

Surprised Wife With Twins (Ivan and Jennifer) Chapter 56

In a large old villa in Kelsington Bay.

Aubree, wearing long white gloves, sat on the sofa and listened to her staff Andrew reporting beside the tea table.

“Mr. Marsh took his wife to the amusement park today. It took about an hour from their arrival to departure. Mr. Marsh took the roller coaster with her.”

“What?!” Aubree was worried. “He is afraid of heights since he was a child! How can he take a roller coaster?” She gazed at him and asked, “How’s Ivan? Is he all right?”

“He vomited after coming down, and relaxed for a long time.”

“...” Aubree was both caring about him and jealous.

He made himself so embarrassed for that village woman!

After a while, Andrew said again, “After he answered a phone call, he went to the police station. It turned out that Spencer had a fight with someone, and Mr. Marsh handled it.”

Aubree angrily said, “Is Spencer still in contact with him? How can this be? ”

“...” Andrew’s silence gave her an affirmative answer.

“What the hell is he doing?!” She was so angry that she was gasping for breath, her eyes being as sharp as an eagle, “Is he going to piss me off?! Who allowed him to deal with Spencer’s problem?!”

Andrew dared not to breathe heavily, stood respectfully, and dared not look directly into her eyes.

Pippa came over and whispered to him, “Go out first and keep following.”

“Okay.”

Andrew looked at Aubree Marsh and turned to leave.

“Give me the phone!” Aubree was very uncool that she was so angry.

Pippa said, “Madam, since Mr. marsh is still in contact with him, you can’t solve the problem with one call. You may as well improve the relationship with Mr. marsh first.”

Improve the relationship?

Aubree also wanted to.

But now things had developed unexpectedly. Jennifer’s matter had not been solved, so had Catherine’s things, and then Spencer came out!

He even took Jennifer to the amusement park. If Ivan pissed Catherine off, the group would suffer a big loss.

“Then call Catherine. Today is the weekend. Ask her if she has time to eat at home.” After calming down, Aubree tried to make her steady.

If Catherine was coaxed, things wouldn't get worse.

“Yes.”

Catherine, who received Pippa's call, had just returned from Rowan with Spencer. Of course, she would attend the appointment on time.

Before Catherine came to Kensington Bay, she went to the shopping mall to pick out gifts for Aubree, including scarves and tea...

“Just come. Why do you bring me gifts? Don't be so polite.”

In the yard, Aubree poured water for her herself. “Catherine, haven't we seen each other for a while?”

Catherine was dressed in fashion and decency. Her Tassel Earrings were particularly dazzling under the sunshine. “Aunt, I'm sorry I haven't come to see you recently.”

“Don't say that. I know that you're busy with Ivan.”

Referring to Ivan, Catherine couldn't help but think of the scene when he took Jennifer to play in the amusement park. Her heart tingled, but she was still smiling. “It's all right. I'm also busy with myself. After all, I'm taking the salary.”

“Catherine, I like you.” Aubree said, “Even if that village woman has ten more children, I can't like her.”

Catherine remained her smile. But even so, what could she change?

Jennifer lived in Emerald Bay and spent every day with Ivan now.

“Give me more time.” Aubree comforted her, “I will make Ivan change his mind. If he can't be moved this time, I will take some tough measures.”

“Thank you, auntie.” She was very moved. “I have been working hard. I work overtime every day, hoping to design works that can satisfy him and win his heart.”

Emerald Bay.

Jennifer received a call from Mya.

“Let's have a cup of coffee. I'm begging you!!”
