

Surprised Wife With Twins Chapter 460

There were few words he wanted to say in his mind.

‘Goodbye, Jennie. This is the last time I could ever love you.’

Outside the warehouse, Ivan saw Hanson turn to look at Spencer as well as the smile on his face. “Great.” It seemed Spencer had arrived at the second floor.

But Ivan could see that Hanson didn’t let his guard down. The knife was still against Jennifer’s throat. He could even see blood oozing out from her neck.

She was hurt!

Ivan’s heart skipped a beat.

Jennifer watched as Spencer showed up in her sight, kneeling on the ground. She hated Hanson.

Spencer went up the last staircase.

He knelt towards Hanson.

Jennifer felt heartbroken.

She wanted him to leave right away.

“Let her go.” Spencer stopped and looked up.

However, Hanson threw a knife to him and said, “Pick it up.”

Spencer did as he was told and grabbed the knife up from the gas.

Hanson sneered, “I want to see your blood.”

Downstairs, Ivan’s eyes turned cold.

Seeing the plaster around Spencer’s arm, Jennifer burst into tears.

“Will you let her go after you see my blood?” Spencer held the knife and looked up at him.

“Do it first.” Hanson didn’t give him the answer. It seemed that he was enjoying this.

Ivan realized he had to do something now. But Hanson had become a madman.

“No!” Jennifer tried to struggle.

Spencer had spotted that Jennifer’s neck was bleeding. Without saying a word, he stabbed himself on the shoulder.

Blood gushed out.

Hanson had also seen the blood on Jennifer's neck and immediately took the knife away. He was also shocked.

At this moment, a rope slid down from Ivan's sleeve and fell into his palm.

He threw it at the second floor and it hooked the handrail.

With Rowan's help, he got on top of the Volve and jumped up to the second floor.

He did it in only three seconds.

Pain came from his back, but he didn't care. All he wanted was to save Jennifer.

Before Hanson realized what had happened, Ivan had grabbed his hand holding the knife.

The knife dropped to the ground and Hanson felt pain from his sprained wrist.

Meanwhile, Spencer got up, carried Jennifer in his arms and threw her down to Rowan.

Rowan caught her in time.

Ivan's men fought with Hanson's.

Regardless of the pain in his wrist, Hanson rushed to the table.

Ivan then spotted the lighter on the table.

He couldn't catch up with Hanson anymore. "Run!"

Then, he rushed towards Spencer.

The moment Hanson grabbed the lighter and lit it, Ivan held Spencer and the two of them jumped down.

The two of his men also jumped down.

Behind them, there was a huge fire.

The four of them landed on the top of the Volve.

Rowan immediately started driving.

Soon, the warehouse exploded!

Bang!

The shattered cement broke the windshield and the four on top of the car were wounded.

Sitting in the backseat, Jennifer had been untied by Ivan's man and Rowan was driving.

She looked back at the fire and tears streamed down her cheeks. She didn't know they had escaped.

