

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 307

Catherine was a bit intimidated by Jennifer. This didn't look like the Jennifer she knew at all,

Jennifer fixed her eyes on Catherine and said with composure. "We were just helping the kids with their homework. I don't give a shit about your wedding."

When Catherine heard this, she was furious.

"I have no interest in playing tricks with you," Jennifer stressed, "But I won't just sit there and listen to your humiliation. I don't care if I didn't hear it, but I did hear it and I will justify myself."

"You bitch!" Afraid Jennifer would leak more information, Catherine looked at her with threat in her eyes, completely forgetting that Ivan was still here.

She walked up to Jennifer and was about to slap her in the face.

Ivan quickly held her wrist and stopped her.

Then he slapped her in the face.

Catherine screamed and stumbled.

Linda, who got here just in time, held her and supported her. "Ms. Collins!" She looked over, startled, "Mr. Marsh..."

Ivan squinted his eyes with a sullen face. Jennifer had been frightened. Her heart skipped a beat.

She felt cold all over all of a sudden.

Ivan turned around and carried her up in his arms. Jennifer was shocked. Her eyes widened.

Ivan carried her back into the ward, kicked the door closed, and separated them from Catherine and Linda.

Catherine suddenly found it hard to breathe and she was still in shock. She felt pain in her chest.

In the ward.

Jennifer looked up at Ivan, who was so close to her at this moment.

She could see his features clearly, his sexy lips, deep-set eyes and his Adam's apple. He looked noble, like a king.

She would never get tired of looking at his face.

At this moment, Jennifer felt like she was in a dream.

Ivan had lost his memory, but he hit Catherine for her?

When Ivan smelled the fragrance on Jennifer, he also felt like he was in a dream.

At a close distance, Ivan fixed his eyes on Jennifer's delicate face. Her pink lips were so tempting to him at this moment.

But when he thought of the scene in the surveillance video, how she left him at that time, he felt heartbroken.

What had happened before that?

However, no matter what had happened, she shouldn't have left with another man, should she?

He frowned and released her. Standing up with a standoffish look in his eyes, he put his hands into his pockets and looked away from her.

"I'm sorry," Jennifer stared at him and said, "I didn't want to sabotage the relationship between the two of you."

Ivan frowned upon hearing this. He did not like these words.

He pursed his lips, turned around and left.

Jennifer looked at his back and couldn't figure out what was on his mind.

He just left?

Linda helped Catherine back to her ward.

Catherine sat in the bed with no light in her eyes. She kept shedding tears.

She felt angry, aggrieved, devastated...

Catherine felt that her chance at becoming the future Mrs. Marsh was getting smaller and smaller. She had to recover first and then go find her mom! She had to get the wedding done sooner!

If she kept on waiting, she was afraid that things would be out of control.

"Ms. Collins..." Linda felt sorry for her. If it weren't for Jennifer, Catherine and Ivan would make a cute couple.

Everyone in the company thought they would get married one day.

"Jennifer's back..." Catherine felt heartbroken. "Even after losing his memory, she's still special to him."

What should Linda say?

No comforting words would work at this very moment.

"Linda... Do you think I would never get his heart no matter how hard I tried?"