

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 390

Georgia raised her eyes and felt a little guilty.

"I'm warning you, stay away from her." Spencer's demonic pupils swept a touch of displeasure, "If you come to her again, I will ruin your reputation in the entertainment industry!"

He defended Jennifer so bluntly that Georgia became furious, "You? A new artist who just started his career?"

"Be my guest." Spencer's eyebrows knitted slightly.

Their eyes met...

Georgia's jaw was pretty tense at the beginning and the arrogance in her eyes scattered a little when she met his ice-cold gaze.

Spencer gave way gently. He put his hands in his pockets without looking at her and stopped talking.

"She's already married to Ivan." Georgia looked at him and calmly reminded him, "She's someone else's wife and someone else's mother. What's the use of you thinking about her again?"

Spencer suddenly felt his heart tighten, and that tiny sliver of hope was completely gone.

He looked at her with cold eyes and said in a low and thin voice, "Remember what I just said and mind your own business." After saying that, he left.

Georgia turned her eyes to look at his back, she could not help but feel a little lost. Did he still want to wait for her?

She felt so upset.

Walking into the elevator with the assistant, she was not looking very good. Her face was red and swollen after being slapped, and she was in a terrible mood. She had been in this business for so many years and no one had ever dared to slap her.

"Miss Clarke..." The assistant said, "Do not bother her again. If Mr. Marsh finds out, you will be abandoned. Maybe Spencer doesn't have that power but Mr. Marsh does."

Georgia hated Jennifer so much for some unknown reason. From the first day she saw her, Georgia did not like this woman.

The assistant calmly reminded, "Miss Clarke, do not waste your future on an irrelevant person."

"An irrelevant person? She is my rival in love! She's all married and still trying to seduce Spencer."

The assistant didn't dare to answer because she was still in a rage and hoped she can think about it through in the future.

“She cheated on her husband! Behind the scenes, she’s still hanging out with Spencer! Who do you think will be in trouble if this kind of news is reported?” A sly gleam came into her eyes.

She took out her cell phone and quickly dialed a number, “Hello, is this Entertainment Weekly? I have big news here, you guys should come over, yes, absolutely explosive news!”

The assistant was startled by her.

“What are you afraid of?” Georgia put the phone into her bag, “It was anonymous. Besides, it was not me who arrange them to be together.”

“Maybe they are not like what you think.”

“Then they can write it as I think!”

“...” The assistant was directly speechless and she always felt that it was not smart to mess with such a big shot and they got no chance. She was backed by Mr. Marsh, the owner of the Marsh Group, which was in charge of the Arkpool City.

Not long after Georgia left with her assistant, a group of plainclothes reporters arrived.

They aimed at Studio 33... and also took a picture of Spencer who was waiting outside the door on a bench.

They were the best at writing articles, and would “analyze” others’ inner thoughts through their appearance, or invented dialogue and extra details.
