

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 353

Ivan watched Linda help Catherine up, with awful coldness on the corners of his lips.

“Catherine, you are dismissed. I don’t want to see you anymore. Finnley will do the paperwork with you later.”

Finnley was shocked and realized Catherine had reached Ivan’s limit.

Given Aubree’s attitude, Ivan had asked Finnley to make up a resignation for Catherine, claiming that Catherine took the initiative to resign.

But now, Ivan changed his mind. Catherine didn’t deserve this at all.

With Linda’s help, Catherine stood firm, deep in thought.

She glared at Jennifer and said with disgust, “I should be Ivan’s bride and this wedding is held for me. You take my spot. Shame on you.”

Jennifer did not want to argue with her. As cool as a cucumber, she looked elegant and graceful.

Linda tried to pull Catherine away, but Catherine looked at Ivan and pointed at him indignantly. “I was still in the dark until this morning. You’re really despicable!” She gritted her teeth and tried not to cry.

Her palm dripped with blood, and the white wedding dress had been stained red.

Ivan said to Linda. “Take her to the hospital to be bandaged, you’d better find her a psychiatrist.”

“You’re the one with mental problems!” Catherine looked at Ivan in shock and growled.

Ivan took the microphone from the priest. Under everyone’s astonished gaze, he said calmly, “Catherine, I’ve given you many chances and told you countless times that I don’t like you at all.”

He said, “I’ve never loved you, let alone been in a relationship with you.”

He continued, “But you kept haunting me! In front of everyone here today, I repeat, I will never love you!”

Ivan’s words stabbed into Catherine’s heart like sharp knives!

She was humiliated in public.

The clicks of cameras were incessant.

The villagers echoed with applause, which irritated Catherine. “What unruly people!”

“So are you! You are not welcome here at all! Hurry up and get out!”

“Go away!”

“Let’s go, Miss Collins.” Linda even wanted to huddle up in a ball somewhere. Catherine made such a scene but gained nothing.

Ivan got impatient and made a gesture.

Two bodyguards appeared from nowhere and directly took Catherine out!

It was pretty gruffly that Linda was almost pushed down.

It was rare to see a woman driven out in a wedding dress.

Dozens of reporters chased out, but Ivan did not stop them. He didn’t care what would happen at all. Instead, he only cared if the bride was Jennifer.

Catherine’s wedding dress was stepped on and soiled as she was forcibly dragged away.

When she was slapped, her hair was ruffled, so she looked dejected.

Linda jogged all the way behind the bodyguards and kept panting.

The media didn’t miss the opportunity. After Catherine got into the car, she was still photographed.

Aubree watched all this with a long face!

She thought Catherine was insane. Anyway, this was a global broadcast! Aubree felt sorry for Catherine when Jennifer took Ivan away from Catherine.

However, Catherine should have known that whatever she did would be in vain.

Thinking of this, Aubree was annoyed and disappointed.

She turned around and got into the car. Pippa hurriedly followed Aubree. Pippa thought what happened just now was really a big show. Unfortunately, she was too far away from the villagers, so she didn’t hear what they said. According to their looks, they must have taught Catherine a lesson.