

Surviving in Woman's world as a novel villain.

Chapter 201 199. First Foolish Mistake

Chapter 201 199. First Foolish Mistake

"Why would the mother be angry? She is not that unreasonable of a person to be angry at any small things."

Rose looked at Alex in confusion not understanding why Alex said that her mother would be angry. She knew her mother is not like her sister Alia who can get angry at anything that did not go in her way.

Helen only gets angry with someone under two conditions, 1 someone did not honour her command and someone insulted her, So there is no way her mother could be angry at this time as there is no one in this city who would do any of those things.

As for Alex telling her that he rejected the offer of marrying her mother, She did not take it to heart thinking it as he was messing with her and trying to get back at her for insulting him.

Though she can see he did not mind her giving him money to leave her sister alone, She does still feel guilty and glad she did it, If she did not she would not get to see how good of a man Alex is it's just for that to happen she had to insult him which is a regret of her life.

"Rose, Just tell her that I agree with your "arrangement", Also tell her that I have a body like hers, It is necessary to tell her that, Do you understand?"

Alex once again wondered at how her luck was trying to protect her and make sure she would survive without her knowing it. Like now she said these words without thinking much but Alex can see it as a soft cushion for her to escape from the wrath of her mother.

Helen should still be eavesdropping on them, So hearing this it will not be odd that her anger will decrease a lot and so will the severity of the punishment, He just prays that it would be enough to ease down Helen.

He though frustrated because of this dumb woman but he did not want her to be hurt. That is the only reason not because she has a superpower he badly wanted, He swear.

For that, he even chimes in trying to take attention from Rose to him. It would be good that Helen would forget about Rose's blunder but that seems a distant dream, It would be good that she just goes easy on Rose.

"What? You are a woman?"

Well, what did you guess happened when a dumb one like her tried to use her non-functioning brain? This.

Right now, Rose with shocked eyes looking at Alex up and down trying to see his woman's side as she thought he is a woman from his words that he has a body like her mother.

She this time was really in shock gazing at his body trying to figure out if he was joking or not but that was too big of a task for her tiny brain, So she just by default accepted her first conclusion and went with it.

Alex could see the constant changes in her experience from surprise to shock then sad to hesitant and so much more, He did not even bother to guess what she was thinking fearing he might lose one or two precious brain cells of his.

Natasha on the side was also looking at Rose with a wide smile on her face. She love this simple-minded young mistress of hers, With Rose she did not have to always be on guard fearing what to say or do like the other two demonesses in the family.

Even Rose being dumb did not bother her, rather she was happy about that and even thinks Rose is the only one in the family who is a normal woman and not some blood-crazed maniac.

So it is safe to say Natasha has yet to meet Violet, If she did she would have a different conclusion about Rose, After all, Violet is like Alia but on steroids.

"Yes, I am a woman, A strong one too. Do you have any problem with it?"

Alex decided to give her a taste of her own medicine, He really got annoyed with her antics. It's okay not to understand what he was talking about as she was not aware of the hidden world.

But she could have just asked if she did not understand like any normal person would not just assume what he mean and go with it, So he too decided to fuck with her.

Anyway, there is nothing much fun to do. Well, there is Xin Yan but he can't do that to her as he was 90 percent sure she will pass out if he even goes an inch near her lips for the kiss out of excitement.

As Liza was busy and Sandra was taking care of worried Grace there is no one where he can mess around, He also had to stay here till midnight to deal with Gloria's issue, So there is only Rose he can have fun with her.

Though Natasha and Helen are valid options but he was sure if he goes to Helen he will be kidnapped and put in the dungeon somewhere, She as S-rank can act as wantonly as she wants.

And if he messes with Natasha here, He had to book his next day to attend her funeral. There is no way Helen or Alia will accept the cuckery by Natasha right under their nose.

So Rose is it, Plus she is a good tease as there will be no serious consequences messing with her, At best she will be annoyed and throw mild tantrums, Which he can deal with.

"I-I, Wh-y Ahem I me-an why do have any problem, I-I that, you."

Hearing the words of Alex, Rose could not understand how to deal with the situation, She was not sure if he was messing with her or not but with how much confidence he spoke, She did not have the guts to ask for clarification for fear of offending him.

But unknown to Alex his simple words of tease have a long-lasting effect on her fragile brain, He knows she was in love with Alex and now that he confirms he is a woman screwed her brain.

She even doubted her own sexual orientation putting her in a mental crisis and making her doubt all the things she knew upto now. Before she was thinking and hesitating because of these thoughts and now they were becoming stronger and stronger.

"What? Now I am a woman you don't want to marry me, Is what you are saying? I didn't know you were this kind of person Rose, I really misjudged you."

Alex not knowing that he was playing with a fire doubled down his teasing of her, In his mind what worse could happen with this? Forgetting key information that she is a reality bender.

Yes, As you guess if he walked on this road, Only misery would be waiting for him.

[Ding! Detected that the host is making a foolish decision for the first time...

A warning choice function is activated....

Reward : Almighty Protection of Manhood.

[3] Do you have any fucking idea what are you doing? If you don't please do it till you find out.

Task : Keep teasing Rose.

Reward : Supreme Ying cultivation technique (Made for women), 50+ favorability of all protagonists towards you.

(Note : Please choose wisely host.)]

The system also detected how stupid Alex was being, He normally only considers what will happen if Heroin gets angry, So out of habit he also did it here completely missing out Rose is not a normal heroine.

A habit of Alex and his underestimating Rose nearly put the first recommendation of a system of dealing with the protagonist back onto the table, the table he ruthlessly destroyed before.

Thankfully the system has precautions for things like this, So it was quick to jump and point out what he was doing and a process even unlocked a new function of the system.

'Gulp Se-Second optithe on, please choose the second option system.'

Alex here was sweating buckets cursing himself how could he let this happen, How could he about to make this dumbest mistake? How could he forget she is a fucking reality bender who can change reality if she believes it.

He quickly in haste chose the 2nd option, While still in the shock at how he could allow his guard to be this low in front of Rose and then it clicked him.

'Does this woman believe stupidity and dumbness are contagious?'

He looked at Rose and asked himself, The last time he was not able to think much was when he came into contact with Rose. He even said that it was Rose who was spreading her dumbness to dodge the blame.

But what if this is the case? What if he being in her presence lowering his IQ? It is a highly possible hypothesis, As there is no way he who can even make someone scheming and a treacherous woman like Belladonna helpless was about to do something like braindead like this.

"No, I believe you are wome-"

"No, I am not, I was just messing with you, Look I have proof."

Alex was thinking about the causes that made him do that but to his horror, he heard what Rose was about to say. He was quick to interrupt her in haste and without any shame and dropped his pants showing his proof that he is a man.

(A/N : I felt like it would be a crime against humanity, If I did not talk about this possibility of reality-bending powers. We all at some point thought of it, don't we or I am the weird one? ☐☐

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 202 200. Underestimating Dumbness

"...."

Silence, A deathly silence prevailed in the hallway after he pulled this stunt as Rose's eyes were nearly popped out of her eyes while Natasha was though covered her eyes with her hands but it was useless as there was a huge gap in her finger from which her two wide curious and terrified eyes staring at his nether region.

Poor Xin Yan could not able to handle the shock of seeing his mighty manhood and was passed out on the spot thankfully Alex was aware of it and was able to make sure she would not hurt herself and gently put her down.

As for Xiao Bai? Maybe it is fortune or misfortune depending on how one sees it that is because she was hanging on his body with the support of his neck, His sleeping manhood was not in her field of vision, She was ignorant of what just happened to pretend to be asleep in his arms.

Alex was though felt uneasy but seeing that his little brother was still with him, He felt like he might burst out crying, This dumb woman is a plague he hoped that Helen would teach her on his behalf too. No wonder these women survive in this world.

After all, being in her presence their IQ would drop and unlike her, poor bystanders did not have world-defying luck, So natural selection might have taken care of them, He was sure of it.

"Would you two women stop staring at my mighty beautiful work of art ding-dong? It's considered sexual harassment you know."

Alex decided that if he was being shameless then why not go all out? Anyway, this is a secluded corner that also comes into the blind spot of the surveillance cameras, He made sure of it.

The only reason this plague of women was able to find him would be because of her damned luck, There is no reason for it.

"Tha-That yo-u have se-second I-I-leg Alex."

Rose hearing his words spoke out what was in her mind still shocked by the fact why it is so big? 3 inches are considered the biggest size for a man and here Alex has around 5 or even 6-inch one, Double the size of which is the maximum of other men.

And that too when it was not erected, She could not even think of how big it would be if it actually awakened from its deep slumber. There was both curiosity and fear she had for the thing that was considered the first step towards the sin.

There were lots of complicated thoughts in her mind and yeah in them there was no possibility of him being a woman, After all the proof he gave to her was so solid that she can not refute it.

It's just the mere size was concerning to her, she was not even sure that it could even fit inside her, Which terrified her a lot as that night they were about to do it but at the same time there was an urge in her heart yelling at her it would be worth it even if she was torn apart because of it.

Natasha too was not able to grasp the situation, or say the size of the situation for lack of better words.

She wanted to look away, stop ogling at his sleeping dragon but she could not. She did not want to get into trouble with her Miss Alia at all as she knew how possessive that woman is but she still could not look away.

Her heart wonders about the miracle of the sheer size of his thing. It was nearly hypnotising how perfect and attractive his thing was looking at this moment.

Thankfully these women don't know the fact that he has a passive of perfect D, In which there is virtually no limit on how big or small his little brother can be to be the perfect to please each and every woman's needs as each woman has different preferences.

Right now it was 6 inches because of Sandra, For her it was a perfect and ideal size to please her to the fullest, Though he can also change his size at will but he did not do it as he never thought that he would have to pull this stunt.

"It's It's growing!!!"

Alex wanted to pull up his pants when Rose exclaimed in shock still could not believe it can get bigger than the current size of it's, Natasha too was focusing on the changes down there ignoring how hot her body had become from all this making her feel like she was set on fire.

Alex looked down and yeah it was waking up from its slumber. After all, two sensual seductive beauties were staring at it. It felt like it was time to perform and hence it was ready to stretch itself out to show its full might.

Gulp

Both Rose and Natasha gulped simultaneously looking at its growing figure, Both were afraid and curious to know how big it might end up after fully stretching out.

But alas it seems their stars were not with them as before the mighty dragon would completely wake up and roar its presence to the world a sheet of chains trapped its rise and once again forced it to go back from the sight of the world.

The only sign of its remnant was the bulge in its place and its time-to-time throbbing, trying its futile to attempt to break free from this evil bondage put on by the evil being.

"Show is over, If you want to see it you have to pay."

Alex pulled up his pants in the reluctant unwilling eyes of the duo, Though he would not mind if two heavenly beauties were to look at him you know what but that would be the case if they were alone.

Right now not only were they in a public place it didn't matter how secluded it was but it was still an open public place but there is also someone like Helen whose eyes were on them.

And knowing Alia, There is a high chance she too also has arrangements here to spy on people. She will not miss the blind spot like this though he did not feel any presence of a camera on them but there can be other things he is not aware of.

After all, he calls her crazy chick for the reason, A certificated yandere.

"h-How much?"

Alex was ready to go away leaving Rose to her fate but to his shock, He still underestimated how stupid one can be, Rose with a straight face looked at him with a straight face while asking how much.

It took Alex a moment to talk about what she was talking about but when he did he was dumbfounded. This woman really thought that he was asking for money to see more, But then one thing also hit him.

Why did he even first placed said that to her fully knowing how her brain operates? A warning bell rang in his mind as he could tell he was being infected by her stupidity and it would not be long he would be dumb or dumber than her.

Alex's eyes with hope looked at Natasha. This woman might be not infected by the stupidity of Rose but Natasha did just look at him as if waiting for him to say his price.

He knows this damn woman is acting again, This time for not being lazy but just horny wanting to see more by tagging along with Rose.

"Rose, Why don't you go and ask that question to your mother? When she tells you the price, I will show it to you for free. Also bring Natasha with you as the more the merrier, Right?"

Alex this time was not allowing Natasha to get away with this, Neither did he allow Rose to walk away making him feel like a dumb man, So he focused on and through surprisingly hard thinking, He came up with the solution.

So he just said this to her knowing that Rose is dumb enough to actually do this, He then looked at Natasha whose face turned white as she understood what he was trying to do.

She wanted to tell Rose that it is a trap but then thinking she was talking about Rose, She dropped the idea as it will be as wasteful as trying to disinfect a soap, So she could only look at Alex in hope.

She is really fearing for her life now. Her fear is not unfounded though as she knows who Helen is and how much power that woman held. If someone pissed her off like this, then surely she can tell that Helen will go berserk. Her mood is already low for some unknown reason.

But to her horror, Alex just looked at her with a smug smile. He is not worried about her death as heroin. It is impossible to happen to her but she surely will have to go through some pain.

It should be given. After all, he was sure that the idea of Alia trying to force herself on him should come from her as she would never think like that, So she needs to be punished a little.

He was just a second away from being a eunuch because he suggested Natasha, So a little punishment is due.

"Okay, I will, Wait for me."

As expected, Rose did not think much of it. She became happy and then grabbed the wrist of terrified Natasha and dragged her towards the ward of her mother.

"Ward of an evil spirit, Amitaba."

Alex clapped his hands and said the words he read in the novels as he saw Rose turning towards Helen's wards. After that, he too decided to go take a break as he might need to use his three times holy blessing on these unfortunate fools.

(A/N : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Alex just watched and make sure that Rose got out of his line of sight and thankfully as she was gone he could feel his brain was back online and was fully operational working overtime to feel the gap of its absence.

'System, Quickly show me my reward.'

Alex did not wait after that and asked the system for the rewards he desperately wanted. After almost losing his little brother, He find out he might be pretty much immortal thanks to his acting skill but will that be a good thing?

What would he do living that long if there is no joy in his life? It would be a meaningless time with meaningless people who would either die eventually without experiencing the luxury of life.

So now that he at any cost wanted to ensure that thing like this would not happen ever again, Thankfully system is big-hearted and offered him the reward he was needed the most, He could not thank enough of his stars that he got this understanding system not the those stupid ones in Xiao Bai novels.

[Ding! It's detected that the 2nd task is completed...

Rewards are being distributed...

Congratulations to the host for getting the passive skill "Almighty Protection Of Manhood."

Almighty Protection Of Manhood : This passive skill is as it's described as, This passive skill will protect your manhood group each and every harm there is, From the normal blunt trauma on them to the reality-bending power, Nothing can even remotely pose a threat to your manhood.

It's to be noted that there is no way to harm or try to take away your manhood in any way possible but that also means that you would not be able to change your gender once this passive is activated.

So host, are you sure you wanted to activate this passive skill? Please note it and an irreversible action.

Please chose : Y/N]

The system did not know how proud and lucky Alex felt at this moment as it did its duty and distributed the rewards Alex was waiting for to receive it.

'Yes, Of course, I chose to activate it.'

Alex almost blurted out his words as he heard the system's voice. He read the information of his reward and was quite happy that this thing is irreversible which is given after all it has Almighty in its name.

He hurriedly accepted it. He was just waiting to feel the sensation of warmth spreading throughout his body as it normally does which will calm down his chaotic heart.

[Ding! As your wish host, Almighty Protection Of Manhood is taking effect, Please wait a second...

It's done, Almighty protection of Manhood is in full effect, Please enjoy your manhood without fearing losing it ever again.]

System voice fell as Alex felt that special indescribable warmth in his nether region, Though it was there for a second and then passed away without changing much but Alex was sure that he was safe now.

"Now what do I do with you, You light-hearted women?"

Alex after making sure that it's effect was fully placed on him as he did not want to take any chances of things like this, Put his attention on Xin Yan who was still not coming back to her senses.

He crouched down and looked at her, there was a strand of hair blemishing her fully moon-like beautiful oval face, so he just picked it up and gently put it back behind her ear as he said to her in annoyed and yet little happy tone.

This is the only woman who did not hide how much she was affected by his looks, Or she is not capable of hiding it even if she tried, which in his eyes both annoying as he could not do anything with her for now but also cute as how easy it is to tease her.

He knew how her fate was supposed to be, she was supposed to die in some ditch just because she went against the women of the protagonist. All her talent and such was becoming useless in front of the protagonist's luck.

And she was not even wrong, All she wanted Liza to follow the protocols and rules which were there for the safety of patients, for whom she had taken the hypocrite maybe but the oath of protection.

But how can Protagonist, for whom the rules and the one who follow rules are mortal enemies, can bear that Xin Yan was lecturing Liza about the protocols and such.

Even Liza was agreeing to Xin Yan's point. It was just that she had enough confidence in her skills to ignore it. It's just that Nathan did not like it and because of that this woman fell down so much that she had to beg just to fill her stomach.

"I will never allow that to happen to you, Xin Yan."

Alex gently rubbed her head as he lifted her in his arms and took her not to the doctor's resting place but to Grace's waiting room, Xiao Bai seeing that he needs to carry Xin Yan in his arms, Quickly changed her position and got on his back but did not leave his body at all.

Alex ignored her behaviour and let her be, He carried both of them to the waiting room and entre in it, He was surprised to find that both Sandra and Grace were not present there but thinking he wasted quite some time with Rose in which they should have gotten news of awaking of Gloria, So they are there.

He put Xin Yan on the bed and covered her with the blanket up to her neck as there is quite low temperature in the room thanks to all the air conditioners running in the VIP waiting room.

"Let's see what is happening outside my world."

After he laid her down, He pulled out his phone from his pocket and started looking through all the backlog of the messages he ignored before, And to his surprise, there were a lot of messages pending.

He is quite popular at school, So it was not that message that surprised him but the context of it did because most of these messages were from his bank about the deposits being made.

He took a second before he remembered that previous Alex did not like that streaming site taking a share of his money and it took a month to get paid by the site.

So he did not sign an exclusive contract with them, And then just gave his back digital wallet number in which other viewers can "gift" him, Which worked out more than he thought it would.

And because he did not delete that information as his video song went viral he had received money as a gift in millions. He did not count it but it should be around 5 to 6 million

Which was a big number for him but seeing there is 13.07 billion in his account eating dust it did not feel that much, But he was happy that his song had gone viral, Which means there should be lots of RP points.

'I have to make another song soon to keep up the flame.'

Alex thought of it as it is a time to feed the flames which will give him even more popularity and reach.

After that thought Alex just filtered out all his bank's messages and started looking at messages from his classmates, Who also left too many messages, Most of them just congregating him on his success and sympathy, Which he just scrolled past until he stopped seeing a weird message.

Big Bitc: Are you dead? If not, I need your presentation until next monday, If not presented on time then regretfully you have to repeat the year.

Alex stopped seeing this message, He looked at the name but it did not ring any bell in his mind for a moment, The name definitely trying to call other party bitch but did not wrote it fully as to avoid trouble, This is a passive-aggressive message to another party as they can read the name save by him.

"Wait!?! Isn't she my piano and dancing teacher?"

Then it clicked to him, This woman is his teacher, A piano and dancing teacher. How can she take two positions at the same time in the same school because in a novel anything can happen? Don't question it.

Old Alex used to hate this woman as she did not bend to his antics nor she had any fear of him being the boyfriend of Alia, a big boss in the city, Which used to annoy him to no degree, Which is how there was bad blood between them.

Though this teacher tried to reach out to him and try to make him see her point as any good teacher would, He did not appreciate it rather it annoyed him even more, So much so that he tried to change her class but was not able to for some reason.

'Hum, interesting, She definitely has some secrets, I need to look into her.'

Alex rubbed his chin as a new person popped up, Which ignited his curiosity.

(AN : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"Wh-Where am I-Ahh!!!"

Jake slowly started to wake with the pain all over his body, He tried to stand up but sharp pain from his abdomen halted all his action as he yelped in anguish kneeling down holding his abdomen in pain.

"Why is it hurting so much? Wait why there is blood?"

He glanced down trying to look at what was a problem, Why he felt stabbing pain, He opened his hand just to see his hand is coated in the red liquid, For a second he did not understand what this liquid was but then he understood it was blood, He was bleeding.

Jake was shocked but he did not miss a beat to give himself first aid to his wound, But before that he needed to know the cause of his bleeding, So he unbuttoned his shirt revealing the wound then ran a searching technique his master taught him to survey the wound for the cause of injury.

"Wait!!! Who the fuck took my kidney!!!"

Well, he finds out the reason, Someone stole his fucking kidney and did a so-so job to close the wound before dropping him here under the bridge.

This made Jake panic, He ignored the kidney part and started to search his body in anxiety with fear on his face.

"Gone, It's all gone they took everything, My Dragon lord ring too is taken away."

Jake collapsed on the ground after this revelation, He did not have any will to do anything right now, Just lay down and try to wake up from this nightmare of his, He knew once that ring is gone he is nothing.

His Dragon Gate organisation works weirdly because members don't listen to orders of a person with title but directly from Dragon throne. They only take orders from the one who is seated on that throne and that ring of his is the one which gives him the right to sit on that throne.

It's done this way because to their principle of survival of the fittest. If someone can get the ring from him then they would be the one who gets the right to sit on the throne and become the new dragon lord.

In their organization there is mostly no rule other than one, That is they should be loyal to the Dragon gate. They can't go against the command of the dragon lord but can do anything without violating the orders to get the ring and Dragonlord himself also can't give orders that prevent others from trying to get his ring.

Well, it is a dog-eat-dog rule but this is also used to filter out the best of the best candidates for Dragon Lord.

Before Jake used to be proud of this, As even if he technically get the throne of dragon lord because he was a student of the previous dragon lord who is his teacher but he did defend his ring many times that others did not dare to confront him head-on as he used to be S-Rank warrior, the youngest S-Rank in history.

But now he was nothing but a joke. First, he lost to the F-Rank warrior now he was robbed of everything including his damn kidney.

"What kinda city is this? Even kidneys can be stolen like a robbery. You better pray I find you soon and get back my ring, If not I will show you why I am called a blood demon."

Jake after feeling helpless, filled with rage, His eyes have a fire of revenge burning in them as he decided to torture those robber till the end of their pathetic life, He never imagine someone like him have to suffer this much.

"It was him, It was all fault of that white face ugly bastard, It was him why I end up here, I have to teach him a lesson too."

After his ranting, Jake remembers the "ugly" face of a man which was the reason for his current condition. Of course, as the protagonist, he is going to ignore the fact that he was the one who attacked Alex without any provocation only because he did not like his "ugly" face.

He would taint the name of his whole species if he understands his actions has consequences and others will not just lay there and let him hit them in their faces.

"Wait! Hahah, Why should I worry about losing the power of Dragonlord, There is still my dear sister and the power of the Miller family with me, I can easily find both rings and punish that white face, Hahaha! Ahhhh!!! Ouch!! wound is opened, Damn you white face!!"

A beautiful enchanting figure flashed in front of Jake's eyes which washed off all his worries. He laughed as he felt foolish about why he was worrying about when there is the mighty Black Rose sister of his here to help him.

He was so overjoyed that he started laughing maniacally forgetting his wound which ended up tearing it open even more, giving him excruciating pain and making him curse of course Alex as somehow he was at fault for even this one.

'I did not have any Spiritual Power left in my body to seal this wound, How can I go home in this condition.'

Then he found out the scary part. His core was damaged trying to use Lord's seal, so there was not an ounce of power in his body.

He tried to replenish the power by running his cultivate technique but it was as useless as trying to fill up a colander, All the power he collect just leaked out of his body hurting him more in the process.

So he has no way other than to grit his teeth and hobble out of there holding his abdomen still not forgetting to curse Alex while he was making his way in the search of the Miller family house as he didn't know where he was.

.....

"Why hasn't Mother arrived yet?"

Nathan was lying down on the bed being completely covered in bandages from head to toe. Only his eyes and mouth were open and he used that to stare at the door waiting for his mother but she did not show up yet.

"Young master, Madam Gayler is in her office and said she will be working overnight on the important thing. She said she is sorry and asked you to take care. She will come home when the task has been done."

Miss White wearing the White mask popped beside him kneeling on the ground and informing him about the news, While she was saying her eyes looked at him in pain and anger.

She was enraged that which monster dared to hurt her young master this badly. If she finds them she will make that person pay for their sin.

'Is Mother directly going on war with the Miller family? It would be great no matter how strong the Miller family is, they would never want to have a direct conflict with a strong family like us and will definitely throw that white face under the bus to cut losses.'

Other than Nathan being angry or sad his mother was not here with him to take care of him, He was glad thinking she was working this hard because she was going on war with the Miller family to get him justice.

Well yeah, she is working hard right now to work even harder at night with Alex and others which she didn't know about. It's just that if this fact will be known to him, his poor heart might not be able to handle it.

If that happens, who is going to call Alex Daddy? Of course his mother and sister, Is that even a question?

"Okay, Go away now let me rest."

Nathan was happy now, So he knowing his mother would not come today decided to sleep being lost in the fantasy of being with that beauty he fell in love at first sight while he punished Alex.

"No, I can't let this go, I have to go punish that Alex guy for hurting my young master."

When Nathan fell asleep, Miss White could not bear it and decided to take matters into her own hands.

She wanted to go right now and beat Alex but she did not want to leave Nathan's side as she did not trust anyone in this family for the safety of her young master except Mister no.1 and no.2, Which were the bodyguard's Miss Gayler gave to him.

'Those two are really brave, They saved the young master even in front of S-Rank warrior, They have proven their loyalty, I can leave the young master in their care while I take care of that Alex guy.'

Pure innocent Miss White did not know how politics work and really thought those bodyguards were the most trustful people she can rely on to protect Nathan in her place.

She really believes they two saved Nathan from the S-Rank warrior who attacked Nathan unprovoked as this is the story she heard and believe it when she saw her youngster did not oppose to this news.

The only problem is that they were too hurt in the rescue of the youngster and are now taking time off to get a medical Thai massage and have a night off today, So she had to wait till they come back, So she can hand over the responsibility of Nathan to them.

(A/N : Sorry for taking a break unannounced but I just needed a break to cool down my thoughts and get that old charm back, I try my best to get it back.

Also today might be another update, if not it would be there next noon.

Again regular updates like before, 1 chapter a day.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"Miss we have done what you asked and not only that we also took out every valuable thing that was on that beggar which was not a lot, So we have to improvise."

A very cute girl was standing in front of an elegant beauty with a charm that made even elves in fairy tales ashamed of themselves for quoting themselves as the most beautiful species.

Right now this indescribable work of art was standing in front of the big mirror checking if the new dress she brought is suit on her or not, Which was a question that was not even worth asking as with her beauty no matter what she wears it would suit her.

But that woman did not think so. Tomorrow she has an appointment with the rude men who not only steal from others necklaces but also sympathy with his cute sidekick. She can't do anything with that sidekick, So she decided to target the root cause of her problems.

Because what is sad part is that this man is the one everything she can ask for. He is so handsome that no one besides him dares to call themselves handsome in shame. Can be said to one in the world level of beauty.

He is so smart as she first-hand experiences his damned brain at work, He is also too strong. In a physical fight she stands no chance in front of him and after seeing what he possessed even her Superpower will not be that helpful in front of that monster.

As for talent? No one can go near on talent, especially his singing, His song has that enchanting captivating powers that she was not sure is even humanly possible if not for knowing his superpower is related to fire, She thought he was using his superpower to cheat

So he is indeed the man of her dreams, The one she was waiting for all her life. The only problem is that this man's nature is too hard to predict. Is he good? Bad? Evil! Green tea? Or just pretending to be one fearing to get hurt again? She does not know.

That's why she decided to take matters into her own hands. If she makes him fall for her then he will surely open up to her. He will also sing her his divine songs just to hope it is about love and not heartbreak.

"Huh? I didn't tell you to take out valuables from him? I just said beat him half to death and throw him somewhere. We are not thieves for stealing things like that, We are civilised tax paying respected citizens of this city."

Rebecca turned to look at her subordinate and asked her in a very genuine innocent tone, Her voice was very sweet making someone feel that they just ate honey.

Yes, As She is a heroine inspired by Manhuwa there is no need to explain about her looks and charm, She can stand in front of Alia and can go toe to toe with her in terms of looks, It's come to the preference to decide which one would win in between them.

As for the raw sexiness? Then Alia stood no chance, She created for the sex appeal, Each and every part of hers is filled to the brim with a seductive charm, A worthy opponent for standing against someone like Alia as her recognized competitor.

"But we already did it, My lady."

The cute girl did not mind the words of her young mistress, She knows how much her young miss love law and order and always follow them whenever she can in her own ways but in this case, it can't be done.

That man even after being badly injured still able to fight them off, He injured around 20 E-class warriors and 5 C-Class warriors before they were able to overwhelm him.

That man has to pay some compensation before they let him go, So she decided to check and take whatever valuables they can hence she searched but only found a few scraps there was nothing valuable on that beggar's body, So she decided to improvise.

"Here all he had was an old ruby metal ring, A 7-year-old keypad phone, A working healthy kidney, And a tattered wallet with 10.22 UC in it. All in all, we did not lose much because of him."

So that cute girl came in front of Rebecca and slowly started to put things down by having the same innocent smile not harming any animals.

"Well, he was an insane but poor man and WAIT! Working what?!"

Rebecca at first did not pay any attention to the cute girl, She was just checking herself out clearly not happy with the dress, Normally she did not care much about her dressing sense but since she decided that she wanted to win that man's heart, She had to upgrade her game.

So all her attention was on the mirror in front of her trying to find where this dress was lacking. She personally called the best designer to make this dress urgently. It should have been perfect for her but she still felt it was lacking something.

Amidst of that, She did not hear much of what that cute girl said, But then suddenly it kicked her. She with shock in her eyes turned around just to see a portable cooler being put on the table.

She with horror in her voice asked a cute girl out hoping she heard something wrong.

"Huh!? Oh, working healthy kidney miss, Surprisingly that man had a very healthy working kidney, I thought with his looks he had become hollow because of lust till now, that was not the case it seems."

A cute girl who has yet to get any name as an author is lazy as fuck, Looked at Rebecca and innocently said because for her it is really not that big of a deal, She not understanding the depth of this matter at all.

"Do you understand what you did? Which sane person steals a kidney in broad daylight? It is not only morally but legally wrong and Ohh, Pretty ring, This is what was lacking in my dress."

Rebecca was furious. She knows that cute girl didn't know how the outside world works but it's still not excusable to steal someone's kidney. She wanted to go on and on about her rant but then her eyes fell on the scarlet ruby ring.

The argument and rant she prepared for the cute girl were thrown out of the window. She quickly picked it up and wore it on her finger. Then she looked in the mirror and it was a perfect match with her scarlet red dress.

That confirms that she is not only stupid but also has the attention span of goldfish, It is not for the fact that her IQ gets boosted when needed, Her company has long since had to close its door and declare bankruptcy.

"Miss I should leave now, I have to take care of school yet."

The cute girl was happy seeing her young mistress who liked what he brought. Though she was hoping Rebecca would praise her for taking the kidney as that is the most valuable thing here but she was still happy that at least something liked by her young lady.

"Yeah go, You should take extra care of school today as tomorrow I am bringing my boyfriend with me there to have fun."

Rebecca who had completely forgotten about the kidney matter was taking good look in the mirror confirming that she made the right decision, This ring is the thing that was lacking in this dress, Now it looks perfect.

She is currently not only mad at the cute girl, but She was also glad she took these things. If not, how can she find the perfect match ring for her dress?

That's why she let go of that cute girl without any punishment as always, She just lost looking at the ring in her hand. It was quite old but didn't look bad and had a different kinda charm.

The whole body of the ring was inscribed with drawings and letters which looked quite elegant. Those things definitely should have some deep meaning but it was Rebecca we are talking about.

All Rebecca saw was that it looked good and that's all. After making sure she looked perfect, Rebecca turned her attention towards the other thing that she could not wait to use till tomorrow.

....

"How long till midnight? I have too many things to say to many people to do tonight, It will be a long night."

There Rebecca could not wait for the morning and here Alex was inside the waiting room of the hospital counting the time till midnight. When his Holy blessing skill was refreshed, He had to treat Gloria and then had to go take care of those hungry wolves at home.

But unfortunately, there is still an hour or so till midnight, So he needs to wait till then.

(A/N : Sorry for taking a long break like this without any announcement, I apologise, Now for surely expect regular updates like before, Once again I am sorry 🙇)

"Sigh Your life is way easy girl, Just lay in my arms and sleep without any worries"

Alex put his phone down and after rubbing the white silky hair of sleeping Xiao Bai on his lap, Yes she still did not leave his body yet, Just right now other than hanging on his body, She was seating on his lap and putting her tiny soft body on him sleeping without the care of the world.

Alex ran his hand over her hair while thinking about issues he had to deal with, some missions are yet to complete, He also had to deal with Jake yet and more importantly, he didn't see Alia for a long time, He just hoped she was not upto some crazy thing.

And the thought of being crazy, He also remembers that his sister Amara did not contact him all day but he who knows her understands, She didn't call to ask him about it because she is getting news of his every moment of life.

The bodyguards around him are not only there for protection but they are also there to monitor his actions, After all, no matter what he was and still is the heir of the Winchester family.

So there is constant monitoring of him and the people around him to filter out any threat to his safety. Thankfully this information is super qualified and only two people in his family can get it, One being his sister Amara, While later is his dear mother.

'There still is Belladonna, God knows what she is up to now. Just hope she does not mess up my planning regarding taking care of those two parasites wandering In the city.'

Alex then remembers one more woman he had to beware of, The killer beauty both metaphorically and literally, Also known as night empress because of her dark side powers and she prefers to do her things at night, When her summons are the strongest.

Alex's mind was going through a lot. In these few days, he was surprised at how many things had happened and how much more he had to do. There are around 4 to 5 side missions he has yet to complete, Also the fact that he hasn't raided someone new for a while.

Yeah, he raids a few heroines but that is not true raiding, As when he raids them properly he will get extra rewards on top of the successful raid.

Ding

When he was thinking about how to deal with Rebecca as she is the available one he can raid, His phone rang, He picked up and when he saw the message corner of his lips raised up.

Unknown : Are you home yet? Sorry, I am running late with office work but I will be there soon. It's the same as morning, right?

Unknown : Sorry for the delay, Nathan does not know about this, I said I will be working all night, So I can't leave or he will be suspicious if he finds out.

Alex read the message, Even though he did not save the number, There is no need for Alex to guess who this person is as she herself revealed herself.

The One : Don't worry, I understand. Take your time as I am still in the hospital, it will take some time here.

The One : By the way don't feel bad lying to Nathan, You will be working all night, So it will not be a lie, See you soon Kiss emoji

Alex smirked evilly as he replied to Isabella, He can't describe how badly he wanted to see the face of Nathan when he will find out what the meaning of "all night work" is in his mother's mouth.

If not for the fact that he needed to be here to treat Gloria to destroy all the other future casualties, He didn't even wait here now, He should be at his dormitory waiting for her and-

'FUCK!! What about others? Are they reaching my dormitory?'

Alex was excited but it didn't take long for him to realise that he was sitting right here and he sent his women's his dormitory. If those crazy heroines come in front of each other without him being present, They will start a battle royal among themselves.

He dropped everything from his mind and focused on only one thing, Is to figure out the position of others right now, He started to go through the habits and schedules of each heroine to figure it out.

'Rita should still be sleeping, Amara right now definitely be in the office going through all the records to make sure it is right in the branch here, Lisa is with me here, Isabella is still working in her own office, Sandra is also with me here at the hospital, So that is also not a problem. Well, it seems there is no problem yet.'

Alex goes through each woman he asked to come to his dormitory tonight and after thinking about it, He is still not too late, No one should have gone to meet him there.

Rita should be laying around the dormitory as it is a very long since she had taken any proper rest, Amara just come here yesterday night she needs to monitor their multiple business branches here to maintain and look through any fraud, Though others can do that but as a Villainess she doesn't trust other except maybe him.

So those two were settled. The unicorn Lisa is here taking care of Gloria, Which means she might not even be able to attend tonight's event, Which is kinda good as there are already too many people present there.

He can handle them in bed without any problem but it's another thing to handle them in arguments, So it's better Lisa would not be there, The most concerned person right now for Alex is the wild card entry of Sandra.

He can handle heroines but Female Lead is another story. That is because heroines are thought at first not like Harem but be it for plot or character design, They never are totally against it.

But Female Leads are made to be only one for their ML, They don't even allow their man to be in contact with another woman, So it's no surprise what will happen if Alex asked her to share him in bed with another woman.

The whole world might turn upside down. If he tried he could convince Sandra to do it with one woman but that too would be stretching it very thin, So he decided not to bring her there.

She needs time and proper little doses of exposure before she builds immunity for sharing him with another woman.

'But where to put her? Ahh!! Damn it too many women to handle, Thankfully most of the other women are not available for right now or it would be impossible to deal with it.'

Alex holds his head and falls into thinking, It's best to put Sandra here with Grace. It will be also good for Grace but also keep Sandra's FL halo in check because of the combined halo of Lisa, Gloria and Grace here.

Still, Alex knew he had to work overnight, Hence why he picked a water bottle as he needed to stay hydrated. While drinking he used the silky hair of Xiao Bai as a fidget toy to lower his anxiety.

He is afraid, Tonight will be a long one.

(A/N : One more update will come around the usual time as promised two updates daily, This is 1.2k words a chapter.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"Should I message him now? Or do I look too desperate? Maybe he is into desperate women? But he definitely likes me? Or is it just pretending to be? Ahh, what should I do?"

In the spacious office room, A mature woman with an exaggerated figure is seated in the boss chair, Her breasts that though can't feed a village like Lisa but they are enough to fulfil a medium size cult now being laid on the table as that mature seductive face looking at her phone display in hesitation.

Isabella could not decide whether to message the man who had been occupying her mind since the morning, She was supposed to go and talk about that boy for hurting her son but he was very treacherous.

That boy did not think of anything. Neither did he take pity on a single widow like her, He directly stole her heart the moment they met. How can he do that? It should be a crime for which the punishment should be to spend the rest of his life with her.

But that is not the extent of his crime. He even hunting her mind. When she closes her eyes he pops up in front of her eyes, When she opens them she only wants to close them back and look at that beautiful beyond face of his.

She wanted him. If she could, she was even ready to leave everything behind just to spend her life with him in their two persons world, It was not even a complete day and he became the most important person in her life unconsciously.

Alas, Sadly that flower she so desperately wants already has his keepers, Normally she is able to fight off with anyone for that man but that other woman even has a bigger background than hers.

There are even spies under her nose working for that particular woman that too in the core workings. If not for the fact that that flower of hers chose to be with her, Isabella could not think that she would be able to be with him in this lifetime.

Right now because of these complications, she was not sure how to contact him. Just this afternoon, He teased her asking her to come to his house, For the reason no adult needed to be told of.

It's just that these few hours in between were hell for her. Each second felt like a decade. She can't bear to wait much longer, So she just wanted to get confirmation from him.

Not for anything else just to calm her heart that he really invited her and now just she was messing with her, Though she knew Alex will not do that but she can't just shake the worry in her heart.

So she finally messaged him and to her surprise, he messaged her back right away. She was afraid of him being angry at her for not going there early because she can't go when he said to her son that she will be working in the office all night.

'Wait no! He definitely will be angry, No matter how much he said he forgave Nathan, As a man he should have held a grudge.

Isabella regretted the moment she sent the message to Alex, She should have never mentioned Nathan in this conversation, He definitely is not going to like it. Nathan hates him to the core and Alex thought that just bearing with him, There has to be a limit to how much he can handle it.

Even as the mother of Nathan felt that Nathan was being unreasonable here, Alex was nothing but understanding of him but Nathan was just going over the top.

He even provoked the S-Rank warrior putting not only his but everyone else's life on the line. It's good that Alex was there if not how badly would Nathan have been injured? Worse, he would have been dead in the hands of the S-rank and nobles would not be able to do anything because it was her stupid son who provoked the S-Rank first.

It's reasonable to be ransacked if you poked the bear, it's not that S-Rank is being unreasonable, Her son is stupid as fuck.

Ding

When Isabella was going crazy thinking about the issue, The phone in her hand rang, As the screen lit up she saw the name The one name popped up on the screen and her heart nearly jumped out.

She did not have the guts to open the message. She was sure Alex was angry. He might even have cancelled their appointment, she was stupid to mention Nathan's name in front of him.

She does not understand why her son is like that. For the first time, she started doubting if she was right to send her son to the mountain at an early age. His master did train him in the martial arts but that old witch has forgotten to teach him how to behave like a decent human being.

'I should put him under training, He should know how to behave like a man from a high-class family.'

Here Isabella was going through her thoughts, Still not daring to open up the message she was waiting for all this time rather she started blaming her beloved son, In just a single day she was gone from seeing no fault in her son to seeing only faults.

Heck for the first time, she even thought her daughter should take over the family as she is most capable of it, This will be a huge blow to Nathan and his protagonist Halo.

It's just no matter how Isabella wanted to avoid it, Curiosity got the best of her and she opened the message.

The One : Don't worry, I understand. Take your time as I am still in the hospital, it will take some time here.

The One : By the way don't feel bad lying to Nathan, You will be working all night, So it will not be a lie, See you soon Kiss emoji

Poof

When Isabella read the content in a message her face became visibly red like a tomato as she like a teenage girl hide her face in her hand in shame and started giggling like crazy.

'No, He is really too pure to hold any grudges, Nathan needs to learn how to behave. Till then a rude but capable daughter of mind should take over heir position in the family.'

Isabella is right now in euphoria. She was in so much ecstasy that the love she had for her son could not keep up as she finally made the decision.

.....

[Ding! Nathan lost one of his background power..-1000 luck...

Congratulations host for getting +100 luck and +1000 villain raider points.]

"What just happened?"

(A/N : Sorry, I am sick because I went in the rain (Tonsils) hence why I was not able to write yesterday evening. I apologise, I will feel good in a few days (2-4 normally takes for me to recover).

Ohh here is Discord Server Link : <https://discord.com/invite/fsbvZwMP>

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"Yeah, I understand, Gather all the information about Dick Wilson, and Sandra Gomez. Nothing should be missing, I wanted to know from who they meet, their family, their pets, and even what they like and dislike.

I want all their information and through background checks, if found anything suspicious, Don't make a move just inform me, I will give you further instructions, now go away."

On the boss office chair was seating a very cold ruthless looming woman with a villain written all over her face as he gave instructions to the masked figure, Who didn't say anything and after getting the order vanished quickly.

"Sigh Forgive me dear brother that I am not enough to restrain your legendary physique but don't worry, I will make sure there will be no shortage of virgin women around you, Just I have to make sure those things are good or not."

Amara after being alone in the room goes back to that sultry style woman Alex is known of. She picked up a photo of Alex from her desk and started talking to him like a woman in a romantic drama.

But the look of cold fierce jealousy in her eyes was showing her current real emotions, She never let any women around her brother fear they will taint the purity of her brother.

Which was kinda good if you think about it because if Alex's body was broken before the physique is awakened, It will have severe consequences on the possessor but now that Alex awakened the dual cultivation body, Amara was not sure if she would be happy or sad.

Happy because her brother will get stronger and hence get an even more lifespan but also sad because now he needs women to keep his body in check, Of which she was most jealous of.

If not for the fact that Alex will not allow her to dedicate her body to him, She gladly would have become his sex slave to feed his vitality, It's just she knows her kind-hearted little brother will never harm her like that.

So women are necessary, Most importantly virgin women as not only do they have most of the Yin energy which his body needs but also they are untouched and risk-free women, Her brother will not taint by their filth.

It's just that she was afraid, Afraid that some ill-intent woman would steal her brother from her. There are many such women who have gone through similar things, Amara didn't want to add her name in that list.

So she has to make sure not only women are virgins but also possess no threat to her position as Alex's lovely one and only sister.

"That old hag Isabella is no threat to me, So do Grace and Alia but this Sandra is giving me a weird vibe, I have to be careful of her."

Amara picked up the list from her desk in which all known women Alex was in contact with written with a photo attached, Amara didn't feel anyone in this list is a threat to her status as his sister.

But when her eyes landed on Sandra's picture and suddenly didn't feel good about this woman, She unconsciously had disgust for this woman in her heart.

She didn't know why but she genuinely felt slight anxiety from this woman being near Alex. She never felt such a thing with other women, and Sandra's mere existence is pissing her off.

"Should I just kill her- Thump"

Amara was annoyed by these emotions, She directly thought as an S-Rank warrior. Just destroy the reason for her current condition but just as she thought about it, A very ominous feeling arose in her.

She as S-rank as a very sharp sense of danger and right now it was going all out, warning her not to do this foolish move, Even the spiritual power in her body was going rampant going chaotic.

Huff Huff

Gulp Gulp

Amara started hyperventilating, She quickly reached out and gulped a mouthful of water to calm herself down, After which she leaned back on the chair thinking of the thing that just happened.

"Definitely dangerous women, Have to keep Alex away from her."

Amara wiped the sweat bead from her forehead as she feared for the safety of her dear lovely soft-hearted cute talented... 20 more such words, One in a quintillion and most beautiful man in this universe.

If you guys have not forgotten her favorability for Alex is past 250, So this is quite a common phenomenon for her.

Ding

Mother : Did you take care of the women who made my dear lovely soft-hearted Son?

Mother : Forget it, You are good for nothing, not even a simple job can't be done. I will take care of it.

Mother : Hey how is he? It's been so long since I last saw him. Did he eating right? He was looking thin. Did he become thin? He did look thin. Is he sick?

Mother : Why are you not replying? Are you dead? If so, who gave you permission to die? Answer me now.

Amara just picked up the mobile and was about to call her, Sigh you know the drill but she suddenly stopped in mid-action when her eyes fell on the notification on the screen followed by the barrage of messages.

She as an S-Rank not afraid of anything, Anything but just two things in this world, The first being hurting her brother and the second being her mother, Not anger, wrath or anything, simply the existence of her mother terrifies her.

So getting messages like this from her obviously puts her in panic mode, Especially because this happens right after she gets a warning signal from her insects.

But she knows not replying to her mother is one of the worst things she can do just above breathing a little too loudly in front of her mother.

Useless : He is a fine mother, He is eating right, It's just there is a slight problem with him.

Useless : He loves Alia Miller, And she also needed to solve the issue with my brother. So she can't die yet.

Mother : What's wrong with my child? Why are you wasting your time here chatting with me then to help your brother?

Useless : He is not sick, He said he was dieting which I am against but this is his choice.

Mother : You're doing this on purpose, Aren't you?

Useless : Also, about his problem, I am doing my best. I know I will not be enough, I need help if not.

Mother : If not, What? Complete your sentence and If I don't like the next words of yours, I will personally chop your hand.

Useless : Alas mother, My brother is in quite pain to say the least, I did try to ease his pain in the morning but I don't think it worked, But don't worry I will try once again tonight.

Mother : You are testing my already thin patience, What pain is my child in? Tell me already.

Useless : I wished you can able to come here mother but sadly Grandma forbids you from leaving the capital, Sigh I want to help him but...

Mother: You are playing with fire girl, For me to flow rivers of blood even annoying me reason is enough, Now I command you Amara Winchester to tell me everything.

Useless : I heard him, He was calling out my name in his soft weak voice, I just could not stop myself

Mother : ...I beg you, Tell me what's wrong with my Alex, Why is he in pain and how can I help? What do you want me to do?

Useless : What are you saying, mother? Why are you begging me? You just have to command your useless daughter and I will follow it.

Amara was having wicked fun torturing her own mother, Yeah Amara is terrified of this woman but that doesn't mean she will be timid and not fight back.

Being terrified and being timid seem the same but have a very thin line in-between. Being timid means you will lot more hesitant to do something but being terrified means you are only very fearful but do not have such restrictions of timidness.

So Amara who is terrified of the mere existence of her mother has fun seeing her struggling like a fish out of water, Amara can't get enough of it.

Now she decided to take advantage of her mother and teach her a lesson. After all this woman is in Amara's eyes the strongest contender for her brother's love.

What? You thought Amara was doing this to get revenge on her mother because that woman was treating her like shit? Haha, when you will learn, These people are not normal. Anyone who has above 250 favorability for anyone is not normal unless it's a dog.

Mother changed Useless username to Amara

Mother : What else?

While Amara was gloating another message popped up on her screen.

(A/N : Sorry for no update for nearly a month, I was sick and later my eldest uncle also passed away, Which again because of stress and all I became sick.

But I am feeling a lot better now, So expect regular updates, Sorry for not reporting you guys soon 🙏.

Ohh and here is Discord Server Link : <https://discord.com>

Also like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Gloria was lying in the bed pretending to be asleep while Liza was running some tests on her to figure out what was wrong with her.

'What's wrong with me? He is boyfrie....A friend...A boy my girl likes. How can I feel about him like that? It's not only completely immoral and unethical but also kinda hot... What's wrong with me?!'

She was going through a crisis of her own. She did not understand why she was feeling this overwhelming sense of attraction towards the boy she laid her eyes on just now.

Before she met Alex and also though he was kinda handsome but she never paid any attention to him before but now it's totally different.

The moment she saw him, Her heart started racing, her body felt like it was dunk into the ice bath and then set on fire just to rise and repeat the same thing over and over again.

The desire she thought she long since forgotten was awakened in her, The primal instincts, The urge to have felt the warmth of the other sex in bed was just uncanny.

She knows that her feeling for a man even younger than her own daughter was wrong but the moment she thought that other than the flame of desire extinguish and let shame wash over herself.

She felt the endless desire, He being the friend of her own daughter not only decreased the desire for him in her heart but rather amplified it to the extreme like she just ate ecstasy.

If not for the fact she was weak because the sickness made her very weak, She was not sure if she was able to hold herself back from bouncing on his body like a hungry wolf on the sheep.

She now fears the safety of an innocent man like Alex being near her much less she might lose her control and do something unthinkable.

'But it's not that bad right? I saw the look he just gave me now, Maybe he also has feelings for me, If so there might be...No no what I am thinking? I am not in my prime now, I am an old woman with a child of his age, He definitely is not like me...

But maybe he is into older women? There is a chance right? Should I talk to Grace about this? Or maybe... No! Shut up Gloria he is just a child...Well technically he is an adult, right? Ahhh!!'

Gloria once again started thinking of what could be and tried to stop herself from thinking about the forbidden fruit but the other part of her heart already prepared the reason for all the points she raised up till now.

Yeah there are various such men who are into older women and a fraction of them are actually attracted to them and not just there for money but in any case there are men who go after older women.

She started thinking about what if Alex is in that fraction of men! Wouldn't that be good for her and solve her all the worries? That will make her unstable heart calm down.

"What's wrong now? Why do heartbeats shoot up again?"

Here Liza looked at the heart monitor which was going all over the place. This made her so frustrated that she wanted to start throwing fists.

She checked thoroughly, She went against the medical advice and checked and tested all the things that might cause these changes in Gloria but no one came back positive.

Not even a false positive, All reports show Gloria is healthy as a horse, This made Liza relaxed slightly and now her BP started to acting weird, She who took pride in fact no one is close to being good in medical field then her didn't know what to do right now but she was too prideful to accept it.

Hence there were other samples being sent to the lab and get reports overnight. She was ready to spend her night sleepless then to sleep knowing that she failed to find a cause.

Gloria was not even aware of what harm she was causing poor old Lolita, She was still in her dreamland struggling over if Alex liked her or not, She was even okay with him being at least interested in her.

'His eyes didn't lie, He was interested in me for sure...or I am just thinking like that because I wanted to believe such...but that can't be right, right? I am not that shallow of a woman, I have been absent for more than 2 decades, Lust can't affect me like that, He definitely has attraction for me.'

Gloria once again started a struggle she herself finished, Her heart being torn apart, she knows she in reality can't be with Alex, Even if she ignores the view of society but there is still Grace who is helplessly in love with Alex.

But for while she did not want to think of that, The fantasy she created is a lot more comfortable than sad and alone reality she knows what's waiting for her.

Yeah, she knows this is a fool's paradise but may it be fools it is at least paradise where her heart is not being torn apart of wanting to choose between a mischievous boy who stole her heart or her own flesh and blood daughter.

'Sigh Why does it always happen to me? First with family and now this? WAIT!?! If I go back to them doesn't that mean Grace will receive most of the luxury of the world? If that happens, I can also ask a selfish request of mine from her and she might not even deny it.'

Gloria suddenly remembered there is still her estranged family, Which holds enough power to provide Grace with everything she needs without having her to struggle to get the simple books needed to study.

Of course, there was a hidden motive behind her decision, That is to ask permission from her daughter to chase Alex, As she knows her body yearns for him now the moment he touches her.

'Hope everything moves swiftly without unexpected events.'

Gloria finally coming to the answer she was searching for all this while stopped her thought process, She will call her family the moment she get a chance tomorrow.

...

Shiver

"What was that? Is that dumbass Rose near me?"

Alex was in the waiting room napping when suddenly shivered out of nowhere as goosebumps made his hair stand up.

He looked around worried, fearing the walking plague of stupidity might have come here, But to his relief he didn't see anyone making him go back to continue his nap.

This shows there was still little aftereffect of Rose's stupidity on him, Just hope he will be prepared for what is coming next.

(A/N : Sorry for this late update, As you all know I was sick, Once again I apologise for it, I will notify you next time if something like this happens and not do what I did this time.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"....."

Silence, In the VIP hospital ward there was pin-drop silence. There were two women, one with a hot slutlery body while the other cute alluring one standing in front of the mature seductive one.

The cute alluring woman was sweating buckets standing in the corner trying to make her presence as low as possible to escape the catalytic event that was about to unfold in this ward.

While another one with a hot, slutery body was standing in front of the mature seductive woman with a wide smile on her face unknown to the fact what was going to happen to her next as she was to be punished.

"Mother you didn't answer, Are you alright?....Also the price Alex said, How much is it? He said you should know this and asked me to ask this question to you."

Rose as dumb as she was, really has the guts to ask this question to Helen the moment she entered the ward. Of course it was not the first thing she asked, she was not that dumb.

She asked that question after checking on her, In the same fucking sentence, She didn't even took a break she outright go and asked if Helen was alright and right after speak of about the price.

Even Helen was too dumbfounded to react to that, She just blankly stared at her youngest daughter while thinking what to do with her.

She knows that this youngest one of hers was dumb and might be part of special ed but she never thought her to be this dumb, How the fuck she thought of asking her this question?

'Abortion is still legal, I can still do it, Just call it late abortion.'

Helen could not help but to think of such in her mind, and was even has the will power to actually abort Rose on basis of late-term abortion, Which called in the fancy words of world murder.

Actually abortion is illegal in this country but can be done if gender of the baby is identified and the baby is not the male, So for Helen it was not that hard a choice.

Of course she chose to ignore Rose being out of her womb for more than 2 decades and a living breathing person as it would hinder her quest to get rid of the weaker link.

Survival of the fittest, She is just applying Darwinism here.

"Are you mad at me mother? Why? Did I say something? Or is it because I come too late to meet you? Come on first Alex and now you are mad at me....Oh wait! Alex, mother I just remembered Alex said to me to tell you that she has the same body like yours.

I don't know what that means but he sounded serious, I know you don't like Alex and might even hate him for being the man because of your misandry but hear me not, It might be important.

I think Alex has a crush on you. You should know boys at his age are easy to get attracted to. I know you would hate him if he looked at you with those lusty eyes he looked at my sister.

But please bear it for me not him, he would be too hurt if you treated him hardly and seeing him hurt sister would be angry and I will be the one she will too her anger on.

So for my sake treat him nicely, Please mother."

Rose sees her mother looking at her with her thoughtful gaze and contemplating, So she thinking that her mother was angry at her for not coming to meet her earlier started to rant.

In which she remembers that she has to tell something to her mother which Alex said is very important for her to know, Though Rose still thinks this is a joke but she didn't want to disappoint Alex by chance what he was saying was true.

So she went on the rant talking about Alex and begging her mother not to treat Alex badly, Unknown to the fact that it was not she who treats Alex badly but he does.

She was standing in the same room where Alex bullied not only Helen but also her daughter Aila together on the bed. Rose's mother was sitting on it. If someone sniffed carefully they might even smell the strong scent of their passion even after the room was cleaned thoroughly yesterday.

Natasha was praying for the safety of her young miss, She is the only one in the house Natasha does not have to worry about and can talk freely and easily without fear of being fish food if she misspoke.

But Natash knew it was Rose who ran straight into the burning fire like a moth. She really has the guts to ask that question to Madam Miller. Thankfully she did not told the reason why Alex made Rose ask that question to Madam.

If she knew, who knows if this little miss even was alive, But in hindsight it is also kinda good for Rose.

If she learns the lesson here and talks less from now on, It was worth it. At least this is what Natasha had thought then she heard the rant of Rose directly give up on her.

She not earn enough to deal with that shit, She was sure she need to prepare concrete barrel for her little miss soon enough.

"...Is he saying that he has a crush on me?"

Helen who was silent till now deciding whether or not to go for the late abortion spoke up. Her voice was neutral without any trace of any kind of emotion. She said this as if she did not care about it at all.

But inside her heart she was dancing in joy like crazy, It took her a great deal of self-restraint to not start giggling happily like a teenage girl. After hearing Alex has a crush on her.

'He has a crush on me, hehe~'

Helen repeated in her mind as butterflies running in her stomach making her ticklish, Her heart also felt like it swell pumping blood in her last making her skin tone light tempting color of reddish hue.

This sharp-minded woman, Who is also one of the only 7 people in this county to have S-Rank warrior rank, even ignored Rose trolling her about Alex having the same body as hers.

This was supposed to be a key note here and if Helen was alright she would have caught it no doubt but as the saying goes men in love drop their IQ by half, This saying also applies to women.

Helen in the love fever sees nothing but the man her heart yearns for the warmth of embrace, the fire of his passion and the liquid of his love.

"He did not say that but said he would love to sleep with all three of us, Saying that even the three of us can't satisfy his hunger for young bodies."

Rose spoke once again without thinking as her brain lacked the capability to do so, And just uttered whatever given to her.

It's just that when she said that the mode of Helen changed in an instance as an oppressive aura filled the ward making both Rose and Natasha give a helpless feeling of impending doom.

(A/N : Sorry for the delay of 1 day, Here is an update, Next will come in the evening.

And there will be regular updates like before of this book as I decided to focus on this one again.

Like always that you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"Natasha, Get out."

Helen after a while of silence uttered those words as her eyes with sharp intent locked on the Rose who was oblivious to what was happening and was her own happy world.

She just thought that Helen was silent because of the reasonable shock after hearing those words, But she was okay with it. As long as she was persistent enough she might convince her mother to do it.

Maybe it's not possible for her to agree to marry Alex but there is a chance that with her backing she can convince her dear elder sister to let her marry Alex with her.

Even if she could not marry him, She could at least be his mistress of his which for her is quite exciting than to marry him.

Just think about that Alex is married to her sister Alia and makes an excuse to come and meet her in secret to have "fun".

The mere thought of making her excited and her body warm, There was also a tingling sensation in her nether region with a strong urge to rub the itching of hers but she used all her willpower and brain power to stop it.

Which in result prevented her from thinking of what might happen her mother was not shocked but super angry as her own possessiveness was triggered by the words of Rose.

"Y..yes Ma-Madam."

Natasha was shaking in fear, Who knows why Rose was not least bit affected by the pressure released from her Madam but she was not in the condition to care for that a bit.

Being targeted that the being that whole fear and also called a nightmare in many places is well nightmare, She can't even flick her single muscle under that immense pressure.

So when Helen asked her to leave was a thirsty lost woman finding oasis in the unforgiven desert.

She though a little sorry for Rose but her survival was a key factor here, she just hoped if Rose died she would at least go peacefully and not the way a normal Miller family sends people down there.

And with her shaky voice, she replied to Helen and after giving a pitiful look of distress and unwillingness to Rose, She quickly made her exit out of this ward.

"Huff Huff W-Why always me?"

Natasha came out of the ward and walked as far as her wobbly legs allow her to be before she with her back to the wall slid down and sat on the cold floor before asking why her fate was like this one.

She was a normal orphan, who was lucky enough to be adopted by some group in her childhood. They trained her a few things about fighting along with the other essential skills for the butler.

She for the first time had a place to call home and get a stomach full to eat. Even though those people were too harsh and strict with her, She was actually happy to be there.

Then one day a little girl with a cold demeanor came and just looked at her before she asked her to go with her, Which Natasha though confused did after her caretaker ordered.

And so the next thing she knew, The Miller family had taken her in. She was the personal butler of Alia, The eldest of Miller, The cold demeanoured girl.

But as it turns out later on, though, that cold-hearted girl who only thinks and does purely with logic without any shred of empathy nor sympathy like a robot has a soul hidden deep in her, Which Natasha being only close to her notices.

She also picked up the thing that triggered her eldest miss, so she also picked up the instinct to do and say things safely around Alia to please her, Other than that she was living the life little she could only dream of.

She gets paid fairly or even a little more than what she deserves, The only problem is that this is a family of maniacs.

There is no due diligence in the process to confirm if you are the guilty one. As long as you offended the main people being Alia and Helen, You are done.

She gets it that the rich have a weird tamper, But these guys are on a different level. Last time Alia burned down the whole family of her competitor.

Yeah she knows that not even one in that family was good gals, They were selling counterfeit essential medicine and selling them cheap to make up the huge profit.

Thousands of people lost their lives after consuming those medicines but that was not the righteous reason Natasha hoped why Alia burned them alive.

Her reason behind doing so is simply that they used her company name to sell those medicines, which is also dumb of them considering Exotica company of Alia makes beauty products only.

Yeah, she considers there might be a very tiny possibility that Alia does that to avenge those who lost their lives but she doubts that as she has known Alia since childhood.

In her eyes, there is no place for the feeling or emotions. All she cared about was the result and how she could improve those results. In a simple sense, she is an emotionless machine who pretends and tries to act like a human.

Well, that was true until the case of that dreadful night, Alia cried, The woman she used to think could not be less of a human showed the most basic sign of being human, She showed empathy.

Though that was for herself but she still showed it proving she was human after all.

So Natasha let her guard down and suggested something she has regretting ever since.

"I should have never suggested to the Eldest mistress that at all, Now it is coming to bite me."

Natasha holds her head thinking of how one single man makes the most tranquil time in the Miller household turbulent like a whirlpool.

Before that night no buddy cared about someone named Alex and now she only hears that name only thrown around and has events based on that man, Which was messing with her survival instinct.

Since childhood, she has learned to avoid the thing that triggered the Miller but who have thought since that night even simple things like, "You look good today miss/madam" trigger them to the extreme.

They then say would they not look good yesterday? And go into panic mode, And both Alia and Helen take it on her.

Thankfully their bloodthirsty nature was subdued a lot but there was still the threat of being shot down out of nowhere.

"Forget it, I should go buy a dress and bag for the memorial of Miss Rose."

Natasha stood up and as if she had not just gone through the emotional roller coaster and walked off towards the elevator.

Maybe she was also not normal herself while she was pointing fingers at others.

.....

"You keep talking."

In the ward after sending Natasha away, the demeanour of Helen instantly changed and with a weird look on her face, she asked Rose to continue talking as there was unexplained excitement in her voice.

(A/N : Sorry for being late, Don't worry there will be another update today to compensate for yesterday's delay.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"That...I am saying that Alex is talking about how he can take three of us mother and daughter together and we still can't extinguish his hunger for the young flesh."

Rose was taken aback seeing the weird expression on her mother's face, She had never seen her like that. That face always used to stay still void of any emotions.

So it was weird to see the smile on her mother's face, But in any case, she was happy at least her mother had not outright not rejected this idea.

Yeah, she knows her mother would never agree to do anything like that, She is even disgusted to be touched by a man much less ask her to sleep with the man with her own daughters.

This thing her proud mother would never in a million years do, She just spoke this so when she asked to be also be with Alex along with Alia, After all her brain works once in a blue moon.

"Why was he talking to you about this matter?... You did not sleep with him, Right?"

Helen took a moment of silence after once again hearing those words but this time her emotions were not wild and mostly controlled. She was 50% sure that she would not kill her dumb daughter in anger.

So she decided to continue the conversation further. It's just that there is one issue that bothered her.

Why would someone as modest and sweet as Alex would talk things like this to her only daughter who has not slept with him yet. That made her doubt the relationship between the two of them.

She knows someone like Alex would never use his body like that unless he was pressured, blackmailed or forced upon him to do so like she did with him when he grabbed him and forced herself on him.

Yeah, later it was her who was howling out of ecstasy in front and later with her daughter, But that does not matter to her.

The point is that Helen doubts that Rose used her power and connection to make Alex do something he didn't want to do. There is no doubt if this is the case, Natasha would really need to arrange the barrel filled with concrete tonight to add one more member of such barrels down in the river.

"Wh-What!!...No, I mean he kinda doesn't like me, For obvious reason....I few days ago came to him and offered him money to leave my sister Alia."

Rose was flushed red hearing her mother ask that question out of shame, She still regretted why she picked up that phone that night, If only she hadn't done that then, Right now she would be proudly able to say that.

Yes, She Rose Miller slept with the dream of a million women, Alex Winchester but sadly she picked up her phone, Which unknown to her saved her life now.

Because the moment Rose said they didn't have that kind of relationship, The killing instinct just arose in the heart of Helen died down as she looked at her with an adoring look.

"What happened after that? He rejected your money and then what did you do?"

Helen, though quite angry at Rose, humiliates Alex like that but she gives her a pass to live as she now understands why Alex and Alia have a disagreement.

It is most likely Alex was angry with Alia on why her sister did that to him and Alia being her definitely has ignored his hurt feelings, Which might be the reason they took the break and were fighting about it.

So if she thinks about it, Rose is the reason why she is able to be with Alex, and for that reason Helen is very very pleased with her and is ready to also give her a reward, She was just thinking of what to give her.

"No, He accepted the money."

Rose, without thinking much, spoke up after hearing her mother say the wrong thing. That cheque was redeemed not long ago to pay for the medical expenses of Grace's mother.

"Impossible, How dare you lie in front of me, Someone like Alex would not sell his love for a few million UC."

Helen flare-up, She knows someone like Alex would never sell his love for a few broken bucks, She believes in him that he would never do something that humiliating to sell himself-consciousness.

She knows this even before considering Alex belongs to the family of the Nobles, The force that even she thinks twice about going against as an S-Rank warrior.

So someone who belongs to that family would never stoop so low for just a few million UCs. She knows it is only a few million UC as Rose does not have the authority to spend over 10 million UC per day.

Hence she knows Rose was lying, the 2nd thing she hates the most after the people who hurt her Alex.

"No Mother, I am not lying to you, He indeed took the money, But the fact is that I offered him 1 million and he only took 888,389 UC, not one dime more or less."

Rose, seeing her mother did not believe her and even misunderstood her intention, decided to clear things out. She didn't want to reveal this to her mother but now she has to as she spoke too much already.

"He took less than what you offered him? Why?"

Helen wanted to shoot down the words that were coming out of her dumb daughter's mouth labelling that as blasphemy but when he heard the words she halted her speech.

She smelled something that was not right here. The amount was too specific. If she did not knowing it was Alex who said that might have considered this as a trick but because it is related to Alex she ignored all other issues with it and focused on the problem of Alex.

Now that it was about Alex, She started to think about what might be the urgent need of poor Alex that he had to do that, And then find a way to help him.

"He took money for the operation of his classmate's mother but he didn't tell me that. He just hesitated for a while and accounted for the money. I thought he was a gold miner as you said and wanted to forget about it.

It's when I came to meet you, I saw him giving that cheque to his classmate, Who used that to pay the medical bills, So he took money only to help his classmate, he has that big heart and yet I wronged him Sob

Rose answered to Helen as she recalled the events and once she did that all the guilt she was running from caught up to her making her unable to hold her pearl-like tears taint her smooth pinkish cheeks.

She really feels hurt for wronging Alex like that. After all, she is dumb but her heart is like a white cotton, pure and soft.

"Ohhh, So that's why, Wait!! Tell me if that classmate was female or male?"

Helen after hearing the answer also shed a few drops of her own but unlike Rose who was guilty, She was proud of the man she loves, Who is also her daughter's boyfriend.

But suddenly she thought of one key detail, Rose used the gender-neutral term to describe classmates throughout the story, Which rubbed her the wrong way and with increasing jealousy she asked Rose.

Rose, unknown to the fact that she got herself into the middle of the Asura field was about to answer happily for her mother, As she didn't think what the big deal of telling the gender of the classmate was.

She did not understand why from the begin with she had not mentioned that, But now her mother asked, She would answer it honestly.

"Mother, The classmate is- "

Ring~ Ring~

But just when Rose was about to open the Pandora box, Her phone rang, She stopped talking and out of her instinct picked up the phone to see if it was not her sister calling out of instinct without even asking for pardon from her mother.

It's just that Rose is not able to care about that because after seeing the name on the screen, Her pupils become wide.

(A/N : Here is another, Hey also give me your thoughts now on something, I was thinking of making a Zombie-Villain hybrid novel (not normal Zombies, There will be variant and supernatural ones), what do you guys think?

I have been thinking about that for a while and now I have a strong urge to write it, (Just like this book, So I have a good feeling about that novel)

There is no such novel that I know of is on , So if you are interested please answer me here :

•Yes

•No

•Pay attention to this book you lazy author

•Zombies are boring, Give something new.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"It is my sister."

Rose spoke to her mother and even before Helen would say something pick up the call. She has had this fear of her sister since childhood.

Which is also the reason why even when she didn't want to pick up the call that night picked up call out of instinct, She just couldn't help it.

Helen actually was pissed off, If not for the fact that this woman is her blood daughter and right now there was a good feeling for her in her heart, She would have slapped this girl out of this ward.

"Hello sister how are you, I done the jo-"

"..."

"Si-Sister? Are you there? Th-That I met Alex, he sa-said t-t-that he would outlast three of us and we can't fulfil his hunger for young flesh."

"...."

"He showed me hi-his th-that part....I didn't look away."

"..."

"What do you want?!!"

Rose panicked now, If Alia spoke with her then she did not have this worry but the silence of her sister killing her from the fear that her sister would kill her.

She knows what will happen between her and Alex if Alia knows it would be over for her but this unexpected call from her and then silence tells her that her sister already knows about the incident.

So knowing that Rose could not help but to be honest because if she lied she was digging her own grave, Lying to Alia is the 2nd most stupid thing one can do after desiring her forbidden.

She had already done one stupid thing, She did not want to do another one, especially knowing that she was going to repeat the past stupid thing once again.

But even after she confessed everything, even the thing about seeing the male chicken of Alex, Alia did not reply to her at all, making her finally break down and asking her what she wanted.

"Are you a virgin?"

Finally, the sound that Rose was dying to hear came, the same old bone-chilling inherent coldness mixed with just a brief answer making the listener ran sack their brain for the answers to the question being asked.

"I am waiting!! No, I am not my sister. Who do you think I am? I am the younger mistress of the Miller family. There was a row of men who wanted to get my favour.

Huh huh Nervous chuckle So-So why do you say I am a virgin, I am obviously...."

"Tread carefully."

Rose was taken aback when asked by her sister about her that status. This never happened before, Her sister never cared about her to ask questions like this one.

But because Rose was more embarrassed to answer it, how can she say that she who is in her 20s is still a virgin? Not only virgin but not even hold the hand of bo- wait!

Well, she indeed lost her first kiss to Alex, so she was not that inexperienced but she knows that this is not something to brag about in front of her sister even though she so badly wanted to do so.

It's just when she is about to utter her answer and use petty lies, That bone-chilling voice comes from the speaker of the phone once again halting Rose in her tracks.

She didn't know if she had imagined it or not but this time she felt that voice was a lot more colder as if she just offended her sister but that can't be right, Right?

She just wanted to say she was not a virgin, There is no way these words would offend her sister no matter how unreasonable her sister is.

"Ahem Well I have options but I never d-do, not because anything is wrong with me, I am sure every time is fine down there, I consulted the doctor."

Rose, hearing the tone and warning of her sister could not keep her facade anymore and confess, She was ashamed to be a virgin even in her 20s and that's why she did not say such stuff out loud.

The last time she did that people gave her weird looks asking her if she was alright or if she was even interested in boys or not, Even calling her Lala.

So she is not comfortable sharing this information at all, because the actual reason why she is a virgin is even more embarrassing.

She was afraid. She was afraid that she didn't know what to do and would mess up the whole thing being the joke of the man she was going at it with. That is why she never even approached the man or gave them any response.

She was utterly terrified of the thought of messing up a simple thing like that, she feared what if she did not do it right? What if she put it in the wrong hole? What is even the right hole?

She didn't even know that because the last time she searched she found out that these men were a lot wilder than they look. She found that no hole was out of the question.

Though she does not know what anal boys still hesitates and needs a lot more convincing from their girlfriends to give their anal virginity to their boyfriend, But that doesn't matter to Rose as she knows one thing that all holes are fair game making her even more confused about what is right and wrong.

"Okay."

To Rose's answer, only one word came from the other side making Rose nearly burst out crying right then and there. She burst open her heart for her sister and revealed her most embarrassing secret and all she got was okay? Why is the world so unfair to her?

"Sister, Then by-"

Rose wanted to hang up the phone, not because of frustration but because of fear. That instinctive fear for her sister is still there in her heart and her survival senses for some reason are now tingling.

She having a weird sense of crisis. She felt like she somehow put a target on her back but knowing no one has the guts to target her, the youngest mistress of the Miller family she chose to ignore that feeling for now.

"Stay there."

Beep-Beep

But before Rose could cut off the call, The command came from the other side and the call was disconnected, Rose with her trembling hand put back the phone in her pocket and looked at her mother currently tears running down from her rosy cheeks.

"Mother, Save me."

(A/N : Like always thank you for watching and have a good day 😊.)

"Take one step towards me and I will send you out flying."

Helen spoke in an identical tone to Alia as she looked at the Rose rushing towards her with tears running down her face and a runny nose wanting to be hugged.

There are two things wrong with this one. First, She is absolutely disgusted to be touched by another human being, Alia and she shares that cleanness freak trait together. At least until yesterday, she could not allow anyone to touch her.

Second, she kinda has a hunch about Rose's infectious disease of stupidity, Though there is no solid proof but she as an S-rank has a very strong repulsion when Rose comes near her.

As an S-Rank warrior, She feels every time there is something wrong with Rose coming towards her, That is why she checked and scans Rose thoroughly with the instrument and with her own spiritual power.

But she can't able to find anything, Rose is just a normal huwomem being, Which is contrary to what her instincts indicate, so she knows it's best to keep her distance from Rose as anything she has is beyond her pay grade.

After all, Even if someone like her can't find what is wrong with her. It's best not to mess with it then, So Helen always keeps her distance from her youngest daughter, not that she had any close relationship with Alia.

Of course, it exuding yesterday's events.

"B-But sis-sister..."

Rose was heartbroken, she knew her mother suffering from a clean freak syndrome but all she wanted was a hug to get a sense of comfort, because she was extremely terrified.

The words of Alia indicated she knows, knows that she came here to complain about Alia, which means she was now done for, Alia would definitely be going to punish her more severely.

Especially when she heard the question of her being a virgin, That gave her chills. Her sister never waste words for useless stuff like gossip. If she asked that means Alia has some plans for her.

And now that she thinks about it deeply as her shame goes away, Asking this means Alia already has some plans for her and with the past record, it would definitely not be something good for her.

"Don't worry, I will not let her kill you or sacrifice you to Ancient gods, I don't want them to be pissed at us for offering you."

Helen just looked at Rose and with a straight face answered her, Yeah, even she thought Alia wanted to sacrifice Rose, knowing her daughter she would definitely do something like this.

This Helen never allowed, First, there was little to know information about those ancient gods and how powerful they currently are in this time and age, and Helen knows if Alia doing this then it would definitely be for to get Alex, Which would contradict her own desire to get him.

And also there is fear that if they offer someone like Rose, Those gods will be pissed at them and throw tantrums. There were legends of them doing so over minor things.

So sending Rose to them as a sacrifice would be considered a direct offence, Helen currently doesn't want to deal with that kind of thing, so Rose has to stay.

"Huh!? Mother, how stupid do you think I am? I know my sister would not kill me nor sacrifice me, I am more worried about what she is planning for me."

Rose abruptly stopped crying and looked at Helen with a weird look on her face. Her eyes were red and became puffy because of standing as her soft cheeks were stained by the trail of warm tears.

But it does not lower her inherent alluring charm, She was still or even more alluring right now, The devilish body she blessed with also complimenting her allure.

Even if she is dumbass there is an irresistible charm on her that is nearly impossible to resist. She is like a walking ecstasy.

"You have so much trust in her that she will not hurt you?"

Helen was taken aback. She knows Alia. There is no hint of compassion nor any sympathy is in her. If she thinks something would benefit her or her company she will going to do it without hesitation.

Rose being alone with Alia all this year should know this personality trait of her own sisters but then thinking how dumb her youngest daughter is, Helen gives up on it thinking she is just that stupid.

'She is like Capybara, Too stupid to care, That is how she might have survived all this long.'

Helen could not help but compare Capybara, whose motto is to airhead, Be soo stupid that confuses others on how one can be this stupid.

That is how apparently they survived this long, They just don't give fuck about anything as they do not have the mental capability to do so.

Unlike their other family members like Honey Bagger or Wolverine they not chose be as offence as possible that you not even afraid of god rather they chose to be as friendly as possible that even jaws of death you can be relax.

Which somehow works, The proof of that they didn't get wipe out yet means it world, Maybe her daughter is like them, Chose friendly natural for survival.

"What?!! Why do you think that? Sister would throw me under the bus for a half-eaten cookie, The one she is not even going to touch because it was half-eaten."

Rose after a moment of silence spoke to Helen as if she just heard the most bizarre thing. She knew Alia very well and who she acted to, Rose is terrified of Alia because this analogy is actually highly probable.

"Huh!?...Then why do you say she will not hurt you?"

It was Helen's time to be taken aback, She looked at Rose as if she was watching some bizarre creature, She even ran her mana and searched Rose to confirm if she is her stupid daughter or not.

Turns out this is her stupid daughter, Who actually understands what threat she was dealing with, But this makes her more confused if she knows then why Rose does not think Alia would not hurt her.

"What do you mean why? It is obvious, You are still alive and still head of the family, Which means you have all the authority and power in the family. If she kills me or hurts me, You would stand against it as killing family members is prohibited under your rules.

Only you as a head of the family can make that decision, so sister knowing the consequences would not hurt me, and there are also other things that are going to prevent her from doing so.

Like even if we assume you will forgive her as she would be the only heir of the family left behind, the sister would still not take such a gamble, As she didn't like to be at the mercy of the odds.

And one more thing is that even if I am not that special I am still 2nd and youngest daughter of the Miller family. If something happened to me there would be a lot of talk, questions and investigations.

Even if my sister and you pushed down and buried this matter in front of common people, This would still be dirty laundry which can be found out by anyone with little time and a similar background like us.

Which would give a handle to those people to use against sister, Knowing sister this would be the biggest reason she would never kill me or sacrifice me as she didn't want a headache.

Keeping me around which just annoys her is a better option than dealing with a family with a similar background like us while being in a defensive position, Sister would hate that to the core. That is why I said my sister would never harm me mother.

Rose just looked at Helen totally confused on why Helen would ask such a question about this simple thing to her but knowing it was her mother who asked it, She parted her rosy lips and started her reason thoroughly.

While Helen just looked at her youngest daughter with utter shock.

"Who are you?!"

In the end, Helen could only able to utter such words as her eyes filled with disbelief locked on her youngest with full of uncertainty about her identity.

(Notice : DON'T BUY NEXT CHAPTER, IT IS CHAPTER FROM OTHER NOVEL.)

(A/N : Hey, Decided I would write the zombie novel, Hope you guys also gonna like that one.

Question : Do you guys also want that to be reverse world one?

Yes

No

Of course

Absolutely fucking not

Is it okay to base it on the game-like system (Not totally but just a reference to a game-like world)?

Yes

No

You are too lazy to create a game-like system for the world, don't you?

Don't care as long there would not be murder of grammar.

The next plot of this is already ready in my mind, so don't worry about updating this one as I can't stop writing even if I want to because the plot of the novel is in my mind. It would not going to let me sleep if I didn't write it.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.) pop

Helen had no words to say, She was flabbergasted, All she knows is that there is no way her brain-dead daughter could come up with this much reasoning.

Yeah, it is not that hard to think about, Any woman with a normal working brain can say what Rose just but that just makes it more hard to believe.

Rose is not normal, Though there is no problem with her brain her IQ is of a 5-year-old toddler.

Even a toddler might be smarter than her, So Helen was sure the woman standing in front of her was not her daughter at all.

So she used her power and scanned not only the body of a Rose but her soul to see who has the courage to trick her.

'What!? She is...Rose?'

But even searching using her power, Helen could not find that there was something wrong. This woman standing in front of her is indeed her stupid daughter.

Yet Helen refuses to admit it, She knows Rose very well, She is incapable of this type of thought process, So Helen takes into consideration of another possibility.

Her whole body became tense as she was ready for confrontation, After all, there was only one possibility left if even she was not able to prove that this is not Rose and that is this is some S-Rank warrior.

Yeah, only another S-rank can trick her sense into not being able to see through the disguise of women in front of her, This is the only possibility in the mind of Helen.

After all, Helen is currently in her unstable period, She was in a coma for quite some time making her spiritual power in her body run wild, Her mana is also not stable enough.

Right now she was like a shaken-up can of soda. If her power were used now it would burst out and explode out of control destroying not only this hospital but the whole city along with it.

This is the reason why even after she became conscious now, she did not get discharged. She still needs time, The time which seems she will not get as someone of her old enemies might get a whiff of her current condition.

'What to do? I can't use my power, Alex is still in their hospital. He will surely not be able to survive if my power runs wild, Arggh!!!'

Helen was very anxious. She knew Alex was still in the hospital, If she really used her powers, There was no possibility of surviving. Unless there was another S-Rank on the field to take quick action to prevent the destruction, The death of millions is inevitable.

So Helen decided not to use her power. Let's see what the other party wants. They surely do not want to kill her as if that were the case she would have been attacked long ago knowing her situation and there are also Nobles who do not allow one S-Rank to kill another.

This means there is something this S-Rank wants from her, and if it is not too much Helen is ready to give in.

"Wh-What? What did you mean? Who am I? I am your daughter, did you forget who I am? Did you get Alzheimer's because of your old ag- Eughh!! So-Sorry."

But Rose, hearing her mother asking such a question quickly came to her and asked in a high-pitched voice very concerned about the mental health of her mother.

She thought that her mother might need mental help, Even knowing the fact that her mother is not a normal huwomem, Who couldn't get sick like just like that

Though she is not aware of the hidden society, she knows superpowers exist and knows both her mother and sister have some kind of power, but again it's Rose. It's not right to expect critical thinking from her.

Sadly for Rose, her luck might have run out as before she could finish her sentence, Her throat felt like clutched by the unseen force stopping her dead in track.

"Get out!!"

Helen spoke in a very cold voice that lowered the room temperature down a few degrees. It was not just a metaphor, The killing intent containing in the voice so strong and pure that it actually affected the reality.

'She is definitely my stupid daughter.'

Helen spoke to herself as right now she is controlling all her urges to rip that mouth apart that called her old. She is not that old, Considering her status as an S-Rank she is in her 20s at best.

Not some old cow wants to eat young grass, She is not that type of woman, Before she did not care about her age at all, As which women care about that stuff?

As long as she is healthy it's all that matters but after Alex, She just can't control the strong repulsion she feels everytime someone mentions her age, It just bothers her.

She knows Alex is quite young, and if she thinks it through her S-Rank age measurement, He would like the infant to her. After all, her actual age is hundreds of years old.

She just needs time to convince herself there is nothing wrong with it as age is just a number, Alex by law is a legal and mature man, It's all there for her to think about it.

As for the matter of her stupid daughter? It's confirmed that it is her offspring unfortunately, After all, she is only dumb enough to trigger her like this.

"O-Okay, Mother, Just tell sister you send me away, Bye take care of yourself, Love you."

Rose rubbed her throat. That sudden pressure went away as suddenly as it appeared, Thankfully it did not hurt her much, just left behind some tingling feeling making her itchy.

Then she heard the stern words of her mother, Which told her that she said something that she shouldn't, So without arguing Rose was ready to slip away.

But who is she? She is the woman with 99,999 luck. Of course, she will not leave without solving her problem and getting something good in return.

"Sigh Take this, And I....lov- Take care of yourself out there."

As expected, Helen's heart softened upon hearing her daughter's words.

Helen is not incapable like Alia of loving and caring for someone. She does love her daughters, Both of them even though both are too different from each other. It's just there is guilt in her heart for both of them making her incapable to actually expressing her love out of that guilt.

So this time Helen just throws the credit card from her bedside to Rose, This is how she expresses her love and care for her, Or this is the only way she knows to do so.

"Thank you, mother, I am going now."

Rose quickly catches the credit card her mother gave to her, And with a happy and wide smile thanked her mother before exiting the ward thinking of what to buy with it.

Though her card limit is 10 million UC for per day but she can't use that much money as she has to give a record of where she spent the money to her sister, So she can't just spoil herself.

But with her mother's card, she didn't have to worry about that. She can spoil herself as much as she wants and buy things that her sister does not allow her to buy.

"Yeah go but don't waste money on nonsense things like before."

Helen said to the fleeting figure of Rose knowing she would not listen and buy something useless and nonsensical as she always does.

"What am I going to do with these girls?"

Helen said to herself in defeat, not knowing how to love the complicated relationship of their mother and daughters.

.....

"Well, it's midnight, It's time to go."

Alex stands up carrying sleeping Xiao Bai in his arms, He checks Xin Yan and sees she is alright and a sleeping sound makes his way towards the ward of Gloria, He has to deal with the hidden issue for once and all.

Not knowing what is brewing in this hospital and how much trouble he needs to deal with it soon.

(A/N : Sorry sorry, I wrote both chapters of the novel, I made a mistake and I uploaded that chapter rather than this one, I am extremely sorry 🙇).

I would have deleted the chapter but I can't do it, Not only that I can't even edit it. (Only 100 words can be changed, Before it was 300.)

Once again I am extremely sorry, I will make sure it will not happen again.

Also, As you know I am going to start the new novel, which will start its normal update on the 15 or 20 of this month. Hope you guys are going to like that novel. It's something new and not like other novels here on .

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"Oh, Is aunty Gloria asleep?"

Alex entered in the VIP ward of Gloria and looked at the figure comfortably sleeping on the bed.

He turned around to look at Liza who was checking the reports which just came, trying to see why Gloria's heart shut down out of nowhere. It has to be something big because the heart is not something that just stops out of nowhere.

"Yeah, I medicated her for it. Look at these reports and tell me what you see wrong with it."

The little old Loil gleefully walked towards Alex as she admitted that she drugged her patient as if it was not that big a deal at all.

She just said it and then handed over the reports to Alex for him to take a look at the reports totally glossing over the fact about her drugging Gloria.

"You didn't know the reason why her heart stop beating, I don't think giving her sleeping pills is a good idea."

Alex gave Liza a weird look before he started to look through the report, he didn't forget to point out what she did was wrong.

Yeah he did not worry about what she did because she is a heroine, She has her own healer heroine halo, No matter what medication she gives to her patient it would be fine.

But that is a thing, He know that because he know the story knows why she is so special but in others eyes like Xin Yan this is malpractice, For them Liza putting the lives of her patient in danger to do her experiments.

This is the sole reason why there were clashes between Xin Yan, The head of this department before but unfortunately, Xin Yan is just a supporting role, So her good intentions are not seen by anyone.

In the eyes of others Xin Yan always crossed Liza because she was jealous of Liza and not because Liza was doing something dangerous to her patients.

"Oh, I know that is why I didn't give her the pills. Her heart was beating fast for some reason a while ago as if she was excited by something, So I just gave her general anaesthesia. Now she is calm and stable, You first see the reports."

Liza as a medical maniac didn't see anything wrong with giving her patient things that are not supposed to be given under normal situations, Especially like anaesthesia, the thing we have no idea how it works.

If it was someone other than Liza, Alex would have punched them across the room, It's just if Liza did it means it was good for Gloria and so he ignored it, he focused on the reports to see what is Liza was talking about.

"Huh?! How is that possible?"

But as Alex look through the reports, A frown appeared on his face, It was hard for him to believe in his eyes of what he was seeing, Thinking he might have read it wrong he once again looked through it but the result stayed the same.

"False posi-"

"Already considered, These reports are the third time doing it, results stay the same even with different samples, So these are not false positives, this is her current condition."

The first thought of Alex seeing such a bizarre report was to think there was something wrong with testing. It happens often, There is a whole test for it to filter out such results.

Most obvious being that to check if symptoms match with the results as to prevent more of such false positives but here what is happening here?

"Why are all of these weird? Each and every test reports shows she is healthy, Not only healthy but in a prime peak state, Even heart is showing to be healthy as a horse.

It was not supposed to be like this at all."

Alex looked at the reports and said in a very confused voice but now because of a different reason.

According to the plot, Gloria in the start and middle of the plot always was sick. That is the whole theme that brings Gloria and Grace into the protagonist's hands, only when Gloria finally contacts her family and accepts her identity she becomes healthy again.

After which she along with her daughter started to aid the protagonist in his conquest.

So this is not supposed to happen this early, If this happening here then who knows what else tapping out there he is not aware of.

"Yeah, This is new even for me, There is absolutely nothing wrong with her, and yet her heart deciding it not want to quit, This is indeed very bizarre, I even checked with "other" methods but could not find anything."

Liza had a wide cute uncanny grin on her face as she said to Alex in her excited voice like a child showing her new toy to a new friend. She was obsessed by the condition of Gloria.

She treated many patients throughout her medical career including the ones with superpower but she never seen like such a thing, Gloria didn't have any superpowers to make her this way.

But she showing a heightened ability for healing. Excessive stem cells were being produced in the body that replaced all faulty cells with new powerful ones.

If she found out how Gloria was able to do it, it would be a huge leap in the normal people's medical field, It would increase their life span by a few more decades.

'System do I still need to use Holy Blessing on Gloria now?'

Alex ignored Liza as she went on to talk about how much this will benefit the Women kind, He had a rather more important issue to deal with right now.

He goes into the system space and a sled system with an important question, If Gloria is in her peak prime condition then in his eyes wasting his healing power on her is not a good idea.

But then again according to the plot there is a possibility this state is just the last intense flicker before it collapses.

[Ding! Host it suggested you to use Holy Blessing on Gloria, Though it is showing she is in prime peak condition but it would not going to last long because there is a huge chance her hidden injuries from before would give her backlash soon.

Also Holy Blessing would still going to increase the prime state of Gloria even more, Push it beyond her physical boundary because of her origin, So it would not be wasted.]

The system is quick to respond and gives its suggestion, The one that aligns with Alex's. He was uneasy about wasting Holy Blessing as according to reports Gloria is in peak condition.

The main power of his Holy Blessing but now that system says that there is more growth possible for Gloria thanks to her origin, So he didn't feel bad for wasting the use of it on her.

"Step back, Let me destroy all hidden threat once for all."

Alex after confirming didn't want to waste time and walked towards Gloria reminding excited babbling Liza to stand away.

(A/N : Sorry for the late update but I had to take care of that wrong chapter before I could update, Now that it was done, There will be a normal update unless world war 3 broke out, Which frighteningly is possibility.

On other note there will be slight R-18 in next chapter, Who you want that to be...

- Liza
- Gloria
- Both
- Xiao Bai

Also like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"Huh, Alex, what do you want to do? Don't do anything, We still didn't know why her heart stop beating."

Liza stopped her babbling when Alex gently pushed her aside and stood in front of the enchanting figure of Gloria lying on the bed in a hospital gown which was too underqualified for the job.

"Yeah, Don't worry about the reason for now, It is more important to prevent that from happening again."

Alex did not heed the advice of Liza, He knows there has to be the reason for why Gloria's heart not beating, Of course there has to be reason behind it.

But he was not dumb enough to actually go searching for it, For the simple reason is that this is a chance of the protagonist, So there are only two possibilities here and those are, One that there is nothing wrong with the body of Gloria.

Yeah as dumb as it sounds but it is a huge possibility that the heart of Gloria stopped because of the wrong medication, Which is his dear son Nathan will point out and blow everyone's mind.

And knowing it was Xin Yan in the duty when that happen this has a huge possibility of being true, After all this is how most face slap plots unfold, Which Xin Yan victim to many times in the plot.

The other reason would be something else like a genetic mutation, hidden knife left by an opponent in her body that is not detectable by even Liza, The famous healer of superpower worlds, Which for some reason Protagonist is able to detect and gain favor of the heroine etc.

These might be the reasons that he can think of, but because of that he knows it is a waste of time. In both cases there is nothing significant to find out, Even in the 2nd case no one other than the protagonist can find it, so it is best to heal Gloria by outright destroying this chance of the protagonist.

So Alex after reaching to Gloria put Xiao Bai hanging in his body like a protection on the chair then proceeded forward to in buckle the gown of Gloria to reveal her skin part.

Because even though his skill can work through the clothes he didn't want to take any chances in things like this, Who knows what kind of broken luck the protagonist kicks in and he faces some anomaly in the process here.

"Huh!? Alex wait this consider rap-assault, She is unconscious, You can't consent for it."

Liza could not understand what Alex wanted to do before and was just let him be but when she saw he was understanding Gloria, she panicked. Nowadays laws have become very strict about things like this one.

Especially when the person involved in it are high status one, She didn't want Alex to get into unnecessary trouble by doing this, That is why she prevented him.

Though she wanted to say Ape but fearing the sensitivity of the subject put a negative effect on Alex she just changed to assault.

"Not really my little big women, According to law, A woman is said to commit Ape if she does it forcefully, without consent etc.

"Women", It says women are not a person but women, So in the eyes of law men can not be guilty of Ape, they can only be a victim of it, So this is not ape at all.

I can do it and no one can do nothing about it, And also if you are doing it for medical reasons it does not count, in this case consent is not necessary if the intention is to help or save the life not to take advantage of the person.

So don't worry about it, There is nothing wrong in what I am doing."

Alex know what she mean but maybe she didn't know the full law. In this world man has quite a privilege, especially in the current time.

Before this world was quite unfair towards man but after the modernization and fall of birth rates world law started to change, This law here is just one of such law.

Because in the eyes of law man is as weak as they were centuries ago, The one who is not capable of doing anything like Ape on woman for some reason, Normally Alex would have called it unfair but he would not as the world is too in favor of him.

If he did not made clear he fucking loves this world, Not only do beautiful women have to work hard to impress him but he can even open a harem legally, This is just a dream that comes through.

"I don't think that is how law wor-Fuck!! This is true."

Liza could not believe what Alex was babbling about, How can law be this biased, right? Yes, there are some laws made for man but she was sure it would not be this blatantly unfair.

But she also did not believe Alex could lie to her, She just thought he was teasing her and the last medical reason was the one is the real reason why he was doing this and why this not considered Ape.

It's just curiosity got the better of her and she searched thinking she would find out Alex indeed was joking but to her disbelief it is as Alex says, The definition of Ape starts with If women followed by normal circumstances.

So as Alex said it is true that man can't be culprit of Ape because in eyes of the law that does not fit the description of apes at all.

She just couldn't believe that in her 40 years of life, She did not know about this fact at all making her doubt about what else she did not know about.

"Don't worry about it, It's just one of such law there are 20+ such ones. For now it's this is what is important. Pay attention to me and tell me why react like the way I would do soon."

Alex looked at confused Loli running her fingers on the screen hoping this would be some kinda joke side or something but nope it was official laws site, This made her dispirited as she hung her head down.

After all anyone would feel bad when they find out they were not even considered as equal in the face of law which is supposed to be unbiased while the one who has advantage crying about a small issue.

This makes Liza furious but unfortunately for her she was in still her Lolita dress, so all her fury makes her nothing but more cute then she already is.

But Alex did had time to appreciate the little beauty beside him, He wanted to fix Gloria and of course lay the foundation for future conquest, So he was in little rush here.

As for the language Liza spoke of? Alex is sure that even she herself was not aware she uttered such a "vulgar" word in front of him because of shock.

"Huh!? Sorry, Go ahead, I will monitor it."

Liza was in shock but no amount of shock could stop her from fulfilling the request of Alex, So she put her shock on the side for a while as she hurriedly came to them, watching them closely.

She might have misunderstood what he meant as she was paying more attention to Gloria but Alex didn't correct her as she would know soon enough.

"Fairly Blessing"

Alex lay his soft hands on the surprisingly smooth stomach of Gloria and then without forgetting to use other name he activated the skill as a bright golden aura released from his hands.

...

Growl

The moment the golden aura released inside the elevator a being opened its eyes starting at the upper floor in the direction of Alex with strange glee on its face.

(A/N : Yeah little R-18 will be the next chapter with Gloria while Liza watches from the sideline (Might join later).

Also, this is actual law here of course just gender reverse.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

That bright golden light like before made contact with Gloria's unreasonable tender skin giving illusion that it would break apart by slight touch, Her belly button was also cute pinkish in colour making her look like a porcelain doll then actual human in beauty.

Alex wanted to appreciate this mature beauty but sadly he has work to do, In his dorm there should be others to arrive. If he did not reach there in time asura field was inevitable.

So he makes the ultimate sacrifice for the greater good, that's how big his heart is but no one appreciates him for it.

While Alex was mourning over that, Gloria was in another realm of comfort, Even though she was drugged up unconscious state but the relief she was feeling a golden light travelling in her body healing and recreating each and every cells present in her to transcend their limits.

She was in euphoria. Before she did not think about anything about her body and just ignored the little slight pain here and there until it became part of her daily life.

But now, She understands how it feels to just relax without any aching or hurting in her body. This level of comfort even she as a toddler did not experience it, giving her an uncanny feeling.

"Ahemmm~"

A seductive moan of pleasure escaped from those intoxicating twin sets of enchanting petals of hers, sending shivers of current in the spine of Alex, Which nearly made Alex excited to go for it but he hold himself back not knowing just how long he can hold it.

As the golden light speed up its process, So did its comfort level of Gloria started to increase, Which at one point stopping being comforting and turned into pleasure.

Gloria right now in a state like she was drowning in the sea of ecstasy, Everything she was feeling was nothing but pure bliss, As her cells were getting self-destruct and recreating instantly as new producing a sensation she never felt before in her life.

It was weird. There was that supposed pain but the degree of it was so small that she would not even feel it if she was not paying attention. The most dominant feeling was of nothing.

Yeah the most powerful sensation she was getting from her body was nothing, and that is reasonable as even her nerves which are the responsible for the sending signals to her brain were also reconstructing.

So her body was not giving her any sensation and yet she was in bliss because the golden light was not even fixing her body but also cleaning and purifying her soul to the next level.

She was getting pleasure from the spiritual level, A raw unfiltered kinda pleasure that can't be put in words can only be experienced to understand it.

Groaned

Gloria groaned as the healing process came to the end, Holy Blessing pretty much fixed all her problems including the hidden injuries she got away in the past, now it was just giving the final touch before completing the task.

As that was on the way, Gloria was like a pressure cooker which built up its pressure ready to release it at any moment, The flood water waiting for the opportunity to wash away and rejuvenate the sacred land that had been under the drought for decades.

"Fuc- Grunt Just a little more, Hold on for just a little more."

Alex here goes on in his full acting mode, His heavenly like face became flushed, his twin star like eyes became misty blurring his vision making him look like he was super drunk.

But his body was otherwise, He was shaking like a dried-out stalk that would fall off if the wind was a little too fast.

His expression was though not sickly but had that unending tiredness in them making him look super exhausted in need of a very long break.

"Alex, are you okay?!!"

When Liza saw him like this, She panicked, She knew how low man has a spiritual power quota stored in them, And unlike women who can just replenish their power through the mana present in the surroundings on the go easy as breathing but Man has to go and meditate to replenish it that too in slow speed.

She was worried about this. If a normal person somehow completely used their supply of spiritual power it was not that big of a deal as they never needed those things, though it is helpful to be healthy with those powers without it not going to cause them many problems.

But Alex is different, He is not only an F-Rank warrior but he also possesses legendary dual cultivation physique, if he deplete his spiritual power and isn't able to replenish it right away he will backlash.

The gift of his will turn into a curse, The best of best scenario will be that he turns into a vegetative state completely losing the control of his body and his senses because of his physique shut off because of the lack of power supply.

That is the best case. The worst would be death, His body would completely stop working including his heart and brain sealing his fate.

Though they can still keep him "Alive" through various advanced machines but in her eyes it's better to just let him go than to keep him in that state.

Liza of course does not want this to happen. She wants Alex to stop as this is the initial symptom that his body was running out of power. It is like a panic signal from the body to make him stop whatever he was doing.

"..."

Alex did not reply to her as if he was fully concentrating on Gloria and did not have any power left to answer her, but in his heart, he was planning his next steps.

He needs this lovely doctor on his side to help him convince the majority of his harem, After all, her being the well-renowned doctor is going to have a large impact on them then he is saying the same things.

Plus if he said it it's not going to have that level of empathy and power then they find out from someone else behind his back.

This is just a simple physiological trick even 5th-grade kids might know but it is quite effective.

"Humm~ AHhhh!~"

As Alex was going through what he would do, and Liza was contemplating whether or not to forcefully separate him from Gloria, the sleeping beauty on the bed moaned once more.

But still time because all the cells in her body recreated, She was no longer under the influence of drugs, So slowly but slowly she opened her eyes making Alex raise the corner of his lips upward in a sly smile.

(A/N : Sorry for the deal, I don't know trying to work on 4 books at once would be this hard, So I made the decision most of you are going to like it and some hate it.

Here is what I think I would do. Starting next month, there will be a break on "I become Karna with a million times system in Mahabharata." not drop but break for 2 or 3 months.

This book "Surviving in the women's world as a novel villain" would be a top priority, So it's going to get daily updates.

My new book which title I am still working on will get 2nd priority after this. If that book got a good response then it would be on the schedule for at least 3 months.

Also "I am a novel villain with netori system" would also get regular updates when I figure out where to upload that fanfic, I am thinking of creating the AI videos and uploading them on YouTube as Web Novel is doing. What do you guys think?

Chapter 219 217. Taste Of Euphoria Part- 2

Chapter 219 217. Taste Of Euphoria Part- 2

Gloria didn't know what was happening to her, All she knew she was feeling the section which was alien to her now.

There was that thirst in the body that she never knew existed, So now experiencing this she, like a wanderer in the desert just who just encountered an Oasis, jumped down trying to submerge in that ecstasy.

But then it clicked her. She felt the some familiarity with this feeling and soon she figured out what this section was.

It is a shame to take this much time to identify this feeling as the mother of one daughter but in her defence, She really never felt such a section, she didn't even know that pleasure to this inhuman level was even possible.

It's just that when she figured out the origin of this bliss, A huge wave of disgust take over her body. A mere thought that some strange man touching her body made her sick and nauseous.

She wanted to move and punch that perverted man in the face but wasn't able to move her body. Neither could she open her eyes, Only her consciousness was awakened yet not her body making her feel helpless. All she could do now was just lay down and let waves of pleasure wash over herself over and over again.

Gloria didn't wanted to admit it but this felt too good, Her whole body felt like it was being comfortably massaged. All the stress and pain she used to feel was vanished.

Before she thought that pain was normal, Rather she didn't even notice she was in pain all this time as she subconsciously ignored all that tiny pain thinking it should be like that.

But now that she going through this, She realised how much she was bearing and ignoring, Now she didn't have to be in constant pain anymore.

Yet even if all this much comfort and pleasure the disgust in her heart did not go away rather it just intensified along with her disgust towards her body reacting this way towards that sensation.

There was only one man who before able to touch her and that end up terrible for him, After which she didn't allow herself to fall in the worthless thing like physical urges.

She was fine at she was living with her daughter until recently. Since she saw Alex in her ward she can't shake him out of her mind.

Her body just reacting in a weird way that it never did before from the mere thought of that boy. She knows it is wrong, He is the man her daughter loves. She knows that and yet she just can't help it.

It's cheesy to say but heart already belonged to him from the moment she laid her eyes on him, Which is tearing her heart apart. She felt like she was betraying Alex.

This doesn't make sense to others but it makes sense to her, Even if he doesn't know it, Her heart along with her body now dedicated to him by herself, So how can she allow someone to tarnish something that belongs to her love?

She was just ashamed of the fact that she can't do anything other than to just lay down but she is starting to get her sensation back means it would be not long before she ends that pathetic man's life and wash away her shame with his blood.

'It's happening, Let me show you what happen when you touch something that is not yours.'

Gloria started to feel her body and so slowly but surely started to get back control over her moment, Though she was just able to move her fingers but it would not be long before she woke up.

So Gloria was thinking how she would punish the man who was doing this atrocity to her beloved's property.

Yeah beloved, May he will never be hers but he might be her son-in-law, So there is always that love be there, So it would not be wrong to call him beloved is it?

As for how her body belonged to her son-in-law? She didn't think that much further neither should you.

Anyway, In time Gloria finally got her control back. It was hard at first but through her willpower and persistence, she slowly was able to open her delicate eyelids.

Flash

Just for her to close back again in a hurry as sudden light nearly blinded her but she caught a glimpse of someone. She did not get to see who it was but she knows it is definitely a man doing something to her.

'I kill you!!'

Gloria gritted her teeth as hatred in her heart poured in bee eyes as she shut open her eyes in rage ready to tear the man who was standing in front of her.

She was furious, If not for the fact she had given up her family before, she was even ready to use her bloodline to burn and get a boost to paint the walls of this in red.

"Huh!?!?! Am I dead?"

She opened her scarlet red eyes ready to punch done the man but as she was about to do it, She caught a glimpse of the pervert man in front of her, Which nearly made her soul fly out of her body.

What did she see? She sees the man she dreaming of, The man she called her beloved, The man she said she has given her heart and body to.

He was the one who was doing those "inhuman" acts to her before, This was a man she wanted to spread guts all over the place.

She just can't believe it, How can it be him? It has to be a dream right?

No, not a dream, It felt too real to be a dream, but she still can't believe that it was Alex who was doing this to her, making her come to the second possibility, Which was that she is dead.

And why can't she think that? She was in critical condition in hospital before, So there is a high chance she didn't make it and come here to paradise, Where man of her dreams was providing her bliss as reward.

"A-Alex tha-"

Gloria parted her lips, trying to hesitantly speak out something still coming to terms with the fact she was with Alex even ignoring the more important part that she thinks she was dead.

But before a proper word could escape from her moist mouth, It was sealed by a warm soft pair of lips halting her any further actions.

(A/N : Man of my word didn't I? It is still 1 Nov here, Next chapter comes as per daily update time.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 220 218. Liza Don't Wants To Be Cuckquean

Chapter 220 218. Liza Don't Wants To Be Cuckquean

Bang Bang Bang

Gloria's mind went blank, She was not able to think about anything, Where is she, what is happening, or how to react.

All her functions went offline, Her brain was in a reboot mood while her heart was on steroids galloping like a horse on the race track.

Many questions were flooding her mind but it was in no condition to seek answers for them.

Right now she was totally on the autopilot mode letting her primal instinct take over her reasoning logical things brain.

"Ahhh!!~"

A sultry moan escaped from the occupied mouth of Gloria as she let that sneaky agile naughty intruder violate her mouth and bully her little tongue without any obstruction from her.

She just let him be, Or she thought she let him be, But she didn't know when her hands warped around the neck of the Alex and her only covered in one single piece of clothing body stuck to Alex without even leaving a place for air to pass.

Their body were sticking so close to each other that as if Gloria was trying to merge herself with Alex's body by the sheer power of hers, Her head too pushing forward letting him explore further inside her.

While Alex too did not just stand there, As his tongue was messing around in her surprisingly sweet warm mouth, His hands were exploring the topography of her back with utmost dedication.

The rise and fall of her back, that tender strong yet agile waist of hers, And then the two big warm soft asscheeks like a fresh come-out-of-oven bread tempting him to take a bite.

He even felt the slow rise of her temperature as the backside of her hospital gown were open allowing him the access to all of her assets for him to thoroughly explore.

How can he do so then? The ecstasy hands were go online as he started to mold those firm cheeks of hers in many shapes and forms and then being amused as they elastically went back to their original shape.

"Muhmmm!!~ Ahhh!!~"

Gloria fler like she was touched by the high voltage naked wire as she felt the current of the pleasure ran through her whole being, from her buttocks to her toes to her bosom and then to her mind exploding in the frenzy of ecstasy.

She felt like she was on the drug, There was no control of her over her own body, She was just reciprocating to him.

Each gesture of his hands were seeing wave after wave of pleasure in her whole being making her secrete her love juices in her nether region which was facing drought for decades.

And just in a few seconds she reached to her edge ready to break those floodgates and let her so long dry land down there experience that rejuvenating nectar of her.

Yet she held it back to get that sweet release by instinct, Dream or paradise bliss, Gloria instinctively didn't want to release this quickly in front of Alex.

But alas just like a tiny boat can't face the big storm in the middle of the sea, Just like that Gloria was not able to take that barrage of pleasure bombarding her senses.

"AHHHHHHH!!!~ OHHHH!!! MUMMMM~"

When Alex touched her bare buttocks, It broke all her barricades and her will power, As her seductive body clutched tightly on ex body pressing her huge softness on his chest before breaking the kiss and throwing her backward arching her back before releasing herself with nearly a howl like moan of pleasure.

Break Flush Squirt Squirt

Her vaginal muscles tightened as she discharged her love fluid from her scared cave like a water gun, Surprising her that she was capable of not even squirting but spraying it that much and as the whole lower part of Alex's pants were wet from her juices.

Normally Gloria would have been embarrassed and tried to apologize to him for making a mess but not right now. Currently, she has no power to care, the aftertaste of her first in-decade orgasm made her addicted.

Huff Huff

Gloria limply lay in Alex arms not having any strength to support herself on her soft legs, She was gasping for the air parting her two petal-like lips making her look even more ravishing with that half drunken look of her with added charm of Milf.

"Look at that Aunty, You soiled my pants, How are you planning to take care of it?"

Alex with that ironic mischievous smile on his lips whispered in her ears with a domineering yet seductive tone like a devil's whisper.

'What is happening?'

Liza, as a bystander love interest of Alex witnessing this could not figure out how she should react to this new thing that was unraveling in front of her.

On one hand she gets where Alex comes from, his body should be just reacting on its own as Alex said before.

This should be same unintentional action the body performs when a person's life is in danger, Like while growing it has that jerk motion to keep a person awake or gaging and coughing.

But on the other hand, She felt like someone just stabbed her in the chest, It was the pain of betrayal. Though she knew beforehand it was going to happen at one point in their relationship, Seeing with another woman because of his physique but actually knowing and personally seeing things are different.

Liza is experiencing the pain that can't be described in words even though she might be the most suitable person in this whole hospital to describe it exactly where and what kinda pain she was feeling.

But this one she just can't, This pain is alien to her, Nowhere in the thousands of books she read she heard of this kinda pain, It's hearing but where? She has no idea.

She felt like someone just punched her in the guts, Her eyes became watery. She wanted to say something but her lips only moved without being able to utter even a single word.

What is happening? Was the only question was hunting her, Even as smart as she when it's come to bodily functions of humans, she wasn't able to figure it out.

Because if one tiny detail and that is even though it was hurting her to watch her love, her man kissing and fondling another woman's ass right in front of her, She just can't look away.

Which is weird right? She learned the basic instinct of a person is to quickly stay away from the thing that was hurting them. It is also one of the defense systems of the body, Which is also the things she saw happening in real life but then why was it different to her?

Seeing them like that hurted Liza, Seeing Alex stick his tongue into Gloria's mouth like an anteater and then fondling that honestly perfect ass of hers did hurt, It hurt a lot giving her even a sense of despair.

And yet she just can't look away, Even though she knows if she continues watching she will watch something she will regret seeing, she just can't take her eyes away from their figure.

This is bothering her a lot, even if she just accepted that Alex needs this and he has no control over his urges to stay alive, But then why does she have the curiosity to watch what happens next?

Yeah, she does not want to admit it but when Alex said those words to Gloria in that tone, She might be more excited than Gloria to see what would happen next.

Why was she more excited than the woman who was enjoying her man?

'Am I those infamous cucks? I don't want to be cuckquean.'

(A/N : Ohh, I just have one question, Do I go all out with her means exploring an uncharted or just a normal throat massage?

- Explore Uncharted
- Throat Massage
- Liza POV
- End here focus on the plot
- Do front first and pop cheery of back with Grace later

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)
