

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) novel

Chapter 5

Diana didn't speak anymore. She stared at Ivan with her big eyes. She thought that Ivan was so handsome when he didn't try to grab her mom. Suddenly she felt that Ivan was a perfect match for Jennifer.

Ivan looked at the iPad, and there were indeed deletion traces of the Blue Sky Plan, and it was still deliberately sending out their location.

Somehow, when Ivan met the children's gaze, he distinctly believed them, because those eyes couldn't lie.

He had always been good at reading people.

At the age of 38, Ivan looked at the twins with mixed feelings.

Ivan gave the iPad back to Alfie. Alfie took it with both hands and put it into the little yellow duck schoolbag on his back.

Ivan crouched down, picked up Alfie, and handed him to Finnley.

Then he picked up Diana and glanced at Jennifer meaningfully. "Since the children are mine, I'll take care of them for the next seven years as they wish."

The bodyguard immediately opened the car door. Finnley quickly got into the car with the children in his arms.

When Jennifer realized what happened, Diana had been sent into the car too.

"Hey! I gave birth to them. Who are you to take them from me?!" Jennifer instinctively rushed forward, wanting to take the children back, but the bodyguard stopped her.

Edward was anxious, afraid that there would be a fight. He wanted to help, but he didn't want to get hurt.

The bodyguards were agile. They defended without attacking. After all, Jennifer was the mother of the children. They didn't dare to hurt her.

"What's wrong with you? Ivan! What do my children have to do with you?" Seeing Ivan getting into the car, she panicked, "Aren't you afraid that the children have lied? Wouldn't you verify it first?"

Jennifer was good at martial arts. She learned it to protect herself after she was raped.

"Mommy! Mommy!!" Diana stuck her head out of the car window, crying anxiously, "Don't hit Mommy..."

Alfie reached out and hugged Diana, "No, they only get beaten. Mommy will be fine!"

Diana cried.

"Don't cry, Mommy won't disappear" Alfie whispered in Diana's ear, "Now, we need to get daddy first."

The car started, and the bodyguard quickly jumped into the car, closed the door, and left under Jennifer's eyes!

"Shit!" Jennifer chased after them for a few steps and yelled at the distant Lamborghini, "Is that all you can do? Taking my children from me? Do you dare to face me alone without your bodyguards protecting you?"

She had been keeping the secret for seven years and now it was exposed.

Her intelligent son and sweet daughter were snatched by Ivan!

She squatted down in frustration, clasping her knees with her hands, feeling empty, "How can he do this? How?"

"Jennifer..." Edward leaned over to help her up. "Don't worry, Alfie and Diana won't suffer. Maybe they'll come back by themselves tomorrow."

Jennifer knew that there would be no more peaceful days in the future!

"Kids are curious about the world. Once they are tired of the new things, they would remember you and come back." Edward comforted.

Jennifer wanted to cry!

Diana was so clingy, so timid. She even cried with fright just now. What should she do if she was frightened?

"Jennifer..."

"Oh, stop this!" Jennifer stood up and walked towards the house, "Alfie went too far. He should at least discuss it with me! Hacking Ivan's computer is too risky!"

"He did. But you didn't agree."

"You..."

"I'm sorry! Jennifer. I didn't mean that."

Edward smiled. He thought it was a good thing. After all, it was Ivan!

How many people dreamed of having such a rich dad?

Jennifer entered the room and slammed the door shut. "Don't let anyone bother me!

In the departing Lamborghini, Ivan looked at the two children, his brow furrowed slightly, and he asked in his magnetic low voice, "What's your mommy's name?"

Finnley was speechless.

They had children. Yet he didn't even know her name.
