

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1467-1469

Chapter 1467

Titus, as he was next to them, had a frown on his face as he commented, "I'm afraid that it's not so simple."

Jack's expression fell the moment he opened the invitation and read its contents before turning to everyone else present. "This ninth wife is Lily Lagorio!" he told them.

"Lily Lagorio?" The smile on both the First Elder and the other elder's faces dropped instantly when the news was revealed, petrified as though they had seen a ghost.

They finally understood why Nash would have such a solemn expression on his face. Lily used to be his wife, the First Madam of the White family.

Although Lily committed quite the offense that caused Nash to lose his honor when she colluded with the Third Elder in a rebellion, she and Nash were once wedded to one another.

Were they purposely making it difficult for Nash in asking him to present himself during Lily's wedding? How would others look at Nash? What would they say in private?

"This is too overboard. I'd understand it if they invited other families. Pavilion Master Collins should know that our master is Lily's ex-husband, and he has to be detestable for inviting our White family!" seethed First Elder as he balled his hands into fists. "Master, why don't we attend the wedding and you sit this one out?"

No one expected that Nash would shake his head instead with a bitter smile on his face. "That won't do. I might be able to get away not attending this wedding had it been some random people from a second-class aristocratic family or some other families. As the master of the White family, if I don't attend the wedding of the Skies Pavilion's pavilion master and send my subordinates, I fear rumors of me not honoring him would float around, thus I must attend this."

"Sigh! How embarrassing would it be if you go!" Another elder sighed. If anybody else was placed in such a situation, they would feel uncomfortable to attend such a wedding

After all, Nash and Lily used to be very in love in the past, but she became vicious and sinister after what happened to Lance.

Of course, Lily was also very sinister before Jack became a soldier, but she hid it well.

"Let it be if this wedding becomes embarrassing. After all, I have no relationship with her right now.

"I'll think of this as attending a stranger's wedding," decided Nash, that bitter smile still on his face. "The thing I worry the most is why Lily would suddenly marry the old man, Joel. After all, he's the pavilion master of the Skies Pavilion, and it unsettles me when I thought she might use them to act out against our White family. After all, she wants to kill every person in our family so badly!"

Jack had such a thought from the start as well, and his expression hardened. "It's incredibly likely, it seems. We've received lots of benefits this time and our family is much stronger compared to the past. However, it's difficult for the Lagorio family to take actions against us because of this. Hence, Lily must've thought of a way to fight back against the White family by gaining the support of the ancient clans."

Titus inwardly held his breath when he heard those words before he quickly beseeched, "Master, you shouldn't go if that's truly the case! Why do I feel that this is a treacherous banquet? It'd be troublesome if you attend but fail to come back!"

"It won't work if the master refuses to attend-it might even anger them. Then again, it'll be extremely dangerous if the master truly attended the dinner. Urgh!" First Elder frowned as he realized how troublesome it was.

In the end, he stomped his feet and growled, "This Lily Lagorio truly is a vicious woman to use such means!"

Chapter 1468

"Don't worry. The Four Ancients Clans have an unwritten agreement with us reclusive families, and we don't interfere with each other. It's highly likely they won't truly do anything against us," spoke Nash after thinking through the situation, more so when he saw how anxious the First Elder was. "However, not too many people can attend the wedding this time, though we'll need to be careful as well. The members of the other ancient clans and families would also attend the wedding, so I'm sure they won't try anything funny there."

Nash paused momentarily before he added, "Nonetheless, we need to be careful on our journey back as I fear they'd ambush us on the way home. After all, it wouldn't be a big hustle if they only kill a couple of us. They would have nothing to be afraid of if they got rid of the bodies!"

Jack nodded in agreement. "Father, it'll only work if you, me, and the First Elder attend the wedding this time. If there are too many of us, those with lower fighting prowess would be sacrificed on the spot if those people ambushed us. We'd have a much better chance of outrunning them if they chose to attack anyway, and coupled with the fact that all three of us have quite the strength and fighting prowess, they can't take us down easily!"

"That's right. Many people don't know that Young Master Jack's flying sword is an ultimate-grade spiritual tool. With that item, it wouldn't be easy for them to catch up with us. Hence, we wouldn't need to be fearful if they try to ambush us on the way back!" First Elder's eyes immediately lit up. "They wouldn't dare chase after us to kill us in the White family after we've flown far away. They won't dare amplify this, will they now?"

"Yes, the three of us would do. It'd be much more difficult to escape with too many people. Apart from that, too many people will affect the speed of the flying sword!" Jack smiled. "It so happens that the three of you don't need to train much recently. Let's start our journey in three days-we should be able to make it in time. The others only need to focus on training at home!"

“The three of us are masters with strength comparable to the peak stage of the true-god level. The current White family will not be so easily bullied!” Nash’s expression hardened as his heart was filled with anger. “I’ve never thought of wiping out the Lagorio family before; she and I were once a married couple after all. Who would’ve thought that members of the Lagorio family would come at us in such an overbearing way? It looks like we can’t let go of the Lagorio family so easily when we have the chance in the future!”

Jack turned to the Second Elder and the current Third Elder after thinking about it and said, “Second Elder, Third Elder, the two of you are now at the final stage of the true-god level. Let me cultivate some second-grade pills for you guys within these two days and try to give two pills to each of you. Although the two of you have stopped at the final stage of the true-god level for only a short while now, you can try speeding up. What if you succeed?”

Second Elder was delighted when he heard this and immediately gestured politely with his hands as he spoke, “Thank you, Young Master Jack!”

The new Third Elder was Lancelot, the previous branch family master. His fighting prowess had always been rather impressive, being in the intermediate stage of the truegod level previously. One month ago, he had achieved the final stage of the true-god level, and he followed it up with constant training with never taking extensive rests.

There was a slight possibility of success as the realm might be unstable to give him pills and let him try pushing his fighting prowess instantly to the peak stage of the true-god level. Although they seemed to be in a rush, it was a great opportunity for Lancelot nonetheless.

After all, Jack was willing to give him two second-grade elementary pills, and such a good opportunity was hard to come by so often.

Together with Jack and the two others masters, the combat power of the White family’s masters in the peak stage of the true-god level would be so powerful that they need not fear the Hunt family, if even both him and Second Elder, Weston White also broke through

“Thank you, Young Master Jack. I’m willing to give it a try!” Lancelot also stepped forward to gesture with his hands as he thanked Jack. Such an opportunity made all the other elders in the intermediate stage of the true-god level extremely envious.

“Alright, come find me in the morning three days later. I’ll pass the pills to both of you before leaving with First Elder and my father.”

Chapter 1469

Jack nodded and inwardly decided.

“With an alchemist like you, it’ll be impossible for our White family to not grow strong in the future!” Nash gazed at Jack, utterly content.

The group of people quickly scattered while Jack went back to cultivate pills.

Selena and the others were slightly worried about Jack when they knew about the situation. After all, Lily would be the ninth wife of the Skies Pavilion in the future, and no one knew what she had planned

Despite that, Selena could do nothing about it and could only train harder as she felt how urgent the situation had become.

While Jack was busy cultivating pills, Daniella and Helena who were guests at the White family felt slightly bored. The two of them invited Kylie to play around if they were free.

Finally, they found Jack in the morning of the third day when he exited his room after completing the cultivation of the pills.

Daniella smiled at the sight of Jack as she then began, “Jack, my sister and I had thought about it, and we’d like to join you in attending the so-called Skies Pavilion’s wedding!”

“The two of you want to attend the wedding? That won’t work it’s too dangerous. Lily Lagorio married the old man so she could retaliate against us, and we suspect that we’d get ambushed on the way back!” Jack immediately waved his hands when he heard this.

Danielle, however, rolled her eyes at his response. “Don’t worry, we’ve both thought it through. They surely won’t ambush you on the way to the ceremony, but it is likely they’ll attack you on the way back. So, we’ll follow you to the wedding but won’t follow you back!” she offered. “I’m sure that they’ve also invited people from our family, so my father and the others would be there, no doubt. If my sister and I follow you there, we’ll leave with our family home afterward instead of leaving with you. After all, your family will eventually visit our family some time after returning!”

Helena then chimed in, smiling as she did, “We’ve played a couple of days here and noticed every member of your family has been working hard in training; this has influenced both my sister and me. We’ve felt that we’ve wasted our time somewhat, and we truly want to go take a look in the seven dangerous areas later on. With that, we’ll return home after attending the wedding, and we’ll strive to improve our strength!”

“Well, in that case, let’s go with that!” Jack nodded when he heard this. At this moment, Lancelot and Weston came walking in from outside.

“Oh my, both beauties are here. Is it not suitable for us to come over at this time?” spoke Lancelot jokingly as he noticed them.

“Haha..! The two of you are here just in time. I’ve been waiting for you both!” With a flip of his hand, four pills appeared in his palm. “Two for each of you! If anyone of you broke through, our family would have quite an increase in combat power. Although we don’t have as many people in the final and intermediate stage of the truegod level compared to the Hunt family, we still have quite a few people in the peak stage.” No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1470-1472

Chapter 1470

“Don’t worry, Young Master Jack. We’ll try our best!” Lancelot and Weston took the pills from Jack before leaving after they thanked Jack.

It was then Selena came toward Jack and his company as she held onto Kylie's hand. "Father, you need to come back as soon as possible!"

"Don't worry, we'll be back soon. Obey your mother at home, and listen to your teachers when you're learning. Do you understand? Study well, and train well in the future!" Jack gazed at the adorable Kylie in front of him and could not help but caressed her delicate head lovingly.

"Yes, I'll train hard and become a master like Father in the future!" Kylie nodded obediently, incredibly wise despite being young.

At this moment, Daniella also walked over and touched Kylie's chubby cheeks before she spoke with a soft smile, "Kylie, me and your Auntie Helena will be leaving with your father to join somebody else's wedding, but we won't follow them home, afterward. We'll be returning to our own home."

Kylie grew upset when Daniella told her this, and with pursed lips, she muttered, "Auntie Daniella, it won't be fun if the two of you leave. I still want to play with the both of you!"

"Good girl. I'll come and visit you when there's time, but you need to work hard on training and try to break through into a grandmaster as soon as possible!" Daniella looked at the young girl in front of her and was slightly reluctant. After getting along for several days, she had already thought of Kylie as her own daughter.

Selena smiled as she saw how well Daniella and Kylie had gotten along. "Don't worry, Kylie, we'll have time in the future. Your aunties Daniella and Helena are going home because they have things to do. They'll surely visit you when they have the time!"

"Alright!" Kylie nodded, and her lovely smile once again returned to her face.

Another two to three minutes later, First Elder and Nash came toward them, and Jack quickly informed them both about Daniella and Helena's plans.

“Alright, since they wish to come with us, then we’ll let them!” Nash nodded in agreement.

Jack then took out his flying sword and threw it forward, and the item grew large enough that the five of them stood on them after flying onto the sword.

“Don’t worry, Selena, we’ll be alright. Train well at home, and we’ll be back about four or five days from now!” assured Jack turned to Selena, and only then did he pilot his flying sword and went toward the direction of the Skies Pavilion

After flying for a while, Daniella soon thought of something as she chirped, “Oh right, there’ll be quite a few families or forces traveling to the Skies Pavilion this time. Won’t it be cool if we Chance upon members from the other families on the way, and they recognize that your flying sword is an ultimate-level spiritual tool?”

Unexpectedly, Jack smiled nonchalantly. “It’s alright. I was truthfully afraid of people knowing about it when I used to be in the intermediate stage of the true-god level. However, I’m already at the final stage of the true-god level, and my fighting prowess has stabilized throughout these past few days.

You also know that my combat power has always been much stronger than the others of this fighting prowess. Now that I have such a sword, I’m not afraid of people taking it from me!”

Jack paused for a short moment before he spoke again with extreme seriousness, “In comparison, the members of other families dare not offend our White family because we have this flying sword. After all, this sword can increase a person’s combat power greatly, and among the reclusive families, only the Hunts’ family master can come up with it.”

Chapter 1471

“You’re right. Although the other party might be jealous that you have this with you, they might be more afraid of your combat power. Apart from that, your combat power must be extremely strong after you've broken through. I think some of those masters at the peak stage of the true god-level won't be able to fight against you!" Helena also nodded after she heard this. They had witnessed Jack's combat power personally-killing others of another realm did seem possible for Jack to do.

Sure enough, their journey was absolutely smooth. The next morning, Jack and the others spotted the mountain top where the Skies Pavilion was located.

"Goodness, Master White. Long time no see!" Not far away, another flying sword flew toward them as they greeted Nash.

Nash was delighted when he realized that it was the flying sword of their allied first-class aristocratic family, the Lancaster family. He gestured at them with his hands and replied, "Haha...! It's been a long time, Master Shirley!"

"Aren't there too few of you? The White family only sent three people?" commented the upbeat Shirley when she saw that only three masters from the White family were present. Compared to the over-20 people from their side, it was obvious that there were too few people from the White family.

"Well, what to do? We don't have as many people as your family, especially those in the semi-god level and grandmaster level. We might go into the seven dangerous areas after some time. I asked them to train themselves for their own safety, with hopes that they can improve their strength!" replied Nash.

"Brother Jack!" Randall came flying over from their flying sword and stood in front of Jack before saying happily. "Brother, you're really enjoying yourself, and I envy you for that! You've got two beauties accompanying you, even though you're just making a casual journey!"

Flustered at Randall's comment, he blushed as he coughed dryly twice. "Cough, cough! They just happened to be traveling this way, too!"

As she noticed the amicable relationship between her son and Jack, Shirley turned to Nash and beamed, “Master White, I need to thank your son for the previous competition. If it wasn’t for him, my son would’ve died inside too. Jack’s strength really is the strongest among the younger generation. My son, Randall, had told me about all his doings!”

“Haha...! We’re all acquaintances, and we should help each other! It’s nothing!” chuckled Nash happily.

“You guys are here too? What a coincidence!” At this moment, members of the Hunt family flew toward them on a flying sword from the other direction.

Nash’s and Shirley’s expressions faltered for a moment when they noticed it was Quentin Hunt from the Hunt family, but they recollected themselves and gestured with their hands politely to greet him.

Quentin maneuvered his flying sword to fly next to the White family’s flying sword. He could not help but look at the flying sword underneath Jack’s feet and frowned. “Young brother Jack, this flying sword seems to be an ultimate-grade spiritual tool. Am I right?”

“Yes, Master Hunt. This flying sword of mine is an ultimate grade spiritual tool, and I happened to find it along my journey,” replied Jack as he gestured with his hands.

“Oh! You’re quite lucky to have gotten such an item!” Quentin smiled, but his suspicion of both his sons killed by Jack and Helena working together increased.

After all, he had never imagined that Jack would take such an item out. This item was able to increase a person’s combat power.

Chapter 1472

As he was free, Quentin had been deep in his own thoughts during the past couple of days.

Not many were in that category of those who could kill his sons, especially his eldest son, Cloud Hunt

He initially held the belief that Helena and Jack were in on it together, but he knew that although Helena had the same fighting prowess as his eldest son, her combat power was definitely not above his eldest son's. Coupled with the fact that Jack had a low fighting prowess, the possibility of them defeating his sons was not great.

That suspicion of his resurfaced and only grew, however, as he noticed Jack's ultimate-grade spiritual tool

After all, his sons did not offend any other prodigies from other families. They would not have dared to kill his sons even if a fight happened inside.

Jack and Helena, on the other hand, had an altercation against Tyrell before the competition started. After they entered the area, they must have worked together to kill Tyrell while Cloud was killed possibly due to his carelessness when avenging his brother. It was also possible that Jack and Helena had some other vicious actions.

Of course, these were only his suspicions. Apart from that, he did not have the reason to take action even if he had proof that Jack was indeed the killer.

He thought about it and said to Nash, "Master White, the bride of this wedding is your ex-wife. Any thoughts about this?"

Many of the elders and other members of the Hunt family had weird expressions on their faces after they heard what he said. After all, such a thing was no doubt an embarrassing incident

However, they also knew that Nash had no choice but to attend this wedding as he was the White' family master. The one who invited them was the pavilion master of the Four Ancients Clans, and not attending the wedding after the invitations were sent would mean not honoring him.

"Haha... What sort of thoughts can I have? I'm no longer married to Lily right now, and we might be enemies, so whoever she marries has nothing to do with me.” Nash smiled bitterly and continued to say to Quentin, “On the contrary, Master Hunt also knew that the Four Ancients Clans had never interfered with our family affairs. If Lily wants to take advantage of the ancient clans to fight against the White family, I hope that everyone from the reclusive families will condemn such an act with one voice.”

The family master of the Lancaster family, Shirley Lancaster, agreed with Nash as she spoke, “Yes, we can’t allow them to set such a precedent. Once they wipe out one of our families and nobody from the other reclusive families step forward or unite together, more and more of such things would happen in the future. We can even be the next targets!”

Quentin nodded. “I agree with what you both have said—we mustn’t allow them to set such a precedent. It’ll be terrible if something like that happened. Any contradictions between us reclusive families need to be settled internally, and what happens between the Four Ancients Clans should be settled by themselves. If the Four Ancients Clans plan to pick on us, then we, the reclusive families, need to unite and defeat them unanimously.”

“Indeed. We’re relieved to hear this from Master Hunt!” beamed Shirley.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1473-1475

Chapter 1473

Unexpectedly, Quentin acted humbly, a rare occurrence indeed. He glanced at Nash and said, “Oh, what do you mean you’re relieved to hear this from me? The White family are the same as ours and other first-class aristocratic families; we have the same position and there’s not much difference in our status, be it high or low. The Hunts were somewhat stronger back then as compared to other first-class aristocratic families, but this may very well have changed as of late. I’d say the White family is progressing quite nicely!”

Nash knew this man did not mean what he said, thus he immediately waved his hand and interjected, “No, no, no... Your Hunt family cannot be so easily surpassed. Your inheritance isn’t something we can compare to. After all, your Hunt family has such an established inheritance!

Nash then looked forward and, in an attempt to shift the conversation, then spoke, “We’re here, we’re here... The Skies Pavilion has quite a large piece of territory. There are so many plazas and mountains around the area. Tsk, tsk! The Chi here is also very rich, and training here is definitely guaranteed. The Chi is much thicker compared to where our reclusive families are located!

That's for sure. This is how the world is. They are strong, and there are more than a dozen masters in the peak stage of the true-god level. They also have a huge amount of masters in the final and intermediate stages of the true-god level. Our families can't simply compare to these ancient clans!"

Quentin smiled bitterly before he glanced at Nash and added, "So, you're forced to come here even if the person marrying pavilion master Collins is your ex-wife, and you're extremely embarrassed?"

"What else is there to say? I can only hate myself for being not strong enough." Nash could only offer an awkward smile everything was proven by a person's strength, after all. The Four Ancients Clans was not something a reclusive family could contend against.

Quentin drove his flying sword when he suddenly stopped. He turned to Nash and Shirley with a frown on his solemn face. "By the way, family masters, I suddenly recalled something rather worrying."

"Worried? Master Hunt, what do you have to worry about?" asked the curious Shirley after she thought about it

"Don't you think it's a bit too sudden for Lily to marry Joel Collins? I've been thinking about it, and they shouldn't have known one another previously, right? Why did they suddenly announce that they're getting married? There must be something hidden here, am I right?" fretted Quentin as he looked far away, airing his worries. "Apart from that, if Lily Lagorio becomes the ninth wife, would she tell Joel information about the ultimate-god level fighting prowess? That doesn't look too favorable for us."

Nash and Shirley exchanged glances as their expressions instantly turned grave. After all, everything had indeed happened so suddenly. Apart from that, with Lily and Joel getting married, this woman might tell the old man about the ultimate-god level to further strengthen the Skies Pavilion

Nash was quiet momentarily before he said, "I had always felt that Lily got together with Joel because the woman had obviously seduced the other party, never expecting to succeed. Her main goal is to revolt against the White family. However, I forgot about this. This woman might've told that old guy about going into the dangerous areas, and that's surely no good for us!"

"Sigh! There's nothing we can do about it," muttered Shirley with a bitter smile. "We only have a very, very small chance if she talks about it, but we don't know who'll break through into the ultimate-god level first!"

Chapter 1474

Everybody understood clearly in their hearts that there would be an undeniable, vast change in the situation if everybody managed to find out how to break through into the ultimate god level.

Undoubtedly, the first person to break through into the ultimate god level was the luckiest of all.

For example, some elder of a random family who broke through into the ultimate god level could easily kill their family master and seize the family master position if they so wanted.

"Alright, let's go! Quentin was in that same haze, unable to foresee their future. With that, he waved his hand and everybody went flying toward the plaza in the center

Everybody could see from afar that the plaza was filled with people standing; rather densely packed it was.

Only a few like the Lancasters and Hunts who brought about one or two dozen people to attend the wedding. Some families even brought a couple of dozen people over to congratulate the pavilion master of the Skies Pavilion.

After presenting their gifts, Nash and the others found a place to sit down for the time being.

As there were too many people and those making the registration of gifts had already done their job, he did not want to appear too conspicuous as his attendance was enough. He could leave after the meal.

Alas, he could not stay hidden as many members of other families spotted him. Some of them even started whispering among themselves, more so about him and Lily's old relationship.

Soon, the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings arrived with his members. The person in charge of recording the gifts announced loudly while making his entry, "Pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, Harry Yeager, comes greeting with members of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. He presents ten second-grade intermediate pills and fifty second-grade premium spirited grass..."

"That's the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings? He's truly unusual. He's incomparable to others for having such spirit with his high age!" This was the first time for many elders of the other families to see the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, and his appearance once again caused a wave of commotion.

"Haha... Welcome, welcome! Pavilion Master Harry's appearance has truly brought light to our Skies Pavilion!" Joel, who was initially conversing with the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles, happily went toward him with his wives upon his arrival.

"Haha... Pavilion master Joel, you're being too modest. We don't talk like this between us!" Harry smiled and looked at Lily before speaking, "This must be the ninth madam, yes? Pavilion Master Joel truly has a good eye. She is no doubt an incredibly beautiful lady!" It was obvious Harry did not want to expose that Lily went looking for him initially and told him news about the ultimate god level, so he purposely pretended to have only met Lily for the first time during the conversation.

Lily rolled her eyes flirtatiously at him as chuckles spilled through her lips. "Haha...! Oh, please, stop pulling my leg, Pavilion Master Harry. I'm definitely not a beauty at my age. I fell in love with Pavilion Master Joel at first sight and, well, we quickly hit it off!"

“Remarkable! You’re such a remarkable woman!” praised Harry smilingly.

As a thought occurred to him, Joel then looked left and right. “By the way, I heard just now that the master of the White family is also here?”

With that, Lily started to scan the crowd of attendees.

She eventually discovered that Nash, Jack, and the others sat at a corner, chit-chatting with Shirley and the others.

Chapter 1475

Lily pointed to a direction and, though inwardly angry, spoke smilingly, “Honey, aren’t they over there? That guy must be embarrassed!”

Joel smiled before he turned to members of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings and said, “Everybody, sit or go everywhere you wish. The dinner will start in a short while. It’s been a busy day, and I hope that everybody will forgive us if there have been some hospitality issues!”

“Haha... Go do your thing, you old bridegroom!” Harry laughed before leading his people over to a side.

Only then did Joel lead his company toward Nash.

Walking up to him. Joel then began as he smiled at Nash, ‘ Master White, the two of us haven’t met for the past seven or eight years, have we now?’

“Indeed, Pavilion Master Joel. Congratulations!” Nash gave an awkward smile as he gestured with his hands.

Those around them slowly turned toward them, one by one, and the atmosphere grew rather solemn then.

“Really?” Joel pulled Lily closer toward him and hugged her by the waist in front of Nash before he spoke, “I heard that this beautiful lady was once your First Madam. Sigh! Why didn’t you know how to cherish such beauty? Haha...! Since you don’t know how to cherish her, I’ll do it for you from now on!”

Jack, who stood beside, was stunned silent at the old man’s behavior. He had the audacity to come up bragging to his father and run his mouth to anger him.

However, he was only a family master’s inheritor, and he knew he was in no position to speak. All Jack could do, thus, was watch on as he looked at his father.

Nash was just as enraged, though he managed to come up with a smile as he replied, “Yes, yes, yes... This woman almost killed me before, secretly poisoning me, and I just can’t handle it! I dare not cherish her at all!”

Nash paused here before he continued to speak, “However, I believe Pavilion Master Joel isn’t afraid of being poisoned or not. After all, who dares do something reckless with your fighting prowess and position? Am I right?”

The smile on Joel’s face immediately froze as the corners of his mouth involuntarily twitched. He then turned around and asked Lily, Ninth Madam, you won’t poison me, right? I’m actually somewhat worried, hearing him say that!”

Lily’s facial expression also darkened but she soon said with a smile, “Honey, how could I do that? How could I poison you when you treat me so nicely? This Nash White didn’t know how to cherish me previously, and he’s a malicious b*stard, that’s why I poisoned him to kill him. I just didn’t expect his son to have great medical skills and was able to rescue him.”

Nash gritted his teeth and tightened his fists but dared not act irrationally.

Only then did Joel pretended to be angry as he fretted, “Sigh! Honey, how can you call him a b *stard? Master White is a guest at our wedding. How can you say such a thing to our guest? It’s too rude. You need to be more aware of your choice of words next time, alright?”

“Yes, yes, yes... Don’t worry. I’ll definitely take note of this next time and won’t say the truth straightforwardly!” came Lily’s immediately, though spoken in a weird tone.

“By the way, Master White, you’re here to congratulate us, right?” Unexpectedly, Joel looked at Nash again at this moment. He stared at Nash as if he wanted to announce that Lily was already his woman and he had conquered her.

“Of course!” Nash smiled. “I don’t have anything with Lily, so I’m here today to greet you both!”

“Since you’re here to greet us, I’d like to hear words of blessing from you!” said Joel with a smile.No. 1
Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1476-1478

Chapter 1476

Joel Collins humiliated Nash terribly at that moment. Not only did he not honor Nash and ignored Nash’s feelings at that moment, but he even wanted Nash to grant him and Lily words of blessings for their union.

Many from the reclusive families also felt that Joel had crossed his boundaries awfully. It was shameful enough that Nash had to attend the wedding, but they even purposely humiliated him for all eyes to see.

After he deliberated his words, Nash smiled and said, “Then I shall wish for the both of you to be happy. Live for a hundred years and prosper! Have a child soon!”

Lily immediately remembered her son when Nash mentioned having a child. The corners of her mouth twitched several times, and her expression soured a little at that.

“Haha! Ninth Madam, did you hear that? Master White is wishing for us to have a child soon. Well, I’d say we better get to work on that later on. Is it possible for me to have a child in this old age?” Joel laughed out loudly after he heard this, though he paused momentarily before he added, “I’m quite satisfied with your words of congratulations, Master White, but I must disagree with you about that living for a hundred years old bit. What if I find the way to break through into the ultimate god level someday and become an ultimate god master? I’d have a long life of two hundred years then!”

Many people also started laughing after they heard this.

Trenton, who was at the side, grinned as he chimed in, “Haha! Pavilion Master Collins, I’m sure you hope that there will be some other fighting prowess after the ultimate god level. There might be a possibility for humans to live for a thousand years, no? Won’t you be living for one thousand years by then?”

“One thousand years?” said Joel jokingly as he raised his eyebrows. “Just like the saying goes, ‘A tortoise lives a thousand years while the turtle lives ten thousand years.’ Master Lagorio, it doesn’t sound too nice to say something like that, no?”

“Haha.! If there really is this sort of fighting prowess, I’d rather somebody call me a thousand-year-old tortoise. How good will it be to live for one thousand years? That would be extremely powerful!” Trenton started laughing.

Joel then turned to the crowd and addressed them, “Alright, everybody can take a look and walk around while waiting for a short while, seeing as there are some families that have yet to come, but the celebration will start when everyone is here! Don’t be prudish; it’s my wedding today. Everybody should help themselves to drinks and food. Enjoy yourselves, alright?”

At that moment, the man in charge of recording the gifts announced, “Pavilion of Divinity’s pavilion master is here with the sacred lady and elders to congratulate...”

Upon hearing that, Joel led Lily and the others to greet the members of the Pavilion of Divinity.

After they left, Jack frowned as he asked, "Father, what is this sacred lady from the Pavilion of Divinity exactly? Why is she as well-known as the Pavilion of Divinity's pavilion master? Why do they need to announce her name independently?"

Nash glanced over to that side and explained, "The Pavilion of Divinity is different from the other three Ancient Clans. More than ninety percent of their disciples are women, and they don't have that many men disciples. As for the sacred lady of the Pavilion of Divinity, she's the most talented one in their pavilion and she's fated to be the next pavilion master. There's a rule in the Pavilion of Divinity that the sacred lady of the Pavilion of Divinity needs to wear a veil when she goes out, and nobody is allowed to see her true features. She has to be pure and not marry anybody."

"How's that possible? There's such a rule?"

Chapter 1477

The information Nash told Jack flustered the latter as he glanced at the sacred lady from far away

She emitted an extremely mysterious and sacred feeling as she stood among the crowd. She had on a white tulle dress and a white veil that covered the lower half of her face. Her white dress gave people an extremely pure feeling.

Although only her bright, big eyes, forehead, and long, dark hair could be seen, it would not be a stretch to say she had an inimitable beauty.

Unfortunately, nobody would be allowed to see the true appearance of such a beauty, and she would never marry for her entire life.

"Haha... This had been the Pavilion of Divinity's rules since long ago," laughed Nash as he explained to Jack. "By the way, there's a legend which says that the Pavilion of Divinity has been around for thousands of years, and the same legend told that the founder of this ancient clan was a woman, one with astounding beauty, but a man had badly hurt her. It was then she made such a rule that every pavilion master in the future will need to protect her virtue. She said that the pavilion master's training wouldn't be affected as she would not be troubled by feelings."

After some time, everybody sat down and started eating.

After Joel offered a toast to all his attendees, Lily pulled him to a secluded area alone.

Joel, pulled away from his drinks, soured a little when she pulled him away. "Why did you pull me over here?"

"Honey, only three people from the White family are here, and this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. More importantly, they're Nash, Jack, and Kenneth -all three who I intended to kill. We can't let go of such an opportunity!" Lily's eyes gleamed with excitement as she could barely hold herself from acting on her words.

Joel, however, frowned at the idea. "This doesn't seem to be a good idea. If we want to take action, it's best if we do it in the Seven Dangers. After all, today is our wedding day. Wouldn't it be not too auspicious to experience blood today?"

"I..." His response baffled Lily, and she rolled her eyes at him. "What's not auspicious about this? Are you truly such a superstitious person? You surprise me!"

Lily paused momentarily before she continued, "Think about the opportunity we have right now, a truly once-in-a-blue moon chance that is. There are only three of them, and it won't cause a big commotion. All you need to do is gather a group of masters and ambush them on their way home. Choose a location slightly further away from our ancient clan, and it'll be best if this location is near to their home. They'll surely lower their guard, and by then, it'll be easy to wipe them out!"

The idea still seemed risky to Joel, even after he fell silent for a while on it. "But they have quite high fighting prowess. Would they inform other family masters about this if they escaped? That'll be troublesome!”

However, Lily could not wait any further as she challenged, “You’re really single-minded. It’ll work if all of them wear casual clothes instead of the ancient clan’s clothings and without bringing the token of our clan. Apart from that, Master Hunt’s sons have died during the competition, and I’m sure the Hunts are suspecting the White family. How would Jack and the others dare to say that it was us when something like this happened? If you send more people and barricade all exits, it’ll surely work!”

“You are really too impatient!” said Joel as he smiled bitterly. “Alright, let me make arrangements for that right now.”

Chapter 1478

After the banquet, a few families bade their farewells to Joel before they left.

Nash also led Jack and Kenneth as he said his goodbye to Joel before the trio started their journey home, flying as they did.

Daniella frowned as she saw the White family leaving. Turning to Alejandro, who stood beside her, she then fretted, “Father, I’m genuinely worried. I wonder if Jack and the others will encounter any danger on their way back. The Lagorios want to kill them White family men so badly, and Lily marrying that old man Joel Collins makes me feel like something else is running behind the scenes.”

Alejandro also nodded. “That’s true. I was just as surprised when I received the invitation. Who would’ve thought Lily would marry Joel now, and quite the pivotal moment too! It’s possible that she wants to use him to get rid of the White family!”

Daniella’s worries increased when she heard what Alejandro said.

Alejandro smiled bitterly when he saw how his daughter frowned. “You need to train well; this is how the world is. Nobody would dare bully you if you’re strong enough. Otherwise, killing you will be as easy as killing an ant. You won’t be given any opportunity to resist!”

“Yes, Father, I understand. I won’t loaf on the job in the future,” spoke Daniella, smiling as she gazed at the other Cabellos. “Let’s go, Father. We should be heading home, too!”

Jack and the others took out the flying sword once they were a short distance away from the Skies Pavilion. They then drove the flying sword and headed straight to where the White family’s residence was located.

“I wonder if our journey will be smooth-sailing,” said Kenneth with an awkward smile after they flew a good distance. “Joel Collins went too far back there. Although our reclusive families aren’t as strong as the Four Ancients Clans, the White family is still a first-class aristocratic family. How dare he dishonor our family master! He humiliated our family master in front of everybody!”

Nash only smiled. “It’s alright. We can only blame our family for not being strong enough. Would he still talk to us like that if we’re so strong that he fears us?”

He then glanced at Jack, who was beside him, and said seriously, “You’re blessed with talent, Jack, but it’s not as safe as it used to be. It’s possible that we’re on the Skies Pavilion’s hitlist. Apart from that, I estimate that we might really find ways to break through into the ultimate god level in the Seven Dangers, so you’ll need to break through into the peak stage of the true god level as soon as possible.”

“Master, it’s not good to break through fighting prowess so speedily,” said the anxious Kenneth after hearing Nash’s idea. “Young Master Jack is truly talented, but he had just broken through into the final stage of the true god level recently. His current combat power is totally sufficient to protect himself. Although he hasn’t fought any people in the peak stage of the true god level, enemies who have just broken through into the peak stage of the true god level won’t be able to take him, no?”

Kenneth paused here before he continued, “I still hope that Young Master Jack can break through his fighting prowess, one step at a time.” No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1479

Only then did Nash speak of his worries helplessly, "How can I not understand this? Of course I'm hoping Jack can break through step by step, but what if somebody breaks through to the ultimate god level first? It's alright if said person is one from our alliance, but it'll be hell if they're our enemy. Things will change, no longer the same as they are now!"

"Don't fret, Father. My realm has always been stable, and I have quite a solid foundation! Hence, there wouldn't be any huge impact if I try to break through into the peak stage of the true god level earlier!" assured Jack after he deliberated the situation. "No rushing on it, seeing as we've yet to enter the Seven Dangers yet. I think it's best to let my fighting prowess settle down for a while before I try to break through in one go, given the chance in the future. I'll try to cultivate some second-grade intermediate pills within these two days to see if I can break through and become a secondgrade intermediate alchemist. It won't be a problem to prepare some pills and carry them with me!"

Nash nodded at that as he confessed, "Yes. I said what I said because I'm afraid that something sudden will occur. Lily's wedding this time had caught me by surprise, after all."

Jack thought about it and said, "Father, I wonder if Lily had told the other three ancient clans about the ultimate god level? I'm sure she had told the Skies Pavilion, but I wonder if this woman would secretly tell the other three ancient clans about the news."

"How's that possible? She wouldn't have done that unless she's dumb!" Such a thought seemed impossible for Nash and Kenneth after they pondered on the possibility.

"Young Master Jack, you must have overthought it. Lily told Joel because she's married to him and she wants to use him to ruin us. That's why she told the Skies Pavilion! Still, it's somewhat likely that she told the other three families, and that meant she had told the information to the strongest and most powerful opponent of the Skies Pavilion!" Kenneth soon said with confidence. "After all, us reclusive families aren't a huge threat to the Skies Pavilion. However, the three other ancient clans are great threats to them!"

"Well, I hope I'm just overthinking it," replied Jack with a wary smile. "It just boggles me: How did Lily become acquainted with the Skies Pavilion's pavilion master? Joel is in the ancient clans, and it's some distance away from the Lagorio family. He managed to meet Lily, meaning that Lily went searching for their ancient clans. If that's the case, how can Lily make sure he'd fall for her? It seems like falling for Lily was an accidental situation, and I'm sure Lily didn't go to the Skies Pavilion, thinking of marrying him from the get-go."

Jack's analysis struck Nash as he inhaled deeply. "Now that you've mentioned it, Jack, that does seem likely. Otherwise, they wouldn't have interacted, and everything happened so quickly as well!"

"Yes. Lily must've had something in mind to have gone to the Skies Pavilion, and she might've even asked, or thought of it, about how they can avenge the Lagorio family. After all, how can Lily be sure that the other party would help her? Still, I'm wondering if Lily went searching for the other party for martial-enhancing materials. She might've been exchanging martial-enhancing materials with news!"

Everything Jack speculated made sense to Kennet as he gritted his teeth. "Tsk, tsk! This woman truly is... She's truly despicable for exchanging martial-enhancing materials with such news!"

Chapter 1480

Thinking more about it, the frowning Kenneth spoke, "Young Master Jack, even if that's the case, we can only assume that Lily went to the Skies Pavilion with hopes that they'll act against her. I'm sure that her initial aim was to obtain something from them, but the pavilion master happened to fall for her."

Kenneth paused momentarily before he continued, "Still, this doesn't indicate she had gone to the other ancient clans, right?"

"I thought so too in the beginning. However, I thought about it more, and the route from the Lagorio family to the Skies Pavilion indicated that she would've passed the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. It won't make sense if she doesn't go to the ancient clans nearer to her. She must've gone to at least the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.

"I also came to a very important thought today. The pavilion master and many of the elders from the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles were there in the banquet, and those who were in the peak stage of the true god level were also there, right? Meanwhile, not many of those in the peak stage of the true god level from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings were there, and only the pavilion master and the deputy pavilion master were present. Apart from that, more than half of those who came were in the final stage of the true god level!”

Jack smiled and made another assumption, “Think about it. It’d make sense if those in the final stage of the true god level didn’t attend as they require training. Those who are in the peak stage of the true god level can no longer advance in their fighting prowess, so why didn’t they attend the wedding?”

Jack’s recall caused Nash to inhale sharply as he commented, “You mean to say that the members of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings had already acted? That they had sent masters into the Seven Dangers?”

Jack nodded. “That’s right. Our reclusive families have a slightly weaker overall and individual strength. We had agreed back then that we needed to find time to discuss things, and that’s why we’ve yet to dispatch anyone, but an ancient clan like the Pavilion of Gods and Kings won’t be so calm if they received such information.”

“That’s going to be trouble. It’ll get tricky if they found out how to break through into the ultimate god level before everyone else. By then, the Pavilion of Gods and Kings would have many masters in the ultimate god level, and the other three ancient clans might fall into a passive state because they’re late.” Kenneth’s expression shifted into one of light bitterness.

Haunted by the thought, he spoke through gritted teeth at Nash, “Master, why don’t we stop waiting? What’s the point of a discussion? Let’s just go to the Seven Dangers. There’s only a few of us, and we can just search for a less dangerous place to enter. What if there really are ways to train for the ultimate god level? We’d be one step ahead!”

“I...” Nash frowned, somewhat hesitant about it. After all, nobody knew how strong masters in the ultimate god level were. Based on legends, however, such a realm made sure that several masters in the peak stage of the true god level might not be able to defeat a guy who had just achieved the ultimate god level.

“Master, how will we know if we don’t try? There’s a possibility... It’s likely that those from the Hunt family and the other ancient clans had left earlier, no?” Kenneth once again persuaded Nash as he assessed the hesitation. "There are times falling back behind will decide the White family's fate!"

Carefully pondering the situation, Nash decided, "I think we should wait. After all, we don't need to wait any much longer. We've all made a pact previously, and if we act before the other families did, we might cause public anger."

"Alright, that's fine. It won't be long anyway!" Kenneth sighed. "I'll admit that it is somewhat dangerous if we go in alone, seeing as there are quite many strong monster beasts inside. I heard that there were many monster beasts of the true god level inside! That's why nobody went deep into the area when they went searching for precious items."

"That's right. It's something good for everybody that people from other families entered together, right?" Nash smiled bitterly. "Sigh, never mind that. If this happened a bit later, the people from our family would be able to raise their combat power. If that's the case, those who enter would have a better chance of surviving!"

Chapter 1481

Jack, who had not said anything for a while, piped in, "Those with fighting prowess lower than semi-god level don't need to follow us this time. Apart from that, we'll have to put on standby some in the semi-god level and true god level at home to prevent any accidents from happening."

Time passed quickly. Jack and the others were extremely careful, so they went through the day without any accidents.

Around nine in the next morning, they were not far from the White family.

Relaxed, Kenneth chuckled. "Haha... Seems like we're just too paranoid. Those from the Skies Pavilion didn't plan to do anything to us! I think the pavilion master was so busy with his wedding that he didn't think too much about it. If he wanted to do something against us, he would've done it in the danger area. After all, others would think of this as a fight over precious items if he takes action out here in the open. Oh, won't others think monster beasts killed me if I died here?"

“We can’t act carelessly. We need to keep our guard up the nearer we get to the White family!” Jack, however, frowned. He understood that woman, Lily Lagorio, well. This woman would not have given up on such a great opportunity, and it was definite she had wanted to kill them since long ago.

Their deaths would signify the deaths of those with the highest combat power in their White family. By then, even the Lagorios would be able to get rid of the remaining members of the White family.

Suddenly...

Whoosh!

A daunting sword aura came flying out from the woods below at this moment. It suddenly flew out from the rear left direction, rushing toward Jack and the others.

Whoosh!

Jack immediately reacted and made the flying sword evade the attack at the nick of time.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Then, several figures came flying out from the woods as they surrounded Jack, Nash, and Kenneth in a circle.

These people donned regular clothes and masks to cover their faces. They did not even have a token to prove their identity.

“Tsk, tsk! Six masters in the peak stage of the true god level. They think highly of us!” Nash’s face darkened as he studied their attackers. "Apart from the Skies Pavilion, which other ancient clans can come up with such a group of people? You lot don't need to wear masks-we know that you're members of the Skies Pavilion!"

"Haha! That's not important. What is important is that you three will die today!" One of the old men laughed as the sword in his hand gave off a cold glow.

Chapter 1482

Nash and First Elder Kenneth hardened their gaze as they studied their six opponents

Those who sent the men purposely arranged six people, knowing that only three of them traveled together. They planned to have two fighting each one of them so they would not survive the attack.

Kenneth took his weapon out with the flip of his hand and said with a heavy heart, "Master, what should we do? It looks like we can only rush toward one side. If we manage to break through, Young Master Jack can bring us away speedily with this flying sword."

"Jack needs to use this flying sword, but if all six of them attack simultaneously, it won't be easy to make our way out!" Nash flew slightly outward in a flash. He knew that Jack's combat power would weaken if he did not use this ultimate-grade spiritual tool.

Both him and Kenneth would not last long if they needed to fight two alone. After all, the martial art technique the other party trained in must have been extremely powerful, and their martial technique would be even better. The masters of the Skies Pavilion naturally trained with the best materials.

He even suspected that they would not be able to match up against them if they were to fight these people, one-on-one. Who would have expected the other party to send six peak stage true god level masters to kill them? It was too much.

Moreover, Jack's fighting prowess was only in the final stage of the true god level. Even if he had the spiritual tool, it was difficult to say if he could take them on, one-on-one. Their odds of winning were pitiful when he had to fight two on his own.

Jack soon minimized the flying sword and held it in his hands. "Father, let's try to fight them. It's difficult to kill our way out, so why don't we fight with our lives?"

Death doesn't scare us, so we might be able to find a breaking point if we fight them before we rush out." There was no sign of fright in Jack's eyes as he spoke—they were filled with fire instead. "I've never fought masters like these. I want to see how my true combat power is after breaking through into the final stage of the true god level!"

"Haha... Great! It's decided then! The worst thing we'll face is death, though we might have hope if we try our best fighting!"

Nash laughed. Jack's fiery will ignited the flame in his own heart as he, too, wanted to test his mettle.

"Tsk, ts! You guys truly can brag shamelessly!" One of the six eyed Jack and smiled coldly. "Young man, you truly are talented for achieving the final stage of the true god level at such a young age, but alas, this is where you die. I'd say that it's a waste that you'll perish, but there's nothing I can do when you've offended our pavilion master!"

"Hmph! The powerful Skies Pavilion sent six masters to ambush us; that's cowardice!" smirked Jack. "People will laugh at this if this ever gets leaked to the masses. The Skies Pavilion, one of the Four Ancients Clans, ambushed me?"

"Haha! Enough with this useless talk, young man. After all, I don't plan to tell anybody about this. Apart from that, even if we killed you in this barren area, nobody will see us! This place is quite serene, and it's a suitable burial ground. We purposely chose this place for you three!" The old man laughed as his eyes were cold and distant.

Jack laughed coldly before he fell silent. He held the sword in his hands tightly as Chi quickly gushed out and intertwined with the sword.

With the infusion of the Chi, the sword trembled lightly as it hummed. The overpowering manner from Jack kept on increasing and was slowly released.

“Everybody, don’t underestimate them. This young man is no simpleton. He seems to be impressively strong from his aura alone and is no weaker compared to us!” One of the opponents looked stern and grim after he felt the overpowering manner from Jack. “The sword in this guy’s hand isn’t just a flying sword, it can be used to carry out attacks. It must be capable of increasing his combat power by leaps and folds. This is an ultimate-grade spiritual tool!”

“Kill him! That thing is mine!” Shrieked an old man impishly.

“That won’t work, I have my eyes on the item first!” responded the man who spoke previously.

“Haha! Then let’s both attack and see who lands the final blow on him!” No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1483-1485

Chapter 1483

The old man laughed out loud. “Whoever lands the killing blow on this young man will get the sword. How about that?”

The middle-aged man smirked at the challenge. “Sure,” he agreed, “it’s decided then!”

He then turned and stroked toward Jack. “Ferocious Wind Strike!”

Whoosh!

A horrendous strike rushed toward Jack like a hurricane.

“Youngsters these days have no reverence for martial principles!” The old man was enraged when the middle-aged man attacked first; the old man was not even ready. If this attack could kill Jack, more so if he was weak, Jack’s sword would go to the middle-aged man instead of him!

Furious, he immediately adjusted his Chi and was ready to activate his martial skill.

“Burning Chop!” Jack, who was already prepared, swung his sword as his opponents made their move.

Whoosh!

A strike that looked like a ball of flames was conjured, and the Chi that zipped through the air seemingly radiated heat. The Chi was extremely condensed and the fierce sword aura had perfectly fused with the Chi.

Meanwhile, Nash and Kenneth took on two opponents each and began fighting back. “Attack!”

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

Deafening explosions were heard, one that could cause deep terror.

Thoom!

At that moment, Jack and the middle-aged man’s attack clashed.

Confident in himself and his skills, the middle-aged man smirked triumphantly. ‘Hmph! You’re only in the final stage of the true god level, but I’m a senior elder of the Skies Pavilion. My fighting prowess had broken through into the peak stage of the true god level since long ago. This attack will cost you your life, and that flying sword of yours will be mine! My combat power will increase greatly with it!

What he experienced and witnessed next, however, shocked him to the core. 'Impossible!' He noticed that his martial technique attack was in a stalemate with Jack's attack, and that meant Jack's combat power was on par with his.

Seconds later, the middle-aged man grew even more startled as he discovered his attack began to falter and weaken against Jack's, but the latter's attack consistently resisted and persisted.

'How could this young man's combat power be so powerful?' The middle-aged man was stupefied on the spot as shock overwhelmed his features.

The middle-aged man's downfall was brought during his loss of focus as Jack's attack managed to shatter through his while just as he regained his focus. Unable to defend himself, the attack landed on him.

Thoom!

The middle-aged man was sent flying backward.

Chapter 1484

Mpfh!

The middle-aged man's eyes were filled with horror as the force sent him zipping through the air several meters away. He spat out a mouthful of blood as he stabilized himself by stepping in the middle of the air.

The old man who was initially prepared to attack Jack was also stunned. He temporarily dispersed his Chi and looked at the middle-aged man in surprise as he exclaimed, "What's going on? That was a power move you unleashed there, yet you still couldn't withstand his attack?"

The middle-aged man blushed in embarrassment. "I was careless; I underestimated that guy. I didn't use my full energy and only used about seventy to eighty percent of my strength, thinking I'd test out his power. Who would've thought this guy would be so strong!"

"That's more like it. You scared me a little back there!" The old man eased a little at his explanation—he was fearful that the middle-aged man could not contend against Jack. If that was the case, they would need to spend lots of energy to kill this young man who stood before them.

At that moment, Jack turned to look at Nash and Kenneth's side.

Both men unleashed powerful attacks as if they had used up everything they had, but it seemed as though they were faltering by the moment as their opponents were much stronger. Apart from that, the opponents' attack might be tentative attacks, and they had not used their full capacity.

Nonetheless, Jack was inwardly pleased after his test-out with the middle-aged man.

After all, he noticed that it was not that hard to fight off masters in the peak stage of the true god level, even if it was a master from the Four Ancients Clans. His previous attack was also just a tentative attack, and he had yet to go at his full capacity.

"That's good... That's good!" The old man's confidence returned upon hearing the middle-aged man's explanation. He activated his Chi with all his might and swung his palm toward Jack.

'This old man is giving his all!' The middle-aged man scowled upon noticing the several meters tall Chi palm in front of him. After all, he would be at a huge loss if the old man got to kill Jack, and whoever landed the killing blow on Jack would get the ultimate level spiritual tool as well.

"Burning Chop!" Jack took a sudden leap and swung his sword at his opponent when facing the attack.

His skill baffled the middle-aged man—he did not expect Jack to have used the same martial skill. This old man’s attack was obviously much stronger than his previous attack, and Jack might be killed if he reused the same technique.

‘Seems like this young man from the White family doesn’t have any strong martial skill. This so-called Burning Chop must be his best attack!’ The old man grew pompous when he saw Jack’s attack. In his opinion, the sword in Jack’s hands was already his for the taking.

However, his smile faltered the next second as he discovered that even the manner of this attack was much stronger. That speed and horrendous impact was incomparable to its former self. ‘That’s not right. This young man’s attack is much stronger than it was before!’

The middle-aged man also noticed the same problem quickly as he inhaled sharply. He thought that this young man had the lowest fighting prowess and should be the easiest to handle.

It soon occurred to him, however, that the young man’s combat power was incomparable to his fighting prowess. His combat power had highly surpassed his fighting prowess. Apart from that, this young man dared not use his full power in a situation, even as he faced two masters in the peak stage of the true god level to test his combat power.

Thoom!

Chapter 1485

Both the middle-aged man and the old man were floored as Jack’s attack clashed against the old man’s huge Chi palm.

Thoom!

Unexpectedly, Jack’s attack blasted the huge Chi palm open like a sharp blade. A huge hole was left in the center, and although Jack's attack had dwindled a little and it had slowed down, the attack's remaining power raged still toward the old man.

The huge Chi palm flew several meters forward, despite the gaping hole left by Jack's attack, before the palm eventually dissipated.

'I—Impossible!' Disbelief was written all over the old man's face. He did not even hold back upon unleashing his attack, and though it was just one first-grade premium martial skill, it was an absolutely powerful martial skill. He even exerted the martial skill to its maximum potential.

The old man was horrified to the core upon seeing Jack's attack fast approaching him. He quickly coagulated a huge Chi dome around himself to shield himself. It made him feel somewhat better, a little more at ease when the shield was formed as he believed no attacks could break through his shield.

However...

Boom!

Just as his protective Chi dome was formed, Jack's attack pummeled against it and the dome started to fluctuate continuously.

Crack!

A daunting crack appeared in the aftermath as it grew wider. Jack's attack had successfully crushed the old man's Chi protective dome!

"No!" The remaining large amount of power shot at the old man's chest which sent him flying backward.

Mpfh!

The old man zipped through the air due to the impact, further than the distance the middle-aged man was thrown back. The old man vomited blood as his face turned pale, wounds more grave than his younger counterpart.

“By the gods... This is impossible!” The middle-aged man was stunned by what he saw. He had never expected the old man to lose to Jack with his martial skill.

He thought about it and looked at the old man while probing, “Were you...testing him with that attack too? Don’t look down on our opponent!”

The old man was so angry that he almost vomited blood again. He glared at the middle-aged man and growled, “Testing, my foot! You think I’m testing him when I use that first-grade premium martial skill in that manner? Why don’t you try testing then? Curses... This young man is incredibly strong!”

Before then, Nash and Kenneth were very worried about Jack. If Jack failed to fight against them and was killed in action, his opponents would come to them both instead. They might not be able to put up much of a fight by then.

Both Nash and Kenneth had attempted to fight their way out of their own opponents, all to no avail as they were surrounded.

The sight of Jack wounding his opponents, however, flabbergasted them both. Never did they expect to see such a sight; the sight of Jack triumphing against his opponents!

Jack, surprisingly, still had the upper hand even when outnumbered!