

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 399

The driver had opened the door. Ivan carried her into the car and Pippa followed.

Spencer watched the car away and then he walked towards his car.

“Don’t take this the wrong way.” Jennifer thought for a while but still decided to explain, “It’s not like what you saw. I accidentally stepped on a stone and fell.”

He hugged her and let her sit on his lap.

With one arm around her waist, his other hand picked up her injured foot and gently placed it on the seat, then he helped her take off her shoes.

“How did you know which one was hurt?” She was slightly stunned and looked at him incredulously.

Ivan said as he examined her, “Because I saw that and you don’t need to explain.” He looked up and asked in a soft voice, “Does it hurt?”

Jennifer shook her head. She felt no pain at once.

In fact, her whole leg was numb and the sprain was quite serious.

“Hank,” Ivan said to the driver, “Go to Dr. Watson.”

“It’s ok.” Jennifer said in a hurry, “I’m a doctor. What’s the point of going to him?”

“Doctors usually can’t cure themselves.” Ivan said, “Since you are a doctor, do you have a special medicine for your ankle?”

The driver replied, “Yes sir.”

Hank changed lanes and accelerated toward Rowan’s villa...

“Good girl.” He was worried about her.

Ivan held her injured foot and had a doubt in his mind, why did Spencer go to the recording studio again?

Wasn’t the news yesterday bad enough?

What the hell does that guy want?

In the car, Ivan called Rowan and told him about Jennifer’s broken ankle.

Rowan was ready to treat her.

They stopped in the courtyard in front of Rowan’s villa ten minutes later.

Ivan carried Jennifer out of the car and Pippa followed him down.

Rowan examined her foot thoroughly and said it was a sprained joint.

He had medicine here. He sprayed it on and massaged her ankle to help the medicine work while not increasing her pain.

Ivan sat aside and learned very carefully, "Like this? About five minutes?"

"Yes, spray once in the morning and once in the evening, and you will be fine in two or three days." Rowan said, "But keep this injured foot off the ground for two days."

"Okay, got it," Ivan answered.

He took out his phone on the spot and dialed a number. He said on the phone, "I'm not going to the office tomorrow. Push back the work."

"Where are you going?" Finnley asked.

"At home with my wife." Then Ivan hung up the phone.

Rowan and Jennifer were both shocked.

She looked at him in surprise, "It's not that serious! How much work do you have to delay to be with me for a day? Your itinerary was already scheduled. If you do that, I'm sure work will be twice as busy, right?"

"Don't worry about it. Nothing is more important than you." He put the phone away, "I need to take care of you first."

"It is nothing, you know." Jennifer thought he was making a big deal out of it.

"I've already decided."

Well, Jennifer knew that his decision never changes.

Rowan witnessed PDA again.

So did Pippa. She envied them very much. The right person will care for each other.

They took the medicine and left. Ivan directly carried Jennifer upstairs.

Marry wondered what was going on here.
