

Surviving in Woman's world as a novel villain.

- Chapter 225 223. Paramount Of Pleasure (R-18)

*Slam* *Slam* *Pouch* *Thwack* *Spurt*

*Ahhh~!! *Huff* Mummm!! Ye-Mummm~!!!"

An erotic sensual voice filled the whole ward along with the wet flesh hitting each other as the various liquids dribbled down on the bed sheet soaking in it creating a strong scent of sex filling the whole ward.

The medical bed in the ward was constantly jerking, If not for it being medical grade, It would have been broken long ago but seeing the intensity of the people on it, It would not be strange if it broke any moment now.

But Alex and Gloria did not care about the stupid bed, all their attention was on what is important and that is to drown themselves in carnal pleasure, Just do it without any care and that is what they were doing.

The loud sensual howls like moans of Gloria reverberate in the wall without any care if any othersider can hear it, At this point she does not care if anyone hears it.

She was taking what she wanted for the first time in her life. She is not going to back away now, She don't care what anyone would think of her nor did she care what lines she was crossing to get what she wanted.

All she knew was she was getting what she yearned for it all her life, the missing piece in her joyless life was family here and she at no condition was willing to give it up.

"A-Alex, Har-Harder, *Huff* Fuc...Fuck me harder!!~"

Gloria was on the brink of losing her mind but she still lot wanted to stop. Who knows how much time has been passed or how many times Alex made her cum with his mighty rod.

She was still willing to go all out it, She still did not get what she wanted the most, the feeling of getting filled with the seed of her beloved, He satisfied her this much. She has yet to do the same.

So she tightened her on him with all the power left in her feeble ecstasy filled body, and also started to move her own hips while tightening her pussy not wanting him to leave from her.

She goes out with all the knowledge she has gotten over the years from various media and research sources to make him cum, let him fill her up.

'Fuck, She is good.'

Alex who was pounding in her pussy heard her and felt the tightening of her pussy which too be honest was quite good, Maybe that is why experience matters.

He really wanted to stop himself from holding back and release himself in her but he didn't do that. If he did that this soon then there will be a 2nd round for to give her Paramount of pleasure and after which he won't be able to hold himself back till morning.

Which was fine if not for the fact there is a volatile company waiting for him at his dormitory, He really didn't feel like leaving them alone in a tiny room. Who knows what they would do to each other.

Plus all of his newly brought games are there, he really didn't want those to get destroyed in their class too. After all those all are protected by the halo of harem but his games don't have that privilege.

"You ask for it *Bite*"

Alex's blood was already boiling as an inferno of passion burned in his heart blaming him for not setting the wild beast free, Why he was holding it back and so Alex decided to oblige to his inner desire.

"Hrggg~ D-Don't~"

He reached down and took a bite at her neck leaving a small mark behind and as he thought the simple bite on her neck made Gloria even more sensitive, Which proved that apples really do not fall far from the tree.

With that, Alex had a smug smile as he decided to stop having only Vanilla sex.

*Plop* *Spurt*

"Hungg Hnng, W-why~"

He pushed back and pulled his dick out of her pussy making her grunt in discontent as she lost that warmth inside her, But Alex did not mind that.

He quickly lifted her up holding her chin while keeping that eye contact making her lost in his eyes.

"Woah! Ho-Argghhh!!~ Fuck! YESSS HARDER!!!!"

Before Gloria knew it, Alex made her turn around with swift motion before pushing her down making her land on her all for limb, It's hurted her when that happened as her legs were on in position to do so.

But that pain worked like a sprinkled water on a hot pan making all her mind jump in pleasure.

Before she even comprehended the wave of pleasure that just hit her, Her long brunette hair was pulled back by Alex in a jerk motion turning her face towards him before locking her lips with his, After which without giving her any warning he rammed his dick straight into the deepest part of her pussy.

This was an act that broke the camel's back. The little bit of sanity and reasoning that was remained in her being was utterly crushed by this, As a storm of pleasure bombarded her senses.

Her mind went blank, There was no single thought about anything else other than just one man and what he was doing to her body now.

She just embraced it, And so moaned louder than before as she once again released herself while Alex was still inside her.

Her body was once again become soft as it was twitching and convulsing, Her breathing become haggard as she wanted a slight break.

*Slam*

But unlike before Alex has no intention of being gentle, He without giving her her chance pulled his dick back just to once inside inside her very sensitive pussy.

"FUCKK!!! YESSS!!!~"

What was a torture for others to think of Gloria it was bliss, She just unlocked a new kinda of pleasure and she became addicted to it in first hit.

She did not able to control it and making her cum again. If not for her body being in peak condition now, She might have been passed out because of dehydration until now.

*Fwop* *Thwop* *Fwop* *Thwop*

Alex didn't stop nor the moans of Gloria under the symphony of their bodies slamming on each other, It's been gone like that for a while making Gloria cum even more times.

"Arghhh! I am cumming!"

Finally, Gloria heard those words she was dying to hear them, She rejuvenated from coming back with more passion and started responding to Alex.

*Slam* *Spurt* *Spurt* *Spurt* *Spurt*

Alex finally slammed and reached deep inside her, His cock head swelled as with a powerful stream he sprayed his baby batter inside her covering every part of her with his marks.

"YESSS!!!! HRNNNG!!!! AHHHHHH!!!! CUMMMING!!!!~"

When Gloria felt that yearning feeling warm got a lava-like seed feeling her, She just couldn't help it, She both physically and mentally reached to her peak of bliss and with a final roar she squirted her love juices all over the bed before falling down and passing out on the bed.

Alex too was exhausted, He pulled out his still little dripping dick out of her, Before gently putting a blanket on her.

"Should I go in the shower or do you have other plans for my unicorn?"

After which Alex wanted to leave and go in the shower in the personal ward but he halted his moment with a nightly grin when his sight fell on the stunned Liza staring at him.

(A/N : I think there is enough R-18, Now focus on the plot, what do you guys think?)

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"N-N-No here, I-I arrange a dress for y-you."

Liza hearing obvious teasing words turned beat red in shame, If she was in anime right now there would be steam coming out of her head.

It's unfortunately as the head of the family, She even curses herself for her decision but she has enough self-control over herself not to bounce on Alex right now and there.

Yeah, it was all her self-control that was responsible for it. There is no fear of Belladonna that she is not doing what her heart and mind are yelling at her to do.

It was all her, No outside forces were influencing the iron will of this mature old loli.

So seeing it would not be good for her health if she stared at Alex's fully naked body without being able to do anything, She notified her hidden guards to bring a dress for Alex to wear in advance.

Because he couldn't wear the dress that was lying on the ground drenched in various fluids, She thought about that for Alex.

"Ohh, You did that for me? You are the best my lovely unicorn."

Alex seeing Liza actually prepare a dress for him in advance was quite taken aback, He had seen through his various stunts that these heroines though not disgusted by harem but they took some time to get comfortable with each other.

So Liza according to that logic seeing him ravaging Gloria should be in shock waiting for him to fix the situation, She would not be bringing dress to him after he was done with fucking another woman right in front of her eyes.

But then Alex thought of something, If she didn't get bothered by it then there had to be only 2 possibilities, One was that she was in so much shock that it would take time for it to sink in but seeing her reaction this was not the case.

So the 2nd possibility is that she is cuckquean, He did not think of such a possibility as how can the heroine be into that degrading stuff but then once again he thinks this is a wish fulfilment novel everything is possible.

Liza being cuckquean is not that strange, It's just one of her quirks just like others, Just her seems to be a passive one, unlike certain someone.

That is why Alex was happy about it. If Liza is a passive cuckquean then she is now become the best person to preach his harem thing to another member to accept and live in harmony.

After all, If she accepts this thing wholeheartedly then others would be more likely to agree with her seeing her sheer amount of dedication to it.

How can he not love such a helpful loli? She should be rewarded but well it has to wait because the wrath of Bellendona is really not something to mess around, Her limits are still a mystery even to him.

'Someone is watching.'

But just as Alex was about to walk towards Liza he sensed a gaze on his body which was instantly detected by his god-level acting making him directly give control over to the acting skill as he started to ransack his brain.

That person had to be there eavesdropping on them and as he walked over, They made the mistake of taking a sneak peek at him, giving their positions away to him.

'Who could it be? How long were they watching?'

All the possible culprits' list ran through his mind but they were quickly eliminated for various reasons. If it was Helen, Xiao Bai would have been the first to react and warn him of a threat.

And Helen is really not someone to stand aside and watch her man fuck another woman right under her nose, So she was not it, Same goes for Alia.

Rose would be a possible candidate but if she was here then he would have felt it by the sudden drop in his IQ, So she is also not it.

Just like that he narrows down to three potential women, Grace, Sandra and Belladonna.

He is praying to the gods to let it be Grace because she is the only woman he handles being out there because in the other two one is FL who does not even like when the shadow of another female touches their man.

Another one is a Villainess who can reap the souls of people just for offending her, both are not someone to mess with as one has the power of broken luck, Other has the power of her own raw might.

Though she is not in this city but as S-rank she is capable of sending her puppets here just like how she did it before with Robin, So she is still a possibility.

She already knows about Xiao Bai's existence around him, So she definitely would have put measures that Xiao Bai would not be able to sense her puppets.

As for the possibility of some other man being there? Alex does not even think about it, He has his own wishful thinking but there are limits to it, He knows with his luck it would definitely not be a man out there.

*Swiss* *Thump*

Gears moved in his mind as he quickly came up with a plan to prevent messing up the situation. He used his fire element of power to release the burst of heatwave outwards from his body, burning all sticky liquid from his body in the process of cleaning him.

But that was not his only purpose, Because at the moment that happened, he fell on his knees with a pale face making it look like he did not use power on purpose.

"Alex, are you okay? Let me check quickly."

Liza who was lost in the praise of hers done by Alex opened her eyes wide open in panic when she felt that misfire of energy from Alex, This was a sign that something went wrong with the circulation of spiritual power in his body.

She quickly reacts knowing if that was really what happened then she has a very small window of time to fix the issue or Alex would be in a grim condition.

'Come on show yourself.'

Alex on the other hand was waiting for the women outside to do something. After all, let it be any of three women, All of them care about his well-being.

They are going to react differently, Grace would definitely enter the room in panic just like Liza, Sandra would make a quick call to her contacts for help and Belleondoa would send her powers into his body to check if he was alright.

So he was just waiting for what they would choose, paying attention to their action through his god-level acting skill hoping it should be Grace, He really doesn't want to do mental gymnastics with others.

Because he is afraid that there is still lingering effect of that dumbass disease is affecting him, And if there is really those other two scary beautiful monsters present here, He is going to have a hard time dealing with them.

(A/N : Who do you think it would be?

- Grace
- Sandra
- Bellendona
- Someone Else
- , • None Of These

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"*Cough* *Cough* I am fine."

Liza was quick to reach him and then started checking his pulse, Even though she was this close to his naked body, She didn't have any ounce of other thoughts in her eyes.

All her attention was focused on checking on him, No wonder why she was such a famous doctor. When it came to her patients, She ignored everything else and gave them her utmost attention.

Even Alex felt slightly guilty for making her worry like that but he has to if he wants to survive in this world, So it can't be helped.

But still, he tried to give her assurance even to make sure there would be just a slight fluctuation in his spiritual circulation so as not to make her more panic.

'...Not Grace?'

But then Alex was disappointed because the door of the ward was not opened. Yes the door was locked but Grace has gone through the holy blessing skill, So she has the power to break open the door.

Which she would have done if she was outside after all the Grace he knew would have not waited for a second before she made her way towards himself.

Even ignoring the fact that just a moment ago he was banging her own mom, She is that much hopelessly in love with him.

Yet that does not happen meaning the chances of her being out there are close to none, So he focused on the second most likely person, Sandra.

If she really is the one outside then he has to work hard to make sure she does not take this event in a hurtful way. After all, who knows what would happen if she triggers her FL halo.

There is no limit to it, It would not be strange if an asteroid came crashing down on hurt and hit him for hurting FL. It's all possible with their broken luck and passives.

"How can you be fine? The spiritual power running amok in your body, Stop pretending to be strong and just let me deal with it."

Liza was not a bit happy with his answer, She could sense how wildly the spiritual power was running in his body.

Yeah, there is no clear sign on it but that fluctuations of the spiritual power indicate something more going on in his body that she does not know about.

In any case, if it is related to spiritual power, It's taken utmost seriously because that is always a matter of life and death

So Liza who cares about Alex, did not take it lightly that he was ignoring such signs, She roared at him like an angry lioness making her position quite clear.

"....Can you at least pass me the dress you arranged? It's chilly here."

What else can Alex say other than to agree with her? He too knows when it take the wheel and when to release the control.

Right now, It's Liza's turn to be in charge as a doctor, So he lets her be, He is still busy with making a plan, It's just for to that he should be properly dressed.

Not only because he didn't want to give Sandra a visual representation of what happened here which would throw water over all his work but also because he was really feeling cold.

"Oh, here it is, Cover yourself quickly, Don't catch a cold in such a situation."

Liza, hearing Alex quickly got up and brought the dress her hidden guards brought to him.

They delivered it to her way before putting it outside the door. She brought it in and put it on the desk so Alex would not be embarrassed.

So she just reached out to the table and gave the dress to Alex while still monitoring his pluses.

Alex let her be, He quickly stood up and put his dress on ready to start his acting to save his ass.

"Thank yo-*Cough* *Cough* *Huff*."

Alex, going through the plan in his mind decided to follow through with it, while thanking Liza burst out in bad coughing. He was trying to stop it but just was not able to.

His breath became haggard and even his spiritual power started fluctuating from going low to high without any restrictions. There was a tiny amount of blood also coming out while coughing.

"Blood!!!"

Liza panicked seeing his condition, He was on the brink of losing all his spiritual powers. If that happens, Her nightmare will become reality. He would either go into a vegetative state or die.

She doesn't know what is worse, She doesn't want anything like that to happen, So she is ready to use the forbidden arts of medics from her family heritage on Alex.

That art does not have any fancy names. It's just called forbidden healing art but the power of it is too scary. Even if the person is helpless and is on the brink of dying, that technique can save them.

The only price is that the user will lose their ability to ever use that skill technique again, So it's only a one-time use thing.

There is a clear rule in families that this technique is only allowed to be used when it's a matter of the user's life and death or their family is in danger, Other than that they can't use it.

That is why this is a forbidden technique and the White family is clear about that, because if someone broke that rule they forever lose the ability to inherit the family.

And if the head of the family like Liza wastes it then though she would not be dethroned because of it but she would have to face severe punishment for it by the elders in the family but Liza does not care at this moment.

All she knew was that to save Alex, She couldn't allow harm to befall on him, Not when she had the power to prevent it.

'Got it, It's Sandra.'

While Liza was in a panic, Alex who was paying attention to the outside sensed the hurried moment of pulling something out which he guessed was a smartphone as after which the person outside started typing on the device.

This is the reaction he knows Sandra would do, After all for some reason FL always has some hidden connections with people outside her pay grade.

She should be calling them out inviting him into more trouble but he this is a sacrifice he has to make to make FL bend her views on the harem, So it is worth it.

"Liza stop don't use that, See I am fine, It just happens whenever I run low on mana, Now that I recovered it would be fin-"

*Burst Open"

"Alex, are you alright? Where is blood? Are you hurt? Show it to me."

Alex after confirming that it was Sandra decided to stop acting and go for fixing the issue with her but while he walked talking to Liza the door of the ward burst open and with worried teary eyes Grace rushed inside the ward.

She quickly made her way towards him and started checking for injuries. She became more panicked when she saw traces of blood on his hand and the corner of his lips.

Alex's mind went blank as he did not consider the obvious possibility of Grace and Sandra both standing together outside, Even though it was he who asked Sandra to take care of Grace.

'That dumbass is still affecting me.'

Alex put all the blame for this mistake on the poor Rose, Who did nothing other than believe stupidity is an infectious disease, What is her fault in it that she is stupid? Blame her mother if you have guts for the poor genes.

Now he didn't know how to react. His plan is fixable but it is still going to change many unpredictable variables.

Even if Grace has blind love for him, he can't take her for granted. Not only would it hurt her feelings but it might even awaken some strange things in her.

He likes her as she is, A pretty woman who is wholeheartedly in love with him and can do anything for him. What else more he can ask for?

'Wait! Why am I panicking? Just a slight change in the plan not going to hurt, It is the same way to deal with Sandra just have to change a few dialogues for Grace.'

Alex after a brief moment of panic comes to the realization that he has nothing to feel panic about.

Yeah, he can't take Grace for granted but he also does not have rigid conditions for her, She is not that strong-headed, He can handle both of these women simultaneously.

He can even use both Liza and Grace's views on harem to influence Sandra, So at the end of the day this new revelation is going to work in his favor, doesn't it?

It can even put him one step ahead to tame the FL. This made Alex joyful because this was a surprise for sure but a welcome one.

*Growl*

Well, His joy did not last long because Xiao Bai who was sleeping in the chair a while ago suddenly opened her eyes and started growling at the ward door intently.

'Oh please god don't.'

The moment Alex saw that his face turned white, He started praying in his heart that don't let it be what he thinks it is, He would be happy if it was anything else other than his nightmare.

*Spread*

But alas, how can a villain be that lucky? While standing still praying he felt the very ominous aura spread across him, When he felt that he knew.

'I am fucked up, Aren't I?'

(A/N : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Belladonna!!

That is the obvious answer, Alex did not want to believe it but sadly that is reality.

He can handle Sandra and Belladonna perfectly alone, There will be no problem with him being able to manipulate them.

But if these two are together it's a nearly impossible job because these two are legit like fire and water, Both are standing opposite fractions with one another.

While Sandra is FL with her own female lead halo, Belladonna is villainess with her own villainess halo.

Both of them are natural enemies of one another and because of that both need completely different ways to deal with them.

He for Sandra goes with the stimulation route making her slowly get used to him being with other women, As FL has an immense inhuman level of possessiveness for her man, She likes to be one and only women in her man's life.

If he teased and stimulated her too much she would break and there is also the threat of her halo backlashing him for hurting heaven's loved one.

And then there is Belladonna, Who do not care about him being with other women. All she cares about is the fact she always would hold first place in her man's heart.

It's just she did not want only as lover to be first one in his heart, Rather the first person in his heart, No other being or thing can take that position away from her for which she can go to any extent.

Even if she had to kill all the populace of the world for her to be first in his heart, She would do it, Because she is a certified crazy bitch, A worse kinda Yandere.

So to tame someone like that, He has to be always in power over her, Never give her any chance to take the power and for that use all kinda moderate amounts of measures and stimulants to deal with the threat.

'What to do? What to do? There has to be a way right? Right?!!!!'

Alex for the first time coming to this world felt this much of panic, All this work can be destroyed in this instance if he made one wrong move, Be it from Sandra or Belladonna.

Gears in his head started to spin all kinds of plans he could use here come to his mind but newly all of them were rejected by him outright as one plan is only good for one of them not two of them together.

It's the conundrum of the problem, He needs to stimulate Belladonna for her to be on the leash and not go around in a killing spree but he can not stimulate Sandra because she would break under it or just trigger her passive of FL.

'Should I just pretend to be unconscious? It would stall enough time that Belladonna had to retreat.'

Alex thought of the worst plan for him, That is to just pretend to be dead and hope the danger would go away, He is not the one who likes to be at mercy of odds.

Yeah because Belladonna is not here she can't indefinitely use her puppet to this from this long distance, she had to retreat after a while but that is a thing, he didn't know the time limit of hers.

It may be 1 hour or 1 day, And the plan of falling unconscious would have even worked if not for him inviting others to his dormitory.

If he did not reach there, He would create another trouble while avoiding one.

'Maybe...I can do that but it's risky.'

Amidst the chaos of ideas a new plan popped up which caught his attention. This is something he has never done before but this plan has the most potential to be effective against Both of them.

The fact that both of the women are not in front of him which before was a problem with this plan can be used as an advantage against them.

[Ding! World choice is detected...]

Please choose the following options...

•[1] You are in grim danger, Try to save your ass.

Task : Save the situation without breaking or destroying the work.

Reward : Passive "Nine lives."

•[2] Hey, how can you be a villain afraid of a mere woman? Show them the cunningness of the villain.

Task : Use this situation to push their initial acceptance towards your Harem idea.

Reward : Title "Daredevil"

•[3] It's still not that late. Accept your wrongdoing and ask for forgiveness from them.

Task : Come clean right now to both Sandra and Belladonna and apologize to them.

Reward : Get hit by meteoroids everyday till Sandra forgives you, And Belladonna will go on rampage.]

As the trusty system is when it detected there were world choices here, It quickly jumped up and released the task with quite good-looking rewards. If the situation was not this severe Alex would have stopped to appreciate such a reward.

Because even though he doesn't know the powers of it, By the names of it they are quite powerful things.

'System do you want me to see dead? Because 2nd task is how I would end up dead.'

But Alex after seeing the task of 2nd option could not help but to sincerely ask the system what he wants, After all he is here struggling to salvage the situation and it wants me to do the impossible.

Even if those two were not present here at the same time, This task was nearly impossible to do in this short time without much preparation but now they are here, It is a legit impossible task.

If he is food enough to attempt this thing, he is surely going to get hacked to death with a knife by any one of them, As the thing they share in common is their twisted worldview and excessive passion for their man.

Alex is not stupid not desperate enough to try attempting to do the 2nd task. After all, he loves being alive.

[Ding! Host it's upto you to decide what you want to do, I just have possible options for it, Also the 2nd task is indeed nearly impossible so because of that system can increase the rewards with risk assessm-]

'Okay then, Accept the 1st and 2nd option quickly, We can't waste time.'

System started answering Alex but the moment it finished speaking that reward is worth the risk of the task which has always been the case just not said out loud, Alex did not waste any time accepting the task as cold glint flashed in his eyes.

[...]

The system was speechless. How could one person change their nature this quickly? At one moment he was being panic next he was complaining about unfairness and then right after that eagerly accepted the same task?

It could not under this human thing at all, Thankfully it doesn't need to, So it just silently registers the choice of Alex and becomes silent.

'I don't need to use words against Belladonna, My action and her searching my body would be enough for her, As for Sandra, The ace of all cards, The Victim card would be sufficient.'

Alex with newfound passion started making plans to take down both of the women in one swoop, the fear he had for them vanished the moment he heard that reward will be worth it.

Right now he is even ready to use underhand methods against them, The tricks bottom of his box to make both female lead and villainess front of his will.

Alex concocted a devious plan in his head as he looked towards the door of the ward with that all-knowing look in his eyes, He finally decided to let loose his inner man.

"*Cough* Leave me both of you, I do not deserve your love and care, I am a loose man who deserves to be left on the streets, That is where I belong."

Alex stands up and shoves both Liza and Grace away from him, Starting his melodrama of showing hate and disgust for one's own self.

He rubbed his hand off as he was trying to dust the filth of it but he couldn't, So he kept rubbing till his hands became red from the friction from the power and force he was putting behind it.

But he didn't care, just tried to clean himself by rubbing not only his hand but his whole body in utter disgust, wanting to get rid of this dirty flesh and skin which making him nauseous.

"What you saying, Stop it, Stop hurting yourself, Alex."

"Yeah, How can the heirs of the Winchester family say that? Come to your senses, Alex."

Both Liza and Grace seeing this sudden change in Alex were taken aback, They didn't understand what had gotten in Alex.

The Alex they know should be right now teasing them asking if they wanna join him with that charming evil smirk.

Grace has quite some experience with that and she was even ready to respond positively to Alex if he asked but this reaction of his was truly unexpected.

Her heart seeing him this desperate broke into a million pieces, Her eyes became moist with tears she was holding back not wanting to show her weak side in the time of need of Alex.

She hardened her heart and quickly caught his hand which did not stop scratching his skin waiting to peel it outright from his flesh.

When she caught his hand she saw the bleeding traces of nail scratches left on his body and hands, even the nail had a few pieces of skin stuck on it.

Grace really wanted to hug him tightly in her arms and burst out crying as if the wounds were not on his body but on hers, Rather it would have been hurt less if it was on her body than seeing them on her beloved.

She desperately wanted to help him but didn't know how to, This was all new to her, Her tsundere Alex never acted out this way.

Liza though so badly wanted to console him, She was busy keeping an eye on his vitals as his spiritual power was already fluctuating, There was a high risk of it collapsing under the emotional instability of Alex.

"Hurting myself? It's not that big of a deal. Even if I tried my best to harm myself, I would be fine, I am heir of the Winchester family after all. Forget about that, Tell me why do you still care about me?"

Alex looked at Grace hearing her plea to stop from harming himself with a smile filled with heart-wrenching pain making him look like he was about to laugh hysterically and cry miserably at the same time but he was holding himself back from doing neither of it.

"Do you have any idea what I did before you came here? If you know you would definitely hate me, So go away, leave me alone, I can't bear to be hated by you."

Alex stopped his moment and looked dead in Grace's eye with a blank look and spoke in a lifeless tone. He felt like she gave up on everything, Nothing mattered to him now, he was just done with it.

*Bang*

Grace felt like someone just slammed the hammer on her heart, The tears she was so tirelessly trying to hold back could not be also to stopped breaking the bounds of her eyes flowing endlessly from her delicate cheeks.

She didn't know what to do, So she did what her heart felt like doing it, She opened her arms wide and took him in a warm soft embrace, making him press on her softness.

Alex tried to resist it at first but maybe feeling her warmth he gave up his struggle, and lay in her embrace which protected him from outside elements for him to be vulnerable here like a sanctuary just made for him.

"Don't say that, I don't know what is happening with you but you are not allowed to harm yourself. You get that thought in your head, I don't know to what extent I have right over you or have my place in your heart but I know I have some.

So your body does not belong to only yourself, I too have a right over it and using that right I forbid you from harming which is mine, Do you understand? You as a whole are mine through heart and body."

Grace tightening her hug trying to give as much as comfort to him as possible and then said the words she only used to say in her mind but never had the courage to say to him.

But this time she didn't know where that unseen courage came from, She spoke up in her stern tone which was previously impossible for her to do to Alex, This is something even liquid courage could have not brought out of her.

"*Chuckle* You know just before you come here, I slept- No, I fucked Aunty till she passed out in exhaustion, Now can you still say a man like belonged to you?"

Alex's body tightened in her arms, It was an unusually warm embrace. He cuddled in her arms before saying it or Grace tried to get a reaction from her.

Get her to yell at him, curse him or even leave him to be here alone disgusted hearing such a vile thing being spoken of about her mother which might be what Alex was looking for.

"I know, I heard everything, So what about it? We already had a deal, didn't we? You just made the difficult task of convincing my mother to sleep with you rather easy, And for that, I should thank you,

After all, I really had no idea how I should bring up that topic with my mother, I am honoured to have such a considerate boyfr-man."

But unlike everyone expected, Grace did not react at all, she just gave a heartfelt smile, A genuine heartfelt smile not a pretended one and answered him.

They already had that deal. When Gloria means her mother recovers, She would help Alex get into the pants of her mother, Which sounds bad but she was willing to do it for Alex.

Yeah, there was a jealousy factor of Alia taking his first time but it was only a small portion. She really wanted to make Alex happy and for that, she was willing to do anything.

"...You are hopeless, Do you know that? Women should have some spine."

Alex was left speechless by her answer but later spoke such words under his breath while warping his hands around her slender waist also taking her in his hug.

'There he is, My big tsundere.'

The moment Grade heard those words rather than being embarrassed she smiled, As this is the Alex she knows means she is actually able to ask him what was all that about without working about triggering him.

After all, she spent years with this Alex, She knew all his triggers what to say and what not to say, So she was quite happy.

"Interesting."

A shadow hidden in the dark spoke in a hoarse voice as it saw the changes in Alex the moment he hugged Grace.

The figure in the dark was really taken aback when she saw his wounds start to heal at a speed visible to make eyes, In no time his wound healed and became as good as new, As if it was never damaged.

She who spent as much time in the supernatural world had not seen something like this before. Yeah there are healing superpowers but Alex already has fire-related superpowers, So this is clearly not because of his superpowers.

And even if she considers that his fire is somehow related to his healing ability, It still does not make sense by how his healing power works.

She was monitoring his every move including his internal ones, So she would have been the first to notice if his superpower had been triggered as all superpowers need spiritual energy to work.

But it did not happen, rather nothing had happened until he hugged that damn guy woman who has the audacity to call Alex belongs to her, Who she would have to deal with later.

Anyway, What is important thing is that, the moment Alex hugged her his wound started to heal, And the fact is that she was not able to detect how his wound got healed.

There was just one flash of unknown energy and he was good as new. It happened so fast that others might not even notice that all his wounds had been healed.

She was fascinated by that, If not for the bounding of this vessel, She really wanted to drag Alex away from here and test what made that happen

*Growl*

Xiao Bai sensed the presence again of that person in the dark, She suddenly became territorial as she didn't want another unknown S-Rank force around Alex, It was not good for his safety.

'Calm down girl, Don't attack, just stay put as I said before.'

Alex, seeing what he this fluff ball wanted to do, quickly spoke to her through their telepathic contract connection.

Of course, he did not forget about her like a rookie. The moment he decided on the plan, He alerted her that no matter what he did or acted, She should not react.

After all, if he hadn't warned her beforehand, She seeing Alex going through "anguish" would have snapped out and gone on her own rampage to hunt and kill the person who hurt him.

He knows what she is capable of even if that power hides beneath her vast cuteness, So he planned all out.

And now he was sure he had gotten the attention of his dear fiancée, Now he wanted to put a target on Sandra.

"So now you are ready to tell me what's just happened?"

Grace not knowing what is going through the head of her man she thinks can never do any wrong asked in her sweet soul soothing tone careful of not to trigger his emotions again.

Liza on the other hand was too busy monitoring his vitals through her special technique, Though she wanted to be one who comforted him in his time of need but this was more important.

So she let Grace do the calming thing as she looks like she knew how to handle the situation while she here does what she is good at and that is to make sure he would not die.

Alex on the other hand could not help but to love more of this helpless girl, Everytime he wants something, She would do it without him asking as if there is a telepathic connection between them.

Just like now, How badly he was waiting for the right opportunity to strike and here comes his knight in shining armour for rescue.

Now that the opportunity is given, He decided to fully is going all out.

"...I hate myself that I am not able to control my urges, I loathe myself that I even enjoy doing it."

Alex took a moment to gather his thoughts and then tightening his embrace on her for fearing that she would leave him after hearing his answer.

His light tone has an obvious fear of rejection and abandonment, He is like a lost puppy clinging onto her not wanting to be left alone here fearing his ownself isolation.

"Why? What do you mean? Can you tell me, Alex? You can tell me Here we even have a doctor. Who can help us better understand this didn't it?"

Grace of course felt his micro action and felt she would cry once again from the overwhelming sense of grief and sadness by the thought of Alex going through distress and she couldn't do anything other than just sit here and listen.

But she did not show it on her face. She also became bold and hugged him as tightly as she comfortably could, making sure to let him know her action and that she would not abandon him before asking him to tell her the reason behind this sudden outburst.

She had an idea about it but it was not the issue before, So she was not completely sure if that might be the reason behind his outburst or if there was something else behind it.

There are too many such questions, So rather than making assumptions, She does what she feels is right and asks Alex about it, Which actually is a big taboo here to ask a man why he is crying about.

Women should just somehow figure out why their man is crying without asking them, Is that too much to ask?

Anyway, thankfully Alex is actually not like other men. He adored that she asked him, So he could start his melodrama and get the title of being king of melodrama.

"I...I just was able to control it, Grace. Before in my teenage years, I still had slightly weird feelings about women but I was able to control it. Yeah, it used to hurt but I got used to that pain."

Alex once again went through word by word what he wanted to say before he said it to Grace in not so not-so-light tone, Rather he spoke up in a loud hurried tone appearing as to speak all this up as soon as possible to Grace.

"It was fine till a few days ago, But after I had sex with Alia, I became just out of control, I could not control myself, Everytime I look at the woman, I wanted to bang her. The thought before would have disgusted me now makes me more excited."

Alex spoke these words loud and clear hugging tightly to Grace as if he was not sure Grace would react positively to his words,

Liza on the other hand when she heard started to go through multiple reasons for what Alex was talking about, many medical conditions came up in her mind that matched the description of Alex's problem but she still needed more information about it before she could give her verdict.

"Having sex with beautiful women like you makes me feel good. The pain that has always been there like an uninvited guest, After the sex even if for a little bit of time goes away, And I don't lie to you but I might be addicted to the sex."

Alex said these things with a straight face without any shame or hesitation, Like this was not the main reason why he reacted the way he did.

Which not only going to also virtual single others that this is not a bad thing but they would also be going to pay attention to his next point more thinking the reason would be the next thing.

"Maybe that is why I lost control over my actions, I didn't want to do that with Aunty Gloria this soon but after I used a Fairly blessing skill on her to heal her completely, I felt black front of my eyes.

My body felt tool weak to even stand, There is a burning feeling as if my body is set on fire and then I saw aunty wake up, After that my instincts took over, I was aware of what I was doing but wasn't able to stop myself from tarnishing aunty's image that way."

Alex prayed in his heart before he uttered these words. The result of these words is going to decide whether or not he will be successful in his task.

———— Sandra POV ————

I was just wanted to take Grace to see her mother before making her go to bed.

Oh how excited I was to finally put her to sleep and go see Alex, a boy who stole everything from her.

Nothing left of her that solely belongs to her, her breath was his, her dreams of his, Her body was his even she would feel like it belongs to him.

Maybe this is how it feel to be in love, A belief that transcend the bounds of logic and reasoning.

Till this afternoon she did not even know about him but it's just midnight and she completely and utterly fell head over heels for him. There is a strong thought in her mind that she can do anything for him, anything as now he is hers now.

Though he is angry because he misunderstood her intention because of the sudden reveal of background, But she knows once she clarifies that to him, Everything will be fine.

But since when do I am fortunate enough for things to go this smoothly for me, Fate has seen me being too happy and so it decided to punish me for it.

When I come here, I heard the loud moans of the women. Even though the ward door is airtight, She still heard the voice clearly. It's of a mature woman that is coming from the ward.

And when I saw the face of Grace, I knew it should not be anyone other than her mother. Though I felt weird but if this woman is having this kind of a sex then she should be healthy now, isn't it?

So for a moment, I felt happy for Grace, Now she should not have to worry too much, Her mother is fine.

After of this is the only woman who was supporting her, Teaching her what to do and not to do in front of Alex. Even though she does not have to, she telling her ways to solve the misunderstanding she has with Alex..

So this Grace is so strange, Even knowing she is fighting for Alex love which makes the two of them enemies, She is still helping her to this degree.

To which I didn't know whether to call her a woman with principles, have a big heart or an utter fool either the case, I have a good feeling about her. If it is her then maybe, I mean very very strong maybe don't mind sharing some of her Alex.

It's just the next moment I was left in shock because I heard a man's voice, Is is not strange as to what is going on inside the ward but that voice was too familiar.

She didn't wants to believe it but that voice is imprinted in her soul, She can't mmisunderstandit, It is Alex inside having an illicit act with the mother of her new friend cum enemy.

For a moment she stood still in a place not able to process what was happening, she learned and knew that Alex needed to have sex with women because of his dual cultivation physique.

To which she still not able to get used to it, She already planned to find a good girlfriend to ask help and love this issue of hers, She could have know the ways to male sure he would be safe and still not have to give in to his urges.

She thought about everything well. After all, after the literally being sold by her family for the profit, Alex is the only good thing that happens to her. She didn't want to ruin or share that with anyone at all.

Yet before she even gets to taste her newfound joy, her hope and dream were crushed by the moans of the women who now she hates to her core.

Yes that women should have taken advantage of Alex's vulnerability, If not, Alex would have never done this to women twice of his age. He is not that kinda man.

Oh how badly she wanted to barge in and grab the hair of the woman who was taking advantage of her beloved before throwing her out in the street but she stopped herself from doing so.

Currently she is no one to Alex, Even if that woman taking advantage of Alex's vulnerability, This should be still a consensual act, So her bargaining in like that is just going to ruin her image in the eyes of Alex more.

Not to mention her doing so would also be going to embarrass him, Which can been seen as she shaming Alex for his condition, Which not only hurt his heart but might even make him hate her.

This is the last thing Sandra wants, No, She can't lose him now. He is the only ray of the hope in her dark world, She doesn't want to go back to her bleak life, If you even can call it that.

Before she was just following a schedule, trying to get back that lost control of life from the forces she was so dwarfed in front of it.

She knew she would be lose. She was just doing to spite others, Then go out guns blazing. At least that way she is able to look in the mirror and say she did her best to herself.

But it all changed when he came into her life. It's not that long time since he appeared but every second she spent with him made her feel alive. It made her realize that there are many things that are worth fighting for.

The hidden life she left behind way in the past, The one she was adamant she would never return to felt like it would not be that bad to return to, use that power to reclaim the right of herself.

Then she can, with a high head, stand with Alex and ask him to be with her. She can have the power to give him the dream life, and so so much other things.

But right now, There was nothing but fury left in her heart, She didn't know for whom that fury belongs, Gloria? Grace? To herself or Alex? She just doesn't know.

She doesn't want to feel this way, not towards Alex as that poor thing could not even be able to control himself but a disgusting feeling still came up even after knowing that.

She also doesn't want to feel angry towards Grace, like what she did? She has been just helping her since the beginning, And yet she can't help but be furious as this woman is related to the hag inside the ward.

Of course, there is justifiable rage and fury towards Gloria and yet unwillingly she could not able to solely blame Gloria even when she so badly wanted to.

As she also hates herself, Why? Why did she allow this to happen? If she never left his side then it would never happen, She would have been there to take care of his needs.

Even if he was angry she should have stayed with him but she didn't and see what happened.

She didn't know how long she had been standing outside with equally shocked Grace, Then she made the mistake she should have never would have done, She peeked inside from the semi-transparent gap in the door glass.

This set her whole being on fury of rage, The rage she didn't know where it came from was burning in her heart.

Before she could recover, They heard the painful groan of Alex with violent coughing coming out of the ward.

Grace was first to snap out of her trance as she rushed towards the ward door wanting to rush in and see what happened to Alex.

"No Grace, Stop!"

She didn't know why seeing Grace to rush out like this. She reached her hand and stopped Grace in her tracks with a cold glint in her eyes.

(A/N : Quick question, Do you guys like from first perspective writing (Using I) or 3rd one (Using She)?

- I
- She

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"What are you doing? Why are you stopping me?"

Grace asked me in little fury not understanding a bit of why I prevented her from going to check on Alex.

Oh why indeed, If I have an answer I would have given to her but sadly I myself do not have an answer to that.

I too want to rush inside the war and see if he is fine. See if I can help him with what he is going through but I just can't.

When I tried to move towards the ward, A fully naked picture of Alex pop-up into my head. Normally this would have made me blush and excited but it would have made me feel like someone punched me in my stomach.

It's hard to tell what is the reason behind my pain, all I know is that I am in pain, I don't want to do anything, I just stand here with an empty mind doing nothing.

After all, I still don't want to admit I hated Alex being with other women because if that is the case then how can she accept him? How can he accept her?

No, It has to be for some different reason right? It has to be.

"Why are you saying anything? Let go of me, Sandra."

Thankfully angry words of Grace pulled me back from my thoughts before I fallen too deep in them.

I looked up and saw that concerned face with love love-filled for my man who just a moment ago was doing unspeakable things with her mother. It made me feel weird. Not good kind but not bad either.

I don't want her to go meet him, Maybe because I am afraid, afraid that I am not as deeply in love with Alex as Grace is who even outlooks this so big betrayal and shows this much concern to him.

How is she able to do that? How can she love so selflessly? I feel inferior to her in terms of loving someone.

So if she goes to Alex, Then what if she steals Alex from me? I know I should not think this way, Grace was nothing but helpful to me but this damned heart of mine just doesn't listen to my will to see her as a friend.

"If you go out now He would know we were eavesdropping on him, That would make him very embarrassed. Wait here, I checked with my contacts, They would be able to help us."

I didn't know what to say to her. How can I say I am jealous and also afraid of her devotion towards Alex? So I just say whatever sounds reasonable in my mind.

"But...Do it quickly then."

Thankfully she brought the reason and stopped in her tracks. While I looked at the phone I thought I was never going to use it from my pockets.

It was not in good condition, It looked corroded. It's a very old flip phone that can't do anything other than make a call that too only to one number stored in it.

But this is still the most special and expensive thing I owe. After all, the one this phone is capable of calling is unreachable for most of the elites in the world.

I was ready to call that madwoman but before I could call her, I heard the violent coughing come out of the ward along with the exclamation from that doctor Liza, who apparently was also inside while all this was happening.

I could not able to react fast enough as internal struggle broke out in my heart, One part of me wanted to go rush in and see what is happening with Alex but the other part me not wants to see him fear how would I react seeing him in that state.

When I was contemplating, Grace did not waste even a second on thinking. The moment she heard the painful groan of Alex, she rushed in breaking open the door of the ward.

While I stand aside like a fool seeing my rival rush towards my love doing nothing other than to just stand here.

"No, What am I doing? I can't help him inside anyway, Just call her, she would know how to handle this stuff."

I was dredging my life choice but then I thought that there is no need for me inside there, I can't help him even if I go inside, So other than not knowing how I would react.

So I just picked up the phone and dialed the call using a fast dial.

*Ring* *Ring*

*Pick Up*

"Thank you for calling Berlin's fried chicken, What would you like to order?"

Just when they picked up, A sweet voice came out of the phone from a fast-food employee taking an order.

"*Sigh* Are you chicks still doing that? Come on, This number can only be connected through these phones you gave to us."

When I picked up the call I heard that familiar voice making me facepalm seeing they were still doing this dumb thing.

This number is from a secure line, and is different for each person it is given to, Not only that one can only be connected via the hardware means this phone, So even knowing the phone number one can not call.

So I don't understand why these people are still doing this? There has to be a limit on paranoia right?

After all, These phones also have the added security of biometrics like fingerprints and voice detection, if they do not match the device will not work.

"Dear customer, If you do not want to order something, I have to cut off your call, thanks for calling Berlin fired chicken"

"Wait!! I like to order a full-family bucket for myself."

I guess people at the end of the line don't like my remarks as she, while still maintaining the that pleasing tone, wanted to cut off the call, So I have to give in and say what they wanted.

If not, and they cut the call, I have to wait for 24 hours before making another call, I don't have that much time to waste. For Alex she can at least speak this "encrypted" way for them.

"Thank you for calling Berlin Fried Chicken, Your order has been placed and will be delivered to your at that time location soon. Hope you like our service. Have a good day."

I heard those and sighed in relief, No matter what Alex's problem is it would be fixed by this service, Which is the highest service grade they can provide, So there is no need to worry.

"*Cough* Leave me both of you, I do not deserve your love and care, I am a loose man who deserves to be left on the streets, That is where I belong."

Just as I cut the call, I heard the words come out of the ward. Though his words are not loud enough but because the door of the ward is open, I am able to hear it clearly.

*Pang*

The moment I heard these words, There was a pang in my heart. I somehow felt guilty thinking these words were in response to her reaction to his act, Which was crushing her down.

Afterwards what he did, I just could not able to stand still on my legs as guilt was eating me out.

(A/N : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

He was hitting himself, I don't know why he was doing it but he was not showing mercy to him, I can tell from the anxious begging of Grace and Liza.

And to my dismay, A tiny part of me was happy because of it. This disgusted me on how can there could be this delight in seeing the man I love breaking down in front of me but it was still there.

Even though the majority of me wanted to rush in and protect him from himself but that tiny part of thoughts in my mind prevented me from doing what my heart wanted.

The logical side of my brain is yelling at me not to be stupid and cater to Alex's bad behaviour. If he is now disgusted by sleeping with women casually then I can easily prevent him from going around sleeping with other women later on.

Yeah I know this makes me a worse lover but I just can't love someone selflessly as Grace does.

So even my heart broke into a thousand pieces, This is an important part for him and myself too, hence why even when guilt was eating me out, I stood outside the ward closing my ears with both of my hands eating for all this to be over.

"Hurting myself? It's not that big of a deal. Even if I tried my best to harm myself, I would be fine, I am heir of the Winchester family after all. Forget about that, Tell me why do you still care about me?"

Well as it turns out, hands are good at noise cancelling, I heard what he said, making each of his words penetrate in my heart and soul, torturing me.

I don't get it. Didn't these kinds of words I wanted to hear? If so then why is my heart tearing apart hearing them?

Why the moment I heard them I was disgusted by myself? I didn't want to feel this way, I just wanted to only be loved by him. Why is it too much to ask?

Why? Why? Why?!!

Can't have what I want once in my life? Am I not allowed to have desires? Nor have a wish for once in my life?

So why is this the case? Why is it's paining and hurting me to get what I want? Am I so unlucky that I don't even deserve the bare minimum?

What kinda sim goddess out there is punishing me?

No!!! Already sacrificed too much for others. My life, my worth, even myself is spent for the well-being of others who do not care about me at all.

I am allowed to be selfish. No, I deserve to be selfish for once in a lifetime. I would spend my whole life making upto him for this sin but I just can't compromise with this thing.

"Do you have any idea what I did before you came here? If you know you would definitely hate me, So go away, leave me alone, I can't bear to be hated by you."

Many such words came from the ward but I chose to ignore them all. It's making my heart bleed but my iron will keeping me together, not allowing me to break down.

This is all I have to do. Just stand outside doing nothing and all my problems would be solved by themselves.

This is exactly what I did, And as it turns out not it was working, Though Grace made Alex calm down but I let it pass as he calming down was the important part.

Now, I just have to wait a little more. He would say that he would never sleep with a woman out of the blue and then I just have to tame his urges, it would be fine after that, I believe it would be fine.

"I...I just was able to control it, Grace. Before in my teenage years, I still had slightly weird feelings about women but I was able to control it. Yeah, it used to hurt but I got used to that pain."

Those were the words that struck me, He said them so causally but as a woman who has a keen sense of detecting underlying emotions, I was quick to detect that the pain he said was not as casual as it made it to be.

I used to say in that tone, make it casual as if it was not a big deal or give up my favourite dress to my "sister", Or When she pushed me from the stairs and I broke my chin bleeding on the floor.

It hurt, It hurt a lot but I never said that to my parents because one they would have not believed that their angelic golden child would do something like that, They just had said I was lying.

And second, I also don't want to put my little sister in trouble, She already went through a lot, and I thought she would learn and grow up out of it. Well, that turned for the worse.

But anyway, with that experience of mine, I can tell he was hiding his pain, it would have hurt him to no avail but he just does not want to show his vulnerable side to the world.

Which I can relate from the heart, I too do not want to let words see my struggle, I just wanted them to leave me alone and let me drown in my tears with peace.

'It pained him that much and he still tried to keep himself pure? How can any man have this strong will? Why does he need to put a strong face-up? Tha- Oh I get it, The curse of riches.'

I could not understand why Alex was suffering alone, Why he did not seek help or tell anyone about it.

But then I also understood how can man say stuff like this to anyone? He would be too ashamed and embarrassed to have those intense thoughts like that towards women.

So he just decided to keep his mouth just, gritting his teeth bearing the pain just like her. It's just her case that was understandable, She is a woman who can handle that pain.

But what man like him needs to have a strong facade? With one cry for help would bring him all the help he needed from all over the world, it's not an exaggeration.

He has the face that makes even celestial nymphs ashamed to call themselves the most beautiful beings in existence. They clearly have not seen him as they front of him looks as ugly as a monkey's red ass.

On top of that, he was said to be heir to the Winchester family, Then it hit me, He is an heir of the big family, So there are some standards of that family even he has to follow it.

Who knows what kinda of blood tribulations he had to go through to get the position of heir of Winchester, Which would be a lot after all even my sister was on my throat for to be heir of the falling small families of mine.

And then he is also a man, So it was even harder for him to get and keep the position of the heir. No wonder he decided to keep his mum as who knows what kinda vile minded people in his family used his condition against him.

'Maybe I am being too harsh on him. He clearly wanted to change. Rather than standing here, I should go and help him in this vulnerable time of his.'

As it turned out, I was being stupid, there are way too many things that are common in us, So we are just meant to be.

And Alex seems to not wants to do these acts, Just his body does not listen to him which is understandable as man is already quite weak and then to supply power to the dual cultivation physiques, It would putting quite a toll on the body.

So I decided to stop being heartless, Just go to him and console him in his time of need. Can't let Grace take all of his love, can I?

After which the service ordered would also come here, So we are able to find a way together to deal with this issue, It would be all going to be fine.

Oh, how I wish I shouldn't have said that.

"It was fine till a few days ago, But after I had sex with Alia, I became just out of control, I could not control myself, Everytime I look at the woman, I wanted to bang her. The thought before would have disgusted me now makes me more excited."

Just as I was about to walk towards the entrance of the ward, These words of his fell on my ears, locking me in place.

(A/N : By the way, do you like this 1st POV?

- Yes
- No
- Netural

Also, I forgot to say it before, Happy Diwali guys, I know it's late, sorry for that. After tomorrow 2 ch a day would start again.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Rage, Fury, Disgust, ...And Disappointment.

These emotions occupied my mind and heart. The heart which was breaking into 1000 pieces just by hearing his wailing a moment ago now was suddenly unbothered.

Tears which were wailing up in my eyes also halted. My whole being felt like it is frozen in time, everything felt unreal. What is this mirage of emotions? I don't know.

I am angry and yet I was not, there was raging fury in my heart but against who? I don't know

The strong disgust that urging me to throw up is there but what is so disgusting? I have no idea.

Even the strange helpless disappointing aura covering me has no reason for why it is there, I don't know anything, anything at all.

It's a weird kinda sensation, I care and I don't, I hate and yet I love, I disgust and yet willing to go towards it, What is this? I am going insane?

Why do I have a strong urge to grab Alex and throw him in the soap water and wash it thoroughly and at the same time I don't want to do that? I think I am losing my mind.

"Maybe that is why I lost control over my actions, I didn't want to do that with Aunty Gloria this soon but after I used a Fairly blessing skill on her to heal her completely, I felt black in front of my eyes.

My body felt too weak to even stand, There was a burning feeling as if my body was set on fire and then I saw Aunty wake up, After that my instincts took over, I was aware of what I was doing but wasn't able to stop myself from tarnishing aunty's image that way."

When I was going to lose my mind, I heard those words breaking me out of that spell of mine, It took a minute to actually comprehend what he said but when it hit me, An overwhelming guilt took over me.

"Why am I like this? I knew he couldn't control himself, It was just a primal instinct that took over when his life was in danger and yet I...I blame him? Isn't he the victim in all of this? He did not choose to be that way, He was just born that way with a cursed boon."

It dawned on me what I was doing hearing his words, Lots of mixed emotions wailing up from my heart, While those negative ones were fading away as they came in the unknown.

Yeah, How hypocritical of her to feel this way towards Alex when she might be the closest person who understands what he is going through.

Didn't she also lose control like this one before? Didn't she so desperately want someone to understand her, ask her, feel her trouble and if can't help at least stand aside without pushing her down while he was dealing with her demons?

Isn't this what Alex should be feeling right now? No, he should be feeling more as at least there was her understanding group beside her when that happened but he has none, he is just fighting that battle alone.

A soft weak man was doing this for who knows how long without asking for help while she as a strong powerful woman nearly broke down even with the support from her friends by emotional baggage.

She should be the one who understands him the best as she herself has gone through a similar experience and yet other than doing that she felt disgusted, repelled by the thought he was doing with others while she did a lot worse than simple consensual sex.

Can there be any bigger hypocrite than her?

"No wonder bad things always happen to me, I indeed deserve all that comes towards me, Mom was right, I am a black-hearted woman."

I lost all my chaotic emotions and I guess I got the enlightenment as I realized, I am the reason why bad things happen to me, I am the worst of the worst womankind there is.

I want everyone to understand me, like me and love me for who am I but when it's my turn to do the same, I hate it.

'No, It can't go on like this, If I would lose him if I keep ignoring his plea for help, Let's deal with that urge to control things later, First making sure he knows I understand and with him is the main task, Everything can be and would be done later.'

I clenched my fist and decided to support him. If I have to handle a few sights of him engaging with others sexually for that to happen then be it.

I will not deter away just because of it, Anyway it would not be that long till they come here and check him then there would definitely be a solution on how to control his primal urges, Then she doesn't have to share him with anyone, He would be only mine and mine alone.

After all that I decided I pulled out my make-up kit and quickly gave a touch up to my face. Though I hate the make-up but this time is an exception.

Then after doing that, I took a deep breath and I, with swift motion, entered the ward hurriedly.

———— End Of POV ————

While Sandra was going through the stuff, a figure in the dark , which was obviously a puppet of Belladonna, was monitoring Alex making sure something would happen to her previous man.

Though she was more fascinated than worried about Alex as she seeing a weird kind of power unknown to her running through him giving him healing ability.

But in her eyes that power is not only for that, healing should be just one of the side things that power is capable of. The main thing should be different but she could not find what is the main ability of that power in him.

It's given that it is related to the dual cultivation technique as that power only comes up and becomes active when he touched that damn filthy woman but the nature of the power in itself is hard to guess as power like this never appeared in the world, especially in man.

'Further observation is needed to unravel my cute baby's secret.'

A puppet spoke up in a grim voice which was more unpleasant to hear than a nail scratching on the blackboard. It's physically hurting the ears as the undead puppet is not fully able to contain the power of Night Empress and so it is leaking through the speech of the puppet.

The overly obsessed tone did not help a bit giving uncanny feelings there. These words were supposedly uttered in love but you feel this is not the case.

"Huh!? Now who is she?"

The puppet stopped monitoring Alex for a second when it sensed the presence of another person, who was somehow ignored by her before.

"Seems like she is trying to steal my Alex? She does not look like someone with family power like our nor that close to Alex, Should I just end future there-*Pang*"

Belladonna saw through Sandra the eyes of a puppet. In her eyes Sandra should not have any powerful family backup because she know every important and powerful peoples and families, Sandra does not belong to any of them.

So she thought why keep the cockroaches around to taint her lovely Alex, Just squash it before it becomes annoying but just as that thought arises in her mind, There was a pang in her hearts.

This was a warning sign exclusive to S-rank warriors, This told her to stop whatever she was doing or she would die.

For the first time after Belladonna gets this feeling aside from that one monster making herself seated in the capital feel a forgotten emotion named fear.

(A/N : Sorry for the little break, It was festival season here so there was that, don't worry update will be normal like before now.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"What kinda monsters is my lovely Alex surrounding himself with?"

In the luxury bedroom, Belladonna was laying on her comfy bed showing the figure forbidden to gaze upon by the mortal eyes as they were not able to handle the spectacle of her beauty.

Her obsidian eyes were looking at the woman who just entered in the ward and then Alex with a hint of curiosity in them.

Oh how long has it been since she felt this way? When was the last time something this genuinely surprise her to this degree.

After all, it's not an everyday occurrence that she encounters a woman without any powers being a threat to her.

Of course, She thinks if she is careful she has a high change to take out that woman for sure as the threat alert system of S-rank is not absolute, It's just warn them of a danger they are going to encounter has a chance to lethally harm them or kill them which is still a urban legend.

As there is no official death of S-Rank in battle yet, There is one case of Nobel killing S-rank but it was highly unlikely to be done in battle.

So Belladonna was not that worried about Sandra, Well you can't blame her, Not everyone mom's how broken FL are, Which eventually become their downfall, Same tapping with her, As villainess of the novel, her critical thinking would slow down facing the Female lead.

Thankfully the IQ halo was destroyed in the beginning by Alex, so there would no longer have a brain-dead effect on the villains, Which might be why she did not just outright attack Sandra and dig her own grave.

Sandra is a second woman Belladonna is impressed by, First being Alia, That woman has quite a strong potential and superpower, if let it grow, She can be force to reckon with.

Alex being surrounded by one of the millions women like this is really impressive making the position of Alex she has in her heart elevated go another degree.

"Robin, Throw away that coffin, we need a bigger one to fit him and all his lovely friends together, I don't want him to feel lonely in there."

Belladonna stopped watching him through the eyes of the puppets she sent to keep an eye out on her lovely Alex making sure he would not hurt his soft body.

Then she spoken softly with over the brim love filled tone but anyone who heard these words would shudder in the utmost shock and fear.

After all, the tone of her voice was very enchanting making anyone jealous of the man she said her name of but when they realised what she said, it change this from being a romantic fantasy tale to a real horror story.

This woman here is talking about putting her lover into the coffin and not only that, She already prepared for him, just now changed it to a bigger one to accommodate his friends.

Thankfully Alex is far from her reach for now, or who knows what she would have done to him, Well we know but still.

This is how she expresses love or says this is what love is in her eyes, To keep her lover always with her safe and sound.

Yeah safe and sound, How do they say when they are dead? This is where her necromancy powers come in the play which is still mysterious.

In her eyes, people are most coated happy and worry-free when they are dead, Which technically is true, Dead man has no worry.

So she wants to keep her loved ones dead. This way they would always be happy, not worry about anything anymore. There would be no fear in their heart, they would just be happy.

They also can't able to abandon her like others did. That time she was young and just newly awakened her powers so she was not able to resurrect them.

She is still with all her powers is helpless against the power of death. No matter how much she tries, she just can't win over it.

So she embraces it. If she can't resurrect then she can at least reanimate them. Even this works for her to keep her loved one forever with her without forcing them.

Which if you think about it in her twisted ways is kinda cute if you ignore the reanimated part.

"Okay, Miss."

Anyway, Robin hearing his master's command quickly followed the order and dragged the large coffin which was apparently was with her in her bedroom to downstairs.

Belladonna waited for Robin to go out of her with the comically huge coffin which was made after testing with the last one, Which turn not Alex could nearly fit, So plan was to just to put him in there in pieces but after seeing his beauty in morning that plan was dropped.

So this coffin was created which was huge made for to keep Alex comfortably in there but even this one now feels small as there would be more guests there with him inside.

She really doesn't want him to feel lonely there, All his friends should be inside with him.

"I can't wait to finally have you in my arms *Giggle*."

After he was gone, She lay flat on her back holding the photo of Alex in her arms looking at him and giggling like a teenage man in love.

Have to say, if her being crazy part is taken out, Would be the most sorted-after woman for any man.

Of course things are not that normal with her, As the photo she was holding is not any of one but the one from the hospital where Alex was standing naked.

How did she get the photos? Who knows, because her puppet definitely can't take the pic as the aura of dead makes most electronic devices malfunction.

...

"What are you doing here?"

With a cold tone Alex asked Sandra as he struggled to stand up from Grace's arms but maybe because of standing there like this for quite some time or his body already being weak he only struggled but was not able to stand up on his own.

So Grace had to support him, lifting him up from the ground and help him keep standing as his legs didn't have the strength to keep his weight and started wobbling.

"I...I"

While Sandra stood in the suddenly cold ICU ward looking down not daring to meet the eyes of Alex like a child did something wrong and is now afraid of punishment.

'What's taking it so long? Didn't they should be nearly okay with I hoping harem?'

Alex has rage and disgust written on his face but in his heart he was sweating buckets.

He did all he could do, He is sure Belladonna right now would be planning something crazy to him and his harem, he just knows in his guts.

But that is okay as this is the expected reaction from someone like her, But he did not expected Sandra to walk in the ward this bashingly without care about the world.

He thought she could just call someone, realise she was wrong and walk away promising herself that she would-be better for him.

This would be means that Alex gets breathing room to make sure to fox all the open ends of the story he just fabricated on a whim, so there are of course plot holes in it.

Which was not a problem normally but when it comes to someone who has broken the luck of FL, He really doesn't want to take a risk.

"I...I *Choke* come here to see if you are okay."

Sandra did not know what to say at all, She was already super guilty before but after seeing Alex even struggle to stand up, She was newly broken down in guilt.

How can she be so heartless? How can she blame a pure man like him for the things he didn't have any control over? She really wronged him.

'When would this damn system give task completion notification?'

While Sandra was drowning in guilt, Alex was cursing his damn system of what was taking so long to say that the task was completed.

(A/N : I am feeling good now, Sorry for the delay.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

"Where is Rose?"

A cold voice rang in the luxurious hospital VIP ward which has futuristic technology but still has the decoration of a modern luxury room.

Right now Ice Queen, The current-ex girlfriend of Alex, Alia was standing in front of her uncaring mother who did not have any interest in entertaining her eldest daughter's stunts.

She just looked at her and scanned to see if there were any dark arts magical aura is still on her, fortunately there is none, So the probability of her asking for Rose is not that much but can't be say it for sure.

"...So how was my man?"

"*Choke* *Cough* *Cough* What!!!!??"

Seeing Helen was not paying her any heed to attention, Alia just smirked and out of nowhere asked her out making Helen choke on her spit in shock coughing violently looking shocked at Alia.

Helen was really surprised, Never in her wildest dream had she thought that this daughter of hers could say something bold like this to her.

Is this even a question that can be asked to your mother? Answer of course would he was fantastic but who can say that about her daughter's current-ex boyfriend?

Isn't that just crossing a line a bit too much?

"Ohh, So Mother does know how to talk, Interesting."

Alia still hold that smirk on her face as she look directly in the shocked eyes of her mother without any fear.

If it was past Alia she would be able to do this, After all there was a limit on how much she can say in the sentence before.

But now she just doesn't care. As her frozen heart melted, her emotions which was frozen before were also rekindled in the blaze of passion birthed in her heart.

Now she was on the high of experiencing these newfound emotions, Even though while speaking to her mother in this terrified her making her palm sweaty and throat dry, she still felt excited to do so.

As she asked her that, A wave of pleasure hit her neither making her wet and the pleasure she felt that saying this to her mother whom she shared her man is just can't be experienced in words.

Before she thought it was jealousy as it was new to her but now she knows, It is her redemption arc.

What? You thought she would say kink? Don't be that hopeful, She is smart but not self-aware.

Someone like her would point out everything that is possible for their conundrum then to themselves, As they are obsessed with controlling if it is something else they thing they can control it but if they think it was themselves who is problem then that prove they have no control over themselves.

This was enough to make someone like them go insane, So it's best for someone not to point that out to them.

"Do you some weird kink or something?"

Helen just looked at her daughter in a weird way as she spoke up these words with of curiosity and confusion.

"What!?! No!? What!??!"

Alia's brain crashed for a second hearing, Helen, the reason of her doing all that was that this is her redemption and punishment for treating Alex badly was threatened by these words as they made her think.

As a result her brain just shut off the thinking process for a second to protect her from reality leaving her for the first time in life without a proper comeback.

'Did I said something wrong?'

Helen seeing her daughter glitching out in real life was a little concerning as she never saw her daughter showing any kinda emotion but now this was definitely a shock that her daughter was showing.

This is so out of the ordinary that she even thought to call the doctors to take a look at Alia for the problems.

"Who!?!!"

But before she could do that, A strong pressure descended on them occupying the whole room.

"Mother sto-!?!? *Crush* *Kneel*"

Alia under such pressure comes to her senses as she is pushed to the ground making her kneel without giving her opportunities to resist such power.

Her first thought was her mother was punishing her as in her eyes only she had the power to make her this helpless but when she looked at Helen's face, She realized it was not done by her mother meaning it was someone else making her alert.

"I don't know who you are but you made a grim sin of attacking me and my daughter, I give you a chance to lift the aura and I consider leaving your body whole."

Helen after the initial shock was burning with rage, If not for the fact that her power was still chaotic and not safe to use, she would have started bombarding the person who dared to attack them.

'Space is sealed, Definitely S-Rank.'

Helen wanted to throw Alia away from her as right now she is her weak point.

Because even if right now she can't fully use her powers, Her inherent S-rank strength would have been enough to tackle whatever another part has to throw at her.

But to her horror, she realised that the space around them was sealed off, Which means one thing is clear, the other party is an S-Rank powerhouse.

Which is trouble now, Unlike Rose case this is not a false alarm as only S-rank can seal of the space.

"Ohh indeed, Your daughter did a grim sin, She hurted the one I adore more than myself."

A beautiful voice-like melody reverberated in the ward making Alia lose her sense for a second being lost in the sweetness of that sound.

For some reason she felt that she was familiar with that voice but at the same time she felt she didn't know the person.

But Helen on the other hand has beads of sweat forming in her forehead, At this moment she felt like a prey stacked by the predator who was about to hunt her.

She tried but was not able to sense which direction that voice was coming from, Even though they are in well lit room, she felt that she was in the deep dark forest and was being hunted by the beast top of the food chain

*Tap* Tap* *Tap* *Tap*

The sound of shoe heels hitting on the cold tiles rang in the room as footsteps came closer and closer towards them.

Helen was on alert ready to face the attack at any moment. Normally she should be able to feel where the attack would fall on her body as the opponent always attacks on weak spots but in front of this person she felt like all her whole body had become a weak big spot in itself.

While Alia kneeling on the ground using her all power to keep her head high to keep her dignity and prevent herself from passing out.

"Interesting, You have courage mixed with little talent, I can see why he loved you."

Once again that voice rang but this time it did not rang in all directions, rather it came from right in front of Alia's face.

*Blink*

Alia didn't see anything at first but just as she blinked 2 figure appeared towering above her, One of them was clad in dark purple while the other was pure white.

Alia who was already pissed of and wanted trigger her Ice Queen powers immediately just stunned in place.

(A/N : Ohh, I brought the RE4 remake and other games on sale, I forgot how much time I waste in them ??).

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day ??.)

"You...Who are you?"

Alia seeing the face of the person standing in front of her couldn't help but ask her aloud in confusion because the face she was seeing eerily matching with someone else in her heart.

So she holds off her offense in fear of hurting someone she would regrets later on, Which is a strange thing that never happened before in her life.

*Pat*

"A dead woman doesn't need to know such a thing, He deserves way better than trash like you."

A figure of an enchantingly beautiful woman bends down toward Aila and gently pats her soft cheeks.

It has no power behind the pat, It's just a gentle pat like an adult give to a child.

"HOW DARE YOU!!!"

But this little action of hers enraged Alia to the core, This pat did not contain a least about of force in it but she felt like she attacked as never before.

This was not attack on her body but on her pride, This woman in front of her playing with her, humiliating her by doing this mere action.

As if saying to her that she is nothing but a small insect that can be crushed under the foot any moment she wants.

This hit Alia deeply. Never in her life before she was so humiliated by someone. She is the one who stands at the pinnacle of power and wealth in this city humulated.

That to some unknown person in the mouth of this woman she not aware of, This was a last straw and Alia finally lose it.

"AHHHH!! ICE KINGDOM!!!"

She yelled on the top of her lungs, Her long ebony hair turned into a white crystal-like one, the icy blue eyes of hers had a cold aura which sprayed in the ward in a flash of light.

In a matter of seconds, Everything except those four in the ward got frozen covered in the ice pillars.

The ice formed out of nowhere. There was not even that much moisture present in the air for to create this much ice but as if the ice had frozen the time and space itself it formed this extremely cold ice.

This ice is nothing like the ice we know. It's definitely cold but not just cold but extremely cold, So cold in fact it can freeze anything it can touch, It can even freeze atoms itself.

"Huh?! A B-Rank able to use the S-Rank inherent skill of domain? You are not as useless as I initially thought."

A woman for the first time has a shock in her eyes as she sees Alia pulling this off.

This is no doubt his domain, A skill that is reserved only for the S-Rank as only they are strong enough to personify their power into reality.

Yes, personification.

Domain is like the name suggests, is a range in which S-Rank personify their superpowers into physical reality using mana and law related to their superpowers.

Like right now Alia doing it, But this thought to be impossible for anyone other than S-Rank to open their Domain.

After all, Only they are the one who takes a glimpse into the power of laws and has enough strength to handle the breakage of space and time needed for to open a domain.

Of course, Unless someone learned and mastered their superpowers to the extreme degree that they have slight control over it's law.

But it was all nothing but an urban legend, Myth that was passed down from generation to generation.

Yet here is this woman who proved that myth putting herself from the grade of genius to monsters.

*But alas, You are not the only monster here *Snap**

*Shatter*

The woman though impressed but it was just that, This might be some groundbreaking thing for others but for her, who herself is a walking myth, this is not that big of a deal.

And she proved it, With just a flick of a finger she shattered the domain of Alia in a matter of seconds, making Alia turn back to her normal appearance.

'It takes a second to shatter, She is not normal.'

When the domain shattered, the woman's face changed for a moment before going back to normal but a storm set off in her heart.

It seems not a big deal that this domain resisted for the second but mind you this domain was created by just a mere B-Rank, It not even supposed to stand in the presence of S-rank.

And yet this is able to resist the active attack from S-Rank for a second, Which does not seem much but for S-Rank, this is the time that can decide victory and defeat.

This means that, The superpower of Alia is not as simple elemental powers she first thought.

"Well, You barely passed the test, I give you a permit to date my brother but"

Woman came off from her shock and then with a satisfied smile on her face she looked at Alia as she started speaking to her.

It was going fine but suddenly the tone of her voice changed from gentle to the terrifying that can freeze the blood of the listener.

"If he is ever hurt by you, I would forget that you are loved by him, You head would be used as a showpiece in my room."

Woman grabbed the chin of Alia with enough force to turn white skin if her redish and directly looking at her icy blue eyes as she spoke.

It was not a threat not a warning, It was a promise, A promise from a woman who would not be shy away from fulfilling it.

"Who are you? Why don't I know you?"

Finally, Helen decided to speak, Though she gotten the very good idea of who this woman is which is the on of the reason of why she has not been attacked yet.

But she still needs to confirm it, To make sure this woman is not a threat to Alex, her family, her and the country in that order.

After all, what she knows is that there are only 7 S-Rank warriors in this country, and she is one of the sevens.

So she knows all of them. This woman in front of her is none of those people, She is lone unregistered S-Rank warrior, if things work out she might even be able to ask her to join the country's defense force. S-rank are what are needed to keep the sovereignty of the country.

And this woman who looks young, Should be some old monster coming out of her meditation to gain more experience for her practice. The young appearance should be a facade.

"Ohh me? I am Winchester, Amara Winchester."

Amara, hearing the words of Helen, smirked as she knew what this old woman has thought about her, So passing her a sweet confident smile, Amara answered her question.

And just as she thought she saw how the colour of Helen's face fly away turning her white as she learned about her identity.

This is the terror of Winchester's name, Which represents the absolute power of their family.

"Ar...Are you Alex grandma?"

*Boom*

(A/N : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day ??.)

*Boom*

*Shatter*

A huge wave of pressure was released from Amara shattering everything in the room. Glassware, the long tubes on the way, glass windows, even the tiles of the ward were not spared from the wrath of S-Rank.

"Gra-Grandma?!!! Are you deaf? Did you not hear when I say he is my brother?"

Amara gritted her teeth in fury, How dare this woman say that she is the grandma of Alex.

She is sister of him, One and only who has that position, That is her sacred position that no one can take away from her.

But this old hag touched her bottom line, The line no one dared to cross was crossed by Helen.

If not for the fact that Alex would be sad if he found out that she hurted his mother-in-law, She would have shown her why Beastmasters are feared existence in the S-Rank warriors.

"H...How can you be Alex's sister? It doesn't make any sense."

Helen was stupefied, Of course she heard when Amara said she is sister of Alex as this was her sole reason for coming here in her words.

But how can she believe it? Alex is should be 20 or 22 years old and if as Amara says she is the sister of Alex then by looks she should be around 27 or 28 years old.

And even if the factor of S-rank looks young then their actual age is taken into consideration the timeline didn't match.

At best in Helen's eyes, Amara might be some old monster in the Winchester family who love to call herself young and sister of Alex.

Though it is weird for a woman to care about their age as it was more man who do that thing but it is understandable if she is in contact with Alex.

After all, Which woman would not fall for a man like that and try to show off her best side to him. The change of age should be also because of this thing.

"Of course it does, I am the sister of Alex related by blood, BLOOD, Do you understand?"

Amara darted towards Helen with an angry growling Shapira beside her, Who is still salty about the fact that Alex said he cook for her but not did it.

So even she was angry and seeing that there is opportunity take out her frustration, She was ready to do it.

".....How old are you, miss?"

Helen did not even noticed the beast was standing beside her as all her attraction was occupied by thoughts of Amara right now.

It also that Shapira is not any threat to Helen that she was not alerted by her instinct of such presence in front of her.

"Turned 26 this year."

Amara wanted to lash out but was still thinking of Alex holding herself back as she understood what this misunderstanding was all about. This is not the first time this question is being asked to her but this was indeed the first time someone called her Alex's grandma which triggered her.

"IMPOSSIBLE!!!! YOU ARE LYING."

Helen blew put hearing the age of Amara, She would not believe it, She refuse to believe that any 26-year-old can be an S-rank powerhouse.

How is that even possible? Since when did being S-rank is that simple?

Did you know being S-rank is 10 times more harder and takes more time than going from Frank warrior to A-Rank.

Even if someone was a monster like her daughter and pretty much speedrun the ranks, Even then she was able to reach the peak of B-rank.

Which in itself a feat that she never seen anyone pull of, Never, even lunatics from secret society can do it with helps of mysterious technology

So it was impossible for 26 years old to be S-Rank, As by the ancient records the youngest S-Rank was 100 years old and even that in the prime of the hidden world when spiritual power was filled every corner of the world.

Even then it took that genius 100 years to reach S-Rank, So in this recessed period it was pretty much impossible to reach S-Rank in 500 years at the earliest even then they needed the support of lots of spiritual things to supplement their body for to gain that power to step into S-Rank.

"Amara Winchester, The first S-Rank beastmaster of this age after the fall."

Amara knew this reaction, She is similar with it as this was not the first time this happen to her.

This was always their reaction, And why would it not? What she did is indeed something that others think is impossible.

A 26 years S-Rank and that too a Beastmaster S-Rank? It was nothing but an imagination for the rest of the hidden world.

Because being S-Rank is already so hard that it can even be quoted as being impossible for some people but still manageable given enough time like a thousand years or so.

But then there comes the Subcategory named Beastmaster, A category is so infamous that it is quoted as a widow maker as there is always some woman who thinks she can be one and dares to tame a beast which ends up leading to their death.

But just taming the beast is not the only hard part, rather it was not the hard part at all for to be a beastmaster, Hard part is to make sure your beast grows with you.

A beastmaster is restricted to being only one level above their beast, If they are stronger or weaker than that then the beast would not take command from their master as they only know to respect the strong.

They never respect anyone being weaker than them as it was in their blood and so beasts are always stronger than humans in the same rank thanks to their physique.

This is just one of the requirements, The other one is that the beast has to grow with you. Rather you can't become stronger than your beast is as the master is also bound by the same contract.

This means the master can only be one rank above their beast. They can't push towards a higher rank at all until their beast comes to their current rank.

It was always this struggle because if the beast on your rank then that means it would not listen to you and so you have to work harder to push the rank as soon as possible.

Because if the beast pushed rank and becomes stronger than their master, Then it's game over for the master.

There are only two outcomes, one being obvious which is being killed by their contracted beast as the beast can break their contract if they gain more power than their master.

And so the protection contract provides is gone, Which helps the beast to hunt and eat their master making the beast even stronger.

While the 2nd option is if they are lucky, The Beast would abandoned them without eating but even then it is a problem as the movement master loses their beast they also lose their contract.

And once that happens, All the cultivation power they accumulated all these years would be gone as their power core which provide them strength through channeling spiritual powers using both beast and their master's core.

This is the reason why masters can't go too far from their beast rank as they once they do that they would put pressure on the beast core which would break it, which means they have to start at ground zero.

Not only that but because they cultivated Beastmaster their core permanently changed means now they can only be Beastmaster and not change the category of theirs.

On top of being fixed to only use Beastmaster, Now if they wanted to cultivate more they couldn't have the same effect as before, They need to work twice as much before their fall.7

Hence why no one takes the Beastmaster job, As there is too much risk in it, One small mistake can turn a genius into trash.

"Beastmaster!????!"

Helen's eyes opened in shock as heard these words. She right now was even more shocked then when she heard about Amara being 26 years 26-year-old S-Rank warrior.

(A/N : Fun fact is that there is a beast known as a widow maker in Africa, Do you know who?

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day ??.)

Helen could not believe on her ears. This news was even more unbelievable than Amara being 26 years old S-Rank.

How could she be San -Rank Beastmaster? Since when was being Beastmaster this easy?

This thought filled her mind but then there was another realization, If Amara is really is S-Rank 26-year-old Beastmaster then she underestimated Alex's Winchester family.

Not only his mother is head of Nobel as Alex said but his sister is above the monsters she has seen all her life.

Cause yeah being Beastmaster is difficult or even some may say impossible as there are too many risks in that category

But it also has its plus point, that is why even though Beastmaster is so infamous Sub-category people still try to be one.

And that is that the strength of Beastmaster is unmatched. They get power of a beast who on average are 10 times stronger than humans but also get the intelligence and speed of growth of humans.

Normally for the equilibrium in the world, Some beings get an advantage but they also get suitable disadvantages to even out the flaws.

For example, a beast has a stronger physique than a human, on the same rank they can beat 3 to 5 huwomans of the same rank power alone.

But they also have an obvious flaw and that is that they have lower intelligence, and a restricted growth rate. The stronger the beast is the harder for them to push towards the next rank.

Same for huwomna, Though as compared to the beast they have weak physique but they have increase intelligence and way lower restrictions on the growth rate as huwomans don't have that high potential as compared to the beast.

Both beast and master share their core to gain more power in that process they get benefits of both of their words.

They get the strength and the potential of the beast without losing their intelligence or put under restriction for the increased growth.

Same for the beast, In contrast, they keep their potential and power but because they share their core now they get the intelligence of humans and their lower restrictions.

What does that mean? It means that now there are two beings with vast potential without any restrictions put on them.

Just imagine their powers, On average 10 times stronger than their counterpart along with the companion who is also has formidable strength along with increased intelligence.

It would be a force that can be considered on paper to 10 S-Ranks, Though in a fight they might not be able to beat average 10 S-Rank but they would surely not lose, That is the invincible power of S-Rank Beastmaster.

So just imagine how strong background of Winchester family has to be to grow such a monster under their roof, Currently by her analysis there at least 2 S-Rank in Alex family.

One has to his mother and now the so-called sister of his.

"Yeah, Beastmaster that too an S-Rank one, Now you understand how lucky your daughter is to be loved by my brother? If not for him, I simply would not have wasted my breath on you."

Amara this time has a smug smile seeing the shock and disbelief in their eyes of Helen, She gets the power back, That horror and disbelief in her eyes is the respect she has been looking for since the beginning.

"..."

Silence, A pin-drop silence.

Helen does not have any words to speak as what Amara said is indeed valid, Her daughter hit the fortune to be loved by Alex that is even before considering the background of his.

But now it was even more apparent that how stupid her daughter was to hurt Alex like that before, And how dumb even she was calling Alex a gold miner.

He is a gold miner? They don't have anything that he can not get just by one phone call, He just never said or flaunts his status to them.

This made her heart ache but also sweet, As he is a man who takes all those insults without saying anything while having complete power to destroy their argument in one fellow swoop but he didn't do it. That is how much he loved her daughter.

How can she be lucky to have him? Or say how they are lucky to have him.

"Where is he?"

Cold words reverberated in the ward like a wind of the glacier mountain void of most of emotions but there was still a hint of desperation that she tried to hide but was not able to.

Alia right now slowly stood up as she spoke asking Amara the whereabouts of Alex, She so desperately wanted to see him, To check if he was still there, To see if he still had a love for her as before, To make sure he was still in the city and not leave her and city forever.

"Who knows, He now allowed me to spy on his activities but if you wanted to know whether or not he is in the city, Then yes, He is in the city, Right now should be fooling around with some woman or two.

But hey he is single now, So there is nothing wrong with that, right?"

Amara can tell what the real question was and so she just answered Alia but not forget to put salt on the wounds of her.

After all, The only reason she did not hurt Alia is because of Alex. If not, The punishment for hurting her brother would have been worse than the death penalty.

That is the only reason why she keeping her anger in check. It's not that she forget what this woman did to her brother but for his sake, she forgives her to a degree.

So if she can't hurt her physically, She decides to do it emotionally, At least this little much can make her feel.

As for where Alex is? She really doesn't know but as she promised him not to spy on him but if she wanted she can always find out where he is.

After all, She promised not to spy on him but her people are always behind him for protection. Well, she didn't break her promise, did she?

She indeed was not spying on him, but stalked him using others, That does not consider a breach of her promise.

As for the other woman's issue, She really didn't know nor did she care. As long as those women were clean, It was okay for him as his body needed to survive.

"I didn't break up with him."

Alia does hurt hearing words of Amara but not because of what Amara has intended but rather the word of her saying Alex is single.

It stung her heart like a sharp pointy thorn of a babool tree, As this once again reminded her stupidity of her which pushed Alex away.

She knows what her sister upto but she doesn't stop her thinking Alex is too greedy for more that he would never take just scraps of her sister would offer to him.

How wrong was she? Not only did he accept the money but used it for the other woman's need, Did that mean he stopped loving her?

No, he did not, He still loves her. If not he would have not gone to such a degree with her mother to just punish her, He is just hurt so much that he just wants to give her the taste of the same medicine.

And to be honest she deserves all that comes to her but fact remains is that, She indeed never said she broke up with Alex neither so she acknowledge their breakup.

It was just one side of Alex, So in a sense, she still is the girlfriend of Alex, She is still in a relationship with Alex.

"Hump, Pathetic."

Amara just humped when this kinda logic came out, How stupid is that? When Alex talked about the breakup, Alia didn't do anything, meaning it was a passive acknowledgement on her part.

But she let her be, Anyway, she can't help it that Alex loves this woman, She just let Belladonna deal with her.

No matter how much she hates Belladonna but she has to admit that woman has the spine to admit and do whatever she wants.

So as one woman to another, There is mutual respect for each other.

"I don't care what you mother and daughter do in your free time but remember one thing, You have Alex with you cause he loves her, If for some reason that changes.

Hehej, Well just say fishes would have a party that day."

Amara did what she came here to do, She has no reason to stay and waste any time here.

So she dropped this sentence as she and Shapira turned around and disappeared from their sight leaving both mother and daughter looking at each other with a look.

Alia just looked at the fading back of Amara for a second before taking step towards the exit of the ward.

"Where are you going?"

A stern remark from her mother stopped her in her track but did not deter from deciding in her heart.

"To him."

That's all she said before she was ready to take steps towards the outside.

She so badly wanted to meet him, For the first time, she was feeling this rush of unpleasant feelings.

She didn't know these emotions nor did she try to understand it as it stung her heart every time she tried for some reason.

"Why? Aren't you already done enough?"

Helen was pissed by her reply, Didn't she already do enough to hurt him now she was ready to push him away too?

She released immense pressure worthy of S-Rank on Alia locking her in place.

".....Want to talk to him."

Alia could not move, This pressure put on her by her mother was even more than the one that Amara did to make her kneel

However this time her heart did not allow her to kneel and give up, Her willpower was able to help her stand her ground without being pressed on the ground under the pressure.

But that is all she could do using all her power just barely not to let herself kneel in front of her mother.

Right now she felt worthless, Yet for some reason she wanted to get punishment from her mother, Not for any weird way.

Rather she thinks she deserves to be punished and hurt as to why she even dared to go past the direct order of her mother.

"And what are you going to do when you meet him? Make him hate you more?"

Helen blood boil hearing Alia, How her daughter is so clueless, did she even know what is the reason for Alex anger?

Can she even be capable of understanding it?

"He will not, I make sure."

Alia was adamant, She was heart wrenching to meet Alex, See him and tell him that she loved him.

She didn't know what love was before but she does now, And hope he give her a chance.

Which knowing him and how much he has love for her would not be a problem.

She is not taking him for granted but she really thinks love would not be this easy to be broken nor forgotten.

It's like an addiction in for her, A power that can make her do anything that she before never even thought of doing so.

Like sharing him with others or even with her own mother but now she doesn't care as long as he is with her.

That is love in her heart, The feeling though new but deeply embedded in her bones.

"HOW!!? DO YOU EVEN KNOW WHAT EMOTIONS Ar-"

Helen finally lashed out, All her anger, frustration, and all other emotions came out on Alia, her eldest daughter.

In fury, she didn't think what she was speaking but just as these words left her mouth she immediately regretted it.

This was a low blow even for her, After all, is didn't choose to be an emotionless machine, Her superpower made her that way.

She herself who is suffering from her own special physique should have known what her daughter was going through and yet she said this to her.

An immense guilt birthed in her heart, She really didn't mean to say this, She really didn't mean to hurt Alia this way, These words just came out.

"....Sorry"

Helen is quite hard-headed but she knows when she is wrong and what to do in that case. Her pride was not bigger than her love for her daughter.

She doesn't show it but of course, she loves them, both of them. They are her daughters after all.

Her head bowed down in shame, She actually felt bad for saying this to her daughter.

Hence why the S-rank like her was so quick to apologise.

"Sorry for what?"

Like always Alia uttered words in her cold icy tone void of any emotions.

There was nothing in her voice, tone or word that could say her current state.

"Alia, I know I was wrong, I am sorry for i-"

When Helen heard these words, She knows these words are obviously filled with sarcasm.

But didn't this too much? She admit she was wrong by doing so, She should have not said it but it happened in the heat of passion.

At least as her mother, She gets a chance to make her position clear right?

This is what Helen thought and wanted to argue with Alia but when she raise her head to look at her, She was stunned.

"You...You genuinely don't understand why I was sorry, don't you?"

Helen asked Alia with her slightly choking voice which she did her best to hide it out.

She has seen it. When she looked into the eyes of her daughter there was actual curiosity and confusion as to why she was apologising for.

This broke her heart, For the first time even being a woman she wanted to cry out like a normal person.

The guilt of this eating her heart out as she just asked Alia with the false hope that what Alia said was indeed sarcasm.

After all, if not then she is indeed a terrible mother.

"Yes, Why would you apologise to me? What you said is true, I don't know what emotions are nor do I mostly feel them, so what's wrong with stating the obvious?"

Alia asked Helen in a confused tone really not understanding why would this thing would ask for an apology.

She indeed can't feel emotions and so she didn't know what they are and how to react to them. It was only until recently that she started to feel them again.

Still, unless it was about Alex, Those emotions were as good as not being there as how low their sense of presence is.

So her logical way of thinking did not change. For her it was not a thing to apologise for just saying the truth.

"Yo-...I am sorry."

Hearing such words coming out of her daughter's mouth nearly broke her heart.

How did she not see it? Her daughter didn't know the basics of being a woman.

No, She saw it, She saw it since it started just too coward to acknowledge it.

She just searching for the ways to fix both of her daughters thinking she was doing good for them. They would thank her.

But she was selfish. It was not all because of for their good that she spent time outside rather it was a lie she told herself to hide the truth.

The truth, Which is that she is the worst mother to her daughters, they needed a parent but unfortunately, they got her, A coward.

"Wha-what you doing?"

Panicked words of Alia rang in the ward as she saw Helen stand from her bed and appear in front of her, Before she could react, She felt her words go dark as her face plunged into the softness while her body enveloped in the weird but not bad kinda warmth.

"I was not good before but Mommy promise you that, I would be the best mother to both of you, and I would help you get him back."

Helen just took Alia in a tight hug as she from her heart uttered these word as if these was not a statement rather a promise she making to herself.

Alia didn't know how to react, Her logical brain was thinking of all the possibilities of why her mother reacting the way she doing, She even thought this old woman had gone senile or insane cause of the dreaded news her future sister-in-law had given to them.

It's just a weird thing that before she would have struggled to get out as she doesn't like to be touched not to mention hugged like this, It used to repulse her.

But she not feeling any if it, Yes her brain telling her to break the hug but for the first time she wanted to follow through it.

This hug made her weirdly embarrassed but still unwilling to break free from it.

It's quite a conundrum, Her heart feels like it's become heavy while she has quite a strong urge to cry, Which is odd as she can count how many times she had cried on one hand finger.

All those times something big happened to her to make her shed tears, Right now there is no big thing happening, So why does she have this feeling?

She trying to search for the reason but become panicked when she finds out there seems to be no reason why she had this urge.

For her who always needs to be in control this was a nightmare losing control over body like this but yet she still didn't want to leave the hug.

And so mother and daughter just stand there in a tight hug without saying anything letting silence convey the message which a thousand words couldn't.

"I don't wants to lose him, Help me mommy."

Who knows how much time has been since they were locked in hug emarage themselves in the comforting silence before Alia reluctantly decided to speak first.

She didn't look up for get away just spoke from the arms of her mothers softness.

Oh how sweet and childish her words were even the always icy cold tone has a hint of warmth.

But none of them were in a condition to pay attention to that change.

Helen was stunned hearing such a words come out of her super cold daughter, She never thought Alia would say something like this.

'Since when was the last time she called me mommy?'

After the brief shock Helen quickly had this question in her mind, She didn't remember since when her daughters started calling her mommy.

She get that tt is cringe and embarrassing for a grown woman to say something to her mother but it is just that they stopped saying it before they were adults.

Now that she remembers, the Last time Alia called her mommy was in the evening of that dark incident.

That day her daughter changed and she quick to know reason was her newly awakened superpower, So she put blame on that.

But didn't Rose also stop saying this to her?

That dumb but sweet daughter of hers also stopped calling her mommy in the same time frame.

How had she never seen it that she pushed her daughters away from her, Did they even love her?

Helen is afraid the answer is they do not, First one didn't even know what love is while the other only remembered her when she needed money.

And she is responsible for all of it, She turns her daughters into this state alien to normal behaviour.

Thankfully she wakes up early as she still has a chance to fix what's left of her relationship with her daughters.

"Don't worry, Mommy will help you get him but promise me you will do what I say."

Helen decided to break the hug while holding her well-hidden tears back by gently grabbing the shoulders of Alia looking into her icy blue eyes.

They have to get Alex, It was not a question of if or would, They have to do it.

Alia is head over heels for him, which is already a concrete reason but also is that she felt it.

Her lust fairy body was conquered by him, meaning that the boy not only stole her heart but also her body and soul along with it.

There is already bound between them now, They share a connection that is on a spiritual level, As their bodies legit connected with each other through the passive of her special physique.

What's more shocking is other than her body being dominant in this contact as she is an S-Rank warrior with a special physique and he is just an F-rank normal man.

Though she has no problem with it but now she understands the reason why Alex is the dominant one in the contract, seeing Amara and the power of the Winchester family.

So now the situation is flipped. Before she was one of the only 7 S-Rank in the country with a special physique.

There was no threat to her, In her mind she was worthy of Alex and there is no threat to that position.

But this revelation changed that power dynamic, Right now she was just one of the S-rank around Alex.

Her special status in the world has no bearing in front of men who have the hardest category of S-Rank warrior being the first Beatmaster after the fall.

Not only that, Before she sensed the weirdness of that little girl around Alex, That time she ignored it but now that she thinks about it, that girl has to be S-rank.

So now there is at least 2 S-rank around Alex not even including his mother and who knows how many hidden elders in the family.

So Helen wanted to act quickly, She can't just sit around and watch losing Alex.

Oh of course there is also Alia's reason but Alex comes first to her as he has stolen both her heart and body.

"What do you think I should do? I would do anything."

Alia with a spark in her eyes asked desperately to her mother as seeing this as the last chance for her.

She was already hopeless. Before coming here she kept checking her phone but there was no message from Alex.

It was not like him before, He already used to drop tons of messages to her daily. The least me he sent to her were 10 that when he was sick and bedridden because of food poisoning.

Those were always questions about asking her how she is doing, where she is, if she had eaten or not etc with some love words here and there.

Before she was obnoxious receiving those messages as in her eyes it was Alex's ways to try and manipulate her to give him more freedom of her finances.

For her this was the case as she had all control of money. He had to go through him if he wanted something, so thinking that it was meaningless words just there to please her to get something she often ignored them.

She just used to throw him some bones and send one word or two as she didn't used to care what he was trying to do as long as she was in control and he was behaving like a good lap dog.

She justified in her mind that, he was getting what he wanted and she getting what she wanted, So it's win-win for both of them.

But while coming to her seeing he didn't even once message her since that dreadful day nearly crushed her soul.

The messages that were once obnoxious to them were beacons of hope in her desperate time.

Those were the only thing that helped her keep calm, saying he just need time to cool off as she would be more focused on asking his forgiveness and giving herself those punishments.

She didn't plan on saying about this to anyone just grit her teeth and try to punish herself for him as it's useless to explain to him as that would come out as excuses and trying to avoid accountability for her actions, she doesn't wants to do that at all.

As in her eyes if someone made a mistake they should pay for it even if that someone is she herself.

"...I know what I am going to ask is too much but it was for the best and the only way I think is to get him back, so don't reject it outright."

Helen took a deep breath. She who knew this change in power dynamic was now in panic mode and thought it was hard for her to do it but this is the best plan she think has any chance of getting Alex back.

But she also knows how her daughter is, So she was worried she would not even listen to the plan and reject it.

"Tell me mother, If it would help me get back my Alex, I would do anything."

Alia didn't even need to hear what she had to do to get Alex back, As long as she got Alex back she was ready to do it.

Yeah they have not officially broken up yet but Alex already separated, So even if it was not official it would be soon enough which I don't want.

"*Sigh* Right now, All I see is one and only one option to save this relationship and get him back."

Helen was quite disappointed as Alia went back calling her that cold soulless word like mother but she for the matter of seriousness ignored and once again gave Alia a chance to back away before she even said what is the way to save the relationship between them.

Because she understands that if Alia knows it there is no saying how she will react, So it was kinda a huge gamble.

"And what is it?"

Alia impatiently asked Helen, clearly annoyed by this secrecy of hers.

"Add, We need to add more interest on our side to win him over."

That's all Helen said hoping Alia would get what she meant by this statement of hers.

(A/N : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day ??.)

"Interest?...Interest!!?"

Alia was quite confuse hearing the statement of her mother but quickly changed from being curious to questioning as her IQ is not room temperature level so it was not hard for her to figure out what Halen actually meant.

After all, Her this brain along with her sharp uncaring nature is the reason why Alex was so paranoid about her in the beginning.

Nowadays the new feeling called love was occupying her brain the majority of time, so she look like she was tamed.

But don't be fooled, Her claws were just retracted not cut, she is still that fearsome existence being the first heroine in the novel.

"Yeah, Interest you know it wil-."

Helen, seeing her daughter quick to understand it, was glad that she didn't need to do that embarrassing talk with her daughter.

"No, He would not going to like that. It is a dumb plan, He would not gonna like it."

But before she could say it, Alia outright rejected the offer in panic, She know ex would be disgusted by this idea.

"How do you know? Right now this is the best chance we have to get him back."

Helen expected many reactions from her daughter but outright rejection was not one of them.

After all, This is girl who likes to think or rather overthink every little thing so as not to make any mistakes, For her everything have to perfect

So it was odd that she rejected this offer without even giving thought at all.

Normally she would have ignored it and dropped the idea but this time they couldn't, It was the best option they have.

Cause even if somehow Alex and Alia get together there are many people involved in this relationship which make it impossible to go back to before this all happened.

So the just talked out option is not available, though she wished it was as it would have made things a lot more easier.

Sadly her daughter not realised her mistake so soon now they all have to pay the price for it which she is willing to do.

There is no blame toward Alia, rather she is guilty as she was glad her daughter messed up, If not she never would have gotten the chance with him.

"I know the cause, Alex from my understanding would have liked that idea, So of course the current real one would hate it."

Alia straight up answered Helen, Actually she thought of this when she saw Amara.

But not paid much attention to it as she was in an emotional turmoil, so her mother had to point this out to her.

Just that she knew it would not work as the old Alex is in her mind would have liked this idea and by the current state she knows that she was wrong about Alex.

If that is the case then if she thinks Alex would like this idea then the opposite of it would be the case.

If Alex was here to hear this, he might have banged his head on the wall drowning in regret.

At least thankfully she still has her twisted reasoning for finding virgins for him as it was part of her "punishment", So it is different.

"I...I still think we should do this as I also have a hunch he would love it, But we don't have to be hasty, We can go slowly."

Helen took a second to assess the situation before she give her verdict on this issue.

She really has a hunch Alex would love this idea though not sure why but her heart just feels like this is a case.

".....Okay fine but on condition that Alex would still be mine and he was okay with it, If anytime I feel like this is not the case, I would pull the plug."

Alia looked at her mother and did her own assessments. She knows her stamina and libido of Alex is way more than herself.

If she tried, She could still grit her teeth and give what he wants but he surely would not going to live with the idea of having pleasure at her expense. He is not sadistic.

Even if, this is a big if that he is sadistic, She still would not be able to fulfill his desire as even she along with her mother was not enough for him.

So adding other interests is not a bad idea, Of course unless they try to steal from him just like her mother did before, For which she still has not forgiven her.

There is also Alex's issue, It was not sure if he going to like the idea or not, After all even if he has a big libido he would be hesitant to proceed with this plan.

So she also needs to convince him that this is a good thing, she would not mind if he sleeps with others rather she would even help him with them.

Yeah, he would not gonna like it, But she has to at least try, right? And if it was too much then she can drop the idea but not without giving a try.

"Of course but you also have to agree that he would not be the only one you have, So you have learned to share, Boys don't like jealous girlfriends."

Helen responded to Alia in a positive tone as even she agreed with this point but of course there was some obvious condition that was put on the table also.

Like they all get equal rights in Alex, no one can monopolize him for themselves, after all they are law-abiding citizens.

"As long as it's clear that I am his girlfriend and would stay the same, I have not problem, What I have problem is about the schedule of the coitus."

Alia once again able to get back her composure as gears in her head started to spin and she become her usual logical thinking state.

And so she was concerned about the sleeping schedule of them, As who gets him and when because that would be an issue.

"That...We should figure that put later in ourselves but right now our priority is to get Alex back."

Helen was stupefied as she did not think about this issue knowingly or unknowingly she still couldn't digest news of her man being with others.

But she can get over that for him, it would not be that hard even as it was already happened before, She just needs time.

And so the mother and daughter duo started to make a plan among themselves to be the man both women are madly in love with.

They didn't know what it says about their relationship as being mother and daughter but it surely says that they are excellent lovers.

...

Chapter 243 241. Tug War

Chapter 243 241. Tug War

Inside the ward, Alex was standing face to face with a guilty female lead who was ashamed to meet his eyes.

Sandra wanted to explain that what he heard and saw in the car was just a misunderstanding, She did not have any ulterior motive for approaching him before.

It was all a messed up coincidence, She did have a questionable past but she was clean ever since she left that behind.

She wanted to say to him that ever since she met him, Which is still not that long but she was for the first time in decades was happy and felt alive.

She really does not want to use him, But there is just no proof of her innocence, So Alex is reasonably suspicious of her.

After all, information related to the supernatural world is kept secret and deeply connected, So pretty much everyone knows everyone.

So by that, It was reasonable for Alex to assume that she came to him to take advantage, But she really didn't. She is part of a supernatural society but she didn't care about enough to get to know people in it as she was just there for money to prove to her family she was not worthless.

"Get ou-"

[Ding! Congratulations to the host for completing the task...

Rewards are being distributed...

Congratulations for the host getting the "God Of Pleasure" Title...

God Of Pleasure : What is pleasure? It is a state of bliss very being known of but restricted by the bounds of species and conditions.

But that would no longer be the case for the host as there is no limit or restrictions on who or which being you want to give pleasure So you can do it without any worry.

Effects:

- Make it that definition of pleasure for the given to be felt in their way.
- As long as it is being, Host can give them pleasure with tools he possesses.

(Note : Each being have their own definition of the pleasure and so the pleasure host given them would be converted to the one of their liking for best effect.)]

[Ding! Congratulations to the host for completing the task...

Checking the completion rating...

Belladonna is 3rd stage convinced for harem...

Sandra is 1st stage convinced for harem...

Helen is 1st stage convinced for harem...

Alia is 2nd stage convinced for harem...

It's detected host overfulfileld the task requirement, getting SSS+ rating...

Rewards are being upgraded...

Congratulations for the host getting "Lionheart" Title...

Lionheart : Ever imagined marching towards the army of a thousand enemies alone without an ounce of fear?

Now you can turn that fantasy into reality, You no longer have to be held back because of the pesky things like critical thinking or logical reasoning

This title gives you the courage to do things that no person with a working reasonable brain would not think to do.

Effects :

- Give the courage to do things that seem stupid and idiotic.
- Grant protection while doing the said stupid idiotic thing.
- Protection gives immunity to any backlash from the stupid act on the host.

(Note : This passive has a cooldown of 24 hours. This can be lowered using RP or upgrading the title.)

(Note : The previous choice of host is noted and so power of this title is adjusted to 20%, You can change it using the command.)]

"...."

Speechless, Alex didn't have the words to say right now.

Too much information was thrown at his face that it took him second to get everything.

And when he did, He was complicatedly terrified.

First reward he can understand from the mission of bedding Gloria, So there is no mystery in it.

Second one however is what gave him mixed feelings as he didn't know what just happened.

How can while he is trying to convince these two mid bosses, He end up conquering the final ones?

Alia is not one but 2 novels main heroine, While Helen is hard headed woman whose motto is to be broken but not bend.

So this is not supposed to happen.

'This is not supposed to happen, Not like this, Something is wrong.'

Alex suddenly becomes alert as he goes through all the possibilities of the reason behind for this act to occur.

Why did he become paranoid about this simple thing which is common in novels?

For the simple reason is that this happens in novels, To the protagonist, not to the villain.

Alex is still a villain. It is impossible for him to luck out like this here, Something definitely amiss but what is it?

'Her?'

Alex ran out of possible causes when it hit him as his eyes instinctively locked on Sandra.

Yes! It has to be her as she is the only one who can counter the world's prejudice towards anyone using the love the world has for her.

After all, Female leads are as, if not more broken than the protagonist when it comes to luck.

So there is a very very high chance that this is related to Sandra, he was damn sure of it.

'System explain.'

Alex still decided to ask the system even though he pretty much knew the answer, He still wanted to be careful not to make mistake.

[Ding! Host as said before the man Female lead love becomes the male lead in the story and gets luck benefits from her.

So right now you have two roles in the story, One being the villain of the story of the male protagonist, While male lead in the story of Female Lead.

There is a tug of war going on in between the two roles nullifying the effects of each other but because of the decreased distance between the female lead (Sandra) and her surge in love and acceptance towards you, it took over the villain role for a moment.

And because the role of male lead is dominant now, It gives you benefits of being one, Your luck is now that of the male lead.

So things just fall into place for you giving you unexpected rewards.

(Note : This is temporary role changes as your default is still a villain but as long as host keeps the Female lead close and still continues conquering her heart and body, You will be able to get benefits from the changing of the roles.)]

The system is as friendly as it is quick to give follow-up to Alex providing the confirmation of his hunch.

"Alex, Just give me one chance to explain myself, Please."

A desperate plea of Sandra pulled him out of his thoughts as she want him to give her a one chance to explain herself.

'*Sigh* Have to change the plans.'

Alex just looked at her and sighed in heart, The plans he made have to be changed now as this is a golden opportunity.

And so he started to cook the next steps in his head with a devilish smirk on his lips..

Chapter 244 242. Hit Me

Chapter 244 242. Hit Me

"Alex, Please give me a chan-"

"Enough!! Last time when I gave a chance, I got nothing but a heartache, I don't want to take that risk anymore."

Sandra, seeing Alex was not responding to her, wanted to keep begging for the chance to explain but cut off mid sentence by the stern words of Alex.

His tone was full of regret and filled with anguish. Anyone who hears it would want to take him in their arms to give him solace like an injured puppy.

Sandra wanted to do that but unfortunately he was already in the arms of Grace, so it was not feasible for her to do.

But rather than envy and be jealous towards Grace, Sandra drowned in guilt knowing the fact that she was the one who touched his old wounds.

So for now she decided to stop bothering him, give him space and then try again after getting some proof of her innocence.

When Alex saw Sandra was about to turn and leave from here, He panicked, As in his mind he was sure that the female lead would do some more begging for the chance and then he would give her that one chance to explain.

But her turning away to go was out of syllabus for him making him anxious for second.

After all he knows that, Child who is not embraced by the village would burn it down to feel the warmth of it.

This statement is perfect for Female lead. If she didn't want what she wanted by normal means then she will do anything to get that thing, ANYTHING.

"Wait!! My brain doesn't want to believe you but Arghh this damn heart of this body does, I can't ignore it, So knowing I would regret it later, I would still give you one chance."

Alex was quick on his wits and decided to stop her from leaving. He really can't afford pissed off the Female lead right now.

"Really? Thank you I would not disappoint you, I-"

"Stop, I said I would, I yet to give you a chance, You have to earn that chance."

Sandra was on cloud nine when she heard Alex was giving her a chance to explain herself.

Shweta started babbling in excitement but Alex held his hand to stop her as he told her in a stern voice.

She did not get a chance from him yet, If she wants it then she has to earn it.

Sandra though a little discouraged but was still happy as there is still hope for their relationship.

"What do I have to do to earn it?"

Sandra asked him excitedly, She couldn't wait to earn that chance from him.

She was ready to do anything he asked her for, No matter how difficult and hard that thing is, She is ready to do it no matter what the cost she has to pay.

Alex just looked at her then with a sly smile on his lips he uttered the words.

"Just hit me."

"Oka-Huh?! Pardon?"

Sandra jumped out and agreed without even hearing what he said as she was ready to do anything.

But the moment those words sink in her head, She was startled and couldn't believe what she heard.

So she asked Alex to relate it hesitantly fearing he would be mad at her for not paying attention.

"I said hit me, That is your task, I give you 10 minutes, in it you have to land at least one direct hit on me."

Alex just looked at her and repeated without minding adding more details to his terms.

But this left everyone speechless in ward, They couldn't believe what he said.

Liza was just stunned trying to process what he said, While Sandra was just confused and anxious.

The most shocked Grace, Normally she believes she knows how Alex's brain works.

Like before she was blushing as she was sure that the way to earn he said has to do with three or foursome right here and she was willing to do it.

There might even be a chance for him to ask Sandra to watch or ask a deal from her like he did with her.

But she never expected that Alex would ask Sandra to hit him.

This is not like him at all, Her shy tsundere would never ask for violence.

Unless...

"Alex, Didn't I say you are not allowed to harm yourself? You promised you won't do it."

Grace spoke hurriedly once again reminding him the promise he made as she thought he once again wants to self-harm.

After all, what would anyone think when a man asks a woman to hit him.

"Relax, I am not talking about self harm but friendly sparing, I want to test our everyday clerk here, See how strong she is."

Alex passed a comforting smile towards Grace beside him as he said the words with full of confidence making people in the ward more confused.

They don't understand his thought processes but Grace no longer cares about it after seeing his smile.

She knows that sly look, he is once again up to something, So she lets him be, Let him have fun, it's always better than him being depressed.

"Alex, How could I hit yo-"

"That is the neat part, Your task is to hit me but that doesn't mean I would just stand here and get hit, There are few rules.

First is that you can use any trick and technique you know for the attack as long as it's not lethal, Everything is on the table.

The second rule is that there is a 10-minute time limit. You have to land a direct hit on me in this time if not, task is considered a failure and we two go our separate ways.

Third would be I am giving you a freebie, I would just defend not attack you for the first 8 minutes, So make sure to take advantage of that time frame.

Fourth, This would be the first and last chance, after failing it there would be no 2nd chance, So please don't ask for it.

Fifth is that I hold the power to make changes in the rules and add new ones at all times.

The sixth rule, Which is also an important rule and applied to everyone here, is that my sister can never know about this fight ever happened.

Do you agree with the rules?"

Sandra was ready for any task before but she was unwilling to hit Alex. She wanted to beg for the change but Alex cut her off.

Then he just states the rules with a calm but excitement filled voice.

But others were not calm at all, Liza was contemplating her life decisions when she heard the name of Amara as why she should not?

It just hit her that she was eyeing not only the fiancée of an S-Rank monster like Belladonna but also the brother of another S-Rank beast Amara.

While Sandra is just letting things sink in doing mental gymnastics trying to find a way to avoid doing this at all cost.

Meanwhile Grace just stood aside planning on enjoying the chaos her Tsundere was about to cast.

Chapter 245 243. How Navie

Chapter 245 243. How Navie

245 243. How Navie

Whole ward fall into pin-drop silence, They do not dare to breathe so loudly fearing breaking the tranquillity of this comforting silence.

"Answer me, Sandra, Do you agree with these rules or have you decided to give up the struggle of proving your innocence?"

A sharp words from Alex broke the comforting silence of the ward as he with authority asked Sandra what she wants to do now.

Sandra hears the words and becomes panicked, she knows what giving up means, He is asking her to go separate ways, Which she is unwilling to do.

"No, Never, Trust me Alex I didn't have any ill intent towards yo-"

She became anxious as she was quick on clearing her name trying to tell alex that she is not the bad woman he thinks she is.

"Stop, You just have to answer in yes or no. If you don't like that, You are free to walk away."

But Alex's cold words pour cold water on her desire to find another way to avoid hitting him.

After all, How could she? She after the realization of how much he going through didn't even willing to see him in even a second of pain.

Then how could she become the one hurting him? She can never hurt him, Neverending.

But the ultimate thing Alex did was made her hesitant. There was a moment she thought this was a test for Alex to see if she was willing to hurt him or not.

It's just when she saw his eyes, She knows this was not some loyalty test, He indeed wants her to hit him.

She just don't understand why? Why would he want to do that? Is he infected with that man's right going on out there?

Who thinks man and woman are same and treated the same forgetting not only man has lots of benefits which woman don't but there is also biological difference between them.

Women are naturally stronger than men, And that is to by a huge margin. One adult woman is even said to be equal to 10 adult men on average.

That ratio is little misdirectionary as one single average woman can not beat 10 average man even though she has power as 2 hands are less than 20.

But there is no problem dealing with 5-6 man at once. That is a natural benefits woman get by default.

Here in the supernatural world this difference is even more severe as women kept getting stronger and stronger than man at the same rank because of the physical difference between two.

Sandra knows that she is not stronger than compared to top bitches of the world but she knows she is indeed stronger than Alex and can easily beat him.

'Wait!? I can easily beat him, So I don't have to try to hurt him. Even if I landed a soft , easy hit on him, it would count, Didn't it? That is not breaking the rules.'

While she was contemplating, it just hit her that, She can hit him softly like people do when playing with a child. This way he would not get hurt and she also get her chance to explain her side of the story.

After thinking of this, Sandra was ready to accept his condition to win her a chance.

"Okay, I agree-"

"Wait!! Before you make any decision. You have to know a few things about me, Of course there might be a chance you already know it assuming you come after me."

"No, I really don't, Alex let me-"

"You would get your chance after you complete the task, Before that you should know these things about me,

One is that, I am not a weak man as you obviously think, I am a F-Rank warrior.

Second is that I was personally trained in hand-to-hand combat by my dear sister, Who is an S-Rank warrior now.

Third, I myself pick up some things and invented new tricks, So I am not helpless as you may think I am.

And fourth is that, I take challenges seriously cause I hate losing. So when I give you this task, I am certain I will win.

So now tell me, do you agree or not?"

Sandra wanted to say she agree when Alex once again broke her mid sentence which obviously frustrated her as she is not used to being this passive but she grit her teeth and accept it as she is at fault here.

So she heard him but the only thing that took her back was Alex training with S-Rank, all other things were ignored by her.

After all, There is that biological difference again. Even if Alex thinks he is strong among the men, He would be weaker compared to women in the same rank like her.

Though she has not stepped into the world of cultivation but due to the "job" she used to do, she did encounter many F and even few E-rank warriors.

She is not only able to fight them but other than one E-Rank warrior, She is able to beat all others who come after a tough fight.

Yeah tough fight but that against E-Ranks one, She moped the floor with those F-Ranks,

And those all were woman, So she didn't want to say it but she did not see Alex as a threat to her.

Yeah he might be taught under S-Rank but knowing how he said his family used to spoil him before, She was sure his sister did not go too rough on him.

At best it would be little self defense moves and call it a day as learning actual martial arts is quite a painful experience for first timers.

So she was sure his family would have not put him through it.

"Okay, I agree."

She readily agreed. Anyway, She would win. There is no doubt of it. She just has to be careful not to hurt his ego too much.

So she is ready to pretend to struggle for a while before beating him.

'Oh how naive.'

But Alex her hearing her thoughts could not help but think how these FL's are. As a concerned lover, He big heartedly ready to give her a reality check.

Chapter 246 244. Cardinal Sin

Chapter 246 244. Cardinal Sin

246 244. Cardinal Sin

Alex could not help but feel bubbly when Sandra agreed to him, Oh how much he has planned for her and how much more he wants to do right now.

There is that oblivious joy of getting the opportunity to ransack the female lead, Yeah you heard right, He is confident enough to not only beat Sandra but beat her miserably.

How? Did anyone forgot that he possesses immortal level martial arts skill? Using which he even beat up Jake who has power equivalent to A-Rank?

Yeah, he caught Jack off guard and all but he still whacked a current A and formal S-Rank warrior with ease, Not to mention even when Jake is the protagonist possessor of broken luck and skills, All thanks to his broken martial art skill.

And then there is the perfection Halo of Sandra herself he got after their little act in the storeroom before meaning there is no chance he can make a mistake in a fight as that halo would make sure every move of his perfect even though it is already an immortal level skill.

As for the broken luck of the Female Lead that can't allow her to lose in a fight? He already thought of that hence why he gave her a freebie not to attack her for the first 8 minutes.

Well this freebie is just for him though he made it look like it is for her as a precaution against her luck kicking in ruining his plan for Sandra.

Because if he fights back, It would turn into a real fight which means her luck would make sure she would win but if he did not attack, it would still be mock test fights, Which can be lost as long as there is a loophole present for the female lead to get what she wants.

This is where the right to add and make changes in rule comes in, Because he knows he definitely can't defeat Sandra and make her take losses after all this female lead has an immeasurable amount of luck.

It would be foolish to think he can defeat her but he can at least make sure she would win on his terms giving him control over it.

This is necessary for his next plans to work, He really doesn't like the idea of being at the mercy of odds, Especially in this world where who knows what kinda new trope pop up out of nowhere and starts creating trouble for him.

"Okay then, You don't have to worry about safety Xiao Bai there would handle our safety but once again I ask, are you sure you wants to do this?"

I mean are you really sure? I told you my history and what I did and how I did it before, I think you are wasting your time on me.

I don't worth this much, So I still suggest giving up the idea as not only it's worthless for you to do it but you can't even be able to beat me."

Stern words of Alex rang in the ward, Though he was eager to start the fight but he also know he has to make sure he gave Sandra more than enough back away as doing that it's less likely to trigger her FL halo.

Yeah he really can't take any risk with FL, She is way more broken the protagonist themselves.

Which is come to think about is a gold think for him, As it's hard to tame FL once that happen he would have a heavy hitter against those heaven loved basterds.

"Yes you are right, I know your history and so know it was not worthy, This task and I am not worthy of you.

Your worth are so much more, For you I can do more anything, I am the one who should be asking this question.

So you should know that each being of my body is wants to this, I am ready to do it."

Sandra become panicked when Alex stopped her thinking he might change his mind, Which brought her to the brink of losing her mind.

Thankfully it was just this, So she answered him honestly.

Yeah first he said that to her his history, She admit though she understood his situation but she still felt disgust towards it.

But not anymore. There was not even one ounce of any other feeling in her heart other than her immense love towards him.

That's all she need, and that's all she has to give to him.

So it was decided, Alex didn't answer Sandra but just gave her a look as he took a position and read to follow through with his plan.

He has to show her that how much capable he is as it would make his future plans smooth sailing.

"Hey stop this, If there is just a hitting requirement, Why don't I ask any of my bodyguards to do this? Why do you have to risk it, Alex?"

But how can things go the way Alex wanted? How can this world allow him to complete one simple task? That would be a cardinal sin, He is not allowed to have a worry-free moment.

Liza who was still in shock jumped out when what was happening sunk into her head, She did not know what Alex upto but she is not ready to allow Alex to get into a fight under her watch.

Not only would it be dangerous to Alex but if Amara really finds out she let her brother do this, Then that brother control woman would forget, She is head of White family. She would go scorch earth on her, Maybe she even forbid her from meeting Alex.

Amara has done it before many times with other families. It would not be different to her even if two of their families are quite close.

Of course Liza would not want that to happen, so she quickly came up with the idea of this. If Alex just wants to make Sandra fight then there is no need for him to fight with her.

There are lots of quite talented and experienced warriors around her, Anyone can be able to beat Sandra without much trouble.

She just like Sandra did not believe Alex has learned skills as he said, It's not that she is calling him a liar but she knows Amara.

The love she has for her brother, She would never be strict enough to actually teach something tedious and rough like martial arts, It's highly likely that she just used that excuse of teaching to spend time with him.

Liza is 99 percent sure Amara just wanted to play with Alex and teaching him martial arts was the reason given to elders ro skip her own training, it was a win-win situation for her.

'This unicorn, Why now of all of them decided to use her brain?'

Alex just spoke in his mind as he slowly turned his head towards Liza staring blankly at her deciding what to do with her.

Chapter 247 245. Built-In Airbags

Chapter 247 245. Built-In Airbags

'*Sigh* Can't be mad at this Lolita.'

Alex planed the mischievous punishment for her but dropped the idea as he can't be mad at this loli especially when she is still in her Lolita dress.

Her cuteness is treading close to Xiao Bai, So all he could feel looking at her was to take her into a hug and squeeze her with his heart's desire in the comfortable embrace of her softness.

Don't worry about squeezing her too much, There are two airbags built-in her just for to prevent that, So he can go crazy.

'Just going to make her food spicy, That punishment would be enough.'

Alex still decided to give her a punishment though, Yeah not much but for a sweet tooth like Liza, it was unbearable, It would be enough for her.

"No Liza, She had to fight me and hit me, But don't worry, I would not be going to use my superpower, So she would be fine and there is still Xiao Bai for back security if I give too much beating."

Alex after thinking for a second truing the gears in his head answered Liza as it was not a big if deal as she was making it.

Though he spoke to Liza but he indirectly taunted Sandra, As why would he do that? Didn't that just shooting in his foot as anyone who taunts the Female lead end up miserably? That's an iron rule in their dog blood novels.

Well true but there is one expectation, And that is Male lead, He is the only character in the whole novel is allowed to not only taunt female lead on her face but even insult her in public.

Yeah there were many dog blood plots where Male lead insults FL when she was being set up by someone as scrap goat, Which insulating happens a lot and still FL falls for it each and every time.

Of course there are also misunderstandings, cliches and all in the mix, And without any surprise, Sandra is FL in such a novel.

Dick behavior and his desire towards her proved that, He is a possessive ML that doesn't want even a shadow of another man to land on his "property".

Yeah for some reason men like this always become ML and even liked by crazy fans of the ML for no reason other than being "I can fix him" mentality.

It is blunt, This man who is so bad towards others becomes caring and starts spoiling FL is the wet dream of many fans of those dog blood novels, and shamefully Alex him was once an unwilling member of that group as he ran out of good reading materials.

So had no choice to read those novel, but from that experience he knows for to tame female lead, He has to act rude to her, be as toxic as he can so she would be happy when he show her even a hint of favor and yes this is part of gaslighting and manipulation techniques, You can take a notes.

"Alex but-"

"Liza, I know you mean well but can you just let me be? This is something I have to do, I will be fine, Xiao Bai is here."

Liza was still unwilling, Even she did not wants him to gets hurt, Which is exactly what is going to happen if she lets him do whatever he wants.

Though she didn't know how strong Sandra is but by her experience dealing with strong women of all walk of life, She has a hunch that this woman is unfathomable.

Say paranoia of Alex going to get hurt or just overthrowing but from bottom of her heart she didn't wants to fight with this woman.

This feeling she never experienced anyone other than just a few, all of them being S-Rank or close to it.

So she was very worried about Alex, Even of they are being careful, One mistake would be enough to do a lot of damage to Alex.

Hence why she was unwilling and still wanted to prevent him from fighting but the Alex did not allow her to speak her concerns fully as he can guess where her thoughts were coming from.

If he can, He would have told her not to worry about it but then again she might not believe it, So he has to show her that he is not as weak and helpless as they think.

For now he put Xiao Bai as a safety net to make Liza relax, After all, The mythical S-Rank legendary beast would be more than enough guarantee that he would be safe.

"*Sigh* Okay but both of you can't go too far."

What else can Liza do? The moment Alex said that she knows he warned her to not stretch it too much or it would break, And that would not be good for anyone.

So she had to helplessly give in. There is at least little but solace on knowing that Xiao Bai is there, Means Alex would not be in severe danger.

"That's it then, Grace here hold the phone, I already put the time in, Just press start when we start fighting."

Alex nodded in satisfaction at Liza seeing how quickly she understands what he implies in his words.

Well she is head of the White family for a reason, So he was quite happy.

Then he looked at Grace who looked at him in confusion and curiosity other than concern as the other two were doing.

Which is the reason why she has a special position in his heart, She understands him on a profound level.

So he didn't say anything to her, Just pulled out his smartphone and pressed on the screen a few times before handing it to her with a look in his eyes.

Grace, after receiving the phone in confusion, looked at the screen then in puzzlement at him but seeing that familiar look she didn't say anything and decided to just follow his words.

Chapter 248 246. Tough Love

Chapter 248 246. Tough Love

'Why did he suddenly become this arrogant? he was not like this before.'

Sandra, who was getting ready to stand in fighting pose, could not help but to think of Alex's sudden change in behavior.

He loved teasing and all but he was never arrogant like this, He did not even hold her in his eyes, As if for him she was nothing but a nuisance than a challenge to deal with her.

How can he be like this? It's one to have confidence in their own technique and it's another to outright insult someone without holding them nor their power in one's eyes.

He didn't even know how powerful is she, What kinda technique she had learned nor did he know about what and how much experience she had and yet he was still looking down at her.

'No, I have show tough love to him now, If not he will get himself into trouble later.'

So Sandra decided to teach Alex that there is woman above woman, heaven beyond heaven.

The world he sees is just a fraction of it. She who walked on that dark path knows to what extent huwoman desire feeds the hunger of power struggle.

How come the foe who looked strong sometimes was nothing like what she imagined but the one who was neglected tagging them as weak wreck havoc nearly costing her life, She didn't want this to happen with Alex too.

Hence why she decided to drop the plan to go easy on Alex, she was not going to do too much but at least enough to make him desperate to figure out he was not as good as he thinks in his mind.

S-class trained him or not, The fact remains that he is not invincible, he would lose if some actual warrior fought with him, She is decided to be that person to break his dilution.

"If you're done preparing, Can we start now?"

Very stern words of Alex broke the thought process of Sandra as he asked her whether or not she was done daydreaming, Well it's midnight but anyway.

He wants to be done with this thing. There is still a mess he has to deal with when he returns to his college dormitory, So he did not have much time. Asura field would going break out there if he did not reach there early.

"Yes, I, Sandra Gomez is ready to start this trial to get a chance to explain myself."

Sandra did not say anything about his arrogant tone, She knew it is better to show it in action than to waste saliva explaining it, So she just spoke and stood in front of Alex in a relaxed pose giving off the same careless energy as Alex.

"Okay then, Let's begin."

Alex just smirked as if what Sandra said was just a joke not taking even least bit seriously.

He even go one step closer then Sandra, He was not only in off guard standing carelessly in front of her but after he said to begin the task, He did not even at her but looking down at his watch as if telling her he can't wait for this to get over, Without any bit of care.

This is a forbidden move to do in any battle, it's an iron rule in martial arts that never ever moves your gaze away from your target. This movement can decide the fate of not even fighting but the person.

But Alex did not even bother with her, He was just wanted to start this quickly and be done with it.

To be honest this pissed her off to the extreme not only because of the safety concern of his but also that she has never been this insulated, Even those people who dance on the edge of the blade give respect to her and yet here she was being humiliated to this degree.

Her blood started to boil in rage and her eyes became bloodshot ready to teach Alex a lesson which he would never forget for his own safety, As one should always be aware that action has consequences.

She even started to be tempted by the idea that hitting once was the bare minimum requirement, She can hit more than one time if she wants.

Alex saw all this with his side eye, Of course he didn't do this just to be arrogant, Well he did actually is acting like this to be arrogant but not because he wanted to.

This is exactly what ML would have done if he was here, he is just fulfilling that role of his for the things to go smoothly.

So when he saw he was successful in pissing off Sandra he was happy, He then just gave the look to Grace asking her to announce the start of the task.

"Now both of you are ready then your time starts....NOW!!!"

Grace understood what she has to do in an instant, So she gave both of them space before pulling the phone handed to her by Alex front as she announced the start of the fight and hit the start button on the timer on the phone.

This was what Sandra was eager to hear all this time, So when she heard the announcement she didn't waste any second standing around.

She bolted towards Alex like an arrow shot from the bow decreasing the little distance left between them instantly standing directly face-to-face with Alex, Then without even missing a beat, She shot her palm towards the chest of Alex.

She was sure that there is no way Alex can dodge her this move from this distance, This is her tried and tested move, That because even though she thinks Alex can't beat her, She didn't want to take any risk.

This is advance level technique, If this landed though there would be no permanent damage but it would hurt but that is good, As Alex would remember that main anytime he starts to forget that there are many strongwomen out there.

"That's all you can do? It's sad."

Sandra was ready to hear a surprise desperate shriek of Alex but what she just heard was disappointed words of his before her vision turned upside down.

? 'What just happened?'

This was the question reverberating in the mind of Sandra. She is dumbfounded by the thing which happen so fast that she didn't even see how or what event took place.

Right now she was feeling a cold sensation in her body, Which after she took a second she find out the cold floor of the ward.

She is currently laying face first one cold tiles of the ward making her stupefied.

She clearly remember that she was about to land her strong palm on Alex body but just before it could make contact, Her vision turned upside down.

And then she blanked out, The next thing she remember that she was laying face down on the floor.

"How?"

After all this sink in Sandra she quickly stood up in embankment then with a little stern, hard and confused tone asked Alex.

He was close to her when that happen, So he might have seen who did this to her.

"I would be more than happy to answer you but I feel like I should remind you that time is still running, So decide what you wants to do."

Alex did not even look at Sandra, He just checking his watch and nails, not bothered by Sandra even the slightest bit.

Even when he answered her, He didn't look at her, As if he was more concerned about breaking his already short nails than his fight with Sandra.

But that was all on surface, He in his heart barely held himself back from burst out laughing and he would have if not for that would not suit his ML role.

Though sad for that part, he was quite happy with the result, He underestimated Sandra and top of his Immortal level martial art skill.

Before he was still a little uneasy about fighting with skills of FL but when the fight started all that worry vanished.

The fighting instincts took over his body, For others Sandra's speed might be hard to keep up with, Which can seem like as if she moved instantly.

But for Alex, Sandra was as if not slower than a snail, He looked at her and instantly had nearly infinite ways to counter Sandra.

Though most of those ways were restricted for him because of his physical limitations, still there were countless ways for to counter Sandra's simple palm move.

It was so simple that Alex even felt insulted that Sandra chose this childish technique to use against him.

So he didn't do anything, He just let his body react to her offense as it pleased defensively.

Which is exactly what happen, His body by moved itself back by instinct and then tapped on the hand of Sandra heading towards him.

Which made her directly turn 360° in mid air before spamming on the floor.

Of course he made sure that she would not be harmed, Especially in the face part. There was a slight change in her angle, Which prevented her face directly hitting the floor but her face did touch on the floor after the impact, humiliating her.

Compared to physical damage, This emotional danger might hurt her even more.

This is the power of his Immortal martial art skill, He was running on the instincts of his body.

Though he feel things slowing down but at least for now he was not fast enough nor he had gotten the time power from Rebecca.

So things were not slowed down but his perception become so strong that he felt things slowing down just like how system space works.

It's just that he once again find our how broken FL is, He checked it before, Sandra has level 15 martial art skill.

Which in itself was unfathomable as she broke the mortal boundary of level 10 and set into pseudo-immortality.

But level 15 was indeed nothing in front of level 51 immortal level skill, The problem is that Sandra was still perceived as a threat by his body.

Yeah she by level didn't crossed level 15 but her attack pattern, experience far exceeded her level and then there was her halo making her attacks perfect along with her luck.

Alex was sure, If he was not buffed up with all of his title and skills right now he would be the one who was laying on the ground.

"...I'll figure it out later."

Sandra didn't know why she was pissed of by his uncaring tone but she was, She was already confused so these words of his like water sprinkled on the hot pan.

She decided to stop holding back, Now she wanted to land a hit on him as soon as possible and so she once again lunged forward.

Alex was lost in his thoughts wondering how can such a broken being like FL exist in this world, didn't there would be some power to make sure this didn't happen. What about power scaling and all.

He was curious but because of that he didn't pay attention to Sandra but that didn't matter as history just repeated itself.

One moment Sandra was about to land a punch on Alex and the right next moment she was on that familiar cold floor in exactly the same pose as before.

Sandra was in same state right now as she started as, right to the same pose giving her Déjà vu.

'HOW?!!!!'

That's all she could able to ask herself as she once again standing up ready to attack but then she saw it.

Before she didn't paid Alex much attention as she didn't think of him any threat but now that things are different her survival instincts kick in.

And then he finally saw it shcking her to her core, momentary stunning herself in place.

She didn't see it wrong, Even though right now Alex standing uncaringly giving so many opening her instincts were telling her there was none.

There is no place or opening for her to attack him, He look like a impenetrable fort impossible to break in.

"Absolute defence."

Sandra in utter shock muttered this to her in disbelief.

(A/N : 5th, 5 more to go, They would be up here in evening.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day ??.)

?Sandra was in deniel, She can she what is front of her but refuse to acknowledge it.

After all, How can she acknowledge it? From the looks of it, That is a legendary myth of absolute defense.

What is about is obvious from the name, But this was just an urban legend, A stories master taught their disciples to make them work harder.

But in reality nothing like this used to exist, At least until now.

Because reason is simple, Absolute defense is said to be a state master entre in they master their defensive techniques to the utmost level that they create completely new technique oriented around defense.

And that techniques is Absolute Defence from the legends, It's said that when one fathom this technique, That person set into a realm that others can't even imagine because they are not capable of doing so.

But it was still an urban legend for the reason that, There was no one who in the recorded history had ever mastered this state.

Another reason being, It was impossible to call human technique an absolute defense as humans are limited by their physical capabilities.

So each techniques has a counterattack, For example, Snake style which focused on agile and quick moves can be beaten with eagle style specialized in the unpredictable moves.

While turtle style counter eagle one. This all happen because huwomans body is limited. When it is doing one thing, It would expose another side of weakness.

That become more people when knowing each huwomans has their own set of pro and cons.

So there can never be an absolute defense state for huwomans as each person would be always lacking against one type of style.

But what is in front of her then? She didn't see Alex making move but from her inherent survival instincts she was sure that Alex definitely has mastered and step into the that legendary state.

Normally most people would ignore this as this is just an stupid hunch that is not backed by logic but Sandra is not a normal person.

Every time she got this gut feeling, It was always right, So her eyes are not deceiving her at all.

Yet she not wants to believe it, She is unwilling to admit something as broken as Alex exists in this world.

Not only did he have quite strong superpower but there is also a dual cultivation physique that was said to be impossible for man to have before.

That is enough to change her worldview there but what about now? If she admit Alex indeed achieved absolute defense then didn't that mean she will be looser in this game?

Which meant she would lost him forever, She didn't want that to happen, She was unwilling to let that happen.

'No, It can't be Absolute Defence, Maybe his S-Rank sister has taught him some superior technique related to defense.'

Sandra shook her head and for the first time in her life decided to ignore her instincts and go by the logic she thinks is highly possible.

After all, S-Rank can have techniques unheard and unseen of before. It's highly likely to protect her brother that sister taught him some forbidden technique or something.

The way Alex said how much his sister used to spoil him is understandable, But still even if this was the case, Sandra was very impressed by him.

Because the higher the level of technique, The more talented and potential one has to learn and master it.

And looks of it Alex already mastered this technique, So her previous estimation if his power was very wrong.

He is not any weak man but one in that exceptional man that others like men's activists would use as an example when saying man can do those things ignoring that there are always some variables.

'This one to has to have some weakness but what?'

So not that she thinks this is some superior technique Sandra started to look for the weakness in the technique that she can exploit.

After all, No matter how good the technique is, That is made for huwuman means there would definitely be at least one weakness because of human limitations.

The hard part was to find that in this limited time, But she was sure she could find it. She always does, This time there is no difference in it.

So Sandra after taking a second to prepare herself once again lunged forward to Alex and then like the last two times ended up on the floor.

But this time she was not disappointed but there was a spark in her eyes with a satisfied smile adorning her plum lips.

Finally, finally she saw it. Though it was just a blur but unlike before she was able to see his moment, which means there is a chance. She just has to pay more attention and then she can figure out the weakness.

Simple as that, Yes for her this was always the case, Up until this life of hers she never faced defeat, Yeah she came close to it but she always found a way, This would also not be any different than before.

'Interesting.'

Alex here throwing FL for 3rd time was enjoying it but he too noticed the strangeness of Sandra, His fighting incidents were quick to notice it even before his brain did.

Sandra was evolving, Yeah evolving not learning, He can sense the pattern Sandra used before starting to change or say evolve to a new one, her body too started to adapt to his move.

Like before 2 times he had to throw her in an angle to not her face hit the floor directly but now her body subconsciously adjusted and protected her face from hitting the floor.

This was a new thing. There is no way current Sandra could beat him with his immortal level skill but if she is given enough time and training with him, Alex is confident that she would be able to step into immortal level skill in 10 to 15 years.

Yup only that much time she needed to achieve something that no other can not even imagine and considering she is FL, That time can be even less thanks to the opportunity she would get.

'Let's push her push limits a little.'

Now that Alex started to fight and got the enough data about her changes, He decided to go with the plan he created before. It would be crucial for his conquest.

(A/N : 6th one, Can you guys please leave a message if you liked the novel or not? I will fix grammar mistakes soon enough.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day ??.)

Chapter 251 249. I Can Do This All Day

Chapter 251 249. I Can Do This All Day

"You can still give up Sandra?"

Alex spoke to her as he once again put her down on the cold floor face first obviously intending to taunt her.

"I can do this all day."

Sandra just once again stood up and then said the legendary quote as she once again took the attack stance ready to go at again with light in his eyes.

And how she could not be? Right now she feel like she was on drugs, Her blood was running in her veins in super fast speed, Her heart beating like it was a diesel engine.

Her pupils were locked on the most beautiful being in the world as her mind trying to comprehend the elegant dance-like moments of his.

She was totally addicted to this rush. If she was given a choice of this or sex with Alex, She respectfully wouldn't know what to choose as both things to her feel like beyond mortal limits like a personification of raw bliss.

She even forget why she was even fighting for, All she knows was to land at least one single direct hit on Alex, Right now all she wanted from this world.

So she didn't waste any time and lunged forward just for Alex to womanhandle her and put her in the same position as before.

Sandra didn't stop, She stand up and started using various techniques she learned in her dual life to hit him but each one of them failed putting her back to that exact familiar place but this did not discourage her at least a bit rather made her more and more excited.

She even stopped holding back and started giving it her all as she completely forgot that it was weak Alex standing in front of her. In her eyes there was a tall wall she had to climb up to prove herself.

It was challenge she herself gave to herself and put all her mind on it, and at least in her eyes it was working, She started to yield a little bit of result, Unlike before she was not instantaneously being defeated but she able to stand her around for half of the second before she was being in the floor again.

It did not look much but compared to before, she at least knew now how she was being put on the ground, Which excited her more and more.

That elegance, that smooth bodily moment before he perfectly executes his move was just hypnotizing to look at, She could look at this all her life and would not get tired of it.

"Oh, Then continue, I too need some stretching."

Alex just looked at Sandra and laughed as he once again mocked asking her to continue.

Unlike before Sandra was not least bit offended by his comment, He got the right to say these things when he mastered this technique to this level that it looks like it is absolute defense which she knows it is not, It can't be that.

So she let him be and started attacking once again but everything she attacked there was changed in tactics and new techniques were coming out. Who knows how many times she was put on the floor.

And no one care about rjat, Sandra was learning, adapting and try to overcome the first move that is putting her down on the floor but yet she was unable to counter.

Still she did not lose hope, She still had time left to figure out. There still should be 5 or 6 minutes remaining, So she could still win this, Just has to find a flaw.

So with burning fire in her eyes, She locked onto the Alex's figure, Then with an excited smile lunged forward.

[Ding! Warning!!!! It's detected that FL is in an unstable state because of losing the game, The chances of her awakening superpower is 95% to counter you.

It's suggested to the host to be careful and not do too much.]

Alex was enjoying this, After all when do he going to get the opportunity to ransack FL like this after this? Highly unlikely that it would happen twice, so he was enjoying every bit of it.

But then the party pooper system pops up to give a notification, dropping the cold water all over his head.

He before doing anything quickly stopped his body once again throwing Sandra off the ground like before but gave her a bone and let her think she had a chance as he took a step back before once again putting her down.

He didn't want to put her on the ground after hearing the notification but he had to. If he didn't do that she would figure out he was purposefully throwing the game off, which would do more negatively than it would positively.

As FL hates to lose but they are disgusted when someone shows pity, This brain disease is common and is also quite common in protagonists. They hate when someone goes easy on them as if they just slapped them on the face.

So Alex had to quickly come up with a plan to make it look like she had a quite strong chance.

Because he can't afford her to awaken her superpower right at this moment, It would destroy all the work he put in, Though it was highly unlikely she would awaken something as broken superpower as Rebecca or Rose.

As their awakened powers always have some hidden gem they need to figure out before it is a broken superpower but he just can't take chances with this heaven's loved ones.

Who knows what their daddy or say mother as reverse world logic decided to give them, so he just can't allow her to awaken her superpowers, not right now.

So gears in his mind moved and he quickly came up with a plan as he is quite experienced in making last moment plans.

"I underestimated you, little clerk."

Alex spoke with a slightly tired voice as he started to sweat a little forming tiny sweat beads on his forehead while in his eyes tiredness was apparent.

Chapter 252 250. Unexpected Reward

Chapter 252 250. Unexpected Reward

'Finally, there it is.'

Sandra took a sigh of breath when she saw the look of Alex giving her a hope that there was a chance for her to win.

She had to admit, Even trying all this time, she was not able to find any flow in his technique, making her more and more afraid and hopeless, giving her despair.

How can one technique can be this perfect that there is no opening for others to attack?
How can this let other people live with this broken thing?

She was afraid this would be the first fight she loses but she was unwilling, not because she could not admit when she was not good as her opponent. If it was some other time and someone else she would have admitted defeat a long time ago.

Then would just fighting for the fun of fighting strong but this time she couldn't lose, Even though she was high on adrenaline and all, She still knows that she just can not allow to lose this fight or she would also lose something important to her.

So she was fighting the futile battle praying for some miracle to reveal the weakness. She is not religious but she was willing to bow towards and request any force out there as long as it would help her.

And it happened now, she finally saw the weakness of this technique and that is stamina and endurance.

She quickly hypothesizes that this technique is perfect in every way but the drawback is that it consumes too much stamina, Which can be seen from how fast Alex was moving when he was defending from her attack before.

That concludes that this technique is defense-oriented, virtually having no offensive move as Alex did not use any, All his actions were in the defensive stans of her attack and not he initiating attack.

Maybe she also forgotten that Alex said he would not fight for initial 8 minutes, only defend. Anyway what she thinks is important is that Alex is being exhausted and weakened, Which means she just has to try harder and before she knows it, she will be able to land a hit on him.

So that hopeless feeling that was in her heart vanished replaced with a burning desire to win. Amidst of this she did not detect that deep in her body there was a flicker of ancient power.

As her despair was growing, so the power brewing inside her threatening to burst out. It reached a critical moment and was ready to be released but this happened.

The moment Sandra got hope, that process was halted, And once again went back into the place it emerged from.

If Sandra would not been in this excited state she would have detected that and now allowed to go back but alas she didn't, So she still has to wait for now.

"Thank you."

Sandra answered Alex's praise with a heartfelt smile on her face before once again lunged forward at him.

She right now is purely running on instinct, So she was not able to admit her mistake of also underestimating Alex but anyway she would do that profusely after the fight.

'Yes he is getting slower.'

Sandra was happy because this time she attacked unlike countless times she did not end up on the floor, rather Alex defended and backed away from her attack swiftly.

This is what she wanted. Finally she got the power back, so she can go full on the offense now just to make him more tired until he would make a mistake.

That is a moment she can make her final move, so she goes crazy at Alex. There were punches, kicks, palm and whatnot different kinds of moves were thrown at him.

Which Alex swiftly and as elegantly like before was dodging but even the layman can say that right at this moment Sandra, She was leading the game while Alex was put on the back leg.

Still there it is apparent Alex would not go out this easy, he is still giving his "all" while he was fighting, Though he was getting slower and slower because of his weakness he did not make any mistake giving an opening to Sandra to attack.

But Sandra was not discouraged, rather she was full of spirit and was proud of a man she fell in love with, This is a man for whom she could bend her rules.

He is the one she can even allow to cross her bottom line, How could she not allow it? Where would she get a man like this in this world?

Before she was in madly in love with him, for him she was willing to do pretty much everything but now he fully conquered her from heart to the body.

Before she had respect for him as the man she love but now she has even more respect for the man he is.

No normal lazy man is able to get this strong without hard work and dedication. One has to flow blood and sweat like water to achieve this success in the martial arts.

So he being just weak 2nd rich generation thought was thrown out of the window by her, The thing she didn't even know that bothered her but that is given by her history with Dick.

He was also 2nd rich generation but compared to that trash, Her man is way better that it would be insulting of him to compare with someone like Dick.

[Ding! Congratulations host for gaining Sandra's affection +20...

You are blessed by the ML luck +1000.]

Alex was just lazily allowing Sandra to live in delusion that he was going to tired out soon and then she can win.

But unexpectedly a system voice rang in his mind taking him back. He didn't expect that her favorability would increase doing this because it was already too high.

Yet here it was giving him an unexpected reward, He could feel a comfortable aura warping around him, Which undoubtedly is luck giving him favor.

'Time to end this.'

Alex was taken back by unexpected surprise but then looked at the time running on the system panel. Yeah he system can do that, Which is just a little thing but still he felt weird that the system had a stopwatch function.

Though not a big deal but no one expected the system to pull out these ordinary functions. Anyway seeing that time was running out he decided to use his leeway to end this before something unexpected happen.

Chapter 253 251. Join Gym

Chapter 253 251. Join Gym

While Alex and Sandra was fighting there, Duo of women, one tiny one worried while the big one was curious looking at the fight.

Liza was very very concerned about the safety of Alex, if even a single strand of hair on his hair was damaged, There would be two behemoth would be on her throat.

Yeah she worries about Alex, worrying about him a lot but she at the same time is terrified of those demoness.

If Alex really harmed even a little bit they would hold her responsible for it saying she was an adult there when the fight happened.

Yeah, She is in her 40s but does that make her an adult? Look at her? She can be misunderstood by someone as a lost child.

And did both of them not know that once Alex decided he would not change his mind? He ran away from her just because he didn't wanted to marry. That says a lot about his hard-headedness.

How can anyone expect her to be able to stop him? She didn't even know half of the things Alex experienced about, she is still a girl while Alex became a man long ago.

'Oh please, please don't let him be harmed.'

Liza was reciting it in her mind while covering her face with her hand just barely looking at two of them with the gap of her fingers as she could not bear to look at Alex getting hurt.

If Xiao Bai was not present here, She would have never allowed Alex to do this even if she had to do anything.

And then the fight started, Sandra shot her palm straight towards the chest of Alex nearly stopping her heart there for a second.

"Huh!? How did he do that?"

But then something unexpected happened, Before she could realize what had happened, Sandra was on the face first, falling on the ground while Alex was still standing in his place not bothered by Sandra being on the ground.

She couldn't help but ask aloud in shock, Well she knows what could have happened but she is not willing to admit it, How could she?

In her mind Alex is always that weak boy she used to running around bullying him to no extent without having the power to bully her back.

She always used to tease him and all, So she never thought he can grow into this strong man that can beat grown ass women that swiftly.

"He tapped on her hand making her fall on the ground."

Grace answered the question of Liza, She who was in peak huwoman body physique saw how majestic, elegant and swift his actions were. He in one simple tap was able to bring down Sandra like a block of dominos.

Funnily Sandra don't even find that out until she was on the ground, Which nearly made her burst out laughing, It was comical scene but it also told her the power of Alex.

As for her or was look like qn simple tap but she knows the accuracy and power behind that power is not something she can comprehend, So he is way stronger than Sandra and in that sense her.

'Maybe I should start training, Did they teach this in the gym?'

Grace couldn't help but think she also needed to be strong to stand beside Alex, She didn't want to be a burden to Alex, rather she wanted to be a shield that would protect him from any and all harm.

And for that to happen, She needs to become strong, stronger than her current pathetic state, so that she can stand beside him with her head high.

It's just she didn't know where she can get this training at all, she did not have the least bit of this hidden world knowledge. All she knows about getting stronger is to go to the gym.

As that's all she heard about from her other female "friends", Anytime before she bring up the topic of Alex, they used to suggest her to give up in him and join a gym.

She didn't know why the gym but anyway those people were suggesting gym then it has to work, right?

Thinking of that Grace focused on the duo of Alex and Sandra to see if she can learn one or two things before going to the gym.

'Thank god he is safe.'

Liza didn't care that Alex was able to make Sandra fall on the ground like that because her mind did not accept the same Alex in her mind can do that, So she became more happy by the fact that he was safe.

Now she would not be hanged upside down above the pit of hungry wolf's as those women said they would do if they saw ex getting hurt in her presence, way back when she was used to bully Alex, Which was taken out of proportion.

She was just used to stretching his cheeks and all, How can that be hurting him? Those two are crazy womens.

*Growl*

Two of these women here were lost in their own world, So no one paid attention to this little one.

She was just lazing around trying to sleep most of the time like any cat would, and only when Alex said to make sure they two were safe she was awakened paying her utmost attention to them.

But even for her it was hard to comprehend the technique Alex was using, So she was a little lost in it's beauty until she felt the presence she didn't want to feel here.

She quickly turned around and growled at the corner unwillingly. She was not happy one bit that this one is here, This is her place, no one else could have it.

"Come on, Be a good girl, Xiao Bai, Don't bother him, He is busy."

A soft voice transferred to Xiao Bai who was about to alert Alex of this new guest but was told not to by the figure in the dark not to do it as it would distract him from the fight.

Xiao Bai tilted her head to think and then agreed, Alex was busy, She would tell him afterwards.

So even though she was dissatisfied, she did not do anything about it, She let it be. Her job was to make sure they would not get hurt.

Sandra was bombarding fury of punches and kicks at Alex which he was swiftly dodging until he made a move.

*Caught*

A punch that coming straight towards his chest was grabbed by Alex's hand like an iron claw not letting it go holding it tightly.

"Good Sandra *Kiss*."

Alex pulled her fist towards him his face while he was staring at her eyes, Then praised her and even kissed her fist in affection.

After all, She deserves it. She grew up quite fast. If current her fought with those past E ranks who gave her a hard time, She would ransack them as he was doing with her.

Wait, what about power scaling and rank difference?

What about it? That thing only applies to the ordinary people like say non-protagonists and non-Female Lead, It does not apply to the rest of the people.

It's as simple as that, So Alex does not doubt that anyone other than S-Rank can even give them a threat of death.

Anyway, He was happy about it. The more broken the Female lead is the more benefits he would going to get and then there is also the benefit of getting a heavy hitter against those protagonists.

So she deserve this affection, She deserves to be prised by him, Of course which he did, He did not hold back and gave her a romantic kiss on her fist.

[Ding! Congratulations to the host you fluctuate the Female Lead's heart...]

You gain Sandra's +1 affection...

Congratulations to the host for getting ML benefits of 50 luck...]

System voice rang informing him that he once again got the favorability of Sandra which made him a little confused.

Like said before, It was hard for Sandra's favorability to increase towards him as it was already too high, one time can be an understable fluke but if it happens once again then there is something definitely a problem in it.

But he didn't have time to think of that now as there is an imitate issue has to deal with, So he can think of this later.

"...But now it's my turn."

Sandra was blushing red, Her whole face to neck was becoming red like a tomato because of his unexpected move making her heart melt by his words, Blaming him that it was not fair to use this underhand technique against her.

But even before she could come out from her romantic thoughts, His cold words reverberated in the room immediately pulling her back to her senses reminding her of where she is and what she is doing.

Then she saw that medium but strong fist heading straight towards her face, by instinct she held her hand in front of her face to prevent damage but it was useless.

*Bang* *Slam*

Even though she stopped the fist but power in that fist too much, She was not prepared for this amount of power, So she directly thrown back slaming in the wall.

*Cough*

She coughed as she bounced off the wall but even before she can gather her thoughts of what just happen, She saw Alex's figure appearing front of her in instance ready to land another fist on her now seem fragile body.

*Dodge*

*Bang*

Sandra didn't know what to do but thankfully the insects of body horned by her last "job" kick in quickly making her dodge aside that fist coming straight towards her.

She dodged but fist still landed on the wall behind her and created a small crater in the concrete wall shocking mostly every buddy in the ward.

Sandra was in shock, she thought that Alex was mastered in defensive technique, Not having anything strong as offense, well she was wrong.

Just like before she didn't know how or where that fist come from, His fists trajectory was strange making her unable to guess which would be the next target.

Turn out, She herself was the target of those moves as even though she was able to dodge the fist but was kicked by the kick out of nowhere sending her to the other side of the ward.

*Bang* *Cough*

Sandra once again slammed on the wall making her spit out saliva of hers as pain took over her body, She was sure at least a few dozen or so bones are broken in her body right now.

Thankfully she was pumped up with adrenaline making her unable to feel the pain for a while, Which she was grateful for but it still did not helped.

She was still helpless as right now Alex was once again blitz past towards her and was about to land another hit.

She didn't have time to dodge this attack, So all she can do was to hold her hands in front , try to take bear it using her hands and hope for the best.

*Bang*

*Broke*

His fist landed on her hand and then she felt like she was hit by a train, Then pushed more back on the wall.

After that her hands became numb, she was sure they were broken if not fractured, but right now other than being panicked she had a strange smile on her face.

A weird kinda sensation filled her body pumping up her with strange power and confidence.

"HAHAHA, Good."

Sandra spoke up like a maniac as she with a weird look in her eyes looked at the fist that was heading towards her and then it happened.

Her body moved instantly avoiding his fist on its own and even avoiding the kick that came towards her shapely yet she could not avoid the backhand strike Alex threw towards her slamming her in head and throwing her once again on that cold floor.

Then without wasting a second, Alex attacked with a vertical kick but Sandra was quick to move, She didn't even take a moment to recover from the hit of Alex before she quickly dodged his attack.

Then try to put up some distance between them but could not able to as Alex was just behind her throwing and landing punches all over her while Sandra trying to avoid all of them.

But it was obvious it was one sided slaughter and Alex was a butcher here.

(A/N : 10th finally.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

*Boom* *Crack*

Sandra was trying to avoid the offence of Alex but how can she be able to dodge it?

Alex is like an invincible goddess was on her tail and his each and every attack is unavoidable landing on her soft body breaking the bones on impact.

*Slam*

Finally Sandra could not able bear the damage and slammed on the ground with the last hit.

There was no power left in her body to fight back at all, There was regret as to why she accepted the challenge of Alex this quickly.

If only she had taken her time, learn about Alex and his strength, maybe the outcome would be different, maybe she would have gotten less between them.

And yet there was another emotions were occupying her heart, The one was other than regret or even the opposite of it.

It was excitement, Even though right now pretty much every bone in her body was either broken, damaged or fractured she was smiling.

It was strange even for her as she never felt like this ever before.

Yeah there were times when she was excited to fight a strong fight but even then she knew of her limit and was not foolish enough to go against impossible odds.

But right now it is different, Even if she was being beaten right and left without a speck of chance to fight back, She was not afraid.

Maybe knowing it was Alex or feeling there was no killing intent behind his attacks as each attack was avoiding the vital points of hers.

So he was holding back a lot for her.

If not she would have been put out of commission in one or two moves of his as right now Alex was invincible in her eyes.

Yet she felt weird as this excitement was not only come out because of the insurance of safety rather she feeling this by getting beaten by Alex.

And no, She knows she is not M, It was not her first rodeo, Before was beaten lifelessly by peak E-Rank warrior.

At that time there was only endless hate and humiliation in her heart burning her from inside in the flames of revenge.

She still has that hate for that E-Rank and was and is planning to pay it 10-folds back for that days beating.

So it did not make sense why right now she was getting this excited like she was on drugs? Pain is definitely not the reason for it.

"Pay Attention"

*Slam*

Cold words of Alex brought her back from her thinking just to see stars as the kick of his like whiplash landed on her head bringing her down on the same ground and place once again.

Even after this ruthless move, Alex did not stop, He just raised his leg ready to once again

*Dodge*

This time however Sandra was able to avoid it, Not only that the second punch and then even the backhand that was headed towards her.

She dodged three moves of Alex consistently on instinct.

*Slam*

*Bang*

Sadly she still was not able to dodge the 4th kick as his leg was ready as if already predicting she would be able to dodge before attacks.

'WHY!!!'

Sandra gritted her teeth as she once again fallen on the familiar cold floor. She just couldn't understand why? Why is this happening?

This left a mixed taste in her mouth. This is the same as when she was playing the game infamous for its difficulty of not having easy mode, and facing the hard boss.

Every time she felt she understood the boss attack pattern and was close to winning, the boss just went to 2nd phase and regenerate health at each hit which she was not able to defend and it killed her non-stop.

Then that boss without missing even once, Wiped his swords and said dialogue of the blade of someone of each time of her defeat reminding her who is the boss there standing on her dead body.

Sandra felt the same emotions as that time. This cold floor is like that dialogue that kept reminding her that how weak she was and rub the defeat in her face.

"Are you okay?"

Sandra was lost and helpless to stand up when she heard the concerned voice of Alex completely 180° of his previous provocations and taunts.

Sandra could not help but have a heartfelt smile on her face as she heard these words making her heart bubbly.

[Ding! Congratulations to the host you fluctuate the Female Lead's heart...]

You gain Sandra's +1 affection...

Congratulations to the host for getting ML benefits of 50 luck...]

'Knew it.'

Alex laughed in his heart when he heard the system voice rang in his mind.

He was ashamed by the fact that it took him this long to understand this fact, He first thought like everyone Sandra should be M.

But then again how come Female Lead would be M? Which female lead is M?

All of them, Pretty much all female leads are M but different kinda M.

How?

Simple, In every this dog blood romance novel female lead part of, Male lead is always at beginning abuse Female Lead, Either he out right hates her or is disgusted by her because of a "misunderstanding."

But later as he starts to know about the "truth", His behaviour towards her changes little by little and he also starts to show little care towards the Female lead.

Which actually the bare minimum but that bare minimum but for a female lead it was like ML has given her the moon.

Yeah, it is a classic case of Stockholm syndrome. They fall in love with their abuser more and more just because they showed them a little favour after putting them through hell.

Of course Female Lead themselves are Mery Sue, So it's like the pot calling the kettle black.

Anyway, The point is that Female leads dig this thing, You can even say this is their weird fetish.

The same is happening with Sandra, The warrior in her could not fathom that a man was beating her but at the same time the love in her heart could not help but increase being proud of his talent.

And then adding server beating in the mix of this cocktail with added small touch of the affection, Her affection meant to soar up above and beyond.

Alex was happy with his findings and so wanted to continue his beating but stopped paused for a second.

'She still looks stunning.'

He thought to himself seeing the disheveled state of Sandra.

Her hair was open and messy, a few strands of it sticking to her face covered in a thin layer of sweat. Her chest was heaving up and down along with the twin hills that wanted to be free from the bounds of her shirt.

Her face though did not have any special features of heaven defying like heroines, Just above average but it was just perfect without any flaw at all like a piece of celestial art.

Suddenly there was hesitation to attack such a beauty mercilessly, He could see he hurt all the bones in her body except her ear and jaw bones.

Maybe this is enough, She already learned her lessons and so, There is no need to continue beating.

"I am alright, Your throws are quite soft and weak, like a man."

Sandra struggled to stand up as she answered to Alex with a smug but love-filled smile to Alex.

'Fuck it.'

How could Alex be able to keep calm after hearing her words? All the thoughts of showing her pity and stopping this slaughter were thrown out of the window.

He looked at the timer he set in the system screen, seeing there was not that much time remaining, He decided to stop holding back and go all out.

*Boom*

(A/N : Mary Sue : This is a type of character is too perfect for their own good, there is no flaw both as a person and personality, If they do something it would be perfect always, which sound fun but make boring and not so good characters as their only defining trait is how perfect they are.

Yes they are written to be so perfect to the degree that even if they do something bad that harms others they don't face any consequences of their actions as what they did which would turn out was a good thing and all.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

?'System activates Beast King.'

Alex uttered these words and in instance his whole aura changed to that of a wild beast.

Before even though he had invincible momentum but he still looked and felt like a huwman, this time however he completely changed.

Right now he was like a predator stalking his prey looking at Sandra, There was no love in his eyes like before, There was only bloodlust.

"Huh!?"

The faces of people in the ward changed, Xiao Bai who was looking at the corner of the ward quickly looked towards Alex with a look of worship and respect.

This did not only come from her heart but directly from her bloodline, This made by Alex worked directly on the bloodline level and not only Xiao here.

Liza and Grace were also broke out in cold sweat. They did not know what just happened. One moment they were seeing their eye candy Alex and the next he looked like the warden of hell.

They shouldn't be afraid of Alex as they know he would not hurt them but primal fear embedded in their blood shook them to their core.

They wanted to run away but their legs like filled with lead, refused to move, So they had to stand their petrified, not daring to move.

*Thump* *Thump* *Thump* *Thump*

If others were so affected by this then one can imagine what is the current situation of Sandra who was targeted by that bloodlust.

Her heart was pumping like a diesel engine, Her pupils were dilated and only one thought remain in her mind was to...

Run!

Yeah it was not to fight back, nor it was to be excited like before, No, All she wanted right now to run or she would die.

There is no if she die, she was sure of it that if she did not run she would die here, This was her gut feeling.

But she can't do that, doing this means she would lose Alex forever, So she rather die than choose to let go of him.

"Okay, Figh-!!!!!"

Sandra was ready to face Alex, Anyway she was used to beating now, Few more hits would not going to hurt.

But just as she opens her mouth, Alex just inch away from her face.

She glimpse into his eyes and found nothing but an cold killing intent, This almost made her cold.

As this time she was sure he was going for kill, He was not playing around anymore.

She quickly wanted to cover there chest as it was the most likely part Alex would attack but she couldn't be more wrong.

Like a beast out for hunt he goes for the most vital part of the body.

Which in humans are veins, And Alex attacked on the thigh, Especially targeting femoral vein.

Yes, That vein pretty much no one knows about but is so critical that once that vein is broken, Person would die in a matter of minutes.

It was even a quick way to kill than to attack neck as neck though weakest part, Is also part is protected most.

So it is hard to target the neck but the thigh is easy because no one understands how deadly it can be left unprotected.

But Alex, who activated his SSS-Rank Legendary Beast Body he got thanks to his dear sister Amara knowing where to attack for kill.

He right now is like a wild beast attacking purely with the hunting nature of one.

*Broke*

"Fuck!! *Grunt*"

Sandra did not expected this move from Alex, So she was caught off guard, Still thanks to her female lead nature she was able to prepare the impact at last second.

Still she could not able to bear the shock of pain like a wave blitz in her body like a current.

Before even when she was beaten, her bones were broken, She did not let even a single word escape.

But this time she could not able to bare it, For the first time cry out in pain.

She barely able to stand limply on her other leg,

There is no denying that the femur bone is broken. She can feel that her left leg is numb and her whole center of gravity has to be shifted so she doesn't fall on the ground.

"~Hiss Ale~"

Sandra try to stand straight up but just as she try ti do it, A wave of pain hit her like train making her Suck cold air to calm down.

Then she noticed, There was little rise in her loose pants and it was clearly not the morning wood as she is a woman.

So it is obvious, It's her own femur bone that was sticking out.

Thankfully she changed her shorts to Grace's long pants of Grace before. If not, Alex had to watch such a gruesome scene.

Yeah even now she was worried about Alex, So her first move after finding out was not to check on her damages but at Alex.

But it was a mistake, A big mistake.

Because the moment she looked up she froze up, Her whole body felt like it was trapped into the ice glacier.

Death!!!!

All she was able to see was death in the form of claws of Alex like a beast headed straight towards her, precisely towards her neck with intention to tore it.

And she because of the damage to the femur could not able to avoid dodge this attack at all.

She was right now was like an fish on a chopping board which was about to be chopped not half.

Unknown to her the moment she faced this life and death danger, The strange power inside her was triggered and was about to burst out to protect Sandra.

In matter of fraction of second claw reached to the half inch of her neck and was about dig into her flesh when

*Ding*

"Time is Up."

The timer in Grace's hand sounded putting halt to everything.

(A/N : Oh remember femur is the biggest and strongest bone in the body and is said to be 4 times more than concrete and here it's 10 times stronger.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day .)

