

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 356

Ivan wondered whether Aubree left with Catherine.

Ivan was curious about what Aubree was thinking.

Aubree didn't strongly object to the wedding, and neither did she do anything paranoid today. Thinking of this, Ivan was relieved and full of gratitude to his mother.

If it were Aubree who made a fuss about the wedding today, Ivan would not have been able to drive her out.

Now that Aubree accept the wedding, Ivan was confident that he could repair the relationship.

After Ivan took Jennifer to toast the guests one by one, he let go of her shoulder and returned to the stage.

Under Jennifer's puzzled gaze, Ivan picked up the silver microphone and said, "Finnley."

Hearing this, everyone turned to the stage, and then looked toward Finnley, who was not far away. Finnley held a glass of wine and looked at Ivan. "I'm here, Mr. Marsh!"

Ivan looked at Finnley and announced calmly, "From tomorrow, all employees of our company will be on leave for five days, and those who can't leave their positions will be given ten times the daily salary during the said period."

The crowd was amazed!

"My goodness!" Most of the bridesmaids and groomsmen were the Marsh group's employees. They were all over the moon.

With a faint smile, Ivan continued, "Besides, all employees could get one hundred thousand. This is the gift from Mrs. Marsh."

Jennifer's eyes widened open. She thought she had heard wrong.

"My goodness!"

"Hooray! One hundred thousand!"

Thunderous applause rang out across the hall as everyone looked toward Jennifer gratefully.

"Mr. Marsh is so generous! He is such a nice boss."

"So is Mrs. Marsh!"

"It's of great honor to work for the Marsh Group! All the employees rejoiced.

Jennifer calmed down. Ivan was looking at her with great affection. In response, Jennifer smiled at him with love and admiration for him.

Ivan had a slender figure with a good temperament. Instead of being cold, he looked very approachable today.

He didn't seem to be finished with his speech.

He added, "Also, all shopping malls and hotels under the Marsh Group will offer a 10% discount for one week from today."

"It's so perfect! Awesome!"

"Let's go shopping tomorrow! I've wanted a handbag for a long time!"

"I want to buy skincare products!"

The girls screamed in waves, with a burst of hand-clapping! Hearing what Ivan said, people could hardly stop clapping. Gradually, the wedding reached its climax.

Mya rushed onto the stage, stood in front of Ivan, and looked at him with great depression.

Ivan remembered her and considered her a friend.

The others quieted down and all looked at them curiously.

Ivan was a bit puzzled. "What's wrong?"

Mya took another microphone, which attracted the attention of everyone off the stage.

"Mr. Marsh." She blinked her beautiful eyes and asked in a serious tone, "Can I be a member of your company?"

Ivan paused for a moment and heaved a sigh of relief. "Of course."

The guests were all surprised.

They wondered what was going on.

Ivan turned to Jennifer. "Catherine is dismissed, and Jennifer will take over the position, so you can be her assistant. Do you like it?"

Jennifer's eyes widened, full of consternation.

She became the focus again.

Ivan never told her about this, and he looked so serious.

Mya replied happily, "Of course I do!"