Chapter 361 The Capturing of Evan And Herbert (Part One)

In the Sun Sect, two young men suddenly appeared at the residence of Evan and Herbert; they claimed to be principal disciples of the Sun Sect. They told Evan and Herbert that Austin had sent them to discuss something important with them and since the big yard was an inconvenient place surrounded by residences of other disciples, they needed to take Evan and Herbert somewhere quiet for further discussion.

Once Evan and Herbert heard that Austin sent the two disciples, they did not think twice; they trusted them since Austin always had their back and because of the current circumstances, Austin needed to be discreet. Austin's life was in danger, he was being pursued by two forces from the Flaming Sun Valley and Blood Wolf Team, every movement they made was under scrutiny and they needed to be careful.

They left the yard and followed the two principal disciples towards a dense forest. As they got closer to the forest the more the number of people they met dwindled, the only company they had was the occasional chipping birds or a squirrel dashing to a nearby tree and the crunching of their footsteps on the dried leaves scattered on the ground, which became denser as they approached the forest.

After a while, the four people arrived at the entrance of the forest. They were so preoccupied with their thoughts that they had no time to admire the beauty of the forest. The towering canopy of trees was a sight to behold; the sky had virtually vanished and all they could see were fragments of blue with streaks of light dancing through the spaces creating the illusion of natural feast.

"Brothers, Austin has very few friends in this Sun Sect. It's a pleasant surprise that you are familiar with him.

So how is he now? Is he all right? And what does he want you to discuss with us? Does he need any help from us?"

As soon as they arrived at the open space in the forest, Evan could no longer hold his curiosity and asked them about Austin's present situation.

"Evan, since the two elder brothers were sent by Austin, it means that he is safe at present. There is no need to ask. It's just a waste of time."

Herbert said.

"Yes, yes. Austin has the ability to fix everything and take care of himself, he can't be in danger."

Evan nodded in agreement.

In a puff of the wind, Evan and Herbert felt like their bodies lifted and swirled around by a huge force. They could not even resist the powerful energy despite having a level six vital energy and level seven Energy Gathering Realm among themselves.

They were shocked by the fluctuation of vital energy, in a sheer show of might they were catapulted off the vortex and fell down on the ground of the forest more than a dozen feet away. Blood leaked around their teeth through their cold lips, escaping and drizzling down their faces. They were spitting blood in succession and incapacitated because of lack of breath; they were fighting to re-inflate their lungs. It seemed that the storm had displaced their internal organs, and they were injured internally.

"You... Who are you exactly? There is no hatred between us, why are you hurting us? Do you have any hatred with Tin?"

Evan struggled to get up and shouted angrily.

Herbert coughed and said, "Is there any misunderstanding between us? We are all disciples of the Sun Sect. I'm afraid this isn't good enough. If the top managers heard that we are fighting with each other..."

Herbert was a faster thinker than Evan. He understood that these were not their friends as earlier assumed and they were in danger, all he could think of was to scare them by mentioning the wrath of the top managers of their sect.

Before Austin left, he once asked the Sect Leader of the Sun Sect Theon to protect them.

Theon did not break his promise and asked outer disciples, Elders and stewards in their sect to take special care of Evan and Herbert.

Since Austin had left the Sun Sect, Evan and Herbert lost their backer, this meant that others would easily bully and oppress them.

The Supreme God

Chapter 362 The Capturing of Evan And Herbert (Part Two)

Although they were at a disadvantage in a weaker situation, with the support and protection of Theon, no outer disciple dared to make trouble for Evan and Herbert.

Now, Herbert figured that the four young men who were their adversaries were far stronger and fathomless in their cultivation base and they had no chance of defeating the four men. He only hoped that they had some sense of decency and would be scared if he mentioned the top managers.

"Humph! Two ant-like characters like you have no qualification and recognition to find help from the top managers of the sect. Even if I kill you, the top managers will never punish me, an elite member of our sect, for two insignificant ants.

But, fortunately, you are still useful to me. All right, I will not kill you now.

As long as I hand you to the Chief Elder of the Flaming Sun Valley, he will personally teach me a unique skill as promised.

With the Flaming Sun Valley's storage, the unique skill of their valley must be superior. It has a great possibility of being a grade five skill. Aha, with this skill, I believe I will have a smooth sailing and achieve brilliant performance in the Outstanding Talents Exchange Games in the imperial capital city after ten days.

Ha-ha, all right. And to think that Austin used to be the top among the outer disciples, he was so imposing that no one could compete with him. In the past, he suppressed me for a long time, but now, the situation has totally changed and he will only end up dead after getting in trouble with the two giants, the Blood Wolf Team and the Flaming Sun Valley. Unexpectedly, he will end up as he is now.

Aha, Austin, I could not kill you three years ago. Unexpectedly, after three years, you are also doomed to die even without me."

The handsome young man seemed to be in an unending rant, he was so pleased with his plan that he couldn't help laughing loudly. As he was laughing, his beautiful face twisted slightly and became extremely weird.

At the same time, inside the top management conference hall, Theon and the six Elders were having a conference.

Theon, sitting on the seat of honor, looked desolate with a morose expression on his face.

"Leader, this time we must send twenty young talents of our Sun Sect to join the selection of the Outstanding Talents Exchange Games held in the imperial capital city. Eighteen of them are principal disciples, and the other two are inner disciples.

We have prepared and sacrificed at all costs and with all our strength in the cultivation of the twenty young talents, within the last three years, two of them have achieved premium stage of Earth Realm, ten have achieved medium stage of Earth Realm and six have achieved preliminary stage of Earth Realm.

"Let me tell you, Elder Li.

According to the information from the royal household in imperial capital city, the Mysterious Nether World only opens once every thirty years or so.

The opening date is not fixed. Sometimes it opens one year or six months earlier, sometimes it is one year or six months later. No one can tell the accurate date.

The masters of the royal family only speculated that the opening date would be next year based on the fluctuation at the entrance to the Mysterious Nether World, but their predictions were wrong.

And now we are certain that the Mysterious Nether World will open in half a month."

"I see..."

The six Elders listened to the explanation to Theon, and they suddenly understood the confusion.

"Think of the Mysterious Nether World as a small secret realm controlled by the monarchy, which is especially valuable and has never been opened to the outside, except for a hundred years ago in history, it was allocated to five sects, with two entries per sect.

Unexpectedly, this time, they were willing to show great kindness and share 50 places to the young talents to compete in the Violet Orchid Empire.

I don't know why the royal family did this."

"Oh, well, I have a close friend who is an official in the Royal family. So, I know a little about the reason."

Theon said with a meaningfully smile.

"What?"

The Supreme God

Chapter 363 The Headquarters of Sky Dragon Elixir Shop (Part One)

The other six elders gazed at Theon curiously.

"The royal family did this in a high profile. They wanted all the ten princes to compete for the throne. Therefore, they set up competitions.

This session of competitions is to test the princes' ability in cultivating popularity and building up their own networks.

The princes will be asked to look for some young talents and have them compete for a place in the top 50.

When the results come out and the list is finalized, these 50 people will go into the Mysterious Nether World to look for a kind of spiritual fruit, called the soul-recovering fruit.

If the person chosen by the prince can find the soul-recovering fruit and bring it out of the Mysterious Nether World, this prince will get the throne.

"Oh? So the main purpose of holding the Outstanding Talents Exchange Games is to determine the heir to the throne.

That means all the young talents in Violet Orchid Empire will serve the royal family by taking part in the competitions and indirectly be controlled by it!"

an elder remarked angrily.

"Yes. What you said makes sense.

But it's said that in the Mysterious Nether World, there are innumerable vital energy crystals, spiritual elixirs and herbs and various kinds of secret martial arts skill formulas. I even heard that there are some Secret Weapons in there which can match the spiritual weapons or even the sacred weapons.

Theon, your Secret Weapon, the Eight Diagrams Board you refined is the one the principal disciple of our sect brought back from the Mysterious Nether World a hundred years ago. And have you heard of the Giant Magic Palm? Of course you have! It's a level six martial arts skill. They rose to their feet immediately, expecting some elite businessman, but only found an ordinary-looking boy in plain clothes standing in front of them. He was so ordinary that nobody would have paid any attention to him in a crowd.

"Kid, we only sell precious medicinal materials. You can't afford them. So don't waste your time here."

The two clerks had seen many poor people come here.

What those people wanted were just some low-graded and cheap spiritual elixirs or herbs. Entering the shop, they would only find extremely expensive medicinal materials in the shop. Then they would leave very soon.

"Oh?"

Austin knew what they meant. 'There are so many snobs in the world!' he thought.

Without saying a word, he took out a jade sheet the size of a palm and threw it on the counter.

"Eee? This is... ?"

The clerks widened their eyes. One of them picked up the jade sheet and looked at it carefully.

"This is the limited edition VIP card our shop issued!" he shouted in surprise.

Customers who possessed such jade sheets were known to be the key customers of the Sky Dragon Elixir Shop. Only people who had spent at least a million vital energy crystals in their shop were eligible for this card.

The two clerks changed their attitude at once and a flattering smile appeared on their faces.

They knew it was easy to get a huge amount of tips from such VIP customers if they were pleased. These tips could sometimes even be more than their annual salary.

"Yes, I agree with Wilson.

Let's not waste any more time. We must immediately go find Austin and kill him.

We have so many cultivators here. Even if he has magic, there is no contending against such odds," Garret said through gritted teeth. His anger rose at the thought of Austin and how he killed the grandson of the Chief Elder of Flaming Sun Valley and several disciples of the sect. Even Augustine, the outstanding principal disciple of the sect, also died at his hands.

Austin had become the number one public enemy of the whole Flaming Sun Valley. All disciples of the sect wished to give him a quick death.

"Haha! Don't worry. I didn't come here with bare hands. Look at what I have brought here.

The real founder of our Blood Wolf Team, the Chief Elder, gave me the top treasure of our team. And I brought it here.

You may think I'm bragging, but I tell you that with the top treasure in my hands, I am confident to say that even it is a Sky Realm master, I can contend with him for quite a while."

Wilson declared proudly.

Wow!

The other people all gasped in astonishment. He could contend with a Sky Realm master!

Did the top treasure of the Blood Wolf Team really have such great power?

They wondered. They all knew that the Wilson of the Blood Wolf Team was a cruel man, but he was practical and never talked big.

Though they had no idea what the top treasure that Wilson mentioned was, they were greatly cheered and relieved by the news. Now with a magic weapon in hand, they believed they could crush Austin like a boot to an ant.

"Haha! Since Wilson is being so honest and open, then I will hide it no more.

Finally, his spiritual sense made a breakthrough and forced its way in.

There was another space behind the wall!

As soon as the spiritual sense penetrated the wall, Austin immediately saw what it concealed.

The rock wall was situated at the bottom of the cliff, two meters high and one meter wide. It was smooth, almost like a mirror and Austin had a hunch that it had been formed by strong spiritual sense power.

It served as a gateway, locked by the spiritual sense power.

But how could the spiritual sense power be turned into a wall? Austin racked his brain, trying to figure it out. Unfortunately, he didn't have a clue. It was unknown to him how and why spiritual sense was used this way.

Austin decided to drop this matter, in the meantime.

Since he had found a space behind the wall, he didn't want to miss it. There was a high chance for him to gain good fortune there.

Wasting no time, Austin strode forward and jumped into the wall.

Buzz!

The wall shook violently as soon as Austin bumped into it. The shaking was followed by some kind of weird noise and in the next moment, Austin was assaulted by strong spiritual sense from all directions, trying to bounce him back.

"Huh!" Austin snorted.

Facing the mighty power of spiritual sense that had charged at him, Austin narrowed his eyes and sneered. His body, that had been bent back by the force, straightened up again as his spiritual sense surged from his brain and rose to withstand the pressure from the wall. With this, Austin was able to squeeze in bit by bit.

Sizz!

With a bit of struggle, Austin finally made it, successfully walking through the wall and entering the space.

The Supreme God

Chapter 465 Omnipresent Spiritual Sense

As Austin passed through the stone wall, he was greeted with a quiet and serene valley. Nature's fine curves and shadows touched him like they were a song woven together. In a patch of the meadow, flowers of different varieties flourished. These were open fields, with a shade for comfort and a brook of fresh water. Every sound and sigh were welcoming to him. Such beauty was unparalleled.

A plain log cabin sat amidst the valley. In its front yard, a glint of goldfish enjoyed their sunny swims in the one-acre pond.

What an entrancing land!

Austin inhaled and a waft of fresh air invaded his nostrils.

It was a pleasure to find the scenic valley behind the stone wall.

"What is this place? It took me more than half a spiritual sense to get here," Austin wondered out loud.

A few seconds later, Violet came through the stone wall after him, gasping for air. Apparently, it took her all of her strength to fight the force of spiritual sense that the stone wall projected.

What shocked both Austin and Violet was seeing the gnome pass breezily through the stone wall, as if the force of spiritual sense was nothing to him. The second the gnome came in, he looked around with curiosity and excitement flashing through his eyes.

With his sight fixing on the log cabin, Austin noticed something that astonished him.

In its front yard, the patch of green plants was all elixirs.

And all of them seemed to belong to the sixth or seventh grade. What a stroke of luck to find these many medicinal herbs here!

It was evident that the most precious treasures of Medicine Valley were all here in one place, which was as Austin had expected.

"Wow! So many elixirs!"

Violet exclaimed when her wide eyes landed on the patch of medicinal herbs. She was awestruck to see them all in such a great number.

The second he moved forward, he was gripped by the omnipresent spiritual sense and stood paralyzed.

"Well, no matter what, I will find a way! Fuck the spiritual sense!"

A fire seemed to ignite in his chest, fueling him to battle the omnipresent force.

He activated his spiritual sense in Soul Sea to fight the aggressive force looming everywhere in the valley.

Austin's spiritual sense was strong and could attack anyone and anything within six thousand meters. He channeled it and waved a hand. Within moments, a translucent wall of spiritual sense was formed in front of him. Strong energy rippled through the wall.

Thud!

Austin finally managed to take a step after activating his spiritual sense.

He struggled to move toward the log cabin, as if he were pulling a carriage by his shoulders behind him.

Austin exerted all of his spiritual sense in the Soul Sea to fight the demanding force as he trudged forward slowly.

However, the closer he got to the log cabin, the stronger the force got. Austin was moving with the pace of a snail.

The spiritual sense had a strong presence around the log cabin and was belligerent against the intruder. A wave of the hostile force collided with Austin again and again.

The pressure was akin to carrying a mountain on his back. Each step consumed all of Austin's energy and tortured him. He heard a light creak inside his body with every step. Soon, he was soaked to the skin in his sweat.

"Damn it! What the hell is this place? Why is the spiritual sense here so ridiculously strong?"

Austin bristled with rage.

Although he was annoyed, he was also aware that there was something waiting for him inside the log cabin.

He steeled himself and continued to walk. He could not give up now.

The Supreme God

Chapter 466 Where Is Austin

By the time Austin was about 300 meters away, he had thought he was running out of spiritual sense. He felt empty inside his Soul Sea and was totally dizzy as a sense of powerlessness came over him.

Austin knew the reason why he felt that way was because he overused his spiritual sense.

That could be very dangerous. Once spiritual sense was entirely used up, spiritual souls were bound to be severely damaged. For martial artists, damages in their spiritual souls were much severer than injuries on their flesh.

Therefore, although reluctant, Austin finally decided to give up.

Although there seemed to be a chance ahead waiting for him, he knew his life was more important than that.

Hence, Austin stopped and suddenly took all his spiritual sense back into his Soul Sea. He had thought that the spiritual sense before him would charge at him, sending him bouncing and possibly ejecting him from the space.

Since his spiritual sense was almost completely exhausted, there was nothing he could do about it.

Surprisingly, however, as he stopped, the powerful spiritual sense in front of him immediately halted and stood still.

That discovery made Austin totally relieved.

It turned out that as long as he stopped moving, the spiritual sense in the small valley would stop attacking too.

After learning that, Austin heaved a sigh of relief. He sat on the grass, cross-legged, adjusted his breath, and began to rest.

Violet, who was behind Austin, walked slowly towards him.

However, her spiritual sense was not as good as his. She was out of breath after walking for more than a hundred meters. Finally, she sat on the ground and began to rest as well.

Two hours later, Austin suddenly opened his eyes in excitement.

"Hmm! Wilson, you want to bully us, the Pure Dream Convent disciples? I am telling you that is impossible! You want to know where Austin is. Go find him yourself. Why are you bullying us? A real man would never do such a thing!"

Anna could not stand Wilson's ferocious attitude, so she refuted.

A member of the Blood Wolf Team who was standing next to Wilson threw a nasty glance at Iris and Anna. He licked his lips as he stared at them.

Startled by his obscene stare, Anna hid behind Iris. She remembered that he was a member of the Blood Wolf Team which was known to be notorious in Violet Orchid Empire. Rape and pillages seemed like ordinary things to them.

"How dare you!

We, disciples of Pure Dream Convent, are not pushovers!"

Iris shouted angrily when she heard Wilson's remarks.

"Ha-ha! Bitches, in front of us, the Blood Wolf Team, you Pure Dream Convent disciples are nothing but a piece of shit!

Besides, no one would even know if I rape and kill you here in Mysterious Nether World.

"Hey! Shame on you big men who bully little girls!"

Suddenly, the keen sound of a girl rang out in the air.

The Supreme God

Chapter 467 Enter The Log Cabin

"What?"

The members of the Blood Wolf Team, including Wilson, got furious with what they heard.

"Ha! You are the beauty of the Sun Sect, aren't you? You really have a sense of justice," Wilson uttered with a vicious smile.

The voice belonged to Denali of the Sun Sect.

"Joan Li, you can discipline the girl of your sect. Don't let her be so impolite!"

Wilson talked to a woman who was standing beside Denali and had a stern expression. He did not want to have a conflict with the Sun Sect merely due to some small matter. After all, the Sun Sect was one of the five most prominent sects in the Violet Orchid Empire.

"Denali, it is none of our business!" Joan, who was older, warned Denali.

Joan and Denali had the same master in the Sun Sect, and both entered the Mysterious Nether World together.

"But, Joan..." Denali said defiantly.

She couldn't help but feel sympathetic towards the two girls when she witnessed how they were treated.

Also, they were Austin's friends. Denali could not bear to see them get bullied.

"Denali, before we left the Sun Sect, our master told us that you must follow what I say!"

Joan yelled, infuriated with Denali's stubbornness.

Denali dared not to speak again and recognized Joan's authority.

Seeing Wilson's cruel face, Iris felt she could do nothing but get angry as he was much stronger than her.

The two girls looked so weak when they faced the men who were degrading them, and what the girls could do was to be at the mercy of the men.

Moreover, each member of the Blood Wolf Team was cruel and uncivilized. They exuded an extremely arrogant and barbaric aura.

"Leo, Garret, and Caden—all of you are from the top five distinguished sects of our Violet Orchid Empire. Will you allow the members of the Blood Wolf Team to push us, two girls, off the cliff?"

It was fortunate that his spiritual sense force had also grown stronger. He had estimated that it could cover a distance of 9, 000 meters at most.

Moreover, Austin was a strong-minded and determined man. So with the last distance ahead, he was more than eager not to give up and continue marching forward.

With his body thoroughly soaked in his sweat, Austin finally reached the entrance of the log cabin. His hand successfully touched the old wooden door.

Boom!

Just when his fingers landed on the surface of the door, an extreme spiritual sense force suddenly blasted out of the log cabin.

Austin was almost shot backward by the sudden blast of spiritual sense force.

'Hold on!' he encouraged himself while trying to resist the force.

At that crucial moment, Austin almost strove with all his efforts. The last spiritual sense force in his Soul Sea had been drawn and gushed out to fend against the intense spiritual sense force.

Clack, clack, clack.

Austin felt as if his whole body was bent under the powerful spiritual sense force. He was almost compelled to his knees.

"Ahhh!"

Austin yelled in resistance.

'I have to try with all of my efforts!

I will never give up! Hold on! Keep moving!' Austin encouraged himself.

As Austin's last spirit sense burst out, his strength seemed to be replenished. It was as if he grew much stronger.

He hit the door hard and inserted himself in the log cabin.

He had finally entered the cabin!

An old figure, gazing at Austin with slight admiration, greeted his eyes.

'Someone is inside the cabin?'

Austin was shocked to see a figure of someone.

Austin was surprised to see an old man inside the log cabin. The old man was standing with his hands behind his back as if he was expecting to see Austin at that time.

Austin, on the other hand, didn't expect to see anyone inside that log cabin.

'Hey...Who could this be?' He couldn't believe what he was seeing and could only wonder to himself.

The old man with long silver hair in black robe looked quite scary and mysterious to Austin.

The old man's eyes were as deep as the black hole, but they looked rather peaceful. Austin's nape felt cold as the old man looked at him directly. He also felt as if the old man was scanning him thoroughly.

When the soul in his Soul Sea quivered and had a tendency of flying out, he was taken aback quickly and had to raise his defense and alertness at once. Austin had never been so scared and panicky in his life.

But as he moved, he noticed that the heavy spiritual sense that made it difficult for him to move outside the cabin had finally disappeared.

Without the spiritual sense inside the log cabin, he could freely move at will.

"I've been waiting for so long for someone to come, and I already lost count of the years. I've lost hope that someone could make it here alive. But alas! Here you are!"

The old man's voice sounded like from ancient time as he slowly spoke these words to Austin.

"I apologize for the intrusion. I'm Austin. I don't know if I should say this, but it's nice to meet you, sir.

I accidentally broke in here without your notice. Again, I apologize for that and hope you can forgive me," Austin said sincerely. His eyes were apologetic with his hands cupped as a sign of respect. His intuition told him that the old man standing in front of him was not just an ordinary martial artist. Therefore, it was just appropriate that he showed great respect for the old man.

Are you into medicine refining, young man?"

Angus stared at Austin with a smile. The old man knew that Austin didn't just accidentally broke into his place. There was a deep reason for Austin's presence in his old cabin.

"I am. But to be honest, I just learned about medicine refinement through self-study," Austin said. As he spoke, he reached out his hand and a light golden flame came out on his palm.

"Oh? I must say that you have somehow learned the medicine refinement quite good on your own. Well, I'm a medicine refiner myself. My medicine refinement skill was not that bad.

But I have no use to it now. So, how about I pass down my skill of medicine refinement to you?

I know medicine refinement is taken lightly by many. But don't belittle such skill.

If a martial artist wants to strengthen his cultivation, he will need a large number of resources and medicine. Speaking of medicine, elixirs are the most important and essential of all the resources.

If you achieve proficiency in medicine refinement, you can speed up your cultivation with the medicine that you refined by yourself.

In addition, being a medicine refiner will give you a noble status, thus gaining respect from others in the martial arts world.

And if you can refine high-quality medicine, no matter where you go, you will be given well treatment. You will be like a moon surrounded by stars!"

Angus explained.

Austin knew so much about medicine refinement. While he was self-studying on medicine refining, he gained a deep understanding of its benefit. There was nothing that he didn't know from what Angus had said but he didn't dare to interrupt. He just nodded in agreement. But the fact that Angus would pass down his medicine refinement knowledge to Austin was something the latter was truly looking forward to.

"But the gift I will give you does not come for free. There is a task that I will entrust to you."

"What is it? Tell me and consider it done!" Austin said confidently. Though he didn't know what Angus would ask of him, he vowed to himself that he would do it no matter what.

Besides, it was like doing an important task for a very noble martial artist.

"Well, when I was still alive, I managed to set up a sect. The sect is called Magic Hand Sect.

If you ever encounter Magic Hand Sect in your future endeavors, I need you to find a girl who goes by the name Ariadne and give this jade case to her. She is my only daughter in the world."

Then, as Angus waved his hand, a jade case suddenly appeared in front of Austin. It was emitting a mild light. Without any question, Austin took it and stored it in his Space Ring.

"But hundreds of years had passed. To be honest, I don't even know if the Magic Hand Sect still exists. Maybe, it had disappeared in the never-ending river of time.

And don't know if my poor daughter is still alive either.

For me, it was like yesterday. But five hundred years just went by like that," Angus sighed. It was no surprise that a soul like him would be stuck in the memories of the past. After all, memories were what a dead soul was made of. It was memories that made them who they were.

"Has it really been five hundred years since you passed away? If that so... I'm sorry but... Angus, I'm afraid that your daughter might have already perished..."

"An excellent medicine refiner, on the other hand, will need a powerful spiritual sense as his support.

I have a Soul-warming Bead. But since I'm just a broken soul without a Soul Sea, it is a waste for me to occupy it. So, I'll just give it to you," as he said, Angus bent his finger and flicked. A colorful sparkling bead appeared in front of Austin. It gave off colorful light that made it more attractive.

"Take this bead into your Soul Sea. It will nourish your spiritual sense at every moment. With its special effect, your spiritual sense will continuously be strengthened."

Austin was overjoyed at the sight of the Soul-warming Bead. He tried to connect with it and succeeded. The bead answered his call—it turned into a light that shot into Austin's Soul Sea.

The colorful bead illuminated every corner in his Soul Sea. It generated a warm feeling that Austin had never felt before.

And in an instant, he felt that his spiritual sense was enhanced.

Austin got thrilled at the effect of the Soul-warming Bead. Angus was right. It indeed could nourish his Soul Sea and improve his spiritual sense in every second.

With this Soul-warming Bead, he needn't to deliberately spend time on cultivating spiritual sense anymore. It could instantly help his spiritual sense become more powerful. It was an amazing treasure that Austin had ever found.

Austin's heart was filled with joy and gratefulness to the gifts that the old man had given him.

"Young man, the valley is a very good place to cultivate spiritual sense. If you are not in a rush, I suggest you take this opportunity to enhance your spiritual sense multiple times stronger before you leave," Angus offered.

The Supreme God

Chapter 470 The Scorching Evil Fire

"Cultivating in this valley can help me enhance my spiritual sense?" Austin was surprised. If his spiritual sense was several times stronger, it would be unfathomable for others.

Austin had already realized the convenience of his strong spiritual sense. It was truly a fortune if this little valley could help him strengthen his spiritual sense.

"I saw you out there walking with a bit of difficulty.

But I assume that you have already discovered for yourself that confronting this spiritual sense pressure will strengthen your own spiritual sense.

It's because I put a special array there. It can transform the energy currently present in this world to spiritual sense. Absorbing the spiritual sense power here will enhance that of your own.

I believe your spiritual sense will be at least two to three times stronger. Then, you will be able to roam freely and comfortably in this little valley.

It's just that it is truly hard for you to even walk through this valley now, given your present level of spiritual sense. You can forget about strengthening your spiritual sense if you can't endure the pain."

The elder's last sentence sounded like he wanted to spur Austin, to give him incentive to carry on.

But Austin didn't need any more motivation. No one knew any clue about how much pain he had been through when he was cultivating Overlord Body-refining Formula. Though he hardly could stand on his feet when he tried standing up outside the cabin, he could feel the growth inside of him.

"Alright. Sir, I will begin the process of cultivation outside the cabin then," said Austin with urgency. Then he wheeled around.

Angus gasped in shock first, and then smiled with a hint of praise in his eyes.

Angus was, as a matter of fact, passing over his legacy to Austin when he was teaching Austin about the art of pill-refining. He had essentially become Austin's teacher.

Initially, he did not intend to pass his knowledge to any Tom, Dick or Harry.

Due to certain events that transpired and a vicious and dangerous man that Angus met, he was now in a state of half-human and half-ghost. Austin was the first man he met after hundreds of years had passed by.

And he had no choice but to make do with Austin since he did not know how many years his broken soul had left.

He felt relieved after he saw Austin's toughness as well as his tenacity. He finally deemed this young man quite worthy enough of his legacy.

The moment Austin stepped out of the cabin, the formidable pressure of the spiritual sense flooded towards him from all directions. It was overwhelming.

Austin instantly spread out all his spiritual sense to fight back against the pressure.

He moved forward a step at a time, each movement as slow and laborious as the previous one.

Under the formidable pressure of the spiritual power, Austin had to bend to his knees for the trembling, as if he was about to kneel at any time.

From afar, it seemed like he was carrying a mountain on his shoulders.

When his spiritual sense was about to run out, Austin stopped, took a rest and continued walking.

In conclusion, a pill refiner would soon reach a pinnacle of pill refining if he could obtain an Unearthly Fire.

And these 12 Unearthly Fires could also be used as a powerful weapon. Every Unearthly Fire has the might to burn skies and drain oceans. It is said that there was a fire-cultivating martial artist who had successfully conquered an Unearthly Fire and he could defeat enemies who were of higher levels like it was a piece of cake for him.

Angus explained this to Austin, who was listening intently.

It was not the first time Austin heard about Unearthly Fires, but this was the most descriptive conversation.

He had acquired some knowledge of it when he was at the auction in Peace Town.

Hence, he suddenly recalled something now that Angus had finished his say.

He instantly took out a piece of ragged cloth on which there was a blurred map. There were mountain and rivers drawn on it.

He handed it to Angus.

"I bought this at an auction before.

It is said the clue of Dark Bone Gloomy Fire is hidden somewhere on it."

"Really?"

Angus took over the cloth and stared at it for a while.

"So it seems that you do already know some things about the Unearthly Fire.

This Dark Bone Gloomy Fire is the eighth most powerful among all the Earth Fires.

That means it ranks 12th among the 12 Unearthly Fires.

However, it is also a mighty flame.

Since you have a clue, you can try to find it if you have time as well as the capacity.

As a matter of fact, there is an Unearthly Fire in the Mysterious Nether World too," added Angus.

"There is an Unearthly Fire in Mysterious Nether World!?"

Austin was shocked.

"Yes. In the first layer of this Mysterious Nether World there is a valley called the Fire Valley. In this valley there is an Unearthly Fire called Scorching Evil Fire which ranks third among the Earth Fires!"

"What?"

It ranks third?"

That meant that the level of Scorching Evil Fire was far higher than that of Dark Bone Gloomy Fire.

Austin gasped in bewilderment.
