

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 106

“Jordan, why haven’t the children returned today?” Jennifer asked as she carried the bags into the kitchen.

Jordan followed her. “Mr. Marsh took them to eat out.”

Hearing this, Jennifer thought Ivan should be in a good mood.

“That’s great!” Jennifer was happy. “Then I’ll have enough time to make a cake for him!”

Jennifer put down the ingredients, went into the kitchen to boil water, and began to hum!

She seemed in a good mood, so Jordan thought Mr. Marsh and Mrs. Marsh should be on the mend. He hoped everything went well between them.

Ivan and the children were downtown.

They were eating steak in a restaurant.

Everything in the restaurant cost a lot, and only those with VIP membership had access to it.

The children were over the moon!

Outside the restaurant, Ivan’s attracted the attention of many reporters. They all waited for Ivan to get out!

The restaurant was on the 38th floor. It was elegantly laid out with a great view. Ivan rarely had time to eat with the children.

Watching them eat with gusto, Ivan felt very satisfied.

“Daddy, it tastes really good. Why not try some?” Diana blinked her big and adorable eyes and cut a small piece of steak for Ivan.

Ivan shook his head with a pleased smile.

When dinner was over, they went out and were followed by reporters.

And the reporters even followed them into the mall!

Ivan asked the children to select whatever they want. He did enjoy being with them. The smiles on the children’s faces greatly pleased him.

Instead of wearing a cold face, Ivan smiled a lot today.

Just as the reporters tried to take the opportunity to get closer and take a few more photos, they were stopped by Ivan’s bodyguards.

“Sorry, but please do not disturb Mr. Marsh.”

The reporters had no choice but to take photos from afar, and they all thought Ivan was a good father. Those photos would soon spread on the Internet.

The others would wonder how Ivan and Jennifer get along with each other.

Jennifer was still working on the cake.

With an apron and a mask, she had already got the eggs and flour ready.

She mixed milk and sugar in proportion and took out corn oil as well as the cocoa powder.

All the ingredients were ready.

Jennifer had tried to make chiffon cakes for children in Sunshine Village before and had never failed.

Everything went smoothly, so Jordan was relieved.

Jordan had read the news that Jennifer had eaten with Spencer, so Jordan knew how angry Ivan could be.

Therefore, Jordan guessed Jennifer wanted to make a cake for Ivan as an apology.

One hour passed.

The cake in the oven looked super attractive, and the air was filled with the tempting aroma of the cake.

It was dark but Ivan hadn't come back.

Jordan looked out repeatedly.

Jennifer stood in front of the restaurant's floor-to-ceiling window, looking out from time to time. And finally, she saw the headlights.

Ivan's car entered the yard.

Jennifer turned and went into the kitchen to get the cake from the oven.

When she carefully brought out the cake, put it on the table, and looked out the window again, she found the car was gone!

Jennifer came into the living room and the children came happily with their toys, "Mommy! Look! This is what Daddy bought for us! This one can even glow!"

Jennifer looked out again and found Ivan's car was really gone.

"Where's your dad?" She asked.

"Daddy didn't get out of the car!"

“Daddy’s gone!”

Jennifer froze for a moment and looked at Jordan in confusion.

Marry took the children upstairs.

Jennifer walked toward Jordan. “Is he still angry? He has angry been for a night. He is too vindictive!”

“You’re wrong, Mrs. Marsh. He is angry about the photo...” Jordan sighed, “Have you read the news today?”

“No” Jennifer was puzzled. “What happened?”

Jordan took out his phone and showed the screenshots to Jennifer.

“The wife of the Marsh Group’s president secretly dated a handsome man! They looked close to each other!”

Jennifer was startled at the subtitle.

And she was shocked by the photos. She stared at them and held her breath.
