

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 273

Ivan handed in his pockets and pursed his lips. With cold eyes, he quickly walked into the office.

“Let me explain! It’s not what it looked like!” Catherine quickly followed. “I’m not sure how this happened!”

However she tried to explain, this would stick with her forever, being a stigma of her life.

As Finnley passed by the stairwell, he heard the sound of children laughing and giggling from inside the door.

He stopped and pressed his ear to the door.

“Good job. She deserved it. How dare she speak ill of Mommy!”

“She looked like a clown today, and she was too foolish to marry Dad. It’s so funny!”

“Alfie, you’re great!”

“I must teach her a lesson for Mommy! If she really becomes our stepmother, we’ll definitely be in trouble.”

As the door was pushed open, the children were startled.

“Finnley?” The children stood up, calmed down, and blinked their starry eyes at Finnley.

“What did you do?” Finnley heard what they said.

Alfie put the tablet behind him, and Diana did the same with the phone.

Finnley understood that they must have done something.

“By the way, Finnley, you are going to talk to the Mayon about collaboration at ten o’clock, right?” Alfie asked for confirmation.

Finnley was puzzled. “How did you know this?”

Seeing the tablet behind Alfie, Finnley put on a solemn face. “You hacked your dad’s system again, right?”

“No.” Alfie denied it, “Is it tricky? I can help you! Just take us there!”

Finnley did not dare to risk it. “It’s none of your business. I will deal with it myself.”

“But Daddy attaches great importance to it. I want to do you a favor!” Alfie smiled and said, “I’ve stolen the business proposal from the Jerald’s laptops. Do you want to take a look?”

Finnley, staring at Alfie with a serious face, was tempted.

Finnley smiled and stroked their heads. "Well, come with me to the office."

The children happily picked up their schoolbags and followed him.

Ivan was in his office.

Ivan sat in his chair with a cold and impatient look.

Catherine stood beside him. "It's not what it looked like!" She was desperate. "I don't have any of that kind of photos on my laptop! Besides, it is a laptop of the company."

"Why can't you trust me?" Catherine almost freaked out. "I don't care what the others think of me, but I hope you could use your judgement to think about it!"

However, Ivan ignored her explanation.

"How could I possibly show those debauched things in front of everyone? I'm devoted to work, and I'm not interested in those things at all!"

At that moment, Finnley came in with the children and heard her heartfelt explanation from a long distance away.

Finnley looked towards the children and realized something. He guessed Alfie must have hacked the projector in the conference room.

But the children walked forward as if nothing happened, saying, "Daddy!" They totally ignored Catherine.

Ivan also looked at the children. Catherine turned her head and saw Finnley. She got annoyed! She didn't even get a chance to explain.

"Daddy, what's wrong with you? You look so angry?" Alfie deliberately glanced at Catherine. "Did you do something wrong?"

Annoyed, Catherine looked at the children, and then at Ivan. She was so angry that she turned and left.

Alfie smiled and asked, "When are you going to the clubhouse?"

Ivan looked at Finnley, thinking Finnley shouldn't have told this to the children.

Finnley shrugged.

"Daddy." Diana held Ivan's arm, "Please take us with you. I promise we'll behave ourselves!"
