

Surprised 1081

Chapter 1081 Good News

In the yard, the barbecue grill was ready. The food soon made a sizzling sound after they were put on it.

Rowan introduced Daphne to Ivan and Jennifer, who also said hello to Zack.

After a while, Claire came out, "Ladies and gentlemen! The tea is ready!"

"The barbecue is almost ready too!" Daphne turned to look at her.

The eyes of the two women converged briefly.

Soon, Mya also came out, "Is there any grilled corn? It takes a long time to grill corn, so we should do it in advance. They are sweet. I bought more. "

"I'm good at grilled corn, let me do it." Jennifer came over.

Daphne couldn't help looking at her a few more times. She was pretty and she was married to a good man. She had two children, but her figure was in perfect shape still. She was living the dream life of every woman.

After a while, Rowan picked up some grilled beef and sprinkled some spicy on them.

Under the wind, the smell of meat spread.

"Wow! It smells so good! " Alfie put down the iPad and ran over quickly, "Is it ready to eat?"

"Yes. Here it is!" Rowan gave him two skewers, "Diana, come here!"

When Mya was about to reach out to the skewers, the strong smell of meat made her sick. She quickly covered her mouth with her hand!

"Mya, are you alright?" Claire, who was the closest, held her up.

Mya was about to throw up.

The wind went on blowing. The smell of meat went into people's nostrils. Mya couldn't bear it anymore.

She ran away, covering her mouth.

"Mya!"

Finnley chased after her anxiously and held her by the shoulder, "Are you okay? Are you sick?"

She retched toward the trash can.

Jennifer hurried over with tissues and water, "Mya, what happened?"

Mya rinsed her mouth with water, and said slowly, "I don't know, I just felt like vomiting when I smell that meat."

Jennifer stuffed the tissue into Finnley's hand.

She watched Mya's symptoms carefully.

"Are you pregnant?" Claire's eyes lit up with joy.

Mya was stunned.

Finnley was also shocked. Pregnant? Was he going to be a father?

Jennifer was very calm. Everyone around looked at her face, waiting for her to announce the answer.

They all trusted Jennifer's judgment as a well-known doctor.

After about a minute, Jennifer stopped. She looked at all the expectant people around her, and then at

Mya.

Mya held her breath and stared at Jennifer without blinking.

"Congratulations, Mya, Finnley, you guys are going to have a baby." Jennifer was smiling, her eyes shining.

Finnley and Mya were pleasantly surprised! They were all stunned for a few seconds.

"Yeah!" Claire was overjoyed, "Great! Congratulations! I'm calling to tell Aunt Violet and Uncle Albert! "

As she spoke, she excitedly took out her phone.

Ivan applauded, and everyone else followed.

There was thunderous applause for a while!

"Congratulations!"

Everyone congratulated them with smiles.

Finnley turned around and hugged Mya in his arms. He was so excited, "We are having a baby. Mya, we are having a baby!" He was as happy as a child.

Mya's cheeks were slightly red. She reached out to hug him, saying, "Fate." They were excited and nervous surrounded by so many people.

"We are having a baby!" Finnley picked Mya up and twirled her around excitedly!

A gust of wind blew up from the mountain. The leaves swirled and fell as if dancing in the background.

The joy doubled once they shared it with friends.

Chapter 1082 Luca Is Murdered

Joyful laughs came from the hill on Thanksgiving day.

Mya's pregnancy made the day more festive.

With so much cooking, the food was quickly done. There were all kinds of tarts and barbecues.

Mya only ate some fruits. She was happy but also a little scared. It was the first time that she was pregnant. She hadn't been ready for being a mother yet.

Finnley was with her all the way. He was very happy.

Mya became the focus of attention. Almost everyone was around her.

"Mya, don't catch a cold during pregnancy, pregnant women are not allowed to take medicine!"

"I see." The girl nodded, "Okay, thank you, I will remember."

"Mya, you should eat less but more frequently often during pregnancy. Never let yourself be hungry!

Always have some nutritious snacks in your bag."

"Alright."

Ivan looked at her, "Shall I give you a long vacation? If you feel uncomfortable, don't come to the company."

"Will my husband get a long vacation too?" Mya blurted out.

Everyone was amused.

Ivan replied, "Unless he is pregnant too. Otherwise, we need to discuss this."

Mya hoped to be with Finnley all day long. Women needed a sense of security. She didn't feel sick. She just didn't like the smell of oil.

Jennifer came to Eason with the skewers, she knelt down and asked very patiently, "Eason, do you like this? I didn't put chili on it."

Eason didn't have any defense against her. He didn't refuse or nod, he just met her gaze quietly.

Jennifer smiled. She put the delicious skewers on the corners of his lips, "Come on, open your mouth!"

Zack wiped his son's saliva. Everyone could see that Eason was abnormal, but Michelle said that an autistic child had to meet people.

"Rowan, what happened to the kid?" Daphne couldn't help but glance again and asked curiously in a low voice.

Rowan was grilling the meat. He said without looking up, "I don't know." He had noticed that Eason was abnormal, but he wouldn't gossip.

Not to mention staring at other people's scars all the time, this was the basic manner.

At this time, Ivan's phone rang. He came under the big maple tree and answered the call. "Hello, Andrew."

"Mr. Marsh, Luca is dead. The clues are interrupted now." Andrew reported, "He was killed by someone. But the murderer has not been found yet."

This made Ivan more convinced that there must be someone behind Joan, "Check on Joan, check everything and everyone related to her."

"Okay."

A sharp light flashed in Ivan's eyes. Just as he hung up the phone, Zack also received the call.

The person on the other end of the phone reported the same content. Luca, who attacked Georgia, was murdered.

This made Zack very uneasy. He slightly frowned, and looked down the mountain while holding his phone, "Then check Joan, as soon as possible."

"Okay."

After the call was over, he felt solemn, worrying that something would happen to Michelle.

The enemy was capable of murdering and they were in the dark.

The weather was nice.

In a seemingly abandoned factory in the suburbs, because it was Thanksgiving, Hugh gave his subordinates a day break to home.

There were only three people in the huge room.

The abandoned place looked even more deserted.

Hugh, who was in a black robe, was sitting in a rattan chair on the terrace. He was cutting pumpkin pies with a dagger. Beside him stood two people looking at him silently. The room was very quiet.

He picked a piece of the pie with a dagger and put it into his mouth, chewing. "Have you got Jennifer's schedule?"

Chapter 1083 Perfect Miss

"Mr. Johnson, we've been stalking her."

As reported by subordinates, "They went to the mountains for a picnic today, and Ivan has been by her side all the time, so we had no chance to do it."

Hugh narrowed his eyes slightly, and gave the person a piece of pie, "I'll say it again, I didn't intend to attack her."

"Thank you, Mr. Johnson." The subordinate was flattered. He quickly took the pie with both hands, and explained, "I mean, there is no chance to get the jade pendant."

Hugh said lightly, "I've expected it. So let's change our way of thinking." But he didn't say how to do it.

Instead, he forked another piece of pie and put it into his mouth.

Oh shit! He didn't want to eat today. He couldn't stop feeling upset unless he got the other half of the jade pendant.

On the other side, Ivan, Jennifer, and the group of young people were still enjoying their day.

It was said that there would be a Leonid meteor shower tonight, and this hillside was the best viewing point.

So everyone was looking forward to it!

"Stay here for the meteor shower! Anyway, we have enough food! We can go back after dinner!"

"I have a tent in my car!"

"Okay, do you have something to do later?"

"No. What can we do on Thanksgiving? Nothing! Let's fix the tent! Okay!"

So, everyone decided to stay.

Rowan, Ivan, and Finnley helped set up the tent while Daphne and Claire grilled food around the stove.

Mya was recording with her phone.

"Dad, can we go back tonight?" Jennifer came to Zack and stroked Eason's little head.

Zack looked at his son, "I forgot to bring him medicine. I'm going to take Eason away first. You won't enjoy yourself much with him here anyway."

"It's okay, I'm not a three-year-old child." Jennifer meant it. "I feel very happy to be with you."

"Michelle, Luca is dead." Zack was in a serious mood, "He is the leader of those whom Joan gathered and was killed by the boss behind the scenes."

After hearing this, Jennifer's heart skipped a beat, "Are you investigating him?"

Zack raised his eyes and set his eyes on the tall man not far away, "Maybe it's not just me."

Jennifer thought for a while, "Don't worry, I will be careful."

"Okay." Thinking of Ivan's power, Zack comforted himself, and suddenly he was not so worried.

Then he and Eason said goodbye to everyone. Jennifer and Ivan sent them to the car and reminded him to drive carefully.

"Goodbye, Grandpa! Goodbye, uncle!"

"We will visit you before we go abroad!"

The tent was set up not long after Zack left. There were strings of light strips wrapped around the outside of the tent. Under the night sky, the light strips emitted a warm light.

Jennifer put coats on the children.

Finnley counted the stars with Mya, "The moon is so beautiful tonight!"

"You are more beautiful." Finnley's eyes fell on her, and he couldn't look away for a moment.

Emerald Bay.

The sun had set. The sky was full of stars. The moon was bright and clean.

Spencer had dinner there. He had been playing chess with Aubree all afternoon. It was a rare pleasure.

"Are they not coming back?" Spencer raised an eyebrow.

"They sure will." Aubree glanced out the window, "But they should be back at this time."

At this moment, Spencer's phone rang and he answered the call.

Then he said to Aubree, "I gotta go first, I have something to do."

"Okay, drive safe."

Not long after Spencer's car pulled out of Emerald Bay, the Lamborghini drove over. The brothers missed each other perfectly.

Chapter 1084 Protective Boyfriend

On the way back to Emerald Bay, Ivan was driving in the Lamborghini.

After the entire day at the mountain, the children were tired. They had fallen asleep. Jennifer put small quilts on them.

The lights were warm. The car was spacious and comfortable with a faint fragrance in the air.

"Did they fall asleep?" Ivan glanced back.

"Yes." Jennifer reached out and touched the children's foreheads, then said softly to him, "There's something I want to tell you."

"I'll listen."

"Joan took my dad's half of the jade pendant away. I guess she had given it to someone. My dad is investigating this matter, but he hasn't found anything yet. My pendant and my dad's pendant are said to be the key to the legendary treasure of the Clarke family once they are put together."

"The legendary treasure of the Clarke family?"

Ivan seemed to have heard a new word, "Does your family have any treasures?"

"Who knows? People said so, but even my dad doesn't know where the treasure is."

Jennifer said, "He never took it seriously. My father thinks we must build our wealth with our hands."

"I see." Ivan nodded, "Your dad is insightful." Ivan very much agreed with this point of view.

At the same time, he also understood that those people wanted the pendant.

"Who is behind her?"

Jennifer was a little puzzled, and analyzed suspiciously, "My father is good to her, and he is also good to Eason. Won't she feel guilty? She is ungrateful."

"Jennifer, from now on, I will personally send you to work and pick you up." Ivan promised, "At the same time, I will find out who is behind the scenes within 24 hours."

"I'm not afraid, you don't have to follow me all the time." Jennifer said casually, "Maybe I can lure him out."

"No, I won't allow you to be the bait." Ivan refused, and then said calmly, "Believe me, within 24 hours at most, I'll even pry into his lair!"

Jennifer sighed softly, "I feel that the matter is far from over... Could the person behind the scenes be Eason's father?"

"I have no idea." Ivan told her, "No matter who it is, as long as it treats you, it is my enemy. Also, I will take care of whoever offends your father as well."

Hearing his words, she felt warm in her heart, "You are such a protective boyfriend."

With him by her side, she felt very safe

Ivan was also very happy to get her approval.

The Lamborghini drove into the yard of Emerald Bay. Jennifer remembered, "Has Spencer left?" His car was not there.

"Do you remember him now?" Ivan smiled, "With his character, I'll be surprised if he can stay for an hour."

They got out of the car with the children in their arms. Yet, as they walked into the living room, Aubree told them

"You guys are finally back. Spencer just left. He waited for you for ten hours."

...

The couple looked at each other, both feeling very surprised.

"He's been there?"

Aubree replied, "Yes."

"How... how can he stay?" Jennifer couldn't help but smile, "That's unexpected."

Aubree said, "We played chess. He cooked. But he left after receiving a call. Otherwise, he would still be waiting."

Hearing so, the couple was very happy.

Spencer has really changed. He had grown up. He was mature.

"By the way, he brought these here." Aubree pointed, "He's quite thoughtful. Those are not common gifts."

Ivan and Jennifer smiled knowingly, "We'll call him later."

Chapter 1085 Outrageous Offense

"Mom, we'll go upstairs, the children are asleep."

"Sure, go!" Only then did Aubree realize that the children were quite heavy to hold.

"Good night."

"Good night!"

Then they carried the children upstairs, sent the children to the children's room, and handed them over to Marry.

"Hi, where are you going?"

Jennifer didn't walk towards the bedroom, Ivan was a little curious.

She stopped and turned to look at him, "Dad's birthday is coming, I'll go to design clothes for him. I have to finish before his birthday."

After speaking, she quickly walked upstairs.

Ivan didn't say anything. He went downstairs and prepared some fruit and milk.

"Mr. Marsh, I'll do it. You can go have a rest."

"No, it's for my wife. I prefer to do it by myself."

Ivan looked kind and approachable when he was in the kitchen.

Ivan was gentle only when facing Jennifer. He was born with a cold aura.

"I'll stay with you tonight."

A gentle voice came into the design room. Ivan came in with fruit and milk.

He didn't bring his laptop. He sat in a chair, staring at her tenderly.

Under the bright light, Jennifer looked gentle and beautiful. He couldn't get enough of her. "Jennifer, why are you so good?"

"What's wrong?" Jennifer picked up a piece of chalk, and looked up at him in surprise, "Why do you say that suddenly?"

"Even if Eason is not your father's child, you are still so kind to him." He saw everything today and was very moved.

"Have you heard of the saying 'love me, love my dog'?" Jennifer felt sorry for Zack. She couldn't imagine how he would feel once he found that Eason wasn't his son.

"My dad loves his son, I can see that," she said.

She said, "The family has broken up, and I don't want to make him sad, so if you love me, please hide this secret."

She stopped her hands and looked at him seriously.

Ivan met her gaze, and nodded thoughtfully, "Okay, I promise you."

In fact, no one knew what he was thinking.

Maybe he was a little shocked, also a little bit guilty and uneasy? After all, he lied to her.

"Thanks." Jennifer designed it with her heart.

Ivan checked the treasure of the Clarke family with his phone. No major media reported it, but there were people talking about it in the small forum.

However, in Ivan's eyes, these posts were all nonsense.

They looked like novels.

So he judged that the Clarke family treasure should not exist.

In addition, the two jade pendants were designed 20 years ago.

Since it was 20 years ago, how could Zack not know about it?

The next morning.

Hugh woke up in the cold room of the factory. He dressed leisurely with a sullen face and then washed.

No one dared to rush him.

Outside the door, a subordinate had just arrived, who was waiting respectfully and patiently.

At the tea room on the terrace.

The faint fragrance of tea lingered.

Hugh walked over. His subordinate followed behind him. Seeing that Hugh's complexion was not good, he didn't even dare to breathe.

Hugh sat down in the chair and said a word in a cold voice.

"Speak."

His subordinate took out a structural diagram from his arms, bent down, and handed it over, "Mr.

Johnson, Ivan personally sends and picks up Jennifer from work."

"What's this?" Hugh cast a cold glance.

His subordinate said happily, "This is the layout of Emerald Bay, we can steal..."

Chapter 1086 Disfigured?

Hugh picked up the drawing and tore it up without any hesitation.

His subordinate was shocked. "Mr. Johnson, it took me a lot of effort to get it. Why did you... tear it up?"

He once thought his eyes cheated on him.

"You think I'd be stupid enough to trespass on Ivan's place?"

Hugh spoke slowly, threw the scraps of paper into the trash can, and then leaned back in the chair, his eyes slightly cold.

The subordinate was stunned, "I am puzzled, you can do that!"

"That would be too outrageous." Hugh made it clear, "I'm not going to get into unnecessary trouble." He was kind of self-aware.

He added, "I only want that half of the jade pendant, understand?"

"But that half of the jade pendant is on his wife." The subordinate said bluntly, "If you want it, you'll have to offend him."

Hugh turned his eyes coldly, "What did you say?" Hugu's sharp eyes frightened his subordinates, who dared not to make a sound nor even breathe.

"Don't worry, I've got a plan." Hugh said, "If you don't want to offend Ivan, you can only start with Zack."

He closed his eyes and looked out the window confidently.

In the hospital, people came and go. Some were happy, and some were sad.

In one of the wards.

Georgia, who had been in a coma for many days, moved her fingers. She had been lying down for too long, and her whole body was a little numb.

There was no one with her in the ward, as if no one cared about her life.

Joan had paid enough money, so the doctor checked on her every day and her treatments didn't stop.

Gradually, her eyeballs which had been closed for a long time rolled around...

Her eyes, which were exposed outside the gauze, slowly opened.

The curtains were drawn, and the sunlight in the room was not too harsh. But since she had closed her eyes for a long time, she still felt uncomfortable the moment she opened them.

She frowned and her throat was dry.

What she first saw was the white ceiling.

Who I am? where am I?

She was in a trance for a moment, her memory seemed to be broken. She couldn't remember anything, but she felt very tight and uncomfortable.

She found it difficult to move.

She lay with her eyes open for about five minutes. Her mouth was dry. She wanted to drink water.

She tried to make a sound but found no one in the room.

She sat up with difficulty and stretched out her stiff hands. She didn't remember that she was attacked.

And she untied the bandage on her arms.

It hurts, but she felt a little numb.

It took ten minutes to remove all the gauze from her body.

The gauze on her head was also removed.

She got out of bed and went to the bathroom step by step. A mirror was right in front of her eyes, her eyes widened in fright.

"Ah!"

Screaming out loud when she saw her face as if seeing a ghost.

It was bloody. She was disfigured!

"No..." Georgia was dumbfounded.

At this time, several doctors came in. They did not see the person on the bed, but a pile of gauze on the ground. Everyone was shocked!

"Where is she?"

"Georgia!"

"Georgia! Where are you? "

"Has she left not long ago?"

"Ah!"

Georgia broke down and screamed again!

A scream came from the bathroom. Everyone turned their eyes when they heard it!

The doctors walked in quickly. They were also frightened when they saw her bloody appearance, which was really disgusting!

"Are you crazy?" The doctor asked, "Why did you remove it? Come out now!"

Then the two doctors went to prepare antiseptic potions and fresh gauze.

Georgia stared at herself in the mirror for a moment, she shook her head in disbelief, "Ah!" She screamed again!

She couldn't accept this fact!

How could it be disfigured?

She had multiple fractures in her body. But her legs were fine, so she was still able to walk.

Chapter 1087 Love Breeds Love

"Who I am?" She turned to the doctor and asked hoarsely, "Where am I?"

She lost her memory and couldn't remember what happened.

But as she got excited, she felt the pain coming from her body. When she moved a little, her whole body was painful.

"Ah..." She looked in great pain.

Seeing this, two doctors stepped forward to support her, "You have multiple fractures on your body, you will have to lie down for at least half a month! Why did you get up?"

Fracture?

After being reminded by the doctor, the pain in her body became more obvious!

Every step hurt like hell.

The doctor put her on the bed.

She was emotional, struggling to get up and leave, "Home! I want to go home! I want to go home! "

"How do you go home like this?"

"Who will take you home? You have no home! "

"I am a princess!" She screamed, "Call my father to pick me up! I really am a princess! I am going back to the palace! "

In the end, the doctor gave her a sedative, and she fainted.

Then the doctors bandaged her again and put a plasterboard on her body.

The next morning.

Emerald Bay.

Alfie and Diana woke up very early, "Daddy, Mommy, good morning!"

"Good morning." They were also very happy to see the children.

Alfie grabbed Ivan's hand and asked mysteriously "Dad, when did you go to bed last night?"

Ivan thought about it seriously, "Around two o'clock, why?"

Alfie didn't answer, feeling timid and happy inside!

Then everyone went downstairs and greeted Aubree and the servants.

They went to the dining room for breakfast.

"We'll go to the company later, listen to your grandma at home." Jennifer confessed, "We'll come back early."

"Mum, don't work too hard. Take good care of yourself." Alfie had a small plan in his heart, "So that we'll have younger brother and sister earlier."

They couldn't wait.

When Jennifer saw the smile on Aubree's face, she giggled awkwardly.

At this time, Diana also opened her mouth.

"You sleep until two o'clock last night, were you making babies?"

Jennifer almost spit out the milk!

Ivan couldn't help but smiled, "Since you want younger brothers and sisters so much, then I must work hard to make this dream come true before you return to the country next time."

"What?" Jennifer turned her eyes in surprise, and reminded in a low voice, "Don't make promises in front of the children."

Ivan replied, "I will do what I say."

Jennifer was speechless, there were so many things to do. How could she be pregnant?

"Alfie." Jennifer took a bite of the bread and asked curiously, "Aren't you afraid you won't get as much attention anymore once we have another child?"

The children shook their heads and corrected them together, "Love can only beget love. Love is not static. With another child, there will be more love in our family!"

Hearing the children's sensible words, the adults felt warm in their hearts.

Aubree was shocked, and she admired Jennifer's education of children even more.

They were so small yet so sensible.

In the hospital.

Finnley and Mya came out of the gynecology department, holding the same pregnancy test results in their hands, and read the contents above.

Uterus, posterior position, uterine body 56x66x62mm, normal size, germ, and yolk sac visible, bud length is 18mm, yolk sac diameter is 2.8mm, primitive cardiac tube beating is visible.

It showed intrauterine early pregnancy.

"God, I'm going to be a dad."

"God, I'm going to be a mom."

In the relatively empty corridor, Finnley and Mya embraced each other, weeping with joy!

Although they believe in Jennifer's medical skills, it was necessary to do a checkup to make sure it wasn't an ectopic pregnancy and everything was healthy.

Chapter 1088 The Joy of Being Parents for the First Time

After getting out of the hospital, Finnley opened the car door and helped her sit in the car, "Be careful.

Don't hurt the baby."

"The baby?" Mya sat in the co-pilot and couldn't help laughing at him, "It hasn't formed yet. It's not as big as a fingernail! "

Finnley bent down and fastened her seat belt. He corrected, "No matter how big or not, it says that its heart is beating. It's our baby! It's small. But it's a human being." In short, from now on, I will take care of you more carefully. "

Mya's heart was warm. She couldn't help but kiss him on the cheek.

Finnley closed the door for her, walked around the car and got back into the cab, then drove away quickly.

"Honey, I'll take you home to rest."

Mya turned her eyes and asked, "Where are you going?"

"I'm going to the bookstore."

"Why are you going to the bookstore?" Mya was puzzled.

But Finnley couldn't wait to say, "I lack experience of being a dad. I need some parenting books."

"You have a lot of time to do so!"

"Then I'll buy prenatal education books!"

"I'm going with you."

"Okay."

After a while, the car stopped at the bookstore. Mya unbuckled her seat belt, opened the door, and got out of the car.

"Wait! Wait! Wait! I'll do it." Finnley got out of the car quickly, and walked around to open the door for Mya, "You have to be careful, let me serve you!"

"Must you?" Mya felt outrageous, "Even if I am some sort of National treasure, you don't have to be so nervous, right? I can take care of myself. I just don't like greasy food."

Finnley was both happy and nervous. He helped her down, "Of course, you are my wife, and now you are pregnant with my child. In my heart, you are much more important than a national treasure!"

After hearing these words, Mya felt warmer in her heart.

She looked at him, leaned on his shoulder, and said in a sweet voice, "Our child is so lucky to have you as a father."

"And as you as a mother!" He reached out and hooked the tip of her nose.

Mya asked, "Do you prefer a son or a daughter?"

"I like both as long as they are from you!"

Mya laughed.

The two entered the bookstore jokingly. Finnley actually said to the salesperson, "Do you have a shopping cart?" I didn't see it at the door.

Who would use a shopping cart in a bookstore?

How many books were they going to buy?

Mya was shocked, and the shopping guide was also shocked, but the customer was God, so she nodded quickly, "Yes, yes, wait a minute!" She immediately pushed over a little cart.

"This is a trolley we use while stocking books in the bookstore."

"Thanks." Finnley took her straight to the maternity and baby care sector.

Mya happily held Finnley's arms, looking forward to the day when the baby be born in ten months.

Most of the books on the shelf were about prenatal education. The baby on the covers looked cute.

Their big eyes looked more beautiful than gems.

Finnley loaded books into the shopping cart.

"Hey Hey hey!" Mya was startled, "How many do you want to buy? These are all of the same types, just the publishers are different, but the content should be similar! "

"There must be some difference." Finnley was still searching on the shelf. He then took two more pregnancy cookbooks. "The books are not expensive, we'll pick slowly at home, I'll study hard!"

Under Mya's shocked gaze, he threw in one book after another. Soon, the shopping cart was soon full of books!

The shelves were empty.

"That's all, I'll pay by card!" Finnley was generous.

The cashier was taken aback but happy to receive such a customer. After all, they got a commission from each book they sold.

After the payment, the shopping guide enthusiastically carry these books into the car, there were seven bags.

Mya laughed, "We can also open a bookstore."

"No. We'll need them when we have another child. We need to review from time to time."

...

In the car, Mya sprayed water on the car window, shaking the water bottle in her hand, and suddenly turned to look at him!

Chapter 1089 Jealous Mr. Marsh

Finnley was overjoyed. He quickly handed her a pack of tissues, "I'm sorry, I'm a little impatient."

"Who said we are going to have another child? Do you know how painful it is to give birth?" Mya wiped her mouth carelessly, "One child is enough! Women are not reproductive machines!"

"Okay, okay, it's from your body, of course, you have the final say." Finnley started the car with a happy smile. "Then one child!"

When they got home, Finnley's parents came over, carrying a lot of food good for pregnancy.

Seeing their pregnant daughter-in-law getting out of the car, they were very happy. They hugged each other, imparted experience, and greeted each other with care.

Mya showed the pregnancy test report to her parents-in-law. She was so happy.

Opposite the Clarke Group.

Tristan just queued up to buy a cake. This was a task assigned by Zack. The pastry chef took a week off and only came back today.

When he walked into the company with a pink cake, a Lamborghini stopped right at the door.

Ivan unbuckled his seat belt and was about to get out of the car. Turning his eyes inadvertently, he saw Tristan carrying the cake disappearing at the entrance of the hall.

He walked into the hall and saw Tristan carrying the cake into the elevator.

Why did he pay extra attention to this cake? Because it was pink. It was too girlish.

"Mr. Marsh!"

Ivan stopped, exchanged a few words with the person who came to him and then walked towards the elevator.

He came here specially for Jennifer.

He didn't call in advance because he wanted to give her a surprise, and also wanted to see what she was busy with and whether the workload was heavy.

Arriving at the floor, he stepped out of the elevator and walked towards Jennifer's office, only to find that there was no one there. Was she in a meeting?

But as he stepped forward, he saw a pink cake on Jennifer's table.

It was the one Tristan was carrying!

There were footsteps coming from behind, Ivan turned his eyes, and he saw Tristan coming in with a document.

Tristan was also a little surprised to see him, "Mr. Marsh?" He couldn't help but slow down, and then told Ivan, "They went to a meeting."

"What do you want?" With his hands in his pockets, Ivan glanced at the cake on the table with displeasure, "Don't you know that my wife is married? What's the cake for? "

Ivan was jealous.

Tristan touched the tip of his nose, kind of speechless.

"Tristan, don't think that because my father-in-law thinks highly of you, I dare not harm you." Ivan raised his chin angrily, "Tell me clearly today, do you have feelings for my wife?"

"Mr. Marsh, you misunderstood!" Tristan put down the document, looked at Ivan, and explained seriously.

"Mr. Clarke asked me to buy the cake. He chose the color and style. It's his idea. I was just running an errand."

"Don't make excuses." Ivan raised his eyebrows, "I am asking if you have any feelings for my wife."

Tristan didn't argue. He suddenly found Ivan interesting.

Jennifer's excellence was obvious to all. Working with her, he would certainly be attracted by her, and have feelings for her.

Ivan was insightful. He could always see the essence clearly through the surface.

He felt that Tristan must have a crush on his wife!

At this moment, Zack came over here, "Tristan, did you buy the cake?" Finished speaking, he came to the door and saw Ivan.

"Mr. Marsh?" Zack was a little surprised, "Why didn't you tell us that you'll come here?"

"Dad." Ivan was a little embarrassed. Was the cake really from Zack?

Tristan replied, "Mr. Clarke, I bought it. The style, color, and taste are all according to your requirements."

"Okay then, go back to work!" Zack smiled and said to Ivan, "This is Michelle's favorite cake. The project will end soon. It won't be so easy to get the cake if she missed it by then."

Tristan saluted and left without even looking at Ivan.

Ivan's face was gentle when he met the smiling eyes of his father-in-law. But he still felt a little uncomfortable in his heart because the cake had been touched by another man.

Yes, when people loved someone too much, they became petty.

Jennifer didn't work overtime that day. The Marsh Group's design team was really good. They worked overtime even on Thanksgiving day.

So they were one step closer to the end of the mission. After that, they would be able to return to the Marsh Group.

Zack didn't feel particularly bad. After all, he and Jennifer had reunited. They could meet at any time.

At night, in Emerald Bay.

In a design room upstairs, Ivan accompanied Jennifer as usual, admiring her every move.

The suit for Zack would soon be finished. It was hand-cut and very chic.

"My dad's birthday is tomorrow." Jennifer was in a good mood. When she smiled, her eyes were shining. "How I wished he could wear the clothes I designed. This was my dream and it comes true now."

"Every stitch of yours is a display of love." Ivan was very moved. He watched his wife stay up for countless nights.

And Jennifer also thought of her father's love for her. The restricted area on the third floor was the place that made her burst into tears.

"Are Alfie and Diana going abroad the day after tomorrow?" Ivan asked.

"Yes, they will leave after attending your dad's birthday party."

Ivan got up and went behind her, put his arms around her waist gently, and leaned his chin on her shoulder, "You know what? Your dad said he would reveal your identity again at the birthday party. "

"He had written it clearly on Twitter and everyone in the world knew it." Jennifer smiled, "I don't care about that."

But Ivan shook his head, "Twitter is Twitter, it was a spur of the moment. But tomorrow, he will announce it to your relatives and friends personally. This is a very prudent decision, and it contains his deep love for you."

Jennifer felt it.

"How did the investigation go? Who wants a jade pendant? " Jennifer just wanted peace now.

Ivan frowned, "A person who wants to die. I can let him live for a few days more, I'm still investigating, I believe there will be a result soon."

"Eason's situation is also quite difficult. I want to discuss with Rowan a solution."

"If he is happy now, I don't think it's necessary to cure him."

Jennifer stopped her hands and looked at Ivan, "What do you mean?"

"I mean no harm." Ivan met her gaze earnestly, "But I think he might have more pressure after he is cured. He never went to school. He doesn't know how to communicate with people."

"After the treatment, these problems will not exist." Jennifer was quite persistent, "My dad loves him very much. I hope him to be healthy and normal."

"I understand how you feel." Ivan said, "I support whatever you do." His voice was gentle, and he was sincere.

The next evening.

Zack's birthday party was held in the courtyard of the Clarke villa. Only friends and family were invited.

The party was small but very lively.

Aubree also came. She was wearing a handmade long dress, smiling gently, looking classy.

After meeting Zack, she stayed with the two children, looking very approachable and also attracting the attention of many people.

Zack looked radiant in the suit designed by his daughter, which made him look ten years younger.

Jennifer's dress was simple. But her appearance still stunned everyone. Because she looked pure and innocent. And she was born this way.

Zack's relatives had never seen Mrs. Marsh up close. All of them were very excited today!

"Michelle is Mrs. Marsh. Let's go say hello to her."
