

MY SLAYER SYSTEM: RISE TO SUPREMACY

Chapter 291 Make you remember me!

"You fang hunters scum are quite troublesome and I don't know why Blip wouldn't let me come handle you guys earlier, but now I'm here to put an end to your little parade." The man said and then several visible shards made out of Qi appeared hovering around the man.

Swinging his hand forward, they all headed for Peter at tremendous speed that he wouldn't be able to avoid it in time but before it hit him, a sword was seen in front of the shards.

It glowed fiercely then a huge wall made of Qi appeared in front of Peter with the shards crashing into it without a single dent on it and then a fiery red haired individual with a mask on his face stepped forward.

Looking around for what saved him, Peter could see Alex heading his way.

"You do know I could have handled that myself right?"

"Oh really? Then why are you still rooted in your spot?" Alex asked and then he picked his sword back up.

"Anyway, be careful, I feel like he is quite strong." Peter said.

"Quite? How insolent!" The man shouted in anger.

"Oh pipe down, it's not like I'm the one who's going to take care of you." Alex said.

"What do y..." the man was about to ask when a hit to his gut sending him bouncing around and then coming to a halt in front of the door that led upstairs.

Then standing in front of the two individuals, was an individual with a wolf mask on his face.

The man was seen slowly standing up with a chuckle which turned into a maniacal laugh.

"The werewolf slayer, you decided to attack us with those weaklings of yours. I guess you have been overestimating your strength far too much and it has gotten to your head."

"Where's Blip?" Jake asked.

"Blip?" The man asked then he burst into a laugh again. "You are looking for Blip? Lemme ask you this, how strong do you think Blip actually is? No! Let me rephrase this, how strong do you think the core members of the guild are?"

"Do you think I care? Whoever stands in my path will also join Blip in hell!" Jake declared and then a silver coloured gauntlet appeared in his hands sitting comfortably.

"Your arrogance is beginning to piss me off slightly so I need to put you in your shoes. Let me give you a small warning, don't hold back cause I'm a core member of the guild and I won't hold back at all!" The man said and it didn't take a second later before he exploded towards Jake with immense speed that Jake was having trouble locating him.

Then the man was suddenly seen coming towards Jake from the side with a kick to his rib and as if sensing him, he had quickly activated Step Shift to get away just in time as a sharp sound was heard coming from the leg and then the small wall that was still slightly hanging broke off totally.

"You are fast! And you have good instincts, I like it!" The man smiled and then he pushed off again.

'Darn it! He's quite fast, if it wasn't because of Qi sense, I would have been hit already.' Jake thought and then he could sense the man coming from above him with his hands raised above his head trying to hammer onto Jake's head. Find adventures on My Virtual Library Empire

Without wasting time, Jake crossed his hands in an X shape above his head blocking the strike while his knees bent and the marble flooring was beginning to crack.

'And he is strong too! This... this is the strength of a single core member?' he thought and then supplementing his hands with Qi, he managed to push the man off who backflipped a couple of times before landing smoothly and then he pushed off again towards Jake.

"It's time I go back to my roots." He smiled and he could see that the man was almost close so he stepped back a bit to create distance as the man had thrown a punch.

Then pivoting to the side, he avoided another strike and before the man could react again, Jake pushed off using Qi then he swiftly struck the man on his head sending him flying and crashing into the others.

The big three watching were now looking at the screen keenly as they recognized the technique the werewolf slayer just used.

"Isn't that the military triple threat technique?" Bane asked.

"It looks like it." Rivock replied.

"No! That's definitely it." Rex affirmed.

"So how does he know it? Was he a student of the academy or is the werewolf slayer a military personnel?" Rivock asked.

"Who knows." Bane shrugged and then they continued watching.

When Jake had struck the man earlier, Peter was finally able to move and he along with Alex were currently back in action as they were currently handling the B rank adventurers while the C rank adventurer that made up the group had all been defeated.

'That man, I don't know if I'm overthinking it but I feel like he is an A rank adventurer.' Peter thought as he ducked avoiding a strike to his head then he released a strong hook to his opponent's rib which made him kneel in pain.

Lifting his axe, he smashed it against the man's head before kicking him away.

"Who's next?" He shouted and then he dashed towards another man that was about to kill a member of the Fang hunters that was on his knees.

Using his axe to block, Peter stomped on the man's foot before lifting him with a single hand and smashing him on the floor.

'Being in the presence of that man, made me feel weak, I don't want to ever feel that type of feeling again! It almost reminded me of that Beta werewolf, I don't accept to feel that again!' he thought and then kicked a man in the head causing him to skid away.

Unknown to him that another man was behind him and he was in the middle of a swing when Peter turned around to feel his face being hit which caused him to skid a bit and a cracking sound was heard.

Looking down, he could see his mask totally broken and then looking up, he could see the man dashing towards him. With anger, Peter lifted his axe and exploded towards the man who was shocked by his speed and then a slashing sound was heard followed by the thudding sound of the man's dead body.

He was just about to move to the next person when footsteps was heard coming from the door and then walking through the door was a young individual and it only took a second for the man's face to click in Peter's head.

The young man surveyed the whole hallway and he had a dissappointed look on his face as he could see their men falling like flies and then he saw the werewolf slayer battling with a core member of the guild.

"I guess I have to join in then." He said with a sigh when a shadow was cast above him and looking up, he could see Peter in front of him.

"Do you remember me?" Peter asked.

"Nope! I only remember strong people and since I don't recall you, it means you are weak and if I also don't recognize you, it means you are part of the enemy." He replied and then he unsheathed his longsword from his back while Peter readied his axes.

"Then I just have to make you remember me Andrew!" Peter shouted and dashed towards the man in front of him.

Chapter 292 You are next!

After using the Triple Threat technique sending the core away, the werewolf slayer was seen running towards where he sent the man to when something fast was seen flying his way.

Without wasting time or slowing down, he had jumped up and given the thing a kick sending it flying away from him but the core member was seen swinging his sword from above but Jake was quick to react as he lifted his hands that were covered in gauntlets blocking it.

But he was seen skidding from the strength of the hit then a sharp sound was heard heading for his forehead knowing what it was, he had quickly ducked down then he swept his leg around sending a wave of Qi hitting the core member back.

"I got to say, you are as strong as they said you were. Your strength wasn't exaggerated one bit but I don't know, you still feel weak to me." The core member smirked.

"Oh really?!" Jake chuckled loudly then he clicked on a tab in his system.

{Inventory: Advanced tier sword}

"I guess I really should stop holding back then. After all, I'm in a hurry." He said and then the sword appeared in his hand and the core member was on guard.

{Stun strike} he activated. Continue reading at My Virtual Library Empire

{Stun strike successful, opponent stunned!}

Jake smiled as he could see the core member unable to move from his position no matter how hard he tried he struggled a lot and it was evident as the core member's face was seen twitching.

Then Jake raised his sword above his head, while infusing it with Qi making it glow bright yellow and the core member was seen gulping as he felt his body not moving at all but there was only one thing that was working.

"What did you do to me?! Why can't I move?" He shouted.

"You will know now." Jake smiled and then he was ready. "Mini Qi Slash!" he shouted and swung his sword quickly and a small slash made out of Qi was seen heading towards the core member who had his eyes widened in surprise.

In less than a second, it crashed into him sending him flying and crashing into the ground with part of his body riddled with injuries that he was unable to stand up properly from his laying position.

"Huh? That didn't kill you?" Jake wondered aloud as he could see the core member twitching on the floor with his eyes widened.

Unknown to Jake, when the core member saw him lifting his sword, he already knew what was coming as he had seen the same thing when the werewolf slayer killed the thousand men with the same technique.

So he quickly raised a Qi shield blocking part of the slash but he still got injured from the force of the slash and he went tumbling on the ground crashing into some of the men.

Looking around, Jake could see that the fight between the B rank adventurers versus the members of the Fang hunters was coming to an end rapidly as only about a dozen B rank adventurers were left and only a handful of Fang hunters members.

The core member was seen raising himself from the ground painfully while coughing out a mouthful of blood and then he knelt down with his hands clutched around his stomach and then looking up to see a shadow cast above him, he could see the dreadful mask in front of him.

The core member began chuckling painfully while coughing slightly and then the chuckle turned into a maniacal laugh before he spat towards Jake who simply sidestepped avoiding it.

"You want to kill me? Do it! Hahaha! Do it! But let me tell you, as soon as you walk towards that door and go up the stairs, you will be dead." The core member said.

"You have seen my strength, although I'm not being overconfident, I can possibly handle whatever happens." Jake replied.

"Hahaha! Humans and being delusional! You haven't seen anything yet, just finish me already because I know that as soon as you push further, you will be wiped out because you don't know what you have put your hands into. Do you know who Blip is? Who the core members are?" The core member asked.

"Just finish him already, we don't have much time here." Zee said.

"Right!" Jake said and then lifted his sword above his head and swung it towards the man's neck swiftly.

"I hope you rot in hell after me." The core member smirked and then his head was seen rolling on the floor.

'I can't help but feel scared a little by what he said. I felt his strength and I know that he is strong enough to be an A rank adventurer. If the remaining eleven core members are like this, then it will surely be troublesome.' he thought and then he looked around to see the Fang hunters still struggling against the B rank adventurers.

"I can't leave them struggling here, I need to help before I go ahead and deal with Blip." Jake said and then he bolted towards a B rank adventurer that stood at the back watching everybody.

Swinging his sword, it clanged with the B rank's own with a ringing noise and the B rank adventurer was seen skidding a bit.

"Werewolf slayer? But how... the core member!" He stuttered as he looked around to see the head of the core member on the floor.

"And you are next!" Jake shouted and performed a swift triple threat technique and he impaled his sword into the neck of the adventurer going a metre deep and spurting blood out.

"Haha! With that weak stab, how do you expect to..." he stuttered as his eyes widened and foam began pouring out of his mouth before he fell with a thud.

"You were saying?" Jake chuckled and then dashed towards the next person.

Chapter 293 What a real punch feels like!

"Do you remember me?" Peter asked.

"Nope! I only remember strong people and since I don't recall you, it means you are weak and if I also don't recognize you, it means you are part of the enemy." He replied and then he unsheathed his longsword from his back while Peter readied his axes.

"Then I just have to make you remember me Andrew!" Peter shouted and dashed towards the man in front of him.

Before Peter could get close, the man swung his longsword from below towards him and with quick reflexes, Peter jumped back avoiding it before he swirled his Qi to his feet and dashed towards the man explosively.

Swinging his axe from the side, the man turned around and blocked with his sword before pushing it away and throwing a kick towards Peter from above but he had swiftly blocked with his remaining axe but his knees bent and the ground broke beneath his feet broke from blocking the strike.

Swirling his Qi to his hands, he managed to push the foot away before he could move, something crashed into him sending him skidding a few metres with a grunt and then a mouthful of blood poured out his mouth.

'Darn it! It feels like he has grown stronger than the last time we fought.' Peter thought in pain as he clutched his axes tighter and could see the man zipping around from side to side before he came towards Peter very fast.

Twisting around, he made a thrust towards Peter and he had quickly brought his axe in front of him blocking the hit but he was been pushed back and his axe was beginning to crack.

'when did he have this monstrous strength? Was he always this strong? No! We had gone full out the other time and were even but now, it feels like he is on a whole different level.' He thought.

"What happened? Do you feel overwhelmed by my strength?" The man asked.

With a grunt, Peter pushed him off then he swung his leg from the side releasing a roundhouse kick towards the man's head that sent him tumbling on the ground.

Without wasting time, Peter quickly dashed towards the man who was now getting up to see Peter in front of him and within a split second, his hand rested on the man's stomach with a smile plastered on his face.

"Gotcha!" He said and then with a twist of his palm, he shouted. "Qi blast!" And the man was sent flying towards the door that led to the stairs.

His back hit the door breaking it totally and was still been flung away before his back hit a wall stopping him from flying again.

"Phew! Good thing his armour from earlier was broken, if not I was worried that my strike would have reflected back to me." He mumbled when he could see the man walking towards him with a trickle of blood running down his mouth and his palm clutched around his abdomen.

"Now I remember you!" Andrew said with a slight smirk. "You are that fool from the subpar guild known as the Fang hunters that fought with me cause of an armour. Now that I think of it, I should have realized that you would be here considering the guild that's attacking."

"Good thing you remembered me cause this time, I will make sure I kick your arse!" Peter declared.

"You shouldn't be so sure of your declaration you know, I made a mistake by leaving my job incomplete. But this time, I won't make the same mistake twice!" Andrew declared and he clenched his sword tighter.

"Bring it on!" Peter smiled and without warning, Andrew exploded from his position strongly breaking the marble flooring beneath his feet totally.

He swung his sword from the side releasing a small Qi slash that was seen heading Peter's way.

Coating his axe with Qi, Peter struck the slash in the middle breaking it totally before he saw a sword heading towards his face. He quickly moved his face just in time as the sword only grazed his cheeks drawing blood.

Before he could regain his footing, Andrew was seen sweeping his foot on the floor releasing a small Qi wave that caused Peter to stumble backwards and then he made use of the opportunity to swiftly swing his sword hitting Peter on his armour but only the strength of the hit sent him skidding as his armour was left untouched without even a scratch on it.

"I guess that man wasn't lying when he said this baby can take a hit even from a low king tier beast." Peter chuckled as Andrew was seen standing bewildered.

"And you call yourself Blip's son, aren't you supposed to hit harder? How do you want your dad to feel when you hit like a little kid?" Peter asked as he exploded from his position strongly and fast that he was seen in front of Andrew with his hand in the middle of a swing. Your journey continues at My Virtual Library Empire

"Let me show you what a real, strong punch feels like!" He shouted as his hand that was covered with Qi to the extent it was slightly vibrating crashed into Andrew's armour breaking it totally and sending him flying several feet away to the extent he landed at the foot of the stairs that led to the floor they were on currently.

'Now that took up all my Qi, if he still gets back up, I only have my skills in axe usage and my armour to protect me.' he thought worriedly as he clenched his fist in and out before he looked up to see Andrew coughing out blood in a kneeling position while his hand was on his stomach in pain.

'Darn! That hit totally ruptured my organs and Qi making me unable to gather Qi properly. He sure hits hard, but how am I supposed to take care of him now when I could barely stand?' Andrew thought as he looked around to see his sword laying a few feet away from him.

Standing up and stretching his hand so he could pick his sword, he could see a foot on it and then an individual bent down to pick it back up for him.

"I still have to make you pay for attacking us suddenly back at Raven city." A fiery red haired individual with a slightly cracked mask said and then he swung his sword very fast.

'Is this how I'm going to die? By the hands of the Fang hunters?' Andrew thought as he stared at the sword heading towards his face when a loud bang resounded in the hallway and then Alex froze.

Then he fell down with a thud in front of Andrew who was now confused, stunned and surprised by what was going on.

Chapter 294 Destroy him!

A loud bang was heard resounding in the hallway that caused everyone to look up from their fights and then they could hear a thud as a core member of the Fang hunters was seen hitting the ground with a thud.

Looking at what or who caused the bang, they could see a single man in front of the door with his hands held out and something like a smoke coming off of it. Then he put his hands into his pocket and calmly walked in the middle of the room.

"I'm so disappointed in you Andrew, you were asked to come get Finn so we could regroup back with Blip and wait for these pests to come get crushed but not only did you let Finn die, you also were about to get killed yourself. Tch tch tch!" The man said while shaking his head in disappointment.

All of a sudden in the room, a pressure suddenly washed over everyone that they were finding it hard to breathe.

'What's this feeling? Is this Qi?' Peter wondered as he felt slightly suffocated.

"This... this... this is a pure killing intent, I have felt it once from dad when someone or something pissed him off." Andrew mumbled as he broke out in a slight sweat.

"What... what did you do to Alex?" A voice was heard asking in low voice almost like a growl of some sorts and then a single individual walked out with a wolf mask on his face and his hand tightly clenched on his sword.

"Oh? The one and only werewolf slayer! Hahaha! I have always wanted to meet you, I'm a big fan of your works especially when you took care of that Beta werewolf alone and then you killed Clark." The man chuckled then a huge frown appeared on his face.

"I said, what did you do to Alex?!" Jake asked again with a dangerous glint in his eyes and his words came out almost like a roar.

"Now now! If I were to tell you, it won't be as fun now would it? We still haven't talked about how you killed Clark." The man said again as he stepped forward.

"You know, when we found out that the Fang hunters were attacking, I just knew that you would show up so I begged and pleaded with Blip to allow me the privilege of dissecting you myself with my sword."

"Do I know you?" Jake asked but with anger.

"No, you don't know me actually but you made a personal enemy of me when you killed my beloved cousin Clark! Ever since then, I made a vow that I will skin you alive whenever I saw you."

"I'm still confused about something you know." Jake said and then his posture relaxed a little. "Why do you iron fist pests always almost say the same line? It's getting almost cliché. You appear, threaten to kill me, but then die yourself."

"Oh I like this dude's confidence and aura." The leader of the Phoenix guild that was watching the fight through a drone said with a chuckle.

"Oh?! But I'm different you see, for I will really kill you. And about your friend, if you want to know what happened to him and how to save him, then you will have to kill me first."

"I was already planning on that after doing whatever it is you did with Alex!" Jake said and then his legs began sparkling while lightning was seen coating his feet.

"Brace yourself!" He said and then like a lightning bolt, Jake pushed off towards the man that those watching were unable to see him as he was moving like a blur.

Coming from the side, with his foot raised about to strike the man, was Jake as his foot was about to connect when suddenly, a distortion occurred and the man was no where to be seen.

Before Jake could realize what was going on, he felt a sharp pain in his arm before blood spurted out then a foot got implanted in his stomach sending him reeling in pain.

"What the hell?!" Harry said in surprise as all the B rank adventurers from the iron fist guild had been dealt with and they were all resting while watching the fight that was unfolding.

"It's not over yet!" Jake was heard shouting and then he performed the triple threat technique so fast that the man was unable to react when his sword crashed into his body sending him skidding.

Before he could regain his footing, Jake was already in front of him going through the motion of primary guard but he was a tad bit slow as the distortion occurred again and Jake felt his head been grabbed and smashed into the ground hard causing it to crack slightly.

Then he felt his head been lifted and a cross from the side landed on his face sending him flying and bouncing on the ground hard while his mask cracked slightly from the strength of the hit.

"I told you right, I will take vengeance for the death of my cousin and I will make you suffer before I kill you!" The man said and the distortion was about to happen when he felt his legs unable to move making him stay rooted in a single place.

"I got to admit, you are strong and I don't know what strange powers or abilities you are using, but I know I will still win and I will make sure you tell me what you did to Alex!" Jake shouted as he felt a liquid dripping down his head but he didn't bother and then he lifted his hands.

"Qi fist!" He shouted and then a heavy sound was heard before something huge and heavy crashed into the man's gut causing him to throw both blood, spit and vomit up and then he was sent flying several feet.

"I got to say, this werewolf slayer is versatile in his fighting skills and abilities." Rex Slade commented as he could feel the pure anger burning off of Jake just from watching.

"Don't think it's over yet!" Jake shouted and then he performed the step shift and he got in front of the man that was already trying to stand up.

Grabbing him by the hair, he lifted him up before slamming him back down on the ground with much force that instead of cracking, it broke.

Then lifting his head back up, Jake performed a jab towards his face sending him skidding back and then activating two skills, {Step shift} and {Strength Surge} he suddenly got in front of the man and then he gave him a strong uppercut that sent the man flying up to the ceiling before using his head to break the concrete looking cement apart and flying up.

A huge hole could now be seen above everybody and then taking a peep, those that were watching downstairs along with the drones, they could see about ten men looking down on them and they each had a stern look on their faces.

"Found you!" Jake said and then he swirled all his Qi to his feet and bent his knees slightly before he jumped up high towards the hole and grabbing part of it, he propelled himself up and then landed in front of the ten men while the one he had given an uppercut earlier was seen laying on the floor unconscious.

Some weird noise was heard and then he could see the annoying drones flying up and hovering about monitoring what was about to happen.

"Werewolf slayer, I can see you did a lot to get to me." A man who was seated behind a desk with about nine men standing around him said.

Looking around, Jake could see that the room looked almost like an office of some kind with a desk and a chair at the back, a shelf on the side and different beast heads hung on the wall with different types of ornaments and jewelries hung around.

The man seated on the desk, had a scar across his left chin which gave him a menacing look to him and he had a long ponytail on his head with blue eyes staring right back at Jake. This was the one known as Blip, the leader of the iron fist guild that was part of the top three independent Guilds.

"So tell me, what do you want to see me for?" Blip asked.

"I'm here to get rid of you and wipe your guild off from the surface of the earth!" Jake replied and then Blip burst into a laugh. Read new chapters at My Virtual Library Empire

"Do you realize that you are in enemy territory? It will be so easy to kill you right now you do know right? After all, I'm part of the top three for a reason."

"And I'm also the leader of the Fang hunters for a reason!" Jake retorted back.

"I can see you have a suicide mission and would like to court death so I will give it to you if that's what you want. So how about we get all these over and done with?" Blip said with a smirk on his face and then turned to all the men in the room.

"Destroy him!" Right on cue, they all bolted towards Jake who held his sword tightly.

Chapter 295 Use my weapon

"I can see you have a suicide mission and would like to court death so I will give it to you if that's what you want. So how about we get all these over and done with?" Blip said with a smirk on his face and then turned to all the men in the room.

"Destroy him!" Right on cue, they all bolted towards Jake who held his sword tightly.

'There's no way I can do this alone, good thing I'm not alone!' he smirked and swiftly avoided a strike to his head before he jumped back just in time to avoid a chain that was swung towards him.

But another person was already in front throwing his fist out but luckily, 'Strength surge' was still active as Jake held the fist in its track without skidding an inch then he smashed his elbow on the hand bending it weirdly and then he jumped up before giving the man a strong kick sending him crashing into another man that was heading his way.

Before he could move, he felt some distortions in the air and swiftly equipped his sword just in time to begin hitting the shards heading his way.

He was occupied with the shards that he didn't realize that a man was now in front of him and he gave him a strong punch to the gut that made him skid a bit and before he could move again, someone else had already quickly appeared swinging his sword so quickly that it crashed into Jake.

The swing made him crash into the door that led to the room behind him flinging him into a wide hallway that was slightly different from the middle level.

"Shit! They aren't even giving me time to do what I want!" Jake mumbled and then he quickly went to his system as he could see two more people heading his way.

{Cloning} Jake activated and the men suddenly halted as they could see puff of smokes appearing all around Jake then a smile spread around Jake's face.

Immediately the smoke got dispersed, the men were shocked as they could see six werewolf slayer standing in front of them and there was no way they could tell them apart.

Those inside were wondering what was going on and the reason for the hesitation. That was when four of the Jakes quickly bolted towards the two men in front and released a punch with strength surge that was still active sending the men flying back into the room.

Then all the Jakes walked into the room with their hands holding their swords tightly while everybody were now weary seeing what was in front of them. Even Blip, was shocked out of his mind that he shot out of his seat.

Those watching from the drones were even more confused as they had different expressions on their faces. Even Rivock that was slightly disinterested earlier, on seeing the six werewolf slayers, was now interested.

"What type of ability does this werewolf slayer have? How... how is this possible?! Six werewolf slayers?!" Rex shouted in shock sitting at the edge of his seat confused.

"You see... if we weren't patient enough and attacked the Fang hunters, we would have had trouble. Not like I am saying that we wouldn't have won, but we would have lost a lot in the war. Just take a look at the iron fist guild." Bane said.

"It's like you have the ability to see the future or something." Rivock said.

"Now all we have to do is get him to our side, then I can study how his abilities work and possibly replicate them." Bane smirked.

Meanwhile, the phoenix guild leader was also shocked out of his wits looking at the screen.

"I'm sure that is the system's power, but can yours do what he just did?" The vice leader asked.

"Hell no! Have you seen me duplicate myself before? His system has really grown beyond my imaginations and I think mine is slightly inferior to his." The leader said.

"Are you still confident about attacking him?" The vice leader asked.

"I'm confident I can pull it off." The leader said then he went back to watching his screen. "But I don't know if Blip can survive this."

Immediately the Jakes walked into the room, they all took a stance. Before they charged forward, footsteps were heard coming from behind them and filtering into the room were Harry, Peter Wilfred and Sophia.

Looking at them, they looked almost exhausted as their bodies were riddled with injuries but nothing major and they all had a stern look on their faces.

"Hmm! Now this has become troublesome." Blip said and then he went back to his seat while letting the remaining nine men to stand in front with their weapons drawn.

"Don't bother wasting your times using those weak weapons, use my weapon!" Blip shouted at his men and some of them had confused expressions on their faces wondering what Blip meant.

But some of them understood the message well as they nodded their heads slightly. All of a sudden, those that were strong enough to sense it, felt a slight chill in the air as out of the nine men, six of them had their eyes narrowed and then their faces began to look different.

Blip was behind his seat smiling in excitement as he could see his men growing in size while the remaining three men slowly backed away. Those watching in the room and through the drones, all cursed at once as if their minds were linked.

"Blip you bastard! What have you done?"

Chapter 296 I think I made a mistake

"Don't bother wasting your times using those weak weapons, use my weapon!" Blip shouted at his men and some of them had confused expressions on their faces wondering what Blip meant.

But some of them understood the message well as they nodded their heads slightly. All of a sudden, those that were strong enough to sense it, felt a slight chill in the air as out of the nine men, six of them had their eyes narrowed and then their faces began to look different.

Blip was behind his seat smiling in excitement as he could see his men growing in size while the remaining three men slowly backed away.

And finally, the six men all stood around 7ft tall with fur all over their bodies and huge fangs protruding on their faces with their hands shaped like sharp deadly claws.

"They... they... they have turned into werewolves?!" One of the remaining three men shouted in shock as he slowly backed away.

Right on cue at once, all the werewolves opened their eyes that was now glowing bright yellow while a huge growl was heard coming from there jaws.

"Curses! They transformed into omega werewolves! Darn it!" Jake cursed silently as he could see Sophia and Harry slightly shaken with their bodies vibrating slightly.

'Darn it! They are still shaken up from the fear of what those werewolves did to us on that day.' he thought and then his mind flashed back to Vynn's dead body and his teeth automatically clenched in anger.

"I know you are feeling scared, but I want you to channel that fear into anger so it can fuel your determination! If you are still scared, then remember what happened to Vynn and others that died on that day!

Remember what happened to Vynn and make those filthy beasts pay! Don't worry, I'm here with you every step of the way!" Jake shouted out loud and then Sophia along with Harry held their weapons tighter.

"Are you sure you will be here?!" Blip asked and then he suddenly appeared in front of Jake and he grabbed Jake's face and smashed it into the ground cracking the ground slightly then he kicked him away causing him to crash into the wall hard.

"All you omega werewolves! Attack these puny little humans now!" Blip shouted out loud and then right on cue the six omega werewolves all charged right at Sophia, Harry, Peter, Wilfred and the five Jake clones at once.

The first to charge forward, were the clones as they all performed Step shift to get in front of the werewolves before they had the chance to move.

And at once, they performed Qi slashes towards the werewolves but they all lifted their claws blocking the slashes and were about to dash towards the humans when Peter bolted towards them.

"You weren't the ones who killed Vynn but it was a beast like you all that did so I'm going to make you all pay!" Peter shouted as he swung his axe and a two visible slashes appeared from each of his axes and crashed into the werewolves that had their claws out blocking the slashes but they still sliced their claws a bit.

'I have just exhausted the little Qi I had managed to gather by standing around earlier along with my wind strikes, I managed to produce the slashes.' he thought.

"Right! I still have to make them pay for trying to harm my little brother!" Harry shouted and then he zipped in front of one of the werewolves.

Clenching his hands into fists, he thrust it forward at full speed but the werewolf grabbed the fist but was still sent skidding. Without wasting time, he shot out a visible Qi shard towards the werewolf that crashed into its head but wasn't able to go in deep as it had tensed the muscles around its head.

'Why do I feel like the werewolf knows how to use Qi too.' Harry thought and then quickly flipped backwards just in time to avoid a swing of the claw to his head.

"That was close!" Harry heaved a sigh of relief and then he saw the werewolf dashing towards him with full speed and was about to throw a swing to hit his head when a loud clang rang out and Harry could see a black haired individual in front of him.

"Jake?" Harry asked silently and then he turned towards him then it shook It's head.

"I guess not then." Harry mumbled as the clone Jake jumped up and swung his leg performing a roundhouse kick with his leg coated in lightning sending the werewolf skidding.

Those watching from the drones were certainly impressed by the level of skills displayed by the Fang hunters that they nearly even forgot about the werewolf slayer when a loud bang was heard coming from where the werewolf slayer was sent.

Switching the views, they could see Blip holding onto the werewolf slayer's neck while he was seen struggling a little.

Blip then flung Jake away causing him to bounce on the ground hard and then his body skidded towards the shelf off to the distance.

'Darn it! What's with his strength?!' he thought and then he was seen slowly standing up to see Blip charging right at him.

Before he could get close, Jake had quickly activated {Adrenaline rush} and he was able to avoid Blip in the nick of time as he was seen rolling around.

"Okay, I think we should go for close quarter combat then." Jake said and then he de-equipped his sword and clenched his hands into fists with his gauntlets resting snugly on his hands.

"Bring it on!" Blip shouted and then swirling his Qi to his feet, he pushed off towards Jake and then he performed an uppercut that was seen heading towards his head but with the use of 'Adrenaline rush' he was able to block the uppercut narrowly.

But the strength of the clash cause a mini shockwave to erupt out and Jake was sent skidding a little.

"Okay, I think I made a mistake!" Jake said and then he quickly jumped backwards and equipped his sword and like a flash, he was now in front of Blip.

He swung his sword so fast from the side that most people won't be able to avoid but a loud clang was heard coming from Blip and Jake was now surprised.

'I don't think I saw him with a weapon, did I?' he thought and then he saw Blip raising his hand with his fist clenched which tensed up to reveal veins surrounding his arm and then slowly, his hands turned into claws.

"What the hell?!" Jake said out loud in shock and so did those watching.

"You surprised?! I still have many more surprises to come!" Blip smirked and then his blue eyes glowed brightly which caused Jake to freeze for a moment giving Blip enough time to release a powerful punch that resulted into a loud bang and then Jake's body was blown across the room.

{-20 HP}

His body crashed into a wall and it broke totally while his body went through the wall and was seen bouncing outside the mansion on the ground hard.

Chapter 297 You are wasting my time!

"What the hell?!" Jake said out loud in shock and so did those watching.

"You surprised?! I still have many more surprises to come!" Blip smirked and then his blue eyes glowed brightly which caused Jake to freeze for a moment giving Blip enough time to release a powerful punch that resulted into a loud bang and then Jake's body was blown across the room.

{-20 HP}

His body crashed into a wall and it broke totally while his body went through the wall and was seen bouncing outside the mansion on the ground hard.

The loud banging noise resounded around the battlefield that the men Jake brought along with him who were all battling against the men from the iron fist guild caused them all to turn around and see a hole in the side of the huge mansion.

And then a figure laying on the ground that was slightly cracked. The drone that belonged to the news reporter, quickly left those that were fighting and began surveying around the mansion while the drones from the big three quickly filtered out and were hovering above in the air.

Slowly, Jake was seen rising up with his hand clutched around his face and he could see that his mask had been broken into pieces leaving his face bare but that was the least of his problems currently as he looked up, he could see the smile on Blip's face and the glowing blue eyes.

Everybody looked up and could see Blip the leader of the iron fist guild standing in front of the huge hole made in the mansion.

"I warned you to back off right? But you decided to prove stubborn so you have to die!" Blip shouted and then he took a step back before he jumped out of the hole.

While falling down, everybody's mouths were now wide agape as they could see his body changing while falling down. Fur began sprouting out of his body, his face began changing into a deadly jaw, his hands turned into sharp claws and lastly, his eyes glowed bright blue.

He crashed on to the ground causing dust to spread around while the ground beneath his feet cracked. Finally the dust settled and everybody could see a full fledged Beta werewolf in front of them.

"He... he was a werewolf all along!" Paul said with his eyes widened in shock.

Those watching from the drones were now panicking including the big three.

"Blip was a Beta werewolf?! How the hell did this happen?" Rex shouted as he shot out of his seat.

"We need to get there as soon as possible, we can't let this slide." Bane said as he also shot out of his seat.

"Will you all relax?! Have you forgotten who Blip is facing against? He is the werewolf slayer who fought against a Beta werewolf a year ago. And I'm sure he has grown stronger." Rivock said with a smirk on his face.

"Regardless! Our sole duty is protecting the human race from those beasts and all I can see there is a Beta werewolf about to destroy the humans." Bane shouted.

"Don't you want to see how the werewolf slayer chased the other Beta werewolf that time? This will be the perfect opportunity to see his strength and decide if what we plan on doing will work." Rivock replied.

"Darn it! I can't sit here and watch all these." Rex shouted as all his muscles tensed up.

"Then you are free to leave, no one is really forcing you to stay right?" Rivock asked and Rex glared at him.

"You know, we never figured out who was stronger between us, how about we find that out now?" Rex asked as a sword immediately formed in his hand.

The sword was yellow in colour and looked almost transparent.

"With pleasure." Rivock replied as he stood up when Bane quickly in between them.

"Guys! Now is not the time to be behaving childishly, so put that Qi sword away Rex!"

Immediately, the sword dispersed into thin air and Rex went back to his seat.

"That's much better." Bane said as he also walked back to his seat.

Back at the fight, Jake was seen standing up with his face on full display and his hands tightly clenched looking at Blip.

"So you were a werewolf all along. Were you the one who attacked Aurora?" He asked with his teeth clenched in anger.

Blip then transformed his jaws back to a normal human mouth for ease of speech.

"Ha! I wish I was the one. But that weakling was sent instead and he couldn't even complete the job." Blip replied.

"Why?!" Jake asked with his hands shaking in anger.

"Why what?" Blip asked with a raised brow.

"Why did you betray the humans? What is your gain?!"

"My gain?! Hahaha! It's seeing the humans being crushed by us. It feels satisfying. And mind you, I was always a werewolf how else did you think I was able to rise into a high position in the human race so quickly?" Blip asked with a chuckle.

"Which means you betrayed those that looked up to you for protection against the werewolves, you betrayed their trust. And since you are a werewolf, I have to use my title as a werewolf slayer to defeat you. This time, I will finish the job!" Jake declared.

"Haha! You are just but a kid, look at you. I agree you have immense amount of strength, but you are missing one detail which I will leave it up to you to find out yourself." Blip chuckled.

'The others are still struggling against the omega werewolves, I won't be able to help them but I can still do it from here.' he thought.

{Activate Guild skill}

{Quild skill Overdrive has been activated: all members of the guild will receive a 5 percent increase in damage dealing and a 5 percent increase in defense}

'This is my way of helping you all, I hope it is enough. Now to deal with this problem.' he thought and then looked at Blip who was flexing his furry arms.

"There's a reason they call me the werewolf slayer, and it's not because I slat werewolves, it's because I have resolved to slay all werewolves starting with you!" Jake shouted.

{Ding! Host has encountered a Beta werewolf}

{Additional quest has been given! Defeat the werewolf to receive rewards}

"Another question marked reward?" He mumbled but the system wasn't done.

{To aid host, all system skills on cool down will now come off cool down.}

"You are wasting my time!" Blip shouted and his mouth transformed back into the deadly jaw of earlier.

Bending his legs and putting pressure on it, the ground broke beneath his feet and with explosive speed, he was seen heading towards Jake who was caught unaware. Continue reading at My Virtual Library Empire

Chapter 298 Time to go all out!

Immediately Blip had given out the order to attack, the six omega werewolves in the room didn't waste time as they dashed towards the humans in the room. And currently, Harry along with a clone of Jake were doing teamwork.

Swinging his sword, the werewolf quickly avoided the swing but then Harry quickly came in and delivered a strong punch to its stomach sending it skidding an inch before the Clone Jake quickly jumped up and delivered a roundhouse kick to the werewolf's head but it got blocked by its hand.

"Darn! This is becoming hopeless!" He said and then shot out a Qi shard towards the werewolf who used its claws to block it but it went an inch in.

Jumping up above the werewolf, the clone slammed his sword on its head causing its legs to bend slightly and the flooring cracked a little beneath their feet.

Then Harry zipped in front and swung his hand coated in Qi hitting the werewolf and causing it to fly and crash into the desk at the back of the room breaking it.

'Using my Qi this way, is draining my reserve very fast.' Harry thought as he could see the werewolf slowly standing up.

Harry quickly took a stance and so did Clone Jake.

'I have seen Kron do this a lot for me to be able to replicate it but it will take time.' he thought then he glanced back at clone Jake.

"Can you buy me a little bit of time?" Harry asked and the clone nodded. "Good!"

The werewolf stood up and grabbed the half broke desk and swung it at Harry and clone Jake but swinging his sword in the middle precisely, it broke into two but then the werewolf was seen in front of the clone swinging its hand that was clenched into a fist.

Swiftly, the clone performed {Step Shift} and got behind the werewolf then it shot out a Qi shard towards the werewolf that crashed into its back not hurting it in the slightest.

Turning around, the werewolf threw a punch into the air which confused the clone but then something heavy crashed into the clone and caused it to go up into smoke.

"Finally done! Thanks clone Jake." Harry mumbled as he could see the werewolf turning around to see Harry lifting his hand up and pointing it at the werewolf.

With his right hand outwardly with three of his fingers clenched and the remaining two pointed while his left hand was seen supporting the right hand from below then Harry closed his left eye to aim.

'This is not what Kron does, but I just have to improvise.' he thought and he could see the werewolf preparing to charge at him.

"Rifle Qi bullet!" Harry shouted and a loud bang was heard then something fast erupted from his hand while his right hand recoiled backwards so hard that it got dislocated from his shoulder.

A very fast bullet made from Qi crashed into the werewolf in its head going in deep and causing a small hole to appear on its head before the werewolf fell down with a thud.

"Darn! I won't be much use anymore." He mumbled as he could see the remaining members of the guild still battling for their lives.

"You are lucky I am not at full strength, if not I would have beheaded you with one strike!" Peter shouted as he jumped up high and smashed his axe onto the werewolf's head but it had already lifted its hands in an X position blocking it.

But the strength of the hit was enough to cause the werewolf's legs to buckle and crash into the ground breaking the ground beneath its feet.

Then Peter flipped backwards just in time for a clone of Jake had just performed the Step shift to get in front of the werewolf then he unleashed a powerful roundhouse kick with all the strength it could muster sending the werewolf flying.

The werewolf was seen standing up again with an annoyed expression on its face as it clenched its claws in a fist and threw its hands out but Peter had already heard and felt what was coming.

Quickly, he ran out in front of clone Jake with his axe in front of him and he used them to block the invisible Qi fist heading for him but the force of the hit was too strong for Peter as he was chunked back almost crashing into the clone but it had performed a step shift just in time.

Peter tumbled on the ground a bit before he stabbed his axe into the ground slicing it and then stopping his body before he coughed out a mouthful of blood.

"Shit! My Qi is been depleted quickly." He mumbled as he saw his axes were already chipped.

"I hate to say this but I really wish Alex was here right now!" He said.

"I'm here!" Alex said as he was seen jumping through the hole and coming into the room to see the Fang hunters struggling against the werewolves.

"Woah! A lot happened since I was unconscious." He chuckled while looking at Peter on the floor.

The werewolf who was a few feet away, swung its fist one after the other at the new human that appeared but without looking, he swung his sword precisely.

On his sword, fiery Qi appeared around it coating it then his sword clashed with all the waves of invisible Qi fist sent his way.

"I guess been unconscious has made me recover my Qi." He mumbled.

"What are you doing? Get rid of the werewolf already!" Peter shouted and he slowly stood up.

"Right." Alex said then he turned around taking a stance with his fiery Qi blazing around the sword brighter and even his body was been coated by the fiery Qi that was visible to the others.

"Since those annoying drones aren't here anymore, I guess I can go all out now!" He said and then he exploded towards the werewolf while sending a tile Peter's way from the strength of his legs.

The other ones facing against the werewolves were Wilfred and Sophia. While Wilfred was battling against two werewolves, Sophia was against a single one.

She swung her sword vigorously from above towards the werewolf but it had simply pivoted sideways causing her sword to crash into the ground. Then the werewolf delivered a kick to her side sending her skidding and almost flying if not that she was quick to stab her sword in the ground stopping her.

The werewolf didn't waste anytime as it jumped towards her while still sending a dozen Qi shards her way. Sophia was seen weaving in and out avoiding the Qi shards while the ones she couldn't avoid, she slashed down with her sword.

Finally, the werewolf was seen in front of her throwing a punch towards her guts. She had pulled her sword in front of the fist just in time but the strength of the punch sent her body flying while her sword shattered following her.

Landing on the floor with a thud, she coughed out blood before she stood up with her slightly shaking but not due to fear or anger, it was something else.

'Darn! It's strength is still far above mine and now my hands can't stop vibrating from the strength of the punch.' she thought as she could see the werewolf charging towards her.

In a split second, the werewolf was in front of her swinging its claws towards her head but she had swiftly bent down avoiding it before delivering a hook to its gut which didn't cause it to flinch at all.

She had quickly jumped back in time as the werewolf claw swiped at her head but as she jumped back, it only grazed her cheeks drawing blood.

'Darn it! It's speed is also on a different level! An Omega werewolf shouldn't give me much trouble on a normal basis but this werewolf also knows how to use Qi which makes it faster and stronger. I need a power up or something too!' she screamed in her head when a system screen flashes in front of her.

{Quild skill Overdrive has been activated!}

"Finally!" She smiled and could see the werewolf heading towards her but clenching her hands, she took a stance while waiting for the werewolf.

It didn't take long as the omega werewolf jumped up and swung its leg from the side planning to hit Sophia but she stood her ground and lifted her arm up blocking the strike.

Contrary to the werewolves thoughts, she wasn't sent flying as she stood her ground and then grabbing the werewolf's leg, she dragged it causing it to lose its footing and plummet down.

Not wasting time, she tried to stomp on its head but the werewolf was quick to react as it quickly grabbed her foot. But Sophia just flipped backwards while pushing the werewolf's claws back.

Landing away, she could see the werewolf standing up. Then she swirled her Qi to her feet enabling her a speed boost as she bolted towards it and quickly punched it in its guts sending it skidding a bit.

Immediately her feet touched the ground, she dashed forward again and threw a punch that was grabbed by the werewolf but not without skidding itself.

Stomping on the ground, she twisted her hand that was grabbed by the werewolf around causing it to let go. Before she jumped up and grabbed itself then hammering her knees into its jaws causing the werewolf's head to be flung back.

It stumbled backwards a bit then she swirled all her Qi to her fist before she hammered it into the abdomen of the werewolf causing it to go flying and hitting a wall cracking it slightly.

"The power of the Josh's doesn't rely on all these fancy techniques, we use our equipment!" She shouted and then tapping her hand, something wrapped around it forming a gauntlet of some sort.

Swirling her Qi to her feet, she dashed towards where she sent the werewolf flying and could see it standing up with a trickle of blood dripping down its mouth.

Before it could realize what was going on, Sophia was already in front of it and quickly swirling her Qi back to her fist, she jumped up and hammered her fist into the werewolf's head while something sharp protruded out of the werewolf's head coming from her fist.

Slowly, she along with the werewolf were seen falling down with a thud to the ground and she lay there with her chest heaving in and out painfully while the gantlet around her fist retracted back into her ring. Stay tuned for updates on My Virtual Library Empire

"If it wasn't because of the guild skill and my tech, I would have died just now. If I'm not mistaken, these are the most strongest omega werewolves we have ever encountered." Sophia said as her gaze fell on Wilfred that was in a fight with two omega werewolves.

"Now you lots have began annoying me!" Wilfred shouted as his sword blazed bright yellow then he hammered it into the side of an Omega werewolf sending it skidding.

Jumping backwards while sending a Qi shard out, it crashed into the second one. Stomping his foot on the ground, something was felt crawling and heading towards the other werewolf restricting it's movements then an explosion occurred severing it's feet.

Jumping up, with his sword still blazing yellow, he smashed it into the werewolf's head slicing its head down and then he felt something hit him in the air causing him to fall down with a heavy thud cracking the flooring beneath him.

Chapter 300 Get Rid of filth

Trying to wage war against the iron fist guild after they attacked the Fang hunters wasn't going well on Jake's path. As he didn't expect that the leader of the guild would be a Beta werewolf and not just any werewolf, but a strong one that could use QI.

Currently, the drones from the news guild unknown to Jake was being broadcasted to the whole world. 'Bubble's News' was one of the most streamed news platform in the world and everybody were currently tuned in to watch the war happening between the Fang hunters and the iron fist guild when they saw the leader transform into a Beta werewolf.

Even the Big three along with the top 2 independent Guilds were also watching from their own private drones tensely as they could see the werewolf slayer standing away slightly injured while the Beta werewolf known as Blip was grinning and flexing its furry biceps.

"Okay! You are wasting my time!" Blip shouted and his mouth transformed back into the deadly jaw of earlier.

Bending his legs and putting pressure on it, the ground broke beneath his feet and with explosive speed, he was seen heading towards Jake who was caught unaware.

Blip landed a punch towards Jake's stomach that blew him across the battlefield and causing shockwaves to ripple out while Jake's body was seen bouncing on the ground heavily.

{-20 HP}

Stabbing his sword into the ground, he finally came to a halt while he threw up a mouthful of blood before he slowly stood up.

'Two times! Two times now, Blip has landed a powerful hit on me removing 40HP from my health. This is bad, out of hundred HP, I'm left with sixty.' he thought and then he could see Blip tensing his feet again.

"This is bad! His speed is on a whole different level to mine. But I think I know how to level the playing field a little." He smiled.

{Adrenaline rush} he activated the skill that boosted his speed by 2 percent for 2 minutes.

"Show me what you got you weakling!" Blip shouted as he exploded from his position breaking the ground beneath his feet and appearing in front of Jake throwing a punch from the side.

But Jake had narrowly blocked with his sword stopping Blip's fist in its track. Unluckily, his sword shattered into pieces but the fist had been stopped.

"My turn!" Jake said and then he threw a powerful punch into Blip's gut sending him skidding a few inches before coming to a halt.

"That tickles!" Blip chuckled as he kept transforming his mouth for easier speech. "Is that all you got? Show me how you chased the other Beta werewolf that day!"

'He just said my hit tickled him! My fist is powerful enough to shatter mountains and he said it tickled him? No! I can't give up now!' he screamed in his head as he took a stance.

"It has been long I used this, so let's see if it works." Jake smiled and then he clicked a skill from his system.

{Frenzy strike (lv 2)}

Immediately, Jake's eyes narrowed down like a slit and his focus became incredibly sharp. Putting pressure on his feet, it cracked the ground beneath his feet slightly and like a rocket, he exploded towards Blip who was grinning devilishly while taking a stance.

In a second, Jake was already in front of Blip and what the werewolf didn't expect was a savage Jake. Like a beast, Jake's attacks became unpredictable.

A punch to the side, jumping backwards and coming back in then delivering a roundhouse kick to its head. Jake began overwhelming Blip from top to bottom and was now fighting like a beast of some sort.

After 6 seconds, 'Frenzy Strike' wore off but Jake was in the middle of a punch when Blip easily grabbed his hand.

"I admit, you have strange fighting styles and skills, but I have one thing!" Blip shouted and lifted Jake using the hand he held before he slammed him down heavily on the ground breaking it totally.

{-30 HP}

"Shit!" That was all Jake could say before he coughed out blood again.

"Brute Strength!" Blip completed then he kicked Jake's side sending his body flying.

{-10 HP}

His body bounced across the battlefield before it landed at General Paul's feet before laying unmoving.

"Jake?! Are you alright?" Paul asked as he stared at the unmoving Jake. "Jake!"

"Is that all?" Blip asked with a raised brow. "Is this the strength of the so-called werewolf slayer? How the hell did you win on that day with this weak show of strength? Tch."

"Can you see?!" Blip shouted as he stared at the drones that were circulating the whole field trying to get a good view.

The viewers at home on seeing the glowing blue eyes, felt immense fear strike them to their bones.

"Can you see the power of the werewolves? Be prepared you all, your little Earth would soon be over run by us and you all will serve us! Even your so-called big three wouldn't be able to do anything to us!"

Rex who was still watching, clenched his hands in anger while looking back at the other big three.

"Chill!" Rivock said and then went back to watching the show.

"I still don't know why the Alpha is being weary of you weaklings when you have all gotten weaker!" Blip shook his head in disappointment. "Anyway, it's all over for you all!"

He said and his eyes glowed brightly looking at General Paul and the remaining hundreds of adventurers from the Fang hunters.

"It's... it's... it's... it's..." Paul heard something being mumbled below him and he could see Jake slightly twitching then he was seen standing up slowly and weakly. Continue your adventure with My Virtual Library Empire

"It's not over yet!" Jake screamed loudly while glaring at Blip who had his smile frozen on his face.

"You don't want to die easy huh? Fine! I will give you a painful death then." He scowled.

"Jake, there's no way you can fight again. You are badly injured and I know you also have internal injuries too so just use your teleportation skill and get out of here now." Paul pleaded as he could see Jake clenching his hands.

"I won't abandon my comrades ever! And it's not over unless I say so!" He shouted while his eyes narrowed and his teeth were grit in anger.

"System! Activate Restore!" He shouted into the air and immediately, all the visible and both invisible damage and injuries dealt to him were being healed at incredible speed in front of everybody's eyes.

'Now all my skills and even Qi have come off cool down, it's time to pay that filthy beast back in his own coin!'

"System! Activate Cloning!" He called again and in front of everybody's eyes, puff of smokes were appearing all around Jake and when it dispersed, six Jakes were seen standing with the same expression on their faces.

"It's time we got rid of filth from this world!" All the Jakes shouted out at once.
