

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 344

Jennifer told the children that Ivan's memory was restored and the children were happy.

"When we settle things over here, we'll take you guys back." Jennifer promised, "It won't take long, be patient."

"Mommy, we are happy at Auntie Madeleine's place!" said Alfie joyfully, "We like the farm. We'll be careful. Don't worry."

"I'm glad to hear that."

Diana spoke too with her cute voice, "Daddy, Mommy, we like Auntie Madeleine's place. We'd like to stay for longer. Don't come too soon."

"Say thanks to Auntie Madeleine for me! Call us if there is anything. And don't tell anyone where you are!"

"Don't worry. We got it! Daddy, Mommy, we love you!"

"We love you too."

Times passed in a blink, and soon the day of the wedding arrived.

Arkpool City was like a little girl who had just woken up, beautiful and quiet. The air was fresh in the morning. The weather was nice today.

A grand wedding was about to take place here. The boss of the Marsh Group was finally getting married.

Several fancy cars were parked in Emerald Bay early in the morning. Makeup artists, stylists, groomsmen, and bridesmaids had all arrived.

Early in the morning, Ivan sent ten cars to pick up people from Sunshine Village.

Edward made the list of guests, all of whom were people close to Jennifer.

People that had taken care of Jennifer and the children during the last seven years.

In the huge courtyard, magnificent wedding cars were parked there, each one romantic and unique.

Mya, who was wearing a bridesmaid dress, also came. She looked cute when she dressed normally.

"Hasn't Jennifer gotten up yet on such an important day?" Mya asked Ivan, "What did you do last night? Did you stay up late?"

Her words shocked the people around!

How old was the little girl?

She was so blunt.

Ivan's eyes darkened, and he confessed, "We chatted until late, making plans for the future."

"Where are Alfie and Diana then?" Mya looked around. "Haven't they gotten up yet? I'm going to wake them up!" Then she turned around.

"They're not here." Ivan looked up.

The girl's footsteps stagnated, and she turned her eyes in surprise, "What? Where did they go?"

Ivan was not going to answer.

"Then... I'm going to wake Jennifer up."

"No." Ivan calmly took a sip of tea, "Let her wake up naturally."

"Mr. Marsh, today is your wedding! It's not good to miss the right time!"

Ivan said softly, "There is no right time, only the right person."

Wow!

What a public display of affection!

Mya gave him a thumbs-up and sat down on the couch.

Upstairs.

"Mrs. Marsh, are you up?" Marry patiently knocked on the master bedroom door and pressed her ear to the door, "Mrs. Marsh? Still sleeping?"

Jennifer put her hands out of the bed, stretching out. Then she opened her eyes and took a look at the phone, it was almost eight o'clock.

Was the wedding today?

And where was Ivan?

Where did he go? Why didn't he wake her up?

At this time, there was a knock on the door again, "Mrs. Marsh, are you up?" It was Marry's cautious voice.

"Come in!" Jennifer was suddenly awake.

Marry entered the door in and saw Jennifer hurry out of bed, complaining, "Where is Mr. Marsh? Why didn't he wake me up? Is he gone?"

"He didn't leave. He is waiting for you downstairs."

Marry's face was full of smiles. "He said you have to rest well. You can sleep until you wake up naturally."

"He's..." Jennifer put on her slippers, "Didn't he know what day is it today? He turned off my alarm clock."
