

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 102

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) novel Chapter 102

“Spencer?” Jennifer was puzzled. “What did he do here?”

Edward told Jennifer about Spencer’s initiative to teach the children here for ten days.

Jennifer was surprised. “Seriously? He taught here for ten days. Did he manage it?”

“He seemed to be a professional painter. The children all liked him and even prepared a farewell ceremony for him.” Edward was objective about Spencer. “Even if he looks unreliable, he does do well in painting.”

Edward took out what Spencer painted from a room. “Look, what do you think of these?”

Jennifer looked at him oddly. “It seems like you guys are getting along well with each other these days.” Jennifer took over the painting and glanced at it with a nod. “Well, I’m impressed.”

“He’s a good guy, and he even helps with the dishes.”

Soon after Jennifer returned to the village, she helped Edward to give the villagers a medical check-up.

After that, she packed up the cultivated potion and paint.

Jennifer spent a busy day here. Her time is limited, so she did not stay the night.

It was very late when Jennifer returned to Emerald Bay.

The moon was covered today, with only a few stars shining in the sky.

The living room was bright with all lights turned on.

Ivan sat on the sofa, reading the newspaper. He pursed his lips with a gloomy look on his face.

Jordan stood at the door. He glanced out from time to time, wondering when Jennifer would come back.

Half an hour passed.

Jordan saw the headlight, and then the car drove into the yard.

Jordan hurriedly got out. “Lady, Mr. Marsh has been waiting for you for five hours.”

“Is something wrong?” Jordan turned her eyes as she walked toward the living room. “Why didn’t he call me?”

“I don’t know. He had brought you cake, but he threw it in the trash.”

Puzzled, Jordan entered the living room and saw Spencer, who sat on the sofa.

Ivan raised his eyes with a cold look.

Jennifer walked toward him and saw the cake in the trash can. Jennifer didn't know why Ivan was so angry.

Thinking about the cake, Jennifer stopped before the sofa and squatted down. She looked up at Ivan. "Why were you looking for me?"

Ivan did not answer, ignoring her.

"I went to Sunshine Village today." Jennifer said, "I gave the villagers a full body checkup. I wanted to finish it in one day, so it took me a bit more time there."

Hearing this, Ivan remained silent with a long face.

Jennifer thought Ivan was not angry about that.

On second thoughts, Jennifer looked at Ivan with a frown. "Just tell me why you are angry."

Ivan said with a gloomy face, "Why did you ask Spencer to teach the children for you?"

Jennifer stood up and raised her eyebrows. "You are wrong! First, I didn't ask him to do it, he is voluntary and took the initiative! I just learned about it today!"

"Stay away from him." Ivan's cold eyes swept over Jennifer, like a warning.

Jennifer couldn't help but be a little scared because he was really angry.

But she didn't know how to explain.

"It seems you didn't believe me." Words failed Jennifer.

Ivan put down the newspaper, got up, passed by Ivan, and walked upstairs without looking back. The mood in the living room was left subdued.

Jennifer did not dare to do anything else, for fear of adding fuel to the fire.

Ivan's ruthlessness was known in Arkpool City. For the sake of the children, Jennifer didn't want to irritate him.

Looking at the cake in the trash can, Jennifer had a stirring of emotions in her chest.

After a while, Jennifer picked the cake up and put it on the coffee table. Through the transparent box, she could see that the cake was smashed.

Jennifer squatted and carefully opened the box.

Seeing this, Jordan said worriedly, "Mrs. Marsh..."