

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1753

“Grandfather, this involves human lives! The longer we delay, the more people will die! If we keep going on like this, who knows how many of them will be dead by the time we take action!”

Arthur panicked even more after he heard this, but he was still helpless.

Still, Cooper continued, “So what if some of them die? I can’t just bypass the hierarchy. I have to inform the fortress master about this first and follow the appropriate process to handle the matter. Understand? If I go straight to inform the First Fortress Master without informing the fortress master, what will we do if the latter feels offended? Besides, so many of them have come in. They won’t be wiped out so soon! Besides, the forest is so vast. They’ve all been scattered around. It won’t be easy to find them with so many people. Not many disciples from the Bloodshed Clan went in. How many can they kill!”

Arthur and Hendrick were completely speechless. They did not imagine that Cooper would say something like this. However, they had no way about it now. They did not have enough power, and they had no authority over such a big case. They could only report this to their superiors.

“Then-then quickly go and tell the First Fortress Master about this. Let’s go. We wish to follow as well!”

After Arthur thought about it, he looked at Cooper, extremely panicked.

“Let’s go!”

Soon, Cooper led everyone to the fortress master of the Whittemore Fortress.

“Oh my. Uncle Whittemore. Why are you here? And you brought a group of kids with you!”

Kieran, who was drinking tea, asked while chuckling after he saw Cooper’s arrival.

The few Elders beside him also looked at Cooper in confusion. After all, it was nothing much if Cooper came to seek them out; but judging from his serious expression and the retinue of youths he brought along, he probably came over to discuss a serious matter.

“Something has happened, fortress master!”

Cooper stepped forward and immediately told Kieran, “A serious matter has happened, fortress master. Some people from the abandoned world have entered into our sacred land once more!”

Kieran simply gave a wan smile when he heard this. “Eh, I thought it would be something serious. Didn’t a few people come in here before too? It’s nothing to fuss about!”

“It was different then! That time, the Elder from the Pavilion Billow Cloud here went over there to take a look of his own accord. He happened to see a few people at the entrance and brought them in because he thought it was amusing. This time, they came in on their own after they found a way in. It’s different!”

Cooper gave a bitter smile. “A few ten thousand have come in this time,” he added. “Almost fifty to sixty thousand of them!”
