

Surviving in Woman's world as a novel villain.

Chapter 101 101. Beast Contract I

"Let's establish a beast contract first."

Alex after naming Xiao Bai, Put her down on the wooden table and then looked at her in deep thought, As if he was thinking deeply about something.

"Ehh!? Hehe, that- How to make a beast contract?"

He now felt very embarrassed, He smiled awkwardly looking at two women. He just realised that he doesn't know how to make a contract with the beast for the first time.

Even though he knows the plot, As the habit of the protagonist, the Protagonist only received beasts from other his so-called supporters.

The ones who either die from protecting him or turn out to be working against him, So protagonists only inherit their beast.

In the first situation, It will be taken under them as an honour and respect to their fallen comrade And in the 2nd situation it was taken as compensation, Either way, the protagonist will not let go of a good thing.

Which is a totally alright thing, If you want to survive you have to take what you want but the problem is that the protagonists will not say that, They show hypocrisy Alex hates the most.

"Brother, It's very simple. Just drop a drop of your blood on her head and call her name, Contract will be successful when she lets you do this without any resistance."

Amara, who was an expert in this field, came up front and told her brother how to do it.

This process is very simple and easy, anyone can do it but the main problem is to convince your beast to let you do it.

Every beast has their own pride. They are not going to choose masters who are weaker or less talented than them, So one has to prove themselves to their beast before they agree to make a contract with you.

If they are not convinced, Then no matter what you do they will never be going to make a contract with you. Even if you force them they would rather die than to choose a weaker master for themselves.

She had to spend half of a day to convince Shapira before she agreed to be in contact with her, And that is considered a legendary record, As the average time is 1 whole week for a normal beast and around a month for the mystical beast.

So Xiao Bai as a Legendary beast will take lots of time, At least a week seeing how friendly she is behaving in front of Alex, But still, there is a huge probability that Xiao Bai will take longer.

So she was ready to comfort her brother. When he became sad for not making an immediate pact with her, She too was depressed for some time when Shapira did this to her.

Thankfully her brother was there with her. He comforted her when she was sad that Shapira rejected her at first and now it was her turn to comfort him, So that she is the big sister he can rely on.

"Yeah, But only one single drop of blood Alex, Don't overdo it. Here take this needle to prick your finger."

Isabella also chimed in as she got to her bed and after rummaging through her bag on the ground, She took out a newly well-packed medical syringe and a disinfectant spirit and handed them to him as if these things are everyday casual things.

"What do you have those things on you?!!"

Amara was stupefied by this act. Who carried the syringe and disinfectant spirit with them? No normal person does it.

So she asked Isabella in a hurry, fearing that she was doing something very unhealthy. If so, she didn't want a woman like her near her brother at all. What if she also included her brother in her unhealthy use of substances?

That's why she wanted to know. If she did not like the reason, She would use her ways to make her stay away from Alex.

"This is because other people think that she has diabetes as they don't know about her being A-Rank Awakened."

This time before Isabella defended herself, Alex spoke first as he took the syringe out of her hand as looked at him in shock and confusion.

Only very few people know she is an A-Rank awakened, Which makes her pretty much immune to normal mortal diseases.

But in the eyes of other people in the family, She is a 40 years old woman, So there have to be some medical problems, So to maintain her persona, She said he had diabetes and that's why she carried this syringe.

There is also emergency insulin in the cooler of her car, As to complete the disguises, Only the elders of the family know this is all an act, And her hidden power.

This is also the reason why even though most if not all elders oppose Nathan being a new candidate for the family heir, They did not make the eldest lady of Gayler's family head yet.

Even Nathan does not know she is an A-Rank warrior, Which is given as how can the protagonist pretend to be the hero to save the beauty when he knows that the beauty is more mightier than him? So it was supposed to be revealed after they cross the line in the plot.

But now that plot has ended, So the one who was supposed to build the forbidden taboo relationship with her son is now standing naked in front of her son's enemy.

"I also have my own source to get information girls."

Alex wanted to complete the process of making a contract with Xiao Bai as soon as possible but he had to stop and explain how he knew why Isabella was carrying a syringe with her.

He didn't want to interfere with the two of them but he also knew if these two women start they will once again be going to waste his time.

"Ohh, Even you have a spy at my house?"

Isabella didn't know what to say now, Amara somehow got sensitive information of her being an A-Rank warrior, Which indicates that there are spies in their higher up and now even Alex knows this.

Though this is a common knowledge in the family, it was still a family secret as to how anyone can reveal their family's head problem to the public. Others might use it against her, So this also proves that Alex also has spies in her family.

She didn't know how to react. Be angry at him for this or happy that he cared enough to put his eyeliners in her family.

Well she totally ignored the fact she met him this morning and the spy should be there for a while. Didn't they say that men in love drop their IQ? The woman also does the same.

"Sorry, I will remove them later but now let me make a contract with her first."

Alex, of course, didn't put any spies in the Gayler family, He just said it according to the plot, Which if you think about it is way more effective than spies.

*Poke* *Drip*

After saying it to Isabella he didn't wait for a reply, He had already taken out the syringe, So he just quickly poke his middle finger and let a drop of his blood drip on Xiao Bai's head.

"H-How!???"

"W-what??"

Both Amara and Isabella were surprised to see what just happened, Isabella who wanted to say something to Alex followed her words back as she looked at the Xiao Bai.

Amara was the most shocked person. She was just staring at Xiao Bai in disbelief as she wasn't able to understand. How could this happen?

(A/N : Finally did, Now there will be normal updates.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊)

Chapter 102 102. Beast Contract II

A scarlet-coloured drop of blood dropped from Alex's finger and directly landed on the smooth furry white head of Xiao Bai, Which she didn't even resist and gladly accepted.

His blood landed on her head and just stayed there in the shape of droplets. Alex looked at her and when he knew she was not resisting, he decided to go for the second step.

"I Alex Winchester, Make you Xiao Bai my contracted beast from now on, Do you agree to it?"

Alex looked at the tiny figure of Xiao Bai and said in a loud and firm voice, As he released a domineering aura from his body.

This aura came from the Legendary Beast Body as he acted it, This way even there is no way Xiao Bai will reject him as he is showing off his potential to her, Even though the system assured them she will not reject him as she was giving him as a reward.

He still did this, So to earn her respect and make a mutual bond between them.

*Roar*

Xiao Bai raised her head and gave an agreeing roar to him.

*Flash*

When they completed the step, A red light flashed on the top of Xiao Bai where his blood droplet was and then it covered the whole room, almost blinding others.

But Alex was somehow not affected by this light, he was easily able to see how his blood was absorbed inside Xiao Bai and a faint pattern of tattoo appeared on top of her head for a fraction of a second before it vanished.

*Sizzle*

Suddenly his pricked hand also felt warm at first then there was a sharp burning feeling before it went. When Alex looked at his right hand, His whole hand was covered in the tattoo of a white tiger.

It was looking wild and fierce, a tiger ready to hunt and yet it had a weird elegance. An artistic impression is hidden in it as it contains a deep meaning of life in it.

It's just that it was too big and might ruin his gentle persona in the eyes of others, He just wished he could hide it when not needed.

'Ohh, It can also go away?'

Alex looked at his hand now without any tattoo, He then once again thought about it and as he thought it was back on his hand again.

This means he can control if he wants to show this tattoo to others or not. It was like an appearance setting in the game. It might be because he has digitised stats thanks to the system that he is able to use this function.

"Hey, What do you want to d- ohh!"

The red light was about to go away, So Alex wanted to talk a little with his now-contracted beast but when he was talking, something jumped out of the red light.

It was so fast that, Even though he could see through the red light, He couldn't able to catch the figure to figure out what it was.

But he was sure it was not a threat as his instinct for Immortal-level martial art was not triggered, So he was not that worried but he should have been.

That is because when he was relaxed, A soft warm and comfy figure slammed directly into him. He was not prepared for this unexpected moment, So Alex fell on the floor with the soft figure in his arms.

"Roar...*Lick*."

When Alex realised what happened and tried to see who bumped into him, A childish pretended to roar and sounded then something wet and warm licked his face.

He was startled by this. He quickly looked in his arms just to find a very beautiful woman with deep blue eyes staring at him with a cute smile adoring her small lips.

Alex was shocked, Not because of her beauty but because this woman had an ear. Her ears were like a cat with white fluff on its tips. There was also a fluffy ring like a bracelet on her long slender hand's wrists.

He looked a little down, Just to see a long tail was wagging back and forth coming out from the back side of this woman.

He took a closer look at her, Her buttock-length hair was pure white, Her eyebrow was crescent beautiful like a half moon, Her nose was also tall and her small lips were rosy which was smiling and pouting from time to time making her look super cute.

Her white neck was tempting him to take a bite at it, Her back was long and smooth with obvious overwhelming power in it, and Her breasts were not too big nor too small, They were decent, As her pink areola had two pink nipples.

Her stomach was flat with faint muscles but it only made her look elegant. Her butt was can be said to be the best part as her big bubble butt was swinging with her long white tail which had faint dark white stripes.

Her thighs were big and strong and her legs also were long and slender like a model's.

This unbelievable level of beauty, Which might make some special group of boys on the internet crazy, was now laying on top of him and was even licking his face.

"Who are you and what are you doing being naked on top of my brother?"

When the red light vanished, Amara was the first one to speak as she saw a strange woman lying naked in the arms of her brother.

She couldn't understand, Where the fuck was all this woman coming from? First was Lizain their childhood, Then Bellendona, and After that Aila, when she was not enough Rita came out of nowhere, She still somehow handled a bit thinking she has not had many love rivals then Isabella came out as a wild card entry.

And now this woman? It's not even a proper 12 hours and this was the 3rd woman she met other than her, So how many women did he have in the last 4 years?

'Brother suffered a lot, I had to help him soon.'

God knows what she thought about in her mind that other than being disgusted by Alex like any woman should know her body count of Alex and even wanted to help him to find a more woman.

"Now who is a dumbass? She is obviously Xiao Bai."

Isabella didn't miss a chance to attack her and quickly gave her answer to make Amara look dumb in front of Alex, This is her master plan, Which though is a childish trick, It does work like a charm.

"She is Xiao Bai?!!"

Amara ignored Isabella's attempt. As she was shocked by the news Isabella revealed, Her mouth was wide open as she stared at the naked woman in the arms of her mighty brother.

(A/N : Sorry for the delay 🙇)

Chapter 103 103. System Grading

Amara could not believe that this naked woman was a Xiao Bai, Which had just a moment ago been born as a white tiger cub.

How can she ever believe it? Shapira is at least 18 years old and still, she was considered a cub, and could not transform into a humanoid figure.

And yet this few minutes old being can? Even if she wanted to, she could not believe it.

'Wait!? She transformed, Didn't that mean her brother successfully made a contract with her? Is she a fake Legendary beast?'

Amara then realised a scary fact that she ignored before, Alex successfully made a contract with his beast on the first try.

A feat no one in human history able to achieve it,

She could not contain her shock, She is considered a prodigy for making a contract with a Shapira in less than a day.

She used to be proud of this fact but now, She is even more proud.

Her brother was too mighty and talented, So much so that no one could even come near him.

She felt the overwhelming aura released by her brother, She as an S-rank felt crisis as she bear that pressure.

Alex is not only a holder of an SS-Rank superpower but also has the talent to tame a beast in an instant.

If he was not stopped midway, He definitely will be the first one to be SS-Rank Awkend, She was sure of it.

"Hey, Xiao Bai, get off me."

Alex on the ground was confused. He also guessed this woman is Xiao Bai, But now understands how she just changed into a human body. Beasts need to be mature before they can change their appearance similar to humans.

But Xiao Bai somehow was able to do it, He could not understand how she was able to do it. Even in the plot that legendary beast was not able to learn how to change their appearance, quickly.

[Ding! The grading scale of the system and mortals is different. In the mortal's eye, any beast has a fraction of blood from the long descendants of a primordial beast.

And the system only calls Legendary beasts if they have at least a drop of those first primordial beast's blood, So there will be an obvious difference in the two grade beasts.]

The system might have understood what Alex was confused about, So without asking he came out and explained the reason, Why there are disparities between the legendary beast in the plot and the one given by the system.

'Ohh no wonder then she is so fast to learn then.'

When the system explained the reason and mentioned the primordial, He realised why Xiao Bai is learned to change her appearance this quickly.

In every fantasy novel, There is this word Primordial is mentioned. Each one shows them differently. Some make them super OP, Some make them comedically weak and some just say they are strong, but in reality, they failed to show nything of it.

In this plot of the novel, however, They are taken seriously. Anything that has a primordial name in them is those top self things, As here primordial beings existed before the start of the current universe.

They are very powerful beings that can to a large extent be able to control the law itself. They were so strong that even the protagonist at the end of the story was nowhere near them.

That's why when Alex heard that there is at least a drop of primordial blood in Xiao Bai, He was excited and happy.

The stronger his beast will be, the stronger and faster his cultivation speed also become, All thanks to his newly received Legendary Beast body, He can not only strengthen his body but also permanently increase his qualification.

"Rawr...N-N-No."

Xiao Bai lay her face on his chest and closed her eyes in comfort, The warmth and a tempting smell releasing from her body were making her addicted to this strange feeling.

That's why when Alex asked her to get off from his body, She lifted her head, Her deep blue eyes stared into his dark void-like eyes and roared in a human voice before she difficulty replied to him.

"She can even talk?"

Both Isabella and Amara looked at each other in shock, They then in sync looked at Shapira looking seated in the distance looking at Xiao Bai in fear.

There was only one thought in these woman's mind

'Is Shapira that weak?'

Isabella and Amara couldn't help but think about it, Poor Shapira without doing literally nothing she taken shot at by them.

Two of them once again looked at Xiao Bai lying on top of Alex, They step forward wanting to help him to lift her off him.

*Bang*

Just as two of them wanted to approach him, A strong wind came and hit the two of them, throwing them back.

They were very surprised, Especially Amara, She as S-Rank was pushed back, Given that she did not resist the attack nor was she prepared but the fact remains that she was pushed back.

This is a very big deal, Even if S-Rank is not prepared, It can't be pushed back by the beast who was just born a few minutes ago.

"Bro-Brother."

Amara looked toward her brother, Thinking about using her power to separate Xiao Bai from Alex fearing for Alex's safety.

After all, If she was that powerful to push her back then that means Xiao Bai is very strong but there is also a possibility that she did not know about her power or can control it.

Isabella is also ready to make a move to rescue Alex, As she also realises the threat of the situation.

"Wait! It's all right."

When they wanted to attack, Alex quickly spoke up seeing what they wanted to do. He was very worried seeing them want to attack Xiao Bai to take him away from her.

Don't be misunderstood though, He was not an ounce of worry about the Xiao Bai at all, All his worry for them.

That is because when she pushed Amara and Isabella back, He asked the system to check her stats, And right now he was looking at it with horror and excitement.

[Ding!....]

Luck : 5000 (Villain Partner)

Skills :

Wild Intent (LV 10), Stalk (LV 10), Hunting (LV 10)

Talent :

Queen of the jungle (Yet to be open) : This talent increases battle intelligence tremendously. There will be a special boost in all the stats when fighting in the jungle.

Another lower-grade beast will be afraid and will be very respectful to her.

(Note : Once her talent is awakened, She will be a very formidable opponent to anyone in the business field.

This talent will be unlocked on its own very soon or With an emotional shock you will be able to unlock it right now.)

Beastpowers :

- White Tiger Claw : A sharp claw attack that can pretty much tear through any kind of flesh.
- White Tiger Roar : This skill releases a roar, Which is so powerful that it will stunt your opponent in place for a few moments.

- White Tiger Walk (Passive): This skill is walking. When the tiger is walking or stalking its target, There will be no sound at all. It is also not detected by most of the detection skills.

Favorability : 250

Summary : Xiao Bai is your contracted beast. She is a tiger with a very lazy and curious personality. She loves water a lot.

(Note : She tends to do a lot of mischief and pranks, So be ready for it.)]

The stats of Xiao Bai appeared in front of him, His eyes rechecked all the details over and over to confirm that he was seeing right.

After all, The information system was showing was hard to believe.

It's one thing that Xiao Bai as having a primordial drop of blood can learn things fast, Which can be considered because of their enhanced talent and Inherent knowledge but how can she after coming out of the egg become an S-Rank awakened?

S-Rank is no joke, There is a reason why they are considered a walking nuclear warhead in this world.

Being an S-Rank is also very hard. Even if someone is trained, Taken heavenly and earthly treasures, They will not be able to become an S-rank in less than a millennium.

Of course, this scale is for the average person, The people related to the plot and the protagonist and heroines are not included here but it still shows the power and status S-Rank has here.

And now the same powerful S-Rank, Which others had to rub their asses off to achieve it, was given to her as an inherent gift by the world.

"Xiao Bai, You are a good girl."

Now Alex doesn't mind her laying on his body for a while, She is a missing piece in his puzzle and now he has complete control over this early plot.

If you want to be successful in something, You need a mind, spirit, means and most importantly strength.

He has a mind as he was very proud not a non-manipulative person, He also has a spirit to achieve his goals, Heck he just a few minutes ago banged his enemy's mother, Which is proof of that.

He has a system, The best means anyone can have, He has multiple ways to get what he wants, Which is all thanks to the system, Which in itself is a cheat ability.

So all he missed was strength. Like his first encounter with Nathan, He was afraid that the protagonist would change his ways and attack him. Even in Aila's case the same thing happened.

Thankfully in the end things worked out for him but didn't want to rely on the chances of probability. He is not a protagonist who will win a certain victory just because of their luck.

He is a villain, He should be acting like one, He too wanted to do it but his lack of strength did not allow it.

He was always in the passive position just because he didn't have the strength to back him to get an active position.

But now thanks to Xiao Bai, He can. He is now an S-Rank thug doing his bidding, So he can do things he had to reject before. This gives him more confidence in his plan to be more active.

So he brought his hand on top of her white hair-filled head and started rubbing and patting it out of dotting, He never thought his biggest problem, A lack of strength will be solved by this litt-big girl.

"Mummm..~"

Xiao Bai closed her eyes in enjoyment as she felt his hand on her head, Now like a cat, Rubbing her rosy cheeks on his wrist, She tried to purr but satisfied hum came from her, Which at first startled her but when she find out that it was her own voice, She let go.

Her long furry tail was swinging side by side in joy and excitement as she felt his wide soft hand on her head.

"Mummm.Ahh!!~"

Alex also enjoyed this feeling of her soft head, Her white hair was like fine high-quality threads of silk, Was very smooth.

So in excitement, he rubbed her head but then out of nowhere, he held her upturned ears, Which were twitching and pinched.

As he did that, Xiao Bai in his arms shrieked sensually as her body tightened in his arms, Her breathing increased as she opened her misty drunken eyes with a wronged look staring at him.

*Glup*

Alex gulped as he saw her like at, He felt he did a very bad thing, He should be condoned for his inhumane act, He also by instinct felt slightly guilty for doing what he did.

'Will it be wrong If I do it again?'

But there was an evil thought that appeared in his heart. He wanted to do it once again. He wanted to hear that shriek one more time As if it was kinda an addicting melody.

So he reached his hands and intended to do it once again.

(A/N : Very Important Questions, What is Alex doing is right or wrong?

Chapter 105 105. Beastality Or Pedo?

"Ahhh~!!!"

As Alex pinched her soft furry ears, A sensual moan of pleasure escaped from her cherry-like lips.

Her body's muscles once again tighten as her face becomes rosy.

Her breathing increased, The tail which was swinging side by side was now straightened up.

She was breathing quickly, Her warm exhaling was hitting on Alex's neck igniting a primal flame in his heart, Which he had just a few minutes ago extinguished.

But thanks to the Sage Heart, He is able to control it. His mind becomes clear as a big question pops up in his mind.

'Will it be considered as a beastality or pedo?'

This thought suddenly appeared in his mind as his sage heart got activated. His heart indeed became calm after activation of it but his mind fell into the chaos of the legality of the current situation.

Xiao Bai was just born, So by human standards, She should be an infant but by the standards of beasts, Once they learn how to change their appearance they become mature like humans turn eighteen.

So he was confused about which age format he should follow, The age format of humans as he is a human and that is most suitable for him to judge the situation.

Or should he go with the beast format, As Xiao Bai is a beast, So how can he put her with the standards of humans? She is from a completely different species, It will be not right to judge her by human standards.

And that's where the second problem is. She is from different species, A beast-related one on top of that, So he did something with her that should be considered as a beastality right?

But right now she was not a beast. Once a beast changed their appearance into a human, They became human. They can do anything which humans can do, Even their DNA is of human, Some even gave birth to human babies before.

So in his mind were two strong arguments running making him very confused as both were very strong arguments and can be considered unanswerable because now this is a matter of choice.

'Wait, System lowers the Sage Heart effectiveness.'

When Alex realised he was contemplating things that didn't matter where in the fantasy world, He quickly asked the system to lower the power of Sage Heart.

It turns out that Sage Heart really makes his heart pure without any impurity but that also pushes out the most important thing for the villain. A good villain should only use morals against his opponents, not on himself.

This is the worst mistake a villain can make. As morals will become invisible chains, Which were in the eyes of the person with morals a good thing, He will think he was doing the right thing.

But in the eyes of a person with motive, They become a thing, Which can be used to bind that person in their mind, Defeat them without ever using any weapon. A good villain should be like this one, But only some of them follow this suit.

Alex doesn't understand, Why should the villain be barbaric as a protagonist, When he can use his mind and make a mentally handicapped protagonist doubt his life?

He knows the truth even before war starts on the battleground. It has long since begun in the mind of others, The one who wins that mind war, Is the one who will take away the victory.

That's why when the sage heart cleaned his heart, Alex was startled and quickly asked to lower its power . A villain without treachery and ticks in his heart is not the villain at all.

They are just an anti-hero pretending to be villains, Which is the second kinda person Alex does not like after the protagonist.

[Ding! Power of Sage Heart 80% reduced.]

The system understands Alex's motive and lowered its power to be suitable for his demands.

'Quite better now.'

When the power was lowered, The useless complicated thoughts vanished and were replaced by his debatable but tried and tested ideology.

Now he looked at the two arguments which were bothering him and felt how stupid he was for even getting worked up about this baseless and stupid thing.

This is a fantasy world, It doesn't look like it yet but it is a fantasy world, Which follows the rules of fantasy, Which are universal everywhere and can be trusted.

Not like his mortal rules, Which never be fixed on the same thing and can change from place to place. For example, the age of consent is 18 in most places, Which is the majority of civilizations agreed upon.

But then there are parts of the world where that age is as low as 14, And of course even if in the parts of the same civilization that belief in the age of consent is 18, They still allow marriage before that age.

So follow-no even to bring those rules here is a stupid thing and anyone who did this is either dumb or needs special help.

'So she should be suffering from this as a possessor of White Lotus heart?'

After he put his thoughts together, His eyes unconsciously went towards Isabella.

After experiencing the power of Sage Heart, He understood that it's not that she is blind and does not see the problem in her parenting but that her White Lotus heart will not allow her to accept that fact.

After all, for White Lotus, Everything is fair and right in the world and they themselves are the epitome of righteousness.

'I have to find the solution to her problem.'

He needs Isabella in her best form, Her being a White Lotus is nothing but a weakness that others might use against him, And he is a cautious person not like leaving any open threads.

So he decided to find a way to solve her problem, Which is also a very important part of him to use her against Nathan. If she still had her White Lotus heart, She might not be able to control her desire to be right and good and ruin his plan as a result.

So he put finding a solution for her at the top of his do-list.

Chapter 106 106. Human Decency

"Xiao Bai, Are you okay? If so, can you please get off me and wear some clothes?"

Then he put his attention to Xiao Bai lying on him, Whose eyes were misty and the strand of her saliva was dripping out of her mouth.

Her cheery-like lips were half open, showing her little big fang tooth. Seeing her like this, Alex felt that she might bite him any moment now. This is what cats do, When they want something.

By something I mean sex, If anyone does not get it, Which I doubt.

"Xiao Bai, Get off me please."

Alex once again said as he kept looking at the weird look in her eyes, Maybe her ears were so sensitive and his touching them flicked a switch in her mind.

"O-Ok-Okay..."

Xiao Bai just lay her naked body on top of him and spoke, It's hard for her to speak a human language for now. She needs time to get used to it. It's a good thing that she was born with an inherent knowledge of English.

Which makes anyone jealous, Especially for certain someone.

"So...Get up?"

Alex was waiting for her to get up but even after agreeing to get up with him, She didn't move a muscle at all. She just lay on top of him pretending she didn't hear him.

"*Sigh* What a bother, You are lucky you are cute."

He sighed seeing her acting like this, System did say that she was a mischievous personality, And as she was from cat lineage he had no doubt that at all.

So for this time, he lets her this time and has her way but he still has to go to the hospital now to handle Helen and Gloria, Who should have been waking up until now.

So he hugged the petite figure of Xiao Bai in his arm with his two big hands and with a strange twist in the body he directly lifted his body with her in his arms off the ground.

"N-No...Ahh!"

Xiao Bai did not like this a bit. She wanted to sleep on him, The warmth radiating from his body was very comfortable and the fragrances released from his body were also addicting.

So that's why she wanted to lay on him and sleep. She was tired of doing absolutely nothing, Which proves she is a cat descendent.

"Stop acting like a chi-! Just stop being immatu-....Just stop this Xiao Bai."

Xiao Bai, not getting what she wanted, started to throw a tantrum. She flailed her arms as she was giving a pitiful cry, Her eyes were also filled with tears and any moment water works will start.

Seeing her like this, Alex wanted to calm her down and tell her to stop acting like a child, So he spoke but he quickly realised that calling her child so immature is not going to do anything as it was not a bad thing but a fact.

So he just repermind her to stop acting like this one but that obviously failed. Seeing that there is no other way, He decided to do something that work flawlessly on her.

"Huh!?"

Xiao Bai quickly stopped moving as she looked confusedly at Alex, Who at this moment pinching the back of her long neck.

This should have not worked on her not only because she was in human form, So she did not have a scruff but even if she was in tiger form, It should have not worked.

The scruff is there for the mother cat to make it easier to carry kittens from one place to another, As pinching that place activates their instincts and makes them immobile but that is not the case for the beasts.

Beasts were born from eggs and Xiao Bai being a Legendary beast was mature since birth, So there shouldn't be any reason for her to have that reflex as she didn't need it.

But as she related to the cat species, This thing though useless still exists in her body, Though it will not make her immobile Alex pinching her there should be activated that reflex making her confused.

"Now wear the clothes, We have to go outside."

Alex lets go of her neck, There is no point in pinching it as it will only make her confused about it, He only does this to make her relax.

Now that she was, He wanted her to wear clothes, So he could take her with him.

"O-Outside?!!!"

She wanted to start her tantrum again after her confusion was gone but when she heard word outside, All her tantrum was gone and replaced by pure joy and excitement.

She hopped in a place trying to speak outside over and over again, As she snapped her finger.

When she did that, A white light covered her and when that light was replaced, A white formal shirt and black pants were on her body.

"Wait, She can also bring clothes? Then why was she not wearing it before?"

Amara, who was silent after Alex reminded her, spoke up in surprise. She did not understand, If Xiao Bai was able to create clothes too then why she was not wearing them before.

Isabella though didn't say it but she too was curious, Xiao Bai looks like has a normal human level of intelligence, So she should know that should wear clothes, That's basic human decency.

"I know why she did that, Want me to tell you?"

Alex looked at them with a slight smile on his face not showing what was on his mind.

"*Glup* Please tell us, brother."

Amara gulped when she saw that slight smile on his face, Though she felt something was wrong Alex was looking so beautiful that she lost her capacity to think about it.

Isabella also felt bad, So she didn't speak and let Amara be on the front line.

"Yeah, I will answer that but before that, I have a question, Are you two just coming out of the egg too?"

Alex looked at them, having the same smile adoring on his slender lips.

"N-No, Why brother!?"

Amara and Isabella both felt bad and felt that there is something amiss about his questioning but they didn't understand it, So Amara gathered her courage and asked him.

"Ohh, If you two not coming out of the egg, THEN WHY THE FUCK YOU TWO NAKED, YOU TWO PERVERTS!!"

Alex looked at two of them and then started as calm first before pointing to them their current condition.

(A/N : Do I change the time of Upload?)

Chapter 107 107. Wild Imagination

"Huh!? Ahhh! It was not what it looked like brother, I am not a pervert."

"Me too, I don't realise at all."

Both Amara and Isabella jumped when Alex pointed out that two of them were butt-naked. They looked at themselves and Alex at first before quickly moving toward the bed.

"You let go of the old hag, I need it more, There's not much to hide, Warp some handkerchief or something."

Amara and Isabella reached to the bed at the same time and both of them grabbed the bedsheets as they don't have time to search for their clothes now as Alex was already labelled them as a pervert.

They need to get rid of that label as soon as possible but if they want to start that argument they need to be dressed first or at least have their body covered.

That's why they wanted to use bed sheets but the problem is that there is one bedsheet and two people, and someone has to give up, Which neither of them wanted to do.

So the fight for the bedsheet started, Amara grabbed the sheet trying to yank it out of Isabella's hands but she didn't let go and Amara didn't want to use more force as it might tear the sheets.

Seeing she can't use force, She used words in the play, Trying to make Isabella give up and find something else.

And what could be a better way to provoke women than to call their assets small? So she used that one.

"You- How dare you? My assets are way bigger than yours what you are talking about? Want to compare the size of it? You let this go, You don't even need to hide anything, Others need a magnifying glass to see your stuff."

But who is Isabella? When it comes to provoking opponents with words, She is several streets ahead of Amara.

So she used even more deadly and lethal words for any woman than Amara, These words though not true was not completely false either.

Amara is a little smaller than Isabella, Well that might be because she is still growing and Isabella as a mother of two is going to have an unfair advantage in that field, So her breast should be bigger than Amara's.

"You-You- I am still growing? At least mine are not soggy as yours."

Amara got a critical hit by Isabella's words, Which woman will bear to hear that another woman is bigger than you in front of the man she likes? And it hurts even more when you find out that another woman was right. You are a little smaller than her.

So she used the same trick she knew to work against Isabella, Her age. As she didn't have much experience in finding others' weaknesses quickly like a capitalist predator like Isabella.

"You take that back!! They are not soggy, They are firm and perky, Also most importantly they are big and FYI size does matter."

But lucky for Amara, Isabella is still vulnerable to her age problem. After all, no woman also wants a woman younger than you to talk about your age in front of a man they like.

So Isabella also got a critical strike by Amara, Before she didn't care about her age but after this morning, She was quite conscious about it.

She does hear that men like women in their 40s but she also heard that those man's only going to them because of money, They most if not all are gold miners.

To be honest, Isabella didn't really mind now that Alex had come to her because of money, As money is the last thing she had to worry about but the problem is that Alex has more money and power than her, So there is no way he should come to her for her money.

So her looks are most important here, So anyone who now points out her age or faults in the figure is an enemy of her. Especially if that person is Amara.

To be honest, She really didn't have anything to worry about. As an A-Rank warrior, her lifespan is above thousand years, So according to that she was not old at all, And that was also backed by her body.

Her body as she said was firm and tight, Might be more than a virgin maiden, It's just she was worried about the age format of mortals, Which she had nothing to do yet she was thinking about it.

This is the same thing that happened with Alex. This might be the aftermath of her White Lotus' heart working unnecessarily in the background, Taking away her precious brain power.

"You they are soggy, Why don't they? You are the mother of two after all? Not to mention you are now over 40, People will now stop calling you aunt and start to call you grandma, hahaha!"

Amara was overjoyed when Isabella lost her cool and rebutted, She was even happier that she made Isabella so angry that she didn't even try to insult her back.

For her, this was a clear win, So as a winner it was her duty to rub salt on her enemy's wound, And that's what she did.

She makes sure to use all her knowledge to come up with these words targeting Isabella, The grandma part was her favourite and she was most proud of it.

"Tha- If I am grandma, You are pervert, No you are worse than a pervert, At least they have some fucked up but still off-limit things, You targeted your own little brother, Do you understand how much worst that sound? Do you even have a slight of an idea?"

Isabella was now officially provoked to limit, She now didn't even care about hitting below the neck now, She was ready for a full-on verbal battle.

"You bith- Brother!! She is bullying me again what!!"

Amara was startled by her words and then quickly realised what she just said. Her anger rose to the limit. She wanted to counter her with even more strong words but she wasn't able to come up with anything at all.

After all, she was raised in high society with that level of education, Which teaches respect and other things but vulgar ones.

And Isabella, though also from a big family, Being the head of family all these years taught her lots of things, Which well-protected flowers like Amara are never able to go against.

So like always, When she doesn't know how to counter the problem, She is ready to go and call her brother for help. This is her ultimate move, The one even Isabella has no answer for.

"You cheater, Are you dick or what? Why bring Alex between us?"

Isabella got sacred a bit when Amara mentioned Alex, She knows that her words were crossed a limit there, Even she regretted after saying them but there is no regret medicine.

Now if Alex gets involved in this, he is surely going to take Amara's side. After all, Amara is his sister at the end of the day and I am no one, Just a stranger who slept with him.

No, she is worse than a stranger. She is the mother of a man, Who tried to blame a pure soul like him. There is a high chance he might even kick her out.

That's why Isabella was very anxious and looked in the direction Amara was going.

"Huh? Wait a moment! Where did my brother go?!!! Didn't he be standing here a few moments ago? Did the ghost take him away? Brother!!! *Bang* Ouch!"

Amara came running to the place Alex was standing leaving the bedsheet, The thing which was the reason why this all drama happened in the first place.

But when she looked up at it, She found out that there was no figure of her brother at all, As if he just vanished out of thin air, So as she is who is also known for her wild thinking by Alex, Is true to her habit and started overthinking.

The scenario she made up in mind is that when she and Isabella were fighting a ghost came and took Alex away, Which made perfect sense in her mind.

So she even believed it was the truth and called out for him in a dramatic manner, But before she finished her heart-touching performance, someone banged in her head.

"He obviously left seeing our banter, But I have to say Miss Winchester you have some wild imagination."

Isabella who retracted her first spoke to her as she looked at the open door in guilt and slight fear.

In her opinion, Which is also a possible reason than Amara that Alex left seeing them fighting about, He might not have wanted to waste time with them.

For this she was both sad and happy. She was sad because Alex left, And happy that he didn't hear her words and even as a bonus, She got to hit an S-Rank awakened without any consequences.

"Ohh!~ hehe, Yeah he might have gone to hospital. So there is nothing to worry about."

Amara rubbed her head when Isabella hit her, not bothered by that fact. She was more careful that Alex is safe and not taken away by the ghost.

"Okay, Let me take a shower first, I still have to go to work."

After Alex left there was no reason for her to stay here, So Isabella wanted to go but before that, she wanted to take a shower to get rid of the smell and fluids from her body.

It's one thing to like this feeling but hygiene comes first, So she wanted to clean herself first.

"No, let me go first, I also have some meetings to attend."

When Amara heard that Isabella wanted to go in the shower, She bolted first towards the bathroom at full speed speaking to her while running.

"No, Let me go first."

Isabella reacted and also quickly moved towards the bathroom, And that's how they started one more of their arguments.

....

"And here I thought ghosts were off duty during the day, Are you doing overtime or something?"

Alex was in a buried white place with Xiao Bai looking at the front the same figure or say entity he saw in the elevator before.

(A/N : Yoo, Tell me what to change.

Chapter 108 108. Psychological Battle

"....."

There was no reply to Alex's comment from another side, The figure or said entity was just sitting in the corner staring at Alex.

Or at least it seems as if there is no facial or physical feature to it to indicate what that figure was doing.

'System, Use the eye of the truth of this thing.'

Alex now didn't bother with long monologue and just asked the system to get information about the entity.

Unlike yesterday he was very calm as he has a Sage heart and it's no longer unknown which he fears.

[Ding! The target details are like the following...]

Name : Robin

Species : Undead

Summoner/Puppet Master : Belladonna

Awakened Rank : C-Rank

Strength : C++

Agility : C++

Mana : 15,000 (As Undead)

Charm : -100 / 60 (Human form)

Luck : Null (Already Dead without any cause and effect bounding)

Skills :

Cleaning (LV 4), Cooking (LV 6), Surveillance (LV 10)

(Note : Undead's skills and attributes were enhanced.)

Talent :

Breath Of Death : This talent is possessed by every high-level Undead, Anyone who has this talent is a walking messenger of death, It always spreads a plague or other disasters whenever they walk into a land of the living.

Other low-level Undead's will follow their command.

Undead powers :

- Death Bringer : Raise dead for their fight (Cost : 2000 MP)
- Enhance Attributes : Enhance attributes for short time before falling in the weak period (Cost : 5000 MP)
- Dead Healing : Fix the broken parts in an instance but only to the extent of being usable, It didn't care if the parts were in the right positions ( Cost : 6000 MP)

Favorability : Null (As a corps puppet, It doesn't have any will, It is just a puppet.)

Summary : It's not good for the undead to be in the land of more living lives as it will disrupt the cycle of life. One force tries to win over another and cause carnage.

[New Function : Weakness]

Weakness :

- Sunlight : As the sun is a sign of life, Sunlight is very effective against any undead. That's why they prefer to come out at night.

They mostly live in the pocket dimension or dark places.

- Fire : Fire is also a symbol of life, So fire is also very effective against the undead.

Warning : Both of these weaknesses are characteristic of both life and death. They are actually neutral forces and only work on undead as they have large amounts of aura of death.

But if they don't have that aura, these things will not work against them, So make sure you have a thing that represents only life to counter them.

(Note : You are in the pocket dimension right now, If you want to leave just use your Fire-Emperor superpower.)]

'So this is Robin? A butler of Belladonna?'

Alex was surprised to see Robin here, But it was not unexpected, As he had already been reminded by the system that his so-called fiancé had targeted him.

"Belladonna, It's been a while, How are you?"

When Alex knows Robin is the one who was seated in front of him, He was relaxed, As he now has Xiao by his side and there should be hidden bodyguards outside of this pocket world.

That's why He was not that worried. He might be uneasy if Belladonna herself came, Only that is going to cause trouble for him now.

So he called out to Belladonna as he knew that she was the one who controlled Robin and can hear and see everything.

"....."

There was no replay, A blurry figure of now-known Robin was sitting there staring at him without moving or doing anything.

"Hey, I have one question, Do all ghosts look the same? As this Robin of yours looks very similar to the ghost I saw before."

Alex didn't mind if he did not get any reply, It's very hard to control the puppet in the long distance, So it's a given that Belladonna might not be able to talk with him through Robin.

"That's a racist assumption love."

But when my ex thought he was going to reply, A very feminine voice like an aged vine fell on his ears.

This voice is so good that it made him drunk just listening to it. His mind became boggy and his vision started to blur, As his mind started to imagine some explicit images of Belladonna.

[Ding! A charm skill is detected...

Sage Heart is being triggered...

The host successfully countered the opponent's skill...]

When he was about to lose his control, System's voice rang in his mind, And his heart became crystal clear without any bemusement remaining in his mind.

*Growl*

When he comes back to his senses, He sees that carefree Xiao Bai staring at Robin to tear him apart as she should have realised that someone was trying to control him.

"Xiao Bai, Calm down, She is an old friend."

Alex quickly held her back, preventing her from shredding Robin in the pieces as he didn't want to let go of this golden opportunity to have heart-to-heart conversations with the late-game boss.

"Ohh, How can racist to death darling? How does that make any sense?"

So after calming Xiao Bai, He said to Belladonna through Robin, He didn't react to the stunt she just pulled, As it was her usual thing.

This is the passive of her superpower, making her voice very charming. She used to do this before but every time either she herself released the or his mother had to intervene.

As crazy as she is she also has her principles of winning the heart of the person she loves.

Well, she literally wants the heart of her love, that's a different story.

"Love you learn a thing or two out there, You never called me darling, What changed? What is Alia not giving you enough allowance?"

Belladonna also acted as if Alex didn't just ignore her charm skill, Which is a shocking thing to anyone as Alex just countered an S-Rank warrior's skill.

But Belladonna didn't react, Which shows her intelligence and self-control, But she still couldn't help being curious so she asked him a question without asking about it.

"Well, I am going through rough periods, I only have 12 billion UC in my account, Do you believe it? That's how poor I am now."

Alex of course knows what her question is about learning new things but who is he?

Belladonna might be a smart woman and one of the late villains in the plot but when it comes to manipulation and psychological tricks, No one is an opponent of him in this world.

"Did Alia even have that much money? What did you give her that she increased her allowance to that much?"

Belladonna's voice was as neutral as it was in the beginning without an ounce of emotional fluttering or trembling as if she didn't care about Alex bragging but the reality was very different.

She didn't care about small amounts like 12 billion with their family background but the problem is that Alex now didn't have any family support.

This means this money is definitely given to him by Alia, But the question is why?

There is even a need to guess what Alex might have given to make Alia give him this huge amount for someone in that small city.

"Hey don't change the topic, You didn't tell me how my statement is racist? Answer me, love."

Alex, while saying not to change the topic, changed the topic. He was living this conversation. It was no fun when he was one-sidedly playing psychological games.

It's quite interesting to change when another side also uses the trick against you. There is still a skill issue with her but hey at least she was trying.

"Ghosts are the spirits of the dead, Who couldn't leave the mortal world, Either because something is bounding them here like an unfulfilled wish or they want revenge.

Robin is an undead, The one without any spirit but a corps of dead, They are raised from the dead by someone else's summon or command."

Belladonna was still neutral, Her voice was still calm but her heart was in chaos, She never knew that her little Alex is so deeply hidden, Even she wasn't able to counter him, Not even a bit.

This was a competition. Anyone who made others say what they wanted to hear, Will won and now she was on the losing end.

She badly wanted to know what he gave Alia, He successfully grabbed her attention.

"Ohh, Robin is undead? So he is a corpse? If so, do his things work? Do you know the physical thing? How is this work?"

Alex had a slight smile on his face. He enjoyed every second of it. It felt good to make the late-game boss this helpless.

But there is also one thing that was bothering him, Robin.

As her personal butler of Belladonna, He should be with her 24x7, So will they do something to make his head green?

Though he has nothing to do with her at least for now, she is still in the name of his fiancé and the woman he has plans for.

So he was worried as this is the reverse world, So women doing intercourse is common, heroines are exceptions and he didn't have to worry about them but sadly Belladonna is the villain, Which is not as that virginity protection.

"Robin is undead, His body is dead so it did not have any bodily function, I made him kinda like Taxidermy, So he will not rot an-...."

Belladonna was annoyed that Alex had control of the conversation from beginning to end. She wanted to think of a way to get questions that answered what he gave Alia.

So she thought of a solution, That she didn't pay much attention to Alex's question and spiked half-heartedly as if only thinking that it was his mere curiosity.

But after answering it, She just realised what she answered, She looked through Robin at Alex just to see a smug smile on his face.

She knew she lost this silent battle.

(A/N : How is this one? Do you like it?)

- Yes
- No
- Like but Improve more.

Chapter 109 109. Annoyed Belladonna

"....."

Belladonna just stared at Alex through Robin without blinking, She right now was overwhelmed by the mixture of emotions.

She was annoyed that she lost their unspoken battle as she is not used to losing to anyone.

She was also kinda happy, As he does care enough about her to get information related to man related to her.

That was naked jealousy, So she was happy that he also has feelings for her.

But she was also angry about Alia and her current relationship with Alex. She needs answers.

"What happened, darling, Why did you stop speaking midway?"

Alex, who was not even trying to hide his smug smile, asked her, As he patted Xiao Bai's head because she was becoming impatient.

She wanted to go outside and explore the world, Alex also didn't want to stay and watch Isabella and Amara's ranting one more time, So he decided to leave with Xiao Bai.

But just as he stepped outside his room, A strange mist covered their surroundings and sucked both of them into this white world.

Xiao Bai wanted to resist and break free from it but Alex stopped her. He wanted to see who had the guts to pull off something like this with him.

After all, he is an heir of a big family. Anyone who attacks him is considered an attack on his family, So he knows the person is either stupid or has a strong background.

In either case, He wanted to first assess the situation, And it turns out it was the right decision.

He now meets or says get talk to Belladonna, Who can be the best help for him against the current protagonist's backups.

"You hide too deeply, love. I am impressed."

Belladonna finally spoke, She was impressed that a man can be this smart, And hide this deeply.

She has known this man since childhood. His every move, liking, and dislikes are known to her and yet she still wasn't able to find out his sinister level of intelligence.

She now has second guesses about cutting him into pieces and putting him in the coffin. It's better to put him in suspended animation.

'I still going to need a big coffin then, Better to give a custom order soon.'

If you forgot about it, This is a reminder that this woman is bat shit bat crazy, Her way of showing love is also proof of it.

"What did I hide darling? Everyone knows where I am, You just don't want to come and meet me. Do you know how much I was here? But no one came, Now I am sad."

Alex being who started his acting skill, A skill that has not been used for a while ran on full power.

His appearance quickly changed, His eyes turned red as if he would burst out crying the next moment, His voice was also choking and an aura of loneliness surrounded him.

"Huh!?"

The emotions he was showing were so powerful that Xiao Bai, sitting close to him, was also affected by them.

She looked at him in confusion about what happened. Why did he suddenly become sad? She wanted to help but Alex motioned her not to move, So she was confused but did what Alex said and sat tightly.

*Stuck*

Here other side hundreds of kilometres away, Belladonna felt like a sharp arrow just struck her heart.

The appearance of Alex made even her who has a fucked up way to express love feel pain and heartbroken.

Guilt appeared in her heart as to why she didn't go to meet him, Completely forgetting that he was the one who ran away from their marriage.

This is turning black into white, Without others realising what Alex loves the most.

Just make yourself a victim and others will come to your rescue. This is a tried and tested trick, This worked in the past world and it was still if not more useful in this one.

"S-Sorry for that but didn't you have an Alia?"

Belladonna's heart was guilt-ridden, Her thinking was influenced by her raw emotions, The smart side she started with now was getting weaker and weaker.

Alex systematically lowers her guard against him from the very beginning, It just goes unnoticed by everyone.

So as an heir of the same status family as Alex, She apologised unknowingly, It might be the first time in her life she apologised to anyone.

"Well I do forgive you, You should have a lot of work to do, But can't you ever spare to give me a call?"

Alex as a pro-manipulator followed the first rule of manipulation, Never answer the question straight up and always distract them from the key point.

This is what he did now, He diverted the question of Belladonna with his loaded question.

There is no way that she could able to ignore this question as doing so make it look insensitive to his feelings and if she answers it, Which she will, He can drag her further away from Aila's topic.

"....Tha- !!"

She was stunned by his question. She has the answer to his question but she can't say it now.

Alex looks like he might burst out crying at any moment, So she can't just say that he ran off on their wedding and ruined her reputation, Can she?

She didn't know what to say anymore. There are no words to describe her situation. She really felt wronged.

She was supposed to blame him. That's why she sent Robin here to make him guilt-ridden and came back to her but this thing backfired on her.

Now she felt worse than a human being even thinking of blaming Alex now, It felt like a crime against humanity.

She fell into thinking of how did she end up in this position, She was supposed to victim here.

(A/N : Tell me what you don't like in this chapter, This way I can learn where did I making mistakes, So please point that out 🙏.)

Chapter 110 110. Shadow Empress

'System, Why does my charm not affect her?'

While there Belladonna contemplating her life decisions, Alex was more curious about why she was not affected by his charm.

Rita, Isabella and Liza he met before became his most affectionate followers when they saw him.

So he was also thinking that his charm might also influence her same way. If that happens a huge worry in his heart will go away.

He was still very worried about her, As she has very messed up values in her mind.

So understanding her motives or reading her mind is like trying to teach a dog Quantum mechanics, Both are futile.

That's why he was hoping that his charm might change her way of thinking of him as a thing to possess and see him as a human.

But it turns out that even after talking with her this much time, There is no system notification about the increase in favorability of her for him.

[Ding! Host, there are multiple reasons but the most prominent being she can only see your most basic physical features at most through the crops eyes of Robin.]

The system came out and explained why his charm was not affecting her, As Robin was dead not have any functional eyes, It's similar to a video call with a broken cracked lens camera.

"Well it's good to talk with you after this long darling but now I have to leave, I Hope to get a call from you soon."

When he finds out that there is no way he could increase her affection for him through his charm, He decided to leave.

Anyway, he just build a foundation now, Now all he needs to do now is to wait for it to solidify before he does anything else.

"Wait!? We just started talking."

Belladonna came out of her thinking as she heard his words, She was unwilling to cut off their conversation now.

She wanted to make him convince her to get back to her, But if he go now how can she do that? Winchester's family not allowing anyone else to meet with him, So she can't even go in person to bring him back.

So she didn't want to let him go from this pocket world of hers, Although she was losing in this talk, She still has hope that she can able to convince him to come back.

Anyway, she thinks that Alex can't leave this world without her permission, So can keep him here until he agrees to come back.

"Sorry darling, someone else is waiting for me, It's not good to break a promise, So we will talk later."

Alex knows what she might be thinking about. It's just very hard to guess her next motive and the actions she will take to achieve what she wants.

He was very well capable of assessing what reason might be behind her actions.

So he didn't even ask her to let him leave, He just stand up to exit this world.

"By the way, Shadow Empress name suits you, darling, See you soon *Snap*"

Alex turned around to towards Robin, As he spoke before he snapped his finger taking out his own SS-Rank superpowers flame.

*Rumble* *Crack*

As that speck of flame appeared, This whole world rumbled, It started to shake and cracks started to appear all around this white world, soiling the beauty of this world.

Then without any hesitation, he grabbed Xiao Bai's collar, Who still wanted to tear Robin for hurting him and jumped in one of the cracks.

"A...SS-Rank superpower? How much did he hide from me? And how did he know about Shadow Empress?"

Belladonna couldn't help but be shocked by Alex's move, When she saw him standing up she thought he will ask her to let him go but she never thought that he just pulls out his SS-Rank superpower and just walk away from her grasp.

When she came out of the shock of seeing SS-Rank's superpower of his, She realised he just revealed her deepest secret as if it was not big deal.

Suddenly the threat level of Alex increased in her heart as she started the second guessing of sneaking into Berlin city to get him back.

"Robin, come back."

Now that Alex is gone, She had no intention of letting Robin stay here in the city, So she called him back, While using her power through him to fix the crack in the space.

Next time she decided just to try to convince him through a normal call as making this space is both is expensive and now useless against Alex.

....

"That was quite a talk, Thankfully that crazy woman did not come here herself."

Alex and Xiao directly appeared in the parking lot of the city no.1 hospital, The destination he planning to come to in the first place.

He checked the time and find out that he spend 20 minutes in that space, A distance between his dormitory and the hospital is 30 minutes, So came early.

But he was not a bit of happy, He was scared a lot.

There is the reason why he calls her a crazy woman, That woman can do anything without any worry.

Think about it, This woman was planning of killing him and making her his pet, Even when he is an heir of a family like Winchester.

He knows this as there was a huge plot related to this, Though before she does this he died in the changed plot fact remains that she did intend to do that to him.

So his guard is always high against her, It might be his luck that she does not come here herself, If she did his mind games will not work on her.

They had to fight, Which he didn't want at all.

*Ding*

When he was in his thought, A sound notification on his phone grabbed his attention.

"Ohh shit, I forget about my promise to her."

When he read the messages, He realized what he did.

He quickly checked the time, It was close to noon, He felt quite bad as he ran towards the stairs.

He will not go to take the elevator for a while, After what happened yesterday.

'Hope she not be too sad or angry.'

While running on the stairs, He thought to his mind, Xiao Bai like a little follower was running behind him happily.

She didn't care what happening, All she wanted to do is to see this new world for the first time.

(A/N : Who do you think she was worried about? And what promise has he forgotten about?)

- Alia
- Helen
- Grace
- Liza

Also, tell me what do I improve, Please 🙏.

Chapter 111 111. Forgotten Promise

"Why didn't he come last night? Did I do something to make him angry?"

A beautiful gentle looking woman was standing in the hospital hallway walking back and forth.

Her hair was frizzy as if she had just woken up. There were slight dark circles below her eyes hinting at the sleepless night she had yesterday.

At this time she was super worried as the two most important people in her life were not there with her.

She felt lonely all over again, A fear she was pushing down all this time trying to raise its head inside her heart.

A sudden surge of sadness hit her, All the things she held back before were running through her mind.

All her struggle up to now, Finally going to get a sweet moment she yearned for all these years, And now it felt like it was just a one-time thing.

"How complicated is the human heart, I always wanted to just spend a few moments with him and now that I got way more than I asked for, So why other than being happy, I am sad, Why I yearn for something that I can't have?"

Grace stopped in front of her mother's ward, Gloria still hasn't woken up though the doctor said there is no problem but worry in her heart was not lessened at all.

This flamed the worry about Alex even more in my heart. He promised that he would come to her at night but he didn't.

She imagines almost every possibility of why he didn't come and most of them pointed out that he should be busy with Alia.

This realisation makes her feel like someone ripped her heart out and butchered her with a blunt knife.

Yes, she did agree and did not mind him having another woman. That is a legal thing but the fact that he goes to another woman forgetting his promise given to her hurt her the most.

She wanted to cry but she didn't, She still has to be strong for her mother.

'Is Alia forbidding him from meeting me?'

Suddenly she comes up with a different reason, Alia is Alex's official girlfriend and way better than her in everything, So she should be the one stopping him from meeting her.

After all, who is she to him? Nobody.

She neither has any money nor any background like Alia, So why should Alex choose her over a big boss like Alia?

Also, he also loves Alia a lot. That song is proof of it.

"But did say he also likes me, But again he didn't write a song like that to me, So he still did not like me enough to sing for me."

Grace was going through her thoughts, Which were becoming depressing second by second, Which is a by-product of her worry for her mother, lack of sleep and most importantly, Alex breaking his promise.

So she was now even thinking about if he had to choose between her and Alia, Who he chose?

There is no doubt in her mind that will going to be Alia. His love for her is not unknown to her.

That song he sang for, The overwhelming love in his emotions was solid proof of it, That Alia is his first priority, not her.

"Mom, did I make a mistake loving a man I shouldn't have?"

Grace put her hand on the viewing glass window of her mother's ICU ward.

Finally the tears she fought to hold back won and broke free from the bounds of her eyes sliding down on her well-carved cheeks, Leaving behind proof of her sorrow.

She fell into thinking the first time she met him, It might be a normal day for him but for her, it was a day everything changed.

....

———Flashback———

"Grace Smith, Why are you even here? This is financing class girl, It's not a place for someone like you."

A well-dressed 19 or 20 year old girl was blocking the way of Grace on the 6th floor hallway. She just wanted to go to her class, She tried everything to avoid them but in the end, they cornered her.

So now she had to listen to this group of upper-class girls taunting, It was nothing new for her.

Every time she gets a scholarship and transfers to these big schools, There is always a group like this that comes to trouble her.

It's just that normally she can avoid them a few times. After that, they lost their interest in her but this group was very persistent. They still find her after a month and she avoids them.

"Yeah, You need money to make money. Looking at you, I doubt you might even have money for lunch today."

A girl wearing the same flashy revealing clothes as the first girl spoke, And she was right, Grace indeed doesn't have the money for the lunch.

Her mother does give her some but she spent on the books she needed, So she has to manage without food today, Well this is also not a new thing for her.

"Did you even have to doubt? Just look at her whitewashed tattered clothes, I thought she came here to beg at first hahahah!!"

The third girl in the group spoke, She too was wearing the same type of clothes.

After she spoke to Grace, She burst out laughing.

"You are right, I didn't know what I was talking about haha"

"Well Smith, If you beg, I can spare you some change, Ahaha!"

After the third one makes fun of Grace another two also join in to taunt and make fun of her.

They hate someone like Grace, They don't understand why someone like her deserves to be scored top of the class and be praised by their teachers.

People like her should know their place and try not to compete with them here. If she always scores like that they become a joke in college for being behind someone like Grace.

So they tried to warn Grace as they were impotent to compete with her, That's why they decided to destroy the competition itself.

Well with that they do have the true spirit of a businesswoman, If you can't compete with it then destroy it.

"....."

Grace didn't say anything, Her head was down staring at her feet standing there, This way she will not escalate the matter.

She knows what they wanted, But she will never purposefully try to lower her grade.

For these girls having higher grades meant nothing but a frame and status, But for her, it was her only lifeline.

She needs to earn money, A lot of it and quickly.

Her mother's health was becoming worse and worse. She needs urgent medical help but they don't have any money.

So Gloria was refusing to even go to the hospital to get checked, Just urging her to complete her studies, While she was doing odd jobs for their day-to-day living.

Grace didn't want her mother to work. She was ready to get a part-time job but Gloria sternly refused.

She didn't want to disappoint her mother and make her proud, So she was not going to lower her grade under any condition.

"Bitch are you ignoring us *Slap*"

Chapter 112 112. Crime Of Being Poor

The first girl who seems like a leader of this group was offended by the fact that Grace was not responding to them.

So enraged, She raised her hand and then without any hesitation slapped Grace.

As that slap landed on her cheeks, Grace for a second or two did not understand what just happened.

This is a well-reputed school. She never thought that these women would go past their normal taunting as it is a serious consequence of the act of violence.

"Bretta, Violence is not allowed on campus, What do we do if she complains about us?"

The other two women with Britta reacted and were horrified by her action.

It's not like they never beat anyone, It's just that rules against violence on the campus are very strict.

If teachers find out that they did something like this then they will definitely go get expelled without any question at all.

"Relax, This bitch doesn't have the guts to speak against her and even if she did, Mommy will handle it, She just became the 3rd biggest donor of the college."

Birtta, unlike other girls, was not scared, Her mother had just yesterday donated to this college making her 3rd biggest donor.

'What I got myself into?'

When Grace heard that, She was scared a lot. She was planning on complaining about this group but she dropped that idea.

She knows that if she did that then Britta will just go to receive a slap on the wrist but her life will become terrible.

Someone with that much money and power might even stop her scholarship and even kick her out of this college.

She could not afford to let that happen, So she decided to keep quiet.

"Ohh, Are our little bitch afraid? Haha, you should be, My mummy can ruin your life with one phone call."

Britta seeing their whitened face Grace wanted to laugh aloud, She loved seeing those expressions on people.

So what if she has a better grade than her? Why is she a little more beautiful than her? Isn't she, like all others, becoming like a dog hearing her background?

*Sniff*

Warm tears ran down Grace's eyes as she faced this situation.

Why is it always her? Is it her fault that she was born into a poor family? Or being poor is a crime? Why does everyone just target her? Why was it always her?

"Heyy look girls, Our little prodigy is crying like a dog."

Britta was even more excited when she was crying. An evil taste in her heart was getting satisfied seeing Grace like that in front of her.

"Wait, what is this? Let me see."

"Wait- no."

When she was making fun of Grace, She saw Grace was holding a torn book in her arms, Out of curiosity Britta snatched it out of her hand.

Seeing the book she spends all her money missing from her hands, Grace panicked and quickly wanted to get back but the other two girls held back from doing so.

"Managerial Economics? Isn't this a 2nd semester book? But we just started 1st semester."

Britta read the name of the book and became confused as to why Grace should have this book.

But then it clicked her, A evil grin appeared on her lips as she looked at Grace.

"Do you want to study the 2nd semester in advance? It's not good to study this hard girl, Also this book is useless, This is a 4 years old book, So this is trash, You don't need it."

Britta knows Grace is trying to study ahead to get better grades, She is not having it, So she looked at the date of publication on the back which was 4 years ago.

So finding this as an excuse, She just threw the book out of the balcony of the hallway.

"Nooo!!!"

Grace saw Britta throwing her book away and yelled in agony, She spent not only one day worth of food money to buy that book, She was fasting almost for 2 weeks for it.

Also, She had to look through all the wholesale bookstores. Finally ,she found it at a cheap price.

Though it is a 4-year-old book, But it was the only book she can afford and it will do its job, So she didn't have any complaints.

She was planning on giving two semesters at once to graduate early, But now if that book is gone, How will she be able to study for the exam, which is only a week away? She didn't have to gather money.

So without wasting a second she struggled out of two girls' grapes and bolted towards the stairs, To go downstairs and search for the book.

"You bitch, Stop the"

"Let her go, She is just going to mess up her perfect attendance record."

The other two girls, seeing that Grace escaped, wanted to catch her again but Britta stopped them.

She can't act too much, This was enough punishment for Grace, At least her perfect attendance will be ruined.

——— Grace POV ———

"Where is it? Why couldn't I find it?"

I reached downstairs and quickly started to search for the book but I couldn't find it.

Tears were streaming down from my cheeks, I still did not understand why they did that. I was just minding my own business.

I was feeling very bad. For the first time in my life I hated being poor, I hated that even after all they did to me, They could walk away without any consequence.

"Where did it go? *Sniff* It should have fallen here."

I searched for a half-hour but still wasn't able to find the book. I was feeling helpless. My tears were like a never-ending stream just coming out of my eyes.

Helpless, I just sat on the grass ground, Not knowing what to do next.

"Ding Ting Ding Tang."

Just when I lost all my hope, A sweet melody of piano rang in the tranquillity of the place.

Unknowingly I walked towards the sound, As some invisible string pulled me towards that direction.

I too blindly followed the sound. That moment I didn't know that I would find the love of my life.

(A/N : Did you like this chapter?

- Yes

- No

Also like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 113 113. Pesky Disease

I was walking towards the sound not knowing why, Right now I just didn't want to think anything.

My idea of graduating early and helping my mother is now in a scramble. There is no way I can buy another book, So I will definitely fail the exam.

Now I just wanted something to distract me, And this sweet melody of music was looking like the best option for it.

So I just walked like a robot towards the sound, Which brought me to the secluded place of our college campus.

There is an old building, Which used to be a music department before they shifted to the other side of campus and the college didn't know what to do with this space. They were still deciding to make this building look abandoned for now.

"Who could be here at this time?"

I was standing in front of the entrance of the room hesitating to go inside.

After all, I saw lots of horror movies. The rule I made to survive is not to follow the strange sound, But I think I broke that rule by coming here.

Still, I had little critical thinking left and wanted to go back and try to search the book but a weird pull in my heart telling me to go in.

A strong feeling that there is something inside this building that was meant for me, This feeling was so strong and vivid that I for a while couldn't process it.

Finally, I couldn't resist the urge. A curiosity won against logic and I entered the building.

"*Cough* *Cough* Did no one clean this place? This is still college property."

As I entered this building, The old musty air inhaled by me made me cough hard. I am used to dirty places but it was still too much even for me.

I don't understand how can someone "abandon" a big place like this? In my neighbourhood at least 2-3 schools can be open with this much space.

This is a waste of space and the facility did nothing with this place, I mean at least they had to maintain it so as to prevent others from thinking it was an abandoned place.

"Is music coming from the 2nd floor?"

I ignored the mess downstairs and searched for the source of the music but I wasn't able to find anything, So I guessed it had to be coming from the upper floor.

The logical part of me just wanted to drop this idea and try to find my book, But I also know that there is a high chance I might not be able to find it.

So I went with my emotional feelings thinking, I slowly climbed the dusty stairs and reached the second floor.

To my surprise, this floor was very clean as if someone just cleaned it a few hours ago. This confused me, As the ground floor was that dirty and yet this floor was this clean.

"There seems to be no one here."

I only stuck out my head to look at the hallway of the 1st floor, I looked at the left side and then right, but Still, I couldn't find anyone.

After waiting for a few more seconds I finally gathered enough courage and came out of the space stairs and explored the 1st floor cautiously.

"Music coming from this room?"

I searched most of the room, Until I stopped in front of the room at the end of the corner, I carefully checked and confirmed that this music was coming from there.

*Beep* *Beep*

My heart was beating fast as I was contemplating whether to open this door or not. A single drop of sweat slid down from my forehead as my trembling hand held the door handle with a lot of internal struggle.

There was an unknown unexpected surge of anxiety that filled my heart. I don't know why I was so nervous but my body was shaking slightly as my throat became dry.

"*Phew* What is wrong with me? I want to see who is playing this piano beautifully."

I gathered enough courage and prepared myself, Reminding myself that I just wanted to see the one who was playing the piano.

As for why I wanted that? I had no idea. It's just that this music played when I needed it most to distract myself, So I just came here.

So I didn't hesitate and opened the door.

*Creak*

As I did that, To my regret the sharp rusty hinges sound of the door opening interrupted the beautiful melody that was being played inside the room.

"That.- I am so sorry I didn't know it will make this much-"

I was startled when this loud sound interrupted the music, I felt very bad for destroying the beauty of that melody.

Hearing the music stops, I was afraid and quickly started apologising. It just hit me how many powerful people's kids were studying in this college.

Now if another party will be angry, I will be fucked up, No wonder I was feeling that nervous, My instincts were trying to prevent me from doing something stupid which I just did.

But as I was apologising, My eyes landed on the figure seating behind the large black piano, and then I couldn't take my eyes off him.

The words I wanted to say were swallowed back by me as I lost seeing him.

I saw a young figure seated on the chair calmly.

His white clothes are whiter than snow, not stained with specks of dust with a clear and flawless face, long eyebrows like willows, and a body like a jade tree, all of which exude nobility and elegance.

At this time, He was on the chair in front of a piano with closed eyes, His fingers were still hovering over the black and white keys, Then he slowly opened his eyes.

There was a trace of confusion in the dark and deep eyes as he looked straight at me.

*Thump*

Cupid released his arrow, Which directly penetrated my heart. For a second I even forgot to breathe as I lost looking at him.

He was sitting there like some higher noble as his sharp dark eyes were staring at me. His aura was also quite overwhelming to me.

I felt nervous to even stand in front of him and yet I couldn't stop looking at him.

I knew I had fallen, There is no doubt, I also got infected with that pesky disease called love.

"Who are you?"

That man looked at me with only confusion without any anger at me for disturbing his art.

*Thump* Thump*

Deers were running through my heart as he asked that question. I was afraid that my heart might break free from my chest and come out if this goes on.

I wanted to answer him but no words come out, This feeling was frustrating and annoying but I couldn't do anything other than make a joke of myself in front of him

"Hello? Are you deaf or what?"

That man asked me again. This time he was a little more annoyed and angry as he frowned and asked me again.

But I didn't know what he said at all. All my attention was on his face, Especially when he frowned at his sword-like eyebrows that pretty much rouch each other making him look super cute.

"Do you want to stay here while I practise?"

I was just staring at him without blinking at all, Everything else was meaningless in my eyes now.

But what he said quickly caught my attention. He asked me if I wanted to stay here in this secluded place alone with him.

I wouldn't know how to answer it. It was happening all too fast, I wasn't able to process anything right now, All my thoughts were on him.

I know this is weird, This is stupid and it was too quick but I felt like I could do anything for this boy in front of me.

It's just that I am not confident enough to reply to him as I wanted.

"C-c-can I?"

There I said it, I had to use all my willpower but I was finally able to utter these words to him.

But now I said it I became worried, 'What I just did? It was inappropriate to stay alone in the room with a lone man. What was I thinking about saying something like this?'

I started to become more and more anxious. This man in front of me was somehow able to have this much effect on me and I don't even know his name.

"So you are not deaf, Good for you, You can stay here if you want, I mean I am not forcing you or anything but after that, you have to clean the ground floor, Do we have a deal?"

'Wait!? Did he just agree?'

I was waiting to get rejected by him but to my surprise, He agreed.

Though he asked me to clean the ground floor it was a little price to pay for being able to see him for awhile

"Okay, It's a deal."

So I agreed eagerly, This is all I can ask for, Maybe this composition of my fate for giving me all that crap.

When I said that, This man who stole my heart just walked casually and looked at the piano keys before his slender long finger started dancing on it swiftly like a dragonfly on the water.

"Thing ding thig tan"

A sweet melody once again resumed as I sat in the corner making myself lose this feeling to forget my problem for a while.

(A/N : After this arc, I will focus on Nathan totally. What do you guys think of that?

Chapter 114 114. Big-Hearted Man

I was just sitting in the corner while listening to that handsome boy playing an enchanting tune off of a song.

For a while, I forgot about all my troubles, The lost book, My mothers worsening health, My study, bullying, everything.

This melody was like a warm embrace of a father. That made me forget my every trouble and just feel at ease under its shadow.

I don't know how much time has passed, How many classes I have missed but I don't care about that now.

I am going to fail my second semester and I already did my study for 1st one, So I didn't have anything to worry about or say to lose anymore.

"*Phew* Finally I can play it right."

After a while, he stopped playing and was happy. His words surprised me a lot.

How can he say that he was finally able to play it right? He was playing perfectly from the beginning.

He stand up and stretched his body with a lazy and careless appearance

I was stunned looking at him. He might not have noticed but his upper shirt button was unbuckled revealing a glimpse of his smooth white chest underneath.

I know I should not look at it, Be a lady and point him to the problem but I just wasn't able to look away.

My eyes like they have their own mind and can not stop staring at him making me both ashamed and excited.

"Don't forget to clean the ground floor, By the way, violence is not allowed on campus so try not to implicate me with your brute nature of women."

A man didn't even look at me and walked straight to the door. He just reminded me to clean the ground floor.

"Wait? Wh-What do you mean by that?"

But then I realised he not only remained with me, My end of a deal but also left a comment behind.

I didn't understand why he said those things. What did I do to make him say I am a brute?

'Did he catch me looking at him?'

I feared this might be the case. After all, that is the reason I can think of it.

"Is that not getting there by fighting with your peers?"

That man who is not stained by the filth of the world looks at me in confusion as his slender index finger points at me.

Seeing his action, I became confused. I was ready to apologise for taking advantage of him like that but this trow was off guard.

I followed the directions of his finger just to realise he was pointing at my face.

"Hiss~ Ahh!"

I unconsciously touched it, Which was a big mistake.

As my finger gazed by my cheeks, I sucked cold air as a sharp pain hit my senses, A tears quickly gathered in my eyes out of reflex.

A spot where Britta hit was now swollen and became red, Five fingerprints were clearly imprinted on it.

"W-Wait!! It's not what it looks like, Britta was the one who hit me, We are not fighting, They were bullying m-"

After the pain was dismissed a little I knew that he misunderstood me, So I quickly started to explain to him.

It was already enough that that woman destroyed her dignity, and might even have a future but she does not allow them to destroy her image in this man's mind.

So words just flew out of my mouth for my defence, I quickly wanted to make my place clean and dismiss any doubt in his mind.

But while talking I realised, I spoke too much.

I was talking about getting bullied and beaten by a bunch of guys without any chance of fighting back in front of my crush. Even a brain-dead person will not do that.

I quickly shut my mouth but it was too late, I already said more than enough, Now he is going to look down at me.

Why should I not though, There is nothing to look up to me, No family background or money, and I am even not sure if I can eat tomorrow.

'It was best, At least I should not have to live in the delusion of someday he will like me back.'

I felt sad as I felt my heart crack. I heard that no man in college likes to be with a cowardly woman, And men like him should also like brave women, not someone like me.

I got a reality check, Even by some miracle he and I got together then what? There is nothing I have that I can give him.

If he was with me he would only be going to suffer with me. Do I want that to happen? Do I want to give him the same life as me?

No, of course not, He deserves so much better. It was a mistake to even think about being with him.

It was good that I woke up early from this foolish dream.

"Ohh That Britta now has the guts to do violence at college grounds? I guess her dear mommy should donate that money."

I was waiting for the taunts and insults but this man was focused on a totally different thing.

He didn't care about my weakness, He cared only about the tyranny of those people. How can there be this big-hearted man?

And by his words, he should even know the background of Britta and he is still saying this, So he is not even afraid of power, This is a real man.

Kind, loving, caring man, Who every woman wants to marry, No wonder I fell in love with him at first glance, Anyone will fall for him, He is just too good.

(A/N : Guys tell me if you like it or not, I need feedback urgently.

And please point out that mistake of what you like and you don't like in new chapters.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊)

Chapter 115 115. Am I Cute?

"Listen you-? Sorry, who are you?"

I was lost in thinking how there could be a man like this at that time, when I heard him asking about me.

See how polite he is. He even asked for information about nobody like me. Others at this college ignored me like I was wearing an invisible cloak.

And the one who notices me, Are people I wanted to stay further away from.

It's nice to change when someone cares to know about me, Especially someone like him.

"I-I am Grace Smith, J studying in the finance department, 1st year, I am an only child and my and mother lives alone, She is one and only family of mine, I don't have a friend as no buddy wanted to my friend here and- Sorry I said too much."

So I started giving him my information, I was so excited that I pretty much gave him my biodata.

Though I accepted that I can never be with him, that was decided and accepted by my brain. Who can tell that to my stupidly in-love heart?

It's a really weird feeling. On the one hand, I wanted him to be happy and on the other hand, I wanted him to be happy with me. Why is this so complicated? Arghh!

"Pfft- Haha, Yeah you talk too much but I think that makes you cute."

Once again I expected to get humiliated or at least make fun of but his words surprise me a lot, to say the least.

"Am I cute?"

I asked stupidly, No one ever told me I look cute, I think there is nothing cute about me and even if there was, who cares?

I am a woman, For women having money is more important than looks, So I never paid attention to my appearance before but now I wanted to, I wanted him to say that once again.

"Hehe~ Yes you are, Why the way I don't blame Britta and the group, With your face, it is hard not to bully you."

Be laughed slightly, His laughter was also as noble and gentle as his appearance.

Also, he once again called me cute, I never knew I would be this excited by someone just calling me cute.

'He is a little insensitive but It seems he does not know it.'

Then I heard his last words. It was no doubt they were inappropriate words to say but looking at his not changed expression, It seems that he did not know how his words sounded.

I quickly guessed he was a knife-tongued but tofu-hearted man. His words were sharp and hurtful but he had no intention of hurting anyone behind it.

So I ignored that part, I was happy with getting praised.

"Okay, I am getting late, Don't forget to clean the ground floor."

He once again reminded me about the task. Which shows he is a man of principles, I liked him even more.

I wanted to ask his name but before I did that he was gone, I guess he was really getting late.

"Okay, Now where do I get cleaning equipment?"

After he was gone, I fell into thinking. If I need to clean the whole ground floor by myself, I need cleaning equipment for it I, But I had no idea where to get them.

Now this is a problem, I started thinking before my eyes fell on the things next to the piano.

"Huh!? How convenient? All that I needed was here."

When I checked that thing, To my surprise all the things needed for cleaning were there making my job very easy.

After that, I didn't waste time and started cleaning, Which took me 5 hours to do.

This place seems not that big but it is really hard to clean all by myself, Thankfully I didn't have to clean all the classrooms also, Which would have taken me ages.

When I did my task, I checked the time on the wall clock. It was 8 PM, and I was surprised and worried.

Mother should be worried, So I quickly put things where I found them and ran home.

...

"Did you hear?"

"Yes, Of course, I did, How could this happen?"

"I am just as confused as you are, girl."

The next day I came early to school. I wasn't able to sleep last night at all. Every time I closed my eyes that boy with his enchanting appeared before me making me blush.

So I came to college early hoping to run into him again, But when I reached to collage there was a commotion about something.

A huge crowd was gathered in front of the notice board. Something major should have happened to this spoiled girl of the rich family who was paying this much attention.

I was really curious but I didn't dare to go in the crowd to see, I know my place, Going there is the equivalent of walking in a minefield.

One wrong set and I will offend someone who will destroy my future in a phone call, So I just stand in the side waiting for the crowd to reduce, Anyway, there is no class for me this early morning

My eyes hovered in the crowd, Searching for that figure I was so desperate to see but to my dismay he was not there.

I lost half of my interest instantly. What is the point of coming here this early if I couldn't able to see him?

I even put on my favourite dress, The one which was reserved for special events, Though this was nowhere new it was the newest dress I have, I get it two years ago on my birthday from mom.

This dress was more like a gown, Which was as white as his clothes yesterday. I was hoping he would see me and call me cute once again.

Still, Even If I didn't see him, I would not stop searching for him. I have a feeling in my heart that I will go to see him today for sure.

This feeling can't be described as it, Can only be said that it was invisible threads being pulled in the dark.

I am not a superstitious person for him, I am even ready to believe that too.

"Wait?! Is that Smith right?"

"Yes, She is the one new transfer student."

"Yesterday Britta was bullying her, Right?"

"Yes, I even saw Britta slapping her in the hallway."

"So do you think it has something to do with her?"

"Now that said, There is a huge possibility of it."

I was searching for that boy, So I didn't notice the change of my arrival but soon I realised that all of these people were staring, whispering and pointing at me.

I became uncomfortable with all this attention, I did not know what was happening.

(A/N : What do you think is happening?

Chapter 116 116. The Tsundere

I was standing on the sideline when the thing I don't want to happen, I became the centre of attention of these elite kids.

My survival instincts kicked in, and I quickly became super alert as I started looking left and right, Trying to figure out if they were looking at me or not.

And if they were looking at me, Then why are they looking at me? I needed to know that asap.

"Hey Smith, Come look at this."

"Smith, I never knew you are such a hidden person, Wanna be friends?"

"Yoo Girl You look good, Are you single?"

I was trying to figure out what was happening but I didn't get time as when one person spoke, Everyone started talking and coming towards me.

To be honest, I was super scared and nervous, I never liked a huge crowd or being the centre of attention like this one.

I now don't even need to know why these people were gathered here, All I wanted to get away from here.

As for men trying to strike up a conversation? It does not matter to me, I already have a person in my heart.

So all these people are pretty much invisible to me, So if I can't see or hear them then how could I respond to them?

"Smith, How did you do it? You know the college council expelled Britta today, See the notice."

I wanted to go away from here, I was even ready to make a run for it but then these words got spoken.

My already lifted foot was put on the ground as I looked at the girl who spoke with confusion.

This girl is from my class, Though we never spoke but as classmates, I have a little impression of her.

But what she was saying was very hard to believe.

Yesterday Britta said that her mummy became the 3rd highest donor of the school, This was more than enough capital to wantonly act in the college.

Which she did, I am also afraid that my complaint will not bear any fruit and might as well implicate me in trouble, So didn't even bother to do anything.

And now I was hearing that the same person, I think was untouchable on the school ground, got expelled?

I can not believe this at all.

I, without caring about the crowd this time, ran towards the notice board and just as that girl said, It was about Britta and the group's expulsion.

The notice says that violence at the college ground is a very serious thing and is prohibited, So for breaking that rule Britta got expelled and her two friends who was involved in the act also got suspended until further notice.

So it was true, Britta somehow got expelled and what it looks like is this people thought I am the one who is responsible for it.

This is not true, I am also shocked like everyone else here.

'Did he do it?'

Suddenly that boys figure flashed into my mind. He was the only one I said about bullying done by Britta and Group.

I ignored the witness as they can't do anything to Britta, If they could they would have stopped her right then and there yesterday.

So there is a huge possibility that he was the one who did this, I needed to confirm this with him right now.

'Will he be there?'

I wanted to talk to him but I didn't even know his name. How can I find him in this huge college? I can't let it be on luck now, I need to know the truth.

Just thinking of him doing this for me makes my heart bubbly. There was a strange tingling in my stomach making me feel ticklish. A wide grin unknown to me appeared on my face, I just wanted to laugh wildly.

So I didn't acknowledge the people who were trying to talk to me, Establish a connection thinking I am some kinda big shot.

I didn't want to waste my time on these fake people. All I am thinking of now is he will be there? Will I get to see him?

My legs turned toward that "abandoned" building as I started running in that direction hoping to meet him. I ignored the call of my name from behind, I focused all my attention on going into the room I was in yesterday.

*Huff* *Huff*

I reached the downstairs of the building but I stopped in front of the entrance. I was huffing because of running but also because of anxiety.

There was fear in my heart that he might not remember me or he might get angry for disturbing him once again.

There were too many thoughts running through my mind, I didn't know why I was thinking so many useless things. Just be a girl and enter the building.

But I just can't be able to. Fear of losing something was very powerful. Just the thought of him being angry with me is soul-wrenching.

I was trying to move my legs but they were just rooted in a place not wanting to take another step, So I stopped trying for a second.

Looking at the building, I closed my eyes and took a huge breath trying to calm my chaotic heart and mind.

I imagine his face. What if he feels good that I visited him? What if he was waiting for me? He should be lonely practising alone without any audience to appreciate his art.

I started telling myself this thing, bombarding myself with this positive enforcement of thoughts, And as it turns out the fear was lessened a lot.

After I took a moment to prepare myself, I entered the building and walked straight towards the 2nd floor.

The signs were not good. There was no music playing, Which means there is a huge possibility that he might be there but I still didn't stop.

I just wanted to confirm if he was there or not. I am too motivated now. If I miss this moment, This feeling will go away making me even more nervous.

"*Exhale* Here I go."

Finally, I was standing in front of that room, The same room in which events made me realise I also can be a little selfish once in a while.

So after breathing out, I opened the door and to my relief, A figure appeared in my line of sight. He was seated in the same position as yesterday, Ready to start practising.

This is a figure of a man who stole my heart away, He was as handsome as he was yesterday.

The same dust-free white shirt and black carefully ironed black pants, I lost looking at him.

But then seeing his appearance I was reminded of the difference between us, My eyes moved from him and landed on my white gown.

I then again looked at his appearance, and I then realised what white clothes actually look like, I felt self-conscious as I saw my dress which had a slightly yellow hue.

There were lots of wrinkles on it. This space dress was nowhere near as good as his normal casual clothes.

It's actually hurt, Knowing the huge difference between us. Though I don't want him to suffer with me I also want that flame of hope to stay there.

When I start my career, I might be worthy enough for him but this realisation just widens that gap between us.

"Hey, cute face, What brings you here today?"

I decided to leave here, It was a decision made in haste to come here, But when J was about to turn around, He called me.

There's no way I can think of anything else after he called me cute, I just threw all those useless thoughts of difference between us as I faced him.

"N-Nothing, I was hoping tha-that I can stay here today too, I will clean whatever you wanted to clean."

I wanted to ask him about Britta but I wasn't able to bring up that topic, So hesitantly asked him to stay here.

Maybe his music calms me down enough for me to ask him about Britta, Yeah this is a big brain thing.

This way I was not only able to listen to his enchanting music but also able to spend time alone with him and cherry on top, I will also be able to ask him about Britta.

"No need to clean anything, I am happy that Britta was expelled, So you can stay here if you want."

I was already thinking about how to clean the other floor but his words surprised me, This was the topic I wanted to ask him and he just said what I wanted to know.

Is this some kinda sign? Can there be any possibility between us?

When he said that, My thoughts once again became rough and made up multiple things to justify her wanting to be with him.

"Yeah, For that, Tha-Thank you very much."

I ignored those stupid thoughts, now that he brought up Britta's affair, I also followed suit and thanked him.

Now I was sure, He was behind Britta's expulsion. There is no ounce of doubt in my mind.

I felt overwhelming happiness, He did this for me, He did this to Britta because she bullied me right?

There should not have had any romantic feelings for me in his mind but this proves he does care, Which is a win in my eyes.

"Why are you thanking me? It's not like I did this for you, She and I were archenemies, So misunderstood as I did this for you or anything."

He stopped looking at me staring at the piano keys while he spoke to me.

I was thrown off guard by his statement not understanding how it can be this much of a coincidence that just after telling him about bullying, Bully got expelled.

I do not believe it bit that he did not do this for me but his words were also hard to ignore.

'Wait!?! Is he from that rare type of man who women hate and love?'

It clicked with me. This man belonged to that rare group, Which has two types of following. One side fully hates them, While the other madly love them.

A rare type of man, A Legendary Tsundere.

(A/ N : This flashback might end in the next chapter (99% chance of ending flashback not 100% as nothing is absolute)

Chapter 117 117. End Of POV

I was staring at him in amazement, I never thought I would be able to see this legendary type of man in the flesh in front of me.

It's funny, I used to criticise women who fell for them and here I am, Fallen for one.

"Ohh, Yeah still even if you don't intend to, You helped me, and I had to thank you for it."

I know this type very well, So I just agreed with him without pointing out obvious faults in his reasoning.

After all, you should never ever argue with a man, Especially someone like him.

It will always without exception end up at the end you regretting why you even started an argument.

So I was a wise gal and didn't argue with him but there was a wide grin on my face.

"Cute face, If I didn't think you are useful, I would have kicked you out, So before I change that opinion of mine, Stop grinning like an idiot and sit in the corner to enjoy my masterpiece."

I was grinning, The thought of him doing this for me was making me feel emotions that I never felt.

It's just that he might have not liked me staring at him and grinning, So out of shame he said this to me.

There is no doubt, I know he was a little insensitive to the situation but he meant good, He just did not know his words might hurt someone.

That's why like before I ignored words pros and quickly followed his order and sat in the corner, My yesterday's place

Soon he started showing the magic of his fingers...on the piano of course.

A sweet melody filled the room but unlike before this made me happy, I was not forgetting anything.

He did this big thing for me that was playing in my mind, My first meeting with him and all other things.

Unknowest to me, A wide silly smile adoring my lips, Making me look like an idiot.

I was just enjoying this moment of pure bliss. My eyes never leave him, Though my mind was telling me, I was making a huge mistake, I was only going to get hurt but my heart was not listening to it.

The struggle between the two continued as his song gave me more joy than all I felt in my adult life.

"*Phew* Done, So how is it? Do you like it cute face?"

I don't know how this time moved so quickly. What I felt was just a few moments was more than 2 hours.

I looked at him after the music stopped. He did look tired but surprisingly even after 2 hours of continuous playing, He was not that exhausted at all.

This surprised me though I was still worried about him.

"Are you thirsty? D-Do you need water or something ehh... Tha-"

"Alex, Alex Winchester but you can call me Lord Alex or King Alex, Whichever you prefer."

I asked him if he was thirsty, and if he wanted water but while talking I remember I don't know his name at all.

This made me embarrassed, I don't know what to say now but thankfully he didn't abandon me with this awkwardness.

He, realising my embarrassment, said his name, making me relive the shame.

'So his name is Al- Huh!?'

Then while I was overjoyed to know his name I noticed what he actually said throwing me off track, I didn't know how to respond at all.

"Hey, cute face, Are you going to ask me if I wanted water? So what are you waiting for? Ask quickly."

I was here trying to process what just happened. Did he really want me to call him lord or even worse king?

Aren't these the obvious red flag in the mouths of those people? Is he the worst of the worst of species?

"Ye-Yeah, Did you want water, Ki-King Alex."

Fuck it, I called him, Anyway I know he is a good person.

Why should I care about the opinions of some virgin incell on the internet? What do they know? They are clearly stupid.

"Pufft~ Hahah You really said it, You are very funny Grace."

I bore through all that cringe and called him that but to my surprise, He looked at me and burst out laughing.

He was holding his stomach standing with the support of the black piano as he was laughing controllably.

To be honest, He did fool me but looking at him laughing like this with that carefree appearance on his face made me feel it was worth it.

If he will always laughs and be happy like this, I do not need anything more, I will be satisfied with only that much.

So I was not angry but rather glad that he was not the one in the mouth of those internet people. After all, they do know a treasure they can't possess.

"Hah~ Heh, Sorry I did that to you but I couldn't resist it, As I said with your face it's hard not to bully you."

He finally stopped laughing, While wiping away the tears which came out from laughing hard he said these words to me.

And I was as hopeless as I had become, Was happy to hear him say that to me. I will be more than happy if he bullies me like this every day.

"Hey look at the time, I am now officially late for class, So Cute face same time tomorrow?"

I saw Alex smile while remembering my stupidity. I wished this moment would freeze here for eternity.

That unreasonably tempting smug smile adoring his lips was impossible to look away from, But they like every good thing, This also has to end it.

He looked at his wristwatch and casually said he was getting late, After that he just walked towards the exit fumbling with his phone.

I was reculent to let him leave like this, I wanted to spend a little more time with him as I don't know when will I going to see him next but I can't do anything, I am no one to him, Why should he as the man decided to stay alone in the room with a woman?

It makes no sense to even ask that question, So I just let him leave hoping to see him again soon.

But then a miracle happened. While he was leaving he turned to me and asked me a question.

I was stunned to hear it. For a while, I wasn't able to understand the question but when I did there were no bounds to my joy.

"Ye-YES same time."

I was excited and quickly replied but to my dismay, he was already gone just like yesterday but now I was not sad, I know I will see him here tomorrow.

So after calming myself down, I also hurried toward my classroom with a new target in my mind.

I wanted to earn money, earn so much that he can never be sad. With new determination, I started my new day.

———— POV Ended ————

"Meeting him is like a fairytale, So I guess It should also stay as fantasy."

Grace came out of her memories. She stopped looking at her mother through the window and quickly wiped out her tears, Which has a habit of always coming without an invitation.

After she was kinda reliving that moment, Her chaotic mind calmed down.

At that moment all she wanted was to spend time with him and now she got more than what she asked for, So she should be happy with these things.

"How long since he called me cute face? It should be after he officially started dating Alia right?"

Then she also noticed a fact. Before Alex used to call her cute face but after he started dating Alia he never called her that again.

Before she didn't notice it but now she knows, Any chance of her being with him ended that same day, She was just living in false hope.

'Maybe yesterday's thing might be because of pity, He was always so kind-hearted after all.'

When one is in despair, Abyss tries to make them fall more into it, she starts to think a lot more pessimistically.

A thing she knows is not true felt like it might be, She was hurting herself with her imagination. After all, she is a true heroine. It was given that she should have a wild imagination.

"You know, No man likes a crybaby, You are just making a joke of yourself Cute face."

While Grace was drowning herself in her self-created sorrow, A voice rang in the pretty empty hallway of the hospital ward.

Grace's eyes shot open as she quickly looked towards the direction of the sound with expectation and hope.

'He is here, He didn't forget me.'

Grace muttered to herself as she saw the figure of a man coming towards her with that same careless smile adorning his lips.

For while she had the illusion of going back in time to when she first met him, That overwhelming mixture of emotions hit her heart once again.

She, without waiting for anything, just ran towards him and embraced him tightly.

"Hey, Grace don't be misunderstood, It's just a platonic hug."

Alex also embraced her but he didn't break his character and said these words to her.

"What did you say?!!"

But to his surprise, Grace reacted drastically to his words making him wonder if he said too much.

(A/N : Finally did now let's make the life of our old pal Nathan's life living hell 😊)

Chapter 118 118. Duality Of Man

Alex looked at Grace confusedly, Her eyes were red from crying as she is pitiful like an injured animal staring at him.

Seeing her like this he did not understand what happened to her, He was sure his words were not going to have this big effect on her after all he always used to talk like this, It's nothing new.

So he was not sure what was happening to her. He didn't waste time thinking of reason and decided to directly ask her like a normal person.

"Huh!? What happen Grac-"

"Don't call me Grace, Use what you used before."

So he asked but before he finished his sentence, Grace cut him off mid-sentence as the anxiety on her face increased visible to naked eyes.

This time he had to think of it. There was no way to ask her again, So the hamster in his head started running and he came up with a pretty reasonable reason.

"Cute face..?"

Alex was sure it was the reason After she pretty much spelt it out for him by saying to call her Grace, So he can't take all the credit for it.

"Yes!! Please only use this name from now on for me, When we are alone."

Grace heard him calling her like he used to before falling into pure bliss. She was not sure why she was even this much excited but she was overwhelmed with emotions.

These words are a sign of their old relationship, The one which went past his relationship with Alia.

This is her treasured memory and something she can always flaunt in front of Alia, This is her upper hand over her.

"...Okay, I wanted to apologise for yesterday though, Sorry I couldn't make it."

Alex does not understand why someone wants to get called that name. From his memory, he used that for her just because he is not bothered to remember her name.

He even had a slight doubt that she might be M, But this was not time to think about those things, He remembers that he forgot about the promise he made to her yesterday.

He wanted to take her on a date but too many things happened. First Helen, then Rita, and Somehow a new character Violet popped up out of nowhere like a ghost and then a literal ghost also came.

So he can be forgiven for not remembering his promise, right?

Grace was very happy as even though she was the shy type, she still did not break their hug knowing they were in public.

She wanted to feel his warmth to heal her cracked heart. It's the best medicine for her.

When Alex talks about yesterday's broken promise, She became a little sour and there was little resentment.

His not coming yesterday was not that big of a deal but can't he at least should have informed her?

Also, he promised that right after they broke that thin line between friend and lover, he should keep that promise. It's women who sleep and forget about their promises, not men.

"No, It's okay, I can understand someone like Alia will not allow her man to go meet another woman."

So she replied in a way that her words say one thing while her intention spoke another thing.

This is the art of speaking that can only be mastered by women be it in the reverse world or not.

Alex also understands she was jealous, After all even though in this world having more than one partner is allowed but that didn't mean it changed the way a person thinks.

Humans are born possessive be it, man or woman, This is a reason wars happen even though this world is not an exception to the dark side of humanity.

So Alex understands that no matter how high or submissive Grace is she is still a woman with her own possessiveness.

"I wish It was Alia, At least I had gotten a happy ending."

Well, Understanding didn't mean he had to follow through with it, He is still a villain with ambitions to add every walking living female in his harem.

If he agrees with Grace and gives in to her even just this once, Will is definitely going to end his ambitions. In the gamer language, He will hit a dead end with the worst bad ending, Which is also a dead end.

After all, no new woman means no new power and no new power means an easy target for parasites like the protagonist.

So being a scumbag is the only way for someone like him, Who had the Raider System.

Grace realised that she had just now shot herself in the foot by saying that, She very well knew Alex didn't understand how big an impact his words might have on others.

There was only slight jealousy before thinking he was with Alia leaving her alone but now that he said about a happy ending, That flame of jealousy turned into a wildfire burning her whole.

She now decided never to ask this dule type of question to his again, She doing this will not just mean asking for wanting to get hurt even more.

".....So not Alia then who?

Grave didn't know how to react to him, She just asked a question to get over this self-caused embarrassment.

Sbe also wanted to know if Alia didn't stop him, What happened that made him unable to come to her?

Alex here seeing how fast her face changed hearing his answer trying to hold back his laughter, He was sadistic to do this to a poor soul like her.

But he can't help it, It was a matter of survival for him he can't slack off with it.

Still, he has to give her a proper reason for why he did not come yesterday or this will stay forever in her heart.

He did not want to be reminded decades later that he messed up his first promise to her.

"Ohh I saw a ghost yesterday. After seeing that I don't have any will to do anything for a day, So I go home and sleep."

So he just came out and said the truth, He didn't lie a bit in it, This is exactly what he did yesterday.

He did not mention a few points but hey he didn't lie.

"Pfft~ haha *Ahem* No I mean it should be scary right? Do you need me to call a priest or what?"

As expected Grace does not believe him a bit, Who will?

His truth was sounding so fake that he should better just stick with a lie, At least he has gotten away with his dick pass.

Alex was wronged now, He only tells the truth once in while and that's how he was being treated for it?

'It was really a world built on lies. A pure, handsome, beautiful, excellent, dashing, enchanting, smart,....., marvellous man like me is only going to suffer in this cruel world.

Why god, Why did you make me this beautiful?'

Alex complained in his mind blaming god for making him this beautiful.

You have not forgotten he was also a little narcissist right? So one of its episodes was just kicked in.

[.....]

The system is innocent as it is not understood why he was blaming god. Isn't he the one who put all those stats in the charm? Also how come beauty came between this argument?

No matter how you look, No one is going to believe you missed an appointment because of a ghost.

"Huh...Humm???"

Xiao Bai who was standing just right next to him but was ignored by both of them was also as confused as the system.

As his contracted beast she can also hear his monologue as far as the plot allows, So she was not understanding why her host suddenly started blaming others.

"Do you think I am lying? You think I am a liar, Cute face?"

Alex now wanted to defend his honour, He was not a liar...He does not lie right now, He has to prove it.

So with determination, he breaks free from her tight hug and dragged her towards the elevator.

When he came in the morning he was sure he would not take any elevator for a while and now look at him, Dragging someone to that same elevator he was traumatised by, A duality of man.

"Hey, What about mom? Shouldn't we at least tell someone before leaving?"

Grace here had a joking smile on her face, Now she was in a good mood, His words lightened the atmosphere.

She wanted to laugh at how ridiculous those words were, And he acting like a child caught in the act but still trying to double down on his explanation looked very funny in her eyes.

Now Alex was looking cuter and cuter as he was dragging her towards the elevator holding her milky white slender hand.

She followed him without any resistance. She too wanted to see how far he can go to try to prove his false claims.

She no longer needs to know why he did not come yesterday. Now she wanted to know how long until he finally gives up.

She totally enjoyed this childish Alex, This was making her happy for reasons she does not know or understand.

Still, she had not forgotten about Gloria, Her mother, If they leave how can anyone find her when needed?

"Don't worry, Liza will be here soon, If needed I will be the first one she calls, Well even if nothing happens, She will call me, So don't worry about aunty, Focus on more important matters"

When Alex heard her words he paused for a second before he replied to her and continued walking.

"Okay hehe~"

Grace, though not knowing who Liza was, was relieved that Alex had a way to get informed when needed, So she continued following him giggling from time to time.

"Ohh, My dear Alex, I see you are enjoying yourself a lot, That's why you did not have time to reply to my message, right?"

But suddenly Alex's determination of Alex eclipsed as he heard an icy cold word from behind, His face became stiff as he slowly turned towards the speaker.

Then he saw the person he was praying not to see right now.

(A/N : Hey, Do you like this type? I was going to start the beginning writing style.

- Yes
- No

Chapter 119 119. Is She Virgin? - Alia

"Hey Alia, How have you been? Do you feeling alright now?"

Alex was sweating buckets, He did not guess that Alia will be here at this time.

After all, this is a hospital and Alia is a big boss of Exotica, a Beauty brand. She should not be spending all her time here.

But here she was, Looking at him with a slight smile which on her godly face looked very charming and enchanting.

But in his eyes , it was a smile of death, A bad omen, because Alia never ever smiles without any reason unless she wanted to turn a few children into vigilantes with childhood trauma.

So he was on full alert. He had not forgotten what they did yesterday. He thought that at that time she might be super drunk, So she did not know what she was doing.

And now that she came back to her senses, she was definitely seeking for answers. He did not have time to make a perfect excuse yet, So he was hoping not to run into her this soon.

"Ohh, I was fine, I also feel very very very good. All thanks to you, By the way, my mother asked you to meet her. She said she wanted to "talk" with you."

Alia's smile widened even more when he asked her about herself, Though smiling she was gushing her teeth.

He leaves her alone in the underground place, She is not bothered by the leaving but can't he leave a note behind? Or pick up the damn call? She had at least called him 50 times since last night, but not one call was received by him.

Here Alex was shitting bricks, If he can he would rather deal with this Alia all day then to spend a few minutes with Madam Miller.

Alia was afraid of her mother for a reason, So he did not want to meet her at all, At least not now.

He didn't want to make any rash decision, He had to deal with Helen very cautiously or she could be way worse than Alia.

If Helen's true nature came out, Alia will look like a caring, humble, and non-possessive woman.

"That can you tell Madam Miller-"

"Why did your mother want to meet him?"

That's why Alex wanted to avoid meeting with Helen. He was ready to make some top-of-mind excuse to ask for some time from Alia.

But who had thought that a fearful woman like Grace, Who never even dared to stand next to him in front of Alia, spoke and not only spoke but asked for an explanation from her.

Alex was the most shocked and anxious between then and now.

Alia is a B-Rank warrior with SS-Rank superpower, While Grace is a normal human but with peak mortal physiques.

It was okay Grace should be able to defend herself but the problem is that he also used his skill to make Alia also peak physiques.

So if these two fought it would be a one-sided beating, Which he did not want to happen.

'Asura field is inevitable now, Think Alex, think about how to stop this.'

Alex knows their personality of Alia, She doesn't even allow a speck of dust in her eyes.

Grace doing this is equivalent to showing her sovereignty over him, Which yandere like her will never be able to bear.

"Hey, I didn't notice this girl, Alex, who is she?"

Contrary to Alex's imagination, Alia just quickly glanced at Grace before turning her face filled with confusion towards him and asked.

Seeing her doing this Alex knows one thing, In the competition to provoke another, He has to learn much from her.

In one simple sentence, She throws Grace's all confidence and argument on the street.

Grace was of course enraged and felt ashamed. She wanted to at least try to show Alia that she also has some right over Alex. She can't monopolise him alone.

But she never thought that Alia would play dirty. She humiliated her like this in front of Alex. She has to get her face back.

"Alia!! Don't lie, You very well know who I am."

Grace straightened her breast as she looked directly into Alia's icy-cold eyes just to quickly look away.

She wanted to be brave, not stupid. The eyes of Alia show no consideration of human life. She has no doubts about what Alia wanted, She can and will be able to end her subscription to life.

Alia, seeing her reaction, was very satisfied. No one was allowed to challenge her authority and if anyone did, They had to pay the price.

Thankfully Grace was a smart girl not to confuse stupidity with bravery.

"I meet hundreds if not thousands of people daily, Do you expect me to remember every hillbilly?"

Alia didn't even need time to come up with a comeback, Just as Grace's words fell, She had answered her As if she already predicted what she would say.

Alex was not surprised by this. As a main heroine who is also a domineering CEO trope of romance novels, Alia's intelligence can't be doubted about it.

Someone like Grace who is a poor-to-rich trope though smart can't stand against Alia.

Grace also understood that, She raked her brain but wasn't able to find a proper reply to Alia, So she decided to keep her mouth shut to prevent being even more embarrassed.

Alia was proud of defeating her love rival especially, She looked at Grace with the eyes of the winner but suddenly a thought clicked in her mind.

"By the way, She is a virgin right?"

So without any filter, padding or disguise, she asked the question she wanted to ask since she saw Alex with her.

This is very important for her retribution, She had not forgotten about the punishment for herself.

Yes, it was all for punishment, nothing else at all, She promised.

Here Grace felt offended, What did Alia mean by asking this question? Does she look like a virgin?

Well, she is a virgin kinda but she does not look like one. So this time she was ready to counter her point. She has some valid points in this field.

"Huh!? Are you trying to make fun of me? Alia yo-"

"Why do you need to know that Alia? Don't drag Grace in your thing, You should also stop doing something like this."

But this time while she was talking Alex cut her off mid-sentence.

He had not forgotten that a drunk Alia was asking for a virgin and talking about punishment, So he concluded she had joined some kinda cult, Where needed a virgin sacrifice.

So when she asked if Grace was a virgin, A danger alarm rang in his mind. He only wanted to increase his harem, not lessen it.

He didn't know how and when Alia joined a cult. There is nothing like that in the plot but he still did not want her to involve others in it.

He will find a way later to separate her from the dark side and bring her to the grey one but until then he has to protect his harem from her clutches.

Alia was confused hearing Alex's words, She does not understand what he means but then she thinks about it.

'He should have found out about my retribution, so he is trying to prevent me from hurting myself, But I have to do it even more now. He is so caring for me, I can't take his care for granted.'

Yeah of course she misunderstood his words and made it all about herself, Even though it was clear that he was caring most about Grace.

May it be the power of Peach Blossoms eyes or The way the heroine thinks, It's up to you to decide.

"Hey, Why should I waste my time on someone like her? I am talking about this new girl."

Alia then spoke, She at first looked coldly at Grace then pointed at Xiao Bai, Who was looking curiously everywhere turning her head left and right in excitement.

Before coming here Alex put a big white sun hat on her head to hide her cat ears, He gets it at a discount in the system mall when he buys it with a piece of the best meat for Shapira.

As for why it was discounted for that combination? Alex had no idea.

Anyway, Alex looked at Alia's figure at Xiao Bai then at Alia then and once again at Xiao Bai, Then he looked straight towards Alia and answered her.

"Ohh she is Xiao Bai, But don't try to do anything to her, She is very precious to me."

He quickly grabbed Xiao Bai and hugged her, making her close to himself.

"....."

Xiao Bai did not understand what happened but she did not complain. She got to feel that warmth once again, So she was happy.

She stayed in his arms obediently but eye-curious eyes do wander everywhere being amazed by the things.

Grace who was standing close to him was startled, She didn't even notice this woman standing with Alex at all.

Though ashamed for that, She was still very curious. Who was this woman? Is she their soon-to-be sister or already is?

"Wait!! Who is she, Alex?"

So she asked, She too does not have any defence or filters for him.

Alia stayed quiet this time waiting for Alex's answer but to her previous question, She doesn't care about who Xiao Bai is as long as she is a virgin.

Meanwhile, Alex, who wanted to answer, then stopped and stared at the person coming towards them.

Chapter 120 120. Nathan Is Here

Alex ignores these two women as he confusedly looks at the person coming towards him in the wheelchair.

That person was no one else other then Alex's dear old pal, Nathan Gayler.

This time he was still wrapped in bandages, But compared to yesterday he was not looking like a mummy.

The same two men in black from yesterday were pushing his wheelchair as Nathan was complaining to them as always.

Alex was looking at him not understanding why this mentally handicapped guy came here, Seeing his condition he should better stay in bed and rest.

But then again knowing the protagonist's stubbornness, It's reasonable for them not to follow the right path and get themselves into trouble.

He just now wanted to know what kinda trouble Nathan is looking for here.

'Why is he here- Wait!?! Did he come here for her?'

Then it clicked on him who he might come here for, Who can be other than Helen, The person Nathan has had a crush on since childhood and trying these days to get in touch with her?

After all, if he wants to even have a chance to fight for the right of inheritance with his sister, He needs her help or he is not worthy enough to stand against his sister.

But now Helen has already fallen in his camp, Though not officially yet she does now appear in his harem.

So unlike before, He does want these two to meet, This way not only he will go to give Nathan a full body massage (rough) but also reduce Helen's overwhelmed feelings making it easy for him to talk her through later.

It's like hitting two birds with one stone, A very effective plan.

He is already thinking of ways to make it easy for his dear friend Nathan to meet Helen, He can at least do this much after he sends his dear mother to him in the morning.

This is a duty of a true bro, He will not turn away from his responsibilities.

Alex is thinking about how he can make Nathan and Helen meet, While Grace feels like she is sitting on needles.

It's been a little while since she asked the question about who this new woman is but he did not answer him, making her very anxious.

She regretted asking him like she was blaming him. It was all the fault of Aila. She is the one who provoked her, making her say that without thinking about it at first.

"Alex, Why do you blank out like this? If you are not comfortable, You don't have to say it."

So she quickly gave Alex a step, She didn't want to piss him off, As the last time she did that by mistake it had not ended well for her.

She had to clean the whole building to relieve his anger, And even then it took a month of her begging him to make him talk to her again.

"It's not that big of a deal, She is just my pet named Xiao Bai."

Alex looked away from Nathan, Who was stopped at the entrance of the VIP area, Just like two times before.

Then he looked deep into Grace's brown eyes and without any hesitation with a straight face uttered words.

Grace was glad that he answered her. Her anxiousness about her reduced a lot. She was also happy that he told her who this woman was, That's why she quickly replied to him.

"Oh her name is Xiao Bai and she is you- Wait!? What is she?"

But as she was speaking she understood what relationship they have. To her disbelief, it was somehow worse than being his woman.

And what surprised her more than why for a second she hoped to take Xiao Bai's place, As she too wanted to be warped tightly in his arms.

Alia was also thinking the same but there is one key difference between the two of them.

"Pet?! Is this your new fetish? If so, Are there any places available?"

Grace hopes to get what she wants, But Alia will take what she wants.

She liked the idea of being a pet, Which will also serve the purpose of her punishment, As it was getting a lot more time than she thought to gather virgins.

Plus this idea somehow makes her excited for reasons she can't understand or she cares about.

Alex got caught off guard, He did not expect Alia to say something like this, For a moment he even thought she herself wanted to be his pet.

But he rejected that idea outright, someone arrogant, domineering and prideful like her never will get so low of being someone's pet.

So he started to think of alternative options and came up with her wanting to make someone else his pet for punishment.

This makes perfect sense for him and he was kinda right, This is for punishment just not for anyone else but for herself.

"Alia no matter how dumb Rose is, You can't call her an animal and make her a someone's pet."

Alex knows only 5 dumb people, Rose is 2 two of the other three being Nathan himself.

After all, you need to be a special type of brain-dead disease to send your own mother to the bed of your enemy.

Maybe only Jake can come near to him by sending his golden hen, Rita to him.

That's why although he has a headache because of the origin of Violet, He can't be too unfair to Rose. After all, no matter what, Rose is still the first member of his harem.

Well, he still has to punish her for giving him blue balls later but right now he has to defend her.

Alia on other hand hoped to hear a positive reply but to her dismay, Alex misunderstood her and she still had not lost all her self-respect to ask something like that in front of Grace.

So she decided to wait until they were alone.

"...Mom asked to meet you, So you have to come now."

Now that her plan of being his pet failed, She decided to push him towards her mother, Maybe just maybe they will decide to punish her more.

She did not want that to happen but she is saying she will not complain if that did happen, So it's totally up to them.

Grace on the side was again alerted hearing that Alia wanted Alex to meet Madam Miller, This is very dangerous for her relationship with Alex.

After all, she can fight or share his love with Alia but once someone like Madam Miller gets involved, Then there is no way Madam Miler allows her daughter's man to have another woman.

This is a matter of status and pride for the big family.

Once again Grace was also right, No mother will allow her daughter's man to be with another woman unless that woman is she herself.

'It will be fun hehe.'

Unlike Grace, Alex was now happy to go meet with Helen but first, he had to send the cannon folder to be safe.

And who can be a better cannon folder for the protagonist himself? They even come with safety measures making them reusable, unlike normal cannon folders.

"Okay, Let's go, I can't wait to see "Mother-In-law."

So Alex before even talking talked towards the VIP room where Nathan was yet once again arguing with the guard lady.

Xiao Bai in his arms also stayed as quiet as she could and followed him. She was thinking he had forgotten about her, So she can enjoy his warmth for a while.

Grace felt uneasy seeing him agree and even so eager to meet Helen, But she can't do anything. All she could do was to follow him and pray nothing bad would happen.

Alia's face turned red visible to the naked eye, For others, his words were just casual teasing but she was there yesterday sharing him with her mother, Knows the hidden deeper meaning in his words.

It's just that the redness of her face was not totally because of shame but rather most contributed by her excitement.

Yeah, she was excited just by remembering yesterday's events of Alex being with her mother. She now officially has fallen too deep.

"Grace,Sorry but my proof had to wait for a while."

While his brain was concocting the evil plan for Nathan, He had not forgotten about Grace, He turned his head around and spoke to Grace.

Grace here seeing that he cares about her feeling eased a lot, His even small gesture was enough to make her relaxed no matter how worried she is.

So she just followed behind him, Only problem was that Alia too was walking with her.

She glanced at her face which was beet red and concluded that she was right about her daughter showing her boyfriend to her mother.

It's just why Alia was being shy. Shouldn't Alex be more worried? She didn't get this at all.

...

"Do you even know who I am?"

Nathan was pointing his wrapped-in-bandages index finger at the security lady standing in front of the VIP ward entrance.

He was really angry, White was not responding to him and his mother was not picking up his phone now.

The thing that gives him solace is that he knows his mother leaves Alex's dormitory very late, Which means she should have taught him quite a lesson.

But no one responding to him made him worried. If they slack off like this then how can he ever be able to defeat his evil sister and be the heir of the Gayler family?

Wait!?! You didn't think he was worried about them right? Because remember for protagonists only their interests matter.

If they are not gaining anything they just look at the other side in face of injustice saying it was law of the jungle or whatnot.

So when Nathan felt he can't rely on them anymore, He came here as yesterday his guts were telling him all his problems will be solved once he enters this room.

Though now that feeling is gone, He still believes in that feeling, It never wronged him before.

So this time he was ready to barge in forcefully, Doing that also gave him a chance to teach this stupid guard lady a lesson for stopping him from entering before and now.

"Ohh poor boy, Do you have Alzheimer's or Dementia? Don't even know who you are?"

But as he was about to command the man standing behind him to break into the room, He heard the voice of a man he hated the most in this world.
