

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 343

"Master!" It was Edward's voice.

He excitedly followed Ivan into the living room. Intimidated by the luxurious décor, he suddenly lost for words.

Jennifer smiled, "Edward." He looked like a big boy now after a few months of departure.

The big boy looked back at her, "Master, you're so pretty!" Looking her up and down, he took a step toward her, "How beautiful!" Edward stared at Jennifer with amazement.

Ivan's gaze fell on Edward and somewhat felt uncomfortable.

"Thank you for coming to my wedding." Jennifer was also happy. "Is everything okay in the village?"

"Very good, Robert and others will also come! Mr. Marsh has arranged a car to pick them up!" Edward said

Jennifer was surprised at Ivan's consideration. She saw him nodding and knew that it was true.

Edward said to her, "But people are busy on the farm recently. Susan and David are looking forward to the day of your wedding. They will come downtown for the first time in their life to attend your wedding!"

Jennifer was happy. She looked gratefully at Ivan. "Thank you."

"They are your family, your strongest backing." Ivan was thoughtful, "Those who have witnessed Alfie and Diana grow must be invited to witness your happiness."

Jennifer felt warm, and more in love with Ivan.

Edward was amazed by Jennifer's beauty. Ivan found that he couldn't take his eyes off her.

Just as Edward reached for Jennifer's neck, Ivan quickly stepped forward and grabbed Edward's two hands. "You're not a child anymore, you're almost 20, so you have to keep your distance from my wife!"

"Master..." Edward furrowed his brows, aggrieved, "I haven't hugged you for a long time!" He snatched you away, can't I hug you? When I sprained my feet while picking herbs, you carried me home!"

The people around, as well as Jennifer, couldn't help but laugh. She had watched Edward grow up.

Only Ivan's face was dark.

"It hurts, Mr. Marsh, let me go!" Edward still looked like a child. He looked back, "Forgive me! I am sorry!"

"Have you learned your lesson?" Ivan said a little jealously, "Don't hug her again, although she is your Master."

“Okay, okay, okay.” The boy nodded. It really hurt.

Ivan added, “Don’t stare at her for more than five seconds.”

“Okay, Master...”

“Stop.” Jennifer reached out, “Let him go. He’s just a kid.”

“Kids need to be taught. Kids will grow up. He is a boy.” Ivan’s words made sense.

“I won’t hug her again!” Edward glanced at him warily.

Ivan let go of his hand, in fact, he did not use much strength.

After releasing his hand, Ivan asked Edward, “Would you like to eat something?”

“I’ve eaten. I’m not hungry.”

“Would you like to have a drink?”

“No thanks.”

Even Jennifer thought Ivan was cute at this point.

“Marry has prepared a room for you. Let her show you and tell her if you need anything.”

“Thank you.” Edward saluted, “Just don’t hit me again!” He was as happy as a kid.

Ivan stood with his hands in his hands, silent.

Jennifer looked like an angel in the wedding dress.

“Is there anything that needs to be modified? Does it fit?” Ivan asked

“Very good, perfect.”

Jennifer was very cooperative in making poses and smiling.

Not long after, the kids called.

They were very accustomed to being abroad, and they wished Daddy and Mommy a happy wedding.
