Chapter 351: 349. Rose Being Rose

"Hey, Are you listening to me? Stop sleeping on the road, Move or you get run over."

Rose, sitting on her newly brought chariot, spoke in annoyance not understanding why someone would be sleeping on the road when there is the whole sidewalk free to do so.

"Miss, I don't think that person is sleeping there?"

A woman driver came out of the car, which was dragging Rose's chariot speaking to her young mistress.

She took a look at the charred body laying in the middle of the road with slight anxiety and fear.

The body in front of her burned to nothing, Simply charcoal black without any other indication of physical characteristics.

If not for the fact that the body was laying flat on the road spreading it's limbs, Anyone would have misunderstood it as a pile of ashes.

"What do you mean she is not sleeping? Just look at how comfortably she is laying on the ground without much care."

Rose being Rose did not see anything wrong here, All she saw was that someone was sleeping on the ground and needed to go away.

She already did not have much time. She had to go ahead and hide her new ride because If her mother or sister came back and saw she once again went and brought the chariot, she would get punished for wasting money.

"Miss, What i am say-"

"Shhh~, Don't say anything, let me deal with this troublemaker first."

Female driver still wanted to clarify to her youngest miss, Seeing the condition of that person, it's guaranteed to be dead, So this news should first and foremost be informed to her eldest miss Alia before doing anything.

It's just Rose cut her off mid sentence not wanting to hear anything more.

Rose already had a bad feeling in her heart. When her sister called her earlier asking her if she was a virgin or not, Alarm rang in her mind as her survival senses went haywire.

After all there is no way Alia personally call her to ask something like that without any reason, Her non-existence IQ came online making her think that Alia definitely wanted Virgins do something, Which something did not want to know answer of.

Though she calmed down a little now, she was still terrified to set Alia off and give her sister reason to look for her.

It is better that Alia forget she has a younger sister for whilesh, So there is no chance Rose would let Alia see her new ride, giving her reason to target her.

"Sniff Sniff Why does it smell like o burned meat?....These cooks don't know a damn thing about cooking at all, Humph, If not for angering Alex, I would have hired him as chefs then these fools."

Rose jumped down from her chariot and approached a person sleeping in the middle of the road.

Just as she approached, A strong whiff of burned meat smell overwhelmed her senses, And so like any other person she thought it was coming from the 2.5 km away kitchen because of course she did.

She yet to figure out the person sleeping in the middle of the road passed out Jake, Who was burned to such an extent that he is just one step away from being charcoal.

"Oh wait? Did you get a moonburn?"

Finally after getting close to the passed out Jake, Rose realized that he did not appear to be sleeping rather he was burned to quite an extreme degree.

So as a self appointed scholar of Miller Family, She came to the conclusion that this person in front of her got moonburn.

Not sunburn as this is a night, Saying it would be stupid.

"...."

Female driver was speechless, Speechless by the intelligence of her young mistress.

"Yes indeed miss it must be a moonburn, It is her fault for not applying a moderate amount of sunscreen before laying here."

Female driver had stars in her eyes admiring the brilliance of her young mistress. She was anxious and panicked thinking something unfortunate had happened here but her young miss solved her worries.

Oh poor nameless female driver was not aware that Rose's dumbness is highly contagious, So she had no chance given she was the one who drove Rose places to places.

"Oh come on, stop talking like stupid people, How can sunscreen gonna help dummy? She needed to apply moonscream, unfortunately no one made those. Poor her didn't have a chance."

Rose, hearing what her driver said, couldn't help but shake her head in disappointment, Alas only she is mentally gifted in the family, Her mother said so.

So Rose was not offended by what her driver spoke, rather she patiently clarified her mistake.

Sunscreen is for sun, How is it going to help at night? You need moonscrem for that but surprisingly no one makes those.

She before presented making worlds first moonscream to her sister but Alia just took a look at the proposal before rightly throwing it off in the trash can.

Alas, No one is able to understand her brilliance.

If they had made it before, This poor thing would not have gotten burned this badly. "Question for you, What we should do when someone burns to this degree, Let me see if you learn anything from me till now."

Rose threw out the past thoughts out of her head and paid attention to the present. She saw how burned this person was but other than doing something to help she turned around to ask her driver a question.

As why should there be a rush? It's just moonburn, She knows a way to heal these injures in no time.

"Miss with this extreme burn, she needs immediate medical attention, So we should call an ambu- Wait wait?! This is a trick question, miss, You nearly got me there, I remember you once said Toothpaste works best for the burns, right?"

Female driver was first taken aback by Rose asking her question out of sudden but she quickly recovered and thought about the answer.

Her first thought seeing burned body of this unknown person was to call and get immediate medical help but she stopped as realising this is what stupid people do.

So she rejected this idea quickly, Just to remember, Rose once said to her that apply toothpaste to her burn area to heal it quickly.

"Oh, So you are not so stupid after all, Correct answer is apply toothpaste, Let's take her home to heal, Ask servants to fill the bathtub with toothpaste, So we can simply dip her in."

Rose had a huge smile when her driver answered her correctly. She was so happy in fact she decided to take this unknown person to her home to heal it.

If it does not make sense to you then you are not as mentally gifted as her.

"Okay miss, I'll do it right away."

Female driver was also happy getting praise from her ideal, So she was quick to drag the unconscious burned body of Jake into her car before moving towards Miller manor dragging

Rose chariot behind her.

.....In Beast Space -...

"I should get out and handle those women in heat before they tear each other apart."

(A/N: We are not mentally gifted as her to understand her chain of thoughts.

Oh if you are confused by why I am using she that is because they did not know his gender,

And when gender is unknown to a person they use She, Just like we use He.

Quick question: do you guys remember the name of my old privilege tires? I need names of it, so i can start stocking and uploading for December mass release.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day [.]

Chapter 352: 350. Black Dragon Bloodline

'That's it, I should get going now.'

Alex wrapped naked passed out Liora in the warm comfortable blanket like sushi admiring his handiwork.

After making sure she would not leave in the cold, He was ready to leave as he still had to deal with other horny women outside.

'Snap, I almost forgot, System is her bloodline suitable and compatible for me?'

Just as he was about to exit the beast space, He realised he hadn't asked for the key information yet.

Currently her bloodline is the most logical thing for him to copy as anyone who possesses it can grow just by eating and sleeping, Liora is living proof of it.

But he halted his action, remembering the system talked about the bloodline curse, Though he is sure he would not get affected as the system gives genuine and pure bloodline but off chance it would, He didn't want such restriction of it.

Plus he also possesses the Phoenix bloodline, Which is an equally overbearing bloodline. He did not want to blow up because two forces would fight each other, System did say it would happen to him but it's better to be careful than sorry.

[Ding! Host Liora's "Black Dragon" bloodline though strong and overbearing in the current time but in fact, It is just impure dilute bloodline far cry from it's originator, It's now not even the 1% of the ancient "Black Dragon" bloodline.

So you can rest assured the curse of the Liora's bloodline would not gonna have any effect on you.

As for the Phoenix bloodline issue, Normally these both bloodlines being apex of their field do not allow presence of any other bloodline, having two bloodlines especially if they are high quality level immediate death sentences for any normal huwomen.

But don't worry about it host, Just like your physique. Anything from the system does not follow normal rules, Both "Phoenix" and "Black Dragon" bloodline can coexist in your body.]

System came out and dismissed Alex's worries about this issue, As normally one can't have more than one set of things.

Bloodline, Physique, Superpowers all can be possessed by people as one set, If one somehow gotten two of any of these things, Then they are unluckiest of the bunch.

If they were fortunate enough, They get the quick instant death as both elements of their powers would either react or just simply not tolerate the presence of any other.

Of course there is fate worse than death, And that is you survive but would turn into a waste losing any and all qualifications you previously had, falling from high heaven to ground zero.

Those people who before praise you, admire, follow you would be the first to tear you limb from limb, piece by piece like a hyenas.

After all, Every huwmen is, if not an opportunistic scavenger, someone who wouldn't miss the chance to take advantage of you as soon as you lose the power to fight back.

'So I can copy two bloodlines.....System if i get the bloodline wouldn't my warrior rank increase?'

Alex was worry free after the system confirmed his reason and wanted to copy the bloodline but halted in his action.

"Black Dragon" Bloodline is unlike the Phoenix bloodline providing auxiliary benefits, Its overbearing nature ignores other restrictions and pushes the body to its limit rather than just move past it.

Which is the reason why many possessors of this bloodline do not survive in their infancy.

But if they survived, this bloodline raises their physique and warrior rank like a speeding bullet, Lowest it stops at is the peak B-Rank and highest is Liora directly steps into the S- Rank.

Normally it is a great thing for anyone putting them at the apex of the power scale in absence of the S-ranks but it is not what Alex wants.

He does want to increase his strength furthermore but he does not want to increase his warrior rank as doing so is equivalent to throwing fresh chum in the sea then deciding to take a dive in it.

The moment he, the main villain of both of the current protagonists increases his rank, There is no way their daddy luck up their just sit and watch.

More than likely, their luck would make other pop out who are not supposed to come yet in the novice area or just give them some broken golden fingers.

Heck there is even a chance that it would send a more powerful bait protagonist like reborn immortal emperor or something like that which it did with Jake as the last hail mary attempt to sniff him out.

And once he is in the open, His difficulty would increase 10 fold as there would be no advantage of attacking from the shadows, Heavenly way would definitely start making countermeasures for him afterwards.

[Ding! Host, If you copy the "Black Dragon" bloodline now, You would forcefully promoted to be S+/SS+ rank instantaneously.

Your combat power would also be shot up to SS+ peak regardless of your warrior rank and Agility and such would be peak S-rank.

After which your warrior level and power would steadily increase without any outside help, Eating and sleeping would be sufficient to gain more strength.

With this powerlevel you don't have any competition in this Berlin city.]

System answered Alex, "Black Dragon" bloodline given by system would be even more domineering then normal one.

If not for the strong restriction of the world, It would have even gone past the SS+ rank, Still it would make Alex nearly invincible with his all other stats and buffs.

'System, What do you mean by NOT HAVE COMPETITION IN BERLIN CITY?!!!

Alex hearing the words of the system felt ominous in his heart, He quickly looked at the screen front of him in horror.

(A/N: Hey guys, I took the tetanus injection, So I had a little fever, I am feeling better now.

Also i am about to mass release plus put chapter for privilege from 5 Dec, So there are going to lots more updates.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day [].)

Chapter 353: 351. Damn Author

[Ding! Host, The meaning is simple, With SS+ warrior rank you are pretty much invincible in the Berlin city as this power level is of mid-late stage of Nathan's and Jake's novel plot.

But if you gain that rank this early in the plot, It would force heavenly dao to intervene and so it would skip all the middle plot, jumping directly to the late plot to power balance your existence.

It's just that it can't force the plot to jump to the end game now because Berlin city is the novice area, It's power level is pre-defined.

Helen should be the only S-Rank should be in here, being a stronger combat force in the city.

(Warning: There is a characters that can still beat you host, even if you gain SS+ warrior rank.)]

System came out and answered Alex what it meant by his previous sentence.

SS+ warrior rank would be an unprecedented level of power in the early stage as no one even heard of there ever being the SS+ rank warriors.

But as every novel plot goes, These unprecedented, myth, legends power ranks in the early plot just foreshadowing them for the later plot.

So it would not be surprising if after a while these SS- rank warriors would be as common as S-Rank currently in the world.

However this power level never supposed to be appear this early as the protagonist is not ready for them to face it.

Yeah, the protagonist as heavenly dao only cares about its illegitimate children's wellbeing, Which can be seen by the system statement about heavenly will would jump the plot ignoring how much that would affect the living being in the world.

The reason why there is peace upfront in the world was because the core military strength of the S-rank warrior didn't have anything to fight for.

No matter how much they try, the heaven and earth treasure they use, They aren't able to surpass the limit of the S rank at all, meaning though enos but they still have limited time.

So knowing their own mortality they were seldom to fight and decided to enclose themselves in seclusion to try and figure out a way to cross the boundary between S-Rank to SS-rank.

But if that level cap suddenly lifted then chaos would break out, the facade of peaceful society would crumble in seconds as everyone would rush out of their seclusion to grab the opportunity to get stronger again.

The war between huwomen's and beasts would once again break out as the only reason these two factions stopped fighting for land and resources were it was useless to the people on top.

Even war between huwomans would be inevitable for the same resources and land as race would start in all factions to get as much as strong as possible.

And all this is not even worth to acknowledgement for heavenly dao as long as protagonists gain opportunities and golden fingers in the chaos to gain strength and foothold.

'.....Gulp The characters you said, You were talking about....Belladonna, right?'

Alex after brewing his thought dreadfully asked the system already knowing the answer.
[Ding! Yes, host.]

System without any situational awareness jumped out and answered Alex. "FUCK!!!!"

Alex couldn't help but curse it out loudly after the system confirmed his fears. He was frustrated and angry.

Flash

So he, using his authority of the space teleported himself in the remote part in the place as he punched straight towards the mountain range.

Bang

Shake

Whole area shook when his fist collided with the mountain other than that it was left unscathed.

Punch

Bang

Bang

Boom

But Alex was not done with it, He raised his other hand and started throwing a barrage of punches emptying all his frustration on this poor innocent rock formation.

Sigh Huff Pant Drip

After a few minutes of continuous barrage he calmed down huffing, panting for breath, dripping beads of sweat from his forehead.

"Arghhhh!! I know how dangerous Belladonna is, So why did I provoke her? Everything was going smoothly and than what went wrong-....Ross!"

Alex was in fustrstion talking to himself blaming him why he had to mess with the hornet's nest.

Everything was going according to the plan, All he had to do was wait out and gain power without worrying about that batshit crazy bitch fiancée of his.

But after what he did with Liora, He has to keep one eye out for her as there is no saying what that woman would do, Even he can't predict her actions now.

She, who was favored by that damn author, has too many opportunities and powers. Most of them are still unknown and even the protagonist isn't able to make her bring them out.

And he provoked monstrosity all because of that he lost his mind literally, As that is the only explanation for him acting irrational.

The cause of it is also known to him, Who else other than that dumbass can be responsible for him losing his mind.

"What is the safe distance from her for me not to get infected by her stupidity?"

Alex was done with expressing his frustration but now he had to act if he wanted to live. It's just before doing anything he wanted to know this key information. He did not want to get infected by her stupidity again.

[Ding! Host brought the "Cure of stupidity" from the system. You would not become stupid anymore, So the host doesn't have to worry about losing your mind again.

The limit of Rose's infection radius is 6ft. As long as people maintain proper social distancing they are safe from her stupidity because she believes that's how infection works.]

System voice rang on his head answering him.

"So system, Tell me what would happen if Rose believed I am the strongest being?"

(A/N: Sorry for the delay update, I forgot to sleep [], By the way comment something doesn't matter you doing it to complain, this way i know how many people are reading and like it. Like always thank you for reading and have a good day [].)

Chapter 354: 352. Limitless

Alex with a sinister grin asked the system, If he somehow makes her believe that he is the strongest there is then wouldn't he become one cause she believes so?

And if that happens then he big heartedly would lower her punishment a little for messing up with his brain and causing such a mess.

[Ding! Yes and no host, Indeed if she believes someone to be strongest then they would be the strongest however that someone can't be you as she already believes someone else the strongest there is.]

System jumps out and at first gives him some hope for his plan before throwing cold water all over it.

"Who-...Alia, No wonder she is such an unorthodox heroine."

Alex was taken aback by the system saying Rose already believed someone to be strongest.

As if that was the case then that someone would have made some name for herself in the hidden world as invincible but he didn't recall any of such a person in the plot Rose knew about.

It then hit him that indeed there was that Ice queen, Rose is terrified of and then everything made sense to him about why Alia is a contradictory heroine.

After all, Heroines are supposed to be damsels in distress, outright ignoring their talent or might.

From the young heiress of the wealthy powerful family having money issues to the saint of the immortal sect getting in trouble for gathering minor cultivation resource kinda illogical things the heroine found themselves in.

And of course when they are the most desperate protagonist jump in and save the day winning beauty and bagging the support behind her in one fellow swoop.

This was a simple routine, Only problem is that Alia just does not follow it.

No matter in the business or in the cultivation matters, she never needed anybody's help as alone faced any and every hurdle the plot threw at her.

Some mid-late plot strong family attacking her business? She wiped out that whole family, swallowing its business and heritage in one go expanding her business empire.

When she was besieged by the 10 Peak S-rank powerhouses for the treasure she got as peak A-rank, She kill-no massacred them all without even speck of blood dropping on her.

She is also an anomaly as she is the main heroine of both protagonists plots, which should be impossible as heroines are supposed to have only the protagonist in her eyes even if the shadow of another man is forbidden to touch her.

And yet she somehow is, Even protagonist has hidden fear in their hearts for her.

Though it is not sure how much Alia's own talent or Rose superpower is responsible for these feats, But it is sure that Alia is not someone to be provoked.

"I should be focusing on Rebecca."

Alex after remembering Alia's deed in plot decided to put his focus on Rebecca, Why you may ask?

Simple, He already cooked some plan to deal with the mess and Rebecca is honorary bait. She would not mind to be bait as she has big heart, Just he have to make sure she not know about that she is a bait

'System recommends to me the way to stop my rank upgrade but not halt my strength increase.'

Alex after messing around come to the main point and that is way to increase his strength without having to deal with rank increase as he didn't want to deal with the mess that came afterwards.

[Ding! Host please wait, calculating....]

[Ding! Host given your current RP balance and needs it's suggested to buy "Limitless" for 1.5 Billion RP, (Current balance: 1.8 Billion RP).]

As Alex asked, the question system took the second to calculate all possible things suitable for his needs and recommended a thing according to his current balance.

"Limitless? What is it?"

Alex after hearing the name became intrigued especially after seeing the price of it.

It was well known to him that stuff in the system store is quite reasonably priced, rather, one can say it is even cheaper.

So seeing this "Limitless" priced in Billions couldn't help but make him curious.

As for how come he has this much RP? Simple, His song became an overnight sensation and was treading all our places being forwarded in the country.

It would have been strange if he did not earn this much RP.

[Ding! Host specifications of it are as follows...

Limitless: As its name suggests it's grant possessor limitless potential removing all restrictions were put on them.

Effects:

- Limitless permanent liner growth

(Note: Other boosts and such can be applied)

Limitless Strength

- Limitless Stamina

- Limitless Agility

- Limitless Vitality

- Limitless Mana

- Limitless Spiritual Energy

(Note: Adding stats into these would strengthen your foundation and so increase the speed of your power growth.)

(Note: Because of the limitless potential, Host would always appear to be on F-Rank.)]

System followed Alex's command and gave the specifications of the Limitless to justify it's price tag.

"Gulp So I would be like legendary baldy? Buy it"

Alex felt his throat dry as eyes became hot seeing the specifications of this Limitless and couldn't help but to directly want to buy it.

This limitless potential means now he did not have to be worried about being forced to advance his warrior rank as there is no need to.

After all, the warrior ranks are there to surpass the limits of their mortal being to reach a higher level through accumulating strength hence why the higher the warrior rank the harder it is to advance to the next one.

But with this Limitless, He didn't have to worry at all, He would constantly getting stronger without any hurdles or drawbacks.

Though there is no immediate power up but with his other passive he would in no time be strong enough to handle backing of the protagonist all by himself.

[Ding! 1.5 Billion RP is deducted (Current: 400 Million RP...

Limitless has been brought...

Please wait Limitless is being Imbuing...]

(A/N: Yo i finally wake up, Also there will be a mass release on 24 Dec please keep that in mind, 10 chapters would be released directly.

Also after this chapter, I start a privilege trier and upload 4 new chapters a day till 16 or 32 chapters accurately.

Please leave a comment regarding anything.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day [].)

Chapter 355: 353. House Of Cards

[Ding! Limitless fully imbued in the host...]

System notification rang in Alex's mind indicating that Limitless is fully integrated in his being.

"Huh?! Is it done? I don't feel any different."

Alex couldn't help but ask in confusion as checked himself and found out that there was no differences at all.

[Ding! Limitless is active host.]

System just replied to Alex confirming that Limitless is active and working.

"...Ohh, Okay copy Liora's "Black Dragon" Bloodline."

Alex hering system thought for second and figure out that he was not feeling any different might be because there was no power gain and so there is no difference between before and after Limitless.

So he asked to copy Liora's bloodline as that would give him a tremendous boost and can also check the power of the Limitless.

[Ding! {Sex-Copy} skill triggered...

Please choose one thing to copy...

. Skill

- Talent
- Superpower

. Bloodline]

[Ding! Host chose to copy the SSS-Rank "Black Dragon" bloodline...

Detected "Black Dragon" bloodline is suitable for the host...

"Black Dragon" bloodline is successfully copied...

Black Dragon Bloodline: As its name suggest this this is the bloodline belonging to the ancient mystical beast Black dragonal, Also known as Queen of Land.

Effects:

- Massive physical strength boost
- Massive durability boost
- Large Stamina boost
- Large Agility boost

Passive:

- Idle Cultivation : Increase power 24x7 by simply eating and sleeping, Speed of it depends on talent and potential of individual.

- Warlord: In the battlefield gain inherent battle senses and double the effects of bloodline.

Skill:

Invincible Spirit: Once activated every kill would recover 10% of stamina, mana/spiritual power and increase the battle power as long as you are in battle killing, After which fall into the weak to extremely weak state.

Cooldown: 2 Weeks.]

[Ding! It's been detected that the host possesses "Phoenix" bloodline, Do you want to merge it with "Black Dragon" bloodline Y/N?

(Note: Special attributes and skill of bloodline can be used even after merger.)]

Lots of system notifications rang in Alex's head,dazing him for a moment because of all those barrages.

"...Not now, I will think about it later."

Alex after coming out of his daze looked at the last message of the system asking him to merge two of his bloodlines together.

Normally he would have done it as seeing he can still use the individual attributes of bloodlines even after merger but that has to wait.

As he has plans for these bloodlines, So for now he left two of them separated, which would be a death sentence for anyone else as two of them are opposite characteristics and would resist each other before fighting and blowing the possessor to pieces.

However for Alex it was nothing as he felt his Phenix bloodline in harmony with the Black Dragon rushing through his veins towards every part of his body.

"...Why is nothing happening? I don't feel any different."

Alex after copying the bloodline waiting for something to happen like it happens with the protagonist in novels but nothing happens.

Other than feeling his blood was changing temperature from hot to cold a little, there was no difference between before and after bloodline inheritance.

Step

Crack Fall

Bang

Boom

Alex was checking himself for any differences but as he was doing that he took a step.

But just as his feet touched the ground, Ground broke below it dragging his whole leg in making him fall down.

It's just the moment his body slammed on the ground it also created a huge crater making him fall even more below.

Push

Crack

Boom

Alex being stuck in the ground was super confused by what happened. He tried to push himself out of the place but before he even used much power the ground below him could not bear it and cracked open.

Even the mountain which before he couldn't even shake had fallen like a house of cards, Just like everything else surrounding him.

"System do something."

Alex asked the system as he stood still, afraid to even make a slight move as even his minor actions were causing him to bury even more deeper.

[Ding! Safety measures are being taken...

Host power is restricted to safe measures...

(Note: Host can change power output according to your needs.)]

System seeing its host asking it to do something, jumped out and quickly acted on it, putting restriction on his strength.

"Phew Is it the power of the true S-Rank? No wonder they rarely come to the city."

Alex, after system restrictions, was able to drag himself out of the crater. He wiped sweat on his forehead as he saw the damage around him in horror.

If he was in the city then half of the city would have been wiped out just by his casual unconscious actions.

He now sees why his mother went out of her way to find the artifact for Amara to restrain her power as if that was not there even her casual move would have been enough to end his story.

Then how could he be able to have such a "close" brother-sister bond with her? So he decided to thank his mother later for such a gift.

"Hey system, I should be feeling strong now, right? So why do I still not feel any changes in my body at all?"

Alex after aweing powers couldn't help but to clench his fist just to find out that he still could not feel any increase in his strength. He was feeling the same as before.

He even increased the restriction limit to check it but it was still the same, nothing.

[Ding! Of course host, You can't feel any difference as you have Limitless. Being half-step SS-

Rank is not even touching a threshold to register as strength.]

System just nonchalantly replied to him.

"WAIT!! I am a half-step SS-Rank???"

(A/N: Hell guys, This is one more extra chapter before privilege starts, Which will start tomorrow as today I will just sleep as long as I huwomanely can.

After that, 32 chapters a day in 12 days then 10 chapters at 24 Dec as Mass release, So in total 42 chapters.

Anyway i know my words means nothing now, But I need to upload it as i can't be lazy as if I lazy i starve, So i has to write it [.

Like always thank you for reading and have a good day.)

The Novel will be updated on this website. Come back and continue reading tomorrow, everyone!
