

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 398

Twenty minutes later.

He got out of the car and went into the building where the recording studio was located, which was a working base.

In the recording studio, Jennifer finished recording the last sentence. Pippa handed some water to her, "Here, have a drink."

"Thank you." Jennifer breathed a sigh of relief, "Today I am in better shape than yesterday. Half an hour ahead of schedule."

"That's because no one is bothering you." Pippa hit the nail on the head.

"Right!" She took a sip of water and handed her the bottle, "Let's call it a day! Go home and have a square meal!" Then she started to turn off the equipment and pack up her things.

Pippa thought she was sincere, without affectation. She liked her more.

When the two of them walked out of the studio, they met Spencer who came with the script analysis.

They met in the corridor.

Spencer saw them and slowed down his pace, "Have you finished recording?"

"Yes." Jennifer looked at the files in his hand, "You've stayed here?"

"No, just get here to help the director get his stuff. I'm about to leave."

"Got it."

"Shall we go together?" Spencer took a step towards the elevator. He was also in a hurry.

Jennifer and Pippa followed but they didn't talk to each other along the way.

At this moment, Ivan was coming.

He sat in the back seat and held a bouquet of red roses in his arms.

The wind blew his hair and a smile hung on his face.

Those three people got out of the elevator and walked towards the hall.

"At this rate, you should be done recording in no time." Spencer praised her, "The director checked your work yesterday and he was satisfied. He said he would come to check on you in a couple of days."

"When are you guys done with the filming I'll be done here as well. Please tell the director that I won't hold you back." Jennifer said.

They walked out of the hall when a car stopped outside.

Jennifer took several steps down and accidentally stepped on a stone. She broke her ankle and fell.

Spencer held her up instantly.

The sharp pain made her unable to stand. She couldn't stop her tears and her whole leg was tingling.

"Jennifer!" Pippa hurriedly held her.

And this scene fell right into Ivan's eyes, he quickly got out of the car, grabbed the flowers, and walked quickly toward them.

Spencer picked her up across the waist, "You can't walk now. I'll take you back."

Pippa kicked the stone on the floor, "Who threw it? Jackass!"

The stone almost hit Ivan which startled Pippa.

Spencer took a few steps forward and saw Ivan, then he stopped.

Jennifer saw him too and she slightly stiffened.

Ivan put the roses into her arms, and without saying a word, he took his wife from Spencer and turned towards his car, "Does it hurt?"

"Well, yeah."

Spencer froze, for a moment he did not move.

Pippa looked at him heartily, "Mr. Lawrence, you should go." And then she ran quickly towards them.

Ivan walked fast as if he were angry.

Pippa didn't even dare to breathe.

Jennifer smelled the roses, looked at the large bouquet of roses in her arms, then raised her eyes to look at him.

His face had a touch of softness.

But it was hard to guess what was on his mind.

Jennifer did not say anything and there was no point in explaining.
