

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 423

Jennifer's face was slightly pale. She suddenly felt sick all over and couldn't help leaning against Ivan.

Ivan turned nervously and gripped her shoulders tightly at the same time. What happened?

Georgia thought that Jennifer had been provoked by her. The smile on her face was even wider, and even her eyes were filled with contempt.

Did Jennifer still love Spencer yet?

"StaRise, it's a great stage name," Georgia said in a strange tone. "But to my surprise, you are StaRise. Do you voice my role?"

Her tone sounded like she was superior to Jennifer.

Spencer strode forward. Because Georgia kept holding his arm, she was dragged forward suddenly and the wine in her glass spilled ungracefully.

"Ah!"

The wine were all sprinkled on her white dress.

Even so, Spencer did not stop.

Pippa glanced back and couldn't help covering her smile with her hand. When she looked back at Jennifer, her heart skipped a sanked. "Jennifer, are you feeling unwell? What's wrong?"

Jennifer's eyebrows were slightly furrowed and her face was a little pale. Ivan didn't wait for her answer.

He said warmly, "Dear, shall we go back? We've stayed here for nearly 20 minutes. That's enough."

"Okay." She didn't insist.

Then, they left, and Pippa obediently followed by their side.

Spencer watched them walk out of the banquet hall. After a while, he also pulled away Georgia's hand and walked out.

"Hey! What are you doing? The party is not over yet!"

Spencer ignored her and quickened his pace without looking back.

Georgia stamped her feet in anger!

She thought, Jennifer was so strange. She had brought her husband with her and dared to have a crush on another man!

In the Lamborghini.

Jennifer finally recovered and went back to normal. It was strange. Why did she have such a feeling?

"I'm sorry, Pippa." She took her hand. "You didn't have a good time because of me."

"No, no, no." Pippa smiled. "I've had fun, and I'm in an evening dress. Mr. Marsh also took a lot of photos for me. I'm very satisfied!"

Then she stopped smiling and asked worriedly, "Are you not feeling well? Do you want to see a doctor?"

"No." She felt apologetic. "I'm fine."

"But you don't look well. Are you unhappy to see Georgia? Did she make you angry?" Pippa said frankly.

Jennifer shook her head again. "No..."

But Ivan suddenly remembered some details...his eyes were deep and he remained silent.

He didn't think her reaction had anything to do with Spencer, but the Clarkes.

Not long after they left, Spencer drove away.

He was really not interested in such a dinner party. He promised the director that he would come, because he knew that Jennifer would come as well.

He wanted to see her.

In the Lamborghini, Ivan said to Jennifer, "There is a new flower store nearby. Would you like to go there?"

"Sure."

About a few minutes later, the Lamborghini stopped in front of the flower shop under the night sky.

Ivan took Jennifer and Pippa out of the car and walked toward the flower shop. The two, young and pretty soon became a beautiful scenery.

Spencer's black Volvo also drove in this direction.

He held the steering wheel with one hand and casually placed the other hand on the window. The evening wind blew his hair, and his eyebrows were slightly furrowed.

He thought, since Jennifer was not feeling well, why did Ivan take her to attend such an unimportant party?

Spencer had a grudge against Ivan, and his eyes became deeper and deeper.

Suddenly, several black SUVs screeched by from both sides, and then stopped firmly in front after a drift! They just stopped right in front of his car!

Spencer, who was quick to react, stepped on the brake!

Squeak!

The Volvo's wheels left a long scratch on the ground and the tires even smoked.

Finally, he stopped less than half a meter away from the cars. Spencer exuded a terrifying momentum! He saw that those doors opened at the same time, and some strong men got out of the cars and approached his car step by step with murderous intent!