Chapter 254 252. One Sided Slaughter

Sandra was bombarding fury of punches and kicks at Alex which he was swiftly dodging until he made a move.

Caught

A punch that coming straight towards his chest was grabbed by Alex's hand like an iron claw not letting it go holding it tightly.

"Good Sandra Kiss."

Alex pulled her fist towards him his face while he was staring at her eyes, Then praised her and even kissed her fist in affection.

After all, She deserves it. She grew up quite fast. If current her fought with those past E ranks who gave her a hard time, She would ransack them as he was doing with her.

Wait, what about power scaling and rank difference?

What about it? That thing only applies to the ordinary people like say non-protagonists and non-Female Lead, It does not apply to the rest of the people.

It's as simple as that, So Alex does not doubt that anyone other than S-Rank can even give them a threat of death.

Anyway, He was happy about it. The more broken the Female lead is the more benefits he would going to get and then there is also the benefit of getting a heavy hitter against those protagonists.

So she deserve this affection, She deserves to be prised by him, Of course which he did, He did not hold back and gave her a romantic kiss on her fist.

[Ding! Congratulations to the host you fluctuate the Female Lead's heart...]

You gain Sandra's +1 affection...

Congratulations to the host for getting ML benefits of 50 luck...]

System voice rang informing him that he once again got the favorability of Sandra which made him a little confused.

Like said before, It was hard for Sandra's favorability to increase towards him as it was already too high, one time can be an understable fluke but if it happens once again then there is something definitely a problem in it.

But he didn't have time to think of that now as there is an imitate issue has to deal with, So he can think of this later.

"....But now it's my turn."

Sandra was blushing red, Her whole face to neck was becoming red like a tomato because of his unexpected move making her heart melt by his words, Blaming him that it was not fair to use this underhand technique against her.

But even before she could come out from her romantic thoughts, His cold words reverberated in the room immediately pulling her back to her senses reminding her of where she is and what she is doing.

Then she saw that medium but strong fist heading straight towards her face, by instinct she held her hand in front of her face to prevent damage but it was useless.

Bang Slam

Even though she stopped the fist but power in that fist too much, She was not prepared for this amount of power, So she directly thrown back slaming in the wall.

Cough

She coughed as she bounced off the wall but even before she can gather her thoughts of what just happen, She saw Alex's figure appearing front of her in instance ready to land another fist on her now seem fragile body.

Dodge

Bang

Sandra didn't know what to do but thankfully the insects of body horned by her last "job" kick in quickly making her dodge aside that fist coming straight towards her.

She dodged but fist still landed on the wall behind her and created a small crater in the concrete wall shocking mostly every buddy in the ward.

Sandra was in shock, she thought that Alex was mastered in defensive technique, Not having anything strong as offense, well she was wrong.

Just like before she didn't know how or where that fist come from, His fists trajectory was strange making her unable to guess which would be the next target.

Turn out, She herself was the target of those moves as even though she was able to dodge the fist but was kicked by the kick out of nowhere sending her to the other side of the ward.

Bang Cough

Sandra once again slammed on the wall making her spit out saliva of hers as pain took over her body, She was sure at least a few dozen or so bones are broken in her body right now.

Thankfully she was pumped up with adrenaline making her unable to feel the pain for a while, Which she was grateful for but it still did not helped.

She was still helpless as right now Alex was once again blitz past towards her and was about to land another hit.

She didn't have time to dodge this attack, So all she can do was to hold her hands in front , try to take bear it using her hands and hope for the best.

Bang

Broke

His fist landed on her hand and then she felt like she was hit by a train, Then pushed more back on the wall.

After that her hands became numb, she was sure they were broken if not fractured, but right now other than being panicked she had a strange smile on her face.

A weird kinda sensation filled her body pumping up her with strange power and confidence.

"HAHAHA, Good."

Sandra spoke up like a maniac as she with a weird look in her eyes looked at the fist that was heading towards her and then it happened.

Her body moved instantly avoiding his fist on its own and even avoiding the kick that came towards her shaperly yet she could not avoid the backhand strike Alex threw towards her slamming her in head and throwing her once again on that cold floor.

Then without wasting a second, Alex attacked with a vertical kick but Sandra was quick to move, She didn't even take a moment to recover from the hit of Alex before she quickly dodged his attack.

Then try to put up some distance between them but could not able to as Alex was just behind her throwing and landing punches all over her while Sandra trying to avoid all of them.

But it was obvious it was one sided slaughter and Alex was a butcher here.

(A/N : 10th finally.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 255 253. Weird Fetish Of Female Lead

Boom Crack

Sandra was trying to avoid the offence of Alex but how can she be able to dodge it?

Alex is like an invincible goddess was on her tail and his each and every attack is unavoidable landing on her soft body breaking the bones on impact.

Slam

Finally Sandra could not able bear the damage and slammed on the ground with the last hit.

There was no power left in her body to fight back at all, There was regret as to why she accepted the challenge of Alex this quickly.

If only she had taken her time, learn about Alex and his strength, maybe the outcome would be different, maybe she would have gotten less between them.

And yet there was another emotions were occupying her heart, The one was other than regret or even the opposite of it.

It was excitement, Even though right now pretty much every bone in her body was either broken, damaged or fractured she was smiling.

It was strange even for her as she never felt like this ever before.

Yeah there were times when she was excited to fight a strong fight but even then she knew of her limit and was not foolish enough to go against impossible odds.

But right now it is different, Even if she was being beaten right and left without a speck of chance to fight back, She was not afraid.

Maybe knowing it was Alex or feeling there was no killing intent behind his attacks as each attack was avoiding the vital points of hers.

So he was holding back a lot for her.

If not she would have been put out of commission in one or two moves of his as right now Alex was invincible in her eyes.

Yet she felt weird as this excitement was not only come out because of the insurance of safety rather she feeling this by getting beaten by Alex.

And no, She knows she is not M, It was not her first rodeo, Before was beaten lifelessly by peak E-Rank warrior.

At that time there was only endless hate and humiliation in her heart burning her from inside in the flames of revenge.

She still has that hate for that E-Rank and was and is planning to pay it 10-folds back for that days beating.

So it did not make sense why right now she was getting this excited like she was on drugs? Pain is definitely not the reason for it.

"Pay Attention"

Slam

Cold words of Alex brought her back from her thinking just to see stars as the kick of his like whiplash landed on her head bringing her down on the same ground and place once again.

Even after this ruthless move, Alex did not stop, He just raised his leg ready to once again

Dodge

This time however Sandra was able to avoid it, Not only that the second punch and then even the backhand that was headed towards her.

She dodged three moves of Alex consistently on instinct.

Slam

Bang

Sadly she still was not able to dodge the 4th kick as his leg was ready as if already predicting she would be able to dodge before attacks.

'WHY!!!'

Sandra gritted her teeth as she once again fallen on the familiar cold floor. She just couldn't understand why? Why is this happening?

This left a mixed taste in her mouth. This is the same as when she was playing the game infamous for its difficulty of not having easy mode, and facing the hard boss.

Every time she felt she understood the boss attack pattern and was close to winning, the boss just went to 2nd phase and regenerate health at each hit which she was not able to defend and it killed her non-stop.

Then that boss without missing even once, Wiped his swords and said dialogue of the blade of someone of each time of her defeat reminding her who is the boss there standing on her dead body.

Sandra felt the same emotions as that time. This cold floor is like that dialogue that kept reminding her that how weak she was and rub the defeat in her face.

"Are you okay?"

Sandra was lost and helpless to stand up when she heard the concerned voice of Alex completely 180° of his previous provocations and taunts.

Sandra could not help but have a heartfelt smile on her face as she heard these words making her heart bubbly.

[Ding! Congratulations to the host you fluctuate the Female Lead's heart...]

You gain Sandra's +1 affection...

Congratulations to the host for getting ML benefits of 50 luck...]

'Knew it.'

Alex laughed in his heart when he heard the system voice rang in his mind.

He was ashamed by the fact that it took him this long to understand this fact, He first thought like everyone Sandra should be M.

But then again how come Female Lead would be M? Which female lead is M?

All of them, Pretty much all female leads are M but different kinda M.

How?

Simple, In every this dog blood romance novel female lead part of, Male lead is always at beginning abuse Female Lead, Either he out right hates her or is disgusted by her because of a "misunderstanding."

But later as he starts to know about the "truth", His behaviour towards her changes little by little and he also starts to show little care towards the Female lead.

Which actually the bare minimum but that bare minimum but for a female lead it was like ML has given her the moon.

Yeah, it is a classic case of Stockholm syndrome. They fall in love with their abuser more and more just because they showed them a little favour after putting them through hell.

Of course Female Lead themselves are Mery Sue, So it's like the pot calling the kettle black.

Anyway, The point is that Female leads dig this thing, You can even say this is their weird fetish.

The same is happening with Sandra, The warrior in her could not fathom that a man was beating her but at the same time the love in her heart could not help but increase being proud of his talent.

And then adding server beating in the mix of this cocktail with added small touch of the affection, Her affection meant to soar up above and beyond.

Alex was happy with his findings and so wanted to continue his beating but stopped paused for a second.

'She still looks stunning.'

He thought to himself seeing the disheveled state of Sandra.

Her hair was open and messy, a few strands of it sticking to her face covered in a thin layer of sweat. Her chest was heaving up and down along with the twin hills that wanted to be free from the bounds of her shirt.

Her face though did not have any special features of heaven defying like heroines, Just above average but it was just perfect without any flaw at all like a piece of celestial art.

Suddenly there was hesitation to attack such a beauty mercilessly, He could see he hurt all the bones in her body except her ear and jaw bones.

Maybe this is enough, She already learned her lessons and so, There is no need to continue beating.

"I am alright, Your throws are quite soft and weak, like a man."

Sandra struggled to stand up as she answered to Alex with a smug but love-filled smile to Alex.

'Fuck it.'

How could Alex be able to keep calm after hearing her words? All the thoughts of showing her pity and stopping this slaughter were thrown out of the window.

He looked at the timer he set in the system screen, seeing there was not that much time remaining, He decided to stop holding back and go all out.

Boom

(A/N : Mary Sue : This is a type of character is too perfect for their own good, there is no flaw both as a person and personality, If they do something it would be perfect always, which sound fun but make boring and not so good characters as their only defining trait is how perfect they are.

Yes they are written to be so perfect to the degree that even if they do something bad that harms others they don't face any consequences of their actions as what they did which would turn out was a good thing and all.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 256 254. Beast King

?'System activates Beast King.'

Alex uttered these words and in instance his whole aura changed to that of a wild beast.

Before even though he had invincible momentum but he still looked and felt like a huwuman, this time however he completely changed.

Right now he was like a predator stalking his prey looking at Sandra, There was no love in his eyes like before, There was only bloodlust.

"Huh!?"

The faces of people in the ward changed, Xiao Bai who was looking at the corner of the ward quickly looked towards Alex with a look of worship and respect.

This did not only come from her heart but directly from her bloodline, This made by Alex worked directly on the bloodline level and not only Xiao here.

Liza and Grace were also broke out in cold sweat. They did not know what just happened. One moment they were seeing their eye candy Alex and the next he looked like the warden of hell.

They shouldn't be afraid of Alex as they know he would not hurt them but primal fear embedded in their blood shook them to their core.

They wanted to run away but their legs like filled with lead, refused to move, So they had to stand their petrified, not daring to move.

Thump Thump Thump Thump

If others were so affected by this then one can imagine what is the current situation of Sandra who was targeted by that bloodlust.

Her heart was pumping like a diesel engine, Her pupils were dilated and only one thought remain in her mind was to...

Run!

Yeah it was not to fight back, nor it was to be excited like before, No, All she wanted right now to run or she would die.

There is no if she die, she was sure of it that if she did not run she would die here, This was her gut feeling.

But she can't do that, doing this means she would lose Alex forever, So she rather die than choose to let go of him.

"Okay, Figh-!!!!!"

Sandra was ready to face Alex, Anyway she was used to beating now, Few more hits would not going to hurt.

But just as she opens her mouth, Alex just inch away from her face.

She glimpse into his eyes and found nothing but an cold killing intent, This almost made her cold.

As this time she was sure he was going for kill, He was not playing around anymore.

She quickly wanted to cover there chest as it was the most likely part Alex would attack but she couldn't be more wrong.

Like a beast out for hunt he goes for the most vital part of the body.

Which in humans are veins, And Alex attacked on the thigh, Especially targeting femoral vein.

Yes, That vein pretty much no one knows about but is so critical that once that vein is broken, Person would die in a matter of minutes.

It was even a quick way to kill than to attack neck as neck though weakest part, Is also part is protected most.

So it is hard to target the neck but the thigh is easy because no one understands how deadly it can be left unprotected.

But Alex, who activated his SSS-Rank Legendary Beast Body he got thanks to his dear sister Amara knowing where to attack for kill.

He right now is like a wild beast attacking purely with the hunting nature of one.

Broke

"Fuck!! Grunt"

Sandra did not expected this move from Alex, So she was caught off guard, Still thanks to her female lead nature she was able to prepare the impact at last second.

Still she could not able to bear the shock of pain like a wave blitz in her body like a current.

Before even when she was beaten, her bones were broken, She did not let even a single word escape.

But this time she could not able to bare it, For the first time cry out in pain.

She barely able to stand limply on her other leg,

There is no denying that the femur bone is broken. She can feel that her left leg is numb and her whole center of gravity has to be shifted so she doesn't fall on the ground.

"~Hiss Ale~"

Sandra try to stand straight up but just as she try ti do it, A wave of pain hit her like train making her Suck cold air to calm down.

Then she noticed, There was little rise in her loose pants and it was clearly not the morning wood as she is a woman.

So it is obvious, It's her own femur bone that was sticking out.

Thankfully she changed her shorts to Grace's long pants of Grace before. If not, Alex had to watch such a gruesome scene.

Yeah even now she was worried about Alex, So her first move after finding out was not to check on her damages but at Alex.

But it was a mistake, A big mistake.

Because the moment she looked up she froze up, Her whole body felt like it was trapped into the ice glacier.

Death!!!!

All she was able to see was death in the form of claws of Alex like a beast headed straight towards her, precisely towards her neck with intention to tore it.

And she because of the damage to the femur could not able to avoid dodge this attack at all.

She was right now was like an fish on a chopping board which was about to be chopped not half.

Unknown to her the moment she faced this life and death danger, The strange power inside her was triggered and was about to burst out to protect Sandra.

In matter of fraction of second claw reached to the half inch of her neck and was about dig into her flesh when

Ding

"Time is Up."

The timer in Grace's hand sounded putting halt to everything.

(A/N : Oh remember femur is the biggest and strongest bone in the body and is said to be 4 times more than concrete and here it's 10 times stronger.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day .)

Chapter 257 255. It's Invalid

"Time is Up."

A soft delicate voice like a cuckoo of Grace reverberated in the cold space of the ward.

Sandra who was in shock yanked back to reality as the claw of Alex going for the neck was retrieved back.

For a second because of her natural survival instincts, she was glad that Alex stopped.

Though she was sure that Alex would not be going to harm, the killing intent he showed fooled her body, making her panic unconsciously.

But seeing he stop, She breathed a sigh of relief with a knowing smile on her face with love.

Thinking he did not go too far, doesn't that mean he also has good feelings for her in his heart?

She thought this as she was barely able to stand on her one leg because the other leg's main bone was snapped by Alex along with pretty much all the bones in her body.

No wonder it's said that women in love drop their IQ below freezing point.

"No no no don't, It can't, How? Why? No...No."

It's just her fantasy did not last that long. It took her a second to process what Grace said but when it happened, She broke down.

She was in denial, It couldn't be happening, She couldn't lose, No never, She was not willing to give up Alex.

How can she able to do it? Not only her body but her heart and even her soul were imprinted by him.

He is only one for her, It's easier to separate from her own soul than to forget him.

'But...I made a bet, I have to take losses.'

In this despair the voice of righteousness rang in her heart, She was unwilling but by her nature, the word that was given before can't be taken back.

After all, it's better to lose once than to discard the word that was given. She firmly believes in this saying.

This is the nature of a Female lead like her, Once she said something it would happen, that is how strong her personality of theirs.

It's just Sandra was unwilling, Yeah female lead follows through her words but there would be exceptions when it comes to the Male Lead, which right now is Alex.

So there was a struggle going on in her heart, Her being pumped up with various hormones like adrenaline, and endorphins did not help at all.

Though it stopped the pain but it also made her muddle making her thoughts go all over the places making her unable to put her thoughts in words.

"You are not bad for just some mall clerk Sandra."

"Anyway, You are going to respect the terms of the bet."

The cold uncaring words of Alex fall on everyone's ears making them shudder.

Women in the ward looked at Alex and then Sandra who was not able to stand straight thanks to that snapped femur whose outline was visible to naked eyes.

For the first time, they saw this side of Alex, Liza though knew how bad Alex could be when someone was doing wrong to him, But she never thought he was this cold.

He used to be angry but at best he used to throw big tantrums in the Winchester house, He never acted like this.

Even those who didn't have any good feelings towards Sandra felt sad and pity towards Sandra seeing her like this.

There was even a strong urge to speak on her behalf and persuade Alex to give this woman another chance.

It's a strange feeling and she tried to push it down but it was getting stronger and stronger.

"Ahem...That Alex, Why don't yo-!!"

Unexpectedly when Liza was unable to hold back seeing the miserable state of Sandra and wanted to speak, Grace beat her in it and was about to put good words for Sandra.

She really can't watch Sandra like this, Grace doesn't understand why she has these emotions for this woman whom she just met today, but for whom she risks her relationship with Alex.

This is a stupid thing to do and she knows this is stupid and yet she still does it. Not knowing the reason behind taking her side was all thanks to the Female Leads halo and luck.

Grace just gives reason to her heart that maybe because Sandra helped her right now with her mother, So she is just paying off the kindness shown by Sandra to her.

It's just when she was about to speak, she saw the face of Alex with that familiar look, then she looked down at the phone in her hand given by him to monitor the timer.

Then it clicked her and she swallowed back the words she was about to say and gave a look to Alex then she spoke.

"Alex, When you gave me this timer, You made me a reviewer of this bet, So with that authority, I declare this match as invalid."

Grace after getting confirmation from Alex, She with a loud voice declared that their bet was invalid making Liza stand beside her dumbfounded.

Liza was speechless, how come Grace changed party suddenly? Aren't they supposed to be with Alex? Why is she doing this in favor of Sandra?

She too wanted to help Sandra but by trying to persuade Alex to change his mind, not directly go against him like this, Aren't this direct knife in the back?

Liza got the attention of Grace and asked her in a gesture meaning of her actions.

Liza : \ (?_?) /

Grace : (???)

Grace pretended she had not seen the angry face of Liza, She just looked at Sandra who did not get the meaning of her words but even in her muddled state this information sank in her head.

Her face brightened like a sun as she looked towards Grace with her hope-filled eyes wanting to confirm what she heard was right.

"Grace, Wh....What did you sai-Ahhhh!!"

Sandra was excited, In fact she was so excited that she even forget about her leg and tried to move towards Grace which made her put pressure on the leg giving her bone-crushing pain.

(A/N : There will be 2 more updates today, Or more, Sorry for not mass updating on the 7th.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day .)

Chapter 258 256. Broken Female Lead

?"Careful"

In a cold unfilling tone Alex reminded Sandra but was one step ahead of her and supported her all in one swift motion.

'It's unbearable to act like Tsundre.'

In his mind Alex was crushing the characteristics of ML, Why do they have to act like this? And why do Female leads dig this shit up?

Why can't they just be honest about their goddamn feelings and get over with it, But no, All of them love drama, they feed on it.

So even though Alex didn't like it has to be like this for him to solidify his position as Male lead.

Or there is no saying if another ML's would pop out to replace his position.

Yeah, he can't be greened thanks to Harem protection Halo but it is still a nuisance to keep those flies and pests wandering around them.

So he has to act, Especially after he escaped from the jaws of death.

Yes, He was about to die. When he threw his claws towards her neck, Just when it was about to make contact alarms rang out in his body.

His pseudo-immortal instinct, which one can call as ultra-instinct, was triggered and was able to stop him in time beforehand.

He was sure, if his move landed on her neck then maybe not die but he would have faced catastrophic consequences.

Hence why Alex, even though unwilling to act like Tsunder, He did not want to end up at the wrong side of the Female lead as they were just too unreasonable.

Come on, he felt the crisis even though there are two S-Ranks present in this room. This woman's luck is even more unreasonable than the protagonists of this world.

"Huh...Ahem."

Sandra was in a lot of pain but she did not want to show in front of Alex. How can she allow him to see her in her weakest state?

So even though her leg was giving her unbearable pain, bleeding and needed immediate medical attention, She did not think of it. All she cared about was how to please him.

"You explain, I won fairly."

Alex asked Grace with a knowing smile. He did not pay attention to Sandra and her injuries, Yeah it is a wound that others may not be able to bear but she is the female lead, she just built differently.

Like right now if it was someone else, There should have been forming a pool of blood below her legs because of the vein damage but there was nothing.

Yeah she was bleeding but it was like as if she got a cut not her leg being snapped in half.

Even then he wanted to help her but knowing the pride and arrogance the female lead has, It would go to hurt her more, so she had to wait a little more.

"Not fairly, You said you would start to attack after 8 minutes but time was put wrongly here. It was not at 8 minutes but at 7:58, You attacked 2 seconds early breaking the rules.

Though that would have meant you cheated but because this is a technical error it's made this bet invalid."

Grace didn't have to be told what to do, when she looked at Alex, she already knew what he wanted to do and so she followed through it.

After all, as a good secretary of his, It is her duty to do it.

"....Fair enough."

Alex badly pretended to be surprised by this news and then in regret big heartily accepted that their this bait is invalid.

"But-"

Sandra could not help but speak up which she regret it as soon as she opened her mouth.

She did it by her nature, She could tell Grace is trying to give her one more chance even daring to go against Alex.

So the importance of Grace in her heart rose even surpassing the friend of hers who also helped her in needed time.

Right now Grace is the 2nd most close person to her right after Alex, after all this is a favour that even if she works all her life she could not pay back.

"Didn't she say it's invalid? Why? You want to make it so that I cheated?"

Thankfully for her before she could speak something and ruin it for herself, Alex spoke up directly accusing of trying to win the bait this way.

She panicked, she wanted to explain but stopped when she felt the wave of warmth entering in her body.

At one moment her body was all numb but next she felt like she was in hot water in winter season making her totally relaxed.

Alex was there to support her, if not she would be on the ground as most of the muscles in her body except likes of heart and bladder were the relaxed giving her a sense of bliss.

Sandra sensed the warmth was penetrating in her body, First, it broke through her skin easily after which the it made its way towards her skeleton after which it spread through her whole body.

She didn't know what this was but she liked this feeling, the numbness of her body was gone, replaced by bliss and comfort.

As the warmth filled her body, The bleeding leg of hers also stopped and so did the femur bone which retreated inside the body to its position.

It was the same for other parts of her body. The bruises and blunt damage started to heal visible to naked eyes, while the same was happening with her internal organs and bones.

They do start to heal back in superhuvwoman speed, All in all, she would be alright in no time.

"NO!!!!"

Suddenly the heart wrenching cry of a woman rang in the ward, bringing everyone's attention to her.

(A/N : Sorry for the delay, I know it's happening quite a while and I have not been able to fulfil my promise. Sorry for that, I will not make any excuses now and I will try to write more to fulfil the promise.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day .)

Chapter 259 257. Powerhouse Reborn

?Liza screamed seeing the scene in front of her, She knew it. She couldn't be wrong, Alex was using that healing skill of Sandra.

Right now all she wanted to do was to go to Alex and give him a tight slap on his perfect cheeks.

Then ask him, Are he stupid? Did he want to die or something?

Didn't he just a few times ago right in this ward struggling to live because this skill drained too much power from his body?

And yet now he was using it on this woman. If there was a medical issue why didn't he let her, could the only doctor present here could handle it?

"Are you stupid?"

She briskly walked towards Alex, standing in front of him, asking looking up with her cheek puffed ready to do what she thought of doing it.

But alas, how is she able to slap him? So all she was able to do was show him how angry she was.

"Be a good girl, Liza, Don't disturb me for now."

Seeing her like that, Alex was barely able to stop himself from bursting out laughing, she was looking so cute in her Lolita dress.

Still, he couldn't ignore her like that, so he rubbed her head with other free hand and asked her to be a good girl and behave.

Shatter

Ohh poor heart of Liza by his actions was could not take it, She is in her 40s damn it, She is not a little girl to be treated like this.

'Why is this younger generation not show any respect to their elders now da-!!!!

On other hand, it's not bad to be treated like this.'

Liza was complaining in her heart, Then it hit her in mid-sentence what she was talking about and suddenly it was not that bad to be treated like a child by him anymore.

Cough

Well he still have to maintain the image, So he casually cough up blood as wounds of Sandrawe were healing visible to naked eye.

For others it was too fast healing but Alex knows that it was the slowest he can make and still keep the superior skill image.

After all, His Holy Blessing can heal any wounds on instance, There is no this slow healing process.

What it take time is to improve physique to the peak of the species, Which reasonably be so.

Ohh which is also making Alex know how biased this world is towards this heavens loved ones.

Because right now, He the dignified Villain becomes the experienced baby for the female lead.

Yeah, This holy blessing skill of his is the opportunity her luck has created for her.

The sole reason why he was even able to harm her that much without getting backlash by luck.

Which is a norm of any villain who harms the FL.

He did not only because he became the opportunity for her, Now FL who already has a perfect body would reach to it's limit making her even more broken.

Though he is still able to beat her like this even after that but her luck would not allow it to happen anymore unless he would once again have some opportunity for her.

"Hummm!~"

A sensual moan break the thought process of Alex.

He looked beside him towards Sandra who was basking in the golden light moaning unconsciously because of ecstasy.

Right now she was feeling like thousands if not millions of comfortable warm soft hands were massaging her whole body giving her paramount of pleasure.

This kinda pleasure is 2nd only to the ecstasy of the romance between her and Alex.

Though this does not come close to it, It is far from the rest of the feelings she experienced in all her life.

Even that trial reward she received from joining the Berlin Fried Chicken is pale to this sensation.

"Are you okay?"

Liza come out of her trance when she saw Alex coughing up blood, Her desire was pushed down by her worry as she quickly started to check his condition even before hearing his answer.

She runs her family's secret technique and monitors his current condition fearing it was as bad as before.

"How?"

But got surprised after finding out that he was not in a worse state.

Yeah he still hurting like before but this time all his internal injuries were getting healed as soon as they were formed.

Even the tremendous spiritual power that was costing Alex to use this skill was being refilled as soon as he use it.

This throw her off, She never in her medical career saw this strange phenomenon.

She knows that Alex's dual cultivation physique has some healing properties as demonstrated by him moments ago but this was something she never thought was possible.

If it was just healing the physical injuries then she might have not been this surprised as she saw and even treated people with healing factor.

But Alex's body was not only healing physical wounds but even the spiritual power that said to be can only replenish on it's own in some time below S-Rank was also filling nearly instantaneously.

'What is he?'

That is the only thing she can think of as she looked at Alex with curiosity and confusion.

He can sing like a god, He has a charm that defy logic, His martial art is impeccable, Even has extraordinarily medical knowledge.

On top of that he has special dual cultivation physique said to be can't be inherent by men, But he became the exception of it.

He also has the legendary grade mystical beast that is even those past empresses with an army of millions would not be able to find.

It was myth for her until this afternoon when she find out about Xiao Bai.

Not to mention he also has at least S-Rank superpower.

At least because seeing his record it would not be strange if he has that myth of SS or above level skill.

In the all records of after the age of great fall, There was none, Not even one individual who has this type of talents and gifts.

This make her wonder what is Alex, How can one be so talented with this high luck and blessing.

'Is he powerhouse reborn?'

Liza could not help but to think of the fairy tale she heard as child, In which it said that strong people in the age before the fall are able to preserve their remnant soul and using that they can rebuild their body or reborn.

Before this was just a legend that was passed down from generation to generation as a fairy tale as there is no way at least in this age and time that one can rebuild or be reborn using a remnant soul.

At least not right now, Even mighty S-Rank could not be able to do it.

But there is no saying if it was possible in the age before the fall.

All the important records of that era are mysteriously destroyed, Which leaves a hope that maybe there was the world where people are stronger than S-Rank.

If that is the case, Then doesn't that explain why Alex has all this talent and powers?

Maybe he is that powerhouse reborn, He might not have his memories of that time but his talent is still there making him invincible.

'I have to tell Amara.'

After having this hunch, The only person Liza trusted to tell this is the dear sister of Alex.

Though she did not have any proof but she wholeheartedly believed this was the case and so the respect in her heart for him skyrocketed unconsciously.

'Interesting.'

Alex, who used the inner voice of Liza seeing her weird expression, heard everything, making him dumbfounded as to how her little brain came up with this stuff.

But again it's possible logical reasoning as no one can guess he is a systematic person.

Anyway it did not matter to Alex, All that mattered to him was that he saw the chance, A chance that can make his life easy in upcoming events.

(A/N : I started reading novels again after a long break, It's giving me new ideas for me to implement in my writing.

Plus there was new novel work going on, Which is taking more time than expected.

Hence why there are delays in the novel's updates, I am extremely sorry for the delay.

For compensation, I would release 5 chapters in the following 2 days and 10 afterwards. Once again sorry for the delay.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day ??.)

Chapter 260 258. Waste Physique

"Hummm....Ahhh!~"

Sandra's loud heartfelt moan reverberated in the ward as her body fully healed and came to the end of improving to the peak of huwoman limit.

Unlike Alia and Grace, Sandra's body had a golden glow covering her full figure.

This was also part of his Holy Blessing skill but because the peak limit of Alia and Grace bodies did not cross the mortal bondings this did not come up.

Which is also reasonable as heroines are strong but they never meant to overshadow the mighty protagonist of their novel.

But Sandra as Female Lead blessed with peak foundation since the beginning as she is the protagonist of her own novel.

And now thanks to the opportunity of Alex, She reached another level crossing the level of mortal and step into the immortal level foundation.

Means current Sandra just from physical foundation and strength is equal to F or even E rank warriors.

This does not look much compared to Alex's physique which can even harm the injured S-Rank with A-Rank strength like Jack.

But remember she did not awaken her superpower yet, And now because the foundation is strong it's guaranteed that she will awaken her superpower soon.

Which at least would be S-Rank or SS-Rank, Or maybe she awaken 2, One S-Rank and other hidden SS-Rank superpower, You really can't be sure how her broken luck would reward her.

There is also a huge possibility that she even awaken some special physique complementing her superpowers.

Still Alex was not that jealous like before because unlike luck which he can't do anything about it, He can copy those new powers of hers for himself.

Which means that at the end of the day, Those new powers and all would also be his, So there is no hard feeling of being used as an opportunity giver by luck of Sandra.

"That's Cough Cough Ahem It's done."

Alex still had to keep his facade, So he spoke as he once again coughed out clotted blood.

Finally the golden light eloping Sandra vanishes as it's done it's job.

Right now Sandra's physical foundation is equal to E-Rank warrior, Meaning she has the speed, power, agility of an E-Rank warrior.

So if right now they two fought, Alex had to tap into his beastmaster physique since the beginning to have the upper hand on her like before.

Her overall power has increased and so is the potential of her.

'I wonder how long she will last in bed now?'

Alex, though still acting, could not help but to think of genuine and important questions.

But then thought it did not matter as his golden kidney give him infinite vitality and stamina for the sex, So he did not have to be out done by her.

"How?....How is this?"

Sandra was the one who broke the silence as she clenched her fists looking at her hands in wonder not able to believe that all her injured was healed.

Before she thought she would going to need to at least lay on the bed for months for her injuries to heal.

After all, none of her bones in body except ear and jaws were intact, Rest of them were either cracked, fractured or broken sticking out of her body.

But Alex able to heal her in just few minutes, this touched the softest part of her heart.

She used to get beaten and hurt by other especially by those who were close to her and "family and loved ones".

Her sister is the case and so were her parents, Even the man who married her told her that she was just a toy he would throw away when he gets bored of it.

So she was used to it, Even though Alex hurt her this much she did not mind as by her logic thanks to the life experience, This is how people show their love, By hurting and beating them.

It's just never even once in her life that after someone hurt her turned around to tend to her injuries they caused.

She always thought it didn't matter to her. She didn't care that as a woman she could take care of herself.

But this action of Alex healing made her feel so sweet that she feared she would get diabetes.

It was then she noticed, When she turned her hand around, It felt stronger, It felt way stronger.

Her hands were the same , there was no increase in size but she felt it was quite condensed, filled with lots of power that can burst at her will.

Then she also noticed the changes in her body. She felt quite weightless. Her body was a lot more mobile than before.

It took her a second to understand what just happened. This is clearly a body strengthening, Which is very beneficial for her if she wants to awaken superpower in this life.

Before then when she joined the Berlin Fried Chicken organization. She was tested by members of the organization to test her potential and found out she had a waste physique.

Though she is physically stronger than the average woman, there is a close to known chance of her ever awakening superpower.

Her dream of being something big and show to those who hurt was nearly shattered but she did not give up and try searching for ways.

In her search, She heard that if she strengthen her physique she would increase her chances of awakening the superpower, Which is true, The stronger the power then easy for superpower to be awakened.

So she took the quest to complete which reward was a drop of flood dragons blood known for its properties for enhancing one's physique.

But there were unexpected turns of events and E-Rank showed up out of nowhere making her fail the task, Not only not getting the reward but also had to pay the penalty of failing.

Thankfully it proved that there was E-Ranks interference, So she did not have to pay too much, Just a small penalty was given to her.

Still it's the issue of her not having superpower bothered her, And she worked hard to get a special reward the organization given to the rising stars, Which was only the 2nd woman to receive after the first head of the organization in the history of the group.

Though it was a top class reward but even after receiving it, She only felt relaxed and comfortable but there were no changes in her body.

There was no strengthening or improvement at all, As if all the power of that special treasure was not entered in her body but in an ending void.

This made her lose all hope, So she leave the organization and seeing that she did not have any improvement, Even organization had to give up on her.

As putting resources in her is not only a waste of those resources but also a waste of time, They still gave her exclusive phone and number as parting gift, So if she needed, She can always ask for help.

Sandra never thought she would use it but still keeps it as a gift to remember them. After all, they were the first ones to actually make her feel what a family should look like.

She knows that they did not try to stop her because they were putting her life at risk, So she was grateful towards them.

Then her life went downhill, She married a guy who thought of her as a toy, prey he loves to play with.

He even nicknamed her as rabbit, Not lovingly in a cute way but reminding her, her place, that she was nothing but a rabbit he can snap a neck when he get over it.

She was isolated from childhood without any technology. Even in organization she did not have much contact with the outside world. She was always in the hidden world completing quests.

So she did not know what to do. Still after she could not able to handle the constant humiliation, She left the house of Dick and wanted to start over thinking her life was over.

But then she met him, Also broken like her but never let the hope die and now the same man fulfilled the wish she always desired for.

[Ding! Congratulations to the host, You hit a critical strike...]
