

Surviving in Woman's world as a novel villain.

- Chapter 1 1. Woman's World

Chapter 1 1. Woman's World

"Take this money and never show your face in this city again."

In a room that looks much like a college dormitory. A very beautiful and charming woman is standing in front of a teenager, While a check for 1 million dollars is lying on the coffee table.

On the opposite side of a beautiful charming woman was standing a very handsome man.

At this time he appears to be lost in his thoughts completely ignoring the woman. This enraged the woman and slammed her bag on the table to get his attention back.

Bang

"What!! It's not enough to buy you? Then tell me how much you want to leave my sister alone."

The woman was extremely angry. She slammed her hands hard on the coffee table and said these words giving a disgusted look to the teenager in front of her.

'What the fuck is happening? Why is this woman giving me money? Wait- Who the fuck is she?'

The teenager did not pay any attention to the girl but thought to himself. One moment he was reading a dog blood romance novel and the next he was here.

As for why he was reading that thing? Simply because he already read through most of the good Xiaobai novels, To not get bored and run out of his good novels stock completely, He heavy-heartedly decided to read those dog blood romance novels, Where logic didn't exist.

"Alex!!!"

That woman roared loudly, Which brought Alex back to his senses.

"If you think you can disrespect me just because my sister is supporting then you are very mistaken. She only likes your pretty face, So tell me who do you think she will choose, Her blood sister or a green tea white face like you?"

The woman stood up angrily, Showing her seductive figure fully. She was fuming with anger, She knows the man in front of her just using her big sister for her money, It's been just six months and her sister already spend hundreds of thousands on him, Though that money is nothing to them but this man even spending this much money didn't even let her sister touch his fingers, So she felt pity to spend money on someone like him.

"Say your price and break up with her, Then never show your face to her again."

The woman took a deep breath to calm herself down and finally said these words. She didn't want this man to be with her sister. If not for her sister not allowing it, She long since has put this man under six feet underground.

Alex didn't answer her right away but started sorting out the new memories in his mind.

He realizes that he was passed through, Not only that he was passed through in the woman-respected novel as an early low-level villain.

This novel is a weird one, Not just because this was a woman-respected world but because the protagonist of this world is a man.

Yeah, as you guessed, This novel is totally a novel, Where the protagonist goes all around and shows his "manliness" to win the hearts of beauties all around.

Heroines too are different as they are just gender-switched romance novels with male leads.

Like Domineering President, Leader of the Mafia's leader, Long lost son (Daughter) of a powerful hidden family, A hidden master in the city, etc. Their personalities are the same but they all are heroines.

The one in front of him is the little sister of the first heroine of this novel, Domineering President troop, Alia. The president of one of the top 10 beauty companies, Exotica.

And he is the first green tea villain, Who was using his looks to be the boyfriend of the first heroine. He exploits her for hundreds of thousands of dollars but she too was a smart woman as she never handed money to him but paid for his stuff, Like college fees, clothes, luxury brands stuff, etc.

Her sister and the original owner of this body never realize why she did this but Alex who knows the personality of the Domineering President knows.

She is using her money to control him, People like that really don't care about little money like that but she as a domineering president troop heroine is obsessed with control.

She wants to be in control of everything, So if using money she can control him, She will gladly use the money to do it.

After all, she needs him, Not because she loves him but to show off. He is a very handsome man, And in this world of Women's respect can even throw those other male models miles away in appearance.

So she was using him to show her status in the gathering of higher-ups, In current Alex's eyes, This was a mutually beneficial relationship as he getting what he wants and she too benefited from it but a sister of heroine Alia, Rose is not able to see that and barged in his college dormitory to bribe him to leave her sister.

If he goes by the original plot, He should have denied her request strongly and thrown her out of his room but now he dares not to follow that plot as he knows after he done that, Rose will meet with the protagonist and use him to tempt Alie to give up on him.

As the protagonist enters the story, His bad luck starts, He is used solely as a faceslap device by the author.

"888,389! This is my price to leave her."

After thinking of a solution, Alex spoke these words with a heavy voice acting as if he couldn't bear to say these words but he said it putting a stone on his chest.

[Ding! Conditions are met! The Female Raider System is bounding...

Congratulations. The " The Female Raider System" is bound.]

As his words fell, A mechanical voice rang in his mind, and a blue system panel appeared in front of his eyes.

(A/N : Story will go to something different they you guys use to with lots of lemons, So stay tuned 😊)

Thanks for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Seeing the system appearing out of nowhere startled Alex but he suppressed his surprise, There are still problems that he had to handle.

'System opens gift packages.'

Finding there was a gift package, He decided to open it. Maybe it will give him something to escape this imminent crisis.

[Ding! Gift packages are being opened...

Title of "Charmer" acquired...

Title of "Milf Hunter" acquired...

God-Level acting skill...

God-Level skill upgrade card...

Eye of truth acquired...

50 universal stats points acquired...

Selection and Quest function is unlocked.]

Alex looked at the rewards but he didn't have time to take a look at them. Thankfully he got acting skills, Which he needed the most.

'I don't know how powerful this god-level skill will be.'

Alex thought about it and decided to use it.

"Just 888,389 Universal coins? Humph, Take this 1 million check, I am not stingy."

Rose was startled to hear this price. She thought this lion would open its mouth and ask for a sky-high amount but he asked even less of them, which she initially offered.

But she didn't care. Anyway, this is what she wanted. She even offered an initial amount to him, If that means she can get rid of this leech from her sister.

"No!! I just want 888,389. That's all, No penny less or more."

Alex used his action skill, His whole aura changed, At this time his voice is choking and he tries hard to hide it.

There was misery and unwillingness in his eye but he put up a facade of being strong in front of her.

"That- That okay."

When Rose saw him like this, For a moment there was a pang in her heart, She felt like she was bullying the pure house boy. There was a moment when she wanted to take him in her arms and console him. Apologies but she quickly came to suppress her desire.

"Whose name should I write this check?"

After writing the name on the check, She hesitantly asked the receiver's name as it is mandatory by this world's government, Even if you know the receiver's name became unlike others this world's check directly registers on the receiver's name, and no one else can cash in that check other than them.

"You should- "

Alex had a plan in his mind related to this check but just as he was about to say his name system voice rang in his mind.

[Ding! World choice is detected...

Selection function triggered...

- [1] Say your name and receive the check on your name

Reward : 1 billion universe coins (Currency of this world)

(Note : All this money will be credited to your account with legal means, the Host doesn't have to worry.)

- [2] Say the name of the person you are going to give this money to.

Reward : Strong hidden background

(Note : Memories of the family and identity will be integrated into this world, There will be logical reasons why it was not revealed before, the Host can rest assured.)

- [3] Say Rose's name and say you are just joking with her

Reward : -50 Favorability of Rose (Current 20)]

Alex halted his action and looked dumbfoundedly at options and rewards.

The first two were normal as rewards given by the degree of threat of it, But what's with the last option, Not only does he place a protagonist as a threat for him but also make enemies with someone like Rose.

No matter how dumb she is but she still is the daughter of a big family like Miller. One of the top 4 families in the city of Berlin.

Choosing the last option is equivalent to shooting yourself in the foot with your own gun.

"I chose 2."

Alex decided to go with option 2. Although option one is good and with the least risk but reward of having a strong hidden family is really tempting.

After all, this is a world of novels, and Money is not that hard to get by but if you don't have a powerful background, You will be done no matter how much money you have.

So even if he knows to reveal that person's name will disgust Rose and might even pull hatred of Alia as she is very possessive of her things but he decided to choose to reveal her name.

"Write it on Grace Smith's name."

Alex, using his acting skill, said to Rose. Have to say this skill was terrifying, Using this skill he felt like he was viewing himself in 3rd perspective as he was acting in front of her.

"Okay- Huh Grace? Your classmate Grace? Grace Smith?"

Her sister warned her to stay away from Alex before but she never thought Alex and Grace were this close.

You know once she writes Grace's name on this check no one other than her can take money out of it. She never thought this green tea bastard was playing a double game with her sister.

The little good feeling raised in her heart also drooped. After writing their name on the check, She threw it on his face and stormed out of the room.

She didn't want to see his handsome but disgusting face.

[Ding! the 2nd selection option is complete...

Rewards are being distributed...

- Host now is the heir of the hidden family of Winchester, All the related data is being transmitted in your mind.]

Alex didn't pay any attention to Rose, He quickly closed the door and started examining the rewards.

(A/N : How is it? Do you want to add something to it?

Also fun is gonna start soon, Be prepared to make lemonade as there will be lots of lemons after chapter 10.

Like always thanks for reading and have a good day😊.)

Chapter 3 3. This System Is Too OP

"System tells me your functions."

Alex lay on the bed and started communicating with the system. He can guess the function of it from the name but he still needs specific information.

[Ding! The Host The Female Raider System is like its name suggests to raid Heroine, But it's not limited to heroines. As long as the target is a woman, the Host can raid her but the rewards might not be as rich as raiding the heroine.

The system also has a shop function, Host can buy anything from the system using Raiders points like the following but not limited to Real estate property, Company shares, Skills, Superpowers, artifacts, and Might even be a beautiful woman, You can think and the system will provide it for an equivalent price.

There are other functions of the system, The host will find out as the host unlock it.]

"Hmm, Quite simple enough, Tell me about other information like titles and skills."

Alex understands how this system works, He just had to raid a woman's special heroines and will receive rewards.

[Ding! Titles are the passive aura of the host. The hosts can receive titles by system rewards, Mission rewards, or When the host met the conditions for it. The current title's effects are like the following...

- Charmer : This Title let you easily get the affection of the opposite sex. The more naive and simple-minded a woman is, The more it will make it easy for you to increase her affection for you.
- Milf Hunter : It's able to increase the sexual attraction of the older(According to host appearance age.) opposite sex for you from 50% to 100%(Depending on how much she is loyal to her partner. If she does not have a partner, It will be 100% attractive).

The skills are the proficiency of a certain thing. It was divided into 4 parts like the following...

Mortal level : The mortal skill level is LV 1 to LV 10, But the highest mortal ever reached was an LV8. This is the ceiling of the skill for mortal beings, As their life span didn't allow them to learn further.

Pseudo-Immortal Level: This level has a total of 50 levels from Lv 11 to LV 60. At this level, skill can take a glimpse into the laws of nature. On this level, skill can affect the world on a very small level.

Immortal Level : This level has a total of 39 levels from LV 61 to LV 99. At this level, users can directly affect the world and its laws on a large scale depending on their power level.

Anyone who possesses this level of skill is crowned as the god of (Given skill). This is the limit of every being in the universe.

God-Level: This level of skill never appeared in this world. God-level skill is the LV100. Once someone reaches this level, Skill will no longer be just a skill that affects the law of the world but becomes the law itself.

(Note : The reason why it's impossible to reach this level is that, The experience value for each level will be doubled, While the exp bar will reset back to zero.

Like...

LV 1 (0/100 Exp), LV 2 (0/200 Exp), LV 3 (0/400 Exp)...LV 10 (0/102,400 Exp)

Current skills information is like the following...

Cooking LV 1 : This is an entry-level skill, The culinary students have this level of skill. This level of skill makes a host culinary student-level chef.

Singing LV 2 : This is a mid-level skill on the earth, Most of the newcomer professional singers have this level. This skill makes the host a professional-level singer.

Piano LV 4 : This is one of the million levels on the earth, The very genius people have, This skill can help you gain lots of frames. This level of piano music can touch the soul of the listener on a very low level.

God-Level Acting : This skill makes the host the best actor in this universe, No one can see pass through your facade nor will superpowers affect the host.

This skill is the law itself, Acting with this level of skill will physically make changes in the host body. Nothing in this world can detect as fake.

(Note: Host will not be harmed until host uses this skill for acting, So even if you take a fatal strike head-on, Once host lifts the skill, The skill turns back to its original state.)

Superpowers are the special unique skills one in millions of people able to awaken, There are many type of superpower from battle to support one but each one are put person ouy of normal humans limit.

Current super power is like following...

Eye of truth : This superpower is unique to this system, This will let host view basic information of the people with them finding out.

(Note : There is not limit of power level on this skill and can't be blocked by other artifacts.)

There is another category of things called consumables, They are one-time or limited uses things.

The current consumables of the host are as follows...

God-Level skill experience card : Once this is used on the designated skill, That skill will permanently turn into the god-level skill.

(Note : This is a one-time consumable item.)

Stats points are used to improve the physical attributes of the host. Except for IQ stat, others start consuming 1 stat point per 1 point add.

For IQ until 150 IQ needs 10 stats per 1 IQ stat and after that, until 200 IQ needed 20 stats per 1 IQ point.)

Attribute points information is like the following...

The strength stat represents the physical power of the person.

The Stamina stat represents the endurance of the person.

The Vitality stat represents the recovery speed and health of the person.

The Mana stat represents the remaining power source as the mana of a person.

The Luck stat represents the hidden attribute of luck.

(Note: If someone's luck crosses the 1000 Luck mark, That person will be considered the protagonist or heroine. Only the protagonist has the power to increase his luck by stealing from others.)

The IQ stat represents the intelligence of the person.

The Charm stat represents the charm and attractiveness of the person.

(Note : Normally no one can change their charm, They are fixed the birth)

(Note : Rules of the normal world are not applied to the host who possesses the system.)]

"System!!! Aren't you too strong?"

Alex was startled by the revelation, a God-level skill that is labeled as not existing in this universe, Was given to him in the beginning and that's too two of them.

Isn't that too broken? Where is static growth, He just reached the peak in the beginning.

Just look at the description of the skill, He is technically immune to any damage, While using this skill. What he had to be afraid of anymore?

[Ding! The host please do not underestimate the power level of this world. In this world, superpowers exist, Although those strong might not be able to harm you but they surely can capture you.

Not to mention the protagonist is set to have the strongest superpowers. As the host is tagged as a villain by the world, No matter what the host does, the Host will be targeted by the protagonist.

So it's recommended to host to target a protagonist but the host is free to do what he wants if he doesn't want to follow the plot. This system will not restrict the host's actions.]

"!!!"

"How could I miss them?"

Alex was startled when the system mentioned the superpowers, The plot he received in his mind mentioned them.

That's right, This world has superpowers. Although those individuals are hiding in the world, At the beginning of the plot but later as the plot progresses those monsters who were hiding deep come out, and the world steps into a new era.

"Sigh Forget about them for now, It's still a long way until that happens but for now let's raid some heroines."

Alex shakes his head and throws out those worries. For now, he can only pay attention to raiding the heroines.

He was glad he chose to change the plot, in the beginning, After all, the system just said that he will be targeted by the protagonist no matter what he did, So the option of making friends with him was thrown out of the window.

"Now first just focus on saving my ass and she will help him to do that."

Alex lifted the check written for Grace Smith with a smirk on his face. He was not a hypocrite like a protagonist, Who had to make excuses for being with the woman.

He just likes a beautiful woman, That's a genuine and pure answer.

(A/N : Hello, Did you guys like this system?

•Yes

•No

Have any suggestions? Feel free to comment here or in the comment section.

Like always thanks for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 4 4. High Charm Is Scary

"System put 40 stats in my luck, While remaining ones in my charm."

Alex looked at his pitiful luck and felt very bad. After all, as a low-level villain he didn't have much luck. He wanted to put all the points in it but the system said luck wouldn't have any significant effect until it crossed the barrier of average level, Which was 100 stats points.

So he decided to put all the rest in his charm, As this was the stat that crossed the average barrier and was most useful for him in this world

After all, this is the woman's respected world. His face is his wealth and fortune. This also makes it easy for him to attack those heroines.

[Ding! The 40 stats are added in the luck and 10 stats are added in the charm...

50 stats deducted...

The remaining stats are Zero...

All stats successfully added.]

As the system's voice fell, A warm current ran through his whole body. It went from bones to skin and then at last spread all over his face it was dispirited.

At the same time, Power in the dark moves and a very comfortable feeling spreads on his body. This was a sign of his increased luck.

"Huh, Let's check how much these 10 stats improve my charm."

After that comfortable feeling disappeared, He wanted to see, How much these 10 stats improved his charms. So he goes towards the mirror in the room.

"Who...Who is he?"

The moment Alex saw himself he was shocked to the core. He never was this beautiful person. He wasn't even able to identify himself.

His eyebrow was sword-like, His eyes were like a lotus, His eyes were void like deep and infant-like pure, His skin was soft, milk-white luminous. His height too improved to 6ft. There was also an 8 pack on his abdomen. The aura of purity was enveloping him.

He at this moment looks like an elf who came out of a fairy tale.

"That System I just added 10 stats. How come there are these drastic changes?"

Alex couldn't believe it in his eyes. He was indeed very handsome before on 130 stat but after adding just 10 points, He transcends the human limit.

If you compare current self to 130 stat one, Then his past self looks like the mediocre front of him. This really does not look like just 10 stat improvement.

[Ding! Host the reason Charm attributes can't be increased normally not only because there is no sure way to improve it but also because the charm attribute is counted in the decibel scale after it crosses the average 100 attribute mark.

So 140 Charm stats is 10 times more than a 130, Hence why you had these drastic changes, and why are most people not able to improve it.]

"Then can't I just improve my charm until no one can resist me, system?"

Alex, seeing this scary fact, asked. Charm is the key to raiding the heroine and getting rewards. If so then he can just make himself irresistible for any woman. That way he can easily raid them.

[Ding! The Host can do that but it's not recommended, At least not until the host has the enough power to defend himself.

This world is different from the normal world host used to. Although this world is based on the novel, This world is not fake but real, not just black and white words in the book. If you increase your charm that much then it might force out those hidden powerhouse to come out early to snatch you for themselves. Or worse they might even use you as a cauldron to increase their power.

Remember power corrupts the world and beauty is a original sin.]

"That...Thank you system for reminding me."

The system directly pours cold water on his ideas. Yeah, beauty is good but if you don't have the strength to back it up then just wait and get used to those evil women.

His thinking still needs time to change. This is a woman's respected world, not his previous world. Having high charm is scary think in this world.

Being beautiful in this world is both a blessing and a curse. If you do not have enough strength protect yourself, Then you will become just a commodity to be used by those women in power.

"For the time being, There is no need to increase charm, So let's worry about gaining strength."

Alex remained himself to be careful and started focusing on improving his strength.

He didn't have a choice as the threat of the protagonist was still haunting him.

"System, Will you give me a target or can I choose a raid target myself?"

Then Alex asked an important question. He didn't want to be under the system of mercy for choosing targets. He wants the freedom to choose his targets on his own.

[Ding! The Host didn't have to worry, System would not hinder the host's choices. The Host can choose any target he wants to raid, Reward depending on the Beauty, Status, Effect on the plot, etc. of the target will be disrupted

It's recommended to raid heroines first but the host is free to do what he wants

(Note : There might be selection option will triggered on certain individuals about the raid or not but it's optional for the host to choose raid them or not.)]

"Oh, If it's like that then it's fine."

Alex sighed a relief, He really hates those systems, That control its host choices. Although the system said it will give him a choice of options like before but that too is optional or might as well be advantageous for him.

As that option let him glimpse into the future a little by showing the consequences of his actions like that third option did.

"Okay, Time to meet the 2nd heroine of the novel."

Alex pulled out his phone and opened a conversation between himself and the 2nd heroine of this novel.

After reading the conversation, He really wanted to slap his predecessor to death.

Licking dog no.13 : Alex are you there?

Licking dog no.13 : Hello!?

Licking dog no.13 : Please don't be angry, I will send you money for your bag soon.

Licking dog no.13 : Alex, Will you be playing piano today? I really want to hear your play.

Licking dog no.13 : [5000 Universal coin is sent to you.]

Most Handsome Boy : [Received the money.]

Licking dog no.13 : Alex, Did you receive the money? I just send it, Please don't be angry now Begging emoji

Most Handsome Man : Okay Thumbs-up emoji

Licking dog no.13 : I know you never be angry at me Happy emoji.

Licking dog no.13 : Did you eat, Alex? If not, how about we go to a restaurant? It will be my treat.

After that, A registered person on his phone named Licking dog no.13 sent countless messages but there was no reply from him.

Alex was really dumbfounded reading this chat history between them. At a glance, anyone can tell he was just using her for money, But she never stopped simping for him.

He even saved her name as Licking dog no.13. You know in this world, Your name is shown as what other person saved your number as on their phone.

His name here appears as Most Handsome Man. It was because she saved his number under this name, So he saving her name as Licking dog no.13 will be showing her too.

He just didn't get how she was able to take this level of disrespect. In his mind, he crowned her full fledged simp. Only they have this thick skin.

After that, he started to read the latest messages he received from her, Which were came from yesterday.

(A/N : Hey, She is a simp for him, Can anyone guess what ML troop she is?

Chapter 5 5. Grace Smith

Alex started reading the latest messages.

Licking dog no.13 : Alex! That-That can you send me those 5000 back?

Licking dog no.13 : Alex! Please don't be angry but my mother is in hospital, She needs to have urgent surgery in a week, If not...

Licking dog no.13 : Doctor said surgery needs 888,389 but they, seeing our condition, offered installment payment, if I paid little money in advance.They will do that surgery.

Licking dog no.13 : Please I am begging you, I am just 5000 Universal coins short of 100,000. A deposit for the surgery.

Licking dog no.13 : Alex, Please Please reply, I will definitely pay you back 10,000 but please give me 5000 back. Please!!!

Licking dog no.13 : Alex, My mothers life is on the line, At least look at what I did for you in the past 3 years, At least for that, Lend me 5000. I will definitely give you back.

Licking dog no.13 : Alex, Doctor said if I didn't deposit money until tomorrow morning, They would not be able to provide me with this opportunity. Please I don't want to lose my mother.

Licking dog no.13: Alex, I will be waiting for you in 1st Berlin hospital, I will no longer bother you with my messages. Hope you will come.

This was the last message she sent just this morning. After that there were no extra messages.

"I deserved to be a villain."

After reading the chat log, Alex can only say this His character was a pure self-centered villain. His only profit was in his eyes.

The Licking dog no.13 was just one of the many girls he used as a spare tire to get money But didn't dare to act bluntly or get close to them, After all, he on the bright side was the boyfriend of Alia Miller, The President of one of the top 3 companies in the state.

And Heir of the Miller family, One of the top 4 strongest families in this Berlin city.

He can't put on a green hat someone like her, Right? After all, she was not only possessive but also a clean freak.

In the novel, His personality was one of the reasons, Which gives the protagonist a chance to slap him and gain the favorability of multiple women.

And this Licking dog no.13 was one of them because according to the plot, He will not go to her, and tomorrow when she is desperate and disappointed, the Protagonist will snoop in and gain the trust of both mother and daughter.

That's right, This is that kind of novel. The protagonist was just a woman hunter but making various excuses for his actions.

The prominent one is his superpower need to gain strength, And because this novel was made for a male protagonist, polygamy was not banned here but legal, It's just that most people chose to be monogamous.

And it was even rare for men to have more wives but the government was the who encouraged other man to have a ployamy because of the low birth rates, Which was dropped significantly.

This is the reason why the protagonist was not afraid of being hatched to death by his harem. After all, women in this world are scary, not to mention the protagonist's harem has either a powerful woman or a strong-status woman.

"Thankfully, I already thought ahead of it."

Alex lifted the check in front of his eyes. This will be the key to a breakthrough for him. This way he can start to save his ass.

"Let's go and meet her."

Alex hurriedly changed his clothes, Put on a very good-looking white shirt and navy blue jeans. Before going out he didn't forget to wear a face mask, Not because of the virus but because to hide his beauty.

After all, he didn't even have the strength to kill even a chicken. He didn't want unwanted attention, As that will create trouble for him.

In the Berlin city 1st hospital, A young very beautiful woman with a tempting figure, Pacing back and forth in the doorway of the ward.

From time to time, Some men tried to give her a hint but she didn't pay any attention to them. All attention is on the entrance door of the ward.

Every time that door opened, hope appeared in her beautiful honey-colored eyes but as those eyes didn't find who they were waiting for, That hope died out as part of her heart died with it.

"Will he really come?"

Grace murmured and the worry in her heart intensified. She was afraid, Afraid that what her friends said about Alex was right.

They always say that he was just using her. He didn't care about her and even pointed out that he saved her name as a licking dog but she didn't pay them any attention.

For her, he was a pure boy, A prince. Who walked out of a fairy tale. In her heart, She made excuses that he might not be able to understand his behavior and hurt others.

As a matter of her name? In her eyes, it was a joke that Alex was playing with her. It was a test to see how much she loves him and has trust in him.

But now that belief started to crumble. As time passed by, Her heart was getting heavy. She didn't want to admit it but she started to doubt her belief.

She still remembers, When she first time saw him, He was alone in the music room practicing piano diligently, He at that time was looking pure and eternal.

That was the moment she fell for him, She had love at first sight but she was conscious of her identity. She thought she as a poor girl didn't deserve to yearn for someone like him. It might be just her fantasy but then everything changes.

One day he himself approached her with a very stunning smile on his face. At that moment all the logic was washed down the drain, She decided to chase after him.

Soon she got his number, Even though he didn't talk much but that was enough for her. She had hoped that the fire of her love would melt his ice-cold heart But now...

"Sigh Forget it, He is way out of my league, He might didn't even know my name."

Grace sighed and worriedly looked towards the intensive care ward. This is where her mother admitted.

The doctor just talk to her, If she doesn't deposit money soon then the offer of installment payment will be nulled, And then she needs to pay all the money for surgery to happen.

"Don't worry mom, I will not let anything happen to you."

Grace clenched her fist to calm down her worried heart.

(A/N : I am on fire these days. If my other novels readers see this, They surely beat me to death 😊😊😊)

Feeling bad for Grace? Don't worry I will handle it.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 6 6. First Raider Traget

'Just hope, This plot didn't have any anomaly because of my presence.'

Alex said this in his mind as he parked the car in the parking lot of the hospital. After that he got out of the electric car, Which was given to him by Alia.

Have to say it's not that bad to eat soft rice. Anytime you have a problem, Your president's girlfriend will take care of it with just one call.

'She might get the news of me accepting the money by now.'

He suddenly thought of the high cold figure. Even if it was just a blurred memory, He had to admit, He had never seen a beautiful woman like that.

But he who knows the plot wanted to stay away from this woman as far as he can, Became heHe know how perverted her personality is, She can do anything to be in control, Not to mention how possessive her personality is, Even if she doesn't want it others can't have it, She rather destroy it then share with other.

If not for the system remainder, That protagonist will target him no matter what. He had long since left this city to be away from her. He didn't even plan on raiding her at that time.

'Grace should be desperate at this time, It's the right time to strike.'

Alex shakes his head to throw out this thought and focuses on the current objective.

According to the plot, Grace should right now start to doubt him, and now if he gives her a helping hand in need, she will not only be grateful to him but also her guilt of doubting him will double her affection for him.

After all, People care more about receiving charcoal in the snow than icing on the cake. So he had to give her money before the protagonist appear

"Hello miss, Can you please tell me, In which ward the patient named Gloria Smit is admitted?"

After entering the hospital, He realized he didn't know which ward Gloria, Grace's mother, was admitted to, So he had to go and enquire about it in the enquiry section.

"How Handsome...Woah!! I-I am so sorry, I just blurted out nonsense, Sir please ignore that, Th-That Gloria Smit is in ward number 3-B on the third floor."

The recipients seated there couldn't help but blurted out these words after she saw Alex. Even if he was wearing the mask, It couldn't able to hide his charm at all. That mask is as futile, hiding the sun with one's hand.

But then after realizing, What she said, She panicked. This day and age are different from the past. In the country, there were lots of new laws passed for the protection of mens.

Her saying this can be misunderstood as harassment, Which is a crime punishable by law.

"Thank you, Miss, both for compliments and giving me directions."

Alex on the other hand didn't think like her, He who had not gotten used to this world yet, Was quite overwhelmed by her compliment. He couldn't even remember the last time someone complimented him.

So he wholeheartedly thanked her and went towards the elevator not realizing how much his simple words affected the poor recipients.

She stood there dumbfounded . She thought there would be ridicule, Insult, or complaint waiting for her but to her disbelief, He thanked her. She can feel genuine surprise and gratitude.

'How come there is this pure boy in this world?'

Recipients just stared blankly at the fading back of Alex until he completely went out of her sight. Even then her eyes were unwilling to leave that place, Where he disappeared. That enchanting voice and words keep ringing in her mind.

[Ding! Hosts gain the affection of the opposite sex.

30 raider values are received..]

When Alex entered the elevator, The system voice rang in his head.

He was not surprised to get this notification as he already received it multiple times since he got out of the house.

It turns out that he can receive raider value from every opposite sex as long as he gains their little affection, and with his looks, it's not hard to receive initial affection. So he accumulated close to hundreds of raider points until now.

What surprised him was the value he received now. Before it was just 1 or 2 at max there were 5 raider points but now all of a sudden he received 30 raider points.

'I have to study this function further.'

This anomaly gains his attention. If he finds out what triggered him to receive that many raider points, He can exploit it and after that buy some life-saving whole cards. That way he can calm down the worry in his heart.

After all, the protagonist is the protagonist for a reason; With his luck might encounter some opportunity earlier than then they destined to counter his existence.

Ding

In their thinking, He already reached the 3rd floor and the door of the elevator opened.

Alex came out of the elevator and turned left in the direction of 3-B hall.

....

"Can you please lend me 5000 UC? I will give you back as soon as I can- Hello? Hello? Damn it!!!"

Grace wasn't able to put her blind fate in Alex like before, Seed of doubt had already taken root in her heart, So she started to see if she could arrange 5000 UC from somewhere else.

But sadly she has already taken money from everyone who would be willing to lend her. She even mortgaged herhouse and sold most of the things leaving only essentials. That's how she was able to come up with 95,000 UC.

So right now there is no way to get an additional 5000 UC. She can't even raise a single penny more. This is her limit. A mere 95,000 UC is all her life's worth.

"I-I am so-sorry mother, Your daughter is useless Sob can't even arrange this little money."

She looked at her unconscious mother through the ward's little glass window. She tried hard not to let those tears filled in her eyes fall.

"No, how can I cry? There is still time, There is still hope, Day has not fallen yet. Alex might come, Mom still has a chance."

Seeing that she wasn't able to hold those pesky tears from breaking out, She decided to put all her trust in one last hope.

Hope that what Alex, created in her heart is true, Hope that he might be just coming here any moment now, Hope that her mother is still alive and had a chance to survive.

So she can't cry. How can a woman cry when there is still hope? So she hardens her heart, Wipes those little tear stains, Which she didn't know when slipped out. Now all she can do is wait.

"Didn't you used to say that woman only cries three times? When they are born, When her father dies, and last, when her mother dies? It's not good to lie Grace."

Suddenly a very enchanting voice broke her train of thought. When she looked up, She saw that handsome face that didn't let her sleep at night.

Now he was looking even more handsome than before, For a moment she was dazed, and then the almost diminished hope in her heart ignited.

'He came, I didn't love the wrong man.'

This was the only thought in her mind. She felt as happy as wandering, finding an oasis in the ruthless desert.

....

'System uses the eye of truth on her and shows me her details.'

As Alex entered ward 3-B and saw Grace seated on the bench, He asked the system to show her information.

[Ding! The target details are like the following...

Name : Grace Smite

Martial Arts (LV 3), Business (LV 4), Violin (LV 1)

This talent will be unlocked on its own very soon or With an emotional shock you will be able to unlock it right now.)

Superpower : None.

Summary : Grace Smit is a poor boy (Girl) ML troop, Who with her business knowledge rises from poverty to richness.

(Note : Woman like her is single minded, Once they loved or hated someone, They will not change their view, So beware of it.)]

Alex already guessed her stats from plot in his mind but he still was surprised, All of her stats are above average.

'Worthy for being a heroine.'

But what he thinks is funny is that even having ten times more luck than the average person, she is still miserable.

Is this logical? Yes for Protagonist and Heroine is very logical things. If they are not that miserable, How can they turn around and slap a villain? So it's necessary for them.

'System, Choose her as a raider target.'

After confirming everything, He commanded the system to lock her as a raider target.

[Ding! Grace Smite selected as a raider target.]

After doing all that Alex approached Grace and said those words in a neutral voice.

He can't help it. In her mind, he was bad at showing his emotions and understanding others feelings like a Tsundere. So he had to bite the bullet and act like one.

Thankfully, He has god-level acting skills. If not, he really can't act as a brain-dead Tsundere.

"Alex you came, You really came. Let's go and pay the deposit, So they can do surgery as soon as possible."

Grace who was ignited with new hope, Didn't mind him mocking her. At this moment she was on cloud nine, Thinking she didn't waste those three years. She loved the right man, and not the kind person her friends described him to be.

She stood up and wiped the trail of mischievous tears, which were still silently falling from her delicate rosy cheeks. After that she hurriedly dragged him to the payment window.

Soon they came to the payment window, Grace quickly brought the payment form and filled it out.

"Alex, Give me 5000 UC, I promise you, I will return this money as soon as possible."

Grace excitedly extended her hands to him, Waiting to get the money from him to pay the deposit.

"That- "

[Ding! The World choice is detected...

Selection fuction is triggered...

Please choose one of the options...].

Alex wanted to explain about the check but the system voice made him swallow back his words.

(A/N: Hello, Sorry for the late update. I fell asleep while writing 😊).

UC : Universal Coin, The currency of this world. The most used one.

What do you think about Grace as a character? Please say it in the comments.

- Miserable
- Annoying
- Overused
- Written is very bad so, Can't tell

Chapter 7 7. Will Of The World

[Ding! The World choice is detected...

Selection function is triggered...

Please choose one of the options...

- [1] Explain the situation and hand over the check to Grace.

Reward : LV 50 Pseudo-Immortal Martial Art skill.

- [2] Tell her the truth that you spend those 5000 UC to trigger her hidden talent.

Reward : God-Level Businesses skill

- [3] Deny giving her money, And tear the check.

Reward: -20 favorability of Grace for you (Current 75) & Increase +50 favorability towards the protagonist. (Current 0).]

'Huh!? Why it's the 3rd option always like that? Wait! How can Grace's affection for the protagonist increase? '

Alex was once again dumbfounded by the third option's stupid choice. It was the same thing for Rose now it's happened again with Grace.

He wants to complain but he notices the 3rd option reward, This system will not do the blood-boiling thing as sending a woman to the protagonist.

So the only explanation is that, Protagonist will appear to help her, Which means the plot is changing. What he feared the most.

After currently, his knowledge of the plot is his best weapon against the protagonist after the system.

[Ding! The host you don't have to worry, There will be minor changes in the plot but the main plot will not change, This is just a world that will try to recover the plot.

But it's the limit of the world's will to make this small change in the world. It can not interfere with the main plot and the people, So the Host didn't have to be afraid of being struck by the heavenly thunder.]

Seeing that Alex misunderstood, System quickly explained it.

World's will is like the rule of this world, Who's job is to protect and maintain the protagonist but because it is a rule then it can't be too partial. That's why at best it can push some plot ahead of time but it can't directly interfere with it.

'Okay!? So I didn't have to worry about the will of the world? That's good.'

Hearing the explanation of the system, Alex sighed in relief. Other than plot changes he is most worried about the interference of the world's will.

But now, He can openly oppose the protagonist without worrying about anyone. He just had to make sure he was careful enough to do it because even without the interference of the will, the Protagonist still had a lot of luck.

Although luck is an invisible thing and can't be trusted too much, it did affect a person's life. This effect is enough to tilt the favor of the life and death of a person.

"System, I chose the 2nd option."

Alex decided to think of that later, At this moment Grace was waiting for his answer.

"Ohh th-that I already spent 5000 UC."

So after selecting the 2nd option, He said these words to eager Grace.

He didn't lie, Old Alex already had spent all those 5000 UC in a day. After all, in his mind, He was the boyfriend of the Exotic company President. The company which comes in the top 3 beauty companies in the state.

The only reason he was taking money from his spare tire was that Alia gave him cash. She can buy him what he wants but that too with her card. She didn't give him any credit card like ML gives to FL in the novels.

"What!!! Did you spend it? Th-Then you didn't have any money?"

Hearing Alex saying this thing in a casual tone, Grace felt like something had broken in her. The hope that just rose has fallen once again.

This news hurt her the most. Feeling of dread spread in her heart, and The helplessness of this situation hit her heart.

After all, It was not the real hopelessness when you didn't have hope but it is when you saw the hope but lost it, When you are very close to being able to escape from your despair. That moment a person really falls into the abyss, the Void of any hope, A true hopelessness.

"Yeah, I treated my friends to dinner in a good restaurant."

Alex, Continue talking in a non caring tone as if he didn't have the despair in her eyes. He let god-level acting do its job. It's really a blessing to get this skill if not he really can't act like the brain dead Tsundere. From the 3rd perspective he saw how much his words hurt her, He saw the shine of her eyes dimmed visible to naked eyes.

To be honest, He kinda felt guilty for putting her through this but he can't help it. His life is on the line, Protagonist of this novel is meant for the . So there were lots of crazy things given to him by the stupid author.

All kinda super powerful stuff from heaven and earth to stupidly powerful superpowers, And of course, on each turn, there will be a woman who helps him in his conquest.

You can you say that protagonist didn't even let go of the female dog, Each and every beautiful woman has to be in his harem. That's the iron rule of this novel. If it was a novel he was reading before he passed through, he should have loved this type of novel but the problem is that, He was in this novel as a villain.

He was just glad that the protagonist didn't possess the system or he can't even imagine what kinda powers it will pull out of it.

"Y-You didn't have any mo-money on you now?"

Grace tremblingly asked, She just wanted to hear that he was joking and pulled out the cash but that didn't happen.

"Not really, I have a few hundred bucks on me."

Seeing that it was not enough emotional impact yet to trigger her talent, He had to continue with this thing. Just give her hope in the first half of the sentence and take away in the other half.

"That- "

As he predicted, Hope ignited in Grace's heart hearing his first words but that again died down hearing his last words.

[Ding! Raider target lost -10 favorability for the host. I am currently 65.]

[Ding! Target goes through a lot of emotional stimulation, Successfully unlocked her hidden talent.

The 2nd selection option is complete, and Rewards are being distributed...

•God-Level skill is rewarded.]

As the system's voice fell, Alex felt lots of information related to business appear in his mind, some additional things appeared but this time there is no time for him to look into them.

"Is that so... Don't worry about it Alex, I will arrange something."

Grace felt a bang in her mind and felt little pain in her brain but she ignored that. At this moment the pain in her was too much.

She felt a mixture of feelings. On one hand, she felt betrayed and thought Alex was playing with her but on another hand, she was glad that he at least owns up to it. She knows it will take a lot of courage to admit something like this.

As for his rude and uncaring words, She ignores them. In her mind, He was someone who was not able to notice emotions quickly, So she thought he just said those words without thinking about it.

"Oh...I almost forgot because of you, Here this is for aunty Gloria, You don't take it in a wrong way."

After completion of the task, He decided not to play with her anymore and quickly handed over the check, Of course without breaking his character.

"What is this- What!!!? This is too much money, You how-No I can't accept this much money, Alex. I just needed 5000."

Grace half-heartedly opened the "paper" in her eyes, But as she saw what it was, Her eyes almost fell off.

This was a check for the exact amount of the fees needed for the surgery of her mother, Holding the check she at first felt unreal but after she saw the name of the giver, The Exotic company, She believed it was real.

She knows Alex was the boyfriend of Alia, The President of the Exotic company.

After all, Alia was personally warning her to stay away from Alex but she too was stubborn. Once he likes someone, She will not give up easily. So a cold war was happening in them.

"Take it or not it's not up to you, Did you not hear? I said I gave this money to my beautiful aunty, So use it now. If something happens to her because of your stupid pride, I will never spare you."

Well... He spoke the standard words of Tsundere. After all, this kinda set she likes to eat, She also falls for the protagonists in the plot because of this trait.

"Th-Thank you, I will never forget this, Alex."

Grace was overwhelmed with emotions, There was huge guilt that she doubted him, and There was the relief of getting money for the surgery. There was also another strong emotion, Which she dared not show it yet.

So she is able to speak only these few words in a trembling tone. She made a pact in her heart that she will never doubt him again.

[Ding! +30 favorability increased for you by raider target. (Current 95)]

"Yeah, Yeah, Hurry up and submit that check, Banks will close soon."

Alex acted as his character and asked her to leave and submit that check. It's now close to evening. If she does not hurry up now, Banks will close.

"But-"

"Don't worry I will be here to take care of my aunt. You go and come back quickly."

Grace wanted to be worried about no one being here to respond to any emergency calls But Alex already knew what she would say, So he volunteered to stay there.

Of course, there was a different motive behind it too, He wanted to check if he predicted right, and the protagonist does show up here.

"Okay, Thank you once again, I will be coming back very soon."

Grace just wanted to hear these words, So after getting his confirmation. She hurriedly leaves the ward but unlike before this time there were no tears in her gem-like eyes but a sweet smile adorned her on her slender soft lips.

"Sorry sir, that's the private section of the ward, You can't enter it without the visiting pass."

After Grace leaves, the Sound of argument falls on Alex's ears. At first, he ignores it but then very familiar words are spoken by the other party.

(A/N : Yoo guys, How are you? Also, there will be a lemon that will start soon after chapter 10.

Point out the mistakes in the grammar if you find any.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 8 8. Protagonist Appears

"I know the person inside, Let me go in or once I made a call, You will regret it."

These were the words that fell on Alex's ears. Hearing this self-righteous and arrogant tone there is only one word that appeared in his mind.

Protagonist!

This is the only species that can feel the world is against them when others are just politely reminding them of the rule.

After all rules and protagonists do not sit well together, If there is a rule the protagonist feels like he must free people from their tyranny.

After rules are meant to oppress the weak, Don't they? At least for the protagonist, it's like that.

"Why do you keep asking for the visiting pass? I said I know the person inside, Only I cure them, If you stop me further then be prepared to face the consequences."

Words again came and in the same self-righteous and arrogant tone but this time the voice was a few points higher.

Alex pretty much guessed who this person was but just to make sure he walked out of ward 3-B and came to take a sneak peek at the person.

'Good guy, What is with this dressing, Are you sure you do not come here to beg?'

Alex was startled to see the dress of this protagonist. He can only describe him in the one world, Ruffian.

He saw the man arguing with guard, That man was wearing a clothes which were washed till it was yellow and white, There are patches everywhere on the clothes, and hairs of that man look like it has not been washed for a few days, There are even a few pieces of dry leaves in them, Also there is a dry dirt covered most of his face.

Although by an outline of that face, He should be a handsome man but with this kinda appearance, He was not looking more than a beggar.

'Protagonist really knows how to pretend, Right?'

Alex couldn't help but think about it. After all, he had a novel plot in his mind, So he knows that this protagonist is not broken and penniless but a Shenhao.

He has a very good family background and can be considered a second-rich generation. His family is one of the top 3 families in Berlin and stands with the Miller family, Although a little weaker than the Millers when it comes to money but they are equal when power and rights are mentioned.

There are lots of members working as officials in high positions, There are still many companies and sub-companies under them, If you just consider a cash flow that too is in the billions.

And the protagonist is the 2nd contender for the heir position of a family like this, So it's a reasonable appearance for him.

Yeah, it's a reasonable appearance for the protagonist. If not, how can he get a chance to slap the villain?

Yes, anyone who hinders the protagonist's action is a villain even if that person was just doing their job. If they want to blame, Blame their luck as they encounter the protagonist.

'System showed me his stats.'

Alex is a very cautious person, Although all the plot was in his mind but it was written in novel format, and this is the real world, Of course, It's unreasonable to think that novel mentions every little detail.

Not to mention the protagonist of this novel is very unreasonable.

[Ding! The target details are like the following...]

Summary : This is a protagonist from a master going down from the mountains and a hidden gold master protagonist's mixture.]

'Fuck!!! The plot is really advancing ahead of its time.'

Alex had a little premonition in his heart about this but when he saw it he couldn't help but curse.

There was indeed a plot for curing Madam Miller in the novel but that was after chapter 20, After he got in touch with Alia Miller.

She was the one who introduced Nathen to her mother after finding out he had a healing superpower, And he as a villain should be slapped by him a few times.

But now he appeared here. Looking at his appearance he should have been just coming down from the mountain. This means it should be chapter one plot as he didn't care about his appearance in the mountains.

There should also be a small plot for it, Which is that one heroine takes pity on him and offers money and water. Nathan too, seeing it was a beautiful woman, took it and first washed his face.

But as in the usual plot, the Heroine is stunned seeing his handsome face and falls in love. Yes, It was that easy to fall in love with the protagonist, After all the dog author had given that heroine a characteristic such as a face control.

She can't resist the temptation of beautiful faces, Of course, the standards to trigger that were very high with At least 32 charms, Any lower than that she will not even gonna take a second look.

Which Protagonist is barely able to make it and to his surprise reveals directly conquered the nympho heroine.

'Why are his stats so broken?'

After calming down from the shock of the change in the plot, He saw the protagonist's broken stats.

The Halo function is a new thing he has seen but that's not what was important.

Those three halos are too broken, No wonder those heroines were coming like falling from the sky towards the protagonist. It was all because of this broken Halo.

"Sir, It's a VIP section, No one can enter without the visiting pass, That's a rule. If you know the person inside then please go down the stairs. After checking your identity and relation with the patient, They will give you a visiting pass. After that, you are free to go inside, If not I have to call security."

A Guard at the door politely tells Nathan. She was working in this hospital for years but she never encountered someone like the person in front of her.

If not for her training and experience, She long before stopped being polite and asked security to escort her outside of the hospital but now her patience is getting thin.

"Why should I? I don't have that time to waste, Let me go inside."

Nathen said arrogantly but he panicked in his heart. He does know Madam Miller, The head of the Miller family but that is just because he met her at the banquet.

He was at that time 5 years old. After that, he was sent for training in the mountains with his master. Later on, he became awakened and gain the superpower of a little healer.

So if he really goes to get a visiting pass, He will never be able to get it. They only have a superficial understanding of each other. If was somewhere else he might be able to get into this personal ward using his family connections but the problem is that this whole hospital belonged to the Miller family.

Because of that, He only had a choice to force himself inside. As for consequences after that? He didn't care because he should have long been healed, Madam Miller. That time he only received a reward and praise.

The support of the Miller family is what he needed to for to win the position of an heir from his sister. As for go and explain about you power to the Miller family? Sorry, explanation is not the kind of thing the protagonist should do.

Nathen started to prepare himself to rush inside the room.

Alex here sees everything happening in front of him. To be honest, He really didn't want to have any connection with the protagonist. He just wants to live his life but unfortunately, he is a villain, Who will be targeted by the protagonist no matter what. Don't you see, They haven't yet met, and Nathen's favorability is for him is -20. A level of mild disgust.

'How to stop him?'

The gear in his head started to spin, He wants a foolproof plan to counter the protagonist if not he will be slapped in the face by him.

[Ding! Word choice is detected...

The selection function is triggered...

Please one of the following options...

- [1] Go and help the guard to fight off with the protagonist.

- [2] Go there and destroy the protagonist's plot of face slapping.

- [3] Offer to be the dog leg of the protagonist

(A/N : Sorry guys, I was having a net problem these two days. That's why I couldn't able to write and upload, I again apologize 🙏.)

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 9 9. Villains Treatment

Alex now got used to 3rd option being the worst choice, So after confirming that its reward does not predict the imminent future. He decisively chose the 2nd option.

It was a very obvious choice. In Alex's opinion, After the luck of the protagonist, It's not the golden finger that is the 2nd strongest weapon of his but it is a Halo of wisdom. Without this he will suffer very much at the beginning of the plot even with his golden finger.

Because of this halo, Those 2nd generations didn't use their advantage to the fullest and like a brain dead person sent their little brothers one by one just to give the protagonist experience.

Without this halo, Protagonists will suffer miserably. After all, those people who grow up in a big family like them should also receive all kinds of knowledge and ethics. They will never do the brain-dead thing as holding back against their opponent.

Even in attacking heroines, This halo has a major role. Without it it's become very hard to conquer those daughters of heaven.

"I already notified security, They will come here any moment now, So I suggest that you should leave or there will be consequences."

Seeing that the protagonist was about to shoot and break inside the ward, Alex moved and appeared in front of the protagonist.

He already took out his phone and started recording the action of Natan. This action was nothing more than to create a persona of a concerned citizen and to put pressure on the protagonist because this footage is useless against the protagonist who has a background.

He also did not notified security because he is not dumb, If he notifies them the news surely reach the Miller family and they will come here. After that it was not hard to guess the next plot, right? After all, Nathen's luck is still there.

"W-Who are you? Stay away from matters which do not belong to you."

Nathen said arrogantly but there is fear emerging in his heart, He knows if he got caught before curing Madam Miller this actions of his might be considered as an threatening attempt against her.

Although with his background he is not that afraid of the Miller family but his sister might use this against him and with the Miller family being his enemy, There will be no chance he will get an heir position.

"Who am i? That didn't matter. I am more concerned about who you are? This is a VIP room, It's not a place that anyone could enter or do you have any ill motive? Wait here I should also call public safety authorities, They will handle you."

Alex said self-righteously, His appearance was like he really cared for public safety.

He held the camera of his phone very close to Nathen's face and started ranting about everything. If it was a previous world, People long since tagged him as a Karen.

"I remember you."

Nathen gnashing his teeth hard in anger, He spoke these sentences with a fierce aura. His fists clenched tightly trying to hold his anger back. Then after taking a last look at Alex he runs away from there.

He can find someone else for support but he can't get caught here or he will lose everything he worked hard for all these years.

But before going he took a deep look at the man who ruined his good deeds. He will never spare this man. The moment he appeared, There was disgust in his heart for this man but now he hates him. He will pay hundreds of times to this man later. He never forgives a villain like this.

'Phew Scared me for a second.'

Alex wipes the cold sweat from his forehead, The cold look in Nathan's eyes scared him for a second. Because just as he finished speaking a sentence, the system prompted a notification.

[Ding! -30 Favorability of Nathan (Current -50 Hatred).]

30 points were deducted just by his appearance. This is the treatment of the Villain, No wonder system said he will be targeted by the system no matter what.

But thankfully Nathan didn't lose his cool and started attacking. If that happens then he should just have booked the one room here and lay down for months. He, as a normal man, is not an opponent of Nathan at all.

[Ding! the 2nd selection option is complete...]

Rewards are being distributed...

- The Protagonist's Halo of wisdom is obliterated, It will no longer be available nor will it ever recover.]

Finally, A system notification rang in his mind.

'Nice, Now I don't have to worry about a brain-dead plot like this.'

Alex sighed in his heart, Letting his heavy heart calm down.

He always felt that today's plot was wrong, Madam Miller is the head of the family like a Miller family, So it's reasonable to have even 20 or so bodyguards guarding the ward door. But right now other than the hospital's guard there was no one guarding this door.

There is only one explanation for it, The halo of the protagonist. After all, if 20 or something bodyguards guard the door then how is the protagonist able to break in to cure Madam Miller and then start faceslapping the villains?

"Thank you for your help, Sir."

Guard guarding the door looked at Alex and kindly thanked him. She was shocked by the looks of Alex but she also knew herself very well, So other than appreciation there were no other emotions in her eyes.

[Ding! Hosts gain the affection of the opposite sex.]

50 raider points are received...]

Again same notification from before pop-up again, Which gives Alex some idea of how this function works, So he decided to try if it was the same as he guessed.

"I did nothing more than my duty as a responsible citizen, Also thank you for your service madam."

Alex also politely replied to her, He also did a favor for her today. If he did not interfere, Then according to the common plot this guard will severely slap the protagonist and might even lose her job.

He shakes his head to throw out all these thoughts. Anyway now he doesn't have to worry about the low IQ of others. This way he should have a little more confidence in front of the protagonist.

[Ding! Hosts gain the affection of the opposite sex.

40 raider points are received...]

As he guessed, System voice rang in his mind. He feels a little happy now that he can exploit this function to gain lots of raider points.

"Why are you here? Didn't I already pay you to leave my sister alone? Don't even think of swallowing money and turning your face, I have thousands of ways to make you vomit all of the money."

Just as Alex was about to turn around to go back in ward 3-B, A sharp voice rang in the hall, and a woman with a seductive body walked towards him.

(A/N : The reason chapters are short is that I wanted to upload 10 chapters as soon as possible, So I can start with lemons.

Chapter 10 10. Dumbass Rose

Rose trotted towards Alex angrily, As she was coming her slender water snake-like waist twisted and her wide ass moved side by side.

Because this novel is written considering it has a male protagonist, Other than social status and physical strength nothing else changed in the bodies of the women in this world. Women are still the ones who give birth.

The reason man is encouraged by the government to have polygamy is the low birth rate in women.

The power in this world is more partial toward the mortal woman, So that power is the reason that makes women in this world stronger than men but the side effect of that is a higher immunity and resistant, Because of that chances of egg being fertilized became very low.

Also the ratio of men and women in this world is 1:5. This meanss each 5 women there is only one male, Hence the government is asking males to have polygamy.

As for where that power comes from? It's simple, Like every brain-dead novel like this it comes either from a space asteroid or some very powerful being put there.

Alex was not sure what the reason was as the author of this novel didn't mention it in his novel at all, It was hinted it might be one of these 2 things but Alex was sure the author of this novel didn't think of this problem at all.

After all, Why bother to put logic into the fulfillment novel, Right?

"Stop pretending to be dead and answer me, Why are you here? Are trying to get close to my sister again? Do you forget you just accepted money to stay away from her?"

Rose pointed her finger at his nose and arrogantly questioned him. She was really disgusted by this leech-like man, Who only knows how to live by sucking others' blood.

"What!!! Alia is here? Is she alright? Nothing happened to her right? Is she sick?"

Alex was dumbfounded, This Rose is a really stupid girl. She didn't even consider other possibilities why I might be here but directly made up a reason on her own.

She never bothers to think, How can he find out that Madam Miller is sick and admitted here? That is the top secret of their family. After all, No matter if Alia is the heir of the Miller family and handles the business but the current head still is Madam Miller, Who held all the power in her hands.

If news of her being sick leaks out the companies under them will take a hit and people with motive use this opportunity to weaken their families.

So good-hearted Alex created an excuse for her. If not and she spoke that Madam Miller is admitted here, She will be severely punished severely by the family law.

After receiving the hidden family as a reward, He also got all related memories of the family and its rules. It's not something a normal person can bear.

"Huh!? How could my sister be sick? Wait! Are you cursing my sister? It's not my sister but- "

"Really!? Is Alia fine? That's a relief. I am here because my friend's mother is admitted here. Tomorrow is her operation."

Goosebumps appeared on Alex's body as he heard what this dumb girl was about to say, So he hurriedly cut her off. It was really stressful to act and thought of a solution for this dumbass.

Okay, He admits. It was not that he was worried about her but he feared for his life. You know this is a family secret of the Miller family, Not to mention this one can cause quite large harm to the family.

So they surely will do everything to stay this secret be still secret. So you can imagine, What happens if you know about this level of secret.

Although he has a hidden family background, Which is quite strong, The system was not stingy and gave quite a strong family background. Stronger the Miller family. The one that can still can stand in the middle and late plot. This is enough to show its power.

But the problem is that all the power of the family was in the capital city, not here. Far lake can't quench current thirst. There is still some power in Berlin of his family but that is nothing compared to the Miller family.

"Is that friend you said is Grace?"

Rose's attention was caught by a friend in his mouth. Unknowingly she spoke these words as if she just realized something.

Even though her brain might be slow but it's not useless, It still works from time to time.

"Yes, Her mother is admitted here but don't worry, She will be fine after a tomorrow's surgery."

Alex, after seeing that he successfully changed the subject, Didn't mind answering a few questions of hers.

Anyway, he didn't want to have any connection with Alia. Although she is the heroine and will also give some super powerful rewards after being raided, She herself is the problem.

The protagonist has a protagonist halo. That's how he can open a harem and survive from her but he doesn't have cheat luck like the protagonist. He will only create a Shura field if he adds her to his raider list.

Then he has to spend extra time to make sure she does not mess up the whole harem, So he didn't want to take a risk at all.

The reason he openly accepted his friend Grace is because he knows how clean freak Alia is. If she knew he was with another woman, She would be disgusted by him and stop paying attention to him. At least he thinks so.

[Ding! +30 Favorability of Rose increased for the host (Current 50 Crush).]

"???"

Alex wants answers, He didn't even do anything, How come answering one simple question increased favorability? Is it that easy to increase favorability?

Of course not, Most of the long relationships couples are only able to reach at 60 love max. So there is something wrong with increasing the favorability of this much at once.

"I misunderstood you."

Rose looked at Alex with complicated eyes. There is even an apology in her eyes. As if she felt bad for wronging him.

"What you misunderstood? Why can't I understand? You are clearly speaking English."

Alex's brain wasn't able to process what was happening. You know he is the villain. How can a female partner look at him with that look?

What did he see? Rose the thorny woman has little softness and apology for him in her eyes. There is definitely something wrong.

"I-If you asked, I offered money for the operation for her mother. Our family has many charity organizations. You don't have to sacrifice your love- I mean your self-esteem to get money."

Rose said very softly, There are lots of apologies and self-blame in her voice.

She "understands". She "understands" that Alex's actions might appear like the green tea bitch but he has a heart of gold.

He even sacrificed his happiness for someone else. Tell me which green tea can do that? They all really misunderstood him.

Maybe the money he was taking from others was to help someone. Yes, he surely does, I was blind before to not see the goodness of him and hurt him with my actions.

He might really love my sister dearly but because of me, they got separated. I even put a price tag on his love. Doing that I should have really insulted his love but look at him, He is still talking casually as if I didn't just commit the crime of blasphemy of pure love.

He suffers alone, Putting fake smile on his face without letting others know his pain but suffering alone internally. He didn't even say the purpose of taking money because he didn't want to show it off. For that he even took insults from me.

How can she be able to hurt this good man? Because of her rushed and stupid decision she really did crime this time.

Right!? He had such a big reaction just now, thinking that my sister might make me ill. That's a good sign. He still loves my sister. There is still hope. I just wish I could also find this dedicated man...maybe?

No he is my sister's man, I have to salvage the mess I created.

Rose's thoughts were running wildly like a dog in the children's park without leash.

'How can she even come up with that?'

Alex was dumbfounded here. He realized why she was acting strange. This dumbass woman's brain might be working overtime to make up stories on its own.

Seeing an apologetic and self-blaming look in her eyes, Alex felt shivers run through his body.

He wanted to stay away from this woman, Fearing he might be infected by her stupidity.

"I know you hate me and I do not blame you for that, I deserve it, But can you accept this check as my apology? It's really not insulting you by giving money but I only know how to apologize."

Rose quickly pulled out the check from her purse and without hesitation wrote his name on it. After that, she without giving it much thought put a 7 million amount on it.

After that, she hesitantly held that check in front of Alex, Waiting for him to accept this check as her apology.

'What's the meaning of this action? You already wrote my name on it. I have to accept it even if I don't want the money.'

Alex's brain was hurting. He thought about all the possibilities but he couldn't understand why his simple answer created this much change.

He hates this feeling, He likes to be in control and fears the unknown. He ransacked his brain this time but he still couldn't come up with any reason.

Then he looked at the check helplessly. Anyway, he had to accept the check even if he didn't want to as once name was written on it. That 7 million became unusable by others unless he took it out and gave it back.

This weird law applied to the check in this.

'Fuck it, I will think about why this is happening later first take the money.'

Alex saw the check and had some wanting. He currently is penniless. Old Alex never thought of saving money. Right now in his bank there was not even enough money for the gas.

Fortunately, he has an electric car.

[Ding!....]

Just as he reached out for the check, the system's voice rang. It was always ringing when he was just about to do something not before or after, A very inconvenient system.

But the thinking system might have an answer for the current situation, He opened a notification.

(A/N : I write a little differently than usual because I felt my previous writing was bland without much emotion. So I changed my writing format.

Tell me if you liked it or not

Don't forget to leave the power stone and check if this book shows the potential starlet. I received a notification but it was not showing it to me even after refreshing multiple times.

Chapter 11 11. Raider Target, Rose

[Ding! Word choice is detected...

The selection function is triggered...

Please choose the following options...

- [1] Money is supreme, So how can you say no to money?

Task : Accept the money and give her a kiss as a reward.

(Note : Host you don't have to kiss her right after receiving the money, You can do it in 24 hours but kiss has to be on the lips, And if it's a french kiss then the received rewards will be 30% more.)

Reward : 10 Billion UC

- [2] How can you as a raider let go of this charming beauty?

Task : Completed aid her raid and make her yours in a day.

Reward : [Sex Copy] Skill

- [3] She insulted you before, So how can you forgive her that easily?

Task : Slap her on the face

Reward : "Ecstasy Hands" Passive Skill.]

'Huh!? New layout? System, have you changed something?'

Alex got surprised by the new layout, Before it only used to talk about tasks and rewards and now there is an extra comment by the system.

'Wait!! What kinda rewards are those? System, are you sure, You are the raider system and not the Lust or Netori system?'

He did not pay attention to the reward before because of the change in layout but now he saw it, He couldn't help but yell in his heart.

This is the raider system, So it's logical to give him charm and skill, Which is essential for the raider. His system rewards him for winning the heart's of the woman, But what about these rewards? They are there to conquer the body of a woman, not a heart.

[Ding! Host this is the raider system. There is no doubt about it, And these rewards are also helpful for you in the raid and win the heart of a woman.

After all just like the road to man's heart goes through his stomach, Just like the road to Woman's heart goes through-]

'Enough, enough understand, You don't have to complete the sentence.'

Alex didn't want to hear it, It's one thing to know and it's another to say it. Anyway, these rewards are not bad.

'But what to choose? These all 3 have good rewards.'

Now that he took a closer look, All these rewards are too tempting. The 1st reward of 10 billion UC is very useful. You know this is cash, not liquidity. This much cash is also an astronomical amount for those 20 or 30 billion worth companies. Except for the protagonist, Other issues can be solved by money.

The 2nd Award also looks good, Although he didn't know what function that skill has but just by the graphics on it was showing it is not a normal skill, And with his past experiences the 2nd option always is better than other reward good.

Now the 3rd option also has an anomaly. Although it is still the worst choice, the reward, unlike before, is not trash but looks like something good.

'Sigh I want to choose them all.'

[Ding! The host has chosen all the options, Please complete them in 24 hours. (Current time remaining 23:59:57.)

'What!! This is also an option?'

Alex was shocked. He never thought he could choose more than one option, But come to think of it, The previous options were contrary to each other.

[Ding! Host like said before, System will not restrain you. If you want you can choose one, two, or all of the options. Even if you want you can refuse to choose it. There is no penalty for it.]

The system kindly retold its rule to Alex. Has to say this system is very host friendly unlike other systems.

"Alex, please accept my apology."

A little guilty and pleading voice of Rose broke the thought of a chain of Alex. He looked in front and remembered that there is still this brain-dead woman.

"Sorry I can't, I already sold my love to you, There is nothing else on me to sell it."

Acting is key to his survival, Alex didn't use auto-acting but used techniques in it and acted himself.

At this time his appearance was very aggravated, His voice was pitiful, The deeply wounded heart and his pain can be felt from his raw emotions.

He at this moment looks like a hurt man, Who was only hanging by a thread, Helpless without anywhere to go like a lost puppy looking for his owner.

Thump

The moment Rose saw him like this, She wanted to rush ahead and take this man, Who was deeply hurt by her in her arms. Give him Comfort, Solace and...Home.

But she controlled her desire. No matter how much her instinct told her to do that, She didn't move. There are boundaries between women and men, Her doing that might make him misunderstand her actions. So she holds herself back.

"No- No it is not a transaction. This is my apology. It was I who was blind before and couldn't see your true feelings. Please find a little place in your heart, and forgive me."

Rose's voice was not crisp like before but it became hoarse. Unconsciously she was too infected by his emotions.

"But..no! people- "

Of course, Alex wanted the money. This 7 million is nothing to him now. With one phone call to his home, He can get this much money. But the reward after receiving it was tempting to him.

But he still had to act now. He had to raid her if not he didn't bother wasting extra calories on this act.

"No, But! I will handle people. You just accept this check, Please Alex this is the only way that I can forgive myself."

Rose sprang up, She caught the key part in Alex's words.

'It turns out, It's not that he didn't want to forgive me but he was afraid of hearsay and scandal.'

She was overjoyed after realizing this fact, Even she didn't know why she felt so much joy after knowing this. So she didn't waste any time and shoved the check in his arms, Without waiting for his reply.

"That...Okay, but I will return it to you later."

Although his face looked reluctant, he was laughing in his heart. Not only did others deliver money to you and beg you to take it but also felt grateful when you accepted it.

'How good feeling is this. If not for the protagonist, This world would be very good for someone like me to live in.'

Alex sighed in his heart and put the check in his pocket.

[Ding! +10 Favorability of Rose increased for the host (Current 60 Love).]

Just as he put the check in his pocket, The system notification rang in his mind.

'It's really easy to gain favorability, When your charm is through the roof.'

Alex looked up and saw her gem-like crystalline eyes, Roaming around him in a daze but he chose to ignore it. He didn't hate this feeling, After all, who will hate it when a woman as beautiful as her checks them out?

"Why don't we go and cash this check? After that, I will treat you to dinner."

Now that he has decided to raid her, He was going all out.

This is actually a very good thing for him. He came to this world but in both worlds, He was a virgin and now he was in the reverse world. He wants to go all out.

The only problem is Alia. His now ex-girlfriend, She has an extremely possessive nature, On the level of morbid possessiveness.

Because of that, if he loses his V-Card to someone else, That person might end up at the bottom of a river the next day.

But now with Rose, He didn't have that problem. No matter how crazy that woman is, She never attacks her own sister, Right?

"Yeah, Okay let's go."

Rose became excited about being invited to a dinner by him. What is the meaning of a man inviting a woman for dinner? She knows very well. In her friend circle, this "dinner" invite is common.

She also received this invitation many times but each time she obviously refused after being invited by Alex. She didn't know why her heart started beating fast. Her hands were also shaking in excitement.

Lots of images and fantasies appeared in her mind, There was a tingling sensation between her legs, and Her thoughts once again started running wild.

'No, what am I thinking? Alex didn't mean it like that. Anyway, this is the right opportunity to salvage the mess I created. Yes, There is no other motive in my mind other than this.'

Rose said in her mind but there was still a tinge of expectation in her heart, That wanting her to be wrong. Her eyes quickly scanned Alex's body but she quickly turned her head away.

Her face had become red because of the blush. A hot sensation on her face was making her feverish.

'No I am not tempted, He is just too enchanting, That body's killer for any woman.'

Rose said these words in her heart to reduce guilt in her heart for being aroused by her sister man just now.

"Okay, Please give me 5 minutes, I had to inform Grace about it."

Alex didn't forget that he was here in place of Grace, So he had to inform her before leaving.

"Okay, I will wait here, Come back soon."

Though she was dissatisfied hearing Grace's name she didn't show it on her face, As not to make Alex angry, She knows men are very sensitive about this matter.

She also didn't feel anything wrong with him meeting Grace. After all, he was just helping her in need. There is nothing else. At least in her eyes, it's like this.

Alex came outside of the ward hallway and called her.

"Grace, Something came up, I had to leave now. How long will it take for you to come here?"

The call just rang for two rings and quickly picked up by her. As the call connected, He informed her without wasting any time.

"Oh I am just downstairs in the lobby, You can leave Alex, I will treat you tomorrow, Also once again thank you for today, If not for you. I didn't know what-"

Grace on the other end spoke softly but for later words, her voice became heavy and hoarse, She held herself back from crying out again.

"Yeah, That will be your treat, remember that, Okay bye I have to go now."

Alex said and cut the call, It's not that he was unfeeling to her but he just sensed that sneaky Rose trying to listen to their conversation.

She was leaning her ear on the half-transparent door behind him but this idiot does not realize that he can still see her dark shadowy figure on the door if she was sticking that close to the door.

"Let's go, If we are late, the banks might close down."

Alex came in and pretended as if he did not see her actions and walked straight towards the elevator.

He didn't want to ignore this because it was too obvious. If he didn't point out people might start to doubt his intentions.

But he was also helpless, He was 99% sure that this dumbass not able to answer it if he questioned her and might say something stupid, Which might raise raider difficulty for him. So he decided to ignore it.

"Okay, Wait for me."

Rose was embarrassed thinking that she was caught. Even though she knew he was just helping Grace, She still felt jealous for some reason and couldn't help but wanted to hear what they were talking about.

She thought the conversation would last at least a few minutes but she didn't expect that Alex would only speak two sentences and cut off the call but thankfully he didn't notice her action. If not, she didn't know how to answer it.

Seeing Alex pressing a button, She quickly caught up and entered the elevator before its door closed.

(A/N : Afterbfew the chapter, Lemons will start. Because I didn't want to take a risk.

Also, today is going to have another update, Which might come in the evening or night.

Chapter 12 12. Raiding Point Farming Trick

"2kg chicken, Rice, Vegetables.....Your total is 669 UC."

The cashier in the convenience store handed Alex his stuff and said the total price of his items.

"Okay, Here I paid it. Thank you."

Alex scanned the QR code and paid the price, After that he got out of the store with Rose.

"Why are you bothering with this Alex? We can go to some high-end restaurants. I know a few places."

Rose sounded dissatisfied and complained to Alex. She thought after they cash in the check they could go to some 5-star restaurant.

Then have a good time might get him a little drunk and try to ease the situation she created but after they received cash, Alex suggested that he will cook. The reason was that money can't express his heartfelt feelings as even though she had given money in exchange for his love, It still saved someone's life.

Hearing that Rose felt guilty, So she didn't push him to eat outside. The only thing she was happy about is that Alex decided to cook. So they have to go to her apartment for it. That way they will be alone in the same room.

Although she thinks there is no possibility of anything happening between them but as a woman, She still has some expectations. After all, no straight woman can be immune to his charm.

"No need to waste money, I can cook better than those chefs."

Alex, Of course, didn't know c about cooking but he still has a god-level experience card, With that, he can become the best cook in this world, In this reversed world god-level cooking is very helpful to gain the affection of the woman quickly.

The reason he was doing all this in a hurry is that he wants to lose his V-Card tonight. He didn't want this unwanted virginity anymore. Plus once he loses it, He is no longer going to have any physiological burden on him. After that, he can go wild.

In the last world, he couldn't do anything about being a virgin but now he is hot stuff here. He can't wait to dive into the sea of pleasure. If not for that damn protagonist, He really loves this reverse world.

'System can I and the protagonist never live in harmony?'

Alex sat in the back seat of Rose's car and asked about the system. If not really didn't want to have anything with the protagonist.

After all, playing with the protagonist is like playing with fire. One wrong move can cause you to be burned by it.

[Ding! Host, there is a way but you will not gonna like it.]

'Huh!!? There is really a way? Can we really live in harmony?'

Alex was surprised. He was a normal teenager, Who lived in a peaceful society in his past world. At least on the bright side, it looked peaceful. If he can avoid it, He really doesn't want to kill anyone.

[Ding! Yes host, As long as the host raids the protagonist, You can live in harmony.]

Hearing Alex's words, System said innocently.

'I understand, I understand. Don't feel the bad system. I don't blame you for not having any solution.'

Alex spoke very forgiving voice as if he didn't care about the incompetence of the system.

[Ding! Host, did you misunderstand? I said-]

'No system, You don't have to explain, I understand. The villain and protagonist are like fire and water. So there is no way other than to kill him, I understand the system now.'

Alex cut the system off mid-sentence and spoke very caringly to the system.

[Ding! But-]

'Okay, the system doesn't feel bad. You go to sleep, it's getting late.'

He didn't allow the system to speak at all and was quickly dismissed.

[Shameless]

The system couldn't help but say this, How can it not see Alex was bluffing? He was just disgusted by the fact that he had to raid the protagonist, So he pretended like he didn't hear anything.

But the system is just there as an auxiliary thing to help the host survive. It will not point out the host's shameful behavior. So it decided to shut up.

"Alex, We are reached our destination. Here in this building is my apartment."

After some time, Car stopped in front of a luxury building complex. There are at least 5 similar buildings present here, Which were all connected.

"Let's go, My apartment is on the top floor."

Rose excitedly led a way, Pointing out things from time to time to Alex, Explaining about them.

"Good evening Miss, Good evening Sir."

A security guard saw it was Rose who came, She quickly stood up and saluted. No one did not know her.

After all, this building complex is built by the Miller family, and as 2nd young lady of the Miller family. Everyone here knows here.

It's just that Rose did not come here often, So the guard was surprised, But because of the training, she didn't forget to do her job.

"Humm."

Rose just nodded at her and led Alex into the elevator.

"Good evening."

Alex also politely greeted her before he followed Rose. It was a habitual action as he always did but when it fell in the guard's eyes, It was an unbelievable action.

'How can this young master greet me back? How come there is this polite young master?'

Guard is shocked, She used to be ignored by this young lady and her young masters. They mostly ignore her or mock her but not once has anyone greeted her back, especially those young masters who are more arrogant, They disdain to look at her.

But now she was greeted back by this handsome young master. She couldn't believe it for a while. She only comes back to her senses after that figure disappears from her line of sight.

[Ding! Hosts gain the affection of the opposite sex...

90 raider points are received...]

Here, The system notification rang in his mind.

'Now I finally confirmed, How to farm these raider values.'

The corner of his lips unconsciously lifted. He constantly receives "ding-ding" notifications of gaining raider points every time he comes in contact with a woman but it never exceeds more than 5 max, Only exception was three times. 1st time was a hospital receptionist, Later was a hospital guard and last was this guard

The only common thing in all three occurrences was that unlike others he communicated with these women and made them have some good feelings for themselves.

Before he had a hunch but he was not sure but now he confirmed. Now his goal is to farm raider points.

"Ding"

"Come, Alex, we are here, This is my favorite apartment."

Elevator reached the 24 floor, The last floor of the building. Its door opened, and Rose first rushed out.

She stands in front of the door swiping the golden key card on the door lock.

Click

With a click, the sound door opened, and asked Alex to come in.

'I just hope there will not be some unexpected event, Which destroys my good deeds.'

Alex wants to lose his V-Card today but there is worry in his heart. After all, Rose too is a heroine. He still didn't know if the protagonist Halo would affect him here or not.

Still, with little worry and expectation in his heart, He entered her apartment.

(A/N: Guys question, Did you prefer 1 chapter of 2k words a day (Sunday will be off) or 2 to 3 chapters of 1.1k words a day?)

- 1 chapter of words a day
- 2 or 3 chapters of 1.1k words a day.

Chapter 13 13. Sub-Skill : Foodgasum

Alex looked at the luxurious European-American style hall, A yellow golden light on the ceiling illuminating the imported furniture placed in the hall. A combination of all these things gives the feeling of royalty.

"Alex, On this whole floor there is only this apartment, All this space is only for this one apartment. This furniture is specially made and imported from Murica, The price of this whole place cost me 400 million UC."

Rose didn't know what to say, So she started babbling things about her apartment. Of course, there was some expectation in her heart.

Normally, Any man who hears about her wealth shows starry eyes when looking at her. Then they start to please her, Show their advantage, and Throw their favor at her. If someone acted like this in the morning, She would be disgusted by it but now she has rare expectations.

She wanted to see if Alex would act like that, Trying to please her, May...Maybe even commit to her. After all, no matter what as a woman she had the desire to be with a handsome man, Not to mention a man in front of her is still single.

"Humm it's quite a good-looking Rose, Well...Can you tell me where the kitchen is?"

But to her disappointment, Alex just spoke casually without any greed or desire.

Alex not only receives memories of his hidden background but also life's experience of it. Ethics and all of the high-class family rules are in his mind. So for him, this mere 400 million apartment is nothing. If he wants he can just get a palace worth 4 billion with a single call.

Of course, the premise is that he goes back to his family. Because the system created a reason for him being outside the family, And that reason was that He didn't want to marry his fiancé because it was an arranged marriage.

So he runs away from his family and comes to this Berlin city 4 years ago. This way all the plot holes will be cleared. If anyone asks why he didn't tell, He can just say he was hiding from them that's why he didn't say anything about it.

"Oh...Just take the next left and after that take the right. There is a kitchen."

Rose had very complicated feelings. On the one hand, she was happy that Alex is not a vanity and greedy person but on the other hand was disappointed that he was not a vanity and greedy person.

This contrary feeling wreaks havoc in her heart. So when Alex asked she didn't think much and gave directions.

"Okay, You get busy, I will finish cooking in an hour or so."

Alex saw through her heart but this is what he wanted, The more turbulent her heart will be the more easier for him to take the next step.

So he ignored Rose and left her alone with her thoughts. After getting the directions he walked straight towards the kitchen.

'System, Use god-level experience card on the cooking skill.'

While walking he commanded the system. In this woman-respected world, Cooking skill of men is a killer move for women.

If he wants to gain the affection of a woman, Cooking is the best way to find an opportunity to raid them. After all, Like his last world, a woman loves a man who is handsome and can cook, Who can they marry.

[Ding! The God-Level skill card is consumed...]

Cooking skills are improving...

Cooking skill is upgraded to mortal peak level...

Cooking skill is upgraded to Puseo-Immortal peak level...

Cooking skill is upgraded to Immortal peak level...

Congratulations Cooking skill is upgraded to God-level...]

System voice fell and the experience of his cooking level started to rise, From a mortal peak to a pseudo-immortal peak, Then an immortal peak, and finally stopped at the God-Level.

Just as it reached the god level, Lots of mysterious knowledge appeared in his mind. He felt like he practiced this skill for eternity, Not only knowledge of the cooking but also an experience of it.

'Huh!? What is this?'

After absorbing the knowledge and experience, Alex finds out that there is some extra skill that appeared in his mind with the god-level cooking.

[Ding! This is a "Foodgasm" skill.

Foodgasm (Passive): Food made by the skill holder gives a feeling of euphoria and pure bliss to the consumer. This satisfaction is one level higher than a normal physical one.

Effect: When the opposite sex consumes the food, Their affection for the host will increase by 10-20 depending on the taste of the food.

If same-sex consumed, Their loyalty increases for the host by 10-20 (System detected that host possesses God-level cooking so affection will be increased by 20 each time.)

(Note: This effect has a cooldown of 24Hrs before it can affect the same person again. There is no limit to the number of people as long as they are humanoid beings.)

Host this is a sub-skill, Every god-level skill has at least one sub-skill, Like god-level, acting can auto-act and give protection.]

'This is a complete cheat ability!!! As long as I feed food cooked by me for 5 days to woman, I can win any woman's heart.'

Alex was shocked by this sub-skill, This skill might be more powerful than god-level cooking.

[Ding! Hosts gaining the affection of Heroines in an initial plot is very easy but the problem is how to keep them peaceful.

Remember the host, Unlike the protagonist, You didn't have a protagonist halo, Which will help you to keep the peace in the harem.

One wrong move and there will be a bloodbath in the harem. So the system warns the host to be careful.]

The system poured cold water on Alex's intention to just feed the heroine until full affection.

'Sigh So I can't just raise them to full affection of 100, Just feeding them. I still need to carefully plot the reasons.'

Alex was disappointed but he also understood the reason behind it. If there is no emotional base, That increased affection might make that heroine crazy and try everything to get him.

[Ding! Sorry to interrupt your host but 100 is not a full favorability value. The favorability value is like the following...

0-30 = Indifferent, Acquaintance, Friends

30-60 = Friends, Crush, Love

60-90= Love, Only One, Until Death

91-100 = Obsession

100- 500 = Unhealthy amounts of obsession

500-☹ = Not even death can take them apart.

(Note : There is another meter ranking, Does the host wants to see it?)]

'100 is not the limit!! Wait!?! There is no limit to affection at all.'

Alex is right now scared. If he is not careful in this superpower world, He might start a shura field, Which only going to make his life miserable.

'Fuck it I will handle it if that ever happens, Now just focus on the cooking, There is still a long night ahead.

Alex didn't want to think about it anymore, Big deal if that happened just go back home, His family can handle the rest.

In his mind, He has already reached the kitchen, So he put the ingredients he brought on the counter. After washing his hands thoroughly he started to prepare things to cook.

...

In the hall Rose came back to her senses, His cheeks were still crimson because of shame. She just realized the desire in her heart was directed toward the man of her elder sister.

'Well...They already broke up, Right? And if sister really cared about him, She should have contacted him long ago.'

Now that desire took root in her heart, She started to make up a reason.

She is partially right, If Alia really loved or cared about Alex, She should have contacted him the moment he blocked her but she didn't.

Of course, In her thinking, she ignored the fact they broke up because of her or even of Alia not loving him but Alex still in the eyes of others loves Aila. After all, she was trying to justify feelings in her heart not to have a debate with herself.

"Well, Let's just conform with her for the last time before doing anything."

Rose still feels little guilt in her heart, So she decided to directly talk with her sister to figure out, She has any feelings for Alex or not.

Ring-ring Ring-ring

Rose picked up her phone and dialed the number of her sister, Alia.

"Speak"

After a few ring calls got to pick and what came from the other side was a bone-chilling cold voice. It was not purposefully disguised by her nut speaker as this intent characteristic.

"Sister, That...That Alex. I paid him to leave you and he accepted."

Rose trembled to hear her sister's voice. What is afraid in this entire world is her sister. Although her sister spoils her in normal times she also does not take any of her offenses lightly.

If she made a mistake then she will be punished according to family law. There is no mercy given to her even as her sister. There is a shadow of her sister in her heart.

"Humm"

The opposite side only hummed as a reply to her statement and then became silent.

This silence was unbearable to Rose, It's always like, Her sister never let others know what is in her heart.

"You know sister, I offered him a million but he only took 888,389, not for himself but for Grace, He even received checks in her name."

Rose to see her sister not saying anything spoke, A trail of sweat dripping from her forehead because of nervousness, Even though she wants to have Alex for herself now, She didn't dare to lie.

She knows her sister, Alia's power. Maybe she already knew everything from the very beginning, She might be just testing people.

"I know."

Like Rose guessed, Alia already knows this fact in the evening. Same bone-chilling cold voice without any turbulence, As if they were not talking about her boyfriend...Sorry, ex-boyfriend.

"That- "

Rose trembled to hear Alia's tone. Although there was no fluctuation in it, she felt undisguised killing intent in her voice.

She didn't know what to say next, So she was put in an awkward position.

"You are with him, right?"

Boom

Alia said these words in the same cold tone but when Rose heard it, She felt cold all over her body.

Her sister knows!! She knows that she is with Alex, Her ex-boyfriend.

"Y-Y-Yes."

Rose's body was trembling in fear, Words she spoke were stammering. She forgot that there was also a hidden bodyguard around her, So they told her what she did to her sister.

"Why?"

Alia only asked one question but this one question to Rose was like an immeasurable mountain crushing down on her.

She has no answer to this question, Say that he invited her, Who can believe that? Say that she was greedy for his body. Believe it or not, the next day she will be at the bottom of the river.

She knows how possessive her sister is. Even if She doesn't want it, Others can't have it.

But she also confirmed one thing: her sister didn't have any feelings for Alex, Because if she did, She would be present right here to drag her back, not speaking casually from the phone.

"Sis-Sister th-that Yeah! Alex said even though the money I gave him was not a good way, it ended up saving someone's life. So he decided to treat me, Saying he is a good cook. That's why I am with him.

I also gave him an extra 7 million as an apology, That might be also the reason he was treating me."

That sentence is true, When life and death situations occur our bodies will break their limit and work on the superhuman level.

The same is happening with Rose, Her non-existent IQ broke its limit and came up with a quite reasonable reason. Not only does this implicate her but also protects Alex.

After all, both are innocent. It is just gratitude for saving a life.

"After eating, Go back to the company for work."

Beep-Beep

"Hello!? Sister? Sister?"

Rose wanted to make excuses for going back to the company but after saying this sentence Alia cut off the call without giving her any time to say anything.

"Fuck!!!"

She couldn't help but curse, She felt wronged. She didn't get to enjoy anything and now she gets punished.

For her, working overtime at night is worse than the death penalty. She hates working. Why should she be as rich as the second-generation didn't need to work hard, Plus there is a mighty sister to take care of the business, So they are also not worried about going bankrupt.

But now she has to work, Which was a nightmare for her.

...

"It will be done in a few minutes. After this dinner, I will definitely lose my unwanted virginity."

Unknown to the mess outside, Alex was happily cooking, imagining finally getting rid of the title of a virgin.

(A/N : Okay, So you guys wanted 1 chapter of 2k words a day (Sunday will be a holiday), So from the day after tomorrow it will be like that.

Chapter 14 14. Perk Heroines

"Pewf Done."

Alex looked at the dishes prepared by him with satisfaction. There was chicken rice, gravy, soup, and sauces placed on the dining table.

Each dish felt like it came from an anime with its own glittering effect on it. You don't have to test it to know it is a delicious delicacy.

"Well good enough, If not for the low-grade ingredients, It will test 2 or 3 grades even better. Just hope it will meet the standards of this 2nd miss of the Miller family."

Alex took some rice to test and was satisfied with it, But he still finds out too many faults in it but he was helpless. The ingredients he brought were all low-grade and cheap.

'I should have upgraded my cooking skills before buying these ingredients.'

He felt that he made a mistake not using the skill card before. If he did, he should be able to bring some good ingredients. Then this food would have tasted even more.

But now he can't do anything about it. He just hopes that it will meet the standards of Rose, Who used to eat food in standard 7-star hotels.

'System, Can I buy a god-level skill experience card?'

Alex after he was done cooking asked the system. This experience card is a real op thing to have, Other than the fact that it can only be used on the skill he already learned of, It has no drawback.

[Ding! Hosts can buy anything in the system mall, But the system recommended not wasting your Raider Points on it. Not to mention the host currently can't afford it yet but even if you did it will be a waste of raider points.

The host is going to get multiple opportunities to increase your skill or learn new one's in the choice function.

So it's recommended that the host will save RP as much as he can. So when needed he can use them to either increase your strength or buy life-saving things.]

This system is not like those other profit-hungry systems, When it's not necessarily the system recommended not spending an extra penny to Alex.

"Can only Heroines trigger a choice function?"

Alex felt good about this system. Other systems might have jumped up right now, and give the temptation of a multiple discount to make him waste his Raider Points.

[Ding! Not necessarily, Others can also trigger the world choice function. This function is triggered when the host is confronted with a choice that can affect the world.

The more change the world is going to have because of your choice, The richer the reward host will receive.]

The system was patient enough to answer Alex.

Heroines are like the nodes of this novel world, So changing them will be equivalent to changing this world.

That's why every time he encounters the heroine, the system triggers the choice function.

The protagonist being the center of this world, Also triggered world choice.

This is the reason, Why the system did not trigger choice functions on others, Because they were not that important to this story to change the fate of the world.

"Humm, I get it. As long as I am presented with a choice, Which has the potential to change the world, It will trigger the choice function."

Alex now fully understands why the System triggered choice and why rewards were that rich. After all, if the Protagonist is like the body of the story then Heroine is the soul of that body.

If he changed the Heroine, It was equivalent to taking away the soul from the protagonist, Hence having the biggest impact on the world.

"No wonder the system recommends raiding heroines. They have too many rich rewards."

Now he also understands, Why the system says to raid heroines. The more important the heroines are, the more rich rewards he will receive.

"Ros- "

After confirming this fact, Alex strengthened his decision to raid those heroines. He after confirming this wanted to call Rose to inform her that dinner was ready but then he realized how stupid she is.

Dinner is not the main motive of his today but to lose his V-card, But he also can't be too active or his image of a pure boy will be destroyed, Hence raising the raider difficulty.

If it was someone else, He didn't have to think much about it. The first thing they would do is to get him drunk. After all his charm is there, No matter who they are, they will be tempted by him.

But problem is that this Rose might be thought of getting him drunk but with her IQ it is nearly impossible for her to pull this off, He is 99% sure that she will fuck up this simple task.

'I have to help her, Sigh What kinda situation is this? Not only was I ready to give my virginity to her, But I also had to get myself drunk.'

Alex felt very complicated feelings, He wanted to drug himself for others, Anyone will feel weird.

If it was before he might ignore the blunder caused by Rose but sadly he can't Because this whole house was covered with security cameras.

If he deliberately did something, Rose might not find it but Alia surely will. Which he didn't want to happen at all.

As for how he knows there are cameras is also a very interesting thing, As he entered the house, His god-level acting got triggered. He directly became aware of each position of the cameras and which angle was supposed to look and act in his mind.

Actor and camera share a very special relationship, And with the god-level skill he now pretty much knows when and from where he was being filmed.

Although this skill is not very useful for the anti-reconnaissance, This is at least able to detect any cameras pointed at him.

'Sigh I still have to act.'

Alex shakes his head and starts thinking of a solution, After a few seconds of thinking he has a plan.

He used acting techniques in the god-level skill, not auto mode, So he can get used to those skills.

Then he acted as if he didn't pay attention and picked green chili hidden in the rice with a spoon and took a bite.

Then act as if he realized what he bit into was chili and started running around the kitchen, fanning his mouth in search of water.

He opened the refrigerator in a hurry and pulled out a glass bottle with transparent liquid inside. Then without seeing what it is, He gulped a few mouthfuls in a second just to realize it is not water but a spirit, Which has 96% alcohol.

'This will be enough.'

After gulping he acted like he was panicked but his heart was happy. Now he can go wild without worrying about much. If someone becomes suspicious just point out that he was drunk. For proof there is footage, This is a foolproof plan.

When it's all done, He acts like he got a little drunk. Well he actually was a little tipsy. After that's the spirit with 96% Alcohol, Even the women in this world can't handle this much pure spirit not to mention men are much weaker here than women.

After doing that, He quickly put that spirit bottle on the counter in a position that was not too obvious but also not too hidden. Then he hurriedly ran towards the sink and held his mouth to directly tap to drink water.

"Rose! Dinner is ready!!!"

After doing all that he was ready, And shouted to Rose, Before he sat down on the chair. He miscalculated the amount of spirit and tolerance of his body, He drank a little too much, So he needs to sit down to calm his mind.

"I am here, Whoa It smells really good in here, Let's eat. It's making me hungry."

Rose's mood was down when she entered the room but as she entered, The aroma of the food entered her nostril. Her dimmed hunger because of her sister's command also ignited.

In her 23 years of life, She never smelled something like this. This is like someone put an enchantment on her, Tempting her to test it.

"No!! Don't even think about touching the food without washing your hands, Now go wash them."

Just as she was about to sit down to eat, Alex domineeringly remained. Which was out of his character, This is his first step of letting her know that he was drunk and will act out of character, So don't mind his later actions.

"Huh...Okay okay."

Rose was startled, For a second she saw her sister's image in Alex. The cold aura, Overbearing nature, and that domineering tone match too much to her sister.

So out of her survival instinct, she did what she told her to do. She stood up and started to wash her hands thoroughly.

'This...What is this spirit bottle doing here?'

Rose, who was washing her hands in fear, saw the spirit bottle on the counter and then realized that there was no sister here but Alex.

She turned around and saw that the face of Alex was flushed red. He also was panting a little and felt like he was in a daze.

'Is he drink that?'

Rose looked at the spirit bottle then Alex then back to the spirit bottle. After doing this 2 or 3 times, She finally realizes what might happen here.

"Alex, Do you drink this?"

Rose was still not sure, So she asked Alex who was already drunk, If not because of the blessing of God-level acting, He long since passed out.

"Why? Do you have any problems? If you are done washing your hands, come here, Right now and eat."

Same domineering tone without giving any chance to the opponent for rebuttal.

"Yeah, I am coming."

Rose's survival instinct took over and she answered and acted out with her instincts.

After all, from childhood to now, She sharpens her ability to survive from her sister. So it's not like an instinct. The moment she heard that cold domineering tone, Her body move on its own to do what others told her to do.

So without realizing it, She sat back again on the dining chair just opposite Alex.

"Huh!? That's more like it, Now eat."

Alex's tone didn't change, the same cold and domineering, He who read through the whole plot, Knows all the weaknesses and perks of pretty much every heroine.

If not for him being too drunk, He might be able to push her to do more things but he does not have much time. So he has to rush the process.

"Mmm"

Rose just hummed, Too shocked to say anything. She just picked up the chicken rice in front of her and put it in her mouth.

Boom

As this food touched her tongue, There was a burst of flavor in her mouth. For a moment her brain stopped functioning as it was overloaded by this new sensation.

(A/N : Hii guys, Good news, I got a contract offer from a web novel, So there might be a delay of 1 or 2 days but after that, there will be a steady stream of updates.

Also what kinda lemon do you guys want? Rough one or gentle?

•Rough

•Gentle

Also, you might have guessed it but Rose has special characteristics. As for what it is? Guess.

Thanks for your support.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 15 15. Meaning Of Foodgasum

"Why-What...H-How?"

Rose wasn't even able to speak properly. The pleasure of food was too much. Not only her body but even her soul felt violated by this barrage of flavors.

These spicy, sweet, sour flavors overwhelmed her senses. All kinds of feelings came to her at once, Even if they were violating her soul and body but she didn't hate this feeling at all.

This is kinda pleasure was worth that torment of her senses. This feeling of pure euphoria, Like a drug, made her addicted.

"Ahhhh!!! Huff Mhumm."

Finally, pleasure raised to the limit of what her body can handle, She twisted her legs to try to stop that impending thing from happening but alas, That thing still happens, A large amount of love liquid squirted out of her lower mouth. If not for the panty and skirts blocking it should have long sprayed ahead in Alex's direction.

As she got a release, Her body became soft, Directly laying her half-body on the dining table.

"Huff Alex...Why...Why does this taste so Good?"

Rose's eyes were misty and confused, Making her look quite cute, Her towing chest going up and down as she gasped for air.

"Huh!? This taste good?"

Here Alex was dumbfounded. He personally tested it. At best he felt it was edible but looking at Rose's condition, She acted like she was being drugged.

He also smelled that fishy smell, 9 out of 10 times it was because of her pleasure climax.

[Ding! Foodgasm skill (Passive) triggered on Rose. +20 favorability increased towards host (Current : 90)

Cooldown : 23:59:55.]

In the confusion of Alex, The system voice sounded.

'It turns out Foodgasum's name is not just for show.'

This thought comes to his mind looking at Rose's state.

She at this moment is like a fish out of water grasping for the air, The pleasure was too much for her body, Soul, and mind to handle.

But her face was still full of ecstasy, Her two gem-like honey-colored eyes kept staring at the dish in front of her with a desire to eat.

"Just do what you asked to...do"

Same ice-cold domineering voice, A unquestionable tone that didn't give any chance for others to refuse.

"Y-Yes"

Rose is scared of that tone, especially that slight pause at the end. This is the same tone her sister used before she starts her inhuman torture of her opponents.

So without further ado, She took one more bite of the chicken rice.

Boom

It's still that old sensation. Even though she was prepared, She still couldn't resist the immeasurable pleasure that violated her whole being.

Her pleasure once again reached its peak, But this time she was prepared and was barely able to hold her orgasm.

"Do I say you can stop eating?"

Alex seeing she stopped eating, He once again spoke, He had to break her defenses first to move a step as he is oblivious to the interaction happened between sisters.

'This...Why do I like it when he is being commanding?'

Rose thought of this, every time that ice-cold domineering voice of his commanded her, an electric current ran through her whole body. This feeling was hard to explain but is quite addictive.

"Mhmm...Ahh!...Mhmm."

Although her mind was busy, Her hands did not stop, She once again took a bite.

This time she wasn't able to stop the inevitable. A large flood of her love juices broke out in her undies. She in panic crossed her legs and with her left free hand held her nether region.

She sneakily looked towards Alex to see if he didn't find out about her embarrassment.

It's a really embarrassing thing for women to climax early, Not to mention they didn't do anything, She climaxed even before that, She is even worse than a 30-sec showgirl.

'He didn't find out.'

To her relief, Alex was not looking at her but down at his plates. From his expression, It was not like he found out anything about her shame.

'But even if he finds out it should be worth it.'

This thought appeared in her mind as her eyes fell on the food on the table.

She can't even describe the taste of it, She can only say it gives her whole being a feeling of euphoria.

It felt like she tested pure bliss, If bliss has a taste then it will be this one.

So she didn't hesitate any more and started eating.

No, It can't be called eating as she pretty much inhales it, Without worrying much about Alex, As all her mind is focused on the food.

Alex was still not sure why she liked this barely edible food in his eyes so much.

[Ding! That's because the host you are talking about from the perspective of God-level cooking, That's why you are giving this low rating to this food.

But Rose is from the perspective of a normal mortal. For her, it's a divine grade food, If not it might be even higher.

(Note: If you want to enjoy this food from a mortal perspective, Just think about it, The effect of God-level cooking will be lowered to host choice for you to experience it but it's recommended not lower directly on the mortal level, Unless when host is alone.)]

The user-friendly system once again jumped and resolved its host query.

Actually, if Alex was not intoxicated right now. He should have found out about it with his 120 IQ but currently, he was barely holding back from being unconscious because of techniques of God-level acting.

He seriously underestimated the power of that spirit, Or to say he overestimated his body tolerance.

As men in this world are mostly not favored by the power in this world, Their body is very weak compared to women, And that spirit is obviously made for the consumption of a woman in diluted form.

'System I will not die from alcohol poisoning, right?'

Alex has to ask this question, If he really dies because of this then he will be the stupidest traveler ever be.

Think about it, He died of alcohol poisoning, In the world of superpowers. Not to mention he himself drank that much to get into someone's pants.

[Ding! Host life is not in immediate danger, But it's recommended to drink more water to prevent dehydration.]

'Sigh That's good.'

The system gave him the good news, He will not become a joke in the travel community.

After he was confirmed that he was not in danger, He too decided to eat. He lowered his skill power a little to LV 90 Immortal level. To try his cooking.

"Thanks for the food."

After he said it, He picked up the spoon to eat but as he was ready to put it in his mouth, He realized he was still wearing a face mask.

This was the habit of this world Alex, Unless at home or being alone, He used to wear this face mask all the time.

After all his charm even without a system strengthening was on the 130. So to avoid unnecessary trouble, he used to wear it. Now he unconsciously followed as it was a habit.

"Mhmm very good."

After removing his face mask, He took a bite and was blown away by the shock. Although he had a very mild reaction compared to Rose, But this still shocked him.

He couldn't find any fault in this food at all. With his current LV 91 cooking, This dish was perfect.

On God-level cooking, he found millions of faults in it, from grades of ingredients to cooking equipment. He can even tell problems with the genetics of chicken which lead to tests.

Not to mention, he able to fucking find fault in astrology and time dish was cooked.

This finally let him understand the horror of the God-level skill.

Then he too starts to eat with relish. Thinking about the night ahead of them

...

"That's all of it? Do you have some more stored?"

Soon both of them were done eating but Rose was unwilling, Her eyes resultantly looking at the empty plates and pots with little tears in her eyes.

She did not have enough, She wants more.

"You had more than enough."

The same commanding voice of Alex answered her question.

He saw her bulging tummy, He was afraid that if she eats more it might explode.

He has cooked food for 5 people as he didn't like when food fell short, So he decided to cook more as even if there is leftovers, That can be eaten the next morning or at lunch.

But to his horror, Rose never stopped eating, She even tried to steal his shear after inhaling hers.

If not for his stern warning, She might be successful as he is currently not her opponent at all.

"But- "

Rose's eyes turned red, She felt wronged. It's just some food. Why did he not let her eat it?

She looked at Alex with a pitiful look in her tear-filled eyes like a lost puppy. This is her killer move, Which she always uses against her sister when she wants something.

From childhood to now, She harnesses this skill to mastery, She is confident that she will not fail.

"No"

Only one word answered her. To tell the truth Alex was indeed affected by her, If not because of her health he might make some more for her.

Anyway, Women in this world do not get fat. Why? Simple the power which makes a woman stronger is also directly converts most of the excess fat to muscle strength.

Wait! What? You felt like it didn't make sense? Of course, it doesn't. What do you expect from wishfulment novels?

Although this world is converted into the real world, It still follows the laws that are stated in the novel. So there might be some anomalies like this one.

Rose didn't think that her killer move would fail but she didn't give up. Who was she? The 2nd Miss of the Miller family, The strongest family in Berlin city.

"Please~"

Well, she begged.

The temptation of that food is too much. She wants to taste it again. She was addicted to that pure bliss of taste.

"Not now, Tomorrow I will cook breakfast."

Alex still had that cold tone but he said what she wanted to hear. He felt pity for her. Other than her little brain problem, She didn't have any strong flaws.

She is very beautiful, Has a seductive body that puts most of the women to shame and she is also super rich. Her heart is also not that bad.

Although her tongue is like a knife, her heart is like soft cotton. If not she didn't have that brain-feeding making up story event in the hospital.

He still didn't know the cause of it but he was sure of it that those were her true feelings and not pretense.

So he decided to cut her some slack. Anyway, she will be his woman in the future, So it's not good to be too tough on her.

"Really, You are great."

Rose got spirited again, Although she was not successful to get it now but was at least sure, She will get it tomorrow.

For that level of delicacy, she can wait for decades not to mention just mere time of until the morning.

"Is that how you say thank you?"

Alex once again goes full-on domineering mode. He stood up and came to Rose.

He pinched her delicate chin with his slender long fingers and lifted her head to look at him.

His whole body excluding the domineering aura of that ice-cold president of the romance novel.

Rose panicked, The moment she encountered that overbearing tone and domineering aura. She felt like it was not Alex who was asking her but her sister, Alia.

"Sorry That-"

Slap

She wanted to speak but before she completed her sentence, A loud tight slap landed on her soft rosy cheeks.

Alex Slapped her.

[Ding! The host completed the 3rd option task...

Congratulations to a host on getting "Ecstasy Hands."]

(A/N : I decided to go with mixed lemon with Rose. As for others, we see.

Chapter 16 16. Make A Move (Light R-18)

As the system's voice fell, Alex felt a tingling sensation in his hands and some mysterious power running through them, But it only lasted for a second or so.

After that new skill appeared on his status panel.

"....."

Rose was speechless, Not because of the slap but the feeling that slap gave her.

Although it seems like, That slap was hard, the power of Alex was not enough to make her feel pain but she felt something else.

An excitement. She felt a rush of current run through her body when that slap landed on her cheeks.

This feeling is not only because of the slap but the domineering commanding voice, Alex used. This is a sensation that she never felt before.

"Did you not hear?"

That overbearing commanding voice once again rang, She looked up at Alex to answer but seeing his face she was stunned.

'How come he became this handsome?'

This was a thought in her mind. Throughout the day Alex was wearing the face mask, Although it was still not enough to hide his beauty but she ignored that look thinking it was nothing but her imagination but now he was without the mask. She was shocked.

In the morning she saw him although still handsome but nothing compared to his current appearance.

That flushed well carved tempting face, Those sword eyebrows, Void like black eyes, Long nose bridge, Slender thin lips.

A few buttons of his white shirt were open, Letting her see that smooth white little muscular chest. Making her body feel hotter and that weird feeling increasing more and more.

He looked like a fairy fallen from high heaven and was blasphemed by the world.

[Ding! +5 Favorability of Rose increased for the host (Current: 95 Obsession).]

The voice of the system rang in his mind. Indicating that he was very close to his goal.

"Sorry...N-No Me-Mean Tha-Thank you."

Excitement, Fear, and that unknown feeling overwhelmed her, Making her stammer. Even speaking becomes a hard task for her.

"That's how you thank someone?"

Alex raised his sword eyebrow and questioned her in that same cold tone.

"N-No...I-I will make a check n-now."

Rose didn't know what was happening to her but she liked that cold voice commanding her. The more Alex used a cold and domineering tone, The more excited she became.

Hearing that a simple thank you was not enough, She thought of the only way she knows of thanking someone, Money.

So she wanted to get her purse and took out her checkbook to make another check for Alex.

"Did I say you can move?"

Same cold overbearing tone questioning her.

Shivers

"N-No"

Rose wanted to stand up to go and grab her purse but she halted and shivered by that cold voice. Goosebumps appeared on her whole body but not only because of fear but mostly because of the excitement. She became addicted to this feeling more and more.

"B-But M-My ch-checkbook is in the pur-purse."

Still, Rose calmed down the excitement in her heart and said stammering to Alex.

"When did I ask for money?"

This time his tone changed to a teasing one but still had a touch of overbearing.

"Th-Then h-how?"

Rose was now completely submerged in the pleasure of this feeling, That teasing tone was the cherry on top. She is now addicted to this sensation of current rushing through her body.

"Stick out your tongue."

Alex's tone once again changed and went back to a cold-domineering tone.

"Mhmm Ehh."

Rose's brain is not able to process what Alex said but her body did. She unconsciously sticks her small agile pink tongue out of her cherry-like lips.

Gulp

Seeing her like this, Alex became a little sober. No matter how dumb Rose is, She is still a heroine. There is no doubt about her beauty and charm.

Now looking at her in this tempting gesture, His blood boiled, A mighty male chicken in his pants also awakened from its slumber, Hating the evil boundaries of the pants that prevented him from announcing its rise to the world.

"Good Girl."

Although shocked, God-Level techniques did not fail him. Even if he was not using an auto-mode of acting, He can still fully control his micro expression.

He praised her in that cold tone, And once again pinched her jade-like smooth chin between his slender long fingers.

[Ding! +2 Favorability of Rose increased for the host (Current : 97 Obsession)]

"Thank you-!!"

"Mummm Huff."

Rose felt a sudden rush of joy when Alex praised her like she did something really extraordinary, but just as she was about to behave politely and thank him in hope of another praise, He suddenly made a move.

Before she even realizes it, Her cute pink tongue is engulfed by the intoxicating mouth of Alex.

For moments her vision blurred, She wasn't able to differentiate if it was a dream or reality but a sneaky hand on her breast confirmed that she was not dreaming.

"Ahhh!! Mummm"

Alex took her agile tongue in his mouth, And interlocked their lips in a kiss. He with his slippery tongue lashed and bullied her small pink one.

His hands sneaky find their way toward her towering mountains, and barely able to cover half of her gigantic mounts. After that, he squeezed the softness out of instinct.

Making Rose release a cute alluring moan out of her locked cherrylips.

"Wa-Wait Huff Here is the camera- Mummm."

Alex released her lips to breathe, Seeing that she got a chance, She wanted to explain about the camera to him but Alex didn't give a chance to speak and once again take hold of those juicy lips of hers.

He nibbled on her wine-like sweet and intoxicating lips until they swell.

His hands also never stopped, He long since wanted this opportunity and now he had it, He will not let go.

One of his hands released her mound from his clutches and moved downwards, While the other one went around her back and captured her lonely left melon.

"Do-Don't...Mumhn st-stop n-not th-there."

Rose felt the moment his hand was startled. She had already created a huge mess down there before, and she didn't want to show him to find out her embarrassment.

But she is now at mercy of Alex. She has long since lost control of her body to her desire. If not she can easily able to stop him but now she can't even move a finger as she felt like she lost all strength in her body.

Her body has turned soft, Thankfully she was seated in the chair with the support of Alex's body, If not she will be lying on the floor.

"Ahhh!! Mmm YES!!! AHHHH!!!"

She felt hand of Alex slipping through the leg gap of her pencil-cut skirt and then sliding her thong to the side, Touching her most carved for attention and the delicate part of her body.

Just as he touched the glistening lips of her wet cunt. She felt like it was touched by live electric wire, 240 volts current running through her whole body as her lower lips being the core of it.

The sudden overwhelming pleasure was too much for her to handle. She broke their kiss and clenched tightly to Alex's white shirt, Her whole body sticking close to him.

Then she yelled at the top of her lungs and experienced her best orgasm ever. All her love juice sprayed out of her unexplored cave, completely covering his whole hand in her sacred liquid.

'It's completely different from my fingers. If just fingers are this pleasurable then...Glup'

That was a thought in her mind or to say her mind currently can only process this much of things.

But the shock and pleasure of those fingers were too much. Just a mere touch put her on cloud nine. So she couldn't help but imagine what happened if it was not fingers but something else, She eyes unknowingly stared at the little bulge in his pants.

"Alia, Do you like it?"

Alex spoke but this time his voice was low, slow and seductive. His eyes were already blurred, maybe because of lust or drunkenness or both.

His body was shaking side by side as if he would fall anytime but he was able to hold himself back, Looking intently at Rose, Waiting for her answer.

'He...Is he seeing me as Alia?'

When Alex called her sister's name, Rose became a little sober from the drunkenness of her desire. Looking at the drunken look, She concluded that Alex thought of her as an Alia in his drunkenness.

A huge resentment appeared in her heart, She for the first time felt jealous of her sister. For the first time, she had a desire in her heart to oppose her sister.

'Well...It's not me who is responsible for this, right? He was the one who came at me. I am innocent, So just pretend I didn't hear anything.'

So many first things are happening to her today, One of them being that her IQ comes online, and thought of a good enough logical reason for herself and not because of fear of her sister.

"Y-Yes I-I li-like it."

Rose tried to sound like her sister but only in a hoarse voice because the dryness in her throat came out of her mouth.

'Good enough, At least she is not dumb enough to correct me now.'

Here Alex saw her reaction and became satisfied with it. For someone like her, it's once in a lifetime achievement if they do not fuck up in things like here.

He thought all through it. If he suddenly changed his persona from a man in love to a slut of a man then he would have to face the wrath of the number one heroine of the book, Alia.

But now, He is drunk and he by "mistake" thinks Rose is Alia. They being sisters also look a little similar. It's not hard to believe he who was drunk to "misunderstood" Rose as Alia.

So no matter what he will do later, It's all will be blamed on being drunk, And with the video as proof, he can prove his innocence that he thought Rose was Alia.

After that she should not be angry at him that much, thinking he didn't know it was Rose, and not her, and the plus point is after this he will be a "Broken" body in her eyes. With her clean freak nature, She will not bother with what will do later. So he will be free to do what he wants and who he wants.

'This is the perfect plan.'

Alex thought that this was a foolproof plan but unfortunately he underestimated the power of a crazy chick.

"Then we will continue."

Alex spoke in that cold voice and moved his love-juice-covered fingers lightly over her lower lips. Sending shivers down her body.

"O-Okay."

The combination of the voice and slight movement of a finger down there completely broke the last resistance, She had in her heart.

Lust overcomes the fear of her sister.

Buzzz Buzzz

When Alex wanted to move to the next step, the Rose phone on the table buzzed. The display of the phone turned on, Showing the caller ID to the duo.

Sister.

It was the ID name of the caller, There is only one contact saved in her phone by this name.

"It's sister!!!"

When Rose saw it, Half of her desire vanished and the fear of her sister covered her heart. She remembers that her sister asked her to go back to the company for work.

But what horrified her most was that Her sister would never call without good reason. Her not going back to the company is not a good reason in Alia's eyes.

Gulp

Subconsciously she looked towards the camera in the dining room, There was a very bad feeling in her heart.

(A/N : How is it? Do you guys like it?)

- Yes
- No
- Once again Fuck you and your cliffhanger you monster

Don't forget to leave power stones.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 17 17. Blue Balls

'She is watching.'

A scary thought appeared in her mind, making her break out in cold sweat. All the desire and lust vanished in an instant and she stood up at lightning speed.

Hands of Alex were also reluctantly shaken off by her from her body.

"Alex, you are drunk, go to sleep. I have something to do."

She picked up the ringing phone and stormed out of the house. She did not even pick up her purse which contained her money.

"....."

Alex just looked at her fading back, He had no conditions to chase after her, Not only was he super drunk but the rod in his pants would hinder him from running.

'Did I just got blue ball?'

He now became annoyed. He was so close to losing his virginity but this virginity was not leaving him. It was like an unwanted child. Even if he didn't want it he couldn't help it at all.

'It's definitely because of the Protagonist Halo. That's the only reason for it.'

Unlike Rose, his IQ was online, So he quickly found out why this thing happened. The phone rang at a very critical time. If it was rang a few seconds before or later, He is still able to salvage the situation.

'Sigh I guess, Protagonist and I are really mortal enemies.'

Alex sighed, That's the will of the world. No matter what he will do, He will always stand against the protagonist.

Thump

Now that there is no action to do, He slumped on the chair. Of course, he does not sit on the chair Rose was seated on as it was drenched in her fluid but he sits on the chair beside it.

After that, he lies on the dining table covering his face with a barricade of his arms. His body was constantly shaking a little as if he was weeping from being rejected by "Alia" in his eyes.

After all those cameras are still running, he can't break his act.

'System shows me my notifications.'

Alex spoke to the system in his mind. Tears were running out of his eyes but there were no sad emotions on his face but just a little bit of regret and reluctance.

He asked that to the system because when he was kissing Rose, A notification voice rang in his mind but no notification window pop-up front of him.

[Ding! The host completed the 1st task option...

All requirements were met...

The rewards were being distributed...

Congratulations to the host for receiving 13 Billion UC.

(Note : New account is created in your name with proper transition flow to avoid suspension, All the required taxes were given to the government, So the host doesn't have to worry about it.)]

Alex's first notification was about the task complication. In his inventory of the system, there was a pitch-black bank card.

[Ding! +5 Favorability of Rose increased for the host (Current : 102 Unhealthy Obsession)]

[Ding! The host completed the 2nd task option...

All requirements were met...

The rewards were being distributed...

Congratulations to the host for getting [Sex-Copy] Skill.

[Sex-Copy] : Can copy any skills, Talents, Superpowers, Etc. Of the woman host having sex.

(Conditions:

- Only one thing can be copied for each time of use.
- Has 24 hours cooldown for each woman.
- A target's favorability should be above the love (70) level.)

(Note : If the things were not suitable for the host or the host has not met the conditions of specific skills, System will replace it with an equivalent grade suitable skill, talents, superpower, Physiques, etc.)]

'What!!? Is this skill that powerful?'

Alex got shocked, This skill is too broken. With this skill, he just has to lie down with a woman and he will get those defying talents and things.

This world is the woman of respected, So women in this world are nowhere close to being normal not to mention those heroines.

The author of this novel might be bad at world-building but when it comes to women, He was very proficient at it.

Most if not all, Heroines have special talents, Physiques and all. That too for the reason because in the mid-end plot the novel protagonist gets the very strong a dual cultivation technique.

The only condition that skill has is that women he used to have to be extraordinary things, And this novel being the wishfulment, Nearly all woman protagonists had something extraordinary in them.

And now, He can rip the harvest that the author left for the protagonist with this skill.

[Ding! Congratulations host for successfully raiding Rose (Current : 102 Unhealthy Obsession) ...

The rewards were being distributed...

Congratulations to the host for getting the Mythic grade "Peach blossom eyes."

Peach Blossom Eyes : Anyone who looks into your eyes will start to feel good about you, No matter what you do they will make up the logical reason behind your actions in your defense.

This also makes your eyes exceptionally beautiful and captivating. The longer someone stares at them the more they will feel good about you and the more likely they believe the explanation they made for you in their mind.

It also makes someone, especially the opposite sex take their eyes away from your.

(Note : This power didn't need a direct line of contact with others, As long as they look at your eyes, Its effect will be triggered.)]

'One more OP thing, Now I don't have to worry too much about being chased off being slut by other women.'

Alex was satisfied with this reward, With this now he did not have to worry too much about his actions, Others will make up justifications for him.

Although he can't do too much and he acts wildly, After all there has to be a limit on how much someone can excuse and justify it but still he now with this does not have to put his brain under too much pressure. As long as he was being careful, He will be fine.

[Ding! The host successfully raided for the first time, The selection option is being triggered...

Because the host was busy before this window pop-up was stopped by the system, Now you are free please choose ONE of the following options...

- [1] Skills maketh man, As a man of system how could you not have a few god-level skills?

Task : Choose skills as rewards.

Reward: Receive any 10 random god-level skills.

(Note : 80% chance of axillary skill, 15% chances of Daily use skill, 4.9% chance of study skill, and 0.1% chance of combat skills.)

- [2] As the man who like being cautious, So you like toll solidify your foundation first Task : Chose to Upgrade the system.

Reward : Upgrade the system to the next-gen level.

(Note : This is a one-time option, It has close to no possibility of appearing later on once rejected.)

- [3] What? I raided her because I liked her not for the rewards, So reject all these rewards.

Task : Choose this option and reject other option.

Reward: Lose your life under the protagonist's hidden knife 15 days later.]

'Fuck that damn protagonist, I just stopped you from entering the ward, And he was shameless enough to use tricks to kill me?'

On the table, his body shake but this time it was not acting, It was a genuine reaction of shock.

Nathen as the protagonist of this world has a lot of cheats, His medical knowledge is one of them. With it, he can kill someone without them realizing it.

What about those hidden needless, What about those strange poisons, herbs and all, He has it all, With this he can even kill E+ Rank warrior not to menkilllling a mortal being like him.

'System, I chose 2nd option.'

Seeing the options he directly chose 2nd option.

Now that his life is in danger, He can't depend on that 0.1% chance of getting any combat skill. Not to mention he is still not sure he can counter an awakened warrior of F- rank with his skill as he might not have any chance to use it.

After all average stats of F- Warrior lay between 200 to 999, And Nathen as the protagonist should have been at the peak. With his not even 100 average stats, It was a dream to defeat the protagonist, He was not even sure he could run away in their encounter.

So he decided to choose 2nd. Maybe if the system is upgraded he might be surprised by the changes. After all, this is a once in a lifetime option. It will not give some normal things, Right?

As for 3rd, it was never even considered by him.

There was a buzz in Alex's mind, The blue pop-up window in front of his eyes shook, and then it faded away, Then it reappear with shining light

[Ding! The host chose the 2nd option...

The system is being upgraded...

Congratulations to the host for upgrading the system.]

[Ding! The Supreme Villain Raider System is online...

A Villain-grade gift pack is distributed in inventory, Please check yourself, host...

New functions were added, please host take a look...]

'The name is quite big, isn't it?'

Alex read the name And shook his head, Although he felt this name is kinda weird but at least the system became powerful, and even gave him one more gift pack.

'System, Open the gift pack.'

Alex couldn't wait to see what rewards this villain-grade system would give him.

[Ding!.....]

As his voice fell, the Gift pack opened and a string of rewards appeared in front of him making Alex stupefied.

....

"How does it taste? Do you like it?"

In the biggest office building in the city, the President's office, A heavenly beautiful woman sitting on the president's chair.

Her waist-length open black hair was falling from her back, Crescent's elegant eyebrows, Two star-like icy blue eyes with a tall straight nose, and just little below nose were those plump enhancing scarlet lips.

Her body was also specially designed to ignite the lust in the opposite sex, That slender long white neck, Her two appropriate size buns, The hourglass shaped waist and shoulder wide buttocks. She was perfect without any specks of impurity.

But all of the beauty of hers is not worth mentioning in front of the inherent cold bone-chilling aura excluding out of her body. Preventing anyone from lusting after her beauty.

She is the president of the Exotic group and Heir of Miller, The well-known black rose of the business world, Alia.

At this time she was looking at the trembling fearful beautiful woman in front of her, Rose.

The whole office fell silent, And felt like the temperature of the room dropped below the freezing point.

Alia didn't have any emotions in her face nor in her voice but for Rose, those were words of the god of death, Who came to rip her soul.

(A/N : I don't know why this book suddenly started getting more and more views but I am not complaining.

Also good news, I officially got contracted. It will be completed in 5 days. So thank you for your support and hope I can meet your expectations in the future too.

I decided to upload 2 chapters at once but the chapter I wrote before got deleted for some reason. It's not even showing in the trash, So I have to write once again. So another update will come late at night. Sorry 🙇.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 18 18. Scary Alia

Rose feels like, She was sitting on needles, Although Alia and her are supposed sisters but because of that she knew her sister's personality very well.

Alia is very possessive of her things. When they were in kindergarten, She broke her classmate's head with a chair just because that classmate sat on her chair, When she was absent from class the previous day.

Also in high school, There used to be a man who tried to woo her and even confessed his love to her but she rejected him. Later when he found another girlfriend, Both he and that woman disappeared.

Even she as her sister doesn't know what happened to those two.

In college, There was a teacher who had misplaced Alia's notebook. The next day news came that the teacher was suddenly transferred to another school but Rose knew that the teacher had indeed transferred not to another school but to another world because the next day she saw Alia burning the same notebook in their backyard, Which was misplaced by that teacher.

There are lots of stories like this about Alia, That's why now Rose fears for her life. She knows when it comes to her things, Alia will never forgive anyone, even her blood sister.

"Si-Sister Gulp I-I don't k-know what you are talking about."

Rose in fear of death did her futile attempt to dodge this question because she didn't know what Alia meant by taste good.

'Is she talking about Alex's dishes or Alex himself? Has she seen us on surveillance or not?'

Rose ran her brain to the extreme and yet she wasn't able to know what Alia did mean by it.

Rose didn't dare to lie in front of Alia. Lying is the 2nd worst thing you will do in front of her as she is like an omniscient god, Knows all the things of others but never lets them know and watches the show of theirs like a monkey dance in front of her.

"Does it taste good?"

Alia slightly parted her enchanting scarlet lips, As cold as ice words escaped from her mouth.

"That- "

The same bone-chilling domineering tone but unlike when Alex used it, Rosee didn't feel excited at all, only fear occupied her heart.

She wished that her mother was here right now. Because in her knowledge, She is the only person she knows that can control her sister.

"Ta-Tasted g-good."

Her brain was doing gymnastics to an extreme and finally able to think like a normal person. That's how she comes up with this answer.

This answer is suitable for both questions either Alia is asking about dishes or her kissing Alex, Either way this answer is suitable. So it will also not be a lie, and for a bonus, She also gets to enjoy the evil taste of telling her sister that her man tasted good.

It's like hitting two birds with one stone. Of course she only dares to answer like this because she thinks her sister doesn't think she can really kill herself, She at best gives her inhuman work, After all their mother is not dead yet and so their mother still is head of family.

"Huh!?"

Alia raised her crescent eyebrow in surprise after hearing Rose's answer.

She did not inherit a stupid brain of Rose, So she clearly heard the meaning of her voice.

Her eyes subconsciously shifted to the monitor on the desk, In which the figure of a man sitting on a chair, While his upper body was laying on the dining table, His body was trembling slightly might be because of crying.

This is live footage of the dining room in Rose's apartment as proven by the small but ominous red colored Live words flashing on the corner of a screen.

That figure is obviously Alex, Who thankfully didn't break his character, and was still acting.

"There is a 20 day's worth of backlog of work, so do it before morning."

Alia just shut off the monitor and stood up to leave the office, While leaving she spoke these words and exited out of the room without meaning to give Rose any chance to speak.

"Sister but 20 days- I mean okay I will complete it by tomorrow morning, You can rest assured."

Rose was shocked by the punishment of doing a backlog of 20 day's worth of work in one single night. This is not a small job as that work is the backlog of the whole group. It is a nearly impossible task to do it in just one night.

But just as she was about to complain, Alia turned her face towards Rose. Seeing Alia's face, Colour drained from Rose's face and it became ghostly white

After all, what she was seeing was an unthinkable thing in front of her, Alia had a very enchanting smile on that captivating face of hers but this smiling Alia is way scarier than a stone face one, After all, every time her sister smiled, There was a bloodbath waiting to happen, Last time she smiled like this whole 2nd grade family in this Berlin city got wiped out.

So Rose quickly shut her mouth and accepted the task. She didn't want to provoke her sister even more with her excuse.

This shows, Maybe she was not that dumb but all her brain capacity was reserved for the defense against her sister.

"Your car is ready, Miss."

Alia didn't say anything to Rose, She just turned around and walked outside.

Outside an office, Her personal bodyguard was waiting for her, But her body was too drenched in a cold sweat.

'Boss is smiling, I don't know who is unlucky enough to provoke her to this extent.'

This personal bodyguard thought in her mind. She knows more about Alia than Rose, As she was trained by the Miller family to be a bodyguard for Aila from childhood, So she always followed her boss.

So she very well knew the meaning of that smile. Someone crossed her bottom line of hers, Which means tomorrow there will be new cement barrels at the bottom of the river.

Alia just nodded to her bodyguard and came downstairs to the front entrance of their building. Where her car was waiting for her, Guard opened the door for her luxurious car then she sat in it.

"Apartment complex."

After that, she only spoke two words to her guard who is also her driver, and fell silent but the cold aura of her body increased each second making guard in front of her tremble.

Soon the car stopped below the apartment building. This is the same building where Rose's apartment is located.

"Natasha, Did you find it?"

Alia didn't exit the car but asked a question to her guard named Natasha. Her words are always short and vague, making others rack their brains to understand what she means.

"Yes, Misss, All the records of Alex are here but...But we were still only able to find out until the past 4 years. Before that there are no records as if this person didn't exist 4 years ago."

Natasha who was with Alia of course knew what Alia wanted to know, So she genuinely answered. So she answered Alia a little hesitantly.

Natasha was shocked by this fact, Because she wasn't able to find any information about Alex before 4 years.

She used multiple connections, personal data, and private investigation. Not to mention she even used the top hackers in their company and she herself hacked into the government data center but still she wasn't able to find anything about the life of Alex before he came to this city, 4 years ago.

Ahem

Alia just responded with a nasal sound and looked through the thick folder containing all the information about Alex handed to her by Natasha.

This folder contains even a minute of actions Alex has done in the last 4 years, Alia quickly flipped through the pages and came to the last page, Which registered Alex's today's activities.

Alia read through the day of Alex but her gaze turned colder when she read that he was gone to meet Grace.

She warned this woman to stay away from Alex but it seems that she didn't take her warning seriously.

"I guess I am too soft these days."

Alia muttered to herself and a terrifying killing intent was released from her body making Natasha who was on the driving seat shiver.

'Interesting.'

This word appeared in Alia's mind. The reason why she was interested in Alex and accepted him as her boyfriend was not only because he looked good but also because she was curious.

She even with her connections of the network wasn't able to find out about Alex's life before 4 years, She only came up with two reasons for it.

One being Alex might be living in the mountains or something like that for 4 years or second being he has an unfathomable background.

She at first thought the 2nd option was highly possible but with the actions and green tea habits of Alex she scratched that possibility off. If someone really has a powerful background which even makes her family seem tiny then a youngster cultivated by them will not be like vanity-hungry Alex.

So she dropped her idea and sent people to search for information about him in the nearby mountains about 1 year ago but they still weren't able to find it. She thought it was logical as the mountain villages and area around them are backward and it will take time to search for information about some individual.

But now she has changed her opinion. That cold aura, that body language, The elegance in body even when drunk, and that natural superior aura of Alex showed in the footage that it belonged to the 2nd category.

She was tricked by him for a year. This was a thing that never happened to her in all of her life. She was always the party to trick others. That's why she was more pissed off.

This is also the reason why Rose lives today, If not for the shock and humiliation of being tricked by Alex, With her morbid possessiveness, She didn't even wait to consider the woman in front of her was her sister before she cut her into pieces.

Even fear of her mother was not enough to stop her from destroying the person who dared to touch her forbidden.

Ding

Alia didn't know how long she was sitting in tranquility of this silence. She was sitting in the car trying to think about Alex's identity, thinking about his motive to see if he was a friend or foe.

In her thoughts, her phone rang, breaking her chain of thoughts by the notification of it.

When she checked, She instantly became curious and clicked on the notification, Which redirected her to a live-stream app.

....

A few hours earlier...

[Ding! The host opened the Villain-Grade gift pack...

Congratulations to the host for getting "Villain Halo"...

Congratulations to the host for getting "Villain's Aura"...

Congratulations to the host for getting 1 Universal system coupon...

Congratulations to the host for getting 1000 luck stat points...]

Alex was lying on the dining table, When he opened his new gift pack.

The system is really not stingy when giving rewards, Making this 2nd gift pack received in a day.

"System shows me the detailed description of these rewards."

Alex, seeing that the system did not pop up the window of the details of the rewards, manually asked for it.

"This..."

But when he saw the rewards description, He once again understood the horror of his system.

(A/N : Hey, It's not like I like giving cliffhangers... Who am I kidding? I love giving cliffhangers but I didn't do it just because of it.

It's recommended me to add a cliffhanger at the end of the chapters, So sorry 😊, Please bear with me.

Also, I would like to thank you, MrGibberish, Ff_Youssef & Dawid_Partyka for giving me a gift. I was so happy to receive my first gift, So once again thank you.

Don't forget to give the power stones.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 19 19. Netori System

[Ding! The description is like the following...

Villain Halo : If the protagonist is a son of heaven then the villain is the love of the world.

Now that the host has become the main Villain, So Host's luck also has increased.]

'System, Add all luck stats in my luck.'

Although Alex was surprised by the stuff taken out by the system but now he has become used to it. So he did not have that big of a reaction.

'Show me my property panel.'

It's been since morning that he didn't open his status panel, Now he has a time he wants to study the system.

'Not a bad improvement in one day.'

Alex looked at his status with satisfaction, Although his stats had not changed much but he gained skills and things, Which solidified his foundation.

Now he has little confidence to face the protagonist in the early plot. After all, in the early plot, Nathen depends on his family background more than his skills.

Only when he awakens the combat class superpower, He starts using his fits to talk.

'System, Open the store.'

After confirming his stats, He put his eyes on the system's universal coupon. With this, he can buy anything from the system. There are some restrictions but it is still an OP thing to have.

[Ding!.....]

As his voice fell, System mall opened in front of him. It was his first time opening the system store. A large array of things appeared in front of him.

There were multiple sections like skills, Talents, Superpowers, Items, etc. Alex opened most of them and checked stuff in them.

There was literally everything in this system mall, From normal day-to-day stuff like toothbrushes, and soap to those secret weapons and powers from all over the friction but their price was astronomical. Fortunately, he has a universal coupon.

Alex wasn't able to figure out what to buy, So he just started looking through the sections. He can't see through all of the stuff because there's a nearly infinite string of stuff below each section and there are thousands of sections.

'Wait!!! You can also buy this?'

While checking the sections, He stumbles upon something unbelievable. He thought he was getting used to the system being OP but this thing, He never thought it would be this broken.

System!!!

There is a section named system. It's not hard to guess what is in this section, So with a shaken heart, He opened this section.

This time there was not seemingly an infinite number of things but there were still thousands of things, Without any doubt they all were systems.

'System, Can I buy and use this system with you?'

Alex hesitantly asked, This thing is too good to be true and yet it was in front of him.

[Ding! The host can buy the system if wants to, those systems will work as an Add-on with this system.]

The user-friendly system comes out and casually answers it, failing to realize how big an effect it will have on its host.

'System, what's your motive behind giving me all these things?'

Now after releasing the horror of the system, Alex couldn't keep quiet and questioned.

With this much power in the system, It surely does not get anything equivalent in return from him, So then why was it supporting him?

He did read novels before, In which the system later turned out to be evil and tried to control its host. He knows one thing: There is no free lunch in this world.

If someone gives you something this much, Then surely they are at least getting enough things in exchange, The which thing the system is getting in return, he doesn't know off.

[Ding! The host system is made to protect travelers in the new world. Which is distributed by a higher powers.

This system's only motive is to make a host stronger, and nothing else. The host can think of the system as a sword and the host as a swordsman.

What does the sword get in return for helping the swordsman? Reputation. That's all this system wants.

If the host is still not comfortable with the system, The host has the option to delete this system,

Do you want to delete it now? (Y/N)

(Note : All the skills, stats, and stuff will stay the same, So don't worry about losing anything.)

(Note : The host will receive another random system, As compensation by higher power.)]

System seeing that Alex was still not sure, Give him an option, Which most hosts do not get, A choice.

Now the system gave Alex a choice to show he can trust the system.

'No need for that, Just recommend a good system to me.'

Of course, Alex is not stupid to delete the system. Although he will not lose anything but with his current power it's foolish to think he can counter a protagonist.

And there is no telling which system he will get and will that be as powerful as this one. Anyway, this system seems friendly and more importantly this system is strong. Just its store alone put most of the system way behind it, Not to mention the god-level stuff it takes out.

So this system has to stay, He can't take any chances.

[Ding! The host decided to not delete the system. Thank you for your trust in me.

Recommendations are like the following...

- Harem System : This system gives you RP and rewards whenever you add a new member to your harem.
- Incest System : Like its name, Every time you do a lewd act with your family, This system will reward you.

- Women's clothing system : Act and dress like a woman, The admiration of others gives you rewards.
- Man of Steel System : Every time you reject a woman's sexual advance, You will be rewarded.
- Beauty system : This is here to make the host beautiful, The more beautiful the host is the more rewards the host will receive.
- Lust System : Do lewd acts with women and earn lots of rewards and points.
- Netori System : Steal other's Money, Power, Opportunities etc. But mostly women. Host will be rewarded are by the system and will receive rewards doing lewd things with them. The stronger the fate of a person is, the more reward the host will receive for stealing from them.

(Note : This system is recommended, Given hosts motive and conditions.)]

The system voice fell and 7 separated from the thousands, This was the most suitable system for him.

'Okay, choose Netori System and buy it with a coupon.'

It was an obvious choice. He, He was going to raid the heroines, Which were supposed to be for the protagonist, Man with lots of luck.

So he is doing that equivalent to stealing from the protagonist. This way he will receive lots of rewards, and Raider Points.

As for others, Although they were good, especially the Lust system but Netori system take a win.

[Ding! System Universal coupon is used...

'One more gift pack?'

Alex looked at his 3rd gift pack of today, It's not even been a day and he got 3 gift packs. Even though this gift pack only gives something related to stealing and sex but it is the thing he most wanted.

[Ding! Host every system must have a gift pack, That's a standard rule.]

System said as if it were a normal thing, After all, one initial and 1 for upgrades and another system gift pack seem logical to its coding.

'....'

Alex didn't ask any more questions for fear of asking something which answers his fragile heart can't handle.

'Open the Netori mall.'

He then asked the system to open a dedicated mall in the Netori add-on because everything in the Netori mall has 90% discount then raiders mall.

[Ding! Netori Mall is opening...

A new mall opened with all the things related to being used in stealing from others mostly sexually.

Alex looked at things in the mall and then at his pitiful RP, Thinking about what to buy first.

(A/N : Thank you for the gifts guys, I really appreciate it. I should have written their names here but I think it's not allowed as I didn't see anyone writing it. But really thank you.

Also in the next two or three chapters, there will be a lemon. There is nothing much to say so...

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.]

Chapter 20 20. Farm Raiders Points

'What should I choose?'

Alex fell in confusion, This all is a good thing.

'It's just a basic level of sex knowledge, I don't think I need it.'

He looked at the first option, Which was basic sex knowledge that he thought he didn't need it, Because even though he is a virgin, He live in the world of the internet, So he has basic knowledge about it.

[Ding! The host, I have to ask one to recommend if you need this skill or not...

How many holes do women have down there?]

'What kinda question is that? There are two holes, the Vagina & Anus.'

Alex didn't understand why the system would ask such a simple question. He watched many videos both animated and normal, So he knew there were two holes down there. Women are not some alien species that have different functions.

Alex thought this was a trick question.

[Ding! The host system highly recommended you to buy "Basic Knowledge Of Sex".

Anyhow, that just costs you 10 RP after the Netori system discount.]

The system find out how ignorant its host was, So it highly recommended buying that skill as it was very necessary for him.

'....Okay"

What is Alex gonna say? He figured out that he said something stupid, So he didn't ask and added that skill to his cart.

'Fuck it!!! Buy all of its systems.'

But then he calculates that he can still buy all the things in the Netori system available right now with his current RP because of the 90% discount.

So without further ado, He buys them all.

[Ding! Congratulations to the host for buying all the things in the Netori store...

The Netori store will be resupplied with new things in a week...]

After Alex buys all the things, In the Netori store other than the Aphrodisiac pill all other option turned gray.

'THERE ARE THREE!!! MY WHOLE LIFE WAS A LIE.'

After receiving "Basic Sex Knowledge", Alex finally finds out about the hidden truth. There are 3 holes down there for women. This was news to him.

After he calmed down from the shock, His attention was grabbed by other things. He read through other things's descriptions. Three other things in this group make him excited.

'This "Thought Reader" thing is most suitable for me, Now I don't have to burn extra calories for thinking about what those Heroines might be thinking about'.

Alex first saw "Thought Reader". With this skill, he can read, hear and understand the thoughts of every being. The only downside is that this can be only used 3 times a day.

But even then this is a very useful thing for him. This way he didn't have to be worried about those duality of women, Who think something else and act completely opposite to keep their opponents in the dark until their opponents don't know what hit them.

Then he looked at the also very useful thing for him, "Lust Aura". As its name suggests, this is a skill to raise another party sexually.

A passive of this creates a body order on its possessor that tempts and enchants women. It's like sexual pheromones constantly 24x7 released from his body.

'Sniff Not bad, It's a good fragrance.'

Alex sniffed his body, And find out that other than a good fragrance on his body, There is no difference, Which also calmed down the worry in his heart.

This means this pheromone only affects the opposite sex. So he didn't have to fear clashing swords with other mens, If you know what I mean.

'This is the most needed thing, Worthy of being a Netori system, This thing is most needed for stealing women.'

At last, he looked at the "Sex Lock" item.

This thing is the worst nightmare for the protagonist of a wishfulment novel. After all, most of the plot revolves around the protagonist trying to get into someone's pants.

'Wait! Why does that sound familiar?...Forget it, I am the villain, it's my job to do that.'

Alex sees the irony. He too acts like those protagonists but then he realizes that he was the supposed villain of this world, So it's the right thing for Villain to try to possess a heroine's, Right?

Anyway, Alex, as a person who used to watch those Japanese videos, had long since forgotten where his moral values had gone. Of course, He is degenerate, not a criminal, So he still isn't able to kill someone in cold-blood.

'I just have to find a chance to put this thing on him. So I will not lose my sleep worrying about his protagonist's luck kicking in and putting a green hat on me.'

Alex decided to put this thing on Nathen as soon as possible. After all, now he has first hand experience of the power of the protagonist's halo. Although now it will not affect him but it is still as effective on others as it always has been.

He can't take any risk, Even though he doesn't care if a woman is a virgin or not. After all, most milf were not virgins but that only if it had happened before meeting him, not after.

Because that's a cuckold, not a preference unless you are into that shit.

'Now time to farm raider points.'

After confirming everything was there, Alex decided to test his theory about farming lots of raider points.

So he finally lifts his head from the dining table with a determined but also self-defeating look.

His delicate very carved cheeks were stained with trails of tears, While his captivating void-like eyes were swollen red. After all, it's still necessary to save his ass from women like Alia, So he has to keep acting.

He rather takes hatred of 100's of protagonists over scary women like her. After all, He knows all the ins and outs of the protagonist. It will be child's play to control them as they all are simple-minded beings but a heroine like Alia is a different breed.

It's very hard to figure out what cooking is in their vicious mind. He is going to have to spend lots of time making counters for her. The luxury he didn't have.

So he still has to act before he breaks all the remaining connections with her.

After making plan in mind, Alex stood up and with his drunken wobbly moments walked towards the "study room" of Rose.

"This all is the latest gen technology, There is also an advanced microphone, Is Rose also a streamer?"

Alex said in shock, He no longer had to talk within his mind as he didn't sense any camera here. So he said in shock looking at the very advanced gaming computer setup in front of him.

He sat on the gamer chair and switched on the pc. There was no password, So he was easily able to get access to it.

After all, there is the reason why Alex calls Rose dumbass. She didn't even set a password on her computer. Not to mention this is her personal computer, The more reason for being secure.

Now it was cheap for him. He checked but didn't find any streaming software, So he opened the browser and downloaded a very popular streaming software.

That's right, He was planning on farming raider's points through streaming, He found out before that as long as he makes the opposite sex feel good about himself, He gets raider points and if he made a good impression of his in their heart, He will gain extra points.

So he thought of this place. After all, is there any better place than a streaming site to do it? Not only is it convenient but also able to help him reach hundreds of thousands to millions of people.

Even if he only gets one point from each of them, He still earns a lot. And bonus point being he can even have a chance to get in contact with other heroines.

So he decided to do this, This is the obvious choice, He only gains a lot and lose nothing with this action.

Ding

While Alex was thinking about what to say to his audience, So that he could gain their sympathy, the sound of notification came. A software worth 2 GB was downloaded in a few seconds. Making him envious of Rose's internet connection.

But Alex's hands didn't stop on their track and installed that software. This too only took a few tens of seconds before it was installed and opened automatically.

Alex filled in his username as Handsome guy and password then clicked on login.

Old Alex had made an account in it before, And with his face coupled with his piano talent, He already had ten thousand fans. So now he didn't have to start from zero.

This is also one of the advantages of being a handsome man in this world. It's not hard for him to gain popularity on the Internet. Even if he didn't know Piano, He should have been able to gain fans just by his face value.

"Go live."

After his profile opened he clicked on option of go online. With his current appearance of damsel in distress, He will earn a lot of points.

Netizen1 : Is the handsome guy online? It's been ages since I last saw you, How have you been my Handsome guy.

Netizen2 : He is back, We were waiting for ages.

Netizen3 : First

Netizen4 : When I came this early before, Dinosaurs were still roaming on the earth.

Netizen5 : Man Coffee emoji

Just as he went online, Lots of people came into his chat And started the usual talk in it.

Alex didn't say anything but sitting on his seat closing his eyes as if he was brewing his emotions to say something, Which was very heart wrenching for him.

Netizen1 : What happened Handsome guy? Why are you like this?

Netizen6 : Which bitch hurt our Handsome guy.

Netizen7 : Handsome guy just says the name, We will make sure that bitch will pay for it.

Netizen8 : Handsome guy say it, We men had to stick together, or women like that take advantage of us.

Licking dog : Is that woman said something to you?

A few minutes later, His chat noticed his appearance, So his fans jumped in and some started to speculate what would happen to him, While other were angry.

In these random people's accounts, One account was eye-catching because of its strange name.

In the hospital waiting room a beautiful woman was staring at her phone with a worried expression.

Seeing the appearance of the man on the screen, Her heart felt like it was bleeding. She was Grace. As self-appointed number one licking of Alex. How could she not be a subscriber to his streaming channel?

So she also came here as soon as notification of him on live pop-up. She was happy to see him again but now seeing him like that there was a pain in her heart.

She thought that Alia became angry with Alex for giving her money, And they might have fought, That's why he was crying, She felt like someone jammed a blunt knife in her heart.

She felt very guilty and sad seeing him like that but in the evil part of her heart was also a little happy thinking Alex and Alia had a fight, If they broke up, She should have a chance.

"Guys, Cooled down. Nothing like that happened. It's just- ."
