

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) novel

Chapter 29

"You don't have to be so angry." Jennifer sounded calm.

Unexpectedly, he grabbed her shoulder and suddenly snapped. "Jennifer, I'm angry because I care about my children! I don't allow anyone to use them to threaten me!"

"..." Looking into his eyes, she gasped with pain.

Jordan on the side was anxious and wanted to stop them, but he didn't know what to say.

"I promise you." Jennifer didn't want to irritate him. "Let me go."

Three seconds later, he released and turned to walk upstairs.

"Are you going to the company?"

"No."

She watched his back disappear at the corner of the stairs.

Jordan explained to Jennifer again, "Madam, Mr. Marsh values families most. I hope you can understand him."

"I think he is extreme." Jennifer gave a slight smile. "He didn't trust people at all."

Jennifer went into the kitchen in the afternoon. She was preparing dinner herself.

Although she was not sure if Ivan would eat it, she still made it herself. Jordan felt very happy about that and wished they could be closer.

At six o'clock in the evening, Alfie and Diana came outside the study.

They knocked on the door with small hands.

"Daddy?" Gently pushing the door of the room open, the children walked toward the man in front of the desk, their faces looking delicate and beautiful.

Ivan also stopped his work when he saw the children, and his anger eased a lot.

"Daddy, why don't you go down to dinner?" Alfie took his hand and said happily, "Mommy has been in the kitchen for an hour and made so much delicious food. Would you like to try them?"

Diana was timid and didn't dare to be like her brother. Standing not far away, she also looked at her father with a smile.

Since her father was really good-looking, she couldn't help but look at him more.

"Okay." Ivan got up and came to Diana to pick her up.

Holding Alfie in his other hand, he took the children downstairs.

In the dining room, Jennifer, who was wearing an apron and serving dishes with Marry, came into Ivan's eyes. No matter how she was dressed up, her purity couldn't be covered.

Jordan felt particularly gratified that one was willing to cook and the other was willing to come down for dinner, which was the happiest scene.

The crystal lamps emitted a bright light, which made the whole restaurant crystal clear.

Marry served four bowls of rice and left the dining room with the butler.

"That's good. I was worried that Mr. Marsh would not come down."

"I hope he won't feel nauseous after taking it, so madam will become his medicine."

Jennifer brought the spoon, after seeing Ivan and the children seated.

"Try it." Her eyes were as clear and bright as water. "See if you like them. If not, I'll cook noodles for you." Their happiness was also conducive to the growth of children, and she was not trying to please him.

But her attitude made Ivan feel a lot better.

Miraculously, these meals were very much to his taste. Ivan ate two bowls of rice, and there was no sign of nausea.

For the first time in several years, he could eat rice and swallow them in his stomach.

He was particularly shocked and cherished the good feeling of being able to eat.

"Daddy, that's great! We can compete to eat later!"

Jennifer was also full of a sense of achievement.

Tonight, just like last night, Alfie and Diana came to their bedroom, climbed into bed, spread out daddy's hands, and pushed mommy into daddy's arms.

“Good night, I wish you a good dream. Remember, the harmonious relationship between daddy and mommy is helpful for the growth of children.” The children said, “We’ll go to the new school tomorrow! Love you!”

Maybe because the dinner atmosphere was very relaxed, Jennifer couldn’t help laughing. They were two smart little elves. “Good night, my babies.”

Ivan also said, “Good night.”
