

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 394

"Huh?" She was anxious, slowing the car, and asked, "But why?"

"No reasons. I just don't want to work there." Actually, it was mainly because of Aubree. Their relationship had just eased a little.

Mya changed her plan to sad-fishing, "You know your husband is too busy, right? Besides, Catherine can't go back."

She didn't speak because she knew that.

"The position for vice president can't remain empty, right? Do you want your husband to die from working too hard? Now the work is all on his own. How much help do you think Finnley can be? Finnley already has a lot of things to do."

After hearing her say that, Jennifer felt sorry for Ivan, "I'll think about it." This drama would be over in about one month.

"So you are that StaRise? Good for you girl!" Mya asked, relieved.

"You know about her?" She sounded calm.

"Those who don't know this name must be pretty old! Such a famous voice actor." Mya said with a smile, "I'm not paying much attention to this, but a friend of mine is a huge fan of yours. I often hear her mention the name! By the way, sign for her someday!"

Jennifer felt quite honored, "Okay."

In this era, information always spreads quickly.

The fact Mrs. Marsh was StaRise was exposed, and the news of their secret meeting outside the recording studio also spread.

There were videos and also photos to prove it.

Spencer waited alone on the bench for three hours and then sent her downstairs... just for the three minutes together.

To get clicks and to spark speculation among netizens, those reporters did not even write that Jennifer later got into another car.

The story ends when they go downstairs together.

For a while, the internet was again in chaos.

The afterglow of the wedding and the benefits of those employees of the Marsh Group have been occupying the headlines recently.

Now some netizens are pointing fingers at Jennifer, saying she was unfaithful.

In the simple but flashy president's office, Ivan and Finnley had known about that news and Finnley felt ridiculous.

Ivan was still calm. He sat on the sofa in front of the window and pondered, then dialed his wife's phone, "Jennie, where are you?" His voice was gentle.

"Honey, I'm with Mya. She's here to pick me up," Jennifer said to him.

At this time, Mya's voice also came over, "Mr. Marsh! I've worked hard for my job, and I'm picking up your wife from work!"

Ivan smiled, "Where are you guys planning to go? Do you want to go out for dinner together?"

Jennifer hadn't watched the news yet and was in a pretty good mood, "I'll ask her." Then she said to Mya, "Let's go out for dinner. Do you have a date tonight?"

"Okay," She was quite happy, "I know a new restaurant that opened across the street from the Marsh Group, is he off work yet?"

"I think he's still at the office."

Jennifer said, "There's a new restaurant across from the company, we're going over there now, Pippa is there too."

"Good." Ivan's voice was gentle, "I'm also packing up and getting ready to leave. Waiting for you guys."

Seeing that the news did not affect his mood at all, Finnley was relieved.

Ivan completely trusted Jennifer.

But this Spencer was a problem.

In Kelsington Bay, Aubree also saw the news.

There was no Ivan in those photos. Ivan did not appear on her first day at the recording studio but Spencer waited there for three hours. Unbelievable!
