looked towards Jake.

"Thank you so much for your help. Without you and your friends, we wouldn't have been able to survive this." Helen said.

"It's fine." Jake replied.

"So what's next?" Helen asked.

"Actually, I came to inform you that me and my friends will be leaving for Aurora in two weeks time." Jake said.

"What! Two weeks time? So soon?" Helen asked as she shot out of her seat.

"Yes, we have to go prepare for whatever the Iron Fist Guild will send our way." Jake replied and he stood up.

"And mind you, I'm informing you not asking for your permission." He said as he swiftly left the room with Alex and Peter following right behind him.

Leaving Helen and Berg alone in the room. Helen just fell back into her seat with a hint of sadness on her face.

"Why does he have to be so weird and rude at times? Doesn't he know how much I love him?" Helen sighed as she zoned out.

"Probably because he has a lot on his mind." Berg said as he took a seat. "So what about the Rave lord?"

Helen quickly sat back up as she looked at Berg. "Honestly I don't know what to do about that. Everything all depends on the Iron Fist Guild.

If they attack the Fang hunters, I'm pretty sure that the Fang hunters will wipe them all out and then we can swoop in and rescue my dad from the Iron Fist's clutches."

"Well, that is if they attack and that is if the Fang hunters are capable of wiping them out." Berg said.

"Well, let's just hope they are strong enough then." Helen said.

Chapter 252 Two Weeks Later!

Two weeks later

It was now the day, Jake and his friends set for them to return to Aurora. They hadn't even Informed anybody that they will be coming as they wanted it to be a surprise so they got ready and had packed whatever they needed for the journey.

And Peter couldn't help but be excited to reunited with the rest of the group and they were currently pumped up. Helen had given them lots and lots of gifts as a thank you for all their help.

As in the last two weeks, Jake, Peter and Alex had helped set up the order of the Raven wing's guild. They set up new adventurers all around town, transportations, and Alex even got Kate to send over people to help facilitate everything including trades.

News was sent all over stating that the guild was now in control of Helen the daughter of the Rave lord while still being under the protection of the Fang hunters and anybody that dared attack the guild, will be paid a visit by the werewolf slayer.

Jake had hoped that the name of the werewolf slayer will be enough to deter anyone from attacking and from the past two weeks, there wasn't a single attack as the news had spread everywhere about what happened to the Viper nest's guild that came for an attack.

Since everything was now set, it was finally time for the small team to return back to their rightful home and they were currently in the docking station of the city where their Aeroglide had been packed.

Helen, Berg and Steve had accompanied them to the station with the gifts and they all stood there with smiles on their faces while Helen had a sad look on her face.

"I will really miss you Jake." Helen said as she quickly threw her arms around him hugging him tightly.

"Uhm, I will miss you too Helen." Jake said as he returned the hug with a smile which made Helen's face flush up red and she held Jake a little longer.

Jake was starting to feel uncomfortable and he signalled to Peter who quickly came over.

"Alright Helen, that's enough. Let my friend go cause the way you are hugging him for so long, might lead to something else." Peter laughed and Helen quickly let Jake go and stared daggers at Peter.

If stares could kill, then Peter would have been dead by now. Helen was about to hit him when Alex quickly came over.

"It's getting late guys, let's go quickly." Alex said as he hopped into the Aeroglide with Jake and Peter closely behind him.

Alex slowly started the engine of the Aeroglide making it hum a little while Helen, Berg and Steve stood there slowly waving at them.

When the engine was fully warmed up, with a flash, the Aeroglide sped quickly and zoomed into the distance blowing up dust and a little breeze behind it from the take off.

With a sigh, Helen turned around and was about leaving the station.

'I will really miss him. And I wish I could have told him how I felt.' She sighed and left the station.

Meanwhile, the boys were currently in the Aeroglide happily chatting away and talking about what they were going to do when they got back and who they couldn't wait to see.

"Let me tell you guys this now, Dame would create a new set of equipment for me first okay?" Peter said looking at the other two.

"Shouldn't Jake be first? He is like the damage dealer of our group that can kill about dozens of men with a single strike." Alex said with a chuckle.

"No, no, no. You guys can go first. I can pretty much fight bare handed. Besides, it's not like we are going to be attacked anytime soon." Jake said.

"I hope so." Peter said.

"Why should we fear? We got Jake, Head General Rowan and the other Generals." Alex said while steering the wheel carefully.

"But Jake, jokes apart, how are you so strong?" Peter asked with a serious expression on his face. "I can clearly remember when I could easily whoop your ass. Not only me, even Vynn could beat you up then."

Speaking of Vynn, the room suddenly got somber and Jake was clearly remembering how Vynn looked like, his lively face, how he always cheered everyone up.

And then the image quickly switched back to seeing his dead body, his emotionless face, twisted neck and mangled body. Seeing this image, Jake clenched his hands tightly that his nails dug into it and was clearly drawing blood.

Seeing Jake's reaction, Peter quickly came over and placed his hands on his shoulder.

"I know how you feel. Trust me, I'm still angry and hurt even after so many months. But I want you to keep a cool head and plan how we will take our revenge from those that took Vynn from us."

With a sigh, Jake finally relaxed.

"You are right, I need to keep calm. And I will surely take my revenge from those filthy werewolves for taking my parents away. Then I will specially skin that Beta werewolf for taking Vynn away from me.

But for now, I need to handle the human enemies I have made for myself. After that, I will take the fight to those filthy werewolves. Then they will feel the full wrath of the werewolf slayer." Jake declared with conviction in his voice.

"That's my boy." Peter smiled and causally went back to his seat.

"Speaking of human enemies," Alex spoke from the pilot's seat. "Don't you think declaring the Raven wing's guild under the Fang hunters will attract unwanted attention?"

"What unwanted attention?" Jake asked.

"For example, the top two independent Guilds and let's not forget the Iron Fist Guild is also planning something big against us." Alex replied.

"For a second there, I thought you were going to mention the big three." Jake heaved a sigh of relief.

"The big three? They won't interfere. They love to act like gods or something. So interfering in we mortals affairs, they won't do it. Rather, they will let us take each other out and then the strongest, will be used by them in the war." Alex said.

"It doesn't matter who comes after us, I will cut them down starting with the Iron Fist Guild." Jake said.

"Well, I just hope your boldness doesn't make us step on the wrong toes." Peter chuckled not knowing how true is statement was going to be.

Chapter 253 Back home

Jake and his friends had left Rave city and they were now on their way back to Aurora city. According to Alex's predictions, they will get there in two days and which they did as the Aeroglide was quite fast.

Luckily for them, there was not any problem or interference in theie journey unlike the day they left for Rave city. Gliding across the trees, the Aeroglide was now at the border of Aurora city.

Seeing the forest, Peter spoke up.

"Guys! We didn't even encounter that leader we met here the other time."

"Who cares about him?" Jake said nonchalantly as he was meditating trying to increase his Qi pool.

"I was just saying cause it felt a little bit strange." Peter said.

Alex didn't reply as they had now passed through the forest and were flying above the small town. Seeing the town, Jake quickly stood up and looked out the Aeroglide glass and he could see the usual happy faces on all the people's faces.

"I guess nothing bad happened here then." Jake said as they now fully passed the town and were speeding towards the academy.

It didn't take them long enough to get to the academy as the huge gate came into view with two bulky soldiers standing in front of it with their weapons in their hands.

Stopping the Aeroglide in front of the soldiers, they came over to examine it. After showing their student watch and also Alex along with Peter showing the Fang hunters' symbol, they were allowed in.

Alex headed straight for the Academy's docking station where he parked the Aeroglide carefully and they all got out while Peter stretched and inhaled the air.

"Ahhh! There's no place like home." Peter said with a wide smile on his face.

"Where do we head to next?" Alex asked.

"You guys can go over to anywhere you want. I have somewhere else to be." Jake said as he left the two behind.

"Hey, wait up! I'm coming with you!" Peter shouted as he chased after Jake.

Jake calmly walked around the academy with his hands in his pocket as he was looking around seeing people moving in and out of the place.

Jake was heading straight for one place and that was the hand to hand combat club building and Peter was right behind him.

'I wonder if Sunny managed to get himself new students after me.' Jake thought as he slowly approached the building.

Causally walking through the gate, Jake could now hear noises going on inside the building while a voice was above the rest barking out instructions.

"Do it right you lazy bones! When doing it, bend your hip sideways and then bang! You..." Sunny stuttered as the door to the building opened and a certain curly haired individual walked in.

"I see you got yourself a lot of students, that's good. At least you would have a lot of people to pass on your skills to this way." Jake smiled as he walked into the room.

The dozen students there after seeing Sunny stutter, were now whispering wondering who managed to make Sunny stutter this much.

"Who is he? Does anyone know him?"

"Nope, no idea."

"Maybe he is one of the old students Sunny taught."

"Probably."

After Jake, Alex and Peter had left, Aurora Academy had received new students into it and in the process, Sunny got some students to mentor.

When sunny had received the students, he was surprised but he taught them regardless while having it at the back of his mind that they might leave. But to his surprise, they didn't as the students found the class interesting and they were actually fun to teach for Sunny.

Well, not as fun as a certain student to him. And funny enough, the certain student stood in front of him.

"Well, they are not as good as you, Jake." Sunny smiled back as he walked towards Jake and then he quickly hugged him which Jake gladly accepted.

"I missed you teacher sunny." Jake said.

"I missed you too." Sunny said as he hugged Jake tightly which got the students whispering again.

"I have never seen sunny behave this soft around anybody before. So who the hell is this Jake individual?"

"Are you daft? Didn't you hear him calling sunny teacher? Which means Sunny had taught him before."

"Well, I don't think they are teacher and students again, I feel like a father is currently hugging his long lost son."

It really felt that way and that was because of how Sunny took Jake. He took him as his son and treated him as such.

"Did you just get here?" Sunny asked as he finally disengaged from the hug.

"Yeah, and I thought long and hard of who I should come see first and your face kept popping in my head." Jake smiled.

"I see you have been keeping shape, that means you didn't relent in your training." Sunny said.

"Of course not. Just that I have gotten rusty in fighting with my fists." Jake said scratching his head.

"Seriously?!?? How is that possible?" Sunny asked.

"You know, if you weren't important, I would have given you a punishment right now."

"So how about a spar right now? I need to sharpen my rusty skills so what better way that sparring with a prodigy like you." Jake smiled.

"Am I crazy? I can't beat you in a fight." Sunny said.

"What!!!!????!!!!" All the dozen students shouted out at once.

That was when a male student who had spiky black hair and a bandana wrapped around his head walked out.

"Teacher sunny, what do you mean by you can't beat him in a fight?" The student asked as he sized Jake up.

"I was being truthful. If we were to go all out, I will definitely lose." Sunny said as he stared back at the student.

"How is that possible?" The student asked. "We are basically the same age, so how can someone so young best you? Does that mean I could best you too?"

"Hahaha!" Sunny chuckled. "If you could best the one standing beside him, then you could possibly stand a chance against me." Sunny said as he pointed at Peter who was leaning at the wall with his arms folded.

"Just because you are the best and strong student among everyone here, doesn't mean you could just beat anyone, don't get too cocky Hardy."

"Well, I refuse to believe that someone like him can beat you in a fight." Hardy said.

"Fine, why don't you spar against him instead. You both won't use any weapon, or any other skills apart from your Qi which you are limited by the first stage only. And you can also use your hand to hand combat skills too.

Is that okay?" Sunny asked.

Hardy nodded and then turned towards Jake to which Jake also nodded too.

"What weapon do you use?" Jake asked Hardy.

"A sword, why?" Hardy raised an eyebrow.

"What tier is it?" Jake asked again.

"An intermediate tier, why?" Hardy asked again. He didn't want to reply initially but he felt compelled to.

"Good, if you manage to land a hit on me, I will gift you an advanced tier crystal to do whatever you like with it. And don't worry, I will go easy on you." Jake smiled.

"How cocky." Hardy mumbled.

Within a minute, the whole was cleared and there was now enough space for the duel. Sunny stood in the middle of the two as a ref.

"Are you guys ready?" Sunny asked both Jake and Hardy and they both nodded.

"Good, let the spar begin!"

Chapter 254 Wipe the smug smile off your face!

Jake, Alex and Peter had just returned back home; to the Fang hunter's base or otherwise known as Aurora Academy. After landing their Aeroglide, Jake and Peter headed off to somewhere else that turned out to be the building for the hand to hand combat club.

After greeting Sunny, Jake had been dragged into a duel with a young student of Sunny and currently, they stood in front one another without any weapon in their hands.

'I will just take it easy on him and not move from this spot.' Jake thought and then Sunny signalled for the fight to begin.

Immediately Sunny started the match, Hardy darted towards Jake explosively after swirling the Qi around his feet to give him a boost.

'Impressive! He is quite fast and good with his Qi usage. But there's one problem though, he is quite slow!' Jake thought as he easily avoided the cross that was heading for his head and then gave a space of an inch.

"Impressive! You have managed to learn the Cross." Jake commented.

"Shut up you!" Hardy shouted as he exploded again and then threw a quick roundhouse kick towards Jake's head.

Without stress, Jake just side stepped away from the hit then he lightly tapped Hardy with his foot sending him tumbling forward.

"If this was a serious fight, you would have just gotten seriously injured just now." Jake said.

Listening to Jake, Hardy was now confused.

'How is this possible? How come there is so much power difference between us? Is it true that I can't beat him?' Hardy thought as he clenched his fist.

'No! I won't give up so easily just by knowing there's this much difference between us. If I were to be like this during the war with werewolves, I wouldn't amount to much.'

"It's time I kicked things up the notch!" Hardy said as he slowly swirled his Qi around his body, strengthening it then swirling it to his feet to give him a speed boost.

And finally, moving it to his hands to get a strength boost.

'Perfect! Even though he knows he can't beat me, he isn't backing down at all. He is still trying to give it his all. This makes him the perfect candidate.' Jake smiled as he finally took a stance.

"I will make sure to wipe that smug smile off your face!" Hardy shouted as he bolted towards Jake.

Then he threw a quick, straight punch towards Jake's face. But Jake quickly used Guard stance to block it and before he could retaliate back, a cross was coming towards the side of his head.

'He is quite fast and skillful.' He thought as he quickly twisted around avoiding the hit and getting behind Hardy. Then he lightly tapped him again in the head sending him tumbling forward again.

"Sunny, is that all you have taught them so far?" Jake asked.

"I have taught them the guard stance, Jab, cross and hook. And they all know it perfectly. Just that, Hardy knows one more attack and you will be surprised how quickly he learnt it." Sunny replied.

"Oh really? And what's that?" Jake asked, still facing Sunny.

"This!" Hardy replied as he suddenly got behind Jake.

Hearing the voice, he swiftly turned around and could see Hardy behind going through the motion of a technique that Jake was familiar with.

"Oh!" Jake said as Hardy had just done a quick jab, cross and hook towards Jake's face and it was coming at him very fast due to Hardy's Qi usage.

Seeing the fist heading for his face, Jake quickly used the Guard stance and his hand was now in front of his face blocking it but there was no impact on his hand. And then, another fist appeared directly beside Jake's head.

'How did he do that?' Jake thought as Hardy's fist connected with the side of Jake's head pushing him a few inches from his position.

Seeing this, Sunny unfolded his arms in surprise and so did Peter as they stared at Jake in shock.

'I see, he faked the Snake bite technique and when he saw I had raised my guard up, he quickly halted his hand and used the Cross technique with his other hand.

He is truly impressive, skilled and quite strong actually.' Jake thought, feeling impressed.

"As per the rules you set, if I were to land a perfect hit on you, I win." Hardy said as he looked at Jake with a feeling of dread in his heart.

'This guy, we have been fighting for at least 5 minutes now and he hasn't used any form of technique or even Qi at all. He just used the basic Guard stance against me and nothing else.

He only taps me lightly. And that alone is able to send me tumbling. I hate to imagine what it would feel like if he used his full strength on me. I don't think I would even survive it.' Hardy thought as he clenched his fist tensely.

Jake just sighed and then waved his hand in the air then falling from his hand was an advanced tier crystal. Kicking it before it touched the ground, he sent it towards Hardy who quickly caught it but he was sent skidding from the force of the kick to the crystal.

'I was right, this guy is dangerously strong. I wonder who he is. And how the hell did that advanced tier crystal appear out of nowhere? This guy, I need to get on his good side no matter what.' Hardy thought as he stared at the advanced tier crystal in his hand.

"As per my words, that crystal is rightfully yours now." Jake said and was about to head off with Peter following him when Hardy stopped him.

"Please sir, wait!" He called out towards Jake respectfully which he hadn't done up till now. Not even Sunny received this type of respect from Hardy.

"Can you kindly tell me who you are?"

Jake just slowly turned around and smiled at Hardy.

"I'm Jake Lucas, that's all you need to know unless you join the Fang hunters." Jake said.

"Are you part of the guild?" Hardy asked.

"Part of the guild?" Peter laughed and stepped forward. "He is the lead..."

Peter was about to say when Jake quickly grabbed his hands tightly which caused Peter to scream loudly.

"Arghhh! What the hell Jake, let me go!" Peter shouted.

Then Jake whispered into his ears. "Are you crazy? What were you about to say?"

"I'm sorry, okay." Peter apologized and Jake let him go.

"For your question, yes, I'm part of the guild." Jake replied as he looked at Hardy.

Then Hardy walked forward towards Jake as he knelt down respectfully.

"Then can you please invite me into the guild? I promise to follow your every command and I will help you in whatever you want to do." Hardy said and everybody turned to Jake to hear what he was going to say.

Chapter 255 A Friendly Spar

"Then can you please invite me into the guild? I promise to follow your every command and I will help you in whatever you want to do." Hardy said and everybody turned to Jake to hear what he was going to say.

Jake just smiled and looked at Hardy in his kneeling position.

'Perfect! This kid has resolve and determination and he isn't shy to admit defeat. I like him!'

"Fine! If that's your wish." Jake shrugged as he sent Hardy the contract invitation and without hesitation, he signed it straight away while the symbol of the Fang hunters appeared on his shoulder.

"Congratulations! You are now a member of the Fang hunters." Jake said and then turned around to leave.

"Wait sir!" Hardy shouted and Jake turned around.

"Can you please allow me to tag along with you?" He asked then Jake turned around to look at Sunny.

"Sunny! Is the class over?" He asked.

"No!" Sunny replied.

"Then there's no point in following me around, stay in class and focus on what you are being taught. You have a lot of potential, and I will really love to see how strong you can get. When I need you, I'm gonna call upon you." Jake said and then he swiftly left the hall before any interruptions.

Immediately he and Peter left, Peter couldn't help but ask a question bugging him.

"Why did you agree to that kid's request?" He asked.

Jake just shrugged. "I don't know, I just feel like he will be useful in future so why not snatch him up when he is still ours and not risk the others getting him."

"Smart idea." Peter said and they left the compound of the hand to hand combat club totally. "So where are we headed next?"

"To the sword club next, I need to see the young talents." Jake replied as they walked for some minutes before they got to the sword club and then he entered the building.

Immediately they entered, they were all hit with the sound of swords clanging loudly against each other while students were spaced out duelling against each other.

"Now something is different here." Jake commented as he walked in with Peter right behind him.

Von who had the voice, quickly turned around to see Jake walking in with a wide smile on his face.

"Jake?" Von said surprised.

Von was Jake's instructor when he was still a student at the academy and now, he was also part of the Fang hunters but he doesn't know the identity of the werewolf slayer. He just thinks he is a high personal in the guild seeing as majority of the core members were young kids.

"You are back from whatever mission you were on?" Von asked.

"Yes! I just came back and I decided to come see you." Jake replied with a smile as he could see the students practising hard not paying any attention to what Von and the strange man had to say.

'Impressive! What impeccable dedication and concentration.' He thought as he walked around the room studying what the students were all doing.

"No, you should raise your shoulder up like this while striking." Jake said as he demonstrated to a student.

The student just glanced at Jake then he scoffed and continued what he was doing earlier without paying attention to what he said.

Jake just sighed and moved onto another student. "Kids nowadays do not like to take correction."

"Who the hell are you calling kids?" The female student Jake tried to correct asked and everybody stopped what they were doing as they looked at what was going on.

"Aren't you basically the same age as us? With probably 1 or 2 years difference." The girl said again.

"Wendy, enough!" Von said.

"I'm sorry teacher Von, I just don't appreciate outsiders and weaklings coming here to tell me what to do." Wendy scoffed and got back to what she was doing.

"Outsiders huh? Weaklings huh?" Von chuckled and then walked forward towards Wendy.

"You are just a first year, so you didn't know what happened few months ago. These people you called weaklings saved this academy twice and they are also part of the Fang hunters." Von said.

Wendy just scoffed again. "Who cares whether they are part of the Fang hunters or not? That guild is just an unknown guild in the world that will still get taken over soon by a much stronger guild."

Peter who was hearing what she was saying was fuming with anger and then he stepped forward with anger as he couldn't bear to hear anybody talk bad about Jake's guild.

Jake seeing this, knew that Peter would do something he would later regret so he quickly stopped him and instead of Peter, he walked forward.

"And who are you to talk bad about the Fang hunters?" Jake asked with a raised brow.

"Of course, I'm tha daughter of a wealthy noble and I can proudly say if my dad wanted to buy the Fang hunters, he will." Wendy said proudly.

"Teacher Von! How strong is she?" Jake asked.

"The strongest in this class." Von said and Wendy folded her hands proudly.

"Good! That means she has a good level of strength right?" Jake asked.

"Right!" Von said.

"Good! Peter!" Jake shouted and Peter walked forward.

"What's your choice of weapon?" He asked.

"Axes of course." Peter replied.

"Which means you have no knowledge of how to use the sword right?"

"Correct." Peter replied.

"Good!" Jake said and then turned to Wendy. "You are a prodigy of the sword arts in this class right? But I guarantee you, without any prior knowledge of using the sword, Peter would still beat you. That is how strong our guild are."

"Haha!" Wendy laughed loudly. "I don't believe you."

"Fine! How about a friendly spar between you and Peter while only using basic tier sword provided by Von." Jake said.

"You are on!" Wendy said.

"And one more thing, no use of Qi just pure swordmanship." Jake added.

"Perfect!" Wendy said as he backflipped towards the round platform in front of the room and grabbed a sword off the wall while raising her hand signalling for Peter to come over.

Peter just causally walked over and picked a sword off the wall and stood in front of Wendy while Von stood in middle of them acting as the referee.

"Let the spar begin!" Von said as he swung his hand down.

Chapter 256 Peter? You are back?

"Perfect!" Wendy said as he backflipped towards the round platform in front of the room and grabbed a sword off the wall while raising her hand signalling for Peter to come over.

Peter just casually walked over and picked a sword off the wall and stood in front of Wendy while Von stood in middle of them acting as the referee.

"Let the spar begin!" Von said as he swung his hand down.

And immediately, Wendy dashed towards Peter and then swung her sword from the side towards Peter quickly. While Peter clumsily blocked the strike with a very fast reflex.

Wendy didn't relent as she moved back and came in again with an overhead strike but Peter clumsily blocked the strike again then he flicked her away from him and made a thrust towards Wendy.

But she was able to block it barely although she was skidding from the strength of the thrust.

'What's with this guy's strength and speed? He is able to block my strikes clumsily but quickly and now, this strength? Is he really not using Qi?' Wendy wondered and then she quickly ducked as he could see a swing heading towards her head.

Immediately she ducked, she quickly thrust her sword towards Peter's stomach and out of pure instinct, he lifted his leg and blocked the strike then he raised the hilt of his sword about to bash it on Wendy's head.

But she had quickly rolled over avoiding it and then she stood up wiping the sweat that formed over her face away.

'Impressive! Although Peter is faster than her, she is still able to avoid his strikes just in the nick of time. She has good reflexes and perception.' Jake thought as he observed the spar on the sidelines.

"Peter! I have seen enough, finish the fight now!" Jake said and Peter nodded while Wendy was now confused.

'Seen enough?what does he mean by finish the... ' Wendy thought and then she could see a sword strike heading for her head and out of instinct, she had raised her sword blocking it.

But then a loud resounding crack was heard and what followed was Wendy's body being thrown across the room with her sword shattering along with her.

Peter looked at the sword in his hand and could see it was slightly cracked. Then he threw it on the floor and walked down from the platform he stood on.

'Using the sword feels quite good, it is flexible and quick to use unlike my axes. But something still feels off about it so I will stick to my axes for now.' Peter thought as he stood beside Jake while they could all see Wendy slowly standing up from the ground.

Glancing at the sword she used, she could see that it was broken into pieces and she was now confused how it happened.

'Wasn't he using a basic tier sword just now? So how was he able to break my own basic tier sword? Was my opinion about them wrong? Was their strength not really exaggerated? Did I make the wrong call by messing with them?' So many thoughts and questions were running through Wendy's mind as she stared at her sword in shock.

Jake and Peter seeing that their work was done, they turned around after giving Von a nod and they were about to leave when a voice interrupted them.

"I take it back! I take all the bad things I said about the Fang hunters!" Wendy said and without turning around, a smile formed on Jake's face.

"I'm sorry for whatever I said, can you please accept me into your guild?" Wendy asked.

"No!" Jake said and then he swiftly left the sword hall along with Peter right behind him while leaving a stunned Von, Wendy and students there.

After leaving the hall, Peter was now terribly confused by Jake's weird actions.

"Why did you refuse Wendy's request and accepted Hardy's? I thought you wanted to build a strong mini squad or something." Peter said confused.

Jake just smiled as they fully left the Hall and were now in the middle of the academy while Jake was thinking of where to go to next.

"The reason I accepted Hardy's request was that I could see he really wanted to join our guild and he will really be loyal to us. Although he has a little pride, it's not really a bad thing while Wendy has a lot of pride.

She might actually not agree to some of the orders given to her. So if she really wants to join us, she will try her hardest to convince us to take her in and if my thoughts are right, she will stop there after getting a rejection from me." Jake said as he finally decided on where to go to next.

"You can actually go back, no need to follow me around. I'm sure Sophia must be waiting for you." Jake smiled.

"What do you mean?" Peter asked with his cheeks all beatred.

Jake sighed as he slapped his forehead loudly. "And you call me dense about matters of the hearts, if I'm dense then what about you?"

"I'm lost here." Peter said.

"Just head back and see our friends, I will be back." Jake said and then he took off running towards his next destination with full speed making him a blur to Peter as he couldn't see Jake any longer.

"That Kid doesn't take a break." Peter sighed and then he turned around and briskly walked towards the main academy building.

He walked for a few minutes and he finally stood in front of a door and with a twist of the knob, he was let into a room that had three bunk beds and currently, three people were sat talking.

Two females and a male. Hearing the door open like that when they knew that the door could only be opened by a specific person, the occupants of the room turned around and they were pleasantly surprised.

"Peter? You are back?"

Chapter 257 A Meeting

After parting ways with Peter, Jake was seen running towards a particular route of the academy and with his speed, he was in front of a medium sized building that had a glass door on it.

Pushing it, a loud chime resounded in the room and so many equipment came into view as Jake could see swords, armours and different types of other equipment lined up neatly in the room.

Hearing the door chime, a middle aged man who looked to be in his early thirties lifted his head from where he was sittid at the counter and on seeing who entered, his mouth was wide agape.

"Am I imagining things or is this really Jake walking into the stall?" The man wondered aloud and Jake just chuckled loudly.

"Good to see you too Dame!" Jake smiled as he took a seat in the room and sat in front of Dame.

"It is really Jake!" Dame shouted in surprise and quickly came over from where he was seated and stood in front of Jake.

Then he lifted him from where he sat and hugged him tightly while also squeezing him slightly.

"Uhm Dame, you... you are choking me." Jake struggled to say and he quickly let Jake go with a chuckle.

"Sorry about that, I'm just happy to see you." Dame said and he went back to the counter to sit. "So when did you come back?"

"A few minutes ago." Jake replied.

"So any new thing you want me to work on? Cause I know you caused a lot of mess on your trip and I doubt your equipment would come out unscathed." Dame smiled.

And Jake scratched his head nervously while opening up his inventory letting nine different crystals drop from it onto the table. It would have been ten but he gave one to Hardy after the duel.

Seven from the Toxic wolves he battled against and the remaining two from the crystal ice golems he fought against with the member of the Iron Fist Guild.

Seeing the crystals, Dame's eyes lit up in excitement as he examined each and every one of the crystals with enthusiasm.

"These... I see you were busy on your trip." Dame said with a smile.

"Six of them are intermediate tier crystals while the remaining three are advanced tier crystals." Jake said. "I'm excited to see what you will do with them. I won't tell you what to do with the crystals, I will just let you do whatever you want with them."

Oh and thanks for the gauntlets you created for me, they really saved my life out there."

"Thank you for giving me the go ahead to do whatever I want with the crystals as I'm excited to get to work immediately." Dame said while holding the crystals as if they were eggs.

"Oh, also kindly make a new mask for the werewolf slayer as his mask got destroyed." Jake said.

"How did you destroy the mask?" Dame asked as he slapped his forehead loudly.

"In a fight." Jake said with a chuckle.

"Fine, it will all be done. Just give me a week, I will get them done." Dame said.

"That will be nice! The Intermediate crystals, use them to make something for the young ones in our guild." Jake said.

"Sure sure, it will all be done." Dame said.

"Alright then, I will leave you to do your thing then." Jake said as he stood up and swiftly left the shop and now, he was outside the shop thinking of where to go when his system screen popped up in front of him.

{All core members of that Fang hunters in the academy, kindly make your way to the Fang hunter's base for an emergency meeting.}

"Huh?" Jake wondered as he stared at the words written in front of him. Then looking at the sender, he could see that it was Kate.

"Kate?! I guess I have been putting off seeing her for so long now. But why am I feeling anxious of seeing her?" Jake wondered as he placed his hand on his chest.

"Whatever! The message says it's an emergency meeting so I need to make an appearance." He said as he quickly dashed towards the big building used for the Fang hunters' base.

Meanwhile, after parting ways with Jake and Peter, Alex found himself heading towards the Fang hunters' base with steady pounding steps with a mixed expression on his face.

'What am I going to say to her? I have been putting her off for so long and I can't do it any longer. All the conditions I have laid down for her, she has fulfilled so what else can I say to her again?' Alex thought as he finally stood in front of the building.

The soldiers standing in front of the building looked at Alex weirdly until he showed them his guild symbol. After authenticating it, they finally let him through.

Walking through, Alex could see a few soldiers in the lower base just having fun chatting and talking with each other. Taking the staircase off to the side, Alex was seen heading up.

There were three floors to the building, with the lower floor where the normal trusted soldiers stayed and lived while the middle floor housed the core members of the guild and no normal soldier of the guild were allowed there.

Then at the top was the floor for the meeting room always used by the core members and was also the floor where the higher authorities like Kate and Head General Humfree did their paper works and stuffs.

After a few minutes of brisk walking, Alex stood in front of a door in the middle floor and with a knock on the door, a beautiful feminine voice was heard coming from inside the room.

"Come in!"

Twisting the door knob, Alex walked into the room and he could see a female sitting on her bed and on seeing who walked in, she quickly shot out of her seat.

"Alex! You are back?!"

"Emily, I have something to tell you."

Chapter 258 A Plan

All core members of the Fang hunters all received a message at once telling them they was a meeting now and Peter, Alex and Jake who were in different places also received the message too.

And they had to quickly make their way to the meeting room. Peter who was with Jack, Sophia and Cindy also received the same message and they were on their way to the meeting room together.

"I can't believe you are back after so long." Sophia said with a smile on her face while they were currently making their way to the meeting room.

"Yeah, it feels good to be back." Peter smiled back.

"So that means Jake is back too right?" Cindy asked while she was twirling her hair and her cheeks heat up thinking of Jake.

"Yes, he is back but I don't know where he rushed off to just now." Peter replied.

"It's good to have to all back." Jack said while patting Peter on his shoulder.

"Same here." Peter said.

After a few minutes of walking, they now stood in front the meeting room door. The soldiers that guarded the guild base were all told those that are allowed to the base so there wasn't any hindrance when Peter and the rest wanted to go in.

Peter placed his palm on the huge double door and something scanned his hand before a click was heard and he was let in along with the others.

Walking in, Peter could see the other core members of the guild in their respective seats only a few chairs were empty. The generals and Head general were already seated so was Kate as she looked around for a specific person.

"Don't worry, he is coming." Peter said with a cheeky smile as he went towards a seat and sat down.

Slowly, the door was opening every few minutes with different people walking in. Firstly Alex and Emily, then Simyon and Geo, then Sunny and Kron walking in together.

And after a few more minutes of waiting, the door opened up again and a black curly haired individual walked in. Immediately he walked in, he swiftly surveyed the whole room with his eyes.

And seeing everybody hale and hearty, he smiled. Kate on seeing Jake was now smiling as she gently arranged her hair.

Jake just naturally walked towards his chair that looked like a throne. Sitting on it, he looked towards the others and Humfree quickly stood up.

"Firstly! Before I start the meeting, I would like to welcome back our leader; Jake Lucas and his friends that went on a journey to help the Fang hunters and they did their jobs perfectly, well too perfect." Humfree chuckled and so did the others.

"Thank you!" Jake said as he stood up and did a small bow towards Humfree. "So what is the purpose of this meeting?"

"The reason this meeting was called is to discuss the way forward now. After Jake's move in the Raven city, I'm sure the leader of the Iron Fist Guild won't take this lying down. He is going to retaliate so we need to be prepared for that." Humfree said before he sat down and Paul stood up.

"Jake! When you were away being busy, we were also being busy by trying to grow the Fang hunters' strength and I'm glad we were able to pull it off as the Fang hunters is now a C rank guild." Paul said.

And Jake along with Alex and Peter were surprised by this as their eyes widened and a small smile played on Jake's lips as he heard this.

"But I need to remind you that this won't be enough to deter most of the guilds away especially the Iron Fist Guild and the top three independent Guilds in total." Paul said.

"So what can we do now? We are now a C rank Guild which is enough to deter most of the small time Guilds from messing with us. So what can we do next?" Jake asked.

"I suggest our leader grows his strength." Paul said.

"Huh?" Peter said. "He is already as strong as he can get. Everybody knows who the leader of the Fang hunters' guild is, the infamous werewolf slayer. So what else can he do again?"

"You are right Peter." Wilfred said as Paul took his seat. "Everybody knows who the leader of the Fang hunters' guild is. He is the werewolf slayer who went toe to toe with a Beta werewolf. But the tales could be exaggerated to the others, most people won't believe that tale."

"So what can we do?" Jake asked.

"I suggest you show them your strength. I mean the others need to gauge your strength right? So why not give you a rank that will be used to show the others. We have a rank for Blip, and the other independent Guilds that is how we know not to mess with them right?

So we need the same thing for you too." Wilfred said.

Listening to Wilfred, Jake was starting to have an idea where he was going with his suggestions.

"I suggest you become an adventurer and get your own tag and try to increase it." Wilfred said.

Jake just shook his head and smiled. "Already way ahead of you all, I'm already an adventurer and even a C rank adventurer at that."

"Really?" Humfree asked as he stood up and Jake just nodded. "Which means you have been busy yourself. Well you still have a pretty long way to go."

"Meaning?" Jake asked.

"Increase your rank. I want you to get to at least the B rank quickly." Humfree replied.

"How? For me to do that, I will need to hunt at least three hundred advanced tier beasts to even think of pushing me up the ladder and that will take so much time." Jake said.

"What if you don't hunt advanced tier beasts?" Humfree asked with a cheeky smile.

"What do you mean?" Jake asked.

"You see, when we were still Aurora Academy, we had a portal that led to a red portal planet. This portal was only used by the Generals and the Head Generals, no any other person was authorized to use it.

And on the portal, there are several king tier beasts that when hunt, can increase your rank. We still have that portal which you can make use of."

"So, seeing how strong you are, I'm confident you can handle yourself on a red portal planet that is why I propose you go hunt King tier beasts." Humfree said.

"So if I were to do that, how many beasts will I have to hunt to go up the rank?" Jake asked.

"By my calculations, 25 king tier beasts." Humfree replied.

"What the hell?!" Peter shouted out loud.

Chapter 259 Tender love

"So, seeing how strong you are, I'm confident you can handle yourself on a red portal planet that is why I propose you go hunt King tier beasts." Humfree said.

"So if I were to do that, how many beasts will I have to hunt to go up the rank?" Jake asked.

"By my calculations, 25 king tier beasts." Humfree replied.

"What the hell?!" Peter shouted out loud. "Isn't that too much?"

"Honestly, I agree with what Peter is trying to say." Jack said. "We all know how hard a king tier beast is, we fought against it on that day. Even the generals struggled a lot and mind you, there were only two king tier beasts and they gave us so much trouble.

So how is Jake supposed to hunt 25 on his own?"

"I know how strong Jake is, I can testify to that after what we went through at Raven wing's city but 25 king tier beasts is quite the overkill." Alex added.

"I understand your concerns everyone but shall I remind you all that, that was my suggestion not an order. After all, the final decision rest on Jake's shoulders. If he wants to do it, then that will be best for himself and the guild and if he doesn't want to, there's no consequences." Humfree said.

"So what do you have to say Jake?" Kate asked as she turned to Jake who had his head down in thought.

'25 beasts? King tier at that? That... that's too much even for me. I was able to kill that gorilla beast that time because the others had managed to wear it down. But how am I going to do this all alone? It's practically like a death sentence or something.' He thought worriedly.

"But if you look at it, the pros all outweigh the cons." Zee added. "Not only will you advance in your adventurer rank, you will also level up more from the system. Not like I'm telling you to do it, I was just saying."

Jake just sighed and looked at his hands while still trying to come up with something.

"Fine!" Jake said as he lifted his head up and looked at the others. "I will do it but I will want for one more person to tag along so they can also rank up."

"Who's that?" Paul asked.

"I want Alex to tag along." Jake said. Experience new stories on My Virtual Library Empire

Alex hearing this smiled widely as he looked at Jake.

"Why?" Wilfred asked.

"I know I'm strong, but I'm not overconfident to think I can handle king tier beasts on my own. What if I encounter something beyond my abilities? That is why I asked Alex to tag along because his strength will be much appreciated." Jake replied.

"Yes!!!" Alex shouted out loud. "If you hadn't asked me to tag along, I would have volunteered anyway. I need to get strong too and this will be more than perfect."

"I hope you all do not have a problem with this." Jake said as he looked at everyone's face but he noticed a hint of sadness on Kate's face.

"Kate! Is there any problem?" Jake asked and she was jolted from her thoughts as she looked at Jake.

"No! There's no problem and your idea is nice." Kate replied with a forced smile.

'He just came back and he is already thinking of leaving so soon? When will you have my time Jake? I missed you so much but you didn't even take a moment to sit with me. I hope one day everything can go back to normal.' Kate thought.

"So when do you plan on leaving?" Sunny asked.

"In a weeks time. That will give me and Alex more time to get better equipment, cause both our weapons got destroyed so we will need new ones." Jake said.

"That will be for the best." Paul said.

"So with that, everything has been decided upon. We shall meet at the portal room in the coming week so as to send Jake and Alex off to get some points home." Humfree said.

"I guess that is the end of the meeting then." Paul said and everyone began leaving the room one by one.

Alex was about to leave when he felt a tap on his shoulder. Turning around, he could see Emily standing in front of him.

"You wanted to tell me something before we were interrupted by the emergency meeting." She said.

'Darn! I thought I managed to escape but I guess I can't run away from this huh?' Alex thought before he sighed and looked around.

Everybody had already left so he and Emily were both in the meeting room together and completely alone.

"Emily... what I want to tell you is that... I love you. For so many years, I have been trying to put you and your feelings off so I can focus on getting stronger and that's why I kept giving you so many excuses but I don't think I can put my feelings off any longer.

Emily, I love..." Alex stuttered as he was suddenly grabbed by the collar and pulled forward then he felt a soft feeling on his lips which made his eyes widen in shock as Emily had drew him in into an intimate kiss as they both kissed passionately.

Their lips met in a tender, yet passionate, embrace. Soft and gentle, yet filled with longing, their kiss deepened as they savored the moment. The warmth of their breath mingled, and their hearts beat as one, lost in the sweetness of their love.

And after a few minutes of a deep kiss, they finally let each other go as Alex kept replaying the few moments of kiss between him and Alex as it was his first ever kiss he shared with a girl.

"I also love you so much you doofus, I have always loved you since I met you in our first year at the academy and ever since then, I have continued to love you.

I can't believe it took so long before you finally confessed to me. I'm so happy right now! I love you Alex!" Emily said as she pulled Alex in again for another round of kissing.

Chapter 260 Long time no see

After leaving the meeting room, Jake was gently walking around the academy with a solemn look on his face while his mind was deep in thought.

"What are you thinking about?" Zee asked.

"Can't you read my mind?" Jake asked.

"I only read what you want me to know and what comes up on the surface but they are some parts that are buried deep down and hidden from me." Zee said.

Jake just sighed and looked up. "I was wondering what Blip will do next. If he will attack or not and when he is going to do that considering that I'm leaving again leaving that guild open."

"Is that why you are worried? Don't you have faith in your friends or guild members? Have you forgotten that you have a Head General as part of your guild? So why are you now worried?" Zee asked.

"I know, but I can't help but still worry." Jake said.

"Just cheer up dude, and do something productive to take your mind off of worry." Zee said.

"Like what?" Jake asked.

"How about visiting that VR room you always loved." Zee suggested.

"That is actually true, it has been long since I played the game." Jake said as he looked at his watch.

11:30am

"I still got more time before the day ends." Jake said and he took off sprinting towards the VR room.

And in no less than two minutes, he was already there as he was hit with the view of rows and rows of games and pods. Walking towards the counter, Jake proceeded to pay for 5 hours of gaming.

After he was done paying, he looked at his watch.

'I remember when I could barely pay for more than two hours. And now, I'm able to pay for 5 hours and my account balance isn't even touched. I never even thought I would be the leader of a guild one day.' Jake chuckled as he walked towards the pod in the room.

Standing in front of it, he grazed his hands on the pod.

"This is still the academy's property, so I need to save up to get my own personal pod." Jake sighed as he finally pushed some buttons and the pod opened up before he took a step in and then it closed.

<Welcome Wolf hunter!>

The game said as soon as Jake inputted his gaming ID into it. And then he found himself in the familiar white room.

"Now I need to decide, should I battle humans or werewolves?" Jake said as he paced around the white room in thought before he finally came to a decision.

"Fighting with werewolves with my current rank is useless as I would mostly be fighting against Omeg wolves. So fighting with humans will be the next best thing." He said as he tapped on the interface that brought the option to fight against humans.

Immediately Jake chose that, his avatar was now materializing inside the game as he stood on the familiar stage while rows of spectating stands were spread around.

Unknown to Jake, immediately he logged in, about a couple dozen people were pinged including Dan, Sam and Nate the first three fans of the wolf hunter.

"What?! The wolf hunter is back after so long!?" Sam said excitedly and he immediately rushed into his room where his pod lay and he hopped in.

Immediately he did, he could see his other two friends in the stands looking at the wolf hunter.

"What a surprise, after so many months, the wolf hunter finally decided to play the game again." Nate said as he noticed Sam walking over and he took his seat.

"Which makes one wonder, where has he been for so long? And has he gotten more stronger?" Dan asked.

"Well with this match, we will finally know." Sam said.

There was also a certain person that had been pinged immediately Jake logged in and that was the red dragon; Raze Slade: Alex's brother as he was seen in the stands also.

"So you finally decided to show yourself here after refusing my offer huh? How gutsy! I will make sure I make you pay in this game." Raze said.

Immediately Jake logged in, he selected to fight against humans and the game didn't waste time as a human was materializing in front of Jake.

Immediately the human appeared, a countdown timer also appeared and when it count down to 0, Jake's opponent bolted towards him quickly.

"Too slow!" Jake said as the person swung his axe towards him and he quickly dodged it then he unleashed a lightning fast kick on his attacker's rib and immediately, the man was on the floor before he disappeared.

"What!!! One attack and his opponent disappeared?" Nate shouted in shock. "Please someone tell me that I wasn't dreaming right, his opponent was a Gold Player."

Dan who was seated was currently trembling in fear as he looked on at Jake. "He... he... he's a monster!"

"Hmph! What an easy win!" Jake said as he looked at his ranking score. "One more win, and I'm going to be a Platinum player."

Jake quickly clicked the play again button and another opponent materialized in front of him. His opponent was using a chain as his main choice of weapon.

And when the countdown hit 0, his opponent swung his chain towards Jake quickly and he simply pivoted sideways avoiding it but then another swing was coming towards him from the side again.

Jumping up, he avoided it but then another swing was coming from above him.

'Impressive! This person is skillful and fast with his usage of the chain.' He thought.

"But you are no match for me!" Jake shouted as he pivoted sideways in mid air then when his feet touched the ground, he darted towards his opponent before he even had the opportunity to swing the chain again.

And then with an uppercut, his opponent dissolved and disappeared from the arena.

<Congratulations! Wolf hunter has reached the Platinum rank!>

The gaming system interface appeared in front of him.

"Now maybe I will stop getting weak opponents again." Jake said as he clicked the search button again.

And then slowly, an avatar was materializing in front of him.

"Long time no see wolf hunter, how about a rematch again?"
