

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 260

Diana also nodded, "But Alfie, Daddy doesn't remember us very well now. He won't listen to our protest."

"So, we have to rebuild the trust." Alfie had thought about it all day in kindergarten today. He said, "How did we get his attention at the beginning? Let's do it again!"

"You mean hacking his system?" Diana covered her mouth and narrowed her eyes in shock.

Alfie shook his head and smiled mysteriously, "Not his system this time but the system of his competitor!"

Diana was a little girl after all. She was not as brave as Alfie. She pulled Alfie's arm, "Will it cause trouble for Daddy?"

"Who knew we're the ones who did it?" The little guy was very confident, "The trouble is on others. Think about it, if we succeed, Dad will not only admire us but also admire our Mommy, because we are brought up by Mommy!"

"Yes, he's going to be interested in Mommy! Even if he loses his memory, he may fall in love with Mommy again!"

"So, Diana, we're going back today to make a very detailed plan to help Daddy and Mommy reunite."

Night fell.

In the villa, dinner was ready.

Tammy had called Spencer several times but he didn't answer once.

She couldn't help but be a little worried. Spencer always came back to have dinner with Jennifer.

"Ms. Brooks, why don't you eat first." Tammy was thought Jennifer might be hungry, "No need to wait." Then she put down the phone and go to serve the food.

Jennifer looked at her, "Tammy, are you very familiar with him? Have you known him for a long time?"

"Yes, I've known him for almost 20 years." Tammy didn't really want to talk about this.

Jennifer noticed it. So, she didn't ask any further questions.

She felt that Tammy should know about Spencer's relationship with Ivan.

Tammy brought over two servings of food.

After dinner, instead of going upstairs, Jennifer sat on the sofa in the living room, watching TV.

The shooting of the romantic drama "Love in Violet Gold Bay", starring Spencer and Georgia, was about to wrap. Some on-set pictures were already released online.

They looked like a cute couple. Spencer looked good on the screen.

Jennifer couldn't help but think of the news she had seen today... Ivan and Catherine were going to married on the 18th of the next month.

How can she take the children away? She decided to go to kindergarten the next day.

Eleven o'clock in the evening.

Jennifer was still watching TV in the living room. She wasn't sleepy and didn't want to move.

The light of the car shot in through the door.

She looked around and saw a car parked in the yard.

After a while, Spencer staggered into the living room.

Tammy stepped forward to support him, "Mr. Lawrence, did you drink?" The pungent smell of alcohol made her frown.

Drunk driving?

Jennifer stood up in horror!

Spencer pushed Tammy away, his eyes drunk. Jennifer's appearance overlapped in front of his eyes.

He walked toward the sofa, grabbed her wrist, and dragged her up the stairs!

"Spencer, were you drunk driving?" Jennifer was shaken by his tugging, "Do you want to die?" Instead of getting rid of him, she helped him up the stairs as if he was a younger brother of hers.

Spencer didn't answer. He had a lot to tell Jennifer.

He was not happy. So, he went to drink.

Tammy followed up worriedly. What was wrong? Were they going to argue?

But the door was slammed shut!

Tammy was anxious, "Mr. Lawrence!" She slammed the door, but no one answered. She could only stand outside, worrying about the people in the room.

Spencer threw Jennifer onto the bed. He stood in front of the bed, wobbling. Looking at her, his eyes were full of pain.
