

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) novel

Chapter 14

"Yes."

Jennifer watched the servant push the clothes rack away, and when she looked back, she found that Ivan was looking at her.

Their eyes met and she felt creepy under his stare.

At this time, Jordan brought all the servants to the living room, and everyone stood in a row, which made Jennifer quite nervous. What was he going to do?

"From now on, she will be my wife. She is the biological mother of Alfie and Diana." The man stood with his hands folded on the back and announced lightly, "We have got the marriage license and the wedding is in preparation."

"Greetings, Mrs. Marsh."

"..." Being stared at by so many people, Jennifer was very embarrassed, "Nice to meet you guys, I am Jennifer."

Then Ivan went to the company and she went upstairs to look after the children.

They were driving to the Marsh Group and Ivan was sitting in the back seat. Suddenly, he recalled something and felt quite puzzled.

How could a woman helping the poor in the village know about Emma?

And this gown is indeed from last season.

The ringing of the phone pulled him back through his thoughts, he lowered his eyes and answered.

"Ivan," Catherine said to him in a good mood, "I'm back home, let's go to the mayor's daughter's birthday party this afternoon together?"

"Don't you know the address?" the man asked.

"Of course I know."

"Then why should we go there together?" His tone was alienated, "I have a date and you should find someone else."

After speaking, he directly hung up the call.

Afternoon

In the banquet hall of the Victoria Hotel, surrounded by fragrant clothes and bright lights, the 20th birthday party for the mayor's daughter, Mya Saunders, will be held here.

Exquisite pastries, expensive red wine, live violin music performed by famous Italian performers, and handsome waiters shuttled through the crowd... this banquet was particularly grand.

There are many luxury cars outside the hall.

The celebrities who arrived chatted about Ikebana, music, and art, and sometimes clinked glasses.

"I heard that Mr. Marsh is on the guest list tonight."

"I heard about it too and I asked Mya specifically, and she said yes."

"Bravo, Mya. She actually managed to invite him here."

"Ivan has a personal relationship with the mayor, so it's quite normal for him to show up."

His car stopped outside the hall, and Ivan got out of the car. He looked quite charming in his gestures.

Not only did he bring his wife, but also his children, with only one purpose, that is, to make a fuss, to make headlines, and to bring trouble to his mother.

Jennifer has a very good figure and the beautiful dress made her even more gorgeous.

Ivan held his arms around her shoulders and led her into the banquet hall.

The stylishly dressed children were led by bodyguards and followed behind them in a good mood.

"Wow! Look! Mr. Marsh brought a date."

"Whose daughter is this? She is so lucky!"

"They're a good match! So beautiful!"

"There are two children behind? How?"

Jennifer seemed to have heard the discussion, and she was not panicked at all. She was calm, but when she saw the photos and names on the big poster, she got inexplicably embarrassed.

Mya's birthday party?

Mya even called to invite her, but she was irritable and rejected her.

And... she came with Ivan?

At the corner of the stairs, Mya in a red dress was as dazzling as a jewel. Her lips were red and her teeth were white. She was happier to see Jennifer and she hurried downstairs with her skirt!

"Miss, be careful!"

She was so happy, "Jennifer! Why are you here? Is this your surprise for me?" When she stood still, her eyes widened in disbelief because she saw Ivan holding her shoulders.

"What's between you guys?" She was dumbfounded. Everyone knew that Ivan was not close to women!

"Daddy, Mommy!" Alfie showed his little head, then waved to Mya, "Hello, Mya!"

"What?" Mya screamed, "What did you just call them?"

"Daddy and Mommy! What's the matter?"

Everyone was stunned.

Click!

The invited media reporters rushed over, grabbed the camera, and took a wild shot.

Jennifer had long thought of this scene, so she was not surprised at all, instead, she smiled cooperatively. Anyway, she was going to be on the news and she must look beautiful.
