

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 219

"Thank you." Ivan tried to calm down and took over the mouse.

"Mr. Marsh, you looked so happy together. Why did you have a fight? I can see that you love each other very much. In that case, you should cherish each other. Your wife loves you." The shop owner hated to see a loving couple separate.

Holding the mouse in his hand, Ivan fixed his eyes on the screen and waited for Jennifer to appear in the security camera video. "When did she come here yesterday? Do you remember?"

"Around 9 o'clock last night. She left at about 9:30."

"Okay, thank you." Ivan zoomed in the video with a frown. He was nervously staring at the screen.

He had to find her!

"Mr. Marsh, I gave your wife a photo album yesterday as a gift and she took a picture with me," as she said, the owner took out her phone.

Ivan paused the video, glanced at the picture and saw the sad look on Jennifer's face. She seemed to have lost more weight and looked more fatigued.

Although he had seen a glimmer of hope, he was anxious that if he was one second later, he might not be able to find her.

As he searched for her in the video, he called someone on his phone. "I've got a lead. Please check the surveillance cameras for me along a street? I'm in a photo studio now. I'll send you the address right away."

20 minutes had passed and Ivan still didn't see Jennifer. He was so nervous and worried that he might lose her forever.

The owner had been waiting by his side the whole time.

Ivan was tall and handsome and he attached much importance to the way he dressed.

Women at any age would fall for him.

Suddenly, he stopped the video.

Staring at the women in the screen, he was overjoyed.

It was his Jennifer!

She left the photo studio at 9:30 yesterday evening, got on a taxi which drove to the left direction.

He couldn't see the license plate clearly, but he could discern the model of the car.

The next step was to investigate all the taxis in New York. "Thank you!" Ivan left the studio while talking to someone on his phone.

He had to find the taxi Jennifer had taken at 9:30 last night, and to check its driving records to know where she got off.

He had had someone onto it. Then, he went back to the hotel room and waited for the news.

After he had an IV injection, he sat on the sofa facing the French window and turned off the main light. The room was a bit dim.

He opened a bottle of whiskey and drank it while waiting for the news and missing her.

He hoped she hadn't left the city.

Ivan had been holding his phone tightly in his hand and waiting the whole night.

He hadn't had any sleep for days.

At 12 o'clock, he finished the whole bottle of whiskey.

At 2 in the morning, he was still holding his phone and waiting for the news in bed. He had been in light sleep.

At 4 in the morning, when he woke up from a dream without Jennifer in it, he felt depressed.

At 6 In the morning, his phone rang...

The ring tone woke him up and he immediately answered it, "What have you got?"

"Sir, we've found it!" his subordinate excitedly said on the phone, "Mrs. Marsh is staying in FD Resort Hotel, but there was no check-in information of her there. Someone has erased it."

"Is she still there?"

"In Room 2501. She hasn't checked out yet."

It was the most exciting news Ivan had ever heard. "Okay, got it!"

He immediately washed up and headed for FD Resort Hotel.

Sitting in the backseat of the Maybach, how he wished he could get there sooner!

This time, when he saw her, he would question her and ask her why she left without saying anything.

Why couldn't she let him face whatever problem it was together with her?

Then, he would hold her tightly in his arms and tell her that he would never let her leave his side again!