Chapter 2401

"You barged into my room without making things clear. You tried to attack me, but you were unbelievably weak. Now, you can't beat me, but you still dare to accuse me like this. I really don't know how the skin on your face is so thick."

The corner of John's mouth twitched at Jackie's straight forwardness.

He glanced at Gilbert beside him timidly. Gilbert was so furious his entire body was shaking.

He looked like he wanted nothing more than to rush over and bite Jackie.

Jackie let out a cold laugh as he continued, "I don't know why you're still standing here. What do you want to say? Do you think you can beat me in a debate? Can You even beat me in a fight?"

Gilbert's face rapidly changed colors.

He was so infuriated by Jackie that he felt like he was about to explode the next second.

In truth, Jackie's words were completely right.

if() }

He could not beat Jackie, and could not even win against Jackie verbally.

Staying there would do nothing other than making a joke out of himself. He took off himself.

After making a joke a few deep breaths before he got John to help him out.

After taking two steps, he did not turn his head around as he shouted, "I'll become a sixth-grade alchemist in just a short time. When that time comes... I'll make sure you know how stupid your actions were today."

After he finished, he no longer spoke as he limped out with the support of John's shoulder.

Jackie raised an eyebrow. Gilbert's words had meant nothing to Jackie.

A sixth-grade alchemist was nothing in Jackie's eyes.

For people like Gilbert, it might be the ceiling of their lives. Gilbert probably thought that sixth-grade alchemists were incredible people.

However, Jackie looked down on them.

Thinking about that, the look of mockery on his face intensified.

It was still not even the evening yet.

Jackie tidied up the room again before he looked up at the sunlight that came through the window.

He quickly composed his erratic thoughts.

He had only one goal being here which was to become a sixth-grade alchemist and get the qualification to take the test.

He was not interested in those merit points at all.

After pouring himself a cup of tea, he gulped it down.

He placed the teacup back on the table before turning around to exit his room.

He continued moving forward while carefully observing his surroundings.

Heavenly Pills' backyard was huge.

There were not just students there, even servants and stewards were around.

There were practically all sorts of people.

The place Jackie stayed at was a little corner toward the west. Other than his room, there were only random warehouses.

His room had probably been a warehouse for random goods or firewood as well.

Gilbert had deliberately arranged for Jackie to stay there as a show of power.

It was a way to trouble Jackie as well.

The further east he went, the more elaborate the designs of the rooms were.

There were quite a few flowers along the stone road.

Only, he did not see a single servant along the way.

It took him quite a long time before he saw one carrying a bucket of water, walking toward the main hall.

Jackie immediately rushed over when he saw that person.

The servant had been focused on the water he was carrying, and jumped up in fright when he saw someone suddenly appear in front of him.

He Almost tossed away the bucket of water in his hands.

“You are?” The servant was a bit taken aback by the unknown face.

After all, Jackie was basically brand new there.

After becoming a student, he had not been anywhere other than his own room.

There were not many people in Heavenly Pills who knew him.

Chapter 2402

However, it was fine if he was not recognized.

All the servant needed to do was to recognize Jackie’s clothes to tell who Jackie was.

The servant scanned Jackie for a moment before saying, “You are.. the eleventh student?”

Jackie was a little startled by the new title.

The eleventh student? After those words floated in Jackie’s head for a while, he suddenly understood.

Chandler had told Jackie before that he was the eleventh student that Heavenly Pills accepted.

Those servants that did not have any standing would naturally call him by that title.

Jackie nodded. After the servant had a clear sense of Jackie’s identity, he was less alarmed by the stranger in front of him.

He pursed his lips, having heard before that the new student did not have a good relationship with the second student, but Jackie was still a student after all.

They were merely regular servants.

If they offended Jackie because of their inappropriate words, they could be sent off at any time should Jackie complain about them.

With that in mind, the servant forced out a smile and uttered, "Do you have anything you need, eleventh student?"

Jackie nodded.

He was not in the mood to dally around with the servant, so he said very directly, "I've just arrived here, so there are some rules that I don't really understand. I just have a few questions to ask you."

Jackie had a very humble tone which pleasantly surprised the servant.

The servant immediately put the water bucket in his hands on the floor as he stood up upright, "Please ask away, I'll tell you everything."

Jackie nodded before composing himself and asked, "Where do the students practice refining pills here? Surely Heavenly Pills provides us somewhere to practice and improve?"

The servant paused for a long time before he answered, "Are you asking me where you can go to practice alchemy?"

Jackie nodded.

He did not have any intentions of getting the Way of the Pill.

All he wanted to do was hurry up and see if he could refine sixth-grade pills.

Alchemy was different from combat.

He needed a lot of ingredients, as well as a furnace to refine them.

Even though Jackie had a lot of materials on him, they were either too low in quality or too complicated.

There was no way to form a complete pill from them.

Since Heavenly pills had ten students, it would definitely provide a place for them to practice alchemy.

They would have prepared enough spiritual ingredients for him to practice with.

The servant pointed toward the east and explained, "Just continue walking ahead. You'll see an independent palace. On the palace, you'll see a plaque hanging there that says 'Selena Cloud Room'. That's where the students are meant to practice their alchemy."

It was quite an elegant name.

When Jackie arrived at the Selena Cloud Palace, a flash of interest appeared in his eyes.

The Selena Cloud Room was about as big as the main hall in front.

There were some plants planted outside that would rustle whenever the wind blew.

Jackie took a deep breath as he stepped forward into the Selena Cloud Room.

The moment he entered, he saw a student that was dressed the exact same way as he was.

The student had a cloth in hand and was wiping one of the tables inside.

The Selena Cloud Room's layout was very simple.

There were multiple small rooms inside separated by walls.

That should be where they practiced their alchemy.

However, the room that was facing the main table seemed at least three times larger than the other rooms.

It was as if that room was very special.

Raphael Westwood was stunned as he looked at Jackie observing the various facilities.

He thought that Jackie would have walked up to greet him.

Chapter 2403

Unexpectedly, Jackie's eyes were only interested in all the alchemy rooms.

Jackie did not seem to notice Raphael at all as if he was invisible to Jackie.

Raphael had a bit of a sour expression on his face as he tossed the cloth on the table.

He moved forward with a slight frown as he said, "You must be the eleventh student."

if() {

Raphael's words pulled Jackie out of his thoughts.

Jackie let out a slight cough and nodded.

Raphael stared at Jackie with obvious unhappiness.

"I'm your senior, your fifth senior to be exact. My name is Raphael. Even though it's the first time we've met, I have to remind you. There has to be some basic respect among students here. Even though you're a fellow student, I'm still your senior."

if() {

Raphael had wanted to let Jackie know that he had been far too impolite.

Jackie should have at least greeted him before he entered and initiated a conversation.

Jackie did not care about any of that at all.

It was as if Raphael amounted to nothing in Jackie's eyes.

It angered Raphael a bit, and Jackie naturally could understand the meaning behind those words.

He sighed somewhat helplessly. With Jackie's status, someone like Raphael was indeed not really worth noticing.

However, he was living under someone's roof and due to the circumstance, he had to lower his head.

He nodded very sincerely and greeted, "Hello Raphael, I was just very curious because it is my first time here."

Raphael raised an eyebrow before nodding slightly, accepting Jackie's apology.

Yet, it somehow felt like Jackie was not apologizing at all.

Raphael let out a slight cough as he frowned. "Did you come here to practice alchemy?"

if() { }

Jackie looks at Raphael, puzzled.

What else would the Selena Cloud Room be used for?

Was there something else here?

Looking at Jackie's expression, Raphael immediately knew what Jackie was and what he was thinking.

Raphael explained with a stern expression, "What's your level as an alchemist? If you're not a fifth-grade alchemist, then you'd better not come here. You should first look for a few ingredients yourself. Come here after you've made fifth-grade pills."

Jackie suddenly understood what Raphael meant after he heard that. It was not Daxia anymore.

In Hestia Continent, fourth-grade pills were nothing.

In Heavenly Pills' eyes, fourth -grade pills were no different from trash.

Pills that had any value were all at least fifth grade.

The pills that come from the Selena Cloud Room would at least need to be at the fifth grade.

Otherwise, it would be a waste of resources.

Jackie nodded after understanding what Raphael meant.

"I'm a fifth-grade alchemist. I wanted to try refining a sixth-grade pill here. Do you happen to know where I can find the ingredients I need for a sixth-grade pill?"

Jackie was incredibly straightforward.

Jackie was really eager to see if he could refine a sixth-grade pill at that moment. Even though he had already absorbed the Way of the Divine Void Pill into his mind, he had never tried it out. He needed to merge both body and mind.

"What did you say?" Raphael widened his eyes as if he had heard something unbelievable.

Chapter 2404

His lips twitched as he stared at Jackie. Jackie let out a helpless sigh, already expecting that something like that would happen.

Jackie was not in the mood to play around with Raphael at the moment. "Would you happen to know where I can get the materials for a sixth-grade pill? I want to try refining one," Jackie repeated.

This time, Jackie was very clear with his words, as if each word was incredibly important. It was to make sure Raphael understands his request. Raphael had naturally understood, and the surprise in his eyes intensified.

His lips twitched for a long time before he said in exasperation, "Tell me, are you drunk?"

Raphael was completely speechless. He did not know what that brat in front of him was talking about. A fifth-grade alchemist was trying to refine a sixth-grade pill before learning the Way of the Pill?

The brat said those words so casually too. Raphael wondered if there was something wrong with Jackie's brain.

Jackie sighed helplessly. He already knew that the only thing he would get from those words were questions about his sanity. Yet, Jackie no longer cared about all that.

After all, Gilbert would definitely cause him trouble. One or two more troublemakers would make no difference.

Jackie nodded before saying, "I'm not crazy. I really do want to refine a sixth-grade pill."

Raphael let out a cold laugh.

He laughed so hard even his shoulders were shaking. "You really are something else to say something like this on our first encounter. I really don't know how you become a fifth-grade alchemist."

"Don't you know basic knowledge? You haven't learned the Way of the Pill, so you won't be able to condense pill energy."

"Without the pill energy runes on the pills, you can't refine sixth-grade pills!"

Jackie nodded at the basic knowledge.

It had already been ingrained in him with the senior's memories.

Raphael saw that Jackie did not express any shock upon his words and merely nodded plainly. It served to render Raphael even more speechless.

He could not help but take a few steps forward, measuring Jackie as he did so. He looked at Jackie as if he was looking at a mad man.

Jackie merely stood there and allowed Raphael to examine him. Raphael looked out.

Almost everyone was busy dealing with customers or earning merit points at that moment.

Other than himself, only Jackie had come to the Selena Cloud room.

He had wanted to take the time to properly clean up the room during the two to four hours that no one would be here.

Yet, he somehow managed to stumble upon the miracle that was Jackie.

Not only did Jackie interrupt his cleaning, but Jackie had also even caused Raphael to want nothing more than to chase him out with a stick. He took a deep breath, suppressing his urge to mock Jackie.

“Since you already know, why are you so confident that you can refine a sixth-grade pill? I feel like you probably don’t even know how many pill aura runes there are.”

The benchmark of a sixth-grade pill was the pill aura that the pill aura runes formed as well as the refining of the pill itself.

The pills had to be fifty percent refined to be considered successful.

Without the fifty percent refinement, it would be a failed pill. Many people were stuck at that stage.
