Chapter 301 299. Brain Damage

"Yeah yeah, You are a cat, not a puppy. Do inside and play, Your food is put inside it."

Alex spoke to two of these kitties, giving him puppy eyes trying to get food from him.

He normally would have given them right here and now but he did not do it rather arranged their food in the beast space.

He didn't use this beast space yet but the system did say it is a space that has the best ideal condition for their growth.

Meaning that space is filled with spiritual energy and highly compatible spiritual power there, Which beast did not want to be refined.

They can just directly absorb it in their body without any delay enhancing them and consolidate their cultivation base and even improve it.

And this dish is beneficial for them, So if they ate there, the effect of the dish would be enhanced and easily integrated with them.

Of course, This way they would not be here when these ladies eat their part, Which was he stored in the inventory for dramatic display.

Alex has no idea how they would react after eating it as it is the first time they ate it.

It is his first time to use this high level of his cooking on them, Especially the special meat that is said to have a high aphrodisiac effect.

There is a high chance the moment they are done eating, They will jump on him like a hungry wolf.

So it's best for these two to avoid that for the time being, They two can eat and play in the beast space, They might even improve in their, It's the best of both worlds.

Hence why, When these two asked, Alex snapped open a portal for these two to enter in it.

Well if he wanted, He could have just willed and they would be transported in their but that would have been a shock he didn't want to give to Shapira and others.

"...."

Both Xiao and Shapira turned to look at each other in the tactical understanding trying to see what they should do.

Then both nodded and happily jumped inside the portal, Which closed right after they jumped in disappearing from the hall.

"Huh...Wait!? What just happened?"

White suddenly stood up from her chair pointing her shaking index finger at the Alex, As shock was written all over her.

She could not believe her eyes at all. What did I just see now? One little girl and white tigress jumped through some strange light door and then disappeared from the room.

Oh yes, She forgot that she thought Alex was mauled to death by the same said white tigress.

A thought also did not pass through her mind to question, Why there was a full grown tigress living in the room.

Nope, She either ignored or not even noticed it, But this thing happened right in front of her, So it caught her full attention.

This was a shock to her as she is not aware of hidden society or the world. In her eyes the world is normal, just like her. (A/n : God, I hope not).

So her seeing this like someone stumbling around paranormal activity, Changing their world view.

"Nothing, You are just imagining it."

Alex straight up gaslighted it without hesitation.

Could he not just say that it was a magic trick or something like that to her?

Yes he can, actually he would have given exactly a reason like this if it was someone sane who would have seen what he just did.

After all, People only believe what they wants to believe.

Accepting that a supernatural world exists with strange phenomena like what he just performed is harder than to believe it was just a magic trick.

That's how the complex that blob of jelly in the salt water works.

But is there someone sane? Nope. far from it.

If he really said what he did was a magic trick, There is a high probability that this woman really thinks he did magic, completely ignoring the trick part.

Well yeah he technically did perform magic in a sense, But he is trying to trick her not to explain things to her.

"Huh...No? No!! I just saw it."

White taken aback when Alex said she saw nothing, He speak in so confidence that she for a second doubt whether or not she saw it.

But then she shook her head, She was confident that she saw it, There is no way she could have hallucinated such a strange thing with such realistic way.

"Did you really see it or you just think you saw it? You were hanging upside down for a while, Maybe you have brain damage, Don't worry about it's not a big deal."

Alex not even phased when White strongly disagreed on him declaring she indeed saw it.

He being him just turned one notch making her question herself, That is the key of manipulation.

Never hand them the conclusion, rather nudge them in the direction of the conclusion you wanted.

Give them all the reason and facts they need to go to that conclusion without directly stating it.

As this way they just convince themselves, Which is a lot more effective and solid then forcing on them.

Of course there is another way to do this, and that is to make them question their own sanity.

Push them to the degree that they start to question themselves, And then snoop in and tell them confidentiality what you wanted.

And vola, You successfully gaslighted them, Of course you destroy their mind and self confidence but hey you get what you wanted. That's what matters the most right?

"Br-Brain damage?!! Are you serious? Y-you are kidding, right?"

White in shock and fear asked Alex in a concerned voice she was anxious about what Alex said.

She was indeed hanging upside down for quite some time, Her head was also dizzy hanging there making her vision a little weird in that position.

It got better after she was put down but now that Alex said it, She started to think maybe she got brain damage.

That may be the reason for her hallucinations, It may be possible is quite a vital part of the body.

"Why do you worry about it? Since when did you use your brain last time?"

Before Alex opened his mouth and messed with her more, Isabella, sitting at the table, could not able to resist and asked White point blank.

She though has White Lotus heart, She is not all forgiven like one, She also has own scheming personality with its own dark side, Keep in mind she alone fend off elders of the family with power of politics.

White instantly got on her bad side when she cuckblocked her twice, Both times she was so close to it and this stupid girl destroyed her fantasy.

Not to mention, the sin of mentioning her age in front of Alex is unforgivable.

White is lucky they are here and not at their home, If not no one was able to save her tonight.

"Didn't I use it just a while ago, Madam? Remember, I give you a compliment that you are very pretty for a mother of 2 in their 20s? I think that was a clever compliment.

Not only I said you are pretty but also said what you achieved in one sentence, That needs a brain to do it right?"

White having zero social awareness, really thought her Madam asked her to tell when was the last time she used her brain.

So this being obviously not the time she used her brain as she decided to once again repeat and remind Isabella about her compliment as in her eyes it's a smart thing to do.

"Pfft-hahahah"

"Hahahah"

"Hahahah, Indeed, Beautiful for woman in her mid 40s, just wanna ask, Do you still bleed or it there is drought"

Alex could not hold back and burst out laughing followed suit by Rita and Amara as it was too funny for them.

Amara even mocked Isabella as after Rita the woman she most dislikes is Isabella as this old cow wants to eat green grass.

In her eyes, Isabella is only there to take advantage of her brother's young age. That's what these old hags do.

Of course she didn't know about Liaz's stunt. If she did, Who knows what would happen to that pervert Loli.

"You...!! Okay why are you still here? Go back home, We are going to have a talk there."

Isabella is embarrassed by the Amara's words not having any words strike back.

She still bleeds cause she is not that old even in mortal age not to mention she is considered as a teenager based on her cultivation.

But how can she say this? No matter what she would say, It's a fact that she is way older than Alex.

The only thing that was giving her confidence was her family background and cultivation.

But as it turns her family not even consider ant in his eyes, After all just having an S-Rank in the family put his family amongst the top rank families.

And the cultivation? His realm may be not that high but manipulating the space already made him more qualified then her.

So she is already feeling insecure. If she try to justify her age, She would be just digging her own grave even deeper.

Isabella fustrated lashed out on White then, She didn't understand what she did to this woman, Why she was being targeted like this.

"I wanted to ask him questio-"

"Ask tomorrow, Get out now."

White shrunk her neck down and spoke her reason but Isabella sternly cut her off and announced her to leave.

"Oh oh chill out, No one going anywhere until you all ate."

Alex quickly interjects in-between them to calm down the matter. Its fun to have small traction but he can't allow it to turn into the fight.

So he stopped going further and wanted to go straight to the main course.

Slam Open

"Yo I am back kitty kitty, See what I brought to cook, You going to like it."

(A/N : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 302 300. Batshit Crazy 2.0

Everyone turned around to see who dared to come in so brashly in the room just to see someone enter inside carrying many things in their hands that vision got blocked from all that stuff.

Alex raised his eyebrows as he didn't know who this newcomer was, He did not expect someone else to be intruded in here at this time.

As paranoid he is, He of course thought of the luck of the protagonist playing tricks again.

Though he was aware that luck can't do anything to him because of his Villain Aura but the luck still can affect others without any problem.

Of course not too much as his Villain aura also make sure it can't do too much along with the harem protection halo. Still seeing there is someone important like White present here, Alex was wary of this newcomer.

"Liora?! What's you doing here? I thought you went home."

Amara was first to spoke as she recognized the voice speaker, And was quick to ask her out.

Liora is a chef she appointed for Shapira to make sure that kitty eats healthy and actually eats rather than being picky about her things, refusing to eat anything that's not perfectly to her liking.

Amara when she came here didn't see Liara, So she assumed she would leave, But it seems that was not the case here.

She looked at Liora and then at Alex as gears inside her head started to move.

She realized that it's not good for Liora to be here right now, as the room is crowded as it is.

"How could I leave Amara? That moody kitty did not eat anything since afternoon. I cooked all her dishes but she did not even take a sniff of them, much less ate any.

I thought she was sick, I checked her but she was fine, So I thought she just did not like what I cooked for her, So I went out and brought C-Rank beasts meat. She would definitely going to eat this, I am sure of it."

Liora entered the room, closing the door, kicking behind her as she casually spoke to Amara as she made her ways towards the kitchen to put these groceries and prepare to cook the meat she just brought.

As for why she was so casual with the S-Rank Amara is very simple. They two were childhood friends who started as classmates in their hidden

It's just Amara was in more of a battle centric profession, While Liora loved to be in an axillary support profession like cooking, Especially for the beast as she is fascinated by such majestic creatures.

And fate have it, She not only was lucky few who was able to awaken superpower but also hers are food centric as she wanted, Just it was more focused on huwoman cooking then beast but she ignored it and put all her focus on the beast cushion.

As she has more love for her least liked beast which is slime then for her most loved huwoman, Which is her teacher.

Of course Amara is an exception to this as she is a beastmaster, Which in her eyes is considered a beast, Hence why not only Amara is her only friend but also she offered to be exclusive cook for Shapira as she too loves that kitty.

Plus her family is also in the same elite group of Winchesters, Not that strong but also strong enough, Though she refused to have any contact with her family but that didn't mean she is without any background.

So they just hit it off and spend a lot of time together. Amara was also heartbroken when Alex was not with her, So Liora became her friend also.

"Hey, Liora, It-It's not a good time."

Amara understands why Liora is here but she still wants her to leave fearing Alex might feel uncomfortable if Liora is around here to do anything further.

After all, why should he not? Liora is the cousin sister of Belladonna, A fiancée of Alex.

Yes, Even though Alex ran away from home to avoid Belladonna, They still have a marriage contract between them, So Alex should be uncomfortable.

'Yes!! Liora, I am so happy.'

Here Alex seeing the fading back of Liora couldn't be more happy.

Before he was a wary newcomer but after knowing who she was, Alex couldn't help but feel like going to Sandra and give her tons of kisses as he was sure it was ML halo of his making sure to save his ass.

Yes he was glad this cousin of Belladonna is here for a simple reason and that is her name.

Liora means light. It's not referring to any normal light but the celestial light, It can also be interpreted as the blessing of the goddess in this world.

As can be seen, Just like Belladonna, That lazy author gave her a thoughtful name and that is because she is a second favorite of the author.

Liora may not be as strong as Belladonna but she was blessed by the author and has many flavors of authors, Like she was spoiled with the blessings.

The only drawback is that, She is a cousin of Belladonna.

"Why? Shapira did not eat anything, I can't leave without co-!!!! WHO DARE TO GO INTO THE MY KITCHEN!!"

Liora entered in the kitchen and was answering Amara as she could not leave without feeding Shapira, It just could not able to do it, So even if Amara wanted her to leave, She would not, Not until Shapira is fed.

But in the mid sentence, She roared like a protagonist in their origin story over the death of their parents out of the kitchen.

"Crazy woman is back, That crazy woman is back, Please save me from her, Mr. Death!!"

Rita was silent bystander all this time and was quickly clung onto Alex with fear, Even though it was making it harder for her to move she still did it out of sheer fear.

Isabella, White were also become concerned about why this newcomer just roared like that but also unconsciously a ting of fear arose in their heart.

They couldn't understand why she suddenly became terrified by this roar, Especially Isabella was more confused by it.

She is an A-Rank elemental class warrior. How can she fear this normal cook? She tried to ignore this feeling but she just was not able to do it.

That roar rooted her in the spot like a roar of wild beast, The primal instincts of hers were triggered by it making a bead of sweat form on her forehead.

'Who is she?'

Isabella couldn't help but thought of it as this is a very abnormal thing to happen, Her body was shaking. She was literally shaking in fear at this moment.

She was seating with people and yet she felt like all alone making her anxious.

"Sigh Why is she like this?"

Amara signed helplessly when she heard the roar come out of the kitchen, She realized this would happen the moment she saw her entre in the kitchen but it was too late for to stop it.

So she just bore for the drama that was about to ensue. This Liora did not like anyone, meaning any huwoman came in contact with her things, Especially cooking ones.

Kitchen is even big no no, And in her eyes, Any kitchen she enters is her territory, And so she becomes territorial.

There is no use in arguing with that this was not her house nor her kitchen as her thoughts follow that of beasts.

Just like beasts mark their territory by pissing on it, She marks it by cooking in the place, Thankfully.

So Alex going there and cooked is big no no in her eyes and so she would be pissed of and would become erratic to defend her territory.

"Don't worry, I would calm her down."

Amara quickly stood up and was ready for a fight, That's the only way to calm her down by showing her who is Alpha in them, There is no other way.

Because if she is not womanhandled. She would definitely going to attack Alex.

'They two are related alright, Both are batshit crazy.'

Alex also said to himself, Yes, the drawback is that just like Belladonna, she too is batshit crazy.

Belladonna only related/care about the people who are resurrected as that is the only way she feels anything for them.

And this Liora is also the same , just she did not feel anything for huwومان's, not even in the slightest bit. All she cares about is beast and beasts realted things only.

She could not feel anything for huwومان's as they are, In her eyes they were just a thing, Yes not living breathing beings but just a thing and for which she is indifferent to them.

Yesh, She did not hate huwومان's because to hate them she had to care and acknowledge them in the first place.

Huwومان's to her are the things that can be used or discarded on will just like any other things.

"Amara, Who go into the my kitch-"

Enraged Liora in huff and puff came out of the kitchen as she was ready to throw hands.

She felt so disgusted as some huwومان disrupted her space.

When Amara saw her, She moved quickly and wanted to put her in place before she would go wild and destroy the place. She can't allow that to happen as it would make Alex angry.

But the moment Liora came out of the kitchen she stood rooted in the place, staring at Alex.

[Ding! + 90 Favorability of Liora...(Current: 90)]

(A/N : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 303 301. Dumb Ways To Die

'Fuck!!'

The moment the system voice rang in his mind, Alex couldn't help but to broke out in cold sweat.

He was glad Liora is here didn't means he wanted to seduce this manic right away, He has his hands full already, He did not want more trouble.

'System come out and answer me! Wasn't she supposed to feel nothing for huwoman's but only for the beasts? Then why the sudden increase in favorability?'

Alex was in panic mode, Belladonna was enough for him to put on the edge, even though she was thousands of miles away from here in the capital.

All because of her crazy nature, He knows that women is obsessed with him, Rather she is obsessed with his body, She can store it close to hers in a custom made coffin.

In Belladonna's eyes, If she likes someone, She should make sure they are kept safe close to her, And the only thing she knew how to do was to use little Necromancy, That's all.

So it is reasonable for Alex to freak out when being this close to a cousin of such woman.

That's because this Liora shows that she is indeed Belladonna's couion as both are equally crazy. It seems insanity definitely runs in their family.

But that's not the only reason Alex become this worried about her.

According to the plot in his mind, Liora did not appear till Amara lost to Nathan and was about to die.

It was then Liora came to the rescue and saved both Amara and Shapira from mortal danger.

This seems quite good right, making Liora a good gal? No wrong.

She is the villain of the plot after all, And she is not the one who is considered a villain just because she stands against the protagonist. No no no, She deserves the name villain.

Because while treating the injuries of Shapira and Amara, And she was done with treating their wounds, She flew towards the city where Nathan was hiding from her.

After all, Protagonist is Protagonist, His survival instincts told him to go hide and avoid Liora for the time being as he was not her opponent at that time.

Though Liora took almost an hour to rescue those two and brought them to the safe place before coming back, Nathan did not run away as he had a gut feeling he would not be able to run away.

So Nathan, like a cockroach hid in the bustling city wanting to avoid the edge and use other people as a meat shield to not to get attacked.

But he did not know the one key detail of Liora and that was, This woman is insane and not just metaphorically.

Because the moment Liora found out that Nathan was hiding in the city, She did not even waste time to search for him like a normal villain or at least send lackies as to send experience to the protagonist, Nope.

She go diabolical and throw fucking asteroid at the whole damn city razing it to the ground.

Nathan though barely escaped from the attack but others were not lucky.

But Liora did not bother with it as before she turned that well of the city from is to was, She checked throught her spiritual senses scanning the whether or not there were any powerful beasts and when she found out there were none, She stopped caring with rest.

Could have she able to found Nathan through just scanning like that? Maybe or maybe not because she didn't even try. In her eyes it was easy to wipe out the whole city then to find one particular ant among other million ants.

And it's not even like she is emotionless as she was this angry because Shapira got hurt by Nathan.

But her emotions only reserve for the powerful beasts, For others, She is just incapable of feeling anything.

So Alex of course was confused by the system notifications.

[Ding! Host, It's very simple actually there are many reasons why Liora had sudden increase in favorability but I will give you a few ones.

First is of course your charm, It long since crossed the limit of this world making you for beautiful then the most beautiful creation of the goddess of beauty.

With your current charm you can even bend man of steel and have a sword dual with them if you want.

The only reason, Why others are not reacting like they seeing otherworldly charm is that they are incapable of seeing your all charm as their mind isn't able to process it.

So they only see your charm to the best of their ability, It's not the limit of your charm rather the limit of their mind.

Liora of course was affected by the charm then as this charm long since broke all restrictions of her mind.

Other reason is simple, She sended Xiao's aura on you and so became attracted to you, She may also felt beastmaster physique, Not physique itself but it's overbearing beast power of it.

All this does a critical hit on Liora as these are her weaknesses but the system warns host Liora though pure huwoman act and behave like a beast purely on instinct.

(Note : Most female beasts bite the balls of their partner to force them to mate.)]

As a user-friendly system it quickly came and answered to Alex with its calm mechanical voice.

But Alex here was even more terrified, Not just because of Liora though.

He was terrified how the system explained his charm to him, sending shivers in his spine.

'System has gone bad again.'

Alex wasn't able to think that once again the system went astray and started using that heavy language.

He knows the system may be just pulling his leg but it terrified him no less as who would not be?

Still when Alex somehow came out of the shock, he read the last note, Which made him shut his legs tightly together out of instinct as he looked warily at Liora.

He too heard that horrifying tale before, But who knew it would come to hunt him.

"What a beautiful, pretty little thing."

Liora unconsciously uttered these words as she lost in the beauty of the thing in front of her.

She never seen anything remotely close to this, And so for the first time her heart give birth to the unknown emotions for someone like him.

Her first instinct was to go and take him for herself but she was not able to do it as Amara was standing in front of him like a Papa bear.

'Gulp Do I celebrate too early?'

Alex's throat become dry as she shrink back behind Amara trying to avoid the intense gaze of Liora.

When he heard it, She called him a pretty little thing, making him shiver.

Normally he can ignore it and even feel proud of it as each one expresses their likes and dislikes differently and words are just a medium for the feelings.

But in Liora's case he has to take things literally, If she calls him a pretty thing then she sees himself as one.

She is unlike Belladonna, doesn't waste time calculating trying to win over another in a physiological battle.

For her, if there is a problem, just use violence. If violence is not working then she was not using enough and so she just increased it till she won.

She is that straight forward woman, And that is what scary thing about her, Now that Alex thinks about it.

He is able to keep Belladonna in check because of her obsession to win over him in mental gymnastics, In which he at least in this world doesn't have any contender.

So he is able to win over her, But there is no way he is able to push violence loving Liora without catastrophic damages.

Yeah, He still has a way to push someone like her back, That because he still has his trump card, Xiao Bai with him.

He can anytime temporarily increase his cultivation to her realm, which is an S-Rank without any drawback.

That and then bonuses of his other skills and abilities, He is sure he can't be beaten in slightest.

But that is his last resort. If he needed to go to that extreme then he was already been lost, So he was still searching for a way to tame this loose cannon.

'Should I just go with fuck till conquer like usual or just show my might to deter her off?'

Alex started to think about it, Liora can be very useful against Belladonna, At least these two crazies should be able to stalemate.

It's just he hesitate to use his usual fuck till conquer strategy.

After all, There is a high chance that things can just go astray if he increases her favorability towards him.

There is no saying what this woman would do, She may kidnap him and take him to the jungle to live or worse make him wear furry suit to mate.

Rather be with Belladonna then to get caught in that suit.

'Maybe if I showed my Beastmaster body, She would see me as someone worthy of her feelings towards her.'

Alex thought about it, Liora treats Amara differently because she is Beastmaster, If so he revealed his Beastmaster aura, She may also see him as more than just a thing.

Release

Alex thought this is perfect and so released his beast aura targeting Liora, So she would know he is different than huwomans.

"Dumb ways to die, So many dumb ways to die."

(A/N : Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Surviving in Woman's world as a novel villain. #Chapter 304 302. StarFall - Read Surviving in Woman's world as a novel villain. Chapter 304 302. StarFall

Chapter 304 302. StarFall

"What's wrong with you? Why are you singing? Stop stirring up trouble."

Isabella who was still in shock and terror snapped at White, Who suddenly burst out singing maybe the most dumb and inconsiderate song she heard.

This song does not even rhyme but that's not the only reason this pissed her off. She was angry at the thought that some rando made her terrified in her own place, This hit her self-confidence.

And White suddenly broke out singing this song was like poking stick to the bear,

This made her realize that she was scared for her life, She as an A-Rank was scared for her life making her take the song like an personal attack on herself.

Previous antics of White also did not help her case as all emotions turned into rage and befall on the poor White, Who looked around confused.

"That- I am sorry, I just remembered that song out of nowhere and I just blurted out Madam."

White shrank her neck like a turtle and in a guilty tone apologized to Isabella.

She didn't know why she sang the song out of nowhere. It's been ages since she heard it but when she remembered it, She out of instinct just sang without thinking about it.

"Save it, Give these excuses when we go back in front of your sister."

Isabella refused to hear her out now, She got burned by this girl too many times today, There is no way she would go unpunished now.

She knew the only person who can make this stupid girl act normal is her big sister and so she decided to let Black handle it.

She can handle it but she is not risking it as she is really angry now. There is a chance she might go overboard with punishment, She is angry, not heartless.

"No no, Anything but sister Madam."

White face turned white hearing her sister's name, She was terrified of her sister and that fear is not unfounded.

Her sister, though always spoils her, has her principles and that is, If you made a mistake you get punished, there is no exception for anything or anyone.

That sounds fair but the issue is that her sister did not know how to judge crime at all, So her move is to give the maximum punishment she can to avoid others thinking she is soft.

Like one time she after drani the milk at night but forgot to put it back in the fridge leading it to spoil being put overnight in summer.

Normal punishment to that should be some scolding and at best one smack or such.

But no, Her sister went out and brought the whole ass cow, Which White had no idea where her sister found it till this day.

Then she gave punishment to milk the cow for 10 times the amount of milk she spoiled from that cow for the whole month.

So for the whole month she had to wake up early in the morning before the sunrise to milk the cow by hand after which she had to do her daily tasks.

She got kicked countless times by that cow, Thankfully that cow was a domesticated one, So once she learned the technique of how to milk a cow, she stopped getting kicked.

And hence why she knew how to properly milk a cow.

This is one of the many times her sister gave over the top punishments to her, And rightly so she is terrified of her sisters over the top punishments.

So when Isabella mention her sister's name, White nearly burst out crying and started begging Isabella.

Isabella though did not wanted drama in front of Alex kept her mouth shut but she decided to do it.

Surprisingly both of them did not notice not even once did they mention Nathan nor did they think of him even though both of them consider Nathan their special man.

'.....'

Normally Alex would have saw the such opportunity to tease and broke their defenses even further not even notice this thing at all.

At this moment he was stunned in the place with shocked look but in his eyes there was look that says he fucked up.

[Ding! +300 favorability of Liora increases the host (Current : 390 Unhealthy Obsession).]

[Ding! Congratulations to the host for successfully radining Villainess, Rewards are being distributed....]

Congratulations for getting the unique skill [StarFall]...

[StarFall] : This is a unique unranked skill, As its name explains this skill is used to make stars fall from the sky.

It needs to be mentioned that on its full power it makes Stars fall, not asteroids or comets or other stuff that are just quoted as stars because they fall from the sky.

No, This skill actually makes nuclear gas balls of heat which are stars fall on your target.

But you do not to be afraid host. This world is protected by laws and rules of heavenly order, So you doing so would not destroy the world and size of the stars, also not big as actual stelar ones.

There would be damage to the surroundings though but it's not to be worried about, At max it would be just equivalent to a dozen or so nukes going off, So not that much.

Its also make host immune to the steller related attacks amd effects.

Modes :

StarFall : It makes one big star fall from the sky targeting one or can be more in a designated area, eradicating them from the roots.

Effects :

- This skill is AoE (Area of Effect), Any being and any thing in the immediate affected would be obliterated.

(Note : Unless they have a life saving halo or an effect like an harem halo make it impossible for them to die but they still would get seriously injured. Please keep that in mind, host.)

- Absolute Annihilation : This is passive of this mode, As its name suggested it would Absolutely Annihilate the target you chose. Nothing can save them from getting direct hits and destroying them and their bodies and everything on or in it.

This absolute mode can be used only once per month, It did not need mana or spiritual energy to use but it would make the host unable to control the destructive power of its.

So before using it, Host should keep in mind to choose the place which at minimum of 10 Km radius is not occupied to lessen the damages.

(Note : If a targeted being has resurrection or reborn skills, Then they can survive but other than that this skill would annihilate them.)

Requirements:

- Hosts need to use a large amount of mana or spiritual power to use this skill, Its recommended to use 100,000 for major effect but skill still can be used on Minimum of 10 Mana.

Effects and destruction depends on the mana consumption host.

[StarShower] : This is the 2nd mode of the [StarFall] skill, When this mode uses the one giant star, multiple stars shower down on your targets with pinpoint accuracy.

The destructive factor of this mode is lower than the StarFall mode but it makes up with its range and the option of choosing your specific targets.

So this mode is recommended to be use in the city and such places as the host can avoid the collateral damages.

There is virtually no limit in this mode how many targets the host can choose but more the target more the mana consumption.

(Note : This mode only hits and damages the targeted beings, So don't worry about firing it in the crowd.)

Effects :

- This is also AoE (Area of Effect) skill but the range of it is way bigger than the StarFall.

System voice fell notifying Alex that he just raided Liora and for doing that he even received such big rewards.

But Alex did not move nor did he moved from his spot.

In his mind that song said by White was kept ringing.

Indeed there are many dumb ways to and yet he chose the dumbest ways.

Why didn't he think through like he always do before rushing it and releasing his beastmaster aura on Liora?

He know why he didn't do it, He was thinking with his lower half hence why he wanted to get over with this quickly and now he fucked up.

How so? Why do you think Liora had such a drastic 300+ jump in favorability towards him?

Right now Liora looking lustful at him like people do to the cold water bottle at 3 Am.

Alex was sure if not for Amara standing between him and her, This Liora would have jumped on him and forced him to mate.

Yeah mate not sex, If it's still not clear this woman is crazy and so do her preferences.

"Huff Huff Gulp You- Who is your mate?"

Liora who was before was just petrified looking at him finally spoke up pointing finger at Alex questioning him.

"Jake Weiner."

Alex swiftly answered her.

"....."

Chapter 305 303. Guilty conscience

"....."

The hall fell into the pin drop silence, Everyone looking at Alex with weird looks with complicated emotions on their face trying to process what he just said.

Even Amara who was unknown to the changes in her friend and was protecting Alex behind her turned around to look at him.

White here had opened her mouth so big that you could put an egg in it. Thankfully her brain did not go into the panic mode and she started bubbling stuff, Or Isabella would have lost her shit.

That said, even Isabella was uncomfortable looking at Alex. Now that she thinks about it, didn't Alex fulfill the fetish of her son eating the shoe?

Well she before thought that Alex was just retaliating, Which was justifying how her son treated him but now she had her doubts, Though she refused to admit it.

Rita here was too in shock but for different reasons, She was clutching onto Alex for protection as she was terrified of Liora.

After all, Amara left Rita alone with Liora, Of course on purpose to torture Rita, There was just one rule laid by Amara that not to kill and no visible injuries.

So this whole day was hell for Rita, Though Liora actually didn't do anything to hurt her, She might even have acted as if she did not exist at all.

But she did not allow her to enter in the kitchen and so Rita had to be hungry for the whole day as this woman refused to acknowledge her presence but also forbade her to enter in the kitchen, Where all the food was kept.

She tried many times to enter and each time she was swiftly kicked out if it was like a stray cat.

Rita was surprised how easily she able womanhandle her, and so now she is terrified of Liora as her killer instincts going off around her warning her to stay away from her.

But right now she was distracted from the fear for Liora as she put her attention on the Alex in utter shock and guilt.

Jake Weiner, The current head and Dragon Lord of the her organization, Dragon Gate.

She didn't thought Alex would know about Jake. After all, it's very recently did he took the throne of the Lord and because of the injuries he suffers, It's still kept in the dark about his information.

But Alex just uttered that name, She subconsciously felt that he took this name to inform her that he knew about her past and maybe giving her an opportunity to come clean to him.

'Maybe he is just talking about someone else, But it's better to come clean to him now then for him to find out from someone else.'

Rita shook her head and rejected the idea of Alex knowing Jake because as said before Jake's information has really been kept secret by their formal lord.

Though Gate promotes and follows the survival of the fittest law, Their formal master goes out her way to hide information about Jake and the injuries he sustained.

This dissatisfied a lot of members as it was supposed to be that everyone was for themselves even in organization, As long as they do not betray the organization or kill in clan.

They can attack other members and if they defeat them, They can take their place with the resources allocated to them.

That's why others attacked Jake to take his and enjoy his resources, It's just that he was able to beat them back.

But doing so he was very injured. How much? She didn't know that their formal master interfered and blocked all knowledge related to it.

If this was it many would have understand it and would not be dissatisfied as it's reasonable to avoid spreading news about injuries of their leader.

But then, The formal Lord pushed the boundary and forbidden anyone attacking injured Jake, And said wait till his injuries to heal to challenge him again.

This never happened before, They were allowed to attack any member in the organization even if they were injured and hence why the first attack always meant to end in failure as 2nd and 3rd attacks seal the deal.

This was the case even here, The attackers had to sacrifice so many secret treasures, tricks and get injured for life to be able to harm the S-Rank like Jake.

Yeah even though they caught Jake caught guard, He was still S-Rank and so put quite a bit of fight, But in their eyes it was worth it because now they were able to attack him and own.

But the formal master just threw cold water on their hopes and dreams by declaring that rightly others were pissed and wanted to rebel but didn't have any guts to actually go against her.

So they planned on doing it in secret, It's just the formal master already thought of that and sent Jake off somewhere else.

Only very loyal members of the Dragon gate knew about his location, And even if by chance others found it, There is fear of life for Jake as long as wearing the Dragon lord ring, He is safe.

After all rules of hierarchy are taken very seriously there, So they can challenge Jake outside and can fight the duel but Jake would have the right to command them to keep them busy, Not giving them time to regroup and attack him.

As the 2nd duel had to be properly announced and had to be notarized, Yeah her organization has many such weird rules.

Anyway, This is why Rita thinks Alex would not know about Jake because it was made sure by that woman to be secret and if she did it then there is no way Alex can know about it.

Rita tries to reason through with herself, blaming it on her guilty conscience that she starts to think Alex was talking to her.

It completely slipped through her mind that Alex already knows too much about her and so it would not be weird that he also knows about Jake, As her direct boss.

"Jake Weiner? Who is sh-he and where do I find he-er?"

Liora was the first one to break the silence and her first word was to ask him whereabouts of Jake, His so called mate.

She refused to acknowledge the gender of Jake and so ignoring that she asked about his location to beat him and win Alex for himself.

Cause that's how she know to court a man, Just go and beat the mate of the man you like and vola you have the mate of your desire.

That's how the beast does things and her being her also follows through it.

"Humm...I didn't know his current location but I think he should go to Miller house soon but I would never tell you that.

I would also never tell you that he was a formal S-Rank but got injured and currently can only use peak of B-Rank power, So it would be no trouble for you to fight.

Oh no matter how much you torture and torment me, I never let it slip that we fought in the evening and in it he had to tap into his core power damganing in thr process, So he maybe even more weaker then E or F Rank currently.

Ahem Wait!? You would be thinking you can now beat the mere F-Rank awakened right?

Wrong!! Hahaha he had "Wrath Of Lord" ancient artifact capable of releasing full force of the S-Rank attack, That to the attack from the S-Rank before the fall, Which said to be even more powerful than current ones.

One strike on the unprepared, unguarded S-Rank would be enough to put them out of commission or at least render them useless for time being to fight back."

Alex ignored Rita beside him and just answered Liora who was looking at him with the same intense lustful gaze wanting to devour him whole.

But he did not mind. Who would mind when he stared at such beauty?

Of course Liora is a big beauty, She is 2nd favorite of author after all, She is just 2nd only to Belladonna in beauty.

It's just she like to cover her beauty and appearance using her powers to appear as just above average looking ordinary woman to in her words "camouflage".

So her not too striking appearance, But even then she has her own charm, If not everyone in here not just ignored what she said and would have jumped up saying her unworthy or like, Especially his sister Amara.

"Ancient artifacts?!"

Liora, who was just ready to go out after hearing about the location of Jake, halted her step and turned around to look at him with surprise and shock.

She was taken aback hearing that Jake has an ancient artifact, Yeah that surprised her more than him being a guy.

Wait, don't be misunderstood that she is so progressive, She just didn't know what mates are supposed to do. All she knows to get a mate, What to do afterwards? She has no idad.

Yes, somehow in her whole life she didn't understand what mates do with each other even though she spends most of her time with beasts.

But then again, Other than saying since when did this world have proper logic, It can be excused by the fact that most beasts mating windows have a break of 200 to 300 years.

So it maybe be bearly excused by her being just an in her mid 20s, As she is not old enough to encounter it.

"Yes, His master is quite protective of him, So he has such things on him, It's just unfortunate that he had to use half power of that artifact to survive my attack, So it is no longer a threat to the S-Rank, Pity."

Alex answered Liora like he was an airhead just giving out such sensitive information without knowing.

But in his mind he was already cooking plan on how to hold a funeral for Jake.

"You....."

Liora just looked at Alex in shock trying to see if he was lying.

Chapter 306 304. Empty Head, Pretty Face

'He is a little slow in head but his face make up for it.'

Liora thought to herself as she looked at Alex dumbfoundedly.

After all, The way Alex reacting with her all this time was not something a mentally sane person can do.

Though she calling someone mentally handicapped like a kettle calling pot black.

Still Liora hearing the answers of Alex was willing to believe he was just anxious and not dumb but she dropped that thought when he said he forced that Jake to use an ancient artifact to protect him and yet these guys come out without a scratch.

That is an ancient artifact, Which in itself is a rare thing to have in the ages after the fall but on top that it was an attack oriented one, Which was even rare then normal as having power to release an full blown S-Rank attack was an not something to take it lightly.

So of course Liora did not believe Alex was able to force someone to use that and yet come out unscathed.

That says, Either he is lying, which seems not the case or he was so gullible that he believe whatever other party told him to, Which make him not good in head department.

"Hey, Why are you looking at me like that? Believe it or not I really did it, But ignore that, Even if Jake did not have a full power artifact he would try to trick with half used one or Maybe use other things, Like I said his master did not spare on giving him things."

Alex already knows what this Liora is thinking, It's not that hard to tell when she did not even bother to hide her emotions on her face.

Which to be honest Alex like about her, He didn't have to spend extra time in mental gymnastics to figure out what is cooking in her mind like Alia and Belladonna. She is like an open book written in the forgotten language.

Anyway, He just wanted her to be aware of Jake and find a way to discard all his protective things from him.

It did not matter if in the process of acquiring those things, Jake ends up destroying or using it as he can still get them because of the system just like how he has half part "Wrath Of Lord" in his possession.

So he was looking forward to see Liora go after Jake but he also did not want Liora to go unprepared or all out.

That is because if she goes unprepared then she might chance stupid luck of his kick in saving his ass and in the process getting something even more powerful. That's how the villain sends EXP to the protagonist.

But he also didn't want her to go all out because of fear that she would beat Jake too much that he would go in the hiding and he would lose track of him.

This is one of the worst things that can happen, A unmonitored protagonist in the world of a novel? Who knows what would happen if he let that happen.

But there is an even more scary outcome, Liora actually killing Jake. That is his nightmare.

Yes normally the protagonist is unkillable and that is also true in the world. Unless they have the effect or halo like him, There is no way to actually kill a protagonist.

But Jake is not a proper protagonist, He is just a bit put out there to pull him out.

So even if his luck is way higher than a proper protagonist like Nathan, Quality of his luck is way weaker than Nathan as it's been proven before.

Jake lost 10,000 Luck in just one encounter with him and was not able to gain it back, While Nathan just lost 1000 Luck to him and just gained back more half of the lost luck in the next moment.

That shows how tenacious Nathan's luck is as compared to Jake, So there is a huge possibility that if Liora actually fought with Jake, She would be more likely to succeed in killing him.

Which is his nightmare, Because if Jake died then there is no saying he can get that legendary cultivation technique off his back or any other opportunities the world has saved for Jake.

But there is also more of a possibility that a new protagonist pops up, Which he is concerned about as there is no saying what caliber the new protagonist would be.

So he needs to keep Jake alive as long as he drains him of his every worth then he can give a peaceful sleep to his good brother-in-law.

"...Can you tell me the approximate direction of the Miller family manner?"

Liora just looked at Alex as if she was looking at a crazy person.

How could she not? She is already having a hard time believing him that Jake has an ancient artifact, That too of the offensive category.

That in itself was a rare occurrence but now this extraordinarily handsome man is saying that Jake has more than one such thing? She could not believe that at all.

So she just asked about the Miller family manners location, Before she had hesitation hearing Jake having an artifact but now she thinks Alex was just tricked by that Jake.

Now that there is no artifact then there is also no need to be wary of him and so she can destroy her contender to prove her might to Alex to win him over as that's the only way she knows how to woo a man.

"Oh Miller they ar-"

"May I ask why?"

White who was not understanding what was happening, jumped to help Liora when she asked the question as her sister taught her to always help someone in need.

But Alex was swift in his action and quickly cut White off mid sentence asking Liora why she wanted to know that as he had bad feelings in his heart.

"Oh simple, You said that Jake might be going to the Miller family? Meaning he may be on his way over there.

And if that is the case then wouldn't it would be easy to just destroy that whole direction of Miller manor altogether? It would save a lot of time."

Liora just looked innocently at Alex and just uttered her answer.

(A/N : This is the 1st chapter, 15 more to go ☐

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 307 305. Self Rading

"Hahahahah, Nice one, I heard big boosting before but you lady, You take the cake home."

White hearing the answer of Liora burst out laughing, banging her hand on the dining table while the other hand was holding her abdomen as she was laughing hysterically.

She was so lost in her thoughts that she didn't notice that others were not laughing rather they had grim faces.

Isabella was on verge of dragging this girl out taking her straight to her big sister to let her handle this trouble maker.

She is here sweating buckets by the statement of this girl as this finally confirmed to her this girl has to be an S-Rank.

As only they have the power to wipe out the city with one move, Meaning she now has to compete with not one but 2 S-Rank for Alex's affection.

'I can't allow myself to be overlooked like this, I have to grow stronger.'

Isabella clenched her fist as the new flame of determine ignited in her heart to increase her cultivation base and push her limits.

'Why do I even invite this source here in the first place.'

Amara, standing in between Liora and Alex, was regretting inviting Liora here.

She knew how Liora is but she was so lost in her dreams of being with Alex did not consider that Liora may take a fancy of her brother and try to court him.

But in her defense, Liora never show any interest in the huwoman man before, She never considered them worthy of her attention.

It's just she blamed herself that she should have taken into consideration that how she can juge her brother with the normal standards.

This is what she gets for underestimating her brother's charm, Like One Belladonna was not already enough of trouble now this cousin of hers also became a contender for her brother's love.

'Hum, That's my brother, He with just one meeting bended the unbendable Liora.'

Then Amara couldn't help but to be proud of Alex as its clear from the action of Liora she fell for her brother hard.

The legendary Liora, A dream woman of the all bachelor's in the capital, was acting like this in front of her brother.

This way Alex took down not only the most seeked after woman Belladonna from the capital but 2nd beauty Liora and with her being 3rd ranked there, Her now has all top three from the capital.

This could not help but make Amara's heart swell with pride, completely forgetting Liora was about to destroy half of the city right now.

Here beside Alex Rita clenching onto his shirt as panic written all over her face but not because of the threat of Liora rather she was panicked as she understood the Jake in Alex's mouth is the same Jake as in her Dragon Lord.

She also runs her brain and comes to the conclusion that this is the Alex's way to make her confess to him about everything.

'He knows all of this yet he gives me a chance to explain, How can any man be this understandable and forgiving?'

Rita thought to herself as all the thoughts started to run in her mind.

The fear she has for Liora has also been suppressed by her anxiety of Alex being angry at her if she hides it even further.

Though in her eyes there is no need for her to tell him anything as it looks like he already knows about more than herself but she considers this as a test for her.

He didn't need her to tell him what she knows, He wants her to express that to him, To tell him her secrets to empty her hearts out.

'He is doing this all for me. He wants me to trust him, So he can help me. I couldn't believe a man like him still exists in this accursed world.'

Rita looked down contemplating all the reasons and then came to the conclusion that is most reasonable to her.

She somehow come to the conclusion that Alex wants her to express her story to him, Even though he knows more about her then she herself.

That is because doing so meaning she finally let down all her guard against him, Which she didn't have any but she still hesitated about telling him her story worrying about what would he think of her.

But now that she knows he even knows about Jake's such a hidden secrets, Then there is no way he didn't know about her past and even then he did not throw her out means he was not repulsed by him.

It was the first time in her life she felt like this. She has this confidence that she can tell him anything about her and she would not be judged.

Oh how desperate she was for the support but closed herself off in fear of others rejecting her.

In her eyes, If she did not get close then she would not be burned by the pain of rejection.

But now she found the one to do that and so she was grateful for him.

[Ding! +20 Favorability of Rita increased towards the host, (Current :)]

System voice suddenly rang in the Alex's mind , taking him back.

'Wait just happen?'

Alex asked himself in surprise as his frustrated gaze quickly shifted from Liora to Rita in shock.

He didn't know what happened to this little assassin but this sudden jump was not normal.

His eyes gazing her fit figure searching for the answer for such a phenomenon.

Rita felt her face burn as she was stared at by Alex. Her heart was racing, her temperature was increasing as her head started to imagine not to child friendly images.

Well they were technically child friendly, So in fact that it brought a new one in the world.

Yes, She knows about it, She is after all an assassin, It's come with her job essentials.

'Did she self raided herself?'

Alex seeing her current state can only think of that reason why she jumps in the favorability.

Her being a female supporting role means it is an easy thing to do but it is still hard as it does not align with her personality.

"Hey, Now that you know, can you answer me?"

Alex wanted to seek an answer for the notification but Liora's words poured cold water over those plans as he saw Liora was pointing in a random direction as she was becoming impatient.

(A/N : 2nd one ☐)

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 308 306. Like An Cat

"Woh woh, Can you chill out? I do not want two S-Ranks going against each other in this city, So sit tight like a good girl."

When Alex saw the crazed look in the eyes of Liora he had to step up and quickly stop her.

He is sure if he did not stop this maniac, She would not hesitate to throw the asteroid on this city intending to wipe out the whole part of the city where Miller family exist.

How can she do that? Wasn't she was just supposed to have a superpower related to cooling?

Well yeah, There are many reasons why she is so broken but 1st one being that she was especially taken care of by the creator of this world, Aka that lazy author.

Of course she also have her own benefits of being the female villain, And there is also her personality like a beast, She did not share huwoman sentiments.

In her eyes there is nothing wrong with wiping out the 1/3 of the city along with its innocent habitance.

It is the same way of thinking of a huwoman when they destroy the ants colony. We do not feel any pity or regret other than frustration of dealing with the ants.

Because for huwoman's their comfort is above the lives of hundreds nay thousands of ants, Which is not wrong in the context of the survival of the fittest.

By nature some lives have more right to live over others, That's how this world is and it is also not unfair.

Because the current benefits are the results of the hard work and sacrifice of the ancestors of the benefactors.

After all, Someone as to pay the price or one has already done so.

So Alex did not hold on to the that part but it's one thing to know and understand the philosophy and it's completely different things to actually try to put it into action.

Remember most dictators and war monger's thoughts and reasoning behind their actions seem reasonable and logical on paper, The real horror starts when someone actually implements it.

Of course, Alex is not hypocrite if it was beneficial to him, Then he might even attend to the idea of wiping out that part of the city.

Rather it would be easier than to decide whether to sacrifice one individual as by huwoman nature he may relate to him, Which may make it hard for him.

But once number become big enough, Its stopped being lives but just be numbers, That is a reason behind why death of 1 is tragedy, but of the millions is statistics.

And if this quote sounds reasonable then congratulations, the point is proven as this too said by the actual dictator.

Anyway, Point is that Alex is mainly not worried about the lives of those other people but he was worried about what would happen after Liora takes a shot.

Not to mention Nobles would be on her ass afterwards and so by connection on his too but there is also an immediate threat.

And that is Helen is also in the direction of the Miller manor as both City 1st hospital and Manor is in the same part of the city.

Meaning the moment Liora launches an attack, So would Helen counter attack it sensing the danger.

He knows if these two fought there is high chance that Liora would win, Yeah an high chance and not definite win is because he Netori Halo passive also increase the base of the woman's along with their beauty.

If it was initial Helan then there was no doubt Liora would have wiped the floor with Helen but that's not the issue.

The issue is, If these two monsters go against each other then just like how when two elements fight the loser always be the wilderness around them.

These two would wipe out the city no doubt of it or come close to it as luck would move to protect the protagonist pulling even more new variables in the story.

So Liora has to stay, And if she does not behave it then he has to forcefully feed her the food he cooked. That would definitely knock her out cold or at least it would distract her from attack mode.

"Okay."

Liora hearing Alex said just accepted and sat beside terrified Isabella.

Then she looked at him with hope as if asking for a reward from him for behaving.

'Is she a cat- Oh get it, My Beastmaster physique came to rescue.'

Alex got stunned seeing such a powerful woman suddenly acting like this, His first thought of foul play thinking she was cooking something in her mind.

But then he realizes it is unlike Liora, If she wants something, she would just going to take it. Anything other than a direct approach is considered a waste of time in her eyes.

So it has to be something else, Then it clicked to him as he sensed that his beastmaster body was still active and was still putting pressure on Liora.

It's seems Liora not just by personality, is like a Beast but there has to be some hidden origin related to the beast.

Maybe he is demi-huwoman or something similar to that as Liora obeyed his words like a command not the request.

And if it seems she liked it making Alex doubt something but he yet couldn't say it for sure as he needs evidence and proof to confirm it.

"There there, You are a good girl."

Of course Alex would not be stingy to praise a good behaving woman. As long as they do not make trouble for him, He is willing to keep them happy to keep that way.

He walked briskly towards Liora, Amara being just beside him prepared for any sudden actions of Liora on her dear brother.

When he reached her, He put hand on her head rubbing her soft silky blackish hair.

She too enjoyed it, closing her eyes lost in comfort.

"That looks comforting, Can you also do me? Please?"

Chapter 309 307. Pretty Face, Empty Head

White looking at the comfortable look on the face of Liora and couldn't help but utter the words asking him to do the same to her.

She did not even notice the grim look of her Madam Gayler nor did she taken into consideration what Liora was just talking about.

All she knew was she too wanted to feel that way and so asked him out in a hopeful voice looking forward to experiencing that feeling Liora was experiencing in front of her.

'This girl definitely has a deathwish.'

'How this girl even survived all this time?'

'Maybe I should have finished the job.'

'She is perfect, Pretty face, empty head, Someone like her good to pleasure my dear brother.'

Every woman in the room turned their head towards White looking at her with a mixture of emotions as they couldn't help but to wonder in their mind.

Isabella couldn't help but to think this White is suicidal to disturb this monster seating beside her.

At this moment she had forgotten or ignored her dissatisfaction towards White, Right not she was only hoping nay praying that this girl shut her mouth for once.

She was sitting right beside Liora. If this woman was pissed off because of White, First one to bear the brunt of her warth would be her. She did not want it to end like this. She wanted to live with him for as long as she could.

Alex also was stunned hearing this, He felt the surge of anger rising of Liora when White disturbed her me time.

Thankfully he was using the ecstasy hands passive on minimum level keeping her in check.

But this action of hers couldn't help but make Alex wonder how she survived in this world at all.

She did not have the dual type of IQ modes like Rebecca and Rose, Which make sure they can survive in this world filled with eager to perform face slapping protagonists.

Nor was she strong enough to ignore the rules and regulations like Liora or Belladonna giving them the opportunity to act like whatever they wanted.

This is really a wonder of how she survived in the first place, Maybe her luck is also like Rose too have a broken come to her rescue when she fuck up.

Rita who was still clenching close to Rita, Who was being ignored by both Amara and Liora till now couldn't help but to regret on why she didn't just finish the job when she had a chance.

This White just poking an hornet nest for no reason whatever making her anxious every time she open her mouth.

It's okay if she wants to kill herself like that, why is she pulling them in it? She wants to live now and even if she didn't she did not want to die because some dumbass decided to open her mouth.

Amara here has the contrary to everyone's different reaction.

She was couldn't be more happy seeing White react like this, Her purple eyes hovering on the figure of White couldn't help but think she is a perfect and safe option for her brother.

After all, This is woman is empty in the upper department of her head but has quite a good figure and face.

Though not the perfect for her brother's companion but by that logic there is no woman who is worthy for her brother.

There is no woman who can be worthy of her brother as no one can compete with him.

He is ahead in the talent department as she never met anyone even a fraction of the talent her brother has.

Say about his superpower, say his physique, say his skill, say his abilities and his talent, He is above and beyond.

She's the one in the millennium genius could not even hold the candle to the her little brother.

If not for the fear that she would be target by others, She wanted to go out and announce it to the whole world about the mightiness of her brother.

But he is so good that it can't even be revealed to the world or there would be chaos ensue.

That is how great her brother is. She is not even going to talk about his looks, As that would be too unfair for others.

As for his background, There is least 4 S-Rank behind him for the support, That put him way above the people in the world.

Who else can say they have 4 S-Rank behind them?

And what is scary thing is that those 4 S-Ranks are the least number, There are more behind him.

So there is no way she is able to find any woman worthy for her brother and she has stats to prove her thesis.

Hence why she thinks White is best fir her brother as this wipes out her fear. What is she afraid of?

Of course she was afraid of some woman coming in and taking her brother from him, Its okay if they wanted to please each other.

She understands her brother has his own physical needs and quite big of them she may add.

But she fears that some others will come in say what they have is weird and force him to break contact and their relationship.

And she is terrified of that thought that he might do it. Nothing wavers her heart but this thought of abandoning her makes her uneasy that even her S-Rank will fail to suppress the fear.

But if there is a woman like White around Alex then there is no threat. She can take care of thousands of such women alone.

And if more like women around him the less the chances of some smartass swiping in taking him away from her.

That, in her eyes, is the perfect plan.

"Who the fuck are you and when you come here?"

Liora unlike others did not bother to speak in her mind but outright questioned White containing her anger.

(A/N : This is 4th one ☐

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day 😊.)

Chapter 310 308. Kitty In The Trouble?

"I was here from the beginning, I was here even before you came barging in."

White unknown to the threat right in front of her, did not hesitate a bit and answered Liora with a straight face.

She even has a tone of superiority as in her eyes there is nothing wrong in what she did, She just answered the question which was being asked to her.

"..."

Liora was speechless when she heard the words of White. This may be the first time this has happened to her in her whole life.

Normally others could not fathom what she says and means, And now she was receiving end of this treatment. She felt little sympathy for those who had to suffer from her behavior.

Of course the thought of attacking White did cross her mind cause that's what the beast do, They show their dissatisfaction through the physical actions but she drops the idea for some reason.

Maybe she didn't wanted to appear as a violent woman but again that would be against her nature as being violent and showing off her strength is the way she knows how to woo and impress her mate.

"Well she was here before you, So she was not lying."

Amara who wanted a partner like her for Alex came to the rescue of White and firmly answered to Liora.

And she also thinks what White said logically is right, White does come here first and saying that as a fact would not be wrong.

Of course it was her in the place of Liora right now, She would have looked at Alex for the come back argument as in their relationship. She is muscular and he is brain or at least that was their dynamic in childhood.

".....Where is Shapira?"

Liora didn't know what to say, She had thought of going wild to remind everyone who is queen of this land but she dropped the idea.

There is Amara here, Each fight with this girl by default becomes 2 vs 1 as Shapira also joins.

This made her embarrassed which may be the first time for her to feel this way as she tried to change the subject.

And she also didn't want to create an impression on this breathtakingly handsome boy.

Which was unlike her but that can be reasoned by her having high as 390 favorability towards Alex making her act unlike herself.

So if violence is not an option then she doesn't know what else to do and say.

This made her embarrassed which may be the first time for her to feel this way as she tried to change the subject.

Anyway, that little kitty is the reason she even came here in the first place. Though she was distracted by the scenery, She never forgot her main purpose of coming here.

She wanted to ask Shpaira what she wanted to eat, So she could go quickly and cook it for her.

"I don't know where she went, I can't sense her anymore."

Amara, hearing Liora talk about Shapira, answered as she knew Liora would not be going to push the issue anymore.

After all, she has known this girl since their teenage years. If Liora did not like something she would shy away from expressing her dissatisfaction through sheer might.

That is the reason they became friends in the first place because she is too similar to Liora.

If Liora change the subject other than pursuing the issue meaning she gave up on it, And would not pursue forward anymore.

But that makes her bearable doof.

"What?! You lost Shapira?!!!! How could that even happen? Were you not careful enough"

Liora suddenly got up from her chair and strode towards Amara, Then she grabbed her two arms from the side with her two hands as she questioned Amara shaking her back and forth.

She could not believe it at all, Amara, The title holder of Prodigy in millenia, The best Beastmaster there lost her contacted beast.

Not only did she lose it but she was not even able to sense it. That is impossible to do with a contact beast as they are not simple pets.

Each contact is not like normal contact words on the paper but its more like an soul oath bounding both beast and their masters in the bound known as contract.

So they two are directly connected by the souls, There is no way they could not be able to sense each other's location.

They two alway know the location like huwومان's know the position of their limbs without even needing to confirm it cause that's the part of the body.

Same for the beast and their masters, They both are like extensions of each other.

There are only two reasons one may not be able to sense each other.

First is the obvious one and that is the death of one party.

After all, Just like how huwومان's could not able to feel once their limbs are cut off, Same with contract party not able to feel one another as contract party is cut off.

Though there is the phantom connection thing just like the phantom limb but it's rare occurrence.

Of course Liora did not wanted this to be the case as this means something happened to that willful Kitty.

Seeing the face of Amara thankfully it's also seems this is not the reason as she would not be this calm as well.

Because if anything happen to the contacted beast, Beastmaster get backlash from it no matter how strong the master is they still suffer from the backlash as souls get harmed from it.

But the 2nd reason even makes her wary to admit it, Cause if something does not happen to Shapira then the only other reason why Amara can't feel her is because that Kitty may have fallen into the spatial rift.

Those are terror of the natural force of space, extremely powerful with unknown origins.

"Amara please tell me that Kitty has not fallen into the final doom?"

Liora with anxiety in her voice questioned Amara hesantly.

Chapter 311 309. Final Doom And Greed

Liora with anxiety and fear looking at Amara waiting for her to deny it and say that she was just messing around.

Cause if Shapira really has fallen into the Final Doom then it's hard to say whether or not she is able to rescue that Kitty.

Yes even for her it's not guaranteed whether or not she is able to save her, Heck she was not even sure to protect herself if she really went to rescue that Kitty.

After all, Those rifts are known as Final Doom for a reason, As there is till to this day no exception, Anyone who comes into contact with it would not survive, No one not even a mighty S-Rank is no exception.

The only reason they are not a major threat are that they rarely occur and all those times they do they mostly do in the some run down ruins of ancient temples or such places away from civilizations.

And the fact that they did not actively harm it's surroundings, Only place that remotely get affected was a right over the place they appear as.

They being just a few feet tall and just a few centimeters wide, like a slit or crack in the space make it not that big of damage toom.

They also just dissipate in just a day or half, Leaving behind quite a precious treasure of space stones.

Using those space stones, those lunatics create quite exciting things, And if the rift was big and strong enough they leave behind high quality and even more pure space stones.

And if those stones are handled in care by a grade 9 carfwoman, It can turn into the space ring, widely known as with their common name of a storage ring.

If so everything is fine with the spatial rifts and even is quite beneficial for having them around then why are they called Final Doom?

Simple, That because any awakened being be it beast or huwoman, If they go in its range they would be sucked into it regardless of their power level.

The pulling force is so strong that no awakened being is known to escape from being sucked into the rift.

The moment they stepped into the range of the rift they sealed their fate, That is point of no return.

Hence why it's called Final Doom, No one knows what happens to the beings who get sucked into it and no one is brave enough to try to find out.

But then again wouldn't it be all solved if no awakened being go near the rift? Then why is it such a terrifying existence?

It is quite a funny answer, Greed, Huwoman greed.

Those awakened are greedy for the space stones that are left behind after the rift dissipates, The only issue is that Space stones degrade in value each second after the rift is gone.

If left that way even the high quality stone suitable for the storage ring lose its qualification and quality in less than 5 second being left out.

And if left for around 5 more minutes, Its go from being the priceless space stone to just stone.

The only way to stop that from happening is to put those stones in the special container made to prevent that from happening.

The sooner they put those in it the more fortune they can get selling those stones, Which they need to buy more resources.

So there are many who calculate wrongly and step into the range of rift and get sucked in adding into the kill count of the rift.

Hence why Liroa is worried about Shapira, No one can survive the rift, and that is the 2nd reason why would Amara would not be able to feel Shapira.

After all the reason people figure out no one survive falling into the space rift is cause one beastmaster lost her beast in the rift and instantly connection between them got cut.

Of course others consider the death of that beast but Liora did not and would not admit that Shapira met that end hence her struggle.

"I can answer you, If you only just stop shaking me, My head is getting dizzy."

Amara didn't know what Liora was going on about. She knows this girl snapped because of weird things but say she can't talk about it. She too gets triggered by anything harmful to her brother.

But this even for Liora was an odd thing to do, and her shaking her like this back and forth making her dizzy.

"Okay I'll stop, Now speak."

Liora did stopped and then asked hurriedly to Amara whereabouts of Shapira.

She is really getting anxious, Yeah that Kitty make her life living hell making her cook all day long to eat.

But which Kitty didn't? Didn't this relationship normal cat and their huwoman share? She is doing the same.

And she also loves that fluff ball, If something really happens to her then she would make sure the whole city would be buried with her.

"Relax, Don't need to panic, It's true i could not able to sense her but there is no need to worry, My brother just sent her somewhere using his spatial skill, Maybe in some pocket dimension or something."

Amara finally being let go of from the clutches of Liora took a moment to gather herself.

This Liora did not hold back when shaking her. If she was a normal person all her internal organs would have been mixed together like a milkshake.

So after recovering from the massage, She gathered her thoughts and after understanding what Liora wanted to know she just answered.

Yes the moment Shapira entered in the portal Alex created, She lost her connection with her but she did not panic like she would have of it was anyone other than Alex.

She just has an blind trust in him and so in a chill manner informed Liora.

"Your brother...As in the fiancé of my cousin?"

Liora who was in panic and anxious rooted in the spot looking at Amara in utmost horror while questioning her in a fearful tone.

Chapter 312: 310. Terror Of Belladonna

Amara did not know what's wrong with her friend today but knowing her past antics it was not that weird, So she was just going with the flow wanting to answer her.

She though taken aback by how shocked Liora became but she ignored it as Alex leaving indeed created big turmoil in the capital, Hearing this name would bring out those shocked emotions.

Especially Liora being a cousin of Belladonna was the party directly related to the issue, So it can be scratched off as she did not expect Alex to be here.

But for Amara it was good that this topic came out. Now she can make an official statement and declare that the marriage contract between Winchesters and Belladonna is invalid now. Liora being cousin of Belladonna means saying to her this would be valid pr at least get the ball rolling before they can make an public announcement.

"Well technically yeah but their relationship is only on the paper, The marriage contract would be going to get discar-"

"Shhhh!!~ Are you crazy? Why are you saying this thing aloud? What if she hears us?"

So Amara opened her mouth and started speaking, trying to be as soft as she can while still making her stand clear.

But the moment she reached the topic of discarding the marriage contract between Belladonna and Alex, Liora quickly reached putting her surprisingly soft palm on Amara's mouth, preventing her from speaking further.

Amara's eyes become wide in shock as she can clearly see the deep rooted fear in the eyes of this beast of a woman.

This may be the first time she saw the horrified look in her eyes like she was terrified of something so big that it has left a shadow in her heart.

This shook Amara's heart. She did not understand how and why the powerful is so terrified but she knows one thing that anything that may terrified her is not something to be trifled with in any circumstance.

Because she is just barely stronger than Liora or at least that's what Liora try to portray in their fights.

But Amara is aware that if Liora holds back in their duels, Her actual force would be more than what she is leading on.

Of course, she too hold back herself, So at best they two would be equally powerful but that's more reason to be wary of entity in the mouth of Liora.

"Okay okay, That's enough chit chat, It's already been too long, Why don't we continue the discussion while eating?"

Alex, seeing Liora in panic, decided to stop the conversation going further to avoid the trouble.

Though he too was disappointed a little, He thought Liora may be equal to or at least just barely below Belladonna.

But he was dead wrong, The terror shown by Liora means Belladonna is way more and stronger threat then he previously thought about it.

He knows that this Liora would not even bait an eye to raze the city to the ground. What about nobles or other S-Ranks? She is not afraid of no one.

And yet even the mention of Belladonna made her lose her shit, She went from uncaring of anything to paranoid queen, Even afraid to utter the words fearing to offend someone.

So he had to step in and prevent Liora from finding out he is Alex. If she found out about it he could not predict how would she would react.

He was afraid the Rose situation would repeat, Fear would dominate over lust and love. Though the situation is different as Liora has 390 favorability towards him and Rose at that time did not even crossed the 100 but there is still a chance from that happening.

He really didn't want to give up the FL giving opportunity like this, He needed all buffs and skills to fight against the protagonist and save his ass from these crazy womens.

"Okay, Wait a few minutes, I will cook something quick right away."

Liora snapped out of her trance as heard the words of Alex.

Then panic ensued in her heart as she realized how cowardly did she sounded and acted right now.

How can she behave like this in front of him? He is going to think lowly of her now.

Which man wants his woman to be weak? They only go after strong ones and can ditch their current one for younger and stronger ones in a heartbeat.

She saw this happening many times in her stay in jungles. One beast came and beat the mate of male they took fancy of and then male mate went with the winner.

Of course it's just her observation, she is only interested in a beast like a collection with their collection or a poet with their scenery.

Its solely based on the passion of knowing more about such fascinating creatures. That's it, Her sexual orientation is weirdly normal.

How so? Well she is into the male having characteristics of the beast, Or may or may not have fetish to make her mate wear the beast costume.

But hey that may just make her hardly into furry that to beary but she is guaranteed not into beastality because apparently there is a difference between them and had to make it clear.

The only reason she did get a mate is that she did not find anyone worthy enough to catch her eyes.

"No need, I already cooked, And table has already been made. Just sit down and relax."

Alex stopped Liora who once again wanted to enter into the kitchen to cook.

It's already been delayed quite a while. He didn't want to stretch it even more. After all, even if food kept in the inventory do still is as fresh as when he kept him there but time is not waiting for them and hence he wanted to move forward with his plan.

"You already cooked?"

Liora stopped and asked Alex in surprise, not understanding how to react to it.

(A/N: 7th one 9 more to go

Chapter 313: 311. Dumbfounded Alex

Liora stopped and looked at Alex with complicated emotions in her eyes.

She in all her adult life cooked food for herself and for the Shapira and other beasts which were in her care at that time.

Never even once in her adult life did someone cooked anything for her. She had to hunt and then cook what she wanted to eat.

And she liked it this way. Doing this way she has the control over what she eats, what stuff are in it, she can also be sure no one tampered with her food and many more things.

So when Alex just asked her to sit down on the table her heart had a mixed reaction.

On one hand she really wanted to sit down and just eat what he cooked, Even if it did not taste good she was ready to eat it.

But on the other hand there was resistance in her heart as bringing food is a woman's duty. How can she make him do it?

It's not that she's being sexist or something. This is the rule in the beast kingdom here, the female's job is to hunt and bring the food to the table.

While male just had to partner with his mate, She didn't know why those beasts formed a bond with each other but she did not question it and just followed it like a law.

Of course she didn't know because she didn't know what sexual relationship means and how important it is to have the partner for to pass down their genes and have an offspring.

Still even in ignorance she was hesitant to change the rules she followed all her life. "Why are you standing there? Quickly sat on the table, Everyone should be hungry, I also needed to check the stuff delivered here to see if they sent everything or not."

Alex with his gentle tone told pretty much ordered her to sit down on the table but because of his tone it sounded more like a request.

He even added the other context in the sentence to distract her from finding out what he did.

After all, No matter how high her favorability is towards him, she becomes of her nature would feel resistance to listen to anything from him.

So he has to train her. If not she would be another troublemaker he has to keep in mind before he has to make any decision.

He already has too much on his plate, Figuratively and quite literally.

Forget about the protagonist, His more than half of energy is spent on making sure there is peace in the harem.

He did not want to start an asura field in it, not when he had such powerhouses in his harem. So training is must. Even if he may not able to prevent the small fractions here and there, He can at least make sure these heavy hitters would not join in the fun.

"Huh... You mean the boxes that come in the evening?"

Alex wanted to just go sit down and brought the food out of the inventory letting them enjoy the delicacy he made for them.

He is also looking forward to seeing their reaction. After all, it is the first time he actually used his cooking skill to this extent, Even he didn't know what would happen next.

But then he saw Liora did not move from her position at all, Making Alex raise his eyebrow thinking of whether he should be more strict or not.

He wanted to command again with more firm tone but saw she was not unwilling to listen to him and was comforting him over the authority, Which is understood given her nature.

Rather right now she was looking down at the ground fearful to meet with his eyes like a child who knows she made a mistake and now trying to avoid the punishment.

This made Alex confused, thinking what could make her do this? He could not think of any other reason why this girl is guilty of it.

But then he heard the voice come from beside him, He looked at his body and saw that Rita spoke to him with a low and also guilty ridden tone with hesitation.

This made him more confused on what's happening with these two, Not only Liora but even Rita was acting weird more than usual, Which only means trouble for him.

Thankfully they did not let him dwell on the issue regarding this, Rita fearfully asked him a question giving hint to Alex what these two may have done and was guilty of.

"What did you two do?"

Alex with a heavy heart asked them, He has a bad feeling in his heart.

He is not worried about his tech being destroyed, Though his heart would bleed if that's the case even if he was not the one to pay for that stuff.

As he emotionally attached to those piece of plastic and metals, It would physically going to hurt if they destroyed hardware and games that he brought with Liza's generous money he extorted out of her.

But he is more worried about the reason why they think of doing anything to his deliveries.

He could not fathom they have any logical reason behind doing whatever they did, of which he is damn sure of it.

"I...I didn't do anything, It's all on this crazy woman."

Rita, though having a guilty face, quickly jumps up shaking her head left and right rapidly denying any involvement in what happened with his deliveries, of which fate is still unknown. "Hey hey, That's a lie, Stop lying, You said people send bombs in the package like those, Many people fall for it and die by opening unknown packages."

Liora, hearing Rita was putting all the blame on her, was quick to counter argue trying to shift blame back onto the Rita, It was all fault if this woman, Who said that thing to her.

"What?!....Well I said it but that's true, The reason you did that was you needed space to put all the stuff you brought and those packages were just in the way."

Rita also counters with telling on Liora, While Alex just stand there dumbfoundedly hearing about their antics.

Sigh What I get myself into.'

Chapter 314: 312. Unknow Sensation

"Forget who did what and Why, Just tell me what you did with those and keep it destroyed. Did you do it with keeping the safety of others in mind?"

Alex spoke to two of them in a defeated tone, From their panic he knew more than likely they destroyed it for whatever reason they thought was valid.

He really didn't want to get into that reason, Anyway he can always go buy it back, He has more than 13 Billion UC just lying in his account.

And even if he did not want to spend his own money, There are many woman's around him of which he can eat their soft rice. He did not need to worry about anything.

If not, Just ask Isabella to buy it for him. After all he did help her get billions from Dick in profits, She can buy it for him.

But the issue now is not that they destroyed that stuff converting into the e-waste but also if they did not disposed right, They going to harm others by it.

And if they did it on the campus, He has to deal with Miss B of his as she would definitely do everything in her power to get him punished for it.

Which to be honest she is in right as he does escape a lot of punishment just because he was Alia's boyfriend of Alia creating havoc in the class but he did not want to be punished for the crime he did not commit.

"I didn't know what happened to that stuff, This crazy woman took it away."

Rita answered Alex with slight guilt but also in a firm tone as this time she did not hide anything and said the full truth.

Now that she thinks about it, she did not even say to Liora that people send dangerous stuff in the packages at all.

She was thinking about it as an assassin that's her first thought, In which case she may have mumbled her thoughts out which Liora heard and decided to take action.

Liora just strode towards the packages and then just lifted them throwing it all into her pocket space.

When she saw Liora opening the pocket space, She stopped in her tracks and do not dare to stop Liora from taking away that stuff as it was quite obvious Liora was an S-Rank.

Normally it had been a big deal for her as S-Rank is not chinese cabbage that they see everyday.

She before meeting Alex, Only saw this up close and that was her formal head of dragon gate, Even Jake the current head of the gate she did not see it this close.

But then she met Alex and came to know that Amara, his sister, is also an S-Rank and not just any normal one but the youngest one, on top of that she is a beastmaster.

So when in the morning Amara introduce her to Liora saying she is her friend and all, It was not hard for Rita to accept this girl was also an S-Rank.

And hence why she did not have guts to stop S-Rank not after sensing the dangerous sense of aura surrounding her.

Now she feels guilty about why she did not stop Liora at that time. Now Alex is angry at her, And may throw her out of his house.

"Ok what you did with it, Liora?"

Alex did not get angry at Rita. He knows how unreasonable this woman can be, If Liora was involved, The 9 out of 10 time it was her brain behind the action.

"Wait?! How do you know my name?"

Liora who was looking down perked her ears when she heard him calling out her name. She quickly went back to her actual excited self as she quickly asked Alex with an ecstatic voice.

She never knew she would be this filled with excitement just hearing a man say out loud her name.

Her heart was galloping, Her breathing quickened as she was not able to understand why she feeling this intense rush all of sudden, Why her stomach felt tingle making her feel fluttered.

It was an unknown sensation to her making her senses go haywire but surprisingly she did not hate this feeling at all, Rather she was started to get addicted to it.

She did not question nor did she stop to question who Alex is and why he is in Amara's house or say why Amara is this college dormitory at all.

Either she did not even thought about or she on purpose avoided this question fearing what may answer would be.

Anyway she did not care about this and that, All she knew is that Alex is here and he called her using her name.

"Didn't Amara say your name is Liora? That's how I know, Anyway answer the question."

Alex was scared by her sudden change in behavior as he took one step back putting some distance between them.

He really didn't know why there was this sudden reaction in her by just one word from him.

But then he scratched it off as 390 favorability is not a simple thing, And can have other effects on the individuals making them do and act differently then they normally do.

So he still sticks to his question avoiding any other might be triggers to provoke her even further.

He really didn't want to set this nuke off, At least not until he made sure he could choose the target to set her loose on.

"Oh that...that...I-I...Mumble kept it."

Excited Liora snapped out of her ecstatic state when Alex asked her question again, breaking her fantasy.

Then she realize it as what he wanted to know and so she realized what she actually did, making her super guilty as she did not throw away that stuff but just kept it for herself.

Don't get it wrong she did not feel guilty that she took the stuff but she felt guilty about the stuff she took of this breathtakingly handsome man.

"You took it? Why?"

Alex asked her in curiosity as before he did not know the reason but now she is curious.

(A/N: 9th chapter 7 more to go

Chapter 315: 313. Broke Liora?

Liora looking down in guilt, sliding her foot back and forth on the carpet ashamed by what she did to him.

But not willing to admit why she did what she did as it was a more shameful reason behind her action then to actually take that stuff away.

Of course she knew there was nothing harmful in those packages as she can literally sense, feel and see inside them.

And even if there was anything she would have not cared enough to "dispose" of it as the stuff inside them would not and could not hurt her nor be able to do anything to Shapira.

And if both of them would not get injured then she did not have any needs to care about the stuff that is not related to her or that Kitty.

If there was really something terrible in the box, she would have left it there without any thoughts.

It's just when she saw what was in the box, She just could not able to resist to take it.

The only reason she did not outright take it because she thought this stuff belongs to Rita as Rita is owner of this place.

Rita is friend of Amara and so if she took away stuff from a friend of Amara, Then Amara would have been angry, So she resisted the temptation.

Its just when she heard the thoughts of Rita, Well not thoughts exactly but the vibration of as she speak to herself which moved her lips ever so slightly.

But that was enough for her to hear what she was talking about, She was not able to resist any longer.

She took that reason and ran with it, taking all the stuff into her pocket dimension and then running out of the room to avoid suspicion and of course shame.

She really did not wanted others to know she took away the stuff made for men. How can she can high and mighty woman with femininity around when she stores masculine stuff in those games and stuff.

Women should have the jewelry and such feminine things, not weak male ordained things.

What would others say if they found out? Does she play games? How can women be into stuff like those?

She do not care what others especially the lower beings like huwomans say but it still hurt when someone who was lower than ant to you look down and make fun of you.

And the actual thing is, she doesn't even get that stuff to play herself at all, If that was the case she may not be this embarrassed.

"Liora, Why did you take it? Answer me!"

The silence of Liora making Alex even more uneasy and curious.

What could be a thing that can make even this beast of a woman hesitant to say it?

Now he really wanted to know about the reason behind why she took away his accessories. There is nothing related to this in the plot he received from the system.

So it was also to be on the safe side that he wanted to know about reason as to knows what she can do later on because of her reasons.

Hence why Alex asked her once again but this time there was authority in his voice, It was long command disguised as a request but it was proper naked command.

When Amara heard it, she panicked a little, Liora is just like any beast has immense pride, She did not tolerate to be commanded.

Her personality yearns respect and that's the only way to keep her from destroying someone. But now Alex outright provokes her with this tone, of course she did not blame Alex, just took the battle stance ready to throw hands.

Isabella was kept quiet on the sideline as she knew she couldn't interfere between them, Also making sure that White keep her mouth shut and did not stir up the trouble.

"I-I took it...took it to add in my hoard, I like to hoard technology, Especially the ones man's like to play with like games, computer, robots, sabers and all.

I swear, I do not hoard them for myself, I do not even play with them, I just hoard them."

Surprising to everyone except Alex, Liora in a guilty tone answered him as she even made sure to clear that she did not play those stuff she just hoard it in her pocket dimension.

Liora really didn't want Alex to think of her that she is an weak woman, She really didn't wanted to be abandoned by him as all weaklings do.

Alex here raised his eyebrow hearing that she hoard stuff, It's not out of ordinary for beasts to hoard stuff and seeing that she acts and behave like one, She may do it too.

But they have their own reasons to do it. Some like shiny things, Some do it just to show off, Some do it because they like it and many such reasons.

So he was even more curious to know her reason for it.

"First of all there is nothing wrong with women playing the games. Rather, I like to have a partner to play with, So don't feel bad for playing the games thinking it is not feminine enough.

Second, Why? If you don't hoard it for playing then why do you hoard it in the first place?"

Alex got close to Liora lifting her chin with his index finger and then looking straight into her obsidian black eyes as she spoke to her.

Her eyes looked into his eyes and for a second she felt like eternity passed away in that second.

Then her eyes instantly became misty as tears big as pearls started to flow out of her eyes.

"Uwhaaaaa!!!!~ Sniff Uwhhaa"

"What th-! What happened? Liora stop crying, Tell me what happen."

What Alex thought was a romantic move end up making Liora bawling her eyes out in front of him like a little boy.

'Did I broke Liora?'

Alex couldn't help but doubt himself seeing the state of Liora.

(A/N: 10 one 6 more to go

Chapter 316: 314. Stop Crying

"Amara little help here."

Alex could not understand why all of the sudden Liora was bawling her eyes out.

Its not that he was weird about the crying of women, Though women seldom to cry in front of men but he has seen many women cry in front of him.

Grace, Sandra are prime examples of them, He also understands their need to release those emotions to him as it would calm them down making them less likely to trigger by something else.

It's just he never thought that a woman like Liora would cry in front of him without him even doing anything at all.

It was way way out of ordinary for her as she strictly follows the law of the jungle, If you show weakness you are dead.

So she never show weakness to anyone. No matter how strong they are, She treats everyone with the same threat level and try to avoid being seen as weak.

Yet she is doing the weakest thing one can do by her own rules and that is crying in front of the weaker opposite sex.

Gears in his head started spinning trying to figure out the reason, But he also needed to calm Liora down, So he asked a stupefied Amara for help.

"Huh...Oh yes....?? That- What am I supposed to do?"

Amara snapped out of her shock hearing the voice of her brother.

She quickly stopped standing on the sidelines, wary of Liora's next move like before and came close to Alex standing right beside Liora.

It's just she just moved out of her instincts before cause of Alex words. She didn't have any idea how to calm down crying woman.

As never in her life she encounter such thing, she learned about how to fight, do battle, how to crush the will power of her opponents so they lose any thoughts to kept living on.

Of course she also learn about how to calm down crying man, How to please them, which simple just bombard them with gifts and love, Its not that hard as people make it to be.

She learned this for Alex, As she didn't want to be one of those women who piss off their loved one and couldn't understand how to calm them down thinking they would get over it.

No, As she study about it. No man ever get over it, They just act as they did, accumulating your mistakes and then bam.

The moment crosses the limit of their bearing. They just get up and leave, While pattern woman leaves wondering what she did to make him leave.

She heard so many such stories on the internet that she had a phobia that would happen to her, For which she took a special class regarding how to please a man and all.

She did not allow this to happen with her and her brother. If it was between him and her pride, She would throw that worthless pride of hers and choose her brother everytime.

As the one thing that is consistent in all the classes that she took, is to admit your mistake and apologize without holding back.

It's just all the things she learned from those classes were about how to calm down a man, Not a woman.

She is damn sure those suggestions would not work on women and even if it was, Her pride would not allow herself to admit defeat in front of another woman or man, She can only be docile like this in front of Alex.

Plus she was also in shock. If there was someone else who was crying like this, she may try her lessons in her but this Liora she was talking about.

She once saw this woman falling from the top of the mountain and then just scoffed off, claiming back up on the top showing her the hunt she caught.

She was not even the B-Rank at that time, It would have surely have hurt a lot even if death was highly unlikely, few her bones would have been crushed yet she would not even flinch.

So she did not have any solution in her mind to calm her down, resorting to asking help from her brother.

"Just hold her and try to calm her down, You know her longest here, So use that knowledge on her."

Alex felt helpless, This sister of his is good at pretty much everything, just her brain overthinks a lot.

How hard is it to calm a crying woman? Just hold them till they stop, Afterwards make a joke or two before deciding to never talk again. That is what he used to do.

Anyway, He asked her to do what she could think of as they two were friends. She may know how to calm her down.

"...Okay."

Amara answered Alex with soft uncertain tone as she had no idea what to do but she was afraid to disappoint her dear brother, So she just swallowed back her worries and decided to do her best to calm down Liora.

"Hey, Why are you crying? Stop crying."

Amara just said what came top of her mind in panic.

"Uwaah!~"

Liora ignored her and just kept crying, Looking at Alex.

"Come on, Don't be like this, If you stop crying I would take you to go hunting in a forbidden forest. How about it? I have received an invitation for the hunt."

This messed Amara, She didn't know what else to do, So she decided to say what her mother used to say and do when she used to cry as a baby.

"Uwaah!~"

Liora once again ignored it and kept crying, Making Amara even more confused as Liora loves those hunts but she never gets an invitation for it as she is ban to participate for hunting anything that moves including other hunters.

"Why are you bawling like this? It's not suitable for a woman to cry like this, Now shut up."

Chapter 317: 315. Here Take A Cookie

Amara didn't know what happened but she got so frustrated that she used the words she hated her mom for using it on her before.

"Uwaah!~"

Liora just ignored her once again, As if Amara did not talk at all.

"HEY!!!! Keep quiet, Stop crying like a little boy."

Amara took it personally now, And even before she knew it she started using the exact words of her mother and the tone.

"Uwaah!~"

Liora did not stop nor acknowledge her words crying her eyes out looking at Alex.

"Come on Liora, Don't be like this, Be a woman."

Amara finally snapped at her. This woman ruining her name in front of her brother. What would he think that she can't even handle the one simple job he gave to her

No, she can't allow that to happen, So she used her ultimate attack, The one always used to dig deep into her heart every time her mother used to say that to her.

It hurt second only to the words she used to utter as a final straw to keep her quiet.

"Uwaah!!!!~"

Well this time Liora did heard words of Amara but other than calming down as Amara expected, she just started crying with even more intensity.

"HEYY!! Listen here Liora. If you continue to act like this, No man ever wants to be with you, No man like cry baby-"

Something snapped inside Amara when Liora just started crying more, And before she even realize it these words came out her mouth.

The moment these words escaped, She instantly regretted as she knew how much these words hurt when said in the most vulnerable period.

Her mother used to do this often as this words were the one that always used to make her stop crying as in her mind if she cried, Her brother would not like him.

She still hates her mother for it, Hence why there is animosity between them.

She didn't wanted this to happen with Liora but she couldn't understand how to take those words back.

"Wow Woh, Stop, Just stop talking, You are making it worse."

When Alex heard her words, He couldn't help but to interfere to stop her from continuing doing damage.

It's okay not being able to make her stop crying but she just makes it worse. Isn't its normal practice not to hit someone when they are already down?

He yet to figure out her cause for crying and now Amara made her like this, so it would be even harder to get information out of her.

"Sniff Sniff I-Choke I am sorry Uwaah!"

Amara could not hold back, She didn't understand what happen to her but when Alex yelled at her, Her heart suddenly become heavy as she was quick to apologize.

But even before she started she was holding herself back and as she finished her apology, She was not able to hold back anymore.

She too burst out crying, Now there were two S-Rank awakens crying in his living room. Amara didn't know why she was crying out, she though terrified if Alex getting angry knew he just furasted, He did not actually angry at her, she knew him enough to understand his tone.

She knows there is no reason to cry, She just had to apologize and her brother would forgive her. There is nothing to worry about at all.

But she is still crying. Tears just keep coming out of her eyes without any sign off stopping at all, She just wants to feel like crying her heart out at this moment.

Why? She didn't know, It's like someone just flipped the switch in her mind making her throw all her pent up emotions out.

'Is there something in the air? Why is this happening?'

Alex couldn't help but think to himself seeing even Amara starter crying.

Though it was more acceptable for him to see Amara cry as he had seen before but that only when something extreme happened and that too just tears here and there.

Not like this bawling to him, This made him suspicious about whether or not the 3rd party was involved in these events.

'Did I bring that thing back at home.'

Alex suddenly had a spine chilling thought, That undead or something able to affect the intelligence of even Amara.

So there is a high chance he might have brought that undead straight back home as he didn't think of that undead could follow them.

After all, Those beings of the land of the dead are bound to one place. They can't travel on their own unless summoned or teleported by their master of powers.

So did not thought that thing can follow him back but who knows that thing capable off, Maybe this individual can travel freely.

"Hey hey, I am sorry don't cry, I am not angry at you."

Alex thought wondering the possibility of he bringing that undead here, Put those thoughts aside for a while to soothe Amara.

At least with her, he knows how to calm her down, He just had to talk to her softly and reassure her that he is not angry at her, That should be enough to calm her down.

Or at least he thoughts so.

"Uwaah!~"

Amara did not stop crying even after hearing Alex. This may be the first time in her whole life she ignored something her brother said to her but she was in no condition to listen to what he said.

Right now, All she wanted to wash away the pent up emotions she holding back since childhood, forgetting, ignoring anything and everything.

This taken ex aback not understanding what else to do, He was ready to give up and ask system for the explanation going against his rules as knowing the reason behind their outburst was more important than his pride.

"There there, Don't cry, Here take this cookie."

Alex was ready to do it but halted his acting seeing what was just happening in front of him.

Chapter 318: 316. Jackpot

"You know it's okay to cry, but don't drown into sorrow, Take this cookie, It makes you feel good."

White at some point when Alex was contemplating what to do reached the two crying S-Rank powerhouses.

Then like one soothes the child, she patted on their heads giving words of encouragement and then reached into her right side of pocket where she kept her emergency food, Her toffees.

But she stopped mid way and after contemplating she pull out her hand and reached to her left pocket with a heavy heart as if she was making some tough decision.

And she was as when she pulled out her hand there were chocolate cookies in her palm.

She keeps those for only special occasions as her sister forbade her from eating anything sweet without her permission as that rot teeth and casus many issues in her eyes.

So of course she sneaks a few cookies into her pockets when she sneaks out to play.

She wanted to eat this for herself but seeing these two women crying, she decided to give it to them.

"How did she get there?"

Isabella was first one to react as she in terror White patted on to the head of the most feared existence in the world, The S-Rank.

Not only any normal S-Rank, But the one that gives her the feeling that not care about her life and death.

This new one was unlike the easy-going Amara, Who though strong did not use that against her in their little banter before.

But this new one gave her the feeling that even if she breathed wrongly, she would lose her head.

And she knew it's was not just feeling, She may really lose her head if she acted wrongly. The only they is even alive is totally because of the grace of Amara, If Amara was not here, Isabella knew they would have dead on the first fuck up of White.

So it was understandable why nearly ovaries of Isabella's ovaries came out of her mouth.

She was in utter shock by the audacity and the stupidity of this dumb woman to do this on Liora.

This was like poking a bear, Just not any bear, The bear who just came out of hibernation, Has the cubs of his around and is high on cocaine.

At this point if something happens, It's just a natural selection doing its thing.

But the only issue is, This White not only digging a grave for herself but also big heartedly digging it for everyone else.

She just could not understand, How White got there.

Isabella was making sure this airhead did not cause any more trouble, Keeping her mouth shut.

It's just when she saw Liora burst out crying, she was taken aback in shock and then for a brief moment her attention swayed away from White.

And in just this brief moment like an unattended toddler she went and decided to cause more trouble.

Now Isabella is just praying that Liora would not burst out like an injured beast mowing down everything and anything that comes close to it.

Rita, who was still clutching onto the Alex shirt did not react to this event unfolding before her eyes.

That is because if someone looks closely they can see the complicated emotions going on her face and it looks like she was on the verge of crying her eyes out at any moment.

This is just like the way Liora and Amara acted before they started crying out.

Alex noticed her state but this time he had a hunch of what might be the reason or what is happening here.

And if he was correct then there is big chance that he just hit the gold mine, He have to thank Sandra later because of whom this blessing bestowed on him.

Luck of FL is after all broken, And he being the ML of her story also getting benefits of it.

"... Sniff Thank you."

Liora when patted on head by White first ready to throw hands in anger but seeing White and then cookie in her hand, She drop the idea and becomes docile.

She allowed White to touch her, Then definitely for the first time in her whole life she said thank you to someone as she received a chocolate cookie from White.

After which she gave a sniff to it as it was her first time coming into contact with chocolate cookies.

Yeah even if she is chef, she never ate the cookie as Shapira's diet is mostly meat.

So she never came into contact with the cookie, She after the sniffing, she looked at the cookie and then hesitantly took a bite, But just from that one bite lit her eyes.

Then she slowly yet greedily started munching on the cookie trying her best to spend as long as time as she could to savor the taste of it.

"Thank you Bite"

Amara is easy-going in the presence of Alex, So she did not react much when patted on the head by White.

Of course there was that initial resistance by the action of White, She is an S-Rank after all. There would be pride of an S-Rank, How can she allow someone weaker being like White treat her like a child.

But she too likes Liora, Once she saw White and the cookie in her hand forget about her resistance and anger.

She just took the cookie and then thanked her politely before taking a bite at it.

She ate the cookies before in childhood, She stopped eating it later on fearing gaining weight even though women in this world seldomly get fat, not to mention she is S-Rank.

So this is her first sweet in adulthood, Normally she rejected it before but her mood was so down and the cookie was in front of her so she started eating it.

"Uwaah!!~"

As if on cue, Rita who was holding back her tears was not able to do it and burst out crying holding Alex's shirt tightly.

'Jackpot.'

Alex had the wide smile of satisfaction as he said to himself.

Chapter 319: 317. Airhead White

"What is happening?"

Isabella, confused about what is happening, could not help to voice out her query in shock.

She expected Liora to lash on the White but it did not happen. Rather this airhead was able to not only make the monster of being calm down but also treated her like a child without any consequences.

This is hard for Isabella to wrap her mind around, In her eyes S-Rank is unfathomable beings able to move mountains and rivers.

But they are also prideful beings and why would they not be?

They reached the place mere mortals can just dream of, The place that in others eyes consider closer if not godhood itself.

And that because of all logical reasons, S-Rank has a lifespan of several thousands of years.

In which many of the generation after generations of the mortal beings just come and go. Not to mention S-Rank also has some control over elements depending on their superpowers, and they also can make changes into the space.

So it's not strange for others to think of them like they are immortal gods, And this White treating them like children.

To be honest Isabella couldn't help but wonder if this airhead is related to her twin sister Black, Are they even related to or not as they are nothing alike.

Black is smart, knows when to talk, what to say and how to react completely differently than this airhead with zero sense of danger who says and acts by her own willful nature.

If not for two look exactly similar being identical twins, She was ready to think both of them are not biologically related rather just two orphans find each other considering each other as sisters.

Though now they wear Black and White masks to avoid other confusing in-between them, But she who partially raised them knows they are in fact identical twins.

'System, Tell me if I am right or wrong, She is responsible for this, isn't she?'

Alex was holding the crying Rita in his arms, rubbing her back to sooth out her emotions.

He on purpose did not use any percentage of his ecstasy hands on her to avoid interfering with the crying of Rita.

He asked about his query to the system. He didn't want the full information but just to confirmation on what he thought was right or not.

[Ding! Yes and no host, She is the cause behind their sudden outburst but they are crying because of their underlying issues, She just passively and unintentionally brought those deep buried emotions out.

And because of the sudden pull of those negative emotions so suddenly brought out, It did not give them time to react other than just to let it all out without holding back or trying to hide it like they always do.]

System voice rang in his mind, giving him the answer he was looking for.

Of course like always it did give a detailed answer but because Alex asked for just limited details, It was only able to give the details under the restrictions.

'So she likes a strong magnet to the negative emotions, Just pull it out passively.'

Alex quickly came to the conclusion of it. He noticed her weirdness before but ignored it as who in this world is not considered weird?

Everyone he comes across has the passive and such that make them act weird but also make them unique.

Like Rebecca is dumb as a box of rocks but possesses the one of the strongest superpower he comes across of and is even able to use without any problem.

Alia, someone even as a B-Rank able to open the domain, Yeah he too can open it but he has a system, she did not, She is just a normal huwoman with main heroine status.

Same for Helen, Like she is only able to wake up when she sleeps with the man.

Or Rose, Who has not only the broken passive but also dual personality.

So when the system did not triggered the notification of increase in her favorability towards him, He though took a back but not shocked as there can be some woman who need to meet specific conditions for it to increase favorability.

Like for Liora, When he revealed his Beastmaster physique, Only then did there was change in favorability of Liora, Before which she still seeing him like a thing, Beautiful but still a thing.

Or for Helen, She only became obsessed with him when he conquered her body.

That is why he just thought he needed to hit some condition for her to trigger to increase her favorability towards him.

Of course he felt weird for her to have this condition like this as in his knowledge only on the main or important heroines, Not like White who was just a second thought in the story.

And now seeing this, It seems that there is more to it then it meets eyes.

'I guess I have another anomaly now.'

Alex sighed and accepted the fact, Anyway he was already used to such surprises.

Rose is one and so is Sandra, Now he rather than surprise is interested in finding it out on his own about her quarks and abilities.

"You too?.... Here, take a cookie."

White here was happy seeing two women in front of her stopped crying and was feeling happy about herself.

He was ready to go back and sit in her seat when Rita too burst out crying.

Even though she was taken aback by the such outburst, she asked in surprise but then stopped as if thinking about something very deep, contemplating her decisions.

After what for her felt like eternity, She reached out in her left hand once again and take out another cookie handed to Rita who was crying.

Of course she did not forget to pat her head while she gave the cookie to her.

She totally forgot that this is the psycho woman who hanged her upside down not while ago.

And even if she remembered that, she would have given her the cookie as she has quite soft heart.

".....Thank you."

Rita was taken aback by her action and comments, She hesitated but took the cookie from her and then in the resultant eyes of White ate it.

"Sniff Sniff"

When she saw Rita in satisfaction gobble down her cookie, Tears started to run down from her eyes.

Chapter 320: 318. Selfless White

"Now why are you crying?"

Alex became confused by White's sudden crying, And wasn't able to understand now why she was crying.

If it was Isabella then maybe it was understandable that too hard as the system says she herself not making others cry rather her passive pulling out the all negative buried emotions of people in her surroundings.

All others were crying non-stop because they held back and buried all their negative emotions deep in their hearts, not allowing to come out.

And so when she brought them all back at once, They could not able to control like they used to before and so can only let it all out.

But Isabella live with White since she was child, So there can not be negative emotions being buried deep in her heart as if there was White's presence would have pulled them out.

It did not matter that she is A-Rank asakned, The passive of White able to affect two S-Rak back to back, There is no way Isabella would be immune to it.

And even if there is a way to neutralize her passive given how much time Isabella spends with White, There is less likely chance that Isabella is able to avoid her passive.

Still there is a chance that can happen hence why it was enough for Alex to believe Isabella can be affected by the passive of White but there is no way White herself being affected by her passive.

Even if her passive could affect her given the context of all her bademo, negative emotions would have been sucked all out at this point leaving nothing for her to cry out.

So Alex is really curious about what made her cry out. It's like being able to find a hint to solve a very good puzzle.

For him this is the best kinda feeling, This gives him a kick and also there is little to no risk involved.

"Sniff Th-that was my last cookie."

White wiped the tears flowing down from her under her face mask as she answered Alex sniffing trying to not cry.

She is really sad now. She sneaked out those three cookies with very high risk from the kitchen.

If her sister had caught her sneaking those cookies out then she would have been put her on time out and also punished her.

It's already known how weird and over the top are the punishments her sister gives, So she really took quite a high risk just for those cookies.

But not all those cookies were gone leaving her nothing, Now what she gonna eat? She didn't ate anything leaving the manner of the Gayler family.

So those cookies were also her dinner of tonight. Now those are gone, She had to just manage eating those toffees in her right pocket.

Alex felt stupid. Of course this would be the case. He restricted his thinking so much that he didn't think that there might be other more normal reasons behind her crying rather than just some supernatural effects.

He keeps a mental note in his mind to not let something like this happen again.

Of course someone like her would cry if she lost all her cookies. That's how her personality is. It's just a question that was still bothering him about this action of hers.

"If you like cookies this much, Then why did you give them away in the first place?"

Alex had to ask, He wanted to know whether she is so dumb that she forgot to count about, Or such an airhead that she did not consider giving it away means she did not get to eat it.

Or perhaps some other reason, Though he wanted to say she may be such a selfless person to put others needs and wants above hers.

But he also knows it's highly unlikely as huwoman by nature are selfish animals, We do not do anything for others without any benefits of their own.

Yet because of the mental note he just made did not discard this option and decided to ask directly cause there may be a chance, small as may be but a chance that she may be such a unicorn.

"Cause they needed it, How can I let them cry?"

White as innocent as she is, did not think or think about it before telling it to Alex, confirming to him that she is in fact such a unicorn.

She really thought of others before her, She even helped the person like Rita, The same woman who not only torture her by hanging her upside down on the ceiling but also was about to put her in the past tense.

'What a cute little fool.'

Alex hearing the answer could not help but to think about it.

In his eyes nothing is free in the world, everything has a price and someone has to pay for it.

The law of equivalent exchange is iron clad, No one escapes from it.

And in such a world there is this airhead, Being this selfless, He is sure even if there was anything else other than cookie she would have done the same.

She actually did that in the plot. She did everything she could to help Nathan, Even at times getting herself hurt or worse being left behind by him but she always helped him.

Before Alex thought she did that because Nathan is the protagonist and of course everyone should come and give things to the protagonist without wanting to get anything in return.

But now it seems it's not just because of the halo of the protagonist but her personality is that way, Selfless and pure.

"Don't worry, You don't need to eat cookies for dinner, I already cooked for you too, Oh that reminds me, Aunty, call Black here too, I also cooked for her."

Alex gave White a smile and gave her a head pat which she asked for before, As she also created a soft spot for her in his heart, Who doesn't like such a selfless girl?
