

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 341

As she drove, she called Linda, "Linda, go to my house now! I'll go back right away."

"Any good news?" Hear Catherine in a good mood, Linda was happy as her friend. Catharine rarely got so happy.

"I'll try on a wedding dress tonight, come and help."

"Okay!"

Linda arrived first. Catherine saw her as soon as she got out of the car

"Here! Ms. Collins!" Linda handed her a cup of drink, "Why do you come back today? Aren't you supposed to be in the hospital with your mother-in-law? Are you back just to try the wedding dress?"

"My mother-in-law is discharged from the hospital." In a good mood, Catherine took a sip of the milk tea and casually put her hand on Linda's shoulder. "Let's go!" The wedding dress is too complicated, I can't dress it by myself. I don't want the diamonds to fall off."

"The wedding dress has been delivered?" Linda was looking forward to seeing it, "Did you take any pictures? Show me!"

"Nope." Catherine pulled her into the elevator, "You'll see it very soon."

At the top floor of Emerald Bay.

Moonlight and night wind was working at the same time.

"I'm sorry." Jennifer sincerely apologized, "I used to think that without me, you would definitely marry Catherine, so I chose to leave."

Ivan smiled, "I wouldn't have married her even without the children and you."

His attitude was very clear, "She is just one of the children sponsored by my mother, the most outstanding one. Although she is now the vice president of the group and never made any mistakes in her work, this is only an assessment of her workability, not the standard of being my wife."

"What is the standard of being your wife?" She was curious.

"You." He said, "You're the only standard."

Ivan said, "There are actually a lot of people in the company with equal ability as her. Because she is the vice president, people pay more attention to her, and she likes me."

"So, without me or not, you won't be with her anyway." Jennifer got it.

"Of course not." He cut it off, "Before I knew you, I thought I would never get married."

"Jennifer, it was you who changed me and made my life more complete." He shook her hand and said affectionately, "I am just an ordinary person, and deep down I still long to meet a suitable soul and form a family with her."

She understood him now.

"I won't run away again." Jennifer raised the glass to him, then drank the red wine in the glass, "By the way, did your mother have a heart attack?"

He should remember that too now.

"I don't think so." Ivan didn't remember that Aubree had heart disease. "Otherwise, why didn't I know?"

Aubree was pretending.

Things were easier now.

The same night, at Catherine's home.

With Linda's help, she put on her wedding dress. Before that, she had even taken a shower.

Under the illumination of the light, the wedding dress was shining as if she was wearing diamonds. The design of the shoulder and small V-shaped collar outlined her neck perfectly without exposing too much skin.

The lightweight and special shape made her more agile.

Standing in front of the floor-to-ceiling mirror, Catherine was completely amazed by her beauty, "I look more elegant now."

"Ms. Collins, you are always elegant." Linda took a few steps back and looked at Catherine. "It's so beautiful. You'll walk to the man you love the most in this gorgeous wedding dress. Perfect!"

The man that she loved the most...

Ivan's handsome figure showed up in Catherine's mind. That was exactly her feelings.

In this world, Ivan was indeed the man that Catherine loved the most.

"Linda, bring me my wedding shoes, please. I want to try them on!" Catherine suddenly remembered her shoes. She extended her finger. "They are in that box!"
