

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 281 A Promise!

"Alex!!!" Emily shouted and then she quickly ran towards him with Paul, Sunny, Wilfred and Peter hurrying to her side.

"We need to get him medical treatment." Peter said and he along with Wilfred quickly lifted Alex and hurried towards the medical bay with Emily, Paul and Sunny directly behind them.

With their speed, it didn't take them long to get there as they quickly laid Alex on the bed while nurse Hayley was urgently called over and she quickly got to work on Alex.

"Please... will Alex be okay?" Emily asked with tears streaming down her face continuously.

"He will be... his condition isn't really critical. I just need space to focus." Hayley replied.

"Sure, let's go." Paul said.

"No! I want to stay here with Alex, I'm not going anywhere." Emily shouted.

"Nurse Hayley said she needs space to focus." Peter said.

"I said I'm not going to leave Alex here!" Emily said.

"Hayley, is there a way she can stay here with Alex?" Wilfred asked.

"Yes please! I won't say anything or obstruct your work, just let me stay here." Emily pleaded.

"It's not going to be a problem as long as she says she won't obstruct my work." Hayley replied.

"Yes I won't. Thank you so much." Emily said and then Paul and the rest quickly left the room for the meeting room again.

When they were back in the meeting room, they were now all worried and confused about what to do next.

"How are we going to rescue Jake now?" Peter asked.

"It's quite impossible because we are currently low on manpower." Paul replied.

"But the more we spend here, Jake might be losing the fight." Peter retorted.

"We know! And trust me, I also want to rush into the planet to help him but we have to keep a calm head here." Sunny said. "Do you think any of us here is as strong as Jake? Heck the person that could even possibly compete with him in terms of strength is in a bad condition."

"If Alex couldn't do anything, what makes you think we can especially with our condition right now. The only person that could help is also in a critical condition."

"So what do we do now?" Peter asked feeling frustrated.

"Why did all these have to happen today? If we weren't attacked, Head General Humfree could have stormed the planet to help." Wilfred said. Enjoy new chapters from My Virtual Library Empire

"But we can't keep sitting here, we need to do something now!" General Paul said.

"But wh..." Sunny stuttered as his eyes opened wide while glancing towards Peter.

"What's wrong?" Peter asked confused as he could see not only was Sunny looking at him strangely, so were the others.

That was when a crackling sound was heard coming from Peter's side which made him to quickly turn around holding his axe tightly and everybody could see a small portal opening up.

And then coming out of the portal was a curly individual with blue eyes and blood all over him with his body on full display without any shirt on it.

"Jake?!" Peter shouted.

"Hi guys." Jake smiled.

"But how?" General Paul asked.

"How what?" Jake asked.

"Alex said you were attacked by a legendary tier beast." Sunny said.

"That has been taken ca..." Jake trailed off as he surveyed the room and could see that each and everyone that were in the room were currently injured or looking tired.

"What happened?" He asked.

"We were attacked!" Peter replied with his fist clenched.

"Attacked?! By who?" Jake asked with his eyes narrowed like a slit.

"By the Iron Fist Guild." Paul replied.

"What?! Where are the others?" Jake asked as he looked around the room. "Kate? Cindy? Sophia? Simyon? Geo? Heck! Where is Head General Humfree?"

"They..." Peter stuttered before he sighed not knowing how he wanted to put it to Jake.

"Jake! We lost a lot of people today, so I want you to take a deep breath and sit down for this and also I want you to think your decision through." General Paul said.

"Just spill it out already!" Jake said panicking.

"Cindy and Simyon are dead, Head General Humfree is in a critical condition, so is Sophia. Kate is in her room crying her eyes out and so is Geo who locked himself in his room." General Wilfred replied.

Jake didn't know how he was supposed to react after listening to everything being said as he was currently rooted in place with a blank expression on his face before he clenched his hand in anger.

"How many were they?" Jake asked through gritted teeth.

"About a hundred thousand." Peter replied.

Jake gritted his teeth again with his hands clenched in anger.

'The Iron Fist Guild! How dare they?! They have decided to mess up my guild right now and I'm going to make them pay!'

"Jake!" Paul called out. "I want to tell you what I noticed, this feels like a set up plan."

Jake was seen raising an eyebrow in confusion.

"I mean, I think we have another betrayal in our guild because think about it, why didn't they attack in the week you were around that they attacked immediately you left." Paul said.

"Impossible! No one in our guild will betray us, I trust them all." Jake said.

"You need to keep an open head right now, remember that even we trusted Head General Gunther and the other Generals, what did they end up doing?" Wilfred asked.

"Right now, I'm most concerned with that. Whoever betrayed us, if found out, I will make sure they regret ever been born. For now, I need to see if Kate is alright." Jake said and then he swiftly left the room heading for where he thought Kate would be.

It didn't take five minutes before Jake stood in front of a room he was all too familiar with and it has even been long he was in the room. Giving it a gentle knock before unlocking it, he calmly walked into the room.

"Kate? You in?" He asked as he walked in and he could hear a soft sob coming from one of the bunk beds.

Going closer, he could see Kate sitting on the bed with her legs tucked and her head in her leg while crying softly while the room was currently thrashed with everything thrown in different places.

"Kate?" He called softly before Kate slowly lifted her head that had her eyes red and puffed up from crying.

Through her blurry vision, she was able to see the person in front of her.

"Jake?" She said as she hurriedly left the bed and tried to take a step forward before she almost plummeted down but Jake had dashed towards her and quickly held her before she fell face flat.

Seeing that her eyes weren't playing tricks on her, she threw her hands around Jake and began crying heavily while soaking Jake's shoulder with tears.

"It's okay, let it all out." Jake said as he gently stroked her hair while Kate continued crying in pain.

They stood for ten minutes in the same position before Kate managed to regain her composure and she disengaged from the hug.

"Jake.. Cindy is dead, those filthy members of the Iron Fist Guild killed her! They killed Cindy and even Sophia is in a bad shape." Kate shouted amidst tears.

"I'm sorry that I wasn't here sooner, I could have prevented this. And now because of me, our friends are dead." Jake said with his fist clenched.

"No! It's not your fault, it's those iron fist guild that do not want to leave us in peace. Those are the ones that are to blame not you." Kate said while holding onto Jake's hand that was clenched and now it was released.

"What should I do? I'm confused right now, I don't know what to do." Jake said looking down. "What do you want me to do?"

"What do I want?" Kate asked as she held Jake's hand tighter while he nodded his head too.

"What I want, I want you to destroy that guild and wipe them off the surface of the Earth! You have the power Jake, you can do it I know that. I'm not strong enough to do it, but I know you can. Please... help me avenge Cindy and the others! Kill them all!" Kate pleaded as she dropped down to her knees crying while Jake was still standing rooted in his spot.

"That is what you want?" Jake asked as he held Kate and lifted her from her kneeling position.

"Yes, that's what I want!" Kate replied.

"Very well then! If that's what you want, I will do it. I will make sure I make the Iron Fist pay by taking the fight over to them and I will make sure I wipe them all out, that's a promise."

Chapter 282 Make Sure the iron fist guild exist no more!

Two weeks later

It has been two weeks since the war the iron fist guild waged against the Fang hunters and it hasn't been good since then as Head General Humfree was still in a bad condition although he was getting better and he could walk around, he was in no shape for a fight for now.

Kate had managed to come out of her mourning for Cindy and had resumed her duties, Sophia was now better and so was Alex as he was feeling better than ever before. Geo was also back on track after mourning for his dear friend Simyon.

The guild was now going through heavy recruitment for more members as they had been reduced from having twenty thousand men to about four thousand men. The guild has now opened up trades with more merchants and towns to they could get back up.

The guild had even contacted Raven wing's guild for help and they sent some men over to help get the guild back up. The Raven wing guild now has enough members numbering around three thousand.

The whole world had even heard that the Fang hunters were attacked by the Iron Fist Guild and survived and now, they were on edge on how the Fang hunters would react.

But in these two weeks, no one had set eyes on Jake and they couldn't help but be worried for him as nobody knew his whereabouts at all and there was no way to track him.

But that all changed when every single core members of the Fang hunters including Helen and Berg that were far away all received a message from Jake asking for a meeting.

And in response, Helen sent over Berg to represent her in the meeting that was to take place keeping him in mind, Jake waited for the day he will arrive and when he did, Peter was asked to go receive him.

Today was the day of the meeting and every single core member of the guild were present: Head General Humfree, General Paul, General Wilfred, General Kron, Sergeant Sunny, Peter, Alex, Emily, Kate, Geo, Berg, Jack, Sophia, even Harry was present even though he wasn't a core member and not even a member.

After everyone were seated, the double doors to the room swung open and Jake walked in with a neutral and unreadable expression on his face. He walked towards his seat and sat down while nodding his head at everyone at the table acknowledging their presence.

"I'm sure you are all wondering what's so urgent that I asked for a meeting." Jake began and everybody nodded.

"I'm sure everyone is aware about what happened two weeks ago in my absence, when the iron fist guild attacked us with a hundred thousand men."

The room suddenly got somber as they all remembered what happened and the amount of manpower and friends they lost.

"I had given them a warning to back off from our guild but they didn't respond instead they decided to attack our guild with so many men that I lost so many people including my close friends." Jake said with his hands tightly clenched on the armrest of his chair breaking it totally.

"Peter, you remember what I told you right? Not only will I slay the werewolves, I will also slay those that are a threat to my guild, my family and loved ones and in this case, the iron fist guild are a threat to my family and I plan on slaying them."

Everybody in the room had a shocked expression on their face all except Alex as he was currently all smiles. Continue your journey at My Virtual Library Empire

"Jake, you weren't here when we had a meeting and when we were attacked, the iron fist guild have about four hundred thousand strong members and we were attacked with a hundred thousand. Even with our measly twenty thousand men, we weren't able to fully stop them."

If it wasn't because of Head General Humfree's large attack, I'm not sure we would have won. So how do you plan on handling four times the amount that we fought against?" Peter asked worriedly and then Alex burst into a loud laughter.

"What's funny Alex?" Geo asked. "Peter said the logical thing here, so what's funny?"

"Do you guys really know Jake at all?" Alex laughed again. "He must have known about all these before saying he wants to take the fight to them and let me tell you, I'm hundred percent sure that he is stronger than the last time you all saw him."

"What makes you say that? Yes! I agree Jake is stronger than everybody here and he is just a little under Head General Humfree but strong enough to handle four hundred thousand men with just a little over six thousand men, that is almost impossible to me."

"I don't think you were all informed about what we encountered when we went into that red portal planet were you?" Alex asked.

"What do you mean?" Humfree asked.

"Right! I forgot to inform you all about these since we were all busy but Jake and Alex had encountered a legendary tier beast on the red portal planet they were on and Alex came back terribly injured that's why he was hospitalized." Paul said.

"What?!!" Everybody shouted at once as they looked between Alex and Jake.

"So... how... how did you manage to survive?" Harry asked as his lips were quivering.

"This knucklehead here, pushed me through the portal to save my life while he stayed back to fight against the beast and I'm pretty sure he finished it off right?" Alex asked looking back at Jake who just sighed and waved his hand in the air then falling onto the table was a large crystal.

It was clearer than anything they had ever seen before as it was shining brightly.

"This...this...this is truly a legendary tier crystal!" Humfree shouted as he looked down at the crystal and then at Jake with a surprised look on his face.

"How... how did you do it?" Wilfred stuttered.

"That's not the point right now." Jake said as he took the crystal again and kept it safely in his system inventory. "We have four thousand men here and the Raven wing has about three thousand men, so I plan on taking two thousand men from here and a thousand from the Raven wing guild with a couple of you lot so we can take the fight to those b*stards!"

"Hahahaha!" Humfree chuckled loudly with an amused expression on his face.
"You really do surprise me everytime, now I know why that god said you are what we need to win this war."

"You do know that I'm always with you in your decisions so I'm tagging along." Alex smiled.

"I won't be left behind by Alex, so I will go with you." Peter said.

"Same here, I need to get revenge for Simyon." Geo added.

"Well, those bastards attacked the academy where my younger brother is therefore endangering his life, so I will come along." Harry smiled.

"I'm coming along, I will make sure I take revenge for Cindy." Sophia said with her hands clenched.

"Count me in too!" Emily said.

"You are like my son, so I can't let him go on this dangerous mission alone." Sunny added.

"Me too!" Paul said.

"I will come along with the thousand men from our guild. You have helped us a lot, you returned our guild back to us and now, I can't miss this opportunity to try rescue the Rave lord." Berg said.

"Let me come along too." Kate said.

"No!" Jake quickly shouted. "You need to stay here with Head General Humfree and general Wilfred to handle the guild."

"But..." Kate wanted to say when Jake looked at her causing her to keep quiet.

"Can't come along, I'm sorry." Jack said.

"No problem." Jake replied. "So these are the people I'm taking along, in two days, we strike and we will make sure the iron fist guild exist no more!"

Chapter 283 Time to join the fray!

Two days later

A huge event that would rupture the status quo was about to take place as over three thousand men from the Iron Fist Guild were moving out with almost all the core members of the guild along with the werewolf slayer were seen in front of the army.

With their funds, they managed to get a huge Aeroglide that could fit around a thousand men in it. So they got around three of it for the three thousand men while a small Aeroglide was out front with the core members and Jake in it.

Based on the map, the aeroglides were seen speeding away at break neck speed towards their destination while those in all the glides were feeling tense and nervous.

By the estimated calculations, it would take them about three days to get to the iron fist guild with their current speed so Jake was seen meditating and trying to increase his Qi pool.

"I'm still wondering how Jake is planning on pulling this off." General Paul said glancing over at Jake who was at the distance meditating.

"Same here, I can't help but still feel slightly nervous." Peter said.

"Relax you all! Have faith in Jake." Alex said and then he went back to cleaning his sword.

Meanwhile Jake who was sitting meditating, was at the same time having a conversation with Zee.

"Are you sure about this?" Zee asked.

"Affirmative." Jake responded through his mind.

"I have been watching you for the past two weeks and I could see what you have been doing." Zee said.

"Which is why I'm certain we can do this. We don't have to battle against the four hundred thousand men, all we just have to do is get to the leader and eliminate him then naturally, the rest will fall." He replied.

"How do you plan on doing that without going through the thousand of men?" Zee asked.

"You will see." Jake smiled.

"I hope you just don't get yourself killed." Zee added and then he went quiet.

The aeroglides were still speeding towards their destinations and truly, in three days, they were approaching their destination. As they could all see a huge tall wall encompassing a large land that spanned for several kilometers and from the aeroglides, they could see several men patrolling on the wall and when they saw the glides, they were now on guard.

There were at least a dozen men that were on the front wall and seeing the glides, they quickly came together and prepared to attack.

"So what's the plan?" Alex asked as he could see Jake standing up from his meditative position.

"Stop them from contacting more people." He replied.

"And how do you suppose to do that?" Geo asked.

"Like this!" Jake smiled and then immediately, he disappeared from view and a blinding light followed outside.

All the core members quickly went towards the glass of the glide and they could see Jake in the midst of the dozen men with his hands raised and then it began to sparkle before bolts of lightning began shooting out from it.

Before the men could do anything, he had quickly slammed his hands on the wall sending jolts of lightning towards the dozen men making them to be paralyzed. Then swinging his hand that was shaped like a claw, a sharp sound was heard in the air before the men had their necks cut open and they dropped down dead with a thud.

Looking above him, Jake signalled for the glides to fly ahead and which they did. Looking outwardly, Jake could see a huge city a kilometer away and then off in the distance, a huge, large building that towered over the city could be seen.

The city had moving vehicles with people in it while some were walking on foot. The glides were seen flying over the city at full speed and the people were pointing at the glides confused and surprised by the massive size of it and what was going on.

"I doubt the thousands of men will be in the city, so we need to act fast." Jake said and opening his hand, a mask appeared on it. Putting it on, he donned his werewolf slayer identity.

Jake then lifted his finger above his head and then shot out a bolt of lightning into the sky which blew up.

Right on cue, the glides all made a quick landing and out of it, several thousand men could be seen pouring out of them with their weapons drawn and seeing this, the people were all afraid and began running away. Find more chapters on My Virtual Library Empire

Unknown to Jake, they all had a certain device and pushing it, a loud blaring sound was heard and it didn't take up to a minute before several men were seen coming. Heading for the Fang hunters' that were still standing observing everything.

Immediately the men appeared, the Fang hunters' didn't hesitate as they went on the offensive with the core members standing aside and it didn't take long for the streets to turn into a battlefield.

Looking above from where he was, he could see the Fang hunters' outnumbered the amount of men that came out but looking outwardly, he could see a wave of men heading their way.

"I guess these ones were the appetisers, the main dish are coming." Jake said and then he turned to his system and sent the core members all a text.

{Time to bounce hard!}

Immediately they saw it, they swiftly strolled away from the streets and were currently running to meet the waves of men heading their way.

"Time to also join the fray!" Jake said and then coating his body with the lightning attribute, he was currently shining brightly.

Taking a step backwards, he pushed off from where he was strongly heading towards the waves of men like a lightning bolt himself and in less than a second, he crashed into their midst sending lightning bolts everywhere stunning and electrocuting some to death.

Chapter 284 Keep going!

"Time to also join the fray!" Jake said and then coating his body with the lightning attribute, he was currently shining brightly.

Taking a step backwards, he pushed off from where he was strongly heading towards the waves of men like a lightning bolt himself and in less than a second, he crashed into their midst sending lightning bolts everywhere stunning and electrocuting some to death.

{Activate Lightning stun!}

Jake called out and immediately, the dispelled lightning crashed into all the men and they couldn't move again as they were all rooted in a single spot trying to move their bodies but to no avail.

"These past two weeks of being absent has paid off." Jake said as he walked in the midst of all the men that were stunned while the core members finally arrived seeing what Jake had done.

Lightning stun was a new skill Jake had unlocked that relate to his lightning attribute. This skill allows the user to keep his opponent stunned for an hour not allowing them to move one bit.

The reason no one had seen Jake for two weeks was because he had been using the academy portal to go into different beast planets to hone and level his skills more. Currently, his lightning attribute was now leveled up and dangerous with many skills under his belt.

Then his normal system skills, some were levelled up while some remained stagnated and now, Jake was more than ready to deal with whatever came his way.

"Don't kill these ones!" Jake said and then he looked up in the sky to see several drone hovering in the air.

He counted about twenty of them as they surveyed everywhere.

"Huh? What's this?" Jake wondered.

"I guess our surprise attack won't be a surprise anymore." Alex chuckled as he noticed some symbols on about ten of the drones.

"I don't care about it." Jake said and then he looked up in the distance to see the huge mansion off in the distance. "Cause that's my target right there."

"Alex, Peter, Geo, Sophia, Sunny and Wilfred, with me! The rest, handle this!" He ordered and he sped off into the distance with the people that were called directly behind him.

Unknown to them all that the drones were from a news industry, the big three and the top three independent Guilds especially the Iron Fist Guild as they were all watching what the Fang hunters are doing.

And one thing everybody all saw was the mask on one of their faces and that was the werewolf slayer.

Jake kept running forward and off in the distance, he could see about a dozen men rushing forward with their weapons and looking beside him, he nodded.

Immediately, Alex jumped forward with his sword above his head. 'Dad must be watching all these now but good thing I have my mask on.'

And then he slammed his sword on the ground causing the dozen men to stagger back and before they could regain their, a sharp strike came out and their necks spurted out blood.

Looking around, they could see Sophia with her sword outstretched.

"Don't look at me like that, it was bastards like them that caused Cindy to be six feet below the ground right now so I won't spare them."

"You are right, and I plan on paying them ten folds." Jake said and the several vehicles quickly surrounded them from all sides.

"Just go with Alex and Peter, we will handle this and come get you!" Sophia said and looking at them, Jake surrounded his feet with Qi then he jumped up and was seen hitting one of the vehicles smashing it totally before he exploded forward.

Seeing this, Alex and Peter did the same totally damaging a vehicle each leaving about five more and from the five vehicles, five men came out each numbering them around twenty five.

Immediately they came out, Sunny had dashed towards them before he unleashed a crescent kick from above towards one of the men's head breaking it apart then Geo pushed forward strongly then he swung his axe from the side breaking whatever armour the person was wearing before flinging him away.

Tapping the ring on her finger, a small needle appeared and putting it into her sword which absorbed it totally, it wrapped around her arm like a gauntlet while a blade was seen protruding out of it.

Swirling her Qi to her fist, Sophia landed in the midst of two men. Swinging her leg sideways towards the man's rib, he had quickly raised his sword to block the strike but his wrist broke totally and he was flung away.

Turning around just in time, she had lifted her gauntlet hand to block a strike heading for her head then she twisted her hand around before impaling her attacker in the chest and then kicking his body away.

It didn't take up to five minutes before all the men that came from the vehicles all died from the hands of the vicious core members of the Fang hunters.

Meanwhile the others who were at the back fighting against the waves of men were doing well as Berg was seen slashing a man before he quickly went to the next while Paul was seen swinging his sword and a Qi slash came out hitting and slicing the limbs of about four men off.

Avoiding a slash, Emily twisted around before she released a swift kick to her attacker's side sending him flying into a building.

"We can't hold back against them!" She shouted and then jumped up towards another one who quickly raised his sword above his head but he didn't feel any impact until he suddenly felt a sharp pain in his neck before he dropped down dead.

"These guys are quite weak." Berg said as he coated his arm with Qi to block a strike before he impaled his attacker in the head killing him.

"But why does it feel endless?" Emily asked as she performed a backflip avoiding a thrust towards her but then she felt a sharp pain from behind.

"That's because they keep coming in waves!" Paul shouted as he was seen floating in mid air but in reality, he had condensed his Qi beneath his feet making him float.

"Then we just have to keep going!" Berg shouted as he bulldozed the men while swinging his sword widely and quite skillfully.

Meanwhile, Jake, Alex, Peter and Geo could now be seen in front of the spiraling tower mansion and in front of them, they could see about a thousand men standing in front of them.

Chapter 285 The power of the werewolf slayer

After running at full speed for about two minutes, Jake, Geo, Alex and Peter now stood in front of the huge spiralling tower like mansion building that was almost at the edge of the huge city while several buildings were scattered around behind them from where they came from.

Only those that were quite rich could afford to live in the main iron fist city so that was why little mansions were scattered around the city with different vehicles moving around but they no longer moved around as chaos had erupted in the city.

And now, standing in front of the biggest mansion they had seen in the city, they could see about a thousand men in front of them while the mansion was directly behind them spanning about 5 acres or so.

"Uhm, werewolf slayer, how are we going to deal with this?" Peter asked as he gripped his sword tighter.

"What do you all want here?" A person was seen stepping forward out of the thousand men.

"We are here to see Blip." Alex replied.

"Haha! Do you think just anybody could see Blip?" He asked.

"Will you bring out Blip or should I raze down this whole building?" Jake asked with his voice slightly altered because of the mask as he stepped forward a bit.

"Ha! Do you see the am..." he stuttered as his head could be seen rolling on the floor while Jake was still standing a few metres away.

"I don't have time for all these shit. Either bring me Blip or y'all prepare to die!" Jake shouted as he lifted his sword above his head and immediately, it became encased in a yellow energy that was glowing brightly.

"Is that Qi?" Geo wondered aloud as he looked at Jake.

"So what's your response?" Jake asked again and all the thousand men all readied their weapons with a stance.

"It's four against a thousand so we say screw you!" Someone replied.

"Very well then." Jake replied and his eyes narrowed like a slit while the thousand men all charged towards them at once with Alex, Peter and Geo all taking a stance waiting for them.

"Poisonous Qi Slash!" Jake shouted as he swung his sword out and a humongous yellow crescent slash came out of Jake's sword and consumed the thousand men whole.

When the energy dispersed, they could all see the men on the floor with their limbs cut in different place while their eyes were shot out like they had seen a ghost or something.

'That took half of my Qi to cast but good thing I have a lot due to what I went through.' he thought as he looked up to see the drones still hovering around and all the people that owned the drones that saw what happened, had their mouths wide agape.

The big three, the top two independent Guild cause Blip had recalled back his drones and the news.

In their personal meeting room, the three big three were sitting watching what the drones were displaying and they didn't know how else they were supposed to react.

"Now do you think it is worth the stress of getting rid of them?" Bane asked.

Rex was seen clenching his fist tightly and a wave of fiery Qi erupted around his hand before it died down again and he continued watching on.

"Do you think if any one of us wanted to get rid of them, it would be difficult to?" Rivoock asked.

"It won't be impossible but it will be surely difficult. We didn't see what happened at Aurora when the werewolves struck so we underestimated them and thought Blip will get rid of them easily but now, we are all watching the same show aren't we?" Bane asked.

"I can't believe I'm agreeing with you on this but it won't be wise to get rid of them again." Rex said.

"Even you Rex?" Rivoock asked.

"I'm just being logical here! We need them in this war especially the werewolf slayer." Rex said as he looked at the fiery eyes staring down at the drones.

Even the strongest independent Guild in the whole world, had their leader and assistant watching the same show going on through the drones they sent out.

"What allowed us act fast was because of our Intel that the Fang hunters were already acting." The vice leader said.

The leader of the Phoenix guild sighed as he sat down looking at the camera almost feeling bored.

"I wouldn't have been interested in watching this earlier, but after seeing what he just did, I'm not very much interested."

"Do you think you could defeat him easily?" The vice leader asked.

"If I were to ask you the same question, what would be your answer?"

"It would be difficult especially since I haven't seen his full potential but I don't think it's impossible."

"Then I will call you delusional. Seeing this amount of strength right now, I already know who will win between the werewolf slayer and Blip and also who would win between him and you." The leader laughed loudly.

"Now will Blip come out or should I have to storm that building looking for him?!" Jake shouted out loud and not getting any response, Jake stepped forward and he suddenly halted as he could hear running noises.

'I guess they haven't even reached the limit of the amount of men they could summon.' he smiled as he could see about two thousand men appearing from the building with their weapons drawn.

"Werewolf Slayer! Do you notice their tactics?" Peter asked.

"Oh! I can't believe you have already noticed." Alex chuckled.

"Yes, they are trying to wear us down especially me." Jake replied as he looked at the men that were getting ready to charge.

"I think it's time I show you all the power and wrath of the werewolf slayer!" Jake shouted and he knelt down with his hands on the ground on either side of him.

{Void}

Right on cue, black shadow spread and rippled outwardly and out of it, dozens of beasts were seen rising with loud growls coming out of their mouths.

Those that accompanied Jake were shocked so were those that were watching what was going on from the drones as they all sat at the edge of their seats especially the phoenix guild leader as his eyes opened wide in shock.

"Attack them and don't keep any of them alive!" Jake shouted and all the fifty beasts dashed forward and tremendous speed.

Chapter 286 Two weeks ago!

Two weeks ago

After listening to Kate's plea, Jake swiftly left the room to get to work cause he knew he wasn't strong enough to handle the iron fist guild with his current strength so he needed to do something about it.

After getting himself treated, he made use of all the different portals that led to different beast planets. The first one he made use of was an orange portal which took him to a planet that contained advanced tier beasts.

Immediately he arrived, he could hear growling around him and looking around, he could see about twenty advanced tier beasts of the same race in front of them.

They looked like dogs of the old but much bigger with deadly sharp fangs on their faces and their tongues were wagging out while their mouths were currently drooling.

{Ding! Quest Alert!}

{Defeat the advanced tier beasts for rewards}

"Alright, let's get started then." Jake smiled and then opening up his inventory, a small pocket of space appeared beside him which only he could see.

Dipping his hands into it, a sword appeared in his hand and then clicking his fingers, he called out.

"Cloning!" And right on cue, puffs of smokes appeared all around him holding the same weapon as him.

"Not yet done. Void!" He called again and nine king tier beasts appeared all growling at the advanced tier beasts.

Sensing the tier of the king tier beasts, the advanced tiers all slowly backed away.

"Get them!" Jake ordered and his clones along with the king tier beasts all dashed towards the advanced tier beasts at a speed that was far beyond the advanced tier beasts.

Swinging his sword, one of the clones sliced the tongue off one of the beast before he impaled it in the head with his sword and then a gust of wind blew the clone in its face as a king tier beasts jumped towards the advanced tier beast and made a slash with its paws hitting it in its body sending it skidding.

The advanced tier beast charged forward towards the king tier beasts but then it suddenly halted as it couldn't see the king tier beast again. But appearing from behind, the king tier beast slammed its paws into the advanced tier beast sending it crashing into the ground before it quickly moved forward again.

Before the beast could get up, the king tier beast grabbed its neck with its teeth and then sank it in deeply causing blood to spurt out and the advanced tier beast was seen struggling to get out of the king tier beast's grip but it was almost impossible and then the life faded from the advanced tier beast's eyes before it fell down with a thud.

"Nice, the king tier beast's speed greatly surpasses the advanced tier beasts and it's strength is also greater which is giving the advanced tier beast trouble. I don't even have to lift a finger." Jake said as he could see his little army rounding up quickly.

After a savage battle, the advanced tier beasts were all dealt with and Jake just lost a single clone which wasn't a bother to him.

Walking towards the beasts, he began extracting the crystals with a smile on his face.

"These would be enough to get the core members better equipment." He smiled again when a ding interrupted him.

{Ding! Quest completed!}

"Oh? So even if I didn't kill them directly, my army kills also count as mine? Hehehe! That's good to know." He smiled.

"Perfect!" Jake said and then he opened up his status screen.

"It's going to take a little while longer to level up, but it's worth the wait." He said and then he clicked on his skill control.

{Control: Allows the user to get any form of living being under his control as long as they make eye contact. This skill cannot be broken unless the being under the user dies or the caster dies. (Note: Skill will only work on beings weaker than the caster)}

"Control Slot!" He called out.

{9/20 slot left}

"I have nine beasts under my control right now, so I have eleven more slots left." He smiled and then looked around.

"Too bad you all killed the advanced tier beasts totally, it would have been worth keeping them."

"Let's just keep moving." Jake ordered and he stepped forward with his little army following directly behind him.

They hadn't walked for five minutes when they encountered more advanced tier dog beasts. As usual, Jake let his army handle the twenty beasts but he gave them an order to leave eleven of them alive.

Within eight minutes or so, his army was done and he lost about two more clones and a king tier beast. Leaving him with a total of two clones and eight king tier beasts left.

Using his control skill on the advanced tier beasts, they were added to his army again giving him a total of 19 beasts under his control. This was how Jake kept going from planet to planet killing beasts and adding them to his army and also increasing his control slot letting him keep more beasts.

Through his travails, he didn't let his army handle the beasts alone as Jake also participated in solo battles alone while using purely his system skills trying to see if he could level them up.

In total, he managed to level up four system skills and his lightning attribute giving him more lightning skills to use and he also managed to increase his Qi pool but one thing he wasn't able to do, that was level up himself.

Finally hitting a dead end, Jake decided it was now time to attack the iron fist guild hard and that was what he did as he stood in front of the two thousand men with his hands on the ground.

{Void}

Right on cue, black shadow spread and rippled outwardly and out of it, dozens of beasts were seen rising with loud growls coming out of their mouths.

Those that accompanied Jake were shocked so were those that were watching what was going on from the drones as they all sat at the edge of their seats especially the phoenix guild leader as his eyes opened wide in shock.

"Attack them and don't keep any of them alive!" Jake shouted and all the fifty beasts dashed forward at tremendous speed.

Immediately, Chaos ensued in front of the huge mansion as beasts of different tiers were seen attacking the thousands of men and they were falling like flies.

Seeing the ferociousness of the beasts, it looked like there was none below the advanced tier as their speed and strength were on another level as they didn't stop causing dozens of men to fall by their claws and fangs.

"Werewolf slayer, did you make a deal with the devil or what? Cause I don't understand how the beasts aren't attacking us. I thought they were savage things that can't be controlled." Peter said as he could see another adventurer falling to a supposed king tier beast.

"Well contrary to our thoughts, he can control beasts now." Geo replied as he couldn't take his eyes off the fight.

"I don't think one of the beasts have perished yet." Alex said.

"That is because the thousand of men comprises C rank adventurers and none of them could handle advanced tier beasts on their own and now, king tier beasts are also there. It's natural for them to fall." Jake said.

"I'm not even worried about them, what I'm worried about is those that are watching us." Peter said as he looked at the drones still hovering around them with about two of them hovering around the other battlefield.

"Okay! The beasts can handle them, let's go!" Jake said and then he sped towards the building while an adventurer tried a sneak attack on him but the next instant, he couldn't move again before he dropped dead.

"I guess his speed is on another different level." Peter mumbled and then they finally stood in front of the huge towering door that led to the mansion.

"Allow me!" Alex said and then he jumped in front with his sword in front of him slashing the door but it just left a white scratch on it.

"What the hell?!" He said.

"Move!" Jake said and Alex did just that as Jake was seen speeding towards the door with his fist in front of him.

"Wait! That door is made of the strongest material known to man and that's why I was un..." he stuttered as a loud resounding bang was heard that rang out everywhere.

Before anybody could say anything, another one followed as Jake began pounding the door with his fist one after another leaving dent after dent on the door.

"This same fist was the one I used to pound that legendary tier beast with, I refuse to believe that a door is stronger than the skull of a legendary tier beast!" Jake said and then he moved back a bit infusing his hand with Qi and then exploded towards the door giving it a good strong punch causing a huge hole to appear in the door wide enough for a human to fit in.

Entering in, they were met with the side of a wide room with around five hundred men standing there holding all sorts of weapons. The part of the door that Jake smashed, had been sent flying into some of the men and walking in, he could see the five hundred men holding different weapons of their choice and a stern look on their faces.

The room had tables and chairs scattered around it that had bottles on it. It looked like the men had been having fun drinking and enjoying themselves when they had been told an attack was going on.

Looking to the right, they could see a staircase that led up above them.

"Seems like our Intel was right." Peter said.

"It would be right after all, I gathered the information myself." Alex replied.

"Remind me what you are both yapping about." Jake asked.

"This base, it has three floors and each of the floor has different dangers. The lower floor which we are standing on, has about a thousand men that go about their businesses and they also do their training here and take up quests." Alex explained and looking around, Jake could see a huge quest board hung by the side.

"This floor comprises mostly D rank and C rank adventurers. Then the middle floor, the floor has around a thousand men which mostly has more of B rank adventurers and less of C rank adventurers.

Then the upper floor which is where Blip would be with his family, it has different rooms where they would stay and all that. And it also has a huge meeting room which I'm sure that will be where Blip would be with his strongest fighters of twelve."

"Twelve strongest fighters? I thought that would be Clark." Jake said.

"That was the vice leader because Blip trusted him but just like we have our core members, these twelve serve as the guild's core members and they are all A rank adventurers." Alex replied.

"I didn't know you all made your research properly." Jake said.

"Of course we know how hotheaded you are and you won't make your findings about where you want to go so we decided to do it for you to make your job somewhat easier." Peter said.

Those watching from the drones, were all impressed by the information gathering of the Fang hunters as they watched from their drones that were now spread out around the room waiting to see what would happen.

"Well, that doesn't..." Jake was about to say when a loud ding resounded in his head.

{Quest Alert!}

{Host has decided to attack the guild that dared to touch his own guild, but has discovered different challenges. Overcome them for rewards. But be warned, this won't be easy.}

'Huh? A question mark? The last time I received this, was when that Beta werewolf attacked the academy, after that I don't I received a quest like this.' he thought and then a loud shout interrupted him.

"Enough of waiting around! Attack!" Someone shouted and then the hundreds of men were seen charging at the four that stood in front of them.

Chapter 288 We are here now!

"Enough of waiting around! Attack!" Someone shouted and then the hundreds of men were seen charging at the four that stood in front of them.

"I guess I should also stop wasting time here." Jake said and then lifted his hand that began to sparkle and crackle while sparks of lightning were hitting the ground. Read latest stories on My Virtual Library Empire

Slamming his hand on the lightning dispersed hitting the men in front and paralysing them a bit.

"Finish them!" Jake calmly said and the remaining three quickly jumped in front.

"Gladly!" Alex said as he swung his sword quickly dissecting an adventurer's head before he moved quickly to the next.

'I will have to refrain from using my visual Qi here otherwise dad would recognize me. I recognize the symbol on one of the drones there so I should refrain from drawing more attention to our guild until Jake is strong enough to face them.' he thought and then sweeping his leg, he released a small burst of Qi that caused some of the men to fall.

Peter performed a flip and landed his foot on the head of a man causing him to fall to his knees then using his knee, Peter sent the man flying and crashing into the others.

Those watching were seeing the strength of the Fang hunters as even a single member was able to send grown up men flying with a single hit even though they were using Qi which further cemented the fear they had for the guild.

"I thought it was only the werewolf slayer we had to worry about, but I wasn't informed that their other members were monsters." Rivock said tensely.

"You still feel confident that it would be easy to them out? We haven't even seen Head General Humfree fight in so long and we all know his strength from the first war." Bane said.

"I'm not worried about that, what I'm worried about is what kind of weird power that werewolf slayer is using. His skills are beyond what I have ever seen." Rex said as he kept an eye on the huge TV displaying what was going on in the fight.

"Agreed. And that's more reason to draw them closer rather than pushing them away." Bane said.

"How are we going to do that now?" Rex asked.

"Leave that to me, I know how to bring them over here." Bane chuckled and then he went back to watching was going on.

Back at the fight happening, Geo was seen fighting skillfully with his axe and him managing to block with his huge armour that he always wore on him.

Although he was fast, the heavy armour was slightly restricting and reducing his speed. Smashing his axe on a man's hand causing him to drop his weapon, he had used his axe to slash his head off.

Because of your selfish leader, my best friend is dead!" Geo shouted in anger as he pushed off from his position and then used his axe to immediately block a strike heading for him and then pivoting sharply on one foot, he avoided another but a third strike landed on his cheek drawing blood.

"I thought most of you lots were weak and not skillful." Geo chuckled then swirling his Qi around his feet, he dashed towards the man that almost took his life and swung his axe from above but the man had swiftly blocked it.

Geo had quickly swung his second axe from below but kicking the axe away, he jumped backwards just in time avoiding it with a smirk on his face.

Geo took a stance wiping the sweat off his face when he saw the smile on the man's face in front of him widen and Jake who was at the side, suddenly had a frown on his face when he saw someone sneaking up on Geo.

"Step Shift!" He called and lifting a foot up, he was suddenly behind Geo then he quickly grabbed the man's hand tightly while the man in front of Geo suddenly had a panicked look on his face.

"I'm not surprised by your actions of attacking from back, after all your leader is a coward too." Jake said and then Geo turned around to see Jake holding a man by the hand then still using one hand that was holding onto the man, he lifted him up before slamming him back down forcefully breaking the flooring beneath their feet totally while also knocking the air out of the man's mouth.

"That is more like our strong leader!" Peter shouted before he performed a roundhouse kick sending a man flying into a wall.

"I think it's high time I joined this fight to speed things up." Jake said.

Then like a blur, no one could see Jake again as he moved from one place to another slashing and slicing men down with his blade. He was causing total destruction everywhere he went before he performed a backflip several times landing in the spot he stood earlier.

Looking outwardly, he could see that the five hundred men had been reduced to around two hundred but Peter and the rest were currently being overwhelmed.

"I need to get to the upper floor now!" Jake said and then he charged forward again trying to navigate around the battlefield to get to the stairs.

"I leave them to you guys!" He shouted as he was at the foot of the stairs when the men that Alex and the rest were facing turned around to Jake and then like as if their minds were connected, they charged towards him leaving Alex and the rest behind.

"Shit!" Alex said and then swirling his Qi around his feet, he exploded from his position breaking the flooring totally but he was still far away as they had gotten to where Jake was and they all raised their weapons about to clash it against Jake.

But then all of a sudden, they were unable to see him again. Looking around, they could see the werewolf slayer standing around two metres away from them with a sword in his hand.

"I guess if I want to ascend, I need to take you all out." Jake said.

"No need to do that, we are here now!" A voice was heard coming from behind him.

Chapter 289 The System Creators

"I guess if I want to ascend, I need to take you all out." Jake said.

"No need to do that, we are here now!" A voice was heard coming from behind him.

Stepping through the hole Jake had made, were Sophia, Sunny and Wilfred still with their masks on and their weapons at hand.

"Go and take care of what you want to take care of, we will handle this." Wilfred said and then he dashed towards the men without giving them much time to react as he slammed his sword into a man's head impaling it before he kicked the body off his sword sending it flying towards the others.

Before he quickly lifted his sword in front of him just in time because a spear had been heading his way and before he could move, he saw the spear user being flung several feet.

Then Sunny was seen there with his hand out stretched in a punching posture before he quickly turned around and unleashed a swift crescent kick causing the man's leg to buckle and then he got knocked out.

"Do you still need an invitation before you go?!" Sophia asked Jake and then she looked around and picked a sword off the ground while tapping the gauntlet around her hand and then it turned into a sword.

'I think I enjoy using two swords at once.' Sophia smiled then she swiftly moved towards a man and swung her sword sideways but the man skillfully blocked it.

What he didn't account for was the tier and strength of the sword Sophia had swung as his sword broke into several pieces before a roundhouse kick from her sent him flying and tumbling.

"I guess they got it handled." Jake said and then he immediately began running towards the stairs.

"Wait for me!" Alex said as he swirled his Qi towards his feet and then he exploded strongly from his position causing the men that wanted to attack him to tumble backwards.

Some of the men were trying to stop him but he was able to bulldoze his way slicing apart anything or body that stood in his way.

"Heads up!" Peter shouted and looking up, he could see two men being flung his way and jumping up, he kicked them away from his path causing them to crash forcefully into the ground and then he continued on his way trying to catch up to Jake. Find exclusive stories on My Virtual Library Empire

Jake had already begun ascending the staircase quickly not even one at a time, he was jumping up the stairs trying to cover as much stairs as he could.

After a minute of jumping, he could see a door in his way and kicking it off its hinges, he could see a long hallway that went straight ahead with another door at the end of the hallway. While about a dozen men were seen in front of him.

The hallway was wide enough to let the dozen men stand side by side. Looking up, he could see two of the drones hovering above him.

"These things are quite annoying." He mumbled and then all the men in front of him unleashed the Qi with their weapons at once.

"Oh! You can all use Qi which means you are at least at the C or B rank level." He said and without giving a response, the two men charged forward at him.

One of the men swung his sword at his neck but he just casually leaned backwards avoiding it but then a thrust was made towards his stomach. He still kicked the spear from touching him then a swing was heading for his stomach again.

Shooting out an invisible Qi shard, it managed to change the trajectory of the sword from hitting him then he performed a downward slash hitting the man in front of him sending him skidding.

"Oh! You can still use it to protect yourself." He said before he swiftly moved back again just in time to avoid a strike to his head then he hit the man in his gut sending him flying and crashing into those that stood at the back.

'If they are B rank adventurers, they don't give me much trouble individually but together, they are quite troublesome.' he thought.

"Why aren't you going all out?" Zee asked.

"Are you crazy? I'm trying to conserve my energy because I don't know how strong those at the upper level are." He replied before he took a stance.

"But you are right, enough of playing around."

{Stun strike (lv3)} he activated. Stun strike was one of the skills he managed to level up in his two weeks break and the leveled up version was quite good as the effect was being seen currently.

All the dozen men were now seen standing still unable to move as their faces were scrunched up in an attempt to free themselves but they were unable to.

"The leveled up Stun strike allows me to stun a wide range of people but they are all limited to my sight. Instead of freezing just one person like the previous time, I can now freeze countless people that are in my line of sight." He explained as if the men could understand him.

Those watching were now more confused by what the werewolf slayer was saying but one person that was watching had his eyes widened after hearing what was being said.

"Is anything wrong?" The vice leader to the phoenix guild asked as he could see his leader's facial expression.

"Th... that... how... how the hell is this possible?" The Phoenix guild leader asked in shock as he shot out of his seat while staring at the screen with wide eyes.

"What is wrong?" The vice leader asked again.

"I wasn't sure at first after seeing him display some of his skills, but now I'm sure that he is using the system. But how does he have it?" The leader wondered aloud.

"The...the same system we were supposed to deliver t... to them?" The vice leader stuttered.

"Yes! The same one that fool lost. S... so the orb landed in his pocket that day? This is bad, depending on what level the werewolf slayer is, Blip is surely done for."

"But wouldn't they notice?" The vice leader asked.

"I don't think they will. After all we were the ones who created it so I was able to notice the skills there. But we need to get that system back even if it means killing the werewolf slayer, we will do it!" The leader of the Phoenix guild said.

"Kill him? Are we watching the same thing right now? If truly he has the system, then he will have a vast arsenal of skills. I know you are strong but I'm sure he will also give you trouble."

"Ha! He won't because he isn't even strong enough to touch a hair on my body yet. Did you think I produced one system that day?"

Chapter 290 A Strong one!

"But you are right, enough of playing around."

{Stun strike (lv3)} he activated. Stun strike was one of the skills he managed to level up in his two weeks break and the leveled up version was quite good as the effect was being seen currently.

All the dozen men were now seen standing still unable to move as their faces were scrunched up in an attempt to free themselves but they were unable to.

"The leveled up Stun strike allows me to stun a wide range of people but they are all limited to my sight. Instead of freezing just one person like the previous time, I can now freeze countless people that are in my line of sight." He explained as if the men could understand him.

Taking a stance with one foot in front of the other and one behind him, Jake swirled his Qi to his feet which gave him an explosive burst of speed as he was seen moving from left and right swinging his sword like the pro he was while the men were standing still unable to do anything.

Within four seconds of the stun strike being active, he had caused damages beyond anyone's imagination as Jake was seen standing where he stood earlier breathing in and out heavily while the men were all seen dropping to their feet one by one and finally, they had all dropped down dead while blood was seen on Jake's mask making him more frightening.

"Now that is taken..." he stuttered as he could hear footsteps heading his way and then bursting through the door, were hundreds of men.

"I guess this is the second phase huh." He chuckled and then took a stance again as he could see the hundreds of C and B rank adventurers heading his way.

He was about to dash forward when he heard footsteps from behind him again and then two men were seen standing behind him with about a hundred more men behind them.

"Backup has arrive werewolf slayer!" Peter smiled and then from the side, were glass windows could be seen, something crashed into it and someone was seen rolling on the floor before he slowly stood up.

"Oh? The gang is here." He chuckled.

"Must you always make an entrance?" Peter asked.

"That is more like my style you know." He replied. "So what are we doing here? Aren't we heading for Blip again?"

Alex just pointed behind him and the person turned around to see hundreds of men all looking at them strangely.

"Oh? Now this is tricky." Harry chuckled then he looked up to see the drones still hovering above them.

'Alex and me are both restricted from using visual Qi as they are watching, but I can still do this.' he thought with a smile on his face as he could see the hundreds of men charging at them with a dozen each running side by side.

"I can see what you are planning on doing but I will advice not to." Peter shouted out. "Let's handle it the old fashioned way."

"Agreed!" Alex said and then charged forward and in a split second, he collided with the men and he began swinging his sword carelessly not caring about his body as their weapons weren't affecting his body at all. Find adventures at My Virtual Library Empire

"Let's support our leaders!" The hundred men behind shouted at once and they all charged forward.

'This hallway is too narrow, they will be restricted in their movements.' Jake thought as he looked around.

"Har! Do what you wanted to do earlier now!" Jake shouted and Harry smiled as he jumped forward into the midst of the iron fist guild men and then he lifted his foot.

"Perish y'all!" He shouted and slammed his foot into the ground sending shockwaves of Qi around and a huge explosion occurred sending bullets of Qi towards the enemy killing them at once but that was not the only thing.

The explosion also caused the walls to the side to crumble giving the men more space.

"Much better." Jake smiled.

"Time to destroy this puny guild!" Peter shouted as he was seen in the air before he crashed down on a man's head caving it in.

Swinging his axe, it clashed with a B rank adventurer's sword causing a loud ring to occur and Peter being pushed back.

"Oh?! A strong one, I like." Peter said as he swirled the Qi around his body to his arm giving him a strength boost then he pushed the man off causing him to stumble backwards and Peter was seen heading his way.

But the man had quickly regained his footing as he swiftly ducked avoiding the wide strike to his head then he stabbed Peter with his sword causing a small wound but the sword was unable to go in.

"Did you think I wouldn't have Qi protecting the rest of my body?" Peter asked then he gave the man a knee kick flinging his head backwards and he was about to dash forward when a C rank adventurer appeared in his way in the middle of a thrust.

Condensing his Qi around his axe, Peter slashed at the spear cutting it cleanly.

"What the?!" The man was about to say when Peter whacked him in the head with his axe sending him tumbling and bouncing on the floor.

"I'm not after you, it's him I'm after!" He shouted as he could see the B rank adventurer doing something weird causing him to halt his steps.

Then with a grin on his face, the B rank adventurer raised his hand up and chuckled.

"You should pay attention to your su..." he stuttered as he could see a hand on the floor with blood on the floor then looking at his hand, he could see that his hand had been cleanly cut off with blood spurting out of it.

"How?!" The B rank adventurer wondered.

"It took a long time and a lot of battles before I finally got the type of my old axe back. And did you think I haven't fought against you iron fist scum before?" Peter chuckled. "I knew what you were about to do so I used my axes active skill to send a wind strike your way."

"Die!" Peter shouted as he condensed his Qi around his axe causing it to glow bright then he bolted towards the still stunned B rank adventurer and then his head was seen rolling on the floor.

Before he could move to the next person, he suddenly felt like he was unable to move as he was rooted in a single spot unable to move and a single man was seen walking out of the doors with his hands in his pocket and a dangerous expression on his face as his brows were furrowed. While the air around him suddenly got thick and quite suffocating.

"You fang hunters scum are quite troublesome and I don't know why Blip wouldn't let me come handle you guys earlier, but now I'm here to put an end to your little parade." The man said and then several visible shards made out of Qi appeared hovering around the man.

Swinging his hand forward, they all headed for Peter at tremendous speed that he wouldn't be able to avoid it in time.
