

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1131-1135

Chapter 1131

Shirley turned around and looked at the wedding dress before saying, "I think he's on his way to the hotel. Alright, I'll wear this, but I'll definitely not marry that bastard Wilton Norton!" She took the wedding dress and went back to her room angrily after she spoke.

Xavien then turned toward the makeup artists next to them and ordered, "Go do her makeup."

Unable to hold back her worry, Alba spoke, obviously still hopeful, "Honey, do you think that Jack guy will really come and rescue our daughter?"

She hoped someone could truly save her daughter.

"Sigh! It's not that easy, so it's best if you don't count your chickens before they hatch. That guy met our daughter at the airport the other day. We can't take the words of somebody like this seriously. Apart from that, he wouldn't be able to do anything even if he really comes over. Come on, let's go down.."
Xavien sighed and went downstairs with Alba.

When Shirley came downstairs, Wilton was already waiting at the entrance.

Wilton's smirk bested him as he eyed her. "Haha...! Miss Lancaster, didn't you say that you wouldn't marry me? Why? Have you changed your mind? I really like to look at your arrogant expression. I wonder how much longer you can maintain this." He purposely looked around and mockingly spoke, "By the way, where's that boyfriend of yours? Did he run away because he's too afraid? If that's the case, he's a real coward. Haha! The bodyguards I had with me the other day weren't strong, so the guy was given a chance to act strong. Did he really think that I'm afraid of him?"

Xavien and Alba inwardly sighed when they saw Wilton's insolent ways. They could see that this guy was not a good person from the outside. How could he treat their daughter well?

"Wilton Norton, are you sure you want to marry me? I'm warning you now, you'll most likely regret it if you really bring me to the hotel!" Shirley had a darkened expression on her face, still acting cold and was hostile toward Wilton.

"F*ck! Shirley Lancaster, who do you think you are? How dare you act arrogantly in front of me? Do you know that your family is done for if you make me angry?" Wilton had been unhappy about Shirley's cold expression since long ago. He stepped forward and pinched Shirley's mouth with one of his hands before speaking with a cold smile on his face, "Hmph! I'll show you how powerful I am tonight. Looking forward to seeing if you can keep up that arrogance later on!"

"Young Master Norton, what's the meaning of this? Today is the wedding day, and this is the Lancaster family!" Xavien, Hendrix, and the other could not imagine that Wilton would dare bully Shirley in front of their house. What would happen if she really married him?

They immediately stepped forward and shouted at Wilton when they saw what was happening.

"Why? Do you guys want to fight? I'm not here to work things out. I would've been courteous to you before, but there's no chance that right now!" Wilton smiled coldly when a group of Norton family's masters immediately blocked his way. He stared at the Lancasters aggressively.

Xavien's face turned pale from anger. However, he gritted his teeth and said, "It's late... Let's not miss the best timing of the day."

Chapter 1132

Wilton released Shirley when he saw Xavien submitting to him and smiled. "Haha! Father-in-law, I was just joking with you guys. Look at how scared you guys are! Don't worry, I'll treat Shirley well after she marries me. She's got a weird temper, but I'll train her to be obedient. She'll definitely obey me in the future."

Wilton's words bled Xavien and Alba's hearts. If they were still hopeful toward Wilton previously, they were in complete despair at that moment. They knew that Wilton would not treat their daughter well.

"Let's go. The wedding cars are ready, and it's almost time for our beautiful bride to appear to the crowd!" Wilton had a triumphant smile on his face when he saw how effective his power displaying actions were. He pulled Shirley toward the cars with one hand.

"Let's go." Alba and the others secretly sighed as they tried to smile. The Lancasters followed and boarded the car.

Many people awaited the bride and groom in a six-star hotel.

Apart from the Norton family, many powerful people who were friends with the Norton family, the seven-star King of War, and people from several clans were attending the ceremony.

"I heard that Miss Lancaster had never liked Young Master Norton. Never thought she'd suddenly agree to marry him. Apart from that, the preparations for this wedding ceremony takes such a short amount of time. They only notified us yesterday, and the wedding happens today!" The master of a third-class aristocratic family could not help but said with a smile.

Another family master who was beside them looked around him and said softly, "What do you know? I heard that Miss Shirley never planned on marrying Young Master Wilton, and she was forced to do so this time. He forced her with the lives of her family members and their properties. Miss Shirley had no other choice. Although she's somewhat arrogant, she's a very filial child..."

"Truly? I had no idea that Young Master Wilton would use such methods. Sigh... why must he do that? Even if that's the case, will he be happy if Miss Shirley marries him?" The previous third-class aristocratic family master sighed after he heard this. He thought that he was here to attend the wedding, but the wedding seemed meaningless with what he heard.

"They're here... They're here!" At this moment, Shirley, who was in a beautiful wedding dress, stepped on the red carpet at the main entrance with Wilton, and they entered the venue under the company of others.

However, Shirley's cold demeanor was visible, obviously rather unhappy.

"Haha.! Miss Shirley, today is the wedding day between you and my son, and the way that you're acting doesn't look good." Ashamed with how Shirley was behaving, the Norton family master, Todd Norton walked toward them with a smile on his face. "This is your wedding day; who do you want to show your cold expression to?"

Shirley still maintained the cold expression on her face as if she heard nothing.

"Haha... Master Norton, this daughter-in-law of yours seems rather unruly. It looks like your son won't be able to control her even after they're married!" At this moment, a family master who was beside them started laughing. His jest caused many around them to start laughing as well.

Todd immediately felt extremely embarrassed as his face burned a crimson color. It felt like a slap to his face.

"Shirley Lancaster, I'd tread carefully if I were you. If you anger us, the Lancasters will be wiped out!" Wilton bent her head toward Shirley and reminded her when he saw the situation. "Woman, I'm telling you this, don't ignore our goodwill in maintaining your honor!"

Shirley directly turned around and looked at Wilton distantly. "Wilton, Jack spared your life the other day, and that was a chance from him to you. However, if you don't know how to cherish it, the people dying will not be from the Lancaster family, but the Norton family instead. He, Jack White, is no normal person!"

Shirley's fearlessness in standing her ground shocked Wilton.

Though, after a moment of silence, Wilton laughed loudly. "Hahaha! What nonsense is that, Shirley? Are you trying to say that your so-called boyfriend didn't run and he's daring enough to come and stop the wedding?"

Shirley's words struck the masses as a joke as well. The Norton family was an actual second-class aristocratic family. How powerful a person needed to be if he wanted to stop the wedding?

Apart from that, there was a seven-star King of War with them, and he had a great relationship with the Norton family.

"Haha..! Let them come. If somebody dared stop the wedding, let them come!" The seven-star King of War started laughing loudly when he heard this. "Let's not talk about the Norton family's masters. Nobody would dare act out with me here, right?"

"Haha... We're rest assured with what Elder Lafoy had said!" Todd started laughing loudly when he heard this.

At that moment, however..." Really?" Two men and a woman appeared at the entrance as they walked in.

"Jack, you made it...! I knew you'd come!" Shirley almost jumped up in excitement when she saw Jack's appearance.

She really made the right decision about Jack, he was someone who meant what he said.

"You're really here. Haha.! You're so daring to have crashed my wedding!" The corners of Wilton's mouth slightly twitched before he waved his hand and spoke to the Norton family's masters." Everybody, this is the man who dares to come and take my bride. Kill him! Those two with him are strong, so kill them too!"

"What? Somebody is really here to snatch the bride?" Many of the attendees were stunned; they thought that the Nortons were joking when they talked about this. They had no idea that somebody would really show up.

"Oh my god, is this a rehearsal program? This is an out-of-body experience!" Somebody even spoke in extreme shock.

"Snatch the bride?" Jack was stunned and he immediately announced, "Everybody, please don't misunderstand this. I'm not here to snatch the bride. Miss Shirley is a best friend of mine, and she doesn't want to marry Young Master Wilton here. Even if the gods came to this wedding, nobody can force her to do it!"

What Jack said was extremely domineering. He spoke in a loud voice as if he was an emperor, giving an irrefutable order.

Wilton felt like he was losing his honor. "F*ck... Who do you think you are? This is my fiancée! My woman!" He waved his hand and said, "What are you guys waiting for? Kill him! I want this guy in pieces!"

"Young man, you're suicidal!" Several masters of the Norton family jumped up while yelling loudly. They rushed toward Jack and the others.

Chapter 1134

The Norton family's masters had frightening expressions on their faces while they surrounded Jack and the two others.

"Well, it seems like the Nortons got a death wish-can't do anything about that. Never thought I'd be in a big fight before I leave Soul City today!" The corners of Jack's mouth curled into a soft cold smile as he faced his attackers boldly.

Bang! Slam! Pow!

As the enemies were attacking, Jack and the others immediately moved. They were so quick that many failed to see what was happening. The so-called Norton family's masters directly flew outward from the attack.

They flew backward like kites with broken strings. They were killed on the spot when they landed on the floor.

"W-What?! They're actually..." Wilton's face turned pale when the outcome was revealed. He had a darkened expression on his face as he had no idea that these Norton family's masters would be so vulnerable.

"Attack! All of you, attack!" ordered Todd in his shock. "Norton family bodyguards, attack! There are so many of us, and I'll give whoever that kills the three of them a hundred million bucks reward!"

Some of the Norton family's bodyguards were fueled with the promise of money and were no longer afraid.

Thomp! Thunk! Pow!

Still, the Nortons' men failed to contend against Jack and his company despite their numbers. Soon, there was a floor full of bodies around Jack and the others.

There were around a total of 200 people.

The remaining Norton family bodyguards were completely surprised as they looked at the floor full of bodies. They were so afraid that they dared not move one step forward.

"Go! Go!" The legs of several bodyguards turned into jelly due to being afraid. They ran away speedily after they retreated to behind the door.

"It looks like these are some powerful people!" The seven-star King of War Lafoy smiled coldly and stood forward at that moment.

"King of War Lafoy, help me to kill these three, and ... I'll pay you a hundred million!" Todd was slightly frightened and even trembled as he spoke.

"Haha...! Don't worry! They're just three youngsters; they must be dreaming if they want to act presumptuously!" King of War Lafoy smiled as if nothing bothered him. He stepped forward and immediately appeared in front of the group of three. He looked at them with a playful expression on his face.

"Sigh... Who can imagine that a King of War would help others do bad things for money." Jack could not contain his sigh when he looked at the old man in front of him.

Somebody like that was able to become a King of War. He was a seven-star King of War, so he obviously had a meritorious service on the battlefield. Who could have imagined that he would stoop so low?

"Haha! I love money! What can you do about it?" The old man started laughing loudly. He curled his hands into fists as a thin layer of Chi emitted from the fists." Young man, let me show you my true power!"

Just like that, King of War Lafoy appeared in front of Jack and swung his fist.

"Such speed! Jack is definitely dead this time!" Wilton was extremely happy, his eyes filled with expectation when he saw the King of War attack Jack.

His excitement did not last, however, as he noted how Jack was far quicker than the King of War. He only felt a blur, and it was as if Jack disappeared.

Chapter 1135

"What?!" The King of War was also stunned when his punch landed empty. He then felt a slight cold breeze blowing past his back, and he felt fear creeping up on him.

"Not good!" King of War Lafoy was ready to turn and run when he felt that something was wrong.

Unfortunately, a sharp blow fell to his back.

Thomp!

With an audible thump, a sevenstar King of War was killed.

"How's that possible? King of War Lafoy's killed, too!" Wilton's face turned pale from fright. Todd, who was beside him, was also frightened. To him, it should be an easy thing for King of War Lafoy to kill Jack and the others. However, what happened in front of him proved him wrong.

"Honey, this man named Jack is really good!" Alba, who stood by the side, had her mouth slightly open at a loss for words.

She had no idea that the man her daughter spoke of would show up. Apart from that, he was so domineering and powerful.

"Yes, he's really strong! It makes sense now... No wonder our daughter..." Xavien was also totally shaken at this point. No wonder his daughter wanted to marry such a man. How could such a man be a simpleton?

.....

None of them knew that men from the Green Dragon Clan had eyed Jack and his company as they entered the hotel.

"Master! Master!"

"What is it?" The Green Dragon Clan master sat on a chair as he leisurely sipped his tea. He squinted at the person reporting to him.

In his opinion, Jack and the rest must have left the city as they failed to find them after a thorough search.

Although their people were still continuing their search for Jack and the others, he was not really hopeful about it.

"Master, those three went to a six-star hotel, and they must be there to attend the Norton family's wedding! We saw them going in. We've no idea if they're relatives of the Nortons or not. They must've been invited to join the wedding!" said one of the men as he immediately walked forward.

"What?! The three of them didn't leave the city and even publicly attended a wedding?" The clan master immediately stood up when he heard the report, his hands balled into fists. "Great! This is great! It's great that they're suicidal! Come, bring our men and let's go!"

Soon, the Green Dragon Clan master brought many of their masters as they headed for the hotel.

"Jack, let's... Let's talk this through nicely. I know you like Shirley, right? Can't I just give her to you? Can we consider that our friendship grew because of blows? I wouldn't forcefully ask for it since this woman doesn't like me. I'll give her to you, so can you just let us off the hook?" The initially arrogant Wilton knelt on the ground as his legs turned to jelly when he saw Jack. He bitterly begged Jack.

"Yes, young man. It's our fault, and we won't force her into marriage anymore! You can't actually blame everything about this on us, right? After all, we had a marriage arrangement. Brother, I heard that you're Miss Shirley's boyfriend, and we shouldn't have severed your relationship. We'll give her to you!" Todd had cold sweat all over his forehead, terrified as he knelt before Jack helplessly.

Jack smiled indifferently and came in front of them. "Didn't I say it just now? I'm only Miss Shirley's friend, but I can't stand the sight of powerful people bullying others, forcing others to marry them, so egging me right now will be useless!" Jack paused here before speaking word by word, "After all, I did say that if you dare force her to marry you, I'll wipe out the entire Norton family and give all your properties to the Lancaster family." No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1136-1140

Chapter 1136

Both Todd and Wilton collapsed directly onto the floor after they heard what Jack had said. Their faces turned grey and went pale from being frightened.

Step by step, Jack walked closer to them causing cold sweat to break across their foreheads. The aura of death pressed against them that they could hardly breathe.

"Bastard, come out and accept your death!" At this moment, a loud yell could be heard from the entrance. The voice was like a loud bell ringing and it slowly entered everybody's ears.

"Who knew that there would be a semi-god level master in this Soul City!" Jack could feel that this was definitely a master of the semi-god level just by listening to the voice.

Only a master of the semi-god level could do something like this.

However, a semi-god level was nothing in the eyes of Jack, who was already at the beginning stage of the real god level.

“It’s...it’s the clan master of the Green Dragon Clan. Oh my god, Jack has offended people from the Green Dragon Clan?” Xavien was immediately frightened when he heard this voice.

The smile on his face disappeared and was replaced by a frightened expression.

However, nothing worried him when he thought about it. At least the Norton family masters and most of the bodyguards were dead. The rest must have escaped after they heard of the news. Only Wilton and Todd, who had no followers with them, were left behind. Under such circumstances, it was impossible for them to threaten Shirley into marrying into their family.

As for Jack, although he did a great favor for their family, it was not a loss for them if he died. After all, the person who offended the Green Dragon Clan was Jack and not the Lancaster family. He was sure that the Green Dragon Clan would not involve them.

“What? Green Dragon Clan?” Todd and Wilton, who were awaiting their deaths, grew excited when they heard that the people from the Green Dragon Clan were here.

They had no idea that Jack had offended such a powerful clan. The Green Dragon Clan was an extremely powerful clan in Soul City. It was obvious that Jack was suicidal if he offended them.

At this moment, Todd and Wilton saw the glimmer of hope for them to survive.

“These three are really strong but how did they offend the Green Dragon Clan?” Many people were also stunned.

“Jack, I heard that three people killed Mountain Tiger yesterday and members of the Green Dragon Clan were searching for them all over the place. Were they looking for the three of you?” Shirley, who already made everything out, could not help but walked two steps forward and asked carefully.

Jack nodded. “I originally planned to leave Soul City after helping you. I have no idea that the people of Green Dragon Clan would find us so quickly!”

Shirley frowned and apologized after she heard this. “I’m so sorry. If it wasn’t for what happened to me, you guys would have left earlier on and you would not have attracted so much trouble. I am the one who caused all these troubles for you guys!”

Jack smiled carefreely. “What are you talking about? I will fulfill what I promised you. Apart from that, so what if the people from the Green Dragon Clan are here? We are not afraid!”

“Haha... Young man, you’re really crazy to not be afraid of the Green Dragon Clan. Don’t you know that not only is the clan master, a master of the semi-god level, two other elders of the clan are also in the initial stage of the semi-god level!”

Todd stood up and laughed loudly as he spoke. “You actually said that you aren’t afraid when there are three semi-god level masters together with so many grandmasters and martial artists? I’m telling the three of you that you guys are definitely dead today!”

Chapter 1137

At this moment, Wilton also stood up and smiled arrogantly. “Jack, oh Jack... I’m sure you had no idea that Mountain Tiger, whom you killed, is a member of the Green Dragon Clan? You actually dared to not leave this place? You’re really daring! Haha.. It doesn’t matter if I get killed by you right now. After all, you guys will definitely die together with me! Sigh, the gods must be looking after the Norton family for letting me know before I die that you’re going to die as well!”

“Haha... You were shivering on the floor like a rat who bumped into a cat just now! Who knew that you would start to act arrogantly again after a short while?” Jack started laughing loudly at this moment. “Don’t worry, I don’t need to kill you first. I will kill the people from the Green Dragon Clan before coming back to kill you. I will make you understand why you’re dying and who are the people you cannot offend!”

“Alright, young man! You said this!” Todd’s eyes lit up when he heard this. If Jack took action right now, he could totally kill both of them right now. Who knew that Jack would choose to kill the people from the Green Dragon Clan first. This guy was being too arrogant.

Maybe Jack would be killed first and then the both of them would be able to survive.

How could Todd be unhappy when he saw the chance to stay alive?

“Nonsense, are you the one who did this if it’s not me?” Jack smiled coldly and stared at him.

“Young man, you really are here, Two men and a woman...” Soon, a group of people entered and there were around two hundred people. They turned many of the tables over and emptied a large piece of land out.

The Green Dragon Clan master was stunned and stopped speaking halfway. “Aren’t you guys here to attend the wedding ceremony? It looks like you guys are here to cause trouble!”

“Clan master, it really is you!” Todd spoke in excitement when he saw the Green Dragon Clan master. “Clan Master Zell, this guy killed our people after he arrived here. You have to help us kill them!”

Wilton also whined as he complained. “Yes! Apart from that, look at this, our seven-star King of War was also killed by them. This King of War contributed a lot during the war and doesn’t it send chills down your spine when you learn that they’ve killed him?”

“Cut the crap. Do we need you guys to tell us this? This guy killed our helpful subordinate, Mountain Tiger so he definitely has to die!” An elder from the Green Dragon Clan stepped forward and looked at the three who were in front of him. “The three of you, tell me your names and we will make sure that your body is intact after you die!”

“Haha... Keep our dead bodies intact? That would depend if you are that capable!” Ethan smiled coldly after he heard this. He flipped his hands and a sword appeared.

Lana also smiled coldly and as she flipped her hand, a purple-colored sword appeared in her palm and it was shining softly.

Jack also took his black color dragon-shaped sword out and held it tightly in his hand. "There are many of them and we can save time if we attack with sword auras!"

"Haha... I've been alive for many years and this is the first time I've seen such an arrogant person!" The old man also took his sword out when he heard what they said. "Young man, Mountain Tiger is my grandson and I will kill you today to avenge him!"

Chapter 1138

"No wonder...no wonder you would stand forward so quickly!" Jack smiled and stepped forward. "Fine, if that's the case. I'll give you a chance and let's fight one on one!"

Lana, who was beside them, spoke. "You're really shameless. We bought the item at the auction house. Your grandson did not want us to leave since he failed to win the bid so he planned to snatch it by force. It's true that his grandfather is not a good person too!"

Ethan, on the other hand, said. "These are people from the clan, how good can they be? It's good to kill this group of useless bastards as we're helping Soul City to clean up its trash and make the lives of the Soul City's occupants better!"

"Shameless boasts!" The old man's face turned red from anger. He directly jumped up and cut toward Jack with his sword. "Look out!"

An extremely sharp sword aura rushed directly toward Jack as the old man waved his sword. There was some faint Chi mixed among with the sword aura!

"You really are a master who's at the initial stage of the semi-god level. This is a really powerful attack!"

Jack spoke coldly after he took a look. He then directly waved his hand and an equally scary sword aura rushed toward the other party.

Whoosh!

The sword aura was absolutely scary and flew forward in a flash, turning into a ray of light.

Bomb!

The next second, both sword aura collided and emitted a dazzling light. The powerful energy fluctuation scared many people into backing away.

The attacks from the masters of the semi-god level were so scary!

"This is impossible! How can this guy's attack be so strong? Could he also possess the fighting prowess of a semi-god level?" The old man originally thought that even though Jack and the two worked together to kill a seven-star King of War, none of them have achieved the semi-god level yet. Hence, it should be an easy task for him to kill Jack.

He soon felt that the movement in Jack's attack was slightly stronger than his attack waves.

Rumble!

The rumbling noise was still continuing. The old man's attack was continuously being used up while there was still some leftover power in Jack's attack. That power arrived in front of the old man in a flash.

"What?! There is still some power left?" The old man's eyeballs almost dropped when he saw it. If this attack landed on him, he would be terribly hurt even if he did not die.

His facial expression changed as he was frightened and he immediately blocked it with his sword.

Bang!

Jack's attack arrived and hit his sword so hard at the very moment he used the sword to block himself.

The strong power suddenly trembled and the sword hummed. Blood flowed from the man's hand that was holding the sword as the web between the old man's thumb and finger broke from the tremble.

The old man directly walked several steps forward before finally stopping.

Puff! Puff!

However, he had just stopped when he felt a tingling feeling in his throat and then vomited a mouthful of blood again. He had suffered some internal injuries.

"Such a strong attack!" The old man was secretly dumbstruck and his eyes were filled with disbelief. The young man in front of him had a sword aura of similar length as him but the young man's attack power was double of his.

"It looks like we've met with a master today!" The Green Dragon Clan master originally had a playful expression on his face but it slowly turned into a dignified one. He took out his sword and waved it.
"Everybody, attack!"

Whoosh!

Chapter 1139

Suddenly, all the fighters flew upward and got ready to kill Jack and the others.

A smile tinged Jack's lips as he watched the black circle in the sky. He concentrated his chi toward his sword.

Buzz!

Together with the chi, the sword in Jack's hand emitted a light buzzing and vibration. Blackcolored air blades lingered upward.

"Black air blades? And there's chi too!"

All color drained from the master of the Green Dragon Clan's face when he saw this. Jack seemed like he was going to use his chi to attack directly. This was a skill that was beyond any blade technique. Only a fighter of the true god status could conjure an attack like that.

"Blade wave!"

Jack cast an impassive glance toward the black-clothed men from Green Dragon Clan, who all leaped into the air. He swiped his blade toward them.

In a flash, a black wave coursed toward them at a blinding speed. The chi-infused air blade was extremely powerful.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The wet crunch of explosions rang out, and the men who had leaped up were suddenly cleaved into halves. Their bodies fell onto the ground.

Blood suddenly cloyed the air, frightening many guests at the wedding. They all released yelps and dodged into corners.

Some of those who were more frightened fainted on the spot.

"My God. What technique is that? He just killed over seventy people in one go!"

Somebody cried out after he saw Jack's attack.

"God, that truly is an off-body chi attack. That's not bladework. The attack is too strong. Is that the power of a fighter of the true god status?"

Somebody was so shocked that their mind went blank. They were actually witnessing a fighter of the true god status.

"No way. He's of the true god status!"

The master of the Green Dragon Clan was so scared that his knees trembled. The entire Clan was no match even for a single fighter from the true god status. If the three of them were semi-god fighters at the advanced or peak stage, they could still give Jack a run for his money. However, among the three of them, two were at the beginning stage of the semi-god status, and the other was at the intermediate stage.

They were no match for Jack.

Furthermore, the other two people with him were probably strong fighters as well.

Whoosh whoosh!

While everybody was still in shock, Lana and Ethan rushed out and killed another few dozens of people with their air blades.

"Those two are probably just as strong as Master!"

The elder's face had gone ashen. He never thought that the Green Dragon Clan would fall because of these three people.

"I told you that he's really strong, Father. R-right?"

Shirley, who was standing to the side, gulped nervously. She felt as though she was dreaming.

She was eternally grateful toward Jack, who had saved her as promised, and she was indebted to him.

However, she soon found out that Jack and his friends had offended the Green Dragon Clan. This made her worried-she had thought that Jack had lost the chance to escape Soul City and that she had sentenced Jack to death.

She never thought that the events that unfolded before her would put her on such a rollercoaster ride. Jack was actually powerful far more powerful than she had expected.

"Witnessing this scene, even if I die it is worth it!"

At the entrance, Master Zimmer and the King of War who is a miracle doctor happened to see this spectacular sight after coming over. The two were extremely excited.

"Is that the strength of the Supreme Warrior and the God of War? They are so powerful!"

Master Zimmer gulped and exclaimed.

Chapter 1140

"Supreme Warrior? God of War?"

Someone who happened to be standing by the entrance took a sharp intake of breath after hearing this.

"No wonder I sensed something different about their auras! I never thought that he was the Supreme Warrior!"

Someone exclaimed.

"Sis, I heard someone saying that they're the Supreme Warrior and the Gods of War! Jack must be the former because he's so strong. My God. The Supreme Warrior is my idol!"

Hendrix rushed over to Shirley's side after he heard that. He was so excited that he was practically bouncing.

"He's so cool. I want to marry him!"

Shirley looked moonstruck as she watched Jack's silhouette.

However, she was well aware that she was just an ordinary girl. She was no match for the Supreme Warrior.

He was the man of plenty of girls' dreams.

"That kid is actually the Supreme Warrior..."

Xavien's voice was trembling. He was wondering if he had heard wrong. Before, he had wondered if the kid would actually show up because he was afraid of the Norton family.

He never thought that he would actually turn out to be the Supreme Warrior.

"Keep it down, Dad. Who are you calling a kid? You'll have mobs coming after you if you call him that!"

Hendrix immediately turned sullen when he heard that. He reminded his father with a stony face.

"Heh. You're right. I was too excited. I didn't know what to say

Xavien was internally speechless.

"Did you hear that? Wilton, the people we've offended this time are a Supreme Warrior and two Gods of War!"

The father and son of the Norton family were so frightened that they plopped onto the floor, once they found out. They were goners this time.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The battle before them raged just as fiercely as before.

Yet the people from Green Dragon Clan were all quickly killed. In a few moments, only the heavilyinjured master and the two elders were still standing. The rest were dead.

"What now? Do you still think that we're no match for you?"

Jack flashed a bitter smile toward the trio before him. He spoke softly.

"We were unlucky to run into the Supreme Warrior and the Gods of War!"

The master clenched his teeth." But I'm a man, so I must die a glorious death!"

After he said that, he swiped his blade across his own neck and committed suicide.

Slick slick!

The cool steel of the blades flash ed, and blood sprayed across the air. The two other elders committed suicide as well.

"Father..."

Wilton took up a sword from the ground and looked at his father's body. "It was my fault," he said. " The Norton family wouldn't have fallen like this if I hadn't tried to force Shirley into marrying me!"

"No, it was my fault. I shouldn't have let you do whatever you wanted all these years!"

Todd was remorseful as well. After he said that, he gritted his teeth and committed suicide too.

With his father dead, Wilton also killed himself.

"At least you were a man when you died!"

Jack gave a cold smile at this scene. "Looks like a man will only be truthful when he's about to die!"

"Mr. Supreme Warrior! Gods of War!"

Master Zimmer immediately brought his people over and bowed toward Jack and the others.

"Thank you, Mr. Supreme Warrior and the Gods of War!" No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1141-1145

Chapter 1141

Everyone fell to their knees as well, admiration and gratitude on their faces.

Jack was speechless. He raised his hand toward them. "On your feet!"

After everyone stood up, he spoke to Master Zimmer, "We have business to attend to, Master Zimmer. We can't stay for long. Please take care of the bodies here. The businesses of the Green Dragon Clan have been reverted to the Zimmer family now. Tell them that I, the Supreme Warrior, said this if anyone asks!"

Here, he turned his head to look at Shirley and the others. "Meanwhile, the businesses of the Norton family are reverted to the Lancaster family!"

"Don't worry, Supreme Warrior. We know what to do!"

Master Zimmer was elated. With those words, the Zimmer family could become a powerful family in Starvane City.

Of course, since Jack said that the Zimmer family might have to watch over the Lancaster family as well. After all, the Zimmer family had been able to reap the benefits with no efforts because Jack had saved Shirley Lancaster.

After Jack thought about it, he added, "Right, we ruined this hotel. We can't just let this issue slide. Help me compensate the boss with one billion bucks!"

The hotel boss and his staff were at the entrance. They had been thinking that they could only bow to their misfortune. After all, they were not lacking money, opening such a big hotel.

After hearing Jack's words, they were touched. "You truly think of us commoners, Supreme Warrior!" they cried out.

"Hah. All right. We should get going. I'll see you when I see you!"

Jack laughed and kept his sword. He got ready to leave with Lana and Ethan.

"Wait!"

At this moment, Shirley could not contain her excitement any longer. She rushed toward Jack and said, "You said that we're friends. I didn't even get to thank you!"

"I'm just helping out a friend. No need to thank me."

Jack gave a wan smile. He studied the young woman clad in a wedding dress before him. He had to admit that she was good-looking.

"I have to!"

Shirley pursed her lips. She seemed slightly angry.

"All right then!"

Jack shrugged his shoulders helplessly.

He never thought that Shirley's cheeks would redden; she tiptoed and planted a kiss on his cheek." All right," she whispered shyly. "I' m done thanking you!"

Jack was stunned. He never thought this would happen.

"Ah, that girl..."

Xavien shook his head and smiled as he watched this. It seemed that his daughter's heart had truly been moved.

"I'm going off first!"

Jack's cheeks reddened as well. He walked forward.

"Thank you!"

Shirley grinned as she watched him leave. She could never be with him, but she believed that the memory of this brave kiss would always remain as a beautiful image in her life.

There may even be plenty of other girls who admired her bravery in the future.

Shirley kept staring at the entrance long even after Jack and the others had left. Her lips were curved into a sweet smile.

"I have something good here, Sis. Heh. But you'll have to pay for it!"

Hendrix ran over at this moment and spoke, grinning.

"I have to pay you? Dream on!"

Shirley rolled her eyes. "You even told me to marry that useless Wilton. Consider yourself lucky that I'm not putting you in debt!"

"Sis, I never thought that he'd be such a rotten character!"

Hendrix put on an innocent expression. "Besides, I did it for the Lancaster family. I had no choice!"

After he said that, he probed further, "Are you sure you don't want this? I took a picture of the moment you kissed the Supreme Warrior. You sure you don't want the photo? If not, I'll delete it!"

Chapter 1142

"Really? Are you lying to me?"

Shirley was delighted when she heard this. It would be fantastic if she had a picture to commemorate the occasion.

Besides, plenty of her friends would be very envious if she showed such a picture to them.

Hendrix quickly thrust his phone toward her. The picture had been taken at the perfect moment-just as Shirley was kissing Jack's face. The lighting in the background created a dreamlike effect.

"What do you think? I'm not bad, eh? This picture is perfect!"

Hendrix was happy when he saw the smile on his sister's face.

"How much is it?"

Shirley's smile was absolutely radiant. She looked like a young woman blossoming into life at the moment.

"Heh. I was joking. I don't have the guts to ask you for money. Since the Norton family's businesses are now ours, and you helped us a ton!"

Hendrix chuckled. "You were amazing, being able to recognize that Jack is such a powerful man! It's a pity that he's out of our league. I'd want to marry him if I were a girl, never mind you. It's a pity, but we'll just chalk all of this up to fate!"

"You've really grown through this incident. You're so much more mature than before!"

Shirley stared at her little brother. She was taken aback by his words.

At that moment, Jack and the others had arrived at the airport.

"Heh. I never thought you would have a mini affair here in Starvane, Master!"

Lana gave a sneaky smile as she watched Jack.

His stupefied expression when he had been kissed really tickled her bones.

She never thought that the Number 1 Supreme Warrior of Cathysia-and its only Supreme Warrior-would be so flummoxed in such situations!

"Heh. What affair? We're just friends. It's nothing... Don't spout nonsense when you get back!"

Jack suddenly felt awkward and nervous when he heard that.

"It's nothing? Do you really think that a woman will simply kiss another man? She's the first daughter of the Lancaster family and has never been in love before. That beauty actually kissed you. Do you think she thinks you as 'just a friend'?"

Lana could not resist jabbing Jack when she saw his expression. Honestly, she herself had been surprised at the moment, and she admired the girl for her guts.

"Anyway, don't let my wife know about this. She might misunderstand me! I really have nothing going on with Miss Lancaster!"

Jack reminded them.

"Hah. Don't worry, Master. We've been by your side all this time. We won't testify even if Selena finds out. Besides, being kissed by a girl just means that you're attractive, Master. And you're not the forward type, are you?"

Ethan also grinned. "But I'm sure that you'll have another wife if you were a little more forward, Master!"

Lana rolled her eyes at him. "He's not a two-timing man like that. Miss Tanya and Miss Sharon would have long been with him if he loved women more!"

After she said that, she studied Jack's face. "Eh, there's still traces of lipstick on your face, Master," she said. "It's not obvious, but you can tell it's there if you look closely!"

Chapter 1143

Jack took a sharp intake of breath when he heard this. "Where?" he said, panicking. "Help me wipe it off quickly!"

Lana could not help but grin at his flustered demeanor. She took out a piece of wet tissue. "Don't worry," she said. "I've got wet tissue here. I'll wipe it off for you!"

As she spoke, she pressed the wet tissue against Jack's face and carefully wiped the lipstick stain off.

The two were very close. Lana's heart pounded wildly as she was mere inches away from Jack's handsome profile.

After a while, she stepped backward, her cheeks slightly flushed. "All-all done!"

"Thank you!"

Jack nodded his head. "It's about time. Let's go. We should get back. Everything went by very smoothly, and we've got all the herbs we need. We can find a proper antidote for my father now."

“All right. Let’s go!”

Lana threw the wet tissue into a trashcan nearby. The three quickly got onto the plane and left.

At that moment, in the White family’s estate.

Lily’s expression was grim. She called Dean and Yolanda. “What’s going on? It’s already been a few days. You still can’t find Jack? Which branch family did he go to? You two had better think of a way to kill him, understand? And you can’t let the members of the branch families witness it!”

On the other side of the phone, Dean flashed a bitter smile. “First Madam, we’ve visited over a dozen branch families over these past few days, and it shouldn’t have been a problem catching up to Jack, with our speed. But we don’t know why the branch families are all saying that Jack never came over. Not even one!”

“No way. Jack and his friends should have visited at least half of the branch families by now. No way that the ones you visited all so happened to be the ones he hasn’t visited yet.”

Lily’s features abruptly darkened after she heard that. She scrunched her brows together. “No. We’ve been fooled!”

“We’ve been fooled? How?”

Dean was confused.

“We’ve been fooled by Jack. That brat never had any intention to visit the branch families. He must have gone to some other place. He must have revealed that bit of information to us on purpose!”

The more Lily thought about it, the angrier she felt. It was highly likely that that was the case. After all,

Dean and Yolanda should have caught up to Jack a long time ago, with their strength. Even if they could not catch up, they should have been able to find him at the branch families.

Yet they had not seen hide nor hair of Jack and his friends even after visiting so many branch families. That was why they must have fallen into a trap.

“Sh*t. So you’re saying that he was just toying around with us?”

Dean was so angry that he wanted to spew blood. He was a fighter at the beginner stage of the true god status, and he had been led in circles by the nose.

“That’s right. That brat never went to the branch families. You’ve wasted your time and energy!” Lily was internally speechless as well. She felt sorry for Dean and Yolanda since it was her who had ordered them on this wild goose chase.

However, she had no way around it. How could she have known that Jack was so cunning that he would spread a false rumor just to trick them?

“Basically, this kid is being cautious against you!”

Dean released a sigh. Jack does not look very matured however credit must be given for his wits.

Chapter 1144

Lily nodded her head slowly. "It was my mistake. I had been very much against him since he arrived at the White family.

He must be suspecting that I had ordered the White family members to kill him. That's why he's on his guard. It won't be easy to kill him now!"

"That's right. He would not have thought that it was you who sent people after him at the beginning. But once he came here, it was you who most vehemently disliked his presence, so of course, he would suspect you. First Madam, if you had shown that you could accept him from the start, and if you had been nicer toward him he would never have suspected you."

Here, Dean paused for a while before continuing, "This way, it would be far easier to act against him, since he has no walls around you."

The realization shook Lily's core, but she knew that it was too late. "Ah, can't do anything about it now. You know what my temper is like. I don't know if Lance is dead or alive, and Jack snatched the head of the house position just like that. How could I have been able to hold it in?"

She paused before continuing. That brat is my nemesis. How can I put on a smiling mask before my nemesis?"

Since the call was on hands-free mode, Yolanda heard everything clearly.

Only did she found out that Lily was the one who sent assassins after Jack. She was such a vicious woman.

Meanwhile, Jack was able to return to the White family and become the house heir. Now, he had fooled them all. It was clear that he was clever.

She wanted to tell Lily to let go of her grudges, but she was well aware that it was an impossible task.

"What do we do now, First Madam? Since we've been fooled, returns? Then we'll be waiting in vain."

Dean was aghast. "There must be a time limit to this, First Madam," he said reluctantly. "We can't just keep waiting."

Lily thought that his words made sense too. She spoke after a moment of silence, "I think Nash has two months to live at most," she said. "No matter where Jack goes, he won't abandon his father when he's on his death bed. It's possible that he'll return soon. So you'll need to keep watch for two months at most. You may return if he doesn't show up after two months."

Dean thought about it, then spoke, smiling, "First Madam, this won't be a problem, but we're exhausted RE MASTER after running around these few days for nothing. We'll have to get more compensation if you're asking us to keep watch for two months. We should talk more about the fees!"

Lily was speechless for a while. "Don't worry. I'll give you two stalks of first-grade premium spirited grass. That'll work, right?"

Two stalks of first-grade premium spirited grass was a very tempting offer.

Yet Lily never thought that Dean would speak these words, "Two stalks? First Madam, you should at least give us three stalks for this, no?"

"Three? If I give you three each, I'll be giving you six in total! You should just rob me!"

Chapter 1145

Lily burned with anger at the other end of the phone. "What happens if you fail? What if Jack gets away?" She bellowed.

Dean immediately assured Lily. "Don't you worry. If we failed the task and let that brat get away, we won't be taking a single spirited grass at all! But if we succeed, then you must give each of us three spirited grass, how about that?"

"No way! It's too much. The best I could offer is two spirited grass per person!"

After Lily gave the matter some thought, she still felt that three spirited grass per person was a little bit too much.

Besides, she was the First Madam, she should be respected.

Dean was too insatiable right now. Lily had given him spirited grass before, and she did not expect that this time Dean had asked for three first -grade premium spirited grass instead.

"Oh, is that so? In that case, First Madam, I'm sorry that I couldn't serve you this time."

Dean sneered coldly and continued, "Yolanda and I returned in a critical period - when the weather has begun to turn cold.

Moreover, we'll be incarcerated in the ghostlike mountain top for two months and all this suffering is not even worth three spirited grass. So, I'm afraid that we'd pull out from this plan!"

Dean understood the situation thoroughly. The current Lily was overpowered with hatred and anger that she could not wait to end Jack's life in the next second. Hence, he knew that Lily would not want to miss such an opportunity-Jack left the main White residence.

Once she missed it, there would be no opportunity as good as this in the future anymore.

As expected, Lily was in a state of panic when Dean wanted to pull out of the plan. "Don't, don't! Everything is negotiable!

Three spirited grass, I can give them to you, but you have to promise me to keep this a secret, okay?"

"Don't worry, it's safe with us!"

Dean smiled the second Lily agreed to their request. "Alright then, that's the deal! First Madam, please be rest assured and wait for the good news!"

"Alright. I'm not too worry about the both of you, you two are powerful fighters who already reached the early stage of the true god realm. It shouldn't be much of a challenge to kill that brat and his little friends. But please do keep a close eye while you're waiting on the mountain! Don't miss them!"

Lily nodded and only then did she hang up the phone.

After hanging up the phone, Lily could not help but jeered icily, "Dean Lagorio, what a greedy fox! Yolanda didn't even think about getting a reward, but he is sly and knows what to ask. Three firstgrade premium spirited grass? Hmph!"

Dean, on the other end of the line, looked at Yolanda on the side and laughed, "Yolanda, don't you think your brother is smart and great? I' m able to get a better deal with just one phone call. If we let the old hag Lily offer us, she wouldn't make such an offer and twospirited grass would be her limit!"

Yolanda gave a reluctant smile and said, "You're indeed smart and great. The offer is indeed very tempting."

"Hehe! You have to buy me a drink to thank me then! This is what I fought for you. You just stood aside and didn't say a word!"

Dean paused for a few seconds and continued.

"You've said what I've wanted to say! What else do I have to say!"

Yolanda rolled her eyes at Dean before flying into the sky and said, "Let's go, we have to speed up too, otherwise we might miss out on the other party if he arrived home today!" No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1146-1150

Chapter 1146

"Hahaha! You're right, Yolanda! Let's go!"

Dean flew up to the sky together with Yolanda. Looking at Yolanda's delicate figure from behind, Dean could not help but swallow his saliva hard.

This woman possessed an alluring body figure-plump chest, slender waist, and full b*tt cheeks. When she flew in the air, the lock of black hair flew according to the wind current, how fascinating!

Although she was not as alluring and charming as Jack's wife and his friend, among the people he knew, her body and features were one of the few.

"My dear Yolanda, I'll own you one day! Then I'll sleep with you and you'll obey me! You'll be my obedient little woman beside me!"

Gazing at the back of Yolanda, Dean thought while smiling to himself.

As both did not stop for a break, they arrived at the top of the high mountain hill only a few miles away from the main residence of the White family in the afternoon.

"Yolanda, I found that you're not much of a talker, are you? You didn't talk all the way here! You're too aloof and indifferent, don't you think so?"

Dean asked as he sat on a huge boulder with a green bristlegrass between his lips.

"Is it? Indeed, I prefer quietness and serenity. But indifference is not the word."

Yolanda smiled bitterly, then the space went silent again. Yolanda pondered about something and suddenly she turned to Dean, "Dean, I truly think that Jack is incomparably smart and talented. For example, like this time, although he had tricked us, I have to admit that if such a person could be the head of the White family, he would definitely be able to develop and make the White family stronger and better, don't you think so?"

Dean nodded in return to show his agreement. "Indeed, in terms of talent and intelligence, even in all aspects, Jack is a step above Lance, there's no doubt about it!"

Yolanda was happy and her eyes lit up immediately upon hearing Dean's words. "Really? You really think so too?"

"Of course! I'm not a fool, naturally, I can see it!"

Dean responded casually though he was a little puzzled as to why Yolanda would say that.

"Hmmm... How about this? Let's not kill Jack and forget about the deal?"

Yolanda looked at Dean and asked in a tentative tone. "Think about it, Master White is dying, and if Young Master Jack dies too, then who's going to be the head of the White family in the future? Although First Madam holds the belief that Young Master Lance is still alive, we all know that he's dead.

As for Young Master Hudson, he is ten times worse than Jack!" Yolanda added.

Dean's expression dulled in the next second upon hearing Yolanda's words. "Yolanda, how can you think like that?"

Think harder about it, we've promised the First Madam to kill Jack, if we didn't do it, then we've offended the First Madam!

Secondly, even if we don't kill Jack and let him go, the First Madam will have other people go after him anyways!"

Dean halted for a moment and continued, "Besides, you and I are both Lagorios, we're part of the Lagorio family. Thanks to the First Madam, we're able to have what we have today, to become the Patronums of a great reclusive family. We must repay her kindness toward us too. Besides, Jack is merely an outsider who came from a secular world. He's an illegitimate son of White, so I think it's best to kill him!"

Yolanda was rendered speechless. She had wanted to convince Dean to give up, but to her surprise, Dean possessed no such intention at all.

However, she was still holding on to some hope and said to Dean with a determined voice, "In fact, we can pretend that we missed out on Jack and the others; we didn't manage to find them. In such a way, we won't offend the First Madam, at the same time, Jack and the others can live, right? We can just think of a reasonable excuse like Jack and his friends use the other route and so on. That's logical and reasonable!"

"No, no, no, Yolanda, you can't think like that. Okay, even if we aren't Lagorios, Jack is worth killing for the sake of the three first-grade premium spirited grass! We should kill them!"

Chapter 1147

Dean said smilingly in an icy cold tone, "Do you not want us to be able to break through to the middle or even late stage of the true god realm sooner? We're geniuses who are considered relatively young. If we are able to break through, we'll be promoted to elders in no time! Besides, Jack is destined to die, whether it's killed by us or others. So don't try to persuade me anymore."

"Well, I just feel that it's quite a pity for such an intelligent and talented person to die. After all, Nash White is a good leader, and he has always been good and kind to us. He didn't treat us as outsiders at all!"

Yolanda peeped at Dean as she said, she was still fighting as hard as she could

Yolanda was having inner turmoil lately because she truly did not want to see a fine and potential heir of the White family be murdered by them.

She felt especially sorry for Jack's father. On top of that, she had also witnessed the greatness and excellence of Jack these days, hence she really admired and respected Jack from the bottom of her heart.

Lance was nowhere to be found right now, and nobody knew if he was dead or alive. If Jack died too, then no one would be the family head, by then internal war and fight over the position of the family head would be unavoidable. The White family took a lot to become one of the Eight Reclusive Families, it would be such a waste to see it get ruined because of this.

At this time, three silhouettes appeared within their sight.

"There are three people over there. Look, two men and one woman. Heh! It must be Jack and his little friends!"

On a narrow and rough road, came a group of three, pacing slowly toward the direction of Dean and Yolanda. Dean shot up from the boulder with a happy face.

Dean laughed out loud. "They are like three walking spirited grass! Let's go, Yolanda!"

Dean stomped on his feet and flew straight in the direction of the mountain foot as soon as he finished his sentence.

"Sigh!"

Yolanda, on the other hand, heaved a huge sigh of defeat, and then she followed closely behind Dean.

As soon as Jack and the two passed through a forest, they spotted Dean and Yolanda, who were standing in front of them, waiting for them.

"You guys are from the White family, right?"

Jack looked at the other party and halted immediately. "Oh wow! I didn't expect someone to be waiting for us here!"

Dean, however, clasped his arms in front of his chest and jeered with a cold smile, "Young Master Jack, you're quite observant, aren't you? It's only during the competition in the White family that perhaps you've seen both of us in the crowd. I didn't expect you to recognize us as members of the White family!"

Dean stopped for a second before continuing with a confident tone, "Indeed, we're from the White family, but our surname is Lagorio, now you know what's the deed, right?"

We're waiting for you here and you should know why we 're here"

Chapter 1148

"Heh! If I remember correctly, you two should still be the Patronums of the White family, right?"

Jack gave a wan smile, looking unconcerned. "Two guardians of the White family came all the way here for me, surely you didn't come here to say hi to me. So, most likely you're here to kill me, right?" Jack stared at both of them nonchalantly.

"Clever! You're very clever, aren't you? You know what we came here for!"

Dean snorted coldly, "We're Lagorios, we've no choice. First Madam introduced us to the White family and for us to work as Patronum. We've to repay First Madam's kindness to us, besides, the benefits she is offering us for killing you are attractive. Anyhow, we should kill you."

"Hahaha! Moreover, you guys are not on good terms with me, nor do you have a good relationship with me, right?"

Jack chimed in and finished Dean's sentence. "But, it's really good for you guys to tell me that First Madam has her target on my back? Aren't you afraid that you won't be able to kill me, and I'll get away?" Jack continued.

"Nah, even if we don't say it, you'll know who's behind this. Besides both of us are strong fighters with true god level. It's easy-peasy for us to kill the three of you. Furthermore, you can't even control the chi and use it to attack, and your flying speed is definitely not as fast as ours, how on earth are you going fight with us or even escape from us?"

Dean spoke confidently with an unperturbed tone. He then flipped his palm and a fine sword appeared in his hand.

"Kiddo, anyhow, I admire your bravery and intelligence. You tricked us and made us merry-go-round, traveling from one branch to another branch doing nothing. But, I guess you didn't expect that we found out your dirty trick this early and are waiting here for your return, right? Hehe! Today I'll send you to the underworld with my own hands!"

When the last syllabus of Dean's word ended, he held firmly the sword and shook his arm-flows of chi inoculated into the fine sword in his hand.

Bang!

However, little did everyone on the scene know, a palm with terrifying force blasted in Dean's back. It was from Yolanda.

"Pfft!"

A mouthful of blood was spurted out of Dean's mouth and he eventually fell to the ground, spilling another mouthful of blood onto the ground.

This blast had wounded Dean severely. He used almost all his strength only then barely managed to roll himself over and face upward. He looked at Yolanda in disbelief, "Yolanda, why did you do that? How dare you strike at me!"

This scene was something that Jack, Lana, and Ethan did not expect. Their eyes went wide and filled with surprise.

"Dean, I'm sorry. Master White is a good leader and he has always treated us well. Besides, I don't want to see a talented man fall here. If he dies, the White family sooner or later will be ruined!"

Yolanda took out her fine sharp sword and slowly paced toward Dean. Her eyes are guileless yet intense. "I believe in Young Master Jack's leadership skill and under his leadership, the White family will grow stronger and go further. I can't stand to watch the only hope of the White family end in our hands!"

Once Yolanda ended her sentence, she shut her eyes firmly and swung her arm in the direction of Dean who was lying on the ground.

Swoosh!

A sword aura shot out and Dean's life was ended.

"Yolanda Lagorio?"

Chapter 1149

The corners of Jack's mouth curled upward. "I didn't see this coming. I didn't expect this Pratonum to take our side this time. She did her job as a protector of the White family!"

Yolanda put away the sword in her hand then she bowed to Jack, "I was in a huge dilemma for a long time, but in the end, I couldn't bring myself to kill you. So, I hope that Young Master Jack, you'll train harder and grow up quicker, and not make me regret my decision today!"

Jack nodded and studied the woman in front of him. She could tell right from wrong and pick a right side. "Don't worry. I will not let their treacherous plans succeed!"

Jack paused for a moment then continued, "Hmmm...but right now, you failed the task given by Lily!"

Yolanda had thought about it before. "I have no other choice but to do this. After I return to her, I'll report that you have already reached the early stage of the true god realm and you're stronger than both of us combined together. Dean was too careless and gullible that he was killed by you. And I barely managed to get away from three of you. Sounds good?" She suggested.

Before Jack could intervene, Yolanda spoke again in a hurried tone, "But if I report to her this way, Young Master Jack, after your return this time, you can't leave the White's main residence anytime as you wish anymore. Otherwise, the First Madam would definitely find someone else to slit your throat, then your real fighting prowess will be exposed."

"Besides, I truly hope that you'll be able to break through to the true god realm as soon as possible so that the First Madam will not suspect my story!" Yolanda added.

After hearing Yolanda's words, Jack tried his very best to hold back his laughter but he failed. He waved his palm and suddenly terrifying wave of chi shot out from his palm and blew off a large tree not far away from the group.

“What the...”

Yolanda’s eyes went wide as large as saucers and her jaw nearly touched the ground. “You...you’re already in the true god realm?” She asked in a surprised tone.

“Haha! I’ve never said that I was at the peak of the semi-god realm! That’s just what you all think. I’m actually at the early stage of the true god realm. But, just in case, this time going back to the White’s main residence, I should try to reach the middle stage of the true god realm. So that if anything happens in the White family, I have the ability to protect myself.”

Jack chortled aloud. Since Yolanda had not thought of betraying the White family, and she even went out to offend Lily to help him, he did not intend to continue hiding his true strength from this Pratronum.

He should at least let the other party trust him and have hope in him so that the other party felt worthy for what she just did.

“Oh my, I didn’t expect that you’re already at the early stage of the true god level. Judging from the richness and thickness of your chi just now, I think even if Dean and I really fought you, we might not be your opponent, right?”

After Yolanda thought about it, she could only laugh at herself bitterly in her heart. Nevertheless, she somewhat was a little glad for her decision just now, if they really fought, it was highly likely that they would be killed by Jack not to mention slitting Jack’s throat and completing their task.

Shock and surprise gnawed at her insides. That was the right decision she had made just now. With such a talented man like Jack, he could kill Lance, other geniuses, and fighters of the other seven reclusive families.

“Alright, Miss Lagorio, you head on first, we’ll go right afterward!”

Jack bobbed and spoke.

“Alright! I’ll be telling that to the aligned!”

Yolanda turned to Jack and reminded. She then lifted up her palm and blasted against her own chest. With a muffled grunt, she spewed a mouthful of blood and her face went pale. After that, she stomped and flew straight to the direction of the main residence of the White family.

“Hmmm... Looks like not all Lagorios are bad. There are quite a few Lagorios who are loyal to the White family!” Jack uttered with emotion, fixing his gaze at the back of Yolanda in the air.

Chapter 1150

It was a warm afternoon; Lily was ready to take a break.

Suddenly, Yolanda barged into her room at a lightning speed.

“Yolanda? Why are you here? Didn’t I call you a moment ago and ask you to wait at the mountain to ambush Jack and the others? What’s wrong? Don’t tell me you’re not satisfied with three first-grade premium spirited grass?”

When Lily saw that the intruder was Yolanda, she barked with an unpleasant tone.

Nevertheless, just as she finished her words, she noticed that Yolanda’s face was unsightly. “What’s wrong? Are you injured?” Lily fretted aloud.

Yolanda was gasping so loud as though she had a ruptured lung. She finally calmed herself down, sat down, and uttered, "I barely managed to come back alive. We were waiting for Jack and they appeared not long after..."

Lily's face immediately lit up at the news. "What about Jack? Is he dead now? And you're injured during the battle because Jack was quite strong? Where's Dean though? Why didn't he come back with you?" Lily tilted with a happy mood.

Yolanda lifted her head and faced Lily, only then she spilled out some words with a gloomy face. "First Madam, Dean...Dean will not return here anymore. That brat, Jack, has actually reached the early stage of the true god realm! We didn't expect that at all! Dean died because he underestimated Jack's power and charged toward Jack without thinking twice. Jack killed him. As for me, after Dean died, I was under the siege of the three of them. I barely managed to stay alive and ran away!"

Terror and fear thundered down on Lily that she stumbled several steps back upon hearing Yolanda's report. "Impossible, how is it possible? The two of you are not their opponents? Even worse, Dean was killed? That brat has fighting prowess of a true god level?" Lily shook her head with a face full of disbelief; she tried to deny the truth.

"First Madam, actually, if Dean hadn't underestimated the opponent, he definitely wouldn't have died, and he would have fought together with me, we'd have hope in winning!"

Yolanda plastered a bitter smile on her face. "How could we have imagined that Jack has reached the early stage of the true god realm? After Dean died from his recklessness, I had to deal with three by myself, which was even more cumbersome for me. So I had no choice but to flee!"

"I didn't expect that at all. Jack is hiding so deep that none of us knew he was already at the early stage of the true god realm!"

Lily squinted firmly and then said, "That brat clearly did not use his full strength during the competition some time ago. He did not reveal his martial status of true god level. If he had used a chi attack during the competition, I believe all of us would have known he was already in the true god realm. Dang it! From the looks of it, that brat has been being cautious around us!"

At the side, Yolanda smiled bitterly, "First Madam, that was because you have been targeting him since the beginning, and he already knew about your motive, so it's easier for him to guard against you. Not to mention, you've sent someone to kill him before!"

Yolanda halted as she spoke. Her eyes were suddenly filled up with dread and terror. "First Madam, what should we do now? That brat may have already been back by now! Will he tell Nash White about us? Will he tell the First Elder? Will they kill me? First Madam, if Master White and the others want to kill me, you must protect me!" Yolanda cried with a trembling voice.

"Don't worry. Jack is no fool! He won't choose to go against us right now. I'm certain that he will let this slide, pretending not to know anything!"

Lily, on the other hand, sneered coldly yet confidently.

In fact, Yolanda knew that Jack would definitely let this incident slide, but to gain Lily's trust, she had to say it on purpose.

Yolanda deliberately released an audible sigh of relief upon hearing Lily's assurance. "That's good then. I was truly scared to death just now. Even now I still feel that I'll be the next Dean if I didn't flee in time. And I was really afraid that Jack would report this incident to Master Nash. After all, Jack is only afraid of you and the Third Elder but not of me. I'm just a Patronum, merely a protector of the White family. I can't stop thinking 'what if Jack wants to kill me?'"

"Heh! Don't worry, it won't happen. Jack is a smart guy. He knows that you're my people, so he'll definitely pretend nothing has happened. But, if he is daring enough to make trouble, I'll protect you, you have nothing to worry!"

Lily clenched her fist as she gave Yolanda her promise.No.1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1151-1155

Chapter 1151

"Sigh! It's a pity that I didn't manage to end his life this time. I'll leave to treat my injuries first!"

Yolanda bowed to Lily and wheeled around, preparing to leave.

"Hold on!"

Lily called out to Yolanda.

Yolanda's heart leaped into her throat when Lily called out to her. Did she say something inconsistent, and Lily found out? Why did Lily call her?

However, to her surprise, Lily flipped her hand and a first-grade premium spirited grass appeared on her palm.

She turned around, facing Yolanda, and gestured to her to take the spirited grass. "Although we have an agreement before, that you won't get any spirited grass if you failed the mission, you were injured this time, so I'll give you one anyway. I hope you'll improve faster and reach the middle stage of the true god realm soon. You're talented; once you've reached the middle stage of the true god realm, I'll find an opportunity to promote you to an elder!"

"Thank you so much, First Madam!"

Yolanda nodded with a happy grin on her face as she took the spirited grass. She then left the scene.

After leaving Lily's residence, Yolanda strolled for a while, only then did she sigh aloud in her heart.

Lily was very sensitive and skeptical; if she sensed something strange, Yolanda would be in big trouble.

At this time, Jack and the others have returned to their residence respectively.

"Dear, you're finally back! You've been out for days and I'm worried sick!"

Selena skipped toward Jack, jumped into his embrace, and hugged him tightly the moment Jack stepped in.

After all, Lily and her gang were vicious and sly foxes; they were not easy to deal with. Although the strong fighter-the Third Elder had gone for a martial retreat, the White family still had many other strong fighters. What if the vicious gang had sent out a powerful elite to kill Jack and he was not able to fight against him? Would not Jack's life be jeopardized?

"Hehe, don't worry. Everything is within my control!" Jack answered, smiling. "Well, it's true that today when I came back, I ran into the people that Lily had sent to kill me!"

Jack added nonchalantly.

"Oh no! Didn't you bring them on a merry go around by saying you're going to the branch families of the White? How did the assassins manage to find you?"

Selena was sweating from fear and her voice was edged with panic upon hearing Jack's encounter.

"The assassins are pretty smart. After going around, searching for a few days, they knew they were tricked. So, they ambushed us on the way back to the White's main residence!"

Jack smiled while hugging Selena. "However, one of the two assassins named Yolanda is loyal to the White family. At the critical moment, she killed her companion and asked me to cooperate with her in lying and hiding the truth from Lily!"

Chapter 1152

"I see. Lily would probably be furious to death if she knew that the people she sent to kill you took your side!"

Selena burst out in laughter after hearing Jack's utterance.

"She can't know any of these! If she finds out, Yolanda will be in big trouble!"

Jack chuckled together with Selena, then he loosened his arms, letting Selena go. He walked toward the coffee table, poured himself a cup of tea then sit down on the chair nearby.

"Yolanda is a kind and loyal person. We can definitely rely on her in the future. Besides, I believe there should be quite a number of Lagorios who work for the White family and are loyal to the White. After all, Lily's sly behavior and those dirty trick of hers have disappointed some of the Lagorios." Jack uttered as he took a sip of the tea.

Selena nodded her head in agreement. She sat down beside Jack and added, "That's so true. But, in the future, how can you distinguish clearly which of these people are on your side, and which of them belong to Lily's side? It's difficult to know someone's mind!"

Jack's forehead puckered as well. "Indeed, it's difficult to know people's minds. But when the time comes, we can ask Yolanda about it. And if there's no other way but to fight, we'll fight. By that time, we should know who's taking our side!"

"You're right. Also, have you found all the herbs needed to treat your father? It should be tough to find all of them, right?"

Selena popped another question, with a concerned look hanging on her face.

"It's indeed hard and strenuous to get all of it. But fortunately, I've gathered all of the herbs!"

Jack smiled. "It's getting late now. I'll get some rest, and tomorrow morning I'll make the pill for Father. After taking the pill for a few days, Father should be well. By that time, when the Third Elder comes back from the martial retreat, he wouldn't be a match for Father!"

"That's amazing!"

The heavy boulder inside Selena finally lifted as she heaved a huge sigh of relief. As long as Nash recovers from the poison, nobody in the White family could ever be his opponent. Even if the Third Elder teamed up with some other wolves, they were definitely not Nash's opponents.

"By the way, Dear, when I was away, did you use the Chi congregation pills that I gave you in your martial training? You have good talent, and those pills will help elevate you to the next level faster."

Jack quickly thought of something and he asked, "You were a third-grade martial artist before I left, and I guess if you weren't lazy these few days, you should be a sixth-grade martial artist by now, right? But even if you were slacking, with the aid of the pills, you should be at least a fifth-grade martial artist!"

"When you were not home, I was bored to death and once I stayed still and do nothing, I'd be worried sick for you. So, I might as well train hard every day to kill time. This way, the time passed by super fast! Sometimes, it feels like I was just starting to train but the day has already ended! Hehe! So, the conclusion is, your dear lovely wife is not slacking at all!"

Selena laughed with her face full of smugness.

Looking at Selena's smug look, Jack could not help but chuckle. It looks like my dear lovely wife is already a sixth-grade martial artist! Congratulations, Dear!"

"Who said I'm a sixth-grade martial artist?"

Selena, in return, barked at Jack and shot him a deadly stare. "My brother is a sixth-grade martial artist, and I'm already an eight-grade martial artist! Didn't you say it before? That I'm super-duper talented! Hehe! After I underwent the purification of my body, I was already a third-grade! With such raw talent, an eight-grade martial artist is definite!"

The corner of Jack's mouth twitched involuntarily a few times. How could he have imagined that his wife has already become an eighth-grade martial artist in such a short time?

That was way beyond his expectations!

Chapter 1153

"Wonderful! That's wonderful!"

Jack nodded with satisfaction. "In that case, let's strive to reach the grandmaster level! You're only considered a strong and powerful martial artist once you've stepped into this threshold!"

"For me to become a grandmaster, I don't think there'll be any problem. But, to break through to the semi-god level, I'm afraid that it will take me ample time. Because I found out that it's rather easy to train and improve at the early stages but the higher the level, the more difficult and slower it is to breakthrough!"

Selena had her eyebrows snapped together as she uttered.

Jack smiled bitterly in return. "That's reality. The gap of difficulty to train between the grandmaster and the highest-grade martial artist is wide, but, at the same time, the strength and power that a grandmaster possesses is a whole lot greater than the highest-grade martial artist. Once you reach the grandmaster level, you'll learn about chi energy, to control it is difficult. Hence, it's tough to climb when you're a grandmaster; it needs not only talent but patience and hard work."

Jack paused and studied Selena for a while, fearing that what he said would discourage Selena. "Your raw talent is greater than anyone else. You'll certainly reach the grandmaster level and semi god-level faster than others!" Jack comforted. "But I want to give you a piece of advice, don't merely seek to breakthrough and reach the other levels blindly, you need to spend time to feel the strength of your current level and comprehend it thoroughly. Feel the strength and the chi energy before continuing to breakthrough to another level, especially after reaching the grandmaster level!"

Selena bobbed her head. "Yea, you're right. After all, Ethan, Lana, and the other Gods of War have trained for so long before they became strong in the semi-god level. I can't be impatient and rush myself. It's always better to take one step at a time and have my feet on the grind!"

After pondering critically, Jack then said, "The reason why you could reach the eight-grade martial level in such a short time, I believe it's because of the raw talent you possess, coupled with the training technique. Although the martial art technique has no name and they obtain it through a random occasion, when I looked at it, it seems complex."

"Is that so? That's amazing!"

Selena smiled and then she added, "My brother has been devastated lately when he saw that I've become a martial artist two grades higher than him."

"Right. Dear, it's getting late. Let's go to the town at the foot of the mountain to get a good dinner, barbecue or something else. That town is near to the White residence. If we go out later in the night, Lily and her snakes will not find out!"

"Besides, her men lost to me some time ago, they probably wouldn't think that I would go down the mountain and have fun at this time!"

After thinking about it, Jack held Selena's hand and said, with hopeful eyes.

"Alright then. I have been staying in for quite some time now. It's good to go out for a change!"

Selena smiled sweetly at Jack and nodded her head as though she was a mother who gave permission to her son--Jack.

After a while, when the sky turned darker, Jack and Selena went down the mountain without anybody knowing.

The town at the foot of the mountain was lively and prosperous. Although it was a small town, the structures and its liveliness were comparable to a city.

The town being in close vicinity to the White residence was blessed with various businesses that traded martial resources and materials. Besides, the natural chi energy around the mountain was not weak, hence there were quite a number of martial fighters gathered around here.

Moreover, there were even some prominent families staying at the foot of this mountain and some of them were strong fighters of the semi-god level.

But, of course, there were only a few of them of the semi-god level.

Chapter 1154

"Honey, it's so bustling and lively down here. It's just like an ancient town; everywhere is full of ancient aura and flavor! I'm starting to fall in love with this town!"

Selena strolled on the streets of the town and could not help but exclaimed at the ancient beauty of the town. The crowd of pedestrians, traders, shoppers, and others could be seen walking on the busy street. Some of them were wearing primordial yet fancy clothes, some of the men grew their hair long on purpose. If it weren't because some were clothed slightly more contemporary and there were mobile phones in their hands, Jack and Selena would think that they had traveled back in time.

"Dear, if you were to wear those ancient costumes, you'll definitely look stunning!"

Jack noticed a shop selling ancient clothes not too far away; he then pulled Selena into the shop.

"Dear, try it!"

"Umm...okay. But it's embarrassing!"

Selena's cheeks were kissed pink. Nevertheless, she picked a few sets of clothing and tried them on.

"Oh my... Dear, you're absolutely stunning! If you were born in ancient eras, you'd still be the Queen of Beauty!"

Enjoying the view of Selena wearing the ancient costumes, Jack nodded in satisfaction.

"Shameless! We already had a kid this big! How can you praise me like that without feeling embarrassed!"

Selena blushed and responded in a shy tone. She stared fiercely at Jack.

"We'll buy all these! Dear, you don't have to change back into your clothes, just wear these. Quite a few people are wearing ancient costumes on the street, so there's nothing strange and embarrassing about it, right?"

Jack chuckled aloud with a radiant smile plastered on his face.

"Sir, are you sure you're taking all of these? All these clothes are made of silk; they'd be more expensive!"

Besides, the few sets that Madam had tried on just now, one set costs more than one hundred thousand! If you were to buy all these sets, it would be close to a million!"

The lady owner of the store had her eyes lit up when she heard Jack's words. The clothes that she sold in her store were all of top -notch quality. But because they were all expensive, they may not even sell one set a day, and sometimes they only managed to sell a set in two or three days, and that was considered as good!

The lady owner could not have imagined that the two would buy four sets at once!

"What's the matter? Are you afraid that I can't afford them?"

Jack stared at the other party coldly and then he flashed out his card. "Take this, swipe it, and enter one million. No password is needed!"

"I'm glad to serve you, Sir! A man like you deserves to marry such a charming wife!"

It was the owner's first time meeting such a generous customer. She then took the bank card and went to make the payment.

Soon, the two left the store.

However, shortly after the couple left the store, a slightly plump and chubby woman- dressed in an ancient costume-paced toward the store with a group of people.

She quickly spotted Selena wearing a dainty and beautiful ancient costume-which was significantly better looking than hers. Her fury sprang to life in a second.

The chubby woman pointed at Selena and huffed to the man beside her gruffly. "Honey, that dress is really nice. I want it!"

The rotund man-who walked behind the chubby woman looked toward the pointed direction. He could not help but his eyes lit up excitedly. "Alright, babe, I'll take you to buy one!" He smiled and nodded.

Nonetheless, to the man's surprise, the chunky woman was exasperated in the next second. "No! I want that dress on that woman! That dress is dainty and beautiful, and it might be a limited edition. There'd be only one piece of such dress in this world! I want the one on her!" The woman pouted.

"Umm...Babe, it's not nice to snatch from her though."

Chapter 1155

The rotund man's forehead snapped together, showing hints of hesitation.

The woman saw the hesitation in the man, and she was not happy at all. She pinched his earlobe and barked at him huffily, "You're going to get me that dress, do you hear me? Don't you ever forget that you're merely an adopted son-in-law of our family, don't you dare to disobey my command! If I tell my dad that you're bullying me, you'll be in the grave in no time!"

The man was frightened down to the soles of his shoes when the threatening words entered his ears. He was so scared that he responded almost instantly. "Okay, Dear, okay, let go of my ear. I'll get that dress for you!"

After the drama ended, the man paced toward Jack and Selena together with the wife and a group of men.

Jack did not prepare for such a situation to happen. He was just about to have a nice dinner at the nearby barbecue restaurant; however, they were stopped by the group before they were able to enter the restaurant.

"Huh? What's wrong? Something wrong? I don't think I've met you guys before!"

Looking at a bunch of people in front of him, Jack smiled frostily. He was a true god-level martial artist, and the heir to the family head of the White family, if these people wanted to look for trouble, they were definitely wishing for death.

Nevertheless, perhaps, he just came to the White family not long ago and had not been to this town before, that was why no one knew him.

Otherwise, these men would not be so brave to block his path.

"Heh! Kiddo, it doesn't matter if you've met me before or not!"

The rotund man smirked and gazed at Selena. "The costume on your wife is dainty and beautiful, my Honey here is very fond of it. So, let's make a deal. Take it off and sell it to us. The price you've paid for it, I'll double it!"

"Take it off and sell it to you?"

Before the conversation, Jack thought that it was his wife's beauty that attracted this bunch of flies. He did not expect that the other party was eyeing the costumes on Selena.

"Of course! Take it off right here right now. We'll buy it. Haha! How about this, if you think the doubled price is too little, I'm willing to triple it. After all, this dress doesn't look cheap, it has to be more than one hundred to two hundred thousand bucks, am I right?" The rotund man chuckled and continued, "You have made hundreds of thousands of profit just by selling this costume to me!"

The plump man chortled aloud, his face full of mirth.

The few bodyguards behind the man could not help but swallow their saliva hard when they heard their master's suggestion. After all, it was rare to see such a beauty in this town.

"Hmph! You're funny, aren't you? With just a few hundred thousand, you want to buy my wife's clothes, even worse, you want her to take it off on the street for you guys?"

Jack sneered coldly, in fact, he was seething inwardly that he felt about to burst from rage. 'Damn fatty, you're sure a dreamer!

"Brat, my hubby is being considerate and polite to you guys!"

At this time, the chubby woman stepped up and bellowed condescendingly, "Why don't you ask around about our identities? Our family is one of the three prominent families in this town! We've tripled the price to buy your clothes! It's considered as an act of kindness from us!"

"Oh, what do you mean by not being polite and kind then?"

Jack continued plastering a cold smile on his face, clasping his arms before his chest.

"Heh! We don't even need to buy the clothes from you! We could just take it off your wife coercively!"

The woman jeered with wicked laughter. "But, I'm being considerate for the dress. What if your wife resisted and the dress tears in the process of taking it off? Then my loss will be huge. So we initiated the deal and was nice to you for you to take it off and sell it to us, got it?"

"Oh, I don't know about this!"

Jack's eyes went cold and frosty; he shot the couple a deadly stare. "What I do know is that you're digging your own grave!" Jack hissed.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1156-1160

Chapter 1156

"Oh boy, what a low life are you. I didn't expect this from you. How dare you threaten me!"

The woman guffawed when she heard that. "It looks like money can't solve this matter today. I planned to give you some money for the clothes, but now I no longer bother to do so. Since you have a death wish, I shall grant it!"

After ending her last word, she pointed toward Jack and Selena and commanded with a stern tone. "Kill this man, and then take off the woman's clothes. I don't believe that whatever I, Autumn Maack, want, I can't get it! Except for a few, there's almost no one in this mountainous area that I couldn't offend!"

"Hey, punk, you're seeking your own death. Who asked you to refuse the kind offer from our Young Mistress Maack! Now you can't blame our lady!"

Several bodyguards sneered as they walked toward Jack with their fists clenched tightly.

'How arrogant and snobbish were these people?' Jack thought in his mind; a cold smile appeared on his face. Did they actually want Selena to take off her clothes in the street?

The proposal itself had successfully awakened the angry beast inside Jack.

Jack had trimmed down his temper in seeing things for Selena. But solely for the matter related to Selena-which was a forbidden area that no one could provoke-he could not contain his rage.

"Wait, hold on!"

At this time, a young teenage girl stood out and spoke up.

"Miss Maack, it's just one dress, why bother? I saw a few nice pieces yesterday and they're of good quality too! Why don't I take you there to have a look? I'll buy you those clothes. So, why bother with common people?"

The young girl looked only seventeen or eighteen years old.

Her smile was accompanied by two little radiant dimples at the corners, projecting a youthful and sunny aura.

Jack was a little surprised at the sudden appearance of the young lady. He did not expect somebody to speak up for him in such a situation.

Nevertheless, Jack did not plan to let the matter slip; he did not plan to spare the rotund couple's life. The other party had completely angered him in every way. Even if the other party wanted to let him off the hook, he had no intention to let them go at all.

"No f*cking way!"

The plump woman snapped. "Kayla Leigh, don't you try to play superhero today! They pissed me off and I'll not just let it go! Today, this man will die right here! I've already given them a chance, but they don't know how to cherish it!"

Kayla gave an awkward smile. "Miss Maack, hold on. Just wait a little bit longer, I'll try to persuade them!"

Kayla immediately came before Jack and said softly to him, "Mister, a wise man knows when to retreat, don't fight with them, okay? Take it off and sell it to her. She is Autumn Maack from the Maack family and her family is unbelievably powerful and authoritative, even my family, the Leigh family, has to bow before them. Listen to me, take the dress off, sell it to them and you still can make a profit out of it. It's better than being killed, isn't it?"

Jack laughed out loud upon hearing Kayla's words. He smiled and said, "Miss Leigh, thank you for your kindness. But, I would like to know your opinion on this matter as well. If you were to take off your clothes in the street like this, publicly, and sell your clothes to others, would you do that?"

"What? No way! How is that even a question?"

Kayla answered without even thinking about it.

Nonetheless, she still tried to advise Jack, "But, that's because without shame."

"Sigh! Forget it then. If you guys are looking for death, I can't help it too."

In the end, Kayla could only retreat to the side, looking helplessly.

"Hmph! What a waste of our time!"

Those few bodyguards had long wanted to strip Selena.

Although they could not do anything with her, at least the view of uncovered Selena could feast their eyes.

After they grunted for a few seconds, all of them charged toward Jack with a tightly balled fist.

"Go to hell!"

Chapter 1157

Jack breathed out a cold laugh, and in a split second he disappeared; he was shuttling among the bodyguards at a lightning speed while swinging his arm. With a few flashes, all of the body guards laid lifeless on the ground.

"What the f*ck!"

The fatty and the plump woman who witnessed the scene had their eyes widened as large as saucers and their jaws dropped to the ground. They were in shock. The bodyguards that they brought were of high-grade martial artists, and one of them was even a first grade grandmaster! The two did not expect their men to be killed in just a few seconds.

"It...it looks like this brat must have reached the higher grade of grandmaster level; his martial prowess and skill are not bad at all. Now I finally understand why he wasn't afraid of them a moment ago. If he and his wife hurry up and leave the place, and not stir up a bigger trouble, they should be fine!"

Kayla whispered to herself while watching the scene on the side.

"Punk, I'm a Maack! How dare you kill my men! Are you looking for trouble with the Maack family?"

The woman fumed hotly, at the same time, her voice trembled. She used the Maack family as a tool, in hopes to threaten Jack.

"Heh, I see. Should I wait for your men to beat me to death, only then I could fight back?"

Cold and heartless smile plastered on Jack's face; he slowly paced toward the two fatties.

"You...you...you...stop right there! What are you doing?"

Seeing Jack walking toward them at a painfully slow pace, the fat couple looked at each other and were both in complete terror.

"Oh? What do you think I'm doing?"

Jack chortled wickedly and threw the question back to the couple.

"Punk, you're not trying to end us, are you? Let me give you the last warning, my father-in-law is a strong fighter of the semi-god level. If you dare to make a move on us, today will be your last day!"

Jack let out a good laugh, then he turned to the rotund man. "Well. There's one way for you to get out of here alive, which is for you to cut off one of your wife's arms right here. Perhaps, in that way, I can let you two live. Otherwise, you'll have to die here tonight!" Jack proposed.

After he finished his last word, he flipped his palm and a fine sword appeared in his hand. He threw it on the ground in front of the fatty.

"Your choice" Jack dictated.

"Brat, I'm the Young Mistress Maack, are you looking for death! How dare you ask my husband to cut off my arm! Who gave you the guts!"

Autumn's temper sparked that she could feel anger thrummed through her veins; she put on the almighty and authoritative look as she barked.

Snap!

Nonetheless, a heavy slap landed on her cheek right after she finished her sentence. The force pushed her down that she plopped onto the ground harshly; a stream of blood flew out of the corner of her palm. Jack slapped her.

"Dear, can't you read the situation properly? This time we've met someone who's not afraid of death. This brat is hot-headed and reckless! He's not afraid of anyone!"

The fatty stomped his foot at the situation, why could not his wife grasp the current atmosphere of the situation? He then gritted his teeth and picked the fine sword on the ground.

"Honey, you're not really going to cut my arm, are you?"

Autumn looked at the sword, tears shimmered in her eyes and her face was ashen. How could she have thought that the other party was not afraid of the Maack family and daring enough to attack her?

"Brat, you've promised to let us live if I cut her arm, right?"

The fatty wheeled around and looked at Jack.

Jack nodded, "A promise is a promise!"

Chapter 1158

"Alright. You said so!"

The fatty nodded his head. He clenched his teeth and raised the sword in his hand. "Hold on for a while longer, my wife," he told Autumn, who was on the ground. "I have painkillers and medicine that stops bleeding here. You'll be fine. Just grit your teeth and through it!"

"Ah. I'm scared!"

Autumn was so frightened that she was on the verge of tears. She looked at Jack. "I was wrong," she said. "Please, let us go. I'll give you one billion bucks. How about that? One whole billion!"

"Heh. Did you really think I would care about one billion?"

Jack chuckled, his eyes full of disdain.

"Ah!"

The rotund man swung his sword, slicing the woman's arm.

Blood sprayed the moment the blade's lethal edge came in contact with skin, and the arm fell off.

"I have medicine here!"

After he cut his own wife's the fatty threw his sword to the side and gave her painkillers medicine to stop the bleeding.

"Ah!"

Even so, the woman was still in so much agony that all color leached from her face. Cold sweat beaded across her forehead, and she looked like she was about to faint at any time.

Quickly, with the fatty's support, the two quickly disappeared from Jack's vision.

Jack picked up the sword lying on the ground and wiped the ind wined the blade clean on the body of a bodyguard. Only then did he flip his palm and kept the sword.

"You don't mind me letting them go, do you, Dear?"

Jack smiled and asked Selena.

"I'll just follow whatever decision you make from now on, Dear!"

Selena clung onto Jack's arm.

Delight had shot through her when she had seen that woman's arm being lopped off. The woman had overstepped her boundaries she was a straight-up bully. Even for someone as kind as Selena, the bully was unbearable.

"No way. You can't just listen to whatever I say. What if I had agreed to sell the clothes to them? Would you listen to me then?" Jack said, smiling.

Selena rolled her eyes at him. "You 're not someone like that. Or would you want to shame your wife in front of so many people?"

Amazingly, the two still had the strength to argue back and forth here. Kayla panicked and stepped forward. "Why aren't you two leaving? Seriously. You let them go! Aren't you afraid that they'll bring more fighters here?" she said. "Those bodyguards were just normal bodyguards. They're not even strong among the Maack family. Just hurry up and get out of here. You won't get a chance to leave if you're one step too late!"

"That's right. Just leave, both of you. You managed to put Miss Maack in her place. She always disregards others and bullies the townsfolk regularly, so you're helping us to take revenge. She's like this because her family has the White family backing them up. So you'd better leave!"

An old man also advised Jack and Selena.

"The White family is backing them up?" Jack frowned after he heard that. That surprised him.

Chapter 1159

Kayla assumed that Jack was afraid when she saw his brows scrunching together. "That's right. Let me explain everything," she said. "Sometimes, the White family will get a familiar friend to introduce someone, or they will come down from the mountain to choose a few talented warriors to enter the White family. This rarely happens, but some people become part of the White family like that!"

Here, Kayla paused for a while before resuming, "One of the Maack family members had been lucky enough to enter the White family. And he managed to mix quite well with them, so he's the helmsman now, and he's a warrior at the intermediate stage of the true god status. Miss Maack is so cocky because of this!"

"Just leave, young man. It'll be too late if you don't. I'm sure that Autumn won't let this slide just like that, judging from her personality! Besides, you were the one who chopped off the the first daughter of the family. Master Maack won't let you off the hook either!"

The old man advised Jack and Selena anxiously.

"Thank you for your concern. But if that is truly the case, all the more we shouldn't leave!"

Jack raised his hands into a fist-to-palm salute toward the two. Then his attention wandered toward a barbecue stall not too far away. "We came here to eat barbecue," he said, smiling. "But we haven't even eaten yet. How could we leave now? Right, Dear?"

"Right? I'm hungry!"

Selena gave a wan smile. She took Jack's hand in hers and walked toward the barbecue stall.

"Those-those two still have the heart to eat barbecue!"

The old man was so agitated that his mustache practically bristled. He huffed and stalked over to the side.

Kayla was furious as well. However, she did not give up on them. She chased after them and stared at Jack, huffing. "Don't you love your wife? If you do, you two should leave. Now!" she said. "Even if you don't fear death, you can't drag your wife along with you!"

Warmth filled Jack's chest at the sight of this compassionate How talented are you, girl?" said, smiling.

Kayla was speechless for a moment. "A ninth-grade grandmaster. Why? You refuse leave, and you still want to ask about my talent. At any rate, I'm pretty strong, and I have good talent. I'm probably stronger than you!"

Jack grinned. "You truly have a talent for someone so young. Have you never thought of training with the White family and becoming one of them?"

"The White family?"

Kayla furrowed her brows. "I do. But I don't have a single connection with the White family. There's no way I can get in. Besides, who knows when they'll be in the mood to come to town to recruit people. I have no hopes no matter what, I'll keep dreaming!"

Kayla was stunned for a while here. "Ah. Why am I telling you all this? More importantly, I think you two are good people. I don't want to see you die!" "Hah. Don't worry. We won't!"

Jack laughed. "Kayla, right?" said to the girl. "Sit down and join us. I'll treat you!"

"All right. I'll join you. Since you're going to die soon, I should help you spend whatever money you have right now!"

Kayla rolled her eyes at Jack and took a seat before the huffing.

"You're too cruel. You actually cut my arm off!"

At that moment, Autumn plodded forward, supported by the fatty.

"I had no choice. Don't you understand that both of us would have died if I hadn't done that? At least we get to live like this. We had no choice.

The fatty was helpless. "Ah, you were rude just now too. Why would you want her clothes? We wouldn't have landed ourselves in this situation otherwise!"

Chapter 1160

"Hmph. I couldn't bear to see it. I look good in traditional clothes. That woman had no right to look better than I do. The sight just offends me!"

The woman harrumphed; venom filled her eyes. "Let's hurry back," she said. "We can't just let the couple go like that. I'll get Daddy to kill them!"

The fatty was internally speechless, but he had no words of protest. After all, he was simply the Maack family's live-in son-in-law, with no particular standing in the Maack family. If he did not give in to her whims, she and her family would make his days miserable.

"I had no choice just now, Dear. Do you still hold a grudge against me?"

The fatty prodded as they walked forward.

Autumn's expression darkened. "It 's your fault for being such a lousy and weak warrior. I wouldn't have been bullied like this if you weren' t a piece of trash," she snarled, glaring at her husband. "Just look at that man from just now. He's nothing like you-only a sixthgrade martial artist at such an old age. You'll be a laughing stock if words of this got out."

.....

The fatty was speechless. He just supported Autumn until they finally arrived at the Maack family.

"Young Miss, what-what happened?"

The bodyguard at the entrance was shocked when he took in the sight. One of the bodyguards quickly went in to make a report.

Autumn and her husband had not walked very far in when the master of the Maack family, Ace, came out with a group of people.

"What happened, Autumn? Who was it? Who dared to cut off my daughter's arm!"

Ace stared at the stump that had been his daughter's arm. He was so furious that he had gone purple and his teeth were gritted.

After all these years, he never had any sons. He only had her as his only daughter. That was why she was the apple of his eye, and he always coddled her as though she was a precious piece of porcelain.

He never thought that someone would be so bold to cut off his daughter's arm.

"It was a young man, Father. Autumn and I were shopping when she noticed a couple, where the wife was wearing a hanfu. Out of goodwill, we told them that we would buy the clothes at three times their worth. But we never thought that they would refuse. They even rebuked us with sharp words!"

"Autumn, naturally, was furious. She got the bodyguards to snatch the clothes, but her husband was extremely strong and killed all the body guards. Then he forced me to chop off one of her arms, or he would kill the both of us otherwise. I had no choice. It was to save the both of us!"

The fatty immediately dropped to his knees and narrated everything that had happened, while adding his own flair to the tale.

"You piece of sh*t. You can't even protect your own woman!"

Ace was so angry that he sent the fatty flying a few meters away with a single kick. "The lot of you, take the Young Miss and her husband back to rest," he said. "I'll bring the rest of you to find that couple. We must avenge my daughter!"

"No. I don't want to rest, Daddy. I must go. I need to see them die before me. I want to see that punk begging for his life on his knees!"

Autumn raised her head, her features twisted into a vicious expression. "Besides, you don't know where they had attacked me. Get people to carry me there. Quick. I'm afraid that they'll leave if we're one step too late!"

"All right. Let's go!"

Ace announced, huffing.

"I'm going too, Father. I want to see them die before my eyes. Those two were too much!"

The fatty ran over, holding in his pain, subtly declaring his loyalty.

"Let's go!"