

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 287

She changed into a new dress today, a customized limited edition.

When she saw Ivan, she smiled. "Ivan, did you work late yesterday? Why not answer my video call?"

"I didn't want to." Ivan passed by her with a calm face and walked straight into his office

Catherine looked at his back, her wounded heart full of doubts

What was wrong with him?

She felt the alienation and coldness before he lost his memory.

The phone rang, Catherine came back to her sense and took a step forward.

The person on the phone reported, "Ms. Collins, Spencer, and Jennifer went to Emerald Bay with some people, wanting to take the children away. They fought fiercely. Someone was shot and sent to the hospital."

So, the children were not kidnapped? It was Jennifer who tried to take them away?

"Who went to the hospital? Jennifer?"

"No, it was Spencer's men who got injured."

"Does Mr. Marsh know about this matter?" Catherine went into her office.

"Mr. Marsh was there, and Madam Aubree was there too. Mr. Marsh said he refused to marry you, said he was going to raise Alfie and Diana. He said Jennifer only had visitation rights."

"What? He refused to marry me?" Catherine slumped in her chair. Her body went stiff as if she had fallen into an ice cellar in an instant.

No wonder Finnley hadn't sent the invitation yet...

She even tried on the wedding dress! She had started to call Aubree "Mom".

The news had been all about weddings lately. Was Ivan trying to humiliate her?

"Ms. Collins, are you alright?" at this time, Linda walked in the door with some documents. She saw that Catherine's face looked wrong. "What happened?"

A sense of powerlessness and shame surrounded Catherine. In shock, she really wanted to cry.

Half an hour later, Catherine planned to ask Ivan face to face for a reason.

Ivan wasn't in the office. Finnley said he went downstairs

So, Catherine followed.

As soon as she reached the door of the hall, she saw Ivan leaving. It seemed that he was going to the annex building of the group. Catherine quickly followed.

Beside the flower bed, several men suddenly showed up and controlled her.

They kept slapping Catherine on the face.

With her hands behind her back, Catherine couldn't move at all!

Not far away, Mya stepped on the edge of the altar, rested her elbows on her knees, and ate the melon seeds with interest, glancing over from time to time.

Catherine was slapped thirty times in ten seconds. She was bleeding from the corners of her mouth. Her face quickly bruised.

Some security guards rushed over when they saw what happened.

Just when the security guards were about to move, more than two dozen people came out of nowhere and stopped them.

"Who are you?" Catherine's face was red and swollen, and she was ashamed and angry, trying to break free.

It felt like her arms were going to be broken.

The vice president of the group was humiliated at the door of the company. Many employees were attracted. Catharine felt great shame.

At this moment, Ivan appeared from the corner. He came from the annex building with a document. He saw Catharine on the floor.

Then he saw Mya eating melon seeds at the edge of the flower bed. Mya clapped her hands and walked toward Catherine

Mya smiled, "Do you want some?" As she spoke, she put a shelled melon seed into her mouth

Catherine screamed while struggling to break free, "Are you crazy? I never did anything against you. Why are you doing this to me?"

Without Mya's orders, the men didn't lose their grips.

"You never did anything against me?" Mya really wanted to kill her. "Don't you have any idea of what you've done?"
