

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 333

Jennifer's bright eyes were tinged with horror and disbelief. In his arms, she couldn't move.

But what he had just said fell heavily on her heart.

"Ivan, you've lost your memory." She whispered, "If your memory were restored, you wouldn't be standing here now."

"So where should I be?" He closed his eyes and greedily smelled the faint scent of her body.

"In the hospital." She replied, "You should be in the hospital, you care about your family. You risked your life to save your mother in the fire."

"I care about you too." He said, "I risked my life to rush into the traffic."

Her heart was cracked. It hurt so much... Jennifer was speechless and apologetic for the car accident.

"The thought of you leaving Spencer makes my heart broken. I wanted to come and have a look." He confessed like a child.

She was touched.

But Jennifer was well aware that Aubree was mentally sick and dramatic.

If Ivan didn't marry Catherine this time, what will happen? Everyone would be in trouble.

The wedding was in three days...

"So, what did you see?" She asked him, "Do you believe that there is nothing between me and Spencer?"

"Yes." Without hesitation, Ivan hugged her tightly.

This surprised Jennifer.

"He told me everything." Ivan also trusted his own judgment, "I believe in you, and I believe that you still love me. But you have too many worries. You are not brave."

Not brave?

Jennifer was at a loss. How was she supposed to be brave?

Ivan was not an ordinary man. As the helmsman of the Marsh Group, he carried the hope of tens of millions of people.

Behind him was his mother, and in front of him were Jennifer and their children.

Jennifer worried most about the safety of the children at the moment.

"Can I discuss one thing with you?" She calmed down and took the opportunity to communicate with him.

Ivan let go of her and held her shoulders, his eyes affectionate, "Sure."

"Bring Alfie and Diana to me." She stared at him, expecting his answer.

Ivan smiled, "You're going back to Emerald Bay. Why will they come here?"

"I..."

"I'm not going to marry Catherine." Ivan made it clear, "I don't watch the news, so public opinion can't affect me. As for my mother... I think in this world, everyone is an individual. I won't hurt you or sacrifice my life for her."

"She will refuse treatment." Jennifer knew Aubree was pretending.

"It's her life and her choice." Ivan had made up his mind, "I can't let her threaten me with this thing all the time, can I?"

Jennifer had a bit of a headache. She shook off his hand and took two steps back. "What am I supposed to do? You'll hate me once you remember everything."

"Do you love me?" Ivan's gaze locked on her panicked little face, "I want an answer."

"It's not a matter of love." She said, "It's marriage, so there's much more to think about."

"Answer my question." His cold glamour eyes drooped down at her, "Answer me."

Jennifer couldn't lie to herself. "Yes."

Ivan smiled, which was breathtakingly beautiful.
