

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 346

"I don't know." The person in the driver's seat looked around carefully. "There is no movement yet, but there are some cars. The bridesmaids and bridesmaids have arrived."

"It's okay, I can wait." Catherine couldn't contain her inner excitement, as long as the wedding took place as scheduled, she was willing to wait.

"Call me when they leave, and I'll be ready."

"Okay, Ms. Collins."

By the end of the call, Catherine's heart was pounding. She was inexplicably nervous that she was going to live in Emerald Bay tonight and sleep in the same bed with Ivan.

It felt so unreal. She had been looking forward to this moment for more than ten years. Finally...

At Kelsington Bay.

Aubree also got up and put on a dress.

The pattern was exquisite, and the style was elegant.

This would be her first public appearance since the fire. The rumors would be self-defeating.

An hour later.

At Emerald Bay, the sun was shining.

Rowan and Finnley had also arrived. As groomsmen, they were all in white shirts, each looking handsome.

In Rowan's eyes, Jennifer was more like an angel today in the wedding dress.

He admired her and respected her.

Finnley's eyes were fixed on Mya, who looked very different in the dress today.

Ivan took Jennifer's hand and walked out of the living room under people's escort.

The Lamborghini door opened, he carefully escorted her into the car, and Mya helped her tidy up her dress.

There were eight bridesmaids, while the other seven were all company employees, picked by Finnley.

The scene was grand.

Beautiful bride...

Handsome groom...

Magnificent and romantic wedding cars...

It looked like a fairy tale.

In a black car outside the courtyard, the man saw this scene and couldn't believe his eyes!

Why was there another bride?

He panicked, couldn't even hold the mobile phone when she called Catherine and started the car. If he didn't leave, he would be discovered.

In the apartment.

The phone rang and Catherine stood up excitedly and told Linda, "It's time to go! Ivan is coming to pick me up!"

"I see!" Linda did the final packing.

She answered the phone, "Okay, I know! We're ready!"

"Ms. Collins!" The person was afraid that Catherine would hang up the phone, so he said, "There are some changes."

Catherine's heart clattered. She subdued her panic, asking, "What happened?"

The person was silent, not knowing how to convey this cruel fact.

"What changed?" Catherine's heart trembled with fright, "Isn't he coming?"

"The wedding car has departed, with a bride in the car." The other person said they are going to the wedding venue, not to your place."

"What do you mean?" Catherine thought that Ivan must have been crazy. "Who?! Tell me! Who is it?"

Before getting the answer, Catherine calmed down, her face turned pale. "Is it Jennifer? It's her, right? It must be Jennifer!"

"I didn't see her face clearly from a distance, but I saw a woman in a wedding dress and groups of bridesmaids and groomsmen."

Catherine felt devastated. She subdued her panic and subconsciously looked at Linda.

The phone fell on the floor, and so did she. Tears fell off her cheeks.

"Ms. Collins!" Linda went to help her. She felt sorry for Catherine. That was too much to undertake.

But Catherine was a strong person. When she couldn't get something, she wanted it even more.

If she couldn't get Ivan, Jennifer wouldn't either!

"Linda, help me up." Catherine held back her tears.
