

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 194

“So just stay by Ivan’s side.” Aubree said to her, “You are the only daughter-in-law in my heart, and that will never change.”

Hearing this, Catherine was indeed relieved.

“Thank you, Auntie.” Her heart was full of emotions. All the years of effort were worth it.

In bustling New York, the castle manor was surrounded by mountains and rivers. It looked classic, yet at the same time full of life.

It was as beautiful as the wonderland where fairies lived.

The young servants had made the courtyard lively

Ivan’s private helicopter soon arrived at the airport at the back of the estate, where a grand welcome was ready.

Mr. Edison was waiting for them with the little princess, Miss Alice Edison.

The hatch opened, and Ivan appeared with his wife in his arms.

The unique, quaint and solemn beauty of the castle mesmerized Jennifer. People started to applaud. Everyone had smiles on their faces. She was touched by their enthusiasm.

Ivan led her down the helicopter. Her plain blue dress was blown by the warm wind of early summer. The girl in Ivan’s arms stunned everyone.

She was young and beautiful. Her face was very delicate. Her eyes were as clear as black grapes. She looked like an angel.

“Mr. Marsh, Mrs. Marsh.”

“Welcome.”

Jennifer smiled and shook hands with people.

Ivan’s smile was warm and sincere, “Mr. Edison, it’s nice to see you again.”

“Yeah. Mr. Marsh, your wife is so pretty.”

“Thank you.” Jennifer was full of confidence.

The eighteen-year-old Alice was so captivated by her charisma that she quickly greeted her, “Hello, Mr. Marsh. Hello, Mrs. Marsh!”

“Hello.” Jennifer couldn’t help but reach out and stoked her head, “You’re so cute.”

“Let’s go to the castle. The banquet is ready. We’ve been waiting for you!”

“This is very nice of you.”

The group chatted and walked toward the castle.

Ivan’s arm had always been around Jennifer’s shoulders. He loved her. He took care of her.

Ivan had a straight back, he looked noble. With a warm smile, he enjoyed and introduced the scenery to her, serving as her personal guide.

The castle was facing the sea, which made it more romantic.

The exterior was simple and sturdy even after so many years. But the medieval monuments inside were quite outstanding. Every corner was chic.

Jennifer loved this quaint and solemn beauty. She felt her soul purified.

“Dad, I think Mrs. Marsh looked better than the well-dressed Ms. Collins even without makeup! Alice was innocent. She stood by Mr. Edison, glancing at Jennifer from time to time, “She is so beautiful!”

“Haha, we can always believe in Mr. Marsh’s taste.”

Jennifer just listened. Her smile was sweet. Her eyes were shining. She was very attractive.

Alice saw that Ivan had been putting his arm around Jennifer’s shoulders to protect her like a knight, and this love made her envious.

“Daddy, is there any man in this world who is as good as Uncle Ivan? I want to marry someone like him too!”

Alice’s words amused everyone present.

In the castle, a cocktail party was about to begin.

Ivan took Jennifer to change her dress. He had always stayed with her to keep her secured in an unfamiliar environment.

Arkpool City, Emerald Bay

After dinner, Marry and Jordan played chess with the children and then sent them upstairs.

“Did Daddy and Mommy go to New York to make up for their honeymoon?” Alfie thought.

Diana responded, “I guess so.”

Alfie video called Ivan. Ivan picked up very soon.

“Dad, take as many photos as you can. They would be a remembrance of a lifetime!”
